In addition there will be from two to four other teams the membership of which is being made up. These will be on duty for the drive on Monday.

NOTES OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Headquarters for the Salvation Army drive will be at the Royal Bank during the three days of the canvas—Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Don't forget the meeting in the Opera House Sunday at 3 p.m. There will be a good program, most interesting and profitable. The band of the Army will make music. The band of songsters will sing. Short addresses will be given by Judge Hayeke, Capt. Widdifield, Adjt. McEthiney and Mr. Jos. Wearing. Altogether a very agreeable and helpful hour will be spent.

Special meeting of team captains, members and all intimately concerned in the work of the campaign will be held at the Patriotic Fund rooms tonight (Saturday) at eight o'clock. There are a number of loose ends to be tied up, matters to arrange, allotment of districts, and general completing of organization. It will not take long but is important.

A leaflet containing much interesting comment on the objects of the drive was distributed throughout the city, the committee being indebted to the kindness of the city newspapers which folded into the evening issue copies, and thus had the matter reach directly the homes of the city. In addition the papers have been most helpful and have placed at the disposal of the drive the franchise of the papers without money and without price. This access to publicity is characteristic of the Peterborough papers, and in this instance only adds to what they have done repeatedly during the war years.

ALD. TURNER FAVORS TAKING OVER THE STREET RAILWAY

So Expresses Himself in Letter to Colleagues in Council—Railway Committee Asks the Hydro Commission for Further Extensions

There was a meeting of the Railway Committee last night, at which Alderman Edgar, the chairman, Mayor Duncan and Aldermen Morrison, Taylor and Murray were present.

A letter was read from Ald. J. J. Turner explaining his inability to attend, suggesting that the Committee co-operate with a committee of the Board of Trade and expressing himself as favorable to the laborers of the street railway.

Upon motion of Aldermen Taylor and Morrison, the city clerk was instructed to write Mr. McTier, vice-president of the C.P.R., and inform him that the committee was desirous of meeting him regarding the train service to Montreal.

Street Railway Extension.

In connection with the question of development of the street railway system, the following resolution was submitted by Aldermen Taylor and Murray and carried:

That this committee recommend to the Council that the Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario be asked that the street railway be extended on Park from Albert to Landsdowne street, and on Lansdowne to Park street.

And also extend the railway on McDonnel street from Park street to Downie, on Downie to Smith and by way of Smith and Read streets and Aberdeen avenue to Benson avenue.

That the commission be urged to complete the work as the extensions in the southern part of the city as early in date in the spring as possible.

REMOVE BAN ON FLOUR MAKING

DEPUTATION OF MILLERS HAVE INTERVIEW WITH CABINET AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Jan. 18—The removal of all restrictions on the manufacture of flour in Canada will be urged on the Government by a deputation which will wait on the Cabinet. The United States has raised restrictions of the manufacture of flour in the republic, and it is claimed that if Canada is to hold its export trade similar action will immediately have to be taken by the Dominion.

In both countries there were standard flours set and arrangements were made for export. The understanding was that Canadian millers should largely supply Newfoundland and the West Indies, and the American manufacturers the Scandinavian countries. This was over and above the demands of the allies. With pre-war standard again adopted, it is feared that the American mills might oust Canada from its premier position as an exporter to Newfoundland and the West Indies.

The raising of the restrictions would likely also compel a removal of the present fixed profit of 25 cents per barrel.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The six-year-old son of Jas. Lovegrove of Windsor was run over by an automobile and died soon after of his injuries.

For the nine months of the fiscal year the total of Canadian trade was $1,676,066,825, while in 1917 it amounted to $2,055,412,011.

Col. Robert S. Low, builder of Camps Borden and Valcartier and rebuilder of Halifax, is dead from blood-poisoning following an operation.

Decrease in domestic merchandise exported for the nine months, when compared with a similar period last year, total over $10,000,000.

Stratford board of health decided to prohibit public dances from Monday next on account of the flu.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

SATURDAY, JANUARY 18, 1919

THE BOARD OF TRADE.

THE BOARD OF TRADE, as some appear to imagine, is not a merely local body of men banded together for a certain purpose of for self-protection either in business or in politics, but is on organization that holds a charter from the Dominion Government. The powers that are conferred upon the Board will probably be a surprise to all who have never read the articles of incorporation.

Any number of persons not less than thirty who are merchants, traders, brokers, mechanics, manufacturers, managers of banks, or insurance agents, and who are residents of any district which has a population of not less than two thousand five hundred, may associate themselves together as a Board of Trade and appoint a secretary.

Lawyers, doctors, editors and other professional men are not enumerated among those who are entitled to membership, but all such can be elected members by a majority vote.

Any Board of Trade is entitled to select twelve of its members to form a board of arbitration, and these shall have power to arbitrate upon and make their award in any commercial case or difference which is voluntarily referred to them by the parties interested, the decision of the arbitrators in all such matters to be binding.

Disputes between capital and labor can be disposed of in the same way. Since these articles of incorporation were issued, the Industrial Disputes Act providing for the settlement of labor disputes has been placed in the statute books, but the powers conferred upon the Board of Trade have never been abrogated, and so could be exercised today if the necessity arose. Many a local dispute, either as to business or labor, could be settled by these means, without expense to either party and without the exasperating delay which so often results when more official methods for a settlement are adopted.

Every member of such boards of arbitration, before he acts in this capacity, is required to take a solemn oath to perform his duty faithfully and to render a verdict in accordance with the evidence submitted.

Any three of the arbitrators selected by a Board of Trade shall constitute a quorum and shall have full power to examine upon oath, which any one of the arbitrators shall have power to administer, any party or witness who, appearing before them, is so examined, and shall give their award in writing. The decision of the three arbitrators, or any two of them, shall be binding upon the parties, according to the terms of submission and the provisions of the Act.

The council of a Board of Trade, composed of the president, vice-president, secretary and not less than eight other members, may appoint five persons to constitute a board of examiners, to examine applicants for the office of inspector of flour and meal or of any other article subject to inspection. In this case, too, special officers for making such inspections have been appointed by the Government, but as in the case of labor disputes, the powers of the Board of Trade in this instance have not been abolished.

The Board of Trade and the Trades Council in any community should for their several interests work in harmony. Members of one body are eligible for membership in the other, and such a condition exists in this city today. At the last election the Trades Council put up four and the Board of Trade two of their members for aldermen, and all six were elected. There can be no occasion for anything like jealousy, as has been intimated, arising out of such a result.

The Board of Trade, holding such powers as it does under its articles of incorporation, can be made a powerful organization in any community. It is difficult, however, to maintain an organization without adequate funds, and the membership fee of $2 a year is scarcely sufficient for the purpose intended. There has been some talk of increasing the fee, and the rate charged in other cities is being ascertained, but no definite amount has been agreed upon. If the membership fee is $40 or even $25 in other places, that is no reason to conclude that there is any intention of increasing the charge to anything like either amount in Peterborough.

No Board of Trade can be made a genuine success without a permanent secretary on duty all the time and who will be in communication with all industries who are seeking a change of location or with companies that purpose to take up a new line. Such work will not conflict with that of the manufacturers' committee of the City Council, but the committee and the Board of Trade should co-operate. Two members of the latter are appointed on the committee every year.

It is a matter of general regret that this city is never fairly represented in the newspapers outside Peterborough. That some commercial travellers have stated, seldom figures in the large dailies in Toronto, and local activities are not properly advertised. To affect a desirable change in this particular will be one of the matters taken up by the Board of Trade. Nothing pays like advertising. The name of Peterborough, if the city is to prosper, must be kept before the public.

WHERE PROHIBITION WILL PROHIBIT.

THE FEDERAL legislation that is necessary to make the United States bone dry following the ratification of the amendment to the Constitution, will be enacted at the present session of Congress. A number of states are yet to vote on the amendment, but this cannot affect the result, as the necessary three-quarters, or thirty-six states, have already passed favorably upon it. The lawmakers of the United States believe that no such radical measure as a prohibition law should be passed with a heavy majority behind it. It required a two-third vote to put the amendment before the people, and the endorsation of three-fourths of the states was necessary to ratify it. The late Sir James Whitney recognized the same principle in his local option legislation.

Now that the principle of prohibition is incorporated in the Federal Constitution of the United States, that law is permanent. The temperance question is taken out of politics for all time, and it can no longer be made the sport of any party. And the law will be enforced. There may in some instances be laxity in the administration of laws in the various states, due to political jugglery, but the Federal authorities are always jealous of their prerogatives, and they will enforce all their enactments to the letter. The officials charged with enforcing the United States congressional enactments never sleep, but are on the work in relays night and day.

From present indications there are not likely to be incongruities in the Federal temperance law. It will affect all classes alike, and the rich will under its operation enjoy no privileges which are denied to the poor simply on account of their lack of means. No man will be legally entitled to turn his cellar into a liquor storehouse. If it is illegal to manufacture whisky except for certain purposes, if it is a punishable offence either to buy or sell it, then it will be against the law for any citizen to have it in his possession, whether he keep it in his private residence, in his garage or his woodshed. Whisky will be outlawed, just as it has been for years in some of the states of the Union. None can have property rights in it. The same law that protects a man's right to hold property can be suspended in any case, and the article so affected cannot be retained in lawful possession under any circumstances. With whisky outlawed, if one resident has a supply on hand contrary to the statutes, and a neighbor appropriates his stock, then the former will have no legal redress. Such a thing as the theft of intoxicating liquor will no longer figure in the law courts.

Once prohibition is made a Federal enactment, it becomes a fixture. The temperance question cannot either openly or covertly be made an issue in the elections of the future, either civic, state or federal, and the citizens of the United States will for all future time be spared this annoyance. To repeal such a law once it is enacted would require the operation of constitutional machinery that no party would care to set in motion.

It must be admitted that in the United States, democratic as are the people of that country, the temperance element have been more active and more successful than the same class of reformers in any civilized country in the world. Drunkenness, too, has been less of a national vice among the Americans than in the countries of Europe. For the past thirty years or more the temperance movement has been gathering headway in the United States. No newspaper of repute, no politician of note, and no political party has ever openly espoused the cause of liquor. The Republicans, however, have always been recognized as the temperance party.

The liquor interest dies hard. Backed up by almost unlimited financial resources, the distillers and brewers of the United States are fighting the new prohibitory amendment at every stage, seizing on every technical point upon which they can bring a case, but so far without avail. The state and federal courts are deciding against them in every instance.

The liquor traffic is doomed, and Canadians will not be slow to read a lesson from recent events across the border. The same spirit of reform that has swept over one country will prevail in the other.

PROCEEDINGS IN CAMERA.

IT SEEMS that one of the first serious questions to be decided by the delegates to the Peace Conference is whether the press representatives are to be allowed to attend. So far, the majority appears to be in favor of open sessions.

If it is true, as charged, that war plots have been hatched by diplomats whose proceedings have been shrouded in secrecy, and if secret diplomacy is to be abolished for all time, would it not be well to begin by introducing this innovation at a conference of the powers that, it is hoped, is to end war for all time to come?

The entire world is interested in the business of the Peace Conference. If the press representatives are barred, these enterprising purveyors of news will get their information second hand, and the result will be a vast store of misleading reports to the public. It is not sufficient that the bare results of the deliberations be published. The people are especially interested in the manner in which the smaller nations are to be treated by their larger confreres. The debates of the delegates will make excellent newspaper material, and the public is entitled to all the facts. If the papers are allowed representatives in the congress, the world will be given the truth, and it is the truth that is wanted, not rumors or fabrications. Secrecy has so far resulted in reports published today only to be contradicted tomorrow, until the readers of newspapers are at a loss to form any adequate idea of actual conditions.

EVANGELIST KENNEDY IS WAKING SINNERS IN TWEED

Revival Services Still in Progress—Some of the Epigrams That Mr. Kennedy Uses in His Discourses.

Evangelist H. D. Kennedy, was well known in this city has been for the past two weeks conducting revival services in Tweed and the News of that place reproduces the following epigrams which he has used in his discourses.

On Sunday morning he will preach on "The Heart of the Gospel." This is said by many to be his best sermon and in several places he has given it a second time during a campaign, at the request of the people. On Sunday at 3.15 after a short session of the Sunday School will be held the most attractive meeting of the series Don't miss it, it is called the "Beckoning Hands Service." Sunday night the theme is the "Handwriting on the wall."

Meetings will continue each night next week. Everybody is welcome.

When discussing the tongue you have people differ as to the right mode of baptism. What we need is a baptized tongue.

A man is pretty low down when he will swear.

The tongue was God's blessing to man but man has made it a curse. God broke man's ambition at Babel by touching the tongue and when he is making man at Pentecost.

God gave man a tongue that he might express the adoration of his innermost soul in worship and the needs of his heart in prayer.

A man must abandon his sin or lose in his prayer.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated from the system each day, becomes food for the millions bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomain-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Menand women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a tablespoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin practicing internal sanitation This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember that inside bathing is more important than outside bathing because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

THE CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE

The address of Sir John Aird, General Manager of The Canadian Bank of Commerce, at the annual meeting of the shareholders of that Bank held on 4th instant, will be interesting to our readers. Not only does it deal at length with the business of the Bank during the past year, which has been a most successful one for the institution, but it indicates the view taken of Canada's prospects by one of her leading bankers. Sir John said:—

For the first time since January, 1914, we meet without the sinister shadow of the great war upon us. Difficult as is the outlook before many of the warring nations and perplexing as are the problems for which a solution has to be found before a satisfactory peace can be concluded, hostilities have ceased and cannot be renewed on the same colossal scale. We rejoice that the sacrifice of life has come to an end and that those members of our staff at the front who have survived the conflict, and others who are near and dear to many of us, can now look forward with assurance to the welcome that awaits them at their home-coming. The past year has been pleasurably marked by the jubilee of both our President and Vice-President in their respective callings. We have, therefore, many reasons for a feeling of jubilation on this occasion, and this is added to by the excellence of the statement which we have pleasure in presenting to you.

An Excellent Statement.

The earnings of the Bank have been good, and the profits have again reached a new high level, amounting to $2,850,000, or $212,000 more than a year ago. We confess to a feeling of pride that we have been able to maintain the premier place among Canadian banks in this, to you, important item. Notwithstanding the apparent size of the figures, however, it must not be forgotten that the rate of earnings of this Bank, as of Canadian banks in general, is steadily decreasing, when measured by the services rendered and the extent of the effort put forth by our staff. On the average of our total assets during the year we have earned only 7-10ths of one per cent., as compared with 1.27 per cent. in 1913, the last year prior to the war, and 1.37 per cent. ten years ago.

Increased Service.

The main causes of this, as I have pointed out in previous years, are on the one hand, the enormous increase in the volume of those banking services which are performed for the public without remuneration, and the fact that banking is one of the few businesses in which charges are sometimes lowered, but seldom increased, in spite of the general increase in the cost of everything else; and on the other, the [illegible] to enable our men to meet the great increase in the cost of living. It must not be forgotten that salaries and wages constitute the most formidable item of expense in the budget of a bank, and it will readily be understood that the responsibilities and the difficulties of dealing fairly with the members of our staff, in view of the high level of the cost of living, are not small.

Depreciation Unnecessary.

As unusual item in our Profit and Loss account this year, which affords us much gratification, is the recovery of the appropriation of $1,000,000 set aside in the year 1915 to provide for the depreciation of securities. We then expressed the hope of saving this, or at least a part of it, at the end of the war, and it is a source of satisfaction to find our prediction fulfilled.

On the other side of the account, our disbursements in the way of dividends are bonuses to shareholders, and the amounts required to pay the special war tax on bank note circulation and for the Officers' Pension Fund, are the same as a year ago. Subscriptions to various funds of a patriotic nature, almost all of them the direct outcome of the war, have called for $102,550.

A War Memorial.

We have set aside $100,000 to defray the cost of a memorial we propose to raise in honour of the officers of the Bank who served in the great war, and for the cost of the history of the Bank to which I referred a year ago. The form of the memorial is not yet decided, but it will probably take shape when we come to erect a new buiding on our site here, an undertaking which cannot long be delayed if the natural development of the business of the Bank is not to be hindered by cramped and unsuitable quarters. After doing all this, we have been able to transfer $1,500,000 to Rest account, which thus becomes equal to the paid-up capital, a goal which we have aimed to reach for many a day, but which has called for long years of tireless striving, before we could consider it as fairly won. We might perhaps have made a better showing on the surface and have seemed to reach our goal in a shorter period of time, but our wish has been to build surely and carefully upon a firm foundation, and in the meantime to provide beyond peradventure for every weak spot in our loans and securities. We carry forward into the new financial year an undivided balance of profits amounting to $1,446,842, or $112,000 more than a year ago.

Note Circulation.

Turning now to the General Statement, the first item of our liabilities is notes in circulation. These amount to the very large sum of $1,583,000, or $7,588,000 more than a year ago. This increase is not far from double the large increase reported last year, but we think that the reasons advanced for it then still hold good, although it is possible that in addition there may be a certain amount of hoarding by a class of munition workers who adhere to old habits, and hide their savings rather than entrust them to the care of a bank. If so, this cause should soon cease to operate, and we shall watch with much interest the course of the note circulation during the next few months, in which the greatest amount of contraction always takes [illegible] year.

Increased Deposits.

The increase in our total deposits is $76,733,000, or 27.7 per cent., and the greater part of this is under the headline of deposits not bearing interest, which account for $64,552,000. Deposits bearing interest show an increase of $12,181,000, an amount which would have been much greater had it not been for the Victory Loan of 1918. If we turn to the monthly statements to the Government we shal find that deposits payable after notice dropped $18,853,000 during November, which is solely due to the Victory Loan. On the other hand, it must be remembered that under the arrangements made by the Government for the deposit of the proceeds of the Victory Loan with the banks from which the money was withdrawn, a large part of this money is still at the credit of the Dominion Government, subject to its requirements.

How to Save.

Once again the Minister of Finance and the organization which controlled the Victory Loan campaigns have won an outstanding success. The Victory Loan of 1918 was over-subscribed many times, and without the use of any compulsion save the mere breath of public opinion, the Government has been provided with more than the sum which it required. Let, as I pointed out last year, the lesson in how to save, so strongly impressed upon the community by these campaigns, in their great result from the national point of view. Who may venture to predict what the knowledge thus required of how to invest savings wisely may mean to Canada in the years to come? Except for the increase in the productive capacity of the country, this is perhaps the greatest material benefit derived from the war. Alongside it the loss of a few millions of deposits to individual banks is a very small matter, which, if the lesson, is thoroughly learnt, will require only a short period of time to remedy itself.

Bank Helped Loan.

Our efforts to assist the Minister of Finance in obtaining subscriptions to the Loan have resulted in our securing through this bank the large sum of $105,543,000, represented by 150,773 individual subscriptions. This amount included $100,000,000 of new money and represents 15 per cent. of the total. It is gratifying to know that we have far exceeded the proportion which might be reasonably expected from us. This result has not been obtained without very strenuous effort on the part of our staff, and also the money by the Bank. Unfortunately the heavy task came upon our staff just at the moment when their ranks were depleted by the ravages of influenza. In connection with this, as well as previous loans, we shall also be required to perform for the Government special services, such as the payment of coupons and interest during the term of the loans, the last of which does not mature until the year 1937. The Canadian banks were also called upon during the year to assist in the Dominion Government financing to a large amount, and we assumed our full share of these advances. In addition, we participated in a loan of $100,000,000 to the Imperial Government against Treasury Bills and renewed the advances made against similar security to the Imperial Munitions Board.

Finance Food Supplies.

Acceptances under Letters of Credit offset in our balance sheet by the corresponding liability of our customers which apnears among the assets, show a large increase, represented by advances in Canada and the United States, secured in nearly every case by food supplies purchased for account of the Allies. Cash on hand, consisting of gold and silver coin and Dominion notes amounts to $61,971,000, as compared wth $54,652,000 a year ago, an increase of $7,319,000, while we had $17,500,000 in the Central Gold Reserves, to provide cover for our excess note circulation. Our total holdings of gold and silver coin—principally gold, but including the necessary silver for the till of the branches—are slightly lower than a year ago. We hold, however, a much larger amount in Canada, in the carrying out of the views I expressed last year in referring to this subject.

Maintain Gold Standard.

This was not accomplished without difficulty, owing to the embargo placed on exports of gold by the United States Government and to the demands of that Government; and the effort to increase our holdings has been further hampered by the decline in the output of the Canadian mines caused by the present high cost of production. It is gratifying to find a substantial agreement with our views on this subject in the report of the Imperial "Committee on Currency and Foreign Exchanges after the war," of which Lord Cunliffe, Governor of the Bank of England, was Chairmn. In its first interim report this committee has emphasized the imperative need that the god standard should be effectively maintained in Great Britain, and that the necessary measures to this end should be taken without delay. Similar measures are being urged in the United States by a not uninfluential section of the press, and it is disquieting to hear a discordant note sounded in certain influential financial circles in this country. We think that the Government could well afford to pay a small royalty to encourage an increase in the production of the gold mines of Canada. The conditions of the last two years have very adversely affected the mining of gold, especially as compared with silver, and in the interests of the country we believe that the Government should seriously consider some plan for placing this industry on a profitable footing.

Large Volume of Transaction.

The next item of the assets, consisting of notes and cheques and balances due by other banks, shows an increase of $3,830,000, almost all of which is made up of larger holdings of cheques on other banks, which constitute the daily exchanges. This increase is due solely to an increased volume of current banking transactions. Securities of various kinds have increased $16,183,000, represented principally by larger holdings of British and Canadian Government securities. On the other hand, railway nd miscellaneous securities have decreased slightly. Call and short loans show an increase of $8,324,000, of which the greater part is in loans outside Canada, and immediately available assets are $35,682,000 greater, standing at about 50 per cent. of our libilities to the public. Commercial oans show an increase of $52,621,000, nearly all of which is lent in Canada. While there is no doubt a good deal of activity in such manufacturing as can be carried on under the circumstances of the past few months, a large part of this increase is due to high prices and to delay in realizing on our wheat and other produce, which has been reserved by the Government. The delay in this connection, while no doubt largely inevitable under existing conditions, has a prejudicial effect on those immediately concerned. With the passing of the era of high prices, especially those of farm produce, and a return of wages to a more normal level than that of munition-making, we must expect to see decreases in the volume of both our loans and deposits. Indeed, it will not be surprising if the figures of the present balance sheet are not exceeded for several years to come.

Total assets have increased $95,935,000, and now amount to the very large sum of $440,310,000. This increase is 27.8 per cent. over the figures of last year, a remarkable showing when it is [illegible] time in the opening of new branches; and that we have not taken over the business of any other bank.

Reinstate Returned Men.

With regard to the staff, it is our desire to reinstate all officers who wish to come back to our service from military duty, and at the same time to avoid any hardship which might be created by dispensing with the services of the members of the temporary staff, who have filled the branch so acceptably during the past four years.

With sorrow we record the death in action of eighty-five additional members of our staff during the past year, making a total of 226 who have been killed in action, or have died of wounds, since the outbreak of the war. The number of wounded men reported to us has now reached 294; 7 are still recorded as missing and 23 as in the prison camps. Under the terms of the armistice we trust that these prisoners have now been successful in reaching allied or neutral countries.

Increase Export Trade.

A year ago I urged the importance to Canada of stimulating the production and export of food, the need of organization for the purpose, and the attractiveness of the outlook for this branch of commerce. The ending of the war has in no wise dimmed the prospect. The last number of the Agricultural Gazette, the official publication of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, contains an appeal from the Dominion Government along similar lines, and particularly emphasizes the bright prospects of the meat export trade. Speaking of the outlook before this country now that the war has ended, the Minister of Finance, Sir Thomas White, writes: "There would seem no reason to apprehend any failure of markets for all the food that Canada can produce. Our grain, ive stock, and their products, with those of our fisheries, shoud all be in keen demand at high prices.... Increase in our agricultural production will not only help to furnish food for a hungry Europe, but will be a chief factor in maintaining our favourable international trade balance as well." All countries are seeking to increase their export trade; all are hoping to be sellers and to limit their purchases. Under such conditions, the successful ones will be those which have special advantages for a certain line of production and which can find a market in any country better fitted than Canada for the production of food, or any branch of commerce in which an ample market is more assured

Some Spending.

Any number of plans are afloat for the carrying on of large public works after the war. These are advocated on all sides in the hope that the era of free spending may tide over that of falling prices. Few of the promoters, however, appear to have considered where the money is to come from. By all means let a wise and statesmanlike view of the matter prevail, and all public works be undertaken which are in the best interests of the community, having regard to all aspects of the question. But let it not be forgotten hat such works have to be paid for sooner or later out of the taxes, and the hope of every citizen at the present moment, I may safely say, is to see his tax bills reduced rather than largely increased. Even public borrowing cannot indefinitely postpone the evil day of payment.

Reconstruct With Savings.

Some of our municipalities are already hampered by the load of debt incurred in former eras of prosperity and no one would advocate any considerable increase at t his time in the national debt of the Dominion. The safe course is wisely set out in the Cunliffe report, to which I have already referred. After speaking of the pressure that is sure to be brought to bear upon the state for capital expenditure in many forms for reconstruction purposes, it points out that all money expended on reconstruction work should come out of savings and not be obtained by the creation of new credit. The burden of prevailing high interest rates in the case of such works has also to be considered, and although the outlook as to the value of money after the war is uncertain, it seems probable that current rates in England are held below the natural level at present by war-time regulations, and that when these restrictions are removed, rates may tend upward rather than downward. It is clear that the importance of saving and economy in personal expenditures as a public duty will not be lessened by the ending of the war, but, if possible, increased.

It is interesting to note that the London Statist is of the opinion that after the war Canada will prove more attractive to emigrants than the United tSates and that thus the drain upon the manpower of this country made by the war will be more than remedied.

The Future.

As to the future we feel that we can look forward with quiet confidence. The multifarious restrictions which have necessarily been placed on business during the war will doubtless disappear before long, and they should be removed by the Government as speedily as possible. This will aid in lessening unemployment at home, and enable our experters to resume their operations in other countries before the field is occupied. Attention should also be given to the prompt settlement of all outstanding contracts and obligations of the Government, and to the claims arising out of the cancellations of contracts. These are sometimes allowed to drag, causing great injustice to individuals and corporations, and preventing them from resuming their accustomed place in the peace activities of the nation. By prompt attention of such matters the Government can assist materially in the restoration of a normal state of affairs in the business world. We have been fortunate in this country in that our participation in the war has not involved material damage at home. Our efforts have entailed no exhaustion on our part, and while the problems before us are many and difficult, we believe that a satisfactory solution will be found for all of them.

BRINGING WOMEN FROM OVERSEAS

DEPENDENTS OF SOLDIERS TO GET FREE TRIP TO CANADA.

Realizing that the first step in getting the soldier back into civilian life is the re-establishing of his home in Canada. The Dominion Government is completing plans by which nearly 55,000 women and children, dependents of Canadian soldiers living in England and France, will be brought back, at the Government's expense.

As already announced, the Canadian Patriotic Fund is co-operating with the Repatriation Committee at Ottawa, and will give great assistance in the work.

The Young Women's Christian Association will have a representative on every boat that carries 200 women. Every boat is met at Halifax or St. John by a Committee representing all the women's organizations, which locates women's baggage, takes care of the babies and takes the women and children to a comfortable rest room. Cots and baths are provided there for the children, hot lunches can be secured, and if necessary, overnight accommodation can be arranged. Women who are too sick to continue their journey are taken to the local hospitals and only those without money receive assistance from the Patriotic Fund. These organizations also secure railroad tickets for the women, get their money changed and accompany every woman to her train.

On every train upon which women and children travel is a Red Cross nurse, who carries first aid supplies and an emergency supply of money. These nurses have been enrolled by the Canadian Nurses Association. The nurse sends information to the Patriotic Fund at each dispersal station, giving the number of women who will alight from the train and the number in need of assistance.

At each dispersal station the women and children are met by a Reception Committee, organized in most cases by the Patriotic Fund. Relatives are being urged to meet the trains. At Toronto and Montreal special canteens and rest rooms have been opened. There are hotels also at Toronto and Winnipeg.

The Provincial Women's Organization through their local societies make every endeavor to keep in touch with the returned dependents of Canadian soldiers. In fact, every voluntary organization in Canada has agreed to co-operate and nothing will be left undone that will make for the comfort and convenience of the women and children soon to come to Canada—many of them for the first time.

WILHEIM WRITES

(By Walt Mason.)

All day the exile sits and writes, and pauses not for food or drink; his pen goes on through weary night; a boy is kept busy packing ink. What occupies your gray goose quill? What sort of themes do you select? What are you writing, Exile Bill—what gems of thought may we expect? I hope you won't attempt free verse; that sort of stuff is stale and dead, and it would bring an added curse to rest upon your jaded head. What write you when the night wind wails, and when the tempest booms and groans? Perhaps some little bedtime tales concerning blood and dead men's bones. How fine 'twill be if Bill devotes his genius to this sort of work! Kids need some spicy anecdotes of murders done by Teut and Turk. They're tired of rabbit, fox and owl, of animals that talk and weep; they want to hear of murders fould before they close their eyes in sleep. What kind of stuff do you produce, oh, Wilhelm, writing all the time? A version new of Mother Goose, with morals tacked to every rhyme? Perhaps you're writing household hints for busy wives who wish to know just how to get the proper tints, when dyeing rags of years ago. Write on, until your hand is lame, the sparkling ink will be supplied, and writing is a harmless game—the only one you ever tried.

In a Bad Way.

Germany," said Representative Ireland, of Illionois, "is in a bad way. Let her turn where she will, she can find no consolation.

"Germany reminds me of Smith."

"'Don't mope, Smith, old man,'" said an optimist. 'Cheer up. Look on the bright side of things.'"

"Which is the bright side," said Smith, "of a bad headache?"

If women had their way, no man would have his.

The History of Gin as a Curative Agent

Before Gin Pills were available, gin seemed to be the popular remedy for backache, pains in the groins, swelling of the joints and ankles, lumbago, sciatica and other troubles arising from deranged kidney action; but when Gin Pills were placed on the market containing the curative agent of gin—without the alcohol, people realized that the benefits of the old remedy were purely temporary and that permanent relief would be found only by using the new.

The success of Gin Pills is the best testimonial to the value of this medicine, but for those who prefer more direct testimony we have hundreds of letters on file from people who owe their return to health entirely to taking Gin Pills.

The function of the kidneys is to remove the impurities and poisons gathered by the blood. When the kidneys fail to act, these poisons remain in the blood stream, and are circulated through the system until they settle in muscles and joints and there set up infection. You can readily understand, then, the danger of allowing the kidneys to become deranged, and how important it is to keep them in good shape always.

Do not let your kidneys go from bad to worse. At the first sign of trouble, go to your nearest dealer and buy Gin Pills—50c a box.

Or if you prefer, a free sample of Gin Pills will be mailed upon request to the National Drug & Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto. U. S. residents should write Na Dru-Co., Inc., 202 Main St., Buffalo.

WHAT THE GOVERNMENT IS DOING

Q—Who is in charge of the demobilization of the Canadian army?

A—The actual demobilization is in charge of the Militia Department.

Q—Why say "The actual demobilization?"

A—Because a new department of the Government has been formed to give the after-care that Canada owes to her invalided and disabled soldiers.

Q—What is this new department?

A—It is the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment with headquarters at Ottawa. Sir James Lougheed is the minister in charge.

Q—What does this department do?

A—It's hard to say in a paragraph all that this department does. It first comes into contact with the soldier in England. There it finds out the soldier's previous experience, the employment he now prefers to take up, the locality in which he intends to settle.

Q—How is this information obtained?

A—Through questionairies, which will be signed by every Canadian soldier now overseas.

Q—Why is this not done on the transports?

A—Because the information must be secured and sent to Ottawa before the men sail on the transports. But there is a representative of the department on every transport, to inform the men exactly what the country is prepared to do for them, to advise them and to give them any advice necessary for any information they desire. In addition to this, a staff representing the department will be at every dispersal station.

Q—Then what happens?

A—Returned men then are placed in touch with the local employment office, where another representative of the soldiers' civil re-establishment department will introduce him to the officials of the employment office, who will see that the returned man gets the preferential treatment to which he is entitled.

Q—Does the department do anything else?

A—Lots of things the most important is this: Special representatives have been appointed whose duty it will be to travel about the country interviewing returned men, hearing complaints, making suggestions and reporting generally as to how the government machinery is working.

Q—That's all for men in good physical condition. What about disabled and invalided men?

A—Special provision has been made for disabled and invalided men. If their cases require continuous treatment, they are taken on the strength of the department and receive the same pay and separation allowance as they received in the army. In addition they are granted an allowance for their families in place of patriotic fund allowance.

Q—What about men who need temporary treatment, or artificial limbs, or vocational training?

A—These are all taken care of. They will be subjects for another series of questions and answers.

WON'T RAISE SCHOOL AGE.

No Important Amendments to Education Act This Session.

Toronto, Jan. 18.—Changes only of minor importance will be made in the Education Act this session, Hon. Dr. Cody announced.

There will likely be some changes made in the Truancy Act, and probably it will be altered so that women truant officers will be appointed. It is also stated that the Act will be changed somewhat to encourage the attendance at school rather than to punish the non-attendance.

As regards the raising of the school age, nothing will likely be done this session. The trouble appears to be that there are not enough technical schools. Until this lack of schools is remedied the age will remain the same.

ORTHODOX LABOR STILL CONTROLS

CAPTURES ALL OF THE OFFICERS IN TORONTO TRADES COUNCIL.

Toronto, Jan. 18.—Trades unionists will control the work of the Trades and Labor Congress for another year. The Socialists and Radicals of the organization were put to rout at the annual election of officers before a packed house at the Labor Temple.

The whole slate returned comprises international trades unionists.

Circular From Moderates

With a few exceptions the proceedings were very quiet and decorus. At the beginning of the meeting dodgers reading as follows were passed through the audience:

"Dear Sir and Brother: You are a delegate from your union to the Toronto District Labor Council.

"There is a struggle at present going on as to whether the international trade union movement or the Socialist supporters of Trotsky and the Russian Bolsheviki shall control the District Trades Council.

"This communication is from a committee of delegates who believe that it is in the interests of the labor movement of the city of Toronto that the international trade unionists should control the offices of the Toronto District Labor Council.

The Labor Temple was crowded to its capacity. Visitors thronged the galleries and the floor was filled by the delegates. Owing to the suspicion that each party felt for the other, a very strict inspection of credentials was held before the delegates were allowed into the hall.

WORTH A HUNDRED DOLLARS A BOTTLE

MISSOURI PACIFIC FIREMAN PRAISES TANLAC FOR WIFE'S IMPROVEMENT.

"My wife has taken three bottles of Tanlac, and says it ha been worth a hundred dollars a bottle to her," said J. G. Nichols, a well-known railroad man now employed on the Missouri Pacific railroad and living at 4711 Summit street, Kansas City Mo.

"For three years," he continued, "my wife had suffered a great deal on account of the condition of her stomach. Her appetite was poor and the little she forced down disagreed with her and caused gas to form on her stomach, and she would be miserable for hours afterwards. She was very nervous and hardly ever got a good night's sleep and would feel so tired and worn out in the morning she could hardly get out of bed. I couldn't find any medicine that would help her at all, so she just continued to lose in weight and sntregth until she was hardly able to keep on her feet.

"I fully agree with her when she says Tanlac has been worth a hundred dollars a bottle to her. I don't think I ever saw anybody improve like she did after she got started taking it. Her appetite came back in a very short time and she can now eat anything she pleases, and as much as she wants, and it never gives her any trouble at all. Her stomach seems to be in a healthy condition, and she sleeps soundly, and the nervousness has left her entirely. She goes about her housework now with her old-time strength and energy and says she is in better health generally than she has been in a long time. We are very glad to have this opportunity to recommend Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd.; in Havelock, by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield, by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd.; in Fowlers' Corners, by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert, by A. J. Scott; in Westwood, by G. Pringle & Son.

$25.00 FOR A LETTER

CAN YOU WRITE ONE?

Thirteen Prizes to be Awarded in a Letter Writing Competition.

Some years ago the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., offered a series of prizes to residents of Ontario for the best letters describing cures wrought by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Hundreds of letters were submitted in this competition, and yet there must have been thousands of other users of the pills who did not avail themselves of the opportunity to win a prize. To all of these another letter writing competition is offered. Thousands of cures through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have never been reported. These will furnish the material for the letter to be written in this contest. There is no demand upon the imagination every letter must deal with facts and facts only.

THE PRIZES:

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ont., will award a prize of $25.00 for the best letter received on or before the 20th day of February, 1919, from residents of Ontario, on the subject: "Why I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills." A prize of $10.00 will be awarded for the second best letter received; a prize of $5.00 for the third best letter, and ten prizes of $2.00 each for the next best ten letters.

THE CONDITIONS

Every letter must be signed by the full name and correct address of the person sending it. If it describes the cure of some person other than the writer of the letter, it must also be signed by the person whose cure is described as a guarantee of the truth of the statement made.

The writer of each letter must state the name and date of the paper in which he or she saw this announcement.

Fine writing will not win the prize unless you have a good case to describe. The strength of the recommendation and not the style of the letter will be the basis of the award.

It is understood that The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. shall have the right to publish any letter entered in this contest, if they desire to do so whether it wins a prize or not.

The contest will close on February 20th, 1919, and the prizes will be awarded as soon as possible thereafter. Do not delay. If you know of a cure write your letter NOW. Observe the above conditions carefully or your letter may be thrown out.

POST DISCHARGE PAY

Soldiers' Heirs or Relatives May Make Claim

That the post-discharge pay of a discharged soldier, who dies before receiving the money to which he may be entitled may be claimed by his heirs or relatives is pointed out by Sergt-Major George Creighton, military secretary to Mayor Church, who has received a number of inquiries on the matter. If the soldier is married, then his wife, whether she has been receiving separation allowance or not, is entitled to the discharge pay of the deceased soldier. If the soldier is unmarried then his mother or other relative, who is entitled to share in the estate of the deceased, may lay claim for the amount.

Count fifty! Your cold in head or catarrh disappear. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more snuffing, hawking, mucous discharge, dryness or headache; no struggling for breath at night.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothing and healing the swollen or inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Head molds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. Relief is sure.

War Service Gratuity

As soon as a soldier is discharged from the army his first concern is to find a job. He may not find a job at once. During his period of unemployment he will however be in receipt of his War Service Gratuity.

Before the Armistice was signed "post discharge pay" was granted to discharged soldiers. Upon the signing of the Armistice it was felt necessary to make certain changes.

A larger grant will now be made to all who have served at the front whether discharged before or after the Armistice. Those who were on active service on the date of the Armistice, but had not served at the front, will also receive a gratuity on a higher scale.

The War Service Gratuity is given over and above any "back pay," pension or clothing allowance to which a man may be entitled.

It is given in addition to all the care, attention and service which the Government will devote in order to restore our fighting men to civil life.

To Whom Awarded.

All soldiers discharged on or after November 11th, 1918, who have served with good conduct will receive War Service Gratuity according to their class.

Soldiers discharged before November 11th, 1918, will receive War Service Gratuity only if they served at the front in any actual theatre of war.

If a soldier discharged before November 11th, 1918, did not serve in an actual theatre of war he will be entitled only to post discharge pay—according to his class on the old scale.

The Amount of the Gratuity.

The gratuity consists of a continuation of a soldier's pay, field allowance and separation allowance for a period beyond his discharge.

This period is graded according to the length and character of service.

If his service has been in part overseas his gratuity is figured on a higher scale than that of the man who has served only in Canada.

The maximum gratuity for the man who has served overseas is six months. This is given to the man whose total service amounts to three years or more.

Three months gratuity is the maximum for the man who has served in Canada only, and it is given for three years' service.

If the monthly pay and allowances for a man whose dependents have been receiving separation allowance should be less than $100 he is given $100 per month as gratuity. A part of the gratuity equal to separation allowance will be paid direct to the dependent entitled to it.

If the monthly pay and allowances for a man without such dependents should amount to less than $70.00 he is to receive $70.00 per month.

Further, every gratuity granted will amount to at least one month's pay, field allowance and separation allowance.

When Payable.

Men who have already been discharged will be given the gratuity to which they are entitled (less any "post discharge pay" they have received) after February 1st, 1919.

Application for an adjustment must be made to the paymaster of the district from which the soldier was discharged. The necessary forms to be filled out in support of each claim for adjustment may be obtained from the military headquarters of each district, from district and unit paymasters and from officers commanding militia units.

Men who are still in the service will receive their first month's gratuity immediately upon their discharge—unless they are "boarded" to receive treatment and full pay and allowances from the Department of Soldiers Civil Re-Establishment.

Men who are in the care of the Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment will get their gratuity as soon as they cease to receive full pay and allowances.

By this token Canada will record her appreciation of her soldiers and sailors—to a degree more generous than that shown by any other nation.

PUT STOMACH IN FINE CONDITION

SAYS INDIGESTION RESULTS FROM AN EXCESS OF HYDROCHLORIC ACID

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning there is an excess of hydro-chloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing, and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

OLIVE MISSION BAND

Pleasing Program Given by Seniors and Juniors.

The Women's Missionary Society served refreshments.

WOMEN KNOW MARKET PRICES

All well informed housekeepers know the prices charged by the grocer for foods, and those prices are most reasonable when you consider that the grocer has many times to deliver unreasonably small orders and also keep up the expensive charge system. You may not get this service but in nearly every case you pay for it. The exception is where you deal at The Groceteria for your groceries.

PROPOSES ACT FOR CONGRESS

TENTATIVE PROHIBITING LAW DRAWS UP BY THE TEMPERANCE PARTY.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—The twenty-five prohibition and anti-saloon league organizations have agreed on a "bone dry" Federal act to be presented to Congress, according to a bulletin issued from National Anti-Saloon League headquarters.

Tentatively it includes the following provisions:

"Appointment of Federal commissioners to enforce the Act, with power to prescribe rules and regulations for the manufacture and distribution of wine for sacramental purposes and alcohol for non-prohibitive purposes.

The importation, exportation and possession of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes to be prohibited.

All intoxicating liquors illegally possessed and all implements used in their illegal manufacture to be contraband.

An adequate search and seizure provision.

The sale of alcoholic patent or proprietary medicines capable of being used as beverage to be surrounded by the same safeguards as the sale of alcohol.

Such other provisions as well "destroy every vestige of the beverage liquor traffic throughout the United States and its possessions."

DATE OF THE TAFT LECTURE

"Scotch Knit"

MEANS WARMTH and COMFORT

"Scotch Knit" Gloves owe their celebrated warmth, comfort and durability to the special process by which they are knitted and finished.

It is essentially the same as that followed for centuries by the industrious Scotch housewife in making gloves and mittens for her men folk.

This process has been brought to Canada and is seen at its best in

The BALLANTYNE GLOVE Scotch Knit

FOR MEN

The gloves are first knitted of the softest and strongest wool yarn. They are then "fulled"—a process that transforms the loosely knitted fabric into one of firm texture but of silky softness. It retains the elasticity of the knitted fabric, but cold or wind cannot penetrate it. It also gives the gloves an appearance unequalled by any other fabric glove.

Ballantyne's Scotch Knit Gloves cost less than leather gloves and are superior to them in the three glove essentials—warmth, comfort, and durability.

A LAST CHANCE.

We learn that the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal are shortly to withdraw their offer of the War Album which has been given to all who this season subscribed to that great paper. The Album is certainly a useful little book to have, containing a vast amount of useful information. The colorings of the flags of all the Allies is beautiful. The new Edition now issued has a complete record of the war. It is said an edition of 25,000 copies were snapped up by the citizens of Montreal in one day. $1.25 pays for a year's subscription to the Family Herald with the Album thrown in free. It is a bargain.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies and children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

RAISES SALARY LIMIT.

New York, Jan. 18.—The $11,000 monthly salary limit decided on two days ago by the National League, was rescinded at a special executive meeting of the league membership yesterday. The new limit decided upon was not disclosed, but it was learned that the $11,000 monthly limit was considered insufficient and unworkable.

Keep Them Smiling

Soldiers Home Coming Campaign

The "Welcome" sign still hangs high on the doors of the Salvation Army Hostels. Help them to keep it there! While our soldiers have need of the comforts—spiritual as well as bodily—DON'T shut the doors in the boys' faces—Keep them smiling!

The Salvation Army appeals for a Million Dollars for the boys who won the Victory. This is the first time the Salvation Army has made a general appeal for its work. We urge you now, for the sake of the soldiers, and as a VITAL factor in the solution of Canada's Reconstruction problems, with the Homecoming of her boys, to give and to give liberally!

Our men in Khaki may not all be home for another year. While there is a company of Canadians in uniform over there or over HERE, there is work for the Salvation Army Lassie.

The weary waiting and the relaxed discipline spell dangers that MUST be guarded against. A happy smile and a comfortable body help to keep trouble at a distance. Do not let the Hostels shut for lack of funds!

The Salvation Army Million Dollar Fund

January 19th to 25th

"FIRST TO SERVE—LAST TO APPEAL"

A WORD ABOUT THE HOSTELS! Have you ever been inside a Salvation Army Hostel? If not, ask a returned man about the Hostels in Paris, London, Toronto, Hamilton, or any others that he has stayed in over HERE.

Let HIM tell you about the REAL beds, the home cooking, the fried eggs, and hot coffee—and hot baths. If he knows you very well, he may give you a hint about the spiritual comfort the Salvation Army Lassies give these men far from home and all it means!

Keep them smiling! We will not turn the men adrift after they have won so glorious a Victory! We will redeem our PLEDGE—"We will keep the home fires burning, till the boys come home"!

Next week the Campaign will be on! Help twice! First, by your liberal contribution—"To whom much is given, of him much is required." Second, urge upon your friends and neighbors the pressing needs of the soldiers, right up to the time they are safely settled once more into civilian life.

HAMILTON MAY HAVE PLACE IN INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

New York, Jan. 18.—The question of placing an International league club in The Bronx will be settled here this week, but probably not until after the conference between the major and minor leagues tomorrow, Billy Gibson, who came forward a year ago with a proposition to put The Bronx on the baseball map, renewed his offer today. Gibson says he is willing to take over one of the International franchises now on the market, build a modern stadium and engage a crack team.

"I have all the backing I need," said Gibson today. "We are willing to spend half a million dollars if necessary to put this thing over.

"But before we can organize a club the league must clear the way for us. Last winter I was told to go ahead myself, but I ran against a snag when President Hempstead of the Giants refused to give us permission to operate in a zone within five miles of the Polo grounds. I do not know how this matter can be adjusted under new conditions that have arisen, but I feel that it is a thing the International league should straighten out—not me, because I have no standing in baseball as yet."

The league is anxious to put a club in The Bronx, but has not been assured that the New York major clubs will yield territorial concessions. As long as the present form of baseball law holds good, no minor league club can operate within five miles of a major league city.

Sunday ball will keep the International league alive, and that is why the club owners look with favor on The Bronx. It is believed that the Hamilton franchise, removed from Syracuse last season, can be picked up at a bargain price.

So sure is Gibson of The Bronx as a baseball field that he offered tonight to wager $1000 with Dave Driscoll that a Bronx first division team would draw three times as many persons in a season as Jersey City, and the same amount that he could in Toronto's attendance figures, Toronto being the best city in the International league.

Just then Dick Rudolph came along. "And here's a Bronx boy we'd like to have as manager," said Gibson. "With a native son pitching, and our own Heinie Zimmerman playing on third base I guess we wouldn't pack 'em in."

Nearly All Boxers Are Religous

Yesterday was the anniversary of the birth, in 1883, of Johnny Summers, the English welterweight boxer, who has been called the "Praying Pugilist." When he fought Syd Burns for the English welterweight title and the Lonsdale belt, six years ago, Johnny created a great deal of comment by kneeling in his corner, just before the battle, to pray for victory. At the beginning of each round he crossed himself and bowed his head reverently. That was something of an innovation, and not many boxers are likely to follow Summers' example and pray for victory, nor to thank heaven for it publicly at the conclusion of the bout. Practically all professional boxers, however, have been church adherents, or, at least, believers in Christianity or Judaism. The great majority, perhaps, have been Catholics, but this is partly due to the fact that so many Irishmen have been knights of the padded mitt. Statistics on the religious beliefs of pugilists are not usually included in the dope books, but it is safe to say that there have been hardly any freethinking boxers. Old Jem Mace used to scoff at his "sky pilot" son, but he never ridiculed religion.

There has been one man connected with the boxing game, however, who was a sworn enemy of all religion. That man was the late Marquis of Queensbury, whose name was given to the code of rules for the reformation of the fistic game. The old marquis was outspoken in his disbelief in Christianity, and in his will asked that "no religious mummery" be performed at his funeral. The present marquis, while he has inherited the pugilistic passion of his father, is orthodox in his religious views.

The late Colonel Roosevelt advocated boxing as a proper accomplishment of a "young Christian," and A. J. Drexel Biddle of Philadelphia, was the founder of the "muscular Christianity" movement in which boxing plays a prominent part.

Since history began, men of all religious beliefs have prayed for success before going into battle, and have gone to war in the blessed belief that the Lord was on their side. In petitioning heaven for victory, Johnny Summers was only following precedent that is as old as humanity.

REV. J. R. WEBB MOVES TO FIX MINIMUM PAY FOR PASTORS

Missionaries to Receive Not Less Than $1,000 a Year According to Amendment but Matter Is Referred to Committee.

At the meeting of the Baptist Convention in Toronto the following amendment was moved by Rev. J. R. Webb, of the Murray Street Baptist Church and seconded by Dr. T. T. Shields: "That we adopt the report of the Budget Committee with the understanding that after the percentage suggested therein, the first charge an increased giving shall be the placing at the disposal of the Home Mission Board an amount equal to 40 per cent of the givings of last year for the purpose of establishing a minimum salary of $1000 per year for each of its missionaries and that we urge each self-supporting church to adopt a similar minimum as a last charge on any forward movement."

After considerable discussion the report of the Budget Committee and the amendment was referred back to the committee of arrangements.

A $300,000 Budget

In presenting the report of the budget committee at the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec Mr. W. C. Senior stated that in order to meet the "forward movement," it was decided to ask for $300,000 for the ensuing year which compares with $225,000 for last year, $210,000 of which was raised. The estimates of the various boards were as follows: $100,000 for foreign missions; $30,000 for Western missions; $23,000 for Grande Ligne; $23,000 for Christian education; $7,000 for the Sunday School Board; $7,000 superannuation fund; $3,000 for church edifice fund, and $1000 for social service, making a total of $294,000. The amount which the Toronto Baptist Association is asked to contribute to the budget is $63,000.

Dr. T. T. Shields, speaking on the budget, said: "Something must be done to make it possible for our pastors to live. There is no use in training our young men for the ministry and afterwards starve them so that they have to seek secular positions."

BANKER TALKS ON TRADE QUESTION

Particular interest attaches at this important juncture in Canada's trade and commerce to the proceedings at the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Canadian Bank of Commerce held yesterday. The president, Sir Edmund Walker remarked at the outset that "One turn o fthe kaleidescope has changed the aspect of almost everything in our daily lives and in our mental horizon Only yesterday we were lending every faculty as a nation and as individuals to the thousand different kinds of efforts necessary to win the war."

Everyone engaged in industry and trade will be glad to have for their careful consideration, if not for their guidance the conclusions which the facts and figures assembled and presented at this meeting would appear to point out. One of the outstanding results achieved since August, 1914, and due to the war is the expansion in Canada's foreign trade. Our exports have been phenomenal and imports far above normal. To the latter, Sir Edmund devotes particular attention, regarding as of first importance some way of affecting a material reduction in them. Further it would appear that in his opinion the industrial plants developed to produce munitions of war is relatively as important in the peace era just upon us as it was in war time. We need not repeat here the very interesting summary of foreign trade which he gives, but would draw attention to the list of substantial imports, the place of which might be taken by home products. It is hoped "eventually to produce the whole of our requirements, in all of them. If we could do so now, we could face the future with complete assurance as to our financial position as a nation, and with the best possible market for our farm products—that at home."

While accentuating the importance of home market Sir Edmund sees openings for the products of Canada in foreign golds that will be available to those who can compete for it but it will not be obtained without a struggle which leaves no room for lack of skill in manufacturing, of the knowledge of costs, of the power of finance and of the facilities for transportation.

His discussion of this aspect of the future of trade and commerce is informative as well as assuring, as dfurnishes abundant evidence of unbounded confidence in Canada, her resources and industrial capacity. In no less a degree, pride is shown in the wonderful achievements of Great Britain, whose part during the war is vary graphically and appreciatively reviewed.

Sir John Aird

The part taken by the Canadian Bank of Commerce itself, of which it has every reason to be proud, was alluded to by the General Manager, Sir John Aird, who confessed to a feeling of pride in the ability shown to maintain the premier place among Canadian Banks in the matter of earnings. Although the actual amount shown was large, it must not be forgotten he pointed out, that the rate of earnings of the Bank, as of all Canadian Banks, is steadily decreasing when measured by the services rendered and the extent of the effort put forth. It will be recalled by those present at the annual meeting in 1915 that reference was made to a possible loss by depreciation in security values, and the hope then expressed that this loss would be saved. At that time, $1,000,000 was set aside. As was hoped would be the case when the appropriation was made, the Bank was able to add the entire amount to its profits.

Another matter which is of considerable interest to the shareholders, and has an interest of a national character, is the extent to which the bank and its customers contributed to the success of the Victory Loan. Sir John says that 150,773 individual subscriptions, aggregating $104,543,000 of which $100,000,000 was new money, or 15 per cent of the total, represent the efforts of the Bank and its customers. This will be particularly pleasing to the Bank's shareholders when it is considered that the number of subscriptions to the war loan in March, 1917, was 41,000 that is, for the whole of Canada. The Bank's contribution exceeded the proportion which might have reasonably been expected from it, as Sir John pointed out, and he added that it was not accomplished without strenuous efforts on the part of the Bank's staff and the expenditure of a large amount of money by the Bank. At the same time the Bank assumed its full share of the requirements of the Dominion Government and the Imperials Munitions Board.

Sir John discussed at some length the conditions incidental to financing the requirements of Great Britain and also issued a timely warning relative to the future financing of the undertakings proposed as part of the reconstruction plans of the Government. He expressed the opinion that good preparatory work has been done and that we may look forward to the future with quiet confidence, but urged that it would be well for us to bear in mind that the money will have to be provided to carry out the plans for reconstruction which have been discussed. "Let a wise and statesmanlike view of the matter prevail," he added, "and all proposed works be undertaken which are in the best interests of the community having regard to all aspects of the question." No doubt in making this statement he had in mind the view of the President, Sir Edmund Walker, to the effect that such expenditure would not be of assistance of presumably in the best interests of the country unless it added to productive capacity. Sir John mentions that a number of our municipalities are already hampered by heavy debts incurred in former periods of prosperity and no one will favor any considerable increase at this time in the national debt of the Dominion. The findings of the Cunliffe report that all money expended on reconstruction work should come out of savings and not be obtained by the creation of new credit are endorsed by him. The burden of high interest rate sand of taxes, the extend of which it may be added, is not yet determined, is such as to make clear, as Sir John points out, the importance of saving and economy in personal expenditure as a public duty. This in junction as to economy was much urged during the war, and is as necessary if not more so now to provide for the carrying out of the plans designed to avoid dislocation of business in the transition from war to peace times.

RETURNED SOLDIERS LAUD WORK OF SALVATION ARMY

Capt. C. R. Widdifield and Sergt. Stanley Testify to Good Work Done by That Organization at the Front—Judge Huycke, Joseph Waring and Other Speakers at Mass Meeting Yesterday

There was a crowd which filled the Grand Opera House, at the meeting held yesterday afternoon in the interests of the Salvation Army Red Shield drive for one million dollars, the local objective of which is $30,000 and which begun this morning and continues tomorrow and the next day.

In addition to the Salvation Army Band and the Temple Songsters the following gentlemen had places on the platform: Mayor Duncan, Judge Huycke, W. Stocker, J. A. Aylmer, Capt. C. R. Widdifield, Ex-Alderman Dobbin, Joseph Wearing, Sergt. Stanley and Aldermen Turner, Murray and McIntyre.

Mayor Duncan Presides

Mayor Duncan presided and in a short address heartily endorsed the campaign for funds being made by the Army in this city and throughout the country. He spoke of what this worthy organization had accomplished in the military camps, but especially dwelt upon their activities in this city which have come under his own observation for many years.

The Plan Explained

Mr. J. A. Aylmer, Chairman of the Canvassing Committee was the next speaker. He dealt with the organization for the campaign and the manner in which it was to be carried out. In this connection he made the statement that there might be some overlapping but reminded his auditors that if any of them were requested to give for a second time they should bear in mind the justice of the cause in the interests of which the money was being collected. He touched upon the splendid work which had been accomplished by the army in the past in the way of bringing relief to the man at the front and to their dependents at home and concluded by expressing hopes for and an assurance of the success of the $30,000 three day campaign as far as Peterborough was concerned.

Capt. Widdifield's Testimony

Captain C. R. Widdifield in a most convincing address dealt with the work of the army carried on in England and France about which he was exceptionally qualified to speak, being an officer who has seen much overseas service and whose testimony is first hand and therefore most dependable.

He commenced by reminding the citizens of the city that an organization, or for that matter a private individual, aspiring for public confidence is judged upon the past record and in this connection the Salvation Amry was in the happy position of being second to no body which carried on work at the front. Its history as a relief organisation overseas was beyond reproach. He told in a most interesting manner of the activities of the Army at the scene of war. Their huts were always a welcome resting place for the weary men upon arriving in billets fresh from the dreadful trenches. Here they were given light refreshments and a cup of coffee and that cheer and comfort which was so desirable under such trying conditions.

He brought out a strong point and one which is readily understood when he stated that the men felt more at liberty to ask a favor of a Salvation Army chaplin over there than of the representative of any other church or society. They felt less diffidence about approaching him and seemed freer in his company.

Hostels and other places where the Army carried on relief work in England were very important especially when the difficulty of obtaining hotel accommodation and the abnormal expense connected with it was considered. Capt. Widdifield stated that in his opinion the Salvation Army were making one of the most worthy appeals that had ever been made in connection with war work.

Praise From Sergt Stanley

Sergt. Stanley a returned soldier bore witness to the fine work of the Salvation Army overseas and com-

JUDGMENT GIVEN IN FAUX CASE

MAGISTRATE DUMBLE GIVES REASON FOR ADJUDGING THE DEFENDANT GUILTY.

A summary of the judgment in the Faux case as handed down by Magistrate Dumble in police court on Saturday morning is reproduced below.

The evidence of Laura Bourgon shows that on the evening of Saturday, December 18, 1918, Emmett Faux came to her house about 7 p.m. and that he brought a bottle with him. Her husband tasted it, said it was not strong enough and that he was not going to pay for it. Faux said that he had a stronger bottle at home. Faux went away and took the bottle with him, and came back in about fifteen minutes, bringing another bottle. Bourgon tasted it, and handed his wife the tumbler, and she also tasted it. She said it tasted something like high wines. Her husband bought this bottle.

Mr. John Heatherington, a neighbor, came to the house, and spent the evening and drank from the bottle. Faux took away the first bottle and produced a second or stronger bottle. After her husband tasted the second bottle he paid Faux the money and Faux went away.

As Faux was going out of the door he turned and said to Mrs. Bourgon, "Someone has rung the bell; hide the bottle; a policeman is coming in." It was only an insurance agent.

Bourgon told Heatherington that he had struck a little luck that after-

ABOLISH THE LAW AGAINST LOAFING

MINISTER OF LABOR SECURES ABROGATION OF ORDER-IN-COUNCIL.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—On the recommendation of Hon. G. D. Robertson, the Dominion Government has abolished the "anti-loafing law," put into effect by order-in-council during the latter part of the war to ensure the maximum effort of the nation to work for the early and successful issue of the war. With changed conditions, owing to the returning soldiers and lack of employment, it is recognized that it would be unjust to continue the operation of this regulation.

ADMIT PUBLIC ON INVITATION

SINN FEIN PARLIAMENT TOMORROW WILL BE OPEN TO PRESS.

Dublin, Jan. 20.—Sinn Fein officials have announced that the meeting of the Irish Republican Parliament next Tuesday will be open to the press and public on presentation of tickets obtainable at Sinn Fein headquarters. Representation will be confined to elected members of the Parliament, but the unsuccessful candidates and men occupying Government positions will participate.

A conference was held in Dublin Castle Sunday, at which the Lord-Lieutenant, the Lord Chancellor, the Commander of the forces, the Attorney-General and Solicitor-General considered the situation. Differences of opinion are believed to exist as to whether it would be wiser to ignore Tuesday's assembly and proceed only against acts of intimidation or violence, or whether the assembly should be suppressed as illegal. A majority of the people expect that the former view will prevail.

Spartacans Make Trouble in Berlin

WOMEN IN RUSSIA COMMIT SUICIDE TO ESCAPE THE MOB

Ability to Read and Write and the Wearing of Epaulets Is Considered Sufficient Cause for Death—How One Diplomat Was Murdered by the Bolshevists.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Warsaw, Jan. 20. — Bolshevist troops have slackened their advance at the Polish frontier. The Germans are delaying their evacuation of Grodno for several days although General Falkenhayn has retired to Suwalki and General Hoffmann has gone to Koenigsberg. Men have been arrested at Vilna and other places and have been released later it is said on the payment of sums ranging from fifty to fifty thousand roubles. The size of the ransom is in proportion to the terror of the victim and his power to pay. The Bolsheviki are especially bitter against the Poles.

Murdered a Diplomat

Miss Shebko, sister of the member of the Imperial Council, succeeded in escaping from the Mobliev and has reached Warsaw. She says that she, with aged aunts were driven from their home which was turned over to the peasant forces. They themselves were fortunate as many of their neighbors were massacred, she declared. The official of the Polish legion who went to visit Serbow Sberdowski is alleged to have been murdered because he wore paulets which are forbidden by the Bolsheviats. Miss Shebko says that this murder aroused the indignation of certain Jewish members of the Local Soviet. She says the sentence was finally approved when it was learned that the officer knew how to read and write. One of the speakers at the hearing was reported to have declared "There will be perfect equity in the world only when nobody knows how to read or write."

Miss Shebko says that many well bred women in Russia have committed suicide through fear of outrage.

KING'S YOUNGEST SON PASSES AWAY

PRINCE JOHN ILL ALL HIS LIFE DIES OF EPELEPSY.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 20.—Prince John, fourth son of King George, died Saturday of epilepsy.

The last moments of Prince John came so quietly and unexpectedly that there was no time for the nurses who were with him to summon their Majesties to his bedside before he had passed away. The newspapers point out sympathetically how their Majesties have labored unceasingly during war time to bury the tragedy of their youngest son's delicate health in the silence of their hearts.

In recent years the delicate health of Prince John necessitated that he always have an attendant. Consequently he was never seen on public occasions with other members of the Royal family but lived in comparative privacy at Sandringham. Public sympathy was expressed for their majesties in all churches yesterday.

Peace Plans Take Definite Form

Paris, Jan. 20.—It is understood that the supreme council of the inter-allied peace conference today plans for the League of Nations took on a definite shape, along the lines of W. J. Bryan's plan with many changes.

Spartacans Are Buried by Votes

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Berlin, Jan. 20.—Only scattered returns from the election yesterday are yet available. In Replesen precincts of Berlin the majority Socialists defeated the Independent and Spartacus candidates two hundred to one.

BOLSHEVIK FORCES HAVE OCCUPIED MITAU.

London, Jan. 20.—Mitau, capital of Courland, has been occupied by the Bolsheviki, according to a German wireless despatch received here. The Germans were obliged to leave behind numerous guns and supplies of ammunition. After the Germans had evacuated Mitau fire broke out, destroying a great number of houses in the centre of the town.

Local Effects of the Bank Merger

In the event of the ratification by the stockholders and the Minister of Finance of the proposed merger of the Bank of Nova Scotia and the Bank of Ottawa, as announced in a despatch from Ottawa today, there will be one less office in Peterborough.

Mr. J. W. Fraser, manager of the branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia here, stated this afternoon that he had compared the lists of offices of the two banks, and found that there were only eleven places in the country where they would conflict. These are: Arnprior, Edmonton, Fort William, Montreal, Ottawa, Peterborough, Prince Albert, Regina, Toronto, Vancouver and Winnipeg.

Unless another bank should decide to establish a branch here, which is not at all likely, as Peterborough already has eight banks, or one for every three thousand of the population, men, women and children, the city will lose one office as a result of the amalgamation.

Both banks are healthy financial institutions and are especially well adapted for a union of such a character as has been announced. A merger such as this cuts down unnecessary expenses in the way of maintaining two head offices, which are a heavy burden. The union of both institutions will eliminate one of these, and, while the work can be directed just as efficiently by one of them, the cost of maintenance will be almost cut in half.

In this connection it is interesting to note that during the war the cost of banking accommodation has not increased, although the banks, in common with private individuals and other business institutions have been subject to the same conditions which have combined to inflate the expenses of operation, such as increased cost of fuel, stationery and salaries.

The reason for this is that it was found that by working overtime the staffs were able to make up for the lack of help which resulted from enlistments among the male clerks, and the increase in operating expenses was atoned for to some extent by the larger volume of business transacted.

LOST PROPERTY WORTH $40,000

LADY KEMP ROBBED OF JEWELS AND FURS IN U. S.

Toronto, Jan. 20.—Jewelry, furs and valuables totalling $40,000 have been stolen from the winter residence of Lady Kemp, wife of Sir Edward Kemp, overseas minister of militia, at Aiken, South Carolina. The robbery occurred while a dinner party was in progress, and Mrs. Joseph Hoffman, an American guest of Lady Kemp's, was also a victim of the thief or thieves.

Among Lady Kemp's furs was a magnificent ermine cape valued at not less than $2000, and sables worth $5000, while her diamonds and other jewels formed one of the most valuable collections in Canada.

So far as has been ascertained the Toronto police have not been notified of the occurrence. It was stated on Sunday that there was little hope as yet of the recovery of the stolen gems, but that a well-known Toronto lawyer was engaged in collaboration with the American police in an effort to ferret out the thieves.

TO CONTINUE IN ARMY UNTIL JOBS TURN UP.

Capetown, Jan. 20.—The South African government's demobilization scheme contains important provisions regarding unemployment. Discharged soldiers who cannot find employment may enlist in the South African defence force, remaining there until employment is found for them. They will be paid at South African rates of pay with maintenance allowances. The same procedure will be adopted as far as possible with South Africans who joined imperial regiments.

MONDAY, JANUARY 20, 1919

THE RED SHIELD DRIVE.

THE SALVATION ARMY drive, the object of which is to raise one million dollars in Canada fort he carrying on of the work of the organization, opened today and will be continued until Wednesday evening. Peterborough is asked to give $30,000, and considering the liberality of the people in the past in their donations to all war work, there should be no difficulty in raising this amount.

Everyone knows something of the work which the Salvation Army does in the time of peace. In very truth its mission is to seek out and save those who are lost. It does not conflict with the efforts of any of the churches as so many of the latter overlap in the field among themselves, but supplements the work of the regular denominations by going into the highways and byways searching for those who otherwise would be permitted to perish alone. The world over, for its branches are everywhere that the gospel has been taught, in the Dominion and in the city of Peterborough, the record of the Salvation Army is a history of successful work among the fallen. Its temples for public worship, its Sunday schools, its homes for the erring, are everywhere, the best possible testimonies to the nature of its public services.

Just as in the time of peace, so in the field of war work the Salvation has done and will continue to do a task that is peculiarly its own. It was the first organization to take up work among the soldiers; it will be the last to continue in that work, just as it is the last to appeal for funds to carry on its chosen mission. The indigent soldier and his dependents will be assured of interest in his welfare on the part of the Salavtion Army that he could hope for from no other source.

With this truth before them the people of Peterborough are asked for help. Every dollar contributed will go to aid the war-broken soldier, his wife and children, and other sufferers from the evils of four years of war. The meeting in the Opera House yesterday was a striking evidence of the esteem in which the Salvation Army is held and the confidence that is placed in its integrity by the public. Mayor Duncan presided at the gathering and testified to the value of the Army's services right under his own observation. Judge Huycke, Joseph Wearing and other prominent citizens spoke in its behalf.

Best of all, however, were the addresses of Captain C. R. Widdifield and Sergeant Stanley, men who have been overseas and who were able to give first hand information as to the splendid work the Army has carried on for the past four years in the theatre of war.

THE SECOND ACT IN "THE WANDERER."

THERE SEEMS TO BE a difference of opinion among the local clergy and the church people of the city as to the moral lessons that are conveyed in the modern drama that assumes to instruct the public in the difference between right and wrong. This discussion has been revived by the presentation of "The Wanderer," a biblical play, at the Grand Opera House last week. Some ministers regard all such dramas as an attempt to usurp the functions of the church, to make the lesson in Christian duty easier by teaching it in the form of light entertainment.

There were a number of ministers in Peterborough who witnessed the presentation of "The Wanderer." As to the lessons of the drama as a whole, there may be a difference of opinion, but there is none as to the second act in the play, which all the clergymen who witnessed it believe was realistic beyond all justification.

The act referred to depicts the life of the unsophisticated country boy when he left the home of his parents and went to Jerusalem to see life. He was lured by temptations that beckoned him on every hand. The costumes were scant, but they were true to date, the dances and other forms of revelry were such as are described both in sacred and profane history.

The modern student of human life demands realism in the drama, and the act in the play referred to was realistic beyond all question. It was not, however, any more so than are some of the descriptions that appear in the Old Testament of social conditions as they existed in the early history of the world. But if in the Bible vice is occasionally paraded, the object is to emphasize virtue by contrast. The sinner whose career is described in sacred story never escapes punishment, even in this world. The nation that gives way to licentiousness always comes to grief.

The lesson taught in the second act of "The Wanderer" is forcibly put. The sin of the hero of the play found him out. The realism of the presentation is no more objectionable than it would be to take a young man to a police court in a large city to show him the evils of intemperance in the spectacle of the human derelicts gathered there, or to a hospital to give him an object lesson in the results of ignoring the laws of health.

If the dance in the second act was objectionable, some of those who criticize it would beyond a doubt form the same opinion of some of the latest specimens of the terpsichorean art that may often be witnessed in a modern ball-room. Only a few years ago the Church condemned dances that have since been eliminated from the programme at all respectable entertainments.

Ministers and laity alike were charmed by the beauty of the first and third acts of the drama in question, with the pastoral scene in the opening and the elevating exhibition of maternal devotion and of Christian charity just before the close. And the moral lesson is obvious. One of the outstanding features of the play is the presentation of the fact that "The Wanderer's" early Christian training saved him from utter destruction and brought him back to the pathway of redemption at last.

The story of "The Wanderer" belongs to an ancient period of the history of the world, and is presented with fidelity of detail according to the custom of the times. If the scene was taken from a later age the presentation would have been in keeping with the social customs of the day just as in the case of two other modern dramas, "Everywomen" and "Experience." In the New Testament truth is impressed in a different form than is used in telling the story of the downfall of the doomed Cities of the Plains. The Nazarene, when He told the story of "The Prodigal Son" to His disciples did not go into details as to the life in a far country of the subject of His parable. The Apostle Paul, while admitting that he was the "chief of sinners," never wounded the sensibilities by enumerating his offences, an example many a moral reformer describing his own redemption would do well to follow.

ENFORCING PROHIBITION.

THE HAMILTON HERALD has always been opposed to the principle of total prohibition, and the main argument which it uses is that it is impossible to enforce such a measure. In the city in which the Herald is published such crimes as murder are not infrequent, indeed Hamilton is somewhat notorious not only in the murders committed, but as to the large percentage of assassins who have been able to elude the police. To be perfectly logical, the Herald should contend that the law against murder be removed from the statute books as a dead letter.

Of course, it was only to be expected that the Herald should be skeptical as to the greatest piece of moral legislation in the history of the world—the adoption of Federal prohibiton in the United States. Here again it has recourse to its old assertion that such a law cannot be enforced, and the argument it uses is based on a lack of information of the affairs of the United States that characterizes so many Canadian newspapers which give the people of this country so often the idea that all forms of lawlessness prevail among their neighbors across the border.

The Herald says that the fifteenth amendment to the American Constitution was passed in 1869, its purpose being to secure for the emancipated negroes the right of the franchise. "But," continues the Herald, "it is a notorious fact that it has failed to accomplish its purpose. In several of the Southern States to this day the voting rights of the colored man are rigorously restricted. They are denied equal rights with white citizens.

Any state in the American Union has a right to make its own franchise laws. If the negro has been deprived of the vote, that has been brought about by legislative enactment after a plebiscite had been taken on the question. The law that disfranchises the negro also deprives a number of whites of the vote. The Federal Supreme Court has ruled that any law lacking this provision would be unconstitutional. Nothing like discriminatory legislation is tolerated by the highest American court in its interpretation of the Constitution.

Any state has the right to practically disfranchise the foreigners by setting the time required for residence before the alien is entitled to vote, at ten, fifteen or twenty-five years, as the legislature may enact.

Things are not really as bad across the border as the Herald appears to imagine. The nation-wide prohibition enactment will be as effectively enforced at least as the law against murder in the field to which the Herald ministers.

That Roumanian Loan.
(Montreal Gazette.)

A report from Ottawa says there is no truth behind a rumor that the Government of Canada was to create a credit of $25,000,000 in favor of Roumania for the purpose of supplying the country with foodstuffs, agricultural implements and other materials. It is presumed that there will not at any future time be truth behind any such statement. Canada has assumed heavy liabilities, and is paying heavy taxes on account of the war. These should not be added to in efforts to finance the selfish second-rate powers of Europe.

What The Government Is Doing

Q—What is a war service gratuity?

A—It is a grant of money made by the Dominion Government to every soldier discharged from the Canadian army.

Q—What is the idea of giving the men a gratuity?

A—After the signing of the armistice it was thought advisable to change the method of giving soldiers post discharge pay.

Q—Has the war gratuity got anything to do with post discharge pay?

A—Nothing whatever. It takes the place of what was called post discharge pay prior to the signing of the armistice.

Q—What is the reason for giving the soldiers a grant

A—So that every man will have enough money to "tide him over" the time between his discharge from the army and the time he gets a job.

Q—Is the war gratuity the same amount of money as post discharge pay?

A—No. It is larger.

Q—Does it include back pay or pension or clothing allowance to which a man may be entitled?

A—No. It is given over and above any allowances mentioned.

A—It will be given to every man who serve d at the front whether he was discharged before or after the armistice. Those who were on active service at the date of the signing of the armistice, Nov. 11th,' 1918, will also receive the new gratuity.

Q—If a man was discharged prior to the signing of the armistice and did not serve at the front, does he get the gratuity?

A—No. He will be entitled only to post discharge pay. But all soldiers discharged after Nov. 11, 1918, will receive the gratuitf.

A—The amount is graded. If a man has served overseas for three years or more is given a gratuity equal to six months' pay and allowances. The man who has served in Canada only is given three months' pay and allowances.

It is graded down to one month's pay and allowances, according to length of service and where the soldier served.

Q—What about a man whose dependents have been receiving separation allowance?

A—If the monthly pay and allowance is less than $100, he is given $100 a month as gratuity. Part of the gratuity, equal to separation allowance, will be paid directly to the dependents entitled to it. If the monthly pay and allowances for a man without dependents amounts to less than $70 a month, he will be given $10 a month.

Q—What is the smallest gratuity given?

A—Every gratuity granted will amount to at least one month's pay and allowances.

Q—hen is this money to be paid?

A—Men who already have been discharged will be given the gratuity to which they are entitled, less any post discharge pay they have recevied after Feb. 1, 1919.

Q—That means that any post discharge pay already received will be deducted from the amoun tof the gratuity?

A—Certainly.

Q—If there is any "kick" about the amount paid to a soldier, who does he do to have it adjusted?

A—Application for an adjustment must be made to the paymaster of the district from which the soldier was discharged.

Q—Must the application be made in writing?

A—Yes. The forms necessary may be obtained at the military headquarters of each district, from district and unit paymasters, and from officers commanding militia units.

Q—What about men who are still in the service?

Q—What about men who are in the care of the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment?

A—They will get their gratuity as soon asthe y cease to receive full pay and allowances.

Q—Is the amount of the gratuity equal to that paid by other nations whose soldiers served at the front.

A—The amount to be paid to every Canadian soldiers is larger than that paid to any soldier of any other nation which had men on the firing line.

TODAY'S STORY

She was a widow; he was her only son.

Every Tuesday evening for seventeen months she had posted his letter, addressed to the Prisoners of War Camp, Coblenz—simple worded, a bit illiterate, perhaps, the handwriting stiffly careful but—a mother's letter. Seventeen months of patient, wearing longing for her; seventeen months of suffering for the boy. "It was mother's letter helped me to stick it," he said afterwards.

Now he was coming home — released!

What a stir in that little cottage, what a scrubbing and a cleaning, and polishing. Her hair was silver, those months of waiting had scored her face with lines, but today her eyes were bright, her face aglow, and she was actually singing, in a thin, weak voice, true; but what did the tone matter? The music was there.

"There's all his postcards and letters." She opened the wooden tea caddy and showed me them. "Right from the day he joined up." His photographs were on the mantelshelf—two school groups and one as a lad of about fourteen. There was the one he had taken at the barracks down where he was stationed — a laughing, keen-eyed youngster.

I looked round the little kitchen. His pipe rack was there ready,, pipes and all, and the tobacco jar filled. His bed had been aired every day, his boots carefully cleaned, his clothes all ready for him, pressed and sponged. All spoke of a tender, loving care.

She had dressed herself with extra care that morning. Round her neck was a bit of lace he had sent from Boulogne fastened with a brooch, a replica of his regimental badge. In the parlor were the souvenir handkerchiefs, tea cloths, cushion covers, gaudy in coloring, blatant in elaborate design. But he had sent them and they were beautiful in her sight.

"No, I am not going to the station," she said, smiling, as the hour of his arrival drew near. "I am just to wait here. His tea will be ready and he'll just walk in as he used to. And"——s—he paused and hesitated a moment—"I don't want to make a fool of myself before people."

The train was in! She could hear it draw into the station, and her hands fumbled nervously amongst the tea things, which had been arranged and rearranged a dozen times in the last hour.

HOGS PLENTY, PORK HIGH

Food Administration to Keep Promise to Grower, Maintains Price

Hogs are the most plentiful food commodity in the world today says a Chicago despatch. The market is flooded with hogs, and yet the price remains the same—$17.50 being the minimum price set by the food administration for January. Still, the price of pork, retail at least, continues to advance, although the packers say that they wholesale price is considerably lower than it has been for some time past.

Until the food administration, through its meat division, removes its regulation on hog prices, the packers say, the price of pork will remain high. The food administration, the packers say, will not permit the market to get back to the competitive system because it has promised the hog raiser a top price for hogs in order to stimulate production, just as it did when it had congress fix the price of wheat and in order to protect the hog raiser the price of pork will remain at the top notch.

LESSONS IN RIGHT LIVING

(By Dr. W. A. Brady.)

The passing of a great American—Theodore Roosevelt—has caused many of our readers to inquire, "What is embolism?"

Embolism is the lodgment in a blood vessel of a foreign mass or particle, either a particle of blood clot or a particle of tissue broken from a diseased heart valve or a particle of fat from the marrow of a broken bone or sometimes a bubble of air gainnig entrance to the circulation through a large wound. The foreign particle, called the embolus, is carried from its place of origin through the veins to the right side of the heart and thence to the lungs. If it lodges in a vessel in the lungs, the result is pulmonary embolism, which constitutes about half of all cases of embolism. If the embolus happens to plug the main trunk of the pulmonary artery death is sudden and painless; this is ocasionaly observed in cases of long standing valvular disease, in convalescence from pneumonia, and in young mothers a few days after childbirth. If a smaller arterial branch is plugged by the embous, there is sudden extreme difficulty of breathing, accompanied by a feeling of great anxiety, and the struggling for breath is soon followed by loss of consciousnessfi the breathing stops and soon afterwards the heart ceases beating. If a still smaller artery is plugged, the difficulty of breathing lasts hours, with gradually increasing blueness, cold perspiration, perhaps convulsions; but sometimes recovery occurs. Embolus of small arteries in the lungs may cause no market symptoms at all and never be detected.

Should the embolus pass through the long back to the left side of the heart it is more likely to lodge in the brain. That is called ecerebral embolism. The result is sudden paralysis of that portion of the body over which the nervo centers of the part involved preside. Embolism is the more common cause of a "stroke of paralysis" in young persons which occurs without the loss of consciousness usually observed in a "stroke" in persons over middle age. Of course if a very large brain artery is plugged death follows immediately and painlessly. As a matter of fact, a great many cases of sudden death in persons apparently in good health, ascribed by "heart disease" or "heart failure," are really caused by cerebral embolism; and, although the embolus has its origin in chronically diseased heart valves in more that half of the cases, the death is not caused by heart failure.

Embolism from a clotted varicose vein is a sufficiently grave possibility to varrant prolonged rest in bed when there is any niflammation in and about a varicose vein in the leg, even though the patient may feel able to be up and on his feet.

Embolism is the tragedy which has terminated many a case of criminal abortion.

PLOWING MATCH PLANNED FOR THIS FALL AS USUAL

Annual Meeting of Ploughmen's Association Held on Saturday and Officers Elected —Veteran President Retires.

The County Plowmen's Association held its fifth annual meeting in the City Council Chamber on Saturday, with a good attendance of members. While no County match was held during 1918, good work was done and considerable interest around by the field competitions for men and boys on their own farms. This work will be continued and a competition arranged for two furrow plows instead of carrying on the boys' class in the field contest.

During the coming season, it is probable that labor will be more plentiful on the farms and the Association hopes to conduct the annual County match in the autumn of 1919 as formerly.

Mr. Joshua Smithson, who has been president for the past three years and is returning this year, was endered a hearty vote of thanks by the members for his good work during his term of office.

W. J. Cleghorn will represent the Association at the annual convention of the Ontario Plowmen's Association on Jan. 23rd at Toronto. The following officers were appointed for 1919:

President—John Gillespie.
1st Vice-president—W. J. Cleghorn.
2nd Vice-president—C. E. Moore.
Secretary-Treasurer—Hugh McFee, Keene.

NEW SYSTEM ON OLYMPIC

Three Divisions With Major for Each.—O.C. Tells of Trip

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 20.—That all the Canadians now overseas can be brought home as comfortably as were those on the Olympic, is the opinion of Lieut.-Col. Yates, officer commanding the troops on board the great ocean ferry throughout her recent voyage. Col. Yates said he felt that this trip had been the most successful yet made by a transport bringing home Canadians. The colonel said that he was convinced that with proper treatment all the troops now overseas might arrive on this side as well pleased with their trip as the boys on the Olympic were.

A new system was used in handling the men during this voyage. The ship was divided into three parts, with a major in command of each, and an adjutant as his aide. Thus the wants of the men might be more readily noticed than in the case of a ship under the command of a general staff.

WHY HIGH PRICES STILL PREVAIL

MANUFACTURERS HAVE USED UP RESERVE AND BUY AT INCREASED RATES.

Many people have been wondering why restaurants have raised the prices of food. In November, when the armistice was signed, everyone hoped the cost of living would go down, and that things would become more normal again.

One biscuit manufacturer in Toronto said that the reason biscuits had advanced in price was because they had used up all the reserve stock and had had to buy at prevailing market prices, which were considerably higher than those formerly quoted. This, coupled with the increased wages, he said, had accounted to some extent for the advance. It was also explained that difficulty in obtaining certain materials had prohibited the manufacture of certain lines altogether. Garibaldi biscuits, for instance, were not made at all now, owing to the price of currants. For nearly a year this firm had not made this particular kind of biscuit.

Others questioned about the advanced in prices and proferred the same suggestion that having gone through their reserve stock they were compelled to buy at the higher prices.

A very noticeable increase was in the price of coffee, which is now being sold from thirty-five cents to sixty cents per pound. There was a rise in the price recently of seven and eight cents on the pound. A 24-pound bag of flour now costs $1.60 and $1.70, the latter price being the hard wheat flour used for pastry. Granulated sugar has remained the same for some time and is still selling at 11½ cents per pound.

Wholesale grocers are amusing in their remarks about the substitutes which they had carefully stocked in large quantities to meet the demand which they had thought would remain for many months. Speaking of the rye, barley and cornmeal flour which he had in stock, one Toronto grocer said: "We can't even give it away today." This proves that immediately people were not obliged to use substitutes they went back to the original article in double quick time. From the statements of wholesale grocers, practically no one is using substitutes todsy.

Another puzzle to those who used to enoy their breakfast porjridge is why they get so many husks for breakfast and why the porridge is mealy, and not nearly so good as it used to be. Most of the oatmeal being sold in the Province today is Ontario oatmeal. What was formerly used was Western oats, which were a superior kind to those grown in Ontario. Ontario oats were not ground for household use to any great extent, but were used for horse feed. They are a cheaper kind of oats, and that is why oatmeal has come down in price.

According to butchers, it is still some time before a reduction in the price of meat may be hoped for. This is because of the time it takes to raise the cattle and hogs. The recent drop in the price noticed in the markets, it is stated, will not be felt until after the middle of February.

Minor Scales.

There are two [illegible] scale, viz., the melodic and harmonic. The former is sometimes called the vocal minor scale, because it is easier to sing than the harmonic. The latter has an augmented second between the sixth and seventh degree, and this is difficult to sing until one has acquired a certain degree of proficiency. The harmonic minor scale is more used in instrumental than in vocal music.

Caterpillars' Intelligence.

If caterpillars cannot actually think, it appears that they have a degree of sense not generally recognized. In a London institution lecture some time ago Frederick Enoch, who has been studying the insects for half a century, showed that they really seem to be conscious of their marking and coloration and are able to use the knowledge in protecting themselves from birds, their natural enemies.

Call for Pity.

There are people who go about the world looking out for slights; and they are necessarily miserable, for they find them at every turn, especially the imaginary ones. One has the same pity for such men as for the very poor. They are the morally illiterate. They have had no real education, for they have never learned how to live.

Ancient Egyptians Played Ball.

Egypt is the birthplace of the ball game. How it was played history does not record. Recent excavations made near Cairo have brought to light a number of small balls, some of leather and others of wood, dating back to at least 2,000 B. C. These are the oldest balls of this sort known.

You Hold the Key

Will You Keep The Door Open?

WHERE will our men in uniform—Over There and Over Here—go in their spare time, if the doors of the Salvation Army Hostels are closed for lack of funds? WHERE?

This week decides. Consider carefully, for if THOSE doors slam in the faces of our soldiers, the echo will go ringing through the years to come. Canada will regret. You hold the KEY!

Let us state the case quite plainly. The next twelve months are critical ones in the careers of our citizen soldiers. They will have a great deal of time on their hands and it is for you to make it helpful and enjoyable. They have come to know the Salvation Army over there, and realize what it means. Give him a chance, and the soldier will turn to the Hostel, and all will be well!

"FIRST TO SERVE" Soldiers Home — THE SALVATION ARMY — "LAST TO APPEAL" Coming Campaign for the

THIS WEEK

The Salvation Army has rendered service to millions of fighters for the Allies. It started work in the war twelve days after Germany invaded Belgium. It has 197 Huts at Soldiers' Camps; thousands of Beds in Hostels close to the stations and landings used by the soldiers; it has distributed tens of thousands of parcels of food and clothing among the forces and it has carried tens of thousands of wounded in its ambulances. The need is still great for Hostels over there, and for Hostels and other forms of help OVER HERE, to take care of our soldiers during demobilization.

The Salvation Army serves hot coffee, cocoa and sandwiches to soldiers; cooks, mends, furnishes music and entertainment, safeguards the home ties, and labors for the Master.

Its services are endorsed by public and military authorities, and, best of all, by the men themselves! Ask any returned man what he thinks of the Salvation Army.

Shall the doors be kept open, and the good work continue as long as there is need? The KEY is in your pocket!

The Alien Is Entitled to a Fair Show in Court

IN VIEW OF THE INTEREST which is taken today in the alien question, the following decision of a high tribunal as given in a Toronto paper is certainly worthy of careful perusal. The article is as follows:

Mr. Justice Riddell, who some little time ago quashed the conviction of Sam Hackam of Bracebridge, arrested as an alien enemy, and made no order for the protection of the magistrate, who along with the prosecutor was saddled with costs yesterday, refused an application for a new trial, which was asked for in order to permit of new evidence being submitted. His Lordship found the magistrate and the prosecutor liable for the costs of the re-hearing, and told Hackam he could ask a jury to determine the right exercised by the magistrate and the constable.

Remarking upon the evidence in his judgment, Mr. Justice Riddell pointed to the fact that Hackam after his arrest was refused the use of a telephone, nor was he allowed to communicate with anyone. Hackam also alleged that at his trial his request for a lawyer was refused by the magistrate, and that Constable Stewart said he would like to whip him and men like him so long as he would stand, or words to that effect. Stewart's statement in defence was that after the conviction reference was made to alleged offences committed by Hackam and one Nassau against women, and he then said that if he did to prisoner what he would like to do he would tie him up and horsewhip him within an inch of his life. This showed, His Lordship stated, the consideration this unfortunate foreigner received at the hands of officials of the Crown representing the majesty of Canada.

Dealing with four affidavits presented, Mr. Justice Riddell declared that that by the magistrate was not evidence at all, as he did not swear that he would not believe Hackam on oath, but that from the general reputation of Hackam and his cousin Nassau these men were considered to be persons of bad reputation and undesirable citizens. His Lordship refused to pass on the affidavits of Hackam on the one hand and those of the respondents on the other, other than suggest they might be passed to a jury.

The prosecution His Lordship regarded as wholly inexcusable, unfounded and unlawful, and said it might have been expected that respondents, when they found they had done wrong, would have gladly consented to right that wrong as far as possible, but instead of a word of apology they had put on the files of the court affidavits filled with entirely irrelevant charges against the character of the defendant, evidently with a view to prejudicing the court against him. In these circumstances His Lordship did not feel justified in relieving the respondents from the payment of costs.

In refusing a request for an order for protection, Mr. Justice Riddell pointed out that Hackam was arrested and convicted on a charge of which he was admittedly not guilty. There was no evidence against him, and Constable Stewart had none to offer except the statement that he believed Hackam was an enemy alien. Concluding, His Lordship stated that if Hackam desired the opinion of a jury of Canadians as to whether the magistrate acted maliciously or without reasonable or probable cause he should have the right to such opinion, and "at all events I shall not close His Majesty's court against the strangers in the land."

LABOR UNREST IN BRITISH ISLES

POSTAL EMPLOYES AND OTHER UNIONS AND DEMANDING SHORTER HOURS.

London, Jan. 20.—The industrial unrest prevalent throughout the country is causing serious anxiety, not only to large employers of labor, but even to Conservative labor leaders. The labor leaders taking this attitude include J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the Trainmen's Union, who warned a meeting of postal workers who were demanding a forty-two hour week, more holidays and curtailment of night work, that "the industrial and economic position of this country gives cause for alarm."

The postal workers are only one of many trade unions which are demanding shorter hours with the present or better pay. Up to this time the demands of the miners have been embodied in the resolutions of the Southport Miners' Federation who on Wednesday demanded that the Government demobilize all miners in the army and that wages other than war wages be advanced thirty per cent.

The attitude of the miners has caused the most comment, as coal and its price more directly affects the public. It is estimated that to grant a thirty per cent increase in wages would send the price of coal up at least a dollar a ton.

In addition to the miners the shipbuilders on the Clyde and in other centres are agitating for a forty-hour week, with daily wages of one pound. The men engaged in the same in dustry in Belfast threaten to throw down their tools at the end of the month unless the forty-four hour week. The carpenters throughout the United Kingdom are asking for a forty-seven hour week, and the iron moulders who recently were granted forty-seven hours are threatening to strike unless this is imposed in forty-four hours.

CONDITIONS ARE GOOD OUT WEST

GRAND TRUNK OFFICIAL TELLS OF DEVELOPMENT IN THAT REGION.

Montreal, Jan. 18.—"Conditions in the West continue to be very satisfactory in spite of the readjustments which must be faced following upon the close of the war," said Mr. W. P. Hinton, Vice-President and General Manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, on his arrival here from Winnipeg.

"We are looking forward with every confidence," continued Mr. Hinton, "to receiving during the present year a large number of settlers from the United States to take up the splendid lands which are still available at moderate prices. The war affected most seriously the class of men—that the young farmer class—from which we have in the past drawn most of our immigrants. With the return of the troops there can be but little doubt that we will again have an opportunity of welcoming a considerable number of these desirable men from the United States. The territory served by the Grand Trunk Pacific will also receive, of course, its share—and a very large one we anticipate—of these of our own returned men desirous of taking up agricultural opportunities with the addition of many new-comers from the United Kingdom.

"There is steady development proceeding along the whole line of the Grand Trunk Pacific and with the return to normal conditions that development will be accelerated, particularly in regard to the exploitation of the great natural resources in British Columbia, which include lumber and minerals requiring capital for their proper development. At Pt Prince Rupert there is general prosperity. Plans are just being completed by the Prince Rupert Dry Dock and Engineering Company for the building of ways for the inauguration of the shipbuilding program. This will include the construction of wooden and steel ships sufficient to keep this plant busy for about five years. This port is well situated for shipbuilding purposes, making it possible for it to receive materials without any additional cost as compared with other points of the Pacific coast. It has also at its doors a wonderful supply of Northern spruce and there is no better material for building wooden ships than this class of lumber.

"The volume of traffic moving on the Grand Trunk Pacific is satisfactory, being particularly heavy from northern points, such as the Prince Albert branch, down to points in Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta where there is a heavy demand for cattle feeds, etc. There has been a large increase in the number of cattle in Western Canada an indication of the growth of mixed farming. The Western farmer follows in that respect, the only plan which is open to him. He engages in grain growing until such time as he command sufficient capital to acquire stock. He realizes just as shewdly as any one else that it is to mixed farming that he can look for the best results in the long run."

Public Ownership In North Dakota

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 20.—Without debate the North Dakota Senate has ratified the seven amendments to the state constitution which were voted upon at the last general election. By their final ratification, the amendments will permit the carrying into effect of the whole programme of state-owned elevators, flour mills, coal mines, packing houses, etc. At this session only state-owned elevators, flour mills, and banks are proposed for enactment. The House already has passed the seven amendments.

CITY TO WELCOME SOLDIERS HOME

KINGSTON WILL SEND WORD WHEN MEN WILL REACH HERE.

At the mass meeting in the interests of the Red Shield Drive, which was held yesterday afternoon in the Grand Opera House, Mayor Duncan announced that Pte. Preston and Nursing Sister Douglas, of Peterborough, had left Halifax Saturday night, according to word received in the city. They were bound for Toronto and would in all probability arrive in Peterborough today.

His Worship stated that the city officials had been advised that in future all returning Peterborough men would be sent through Kingston and that we would be notified of their coming by those in authority at that place.

EX-KAISER, JURIST SAYS, IS ACCOMPLICE IN WAR CRIMES

Cannot Be Held as Chief Offender—New Tribunal Necessary in Order to Hear the Charges Against Wilhelm and His Clique

Paris, Jan. 20. Some points in the report to which Premier Clemenceau referred yesterday, when he said he had consulted two eminent jurists on the penal responsibility of the former German emperor, were made today. The report was drawn up by Ferdinand Larnaude, dean of the Paris Law Faculty, and Dr. A. G. de Lapradelle, professor of rights of nations, in the same faculty.

The object of the inquiry was to investigate from a purely juridical point of view if the crimes committed by the German Government and army involved the penal responsibility of the former German emperor, what tribunal should judge him, and whether his extradition could be demanded.

The authors of the report give a long argument against the bringing of the ex-emperor before a tribunal of common law, because his will commanded, but his hand did not execute. They say that he was not the principal offender, and that therefore he could only be punished as an accomplice. An international tribunal consequently must be found. They consider The Hague arbitration court founded at the 1899 conference incompetent to try the emperor, as the court was meant for cases where no penalty is to be applied. They argue that an entirely new jurdiction must be created, which should be the first instrument of a league of nations, and in which should appear exclusively the states which fought Germany.

The two French jurists prove that the extradition of the former German ruler cannot be refused, as he is not a political refugee. The report says: "It is anti-jurdical to assimilate war with conspiracy. Crimes of war are crimes of public law and international law, not political crimes."

The author of the report commence by establishing that no penalty is possible against a nation any more than against a company, but that the manager or director of a company can be punished.

Cannot Escape Responsibility.

"The emperor in the first place," says the report, "as King of Prussia is president of the confederation by virtue of a special law in which human will does not enter. The German sovereign depends only on God and the sword. With such a conception of power it would be injudicious in the highest degree to allow the emperor to escape responsibility for the war for which, under the constitution, the decision belonged to him alone; his responsibility for violation of Belgian neutrality, which was willed by him; responsibility for acts of terrorism by his troops, which he willed and ordered."

The report quotes a letter from the former emperor to the late emperor of Austria in the early days of the war in which the German emperor wrote: "My soul is torn asunder, but everything must be put to fire and blood. The throats of men and women, children and the aged, must be cut and not a tree nor a house left standing.

"With such methods of terror, which alone can strike so degenerate a people as the French, the war will finish before two months, while if I use human tarian methods it may be prolonged for years.

"Despite all my repugnance; I have had to choose the first system." The words 'my' and 'I' are italicized.

"Modern law," the report continues, "does not recognize irresponsible authorities even at the summit of hierarchy. It brings a state down from the rule of the judge.

"There can, therefore, be no question of saving from the judge a man who is at the summit of hierarchy, either by the application of internal or international law."

RETURNEED SOLDIERS LAUD

mended the cause to the people of the city.

Mr. Joseph Wearing

Mr. Joseph Wearing made an eloquent appeal for the support of the citizens in connection with the Red Shield drive. He touched in a complimentary manner upon the characteristics of three of the Christian churches nat stated that the Salvation Army reached forth and raised up men and women who seemed beyond the power of any of the denominations he had mentioned.

Canada was faced with a period in which he believed there would be great development and this would be true in just that regree in which the people of the country were prepared for it. It therefore behooved the citizens of the Dominion generally to see that everything was done during the reconstruction period upon which we have entered to ensure that the nation is ready for the era of progress which is not far ahead and as the money obtained by the Red Shield Drive will be devoted to carrying on work connected with aiding returned soldiers and their dependents during the next few years the cause was deserving of the support of everyone.

Adjt. Bunton

Adjutant Bunton in a brief but forcible address outlined some of the activities of the Salvation Army in connection with the war. He stated that he had had the honor of being instrumental in the sending over of the first S. A. Band to leave this country when he was stationed at Guelph. The organization in which he held his commission had done its full share in the war and its ranks had been sorely depleted, as a result of enlistments in the Canadian forces.

In appealing for the support of the people in the campaign for $30 000 in Peterborough he asserted that the Salvation Army were carrying on a work which was the equal of any other organization that has interested itself in war relief activities and that it was the first in the field and the last to appeal for financial assistance.

His Honor Judge Huycke

His Honor Judge Huycke spoke highly of the worthiness of the work of the Army and advocated hearty supported of the Red Shield drive They had carried on relief activities on a most extensive scale during the war and many had wondered at their ability to finance them.

He emphasized a strong argument in favor of the campaign locally, and one which had not been introduced by any of the previous speakers when he dwelt upon the undesirability of having Toronto or any other city contribute funds to carry on work which would, without the slightest doubt directly benefit many men of Peterborough. For that reason as well as many others people of this city should contribute most generously when called upon by the canvassers within the next three days.

His Honor spoke highly of Capt. Widdifield and of the fine testimony he had borne of the good work carried on at the front by the Salvation Army and concluded by commending most earnestly the appeal for funds to the citizens of the city.

During the meeting several fine selections were given by the band which is fast becoming as efficient as it was before its ranks were thinned by the call to the colors when it was considered one of the best in the province. The Temple songsters who were on the platform gave two vocal contributions which were very acceptable and added variety to the program.

Adjutant McElhiney was to have been one of the speakers at the mass meeting yesterday afternoon but was unable to be present on account of the serious illness of his wife

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good-even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 5 cents a bottle It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

TRINITY CHURCH PASTOR SPEAKS ON "WANDERER"

Rev. F. E. Malott Gives Lucid and Interesting Intepretation of the Story in the Book of Ecclesiastes--Splendid Musical Program by the Choir,

Another version of the Wanderer was that given by the Rev. F. E. Malott in Trinity Church on Sunday night. He took his text from the book of Ecclesiastes, 12 : 13-14. The conclusion reached in this passage was that of a man who had gone the whole round of possible pleasures, had drained every goblet of offered joy, had sought solace in literature and philosophy but in none of these had found satisfaction. The speaker advanced the opinion that the book is the veiled auto-biography of the prodigal son, who writes, late in life, to warn young men against the pitfalls into which he fell. He compared it with the Pensee's of Pascal, The Sonnets of Shakespeare and other modern writings in which the authors tell their own life story. This writer calls himself Koheleth which means the Debater and not the Preacher. From a careful study of his book a sketch of his own career was constructed by the speaker.

Koheleth was the only son of wealthy Jewish parents. His home was near Jerusalem. He received his education in the Synagogue school and learned to labor, like all Jewish boys, upon his father's estate. The conventional religion of the day seems to have disgusted him with its hollowness. Home ties seem never to have been strong. As he grew to manhood the Wanderlust seized him and like the younger son in the parable he asked for his portion and went out into the world to get experience. Alexandria was at the time the Mecca of tourists. It was a cosmopolitan city. Art, learning and wealth were found there. There the votaries of pleasure found gardens of delight. Hither Koheleth came. His wealth and social standing gained him admittance to the best circles. Here he set up a splendid establishment. Wine sparkled at his banquets. Singing men and women were hired to sing of revelry and love. The women of the demi-monde surrounded him with their fascinations. His life became one of reckless sensuality, until he became disgusted with it all and, sated with pleasure gave himself up to cynical pessimism. This period of pleasure had been marked by two strong affections. He conceived a violent passion for a woman of Alexandria who proved false. Of her he said afterwards, "She was more fitter than leath. Her heart was as snares and nets; her hands were as bands."

Happily for him he found a friend, a man of his own nation, who had kept himself pure, even in Alexandria. This friend proved a savior. Unlike the prodigal son Koheleth did not spend his all in pleasure. Retaining still a part of his wealth he turned his attention to books and in the great library at Alexandria he found diversion for a time. Philosophy seems to have engaged his attention. He studied and followed, now the Stoic, now the Epicurean teaching. He seems to have become a member of the "Museum" where he took park in the debates. (He afterward called himself Koheleth, the Debater.)

But the dissipations of youth told upon him. The strain of study was too much for him and premature old age was ushered in by a creeping paralysis. The folly of the course he had pursued became more and more evident. He pictured to himself the happy home he might have had with wife and children at his side, only to be mocked by the picture.

And now there awoke in him a voice, long silent, the voice of faith. The teaching he had received in the Synagogue School came back to him. God again became real to him. In this mood he decided to write for the good of others. His book took the form, not of a systematic treatise but of a debate. The voice of pessimism, the voice of wisdom (the Epicurean philosiphy, and the voice of faith.

The seeming confusion of the book becomes intelligent when the experiences of the writer are recalled. To conceal his identity he assumes the character of King Solomon, a common literary device of that day. The seeming confusion is all cleared up at the close when the author says: "Hear the conclusion of the whole matter. Fear God, and keep His commandment for this is the whole duty of man."

Unlike the lurid and too realistic picture of gilded vice given in the middle act of "The Wanderer," both in the parable of the Prodigal son and in this autobiography of a prodigal, the veil is drawn over those scenes that tell of his worst folly.

Trinity church was crowded to the doors. The choir gave a fine rendering of the difficult anthem: "By Babylon's Wave." Mr. Hartshorn sang well "King David's Lament," and Mrs. King sang very sweetly, "Lead me all the way." The whole service was very impressive.

Warsaw Officer Reaches Canada

Among the officers who returned on the Metagama was Captain John A. Dewart, M.C., cousin of H. Hartley Dewart, K.C., M.P.P., and Edward Dewart, 47 Alexandra boulevard, at whose home he is staying. Captain Dewart is the son of John Dewart, of Warsaw, Ont., and at the outbreak of the war was principal of the High school at Stamford, Ont. He joined the 44th Welland Regiment as lieutenant in the fall of 1914 and served for a time on the Welland Canal guard.

Captain Dewart later became attached to the 86th Battalion, with which he went overseas. Vimy Ridge and Passchendaele are among the most important engagements he fought in. At the latter battle he was wounded and won the Military Cross. He was promoted to the rank of captain on the field. He was again wounded at Cambrai during last year's fighting.

Speaking of the field secretaries appointed by the G. W. V. A. at the request of the Repatriation Committee, The Globe says of Sergt. Whatley:

The field Secretary for Ontario is Sgt. Sydney Whatley of Peterboro, who enlisted in September, 1914, and proceeded overseas as a reservist to his unit, the 1st Battalion Wiltshire Regiment. He wears the Mons Star. He was also Secretary of the Peterboro branch of the G. W. V. A., of which he is a charter member.

LAST MAN HOME BY AUGUST 1ST

SOLDIERS BROUGHT FROM FRANCE AT RATE OF 1,000 A DAY.

London, Jan. [illegible]. "We are eager to get on with demobilization to save the restlessness which the men are showing," declared General Turner to the Canadian Press.

The latest reliable estimate here is that all Canadians will be repatriated by the end of July. Men are being returned from France to England at the rate of a thousand daily. They are sent to Kinmel Camp Wales, and thence go for transport to Liverpool. Forestry and railway troops are chiefly being returned from France at the present time. At Ripon, in Yorkshire, there is now another large camp for Canadians occupied mostly by drafts sent from Canada during the last stages of the war.

Want to Get Home

Bramshott Camp will be occupied by a Canadian fighting division whenever it leaves France. A good many members of the Canadian forces will desire demobilization in England, and although the general policy is for troops to be discharged in Canada only, the authorities will grant discharge here for men born here and having no dependents in Canada. We understand that the Imperial authorities have invited the Canadian and Australian army to provide two divisions each for continuing the army of occupation. But this invitation has not been accepted. Our information from the corps across the Channel is "every afternoon is a holiday. Mornings are devoted to physical drill. It is not a bad life, but everybody is dead tired of it and anxious to get home. Even England has little charm for them; they want Canada.

CAPT. BURNHAM TAKES UP QUESTION OF NEW BRIDGE

Interviews Minister at Ottawa Last Week With Satisfactory Results—Mayor Duncan and City Clerk Armstrong at Conference

Mr. Burnham gave The Review the following interview this morning:

"On Saturday, being, in Ottawa, I saw the chief engineer of the Public Works Department, and he substantiated the subment of the Minister of Public Works and Deputy Minister that it would be impossible to contribute to the Hunter street bridge since it was simply their duty to see that the said bridge did not violate the Navagible Waters Act.

"It would be just the same as the city's action in protecting the streets from the merchants building an awning or otherwise obstructing the highway which would mean that the city would have to contribute to the awning.

"The Deputy Minister, moreover, said that neither, under the old Government or in this, nothing was said about the Hunter street bridge at all until 1917 and that no agreement of any kind whatever had been made by the department respecting it.

"The chief engineer, however, said that if the waters at the bridge were effected by the handling of the waters of the canal itself, the jurisdiction would be that of the Railways and Canals Department and in the Public Works. I got the chief engineer to put this in writing and then took it up with the Minister of Railways and Canals, who, though somewhat surprised, agreed to consider the above on the following morning with the Mayor and myself.

"One must be suspicious in discovering new points because they envolve a serious responsibility. I wired the Mayor to come down to Ottawa. He and Mr. Armstrong came down. We interviewed the Minister, we presented our new case of jurisdiction. The minister had with him his chief engineer. They finally decided that if the C.P.R. bridge had a swing in it so that the waters could be used it would be up to them to contribute to the cost of Hunter street bridge to the amount of the cost of a swing. The Mayor assured then that the C. P. R. had already four-fifths of a swing and required but very little to put it into operation. The Minister replied that he mould like some assurance from the C.P.R. that there would be no difficulty about this and to give them to understand that if he obtained this assurance he would recommend all contributions as in accordance with the organized policy of Government in such circumstances.

"The Mayor is taking the matter up in Montreal with the C.P.R. immediately and it is hoped that we have at least some way got some assistance in this great undertaking. The Railway and Canals Department had never been approached on the matter before. It had been supposed hitherto by everybody that it was the Department of Public Works that had jurisdiction, but we see how easy it is to make mistakes sometimes."

MEN IN FRANCE TO BE SENT HOME

DEMOBILIZATION OF THIRD DIVISION TO BEGIN NEXT MONTH.

London, Jan. 20.—Demobilisation in England is making steady progress. To date thirty-five thousand Canadian soldiers have returned home and by the end of the month the total will be forty-five thousand. All the Canadian corps units will come to England for demobilization, the camp at Ripon being taken over for that purpose. Though it had been hoped to commence demobilization of the corps by the firs tof February. It is now stated that units of the Third Division, the first to demobilize, will not reach England till the middle of February and begin the exit to Canada early in March.

Casualties With Units

Other divisions will return in the following order; first, second and fourth. It is explained that the Third Division is being demobilised first, because of geographical convienience.

Wives and dependenats of the men who are in France, under the new ruling, will be able to accompany their husbands on the boats, same as those whose husbands are in England. The men who are among the casualties will also sail with units ar far as possible, instead of in separate drafts.

The Navy League has arranged to get a training ship in Thunder Bay next summer.

Met the Midnight Train Last Night

SALVATION ARMY BAND WELCOMED LIEUT. STOCK HOME AGAIN.

Last night word was received that a number of Peterborough boys who had crossed on the Olympic would arrive on the C. P. R. mid-night train. Accordingly the Salvation Army band, with Adjutant and Mrs. Bunton and friends and neighbors of the returning heroes, went to the station to meet the train.

About a quarter to twelve the first train pulled into the station, but it was found that there were no returned soldiers on it for this place, so the watchers set about whiling away the time until the arrival of the next train. They spent a jolly hour and a half with music and song until 1.15 this morning when the Ottawa train arrived. Only one military man, Lieut. Percy Stock, son of Mr. Harry Stock, of this city, stepped onto the platform, but he was given a rousing welcome to his home city.

More returned men were expected to arrive on the morning G. T. R. train and in spite of the fact that they had been up until such a time, the bandsmen declared they would be on hand this morning to welcome them.

One well-known citizen of Peterborough said this morning in connection with the enthusiastic receptions being given the returning men by the Salvation Army: "Hats off to such spirits as form this band. They turned out giving the boys a send-off when they went away, and now when they are returning are always on the job to welcome them back."

BANKS OF NOVA SCOTIA AND OTTAWA TO AMALGAMATE

Announcement from Ottawa a Surprise in Financial Circles—Merged Bank to Retain the Name of Nova Scotia.

Announcement is made in an Ottawa despatch of the amalgamation, subject to ratification by the shareholders, of two of the oldest banks in Canada, the Bank of Nova Scotia, established 37 years ago, with its head office in Halifax, and the Bank of Ottawa, which was founded in Ottawa 45 years ago. The merger will reduce the number of chartered banks in Canada to eighteen. Following, as it does, the absorption last year of the Northern Crown Bank by the Royal Bank and of the Bank of British North America by the Bank of Montreal.

The Bank of Ottawa will lose its identity except insofar as that a number of the directors of that bank will join the board of the Bank of Nova Scotia, which will rank fourth among the banking institutions of Canada, being exceeded in total assets, capital stock issued and reserve funds by the Bank of Montreal, the Bank of Commerce and the Royal Bank. The following figures taken from the recently issued annual reports, afford an interesting comparison:

Bank of Montreal: Capital stock, $16,000,000; reserve, $16,000,000; total assets, $558,413,546.

Bank of Commerce: Capital stock $15,000,000; reserve, $15,000,000; total assets, $440,310,000.

Royal: Capital stock, $12,911,700 (new issue of $2,000,000 soon to be made); reserve, $14,000,000; total assets $427,512,982.

Bank of Nova Scotia: Capital stock $10,500,000; reserve, $17,000,000; total assets, $234,000,000.

The inactivity of Bank of Nova Scotia and Bank of Ottawa shares in the markets during the past week indicates that there was no "leak" with respect to the negotiations. On Friday last a small block of Nova Scotia shares sold at 257½ on the Toronto Exchange, and on Wednesday last Bank of Ottawa shares came out at 205. While there has been an appreciation in the market value of the shares of both banks during the past few weeks, it has been less striking than in the case of several other bank shares.

The Bank of Nova Scotia dividend is at the rate of 14 per cent. per annum, and that of the Bank of Ottawa at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum.

GO TO TORONTO.

Tomorrow a delegation of Liberals of the city and district, including Capt. Widdifield, the newly appointed secretary of the Association of West Peterborough, will go to Toronto to attend the meeting to organize a Liberal Association for the district north of Toronto and east as far as Peterborough.

Last week at a meeting held in Ottawa the Liberals of Eastern Ontario met and organized throughout that district.

Basis of Merger.

An agreement subject to ratification by the shareholders, has been entered into by the Bank of Nova Scotia and the Bank of Ottawa whereby an amalgamation has been arranged of these two important institutions.

The basis of the amalgamation is that the Bank of Nova Scotia shall exchange four shares of its stock for every five shares held in the Bank of Ottawa.

The Bank of Nova Scotia was incorporated in 1832 and is one of the strongest and most successful banks in this country. It has about 200 branches established in Canada, Newfoundland, the West Indies and the United States. The president is Charles Archibald, Halifax; the general manager is H. A. Richardson of Toronto.

The Bank of Ottawa was established in 1874 and has made steady progress until its assets have reached the large total of about $73,000,000. It has 93 branches, which for the most part are located in Eastern Ontario, chiefly in the Ottawa Valley where the bank has for many years been the leading institution. The president is Hon. George Bryson, the general manager, D. M. Finnie.

Nearly Three Hundred Branches.

A striking feature about this union is that although the combined banks have nearly three hundred branches, they meet at only eleven places, and these are all large centres.

The amalgamated banks will have a paid-up capital of about $10,000,000; reserve and undivided profits $17,000,000; deposits, $178,000,000; total assets, $234,000,000.

Notices are being prepared and will be mailed to the shareholders within a day or two. The Minister of Finance has consented to the amalgamation.

After Four Years of War

"FOUR years of active participation in the war and intimate association with the problems which the emergency produced must, I think, have had such a pronounced effect on the thought and spirit of the Canadian people, as will enable them to grasp and overcome the after-the-war problems with confidence and ease.

"No record of Canada's share in the war—military, commercial, fiscal or economic, but adds to our pride in Canadians and Canadian institutions and stimulates confidence in our future. The problems ahead of us are indeed serious, but so was the war. Sane optimism as to our future is justified.

"From a transportation standpoint the Canadian people have, I think, every reason to be satisfied. The efforts of the companies, both on land and sea during the period of the war, have been eminently successful, especially from the public point of view. In spite of weather conditions unprecedentedly severe, at no time was there an approach to a physical breakdown. At no time was any disposition shown by any company to refuse assistance to any other company temporarily and locally embarrassed as to equipment or facilities. At first by the companies themselves and later under the aegis of the Canadian Railway War Board a continuous effort was maintained. The efforts of the railways were co-ordinated in such a way as to accomplish the maximum result and still not destroy or even injure the legitimate business of any one company. The results were highly satisfactory and reflect great credit, not only on the directors of the companies and the War Board, but also on the officers and men of the companies, whose loyalty, self-sacrifice and efficiency made Canada's great transportation record possible.

"While periodic attempts are made to compel an immediate decision as to the permanent solution of the so-called railway problem—though so far as efficiency and rates are concerned, there is no problem that I can see—it must be admitted, that next to the war itself no question so important in its effect upon the earning power and prosperity of Canadians, as this question of further Government ownership of railways, has ever faced us. It is too important to be decided merely upon the view of extremists on either side. It can only be properly determined by careful consideration on the part of the people after having obtained some knowledge of the principles underlying efficient railroad service, the facts as to the present efficiency of the roads, and the probable—not fanciful effect which any serious change of policy must have upon that service and facts.

"Many mistakes have been made in the past, due to the ambitions of men or the ill-considered action of Governments. No good purpose, so far as I can see, is served by dwelling on these mistakes now. They were sanctioned at the time by a majority of the people of Canada. They can now serve only as a warning against other popular mistakes of even greater magnitude. An error in the shaping of our railroad policy now—a policy which would be difficult to reverse—would carry with it consequences much more disastrous to the country than those of our previous railway misunderstandings, for the reason that the systems involved are so much larger. It should be remembered too that mistakes in railway policies have been made in other countries besides Canada, and that the opportunity to observe the efforts, for example, of the United States, in attempting to correct their errors, is invaluable to us, the more so since this particular example of the United States comes nearer to paralleling Canadian conditions—though the parallel is far from perfect—than any other that could possibly be chosen.

"The desire of everyone is that Canada should have to-day a railway system or systems so administered that the best service to the public will be obtained at the lowest rates consistent with fair wages, both for labor and capital. I say fair wages, because without them efficiency, loyalty and enterprise cannot be obtained, and without these things the quality of work which ensures efficient operation and low rates, cannot be secured. The question therefore is: Will Government ownership bring about this result? The question sounds simple but is in reality complex. Theoretically much may be said in favor of Government ownership. Will these theories stand the test of practice? If these theories prove a failure initially, but correct themselves, as their exponents may urge, in course of time—how long a time can Canadian people afford to pay the losses on demoralized railroad service? Do they wish to launch out on the experiment now? Or wait until their near neighbors, the United States, have worked out their experiment a little more satisfactorily? The cost of our experiment could not fail to be great, a cost certain to be collected directly or indirectly from the pockets of the Canadian people. Railway men have an admirable slogan which I feel inclined to commend to the attention of the people of Canada at this moment, namely, "Stop, look and listen."

"I have my own view on public ownership of railways, but they are not unalterable. I am undoubtedly prejudiced by an association with one company. The company has slowly developed to a point of efficiency and successful operation. Looking back over that history one is amazed at the importance of the part played by men whose enterprise, resourcefulness and tenacity of purpose could not, I think, have been stimulated and given rein in any civil service. It has taken more than thirty odd years to make the C. P. R. as efficient as it is to-day. It was not easy. Even when accomplished this degree of efficiency can be quickly lost. The confidence that is so easily shattered is largely responsible for the constant and intense ambition on the part of officers and men to maintain and even improve on the traditions.

"This much may, it seems to me, be said with confidence now, namely, that we do not know enough that is encouraging about Government operation of large railway systems to justify any further excursions into that field at this time. To argue from the experience of old countries where civil service obtains a much better share of the ambitious young men than in Canada, or to argue from the alleged success of comparatively local affairs, or Governmental organizations dominated by exceptional personalities, is unfair—not to the railways but to the country which has so much at stake in this issue. We can well afford to wait, to study, dispassionately our own situation and the experiment of the United States before committing our country to serious changes in policy. The solution finally adopted in the United States will be of incalculable value to Canada. Meantime, too, the experience which Canada will now have of the present newly organized Government system will demonstrate many things. It will indicate very largely the general nature of the results we may hope to secure from an extension of the system.

"When we know more about Government operation in Canada and in the United States we may modify or entirely alter the present arrangements. We shall be justified then in reconsidering our permanent policies. But to do so without the advantage of this information—information available in due time—in fact, without the knowledge essential to the determination of the problem would be to my mind, the height of folly.

"Even though a Government co-ordination of Canadian railways rather than the present voluntary co-ordination through the Canadian Railway War Board should show an immediate saving to the people of Canada and the experience of Government co-ordination of United States railways holds out little hope for any such saving the sum involved would be a drop in the bucket compared to the larger ultimate losses which in the event of the failure of such policy must inevitably result, and which could not be corrected. If I may be permitted to parody the old proverb, I should say 'Nationalize in haste, repent at leisure.'"

NO MORE FANCY SALARIES FOR MEN IN THE NATIONAL

Question Now Arises as to How Club Owners Are to Deal with Some of the Stars on Their Pay Roll.

Five, eight and ten thousand dollar a year salaries are now a thing of the past in the National league. They were voted out of existence yesterday at a special meeting of the league in New York in which it was decided that one club is not to pay more than $11,000 a month in salaries to its players. That is a tremendous cut from what it was in the past and means that players who have been paid $5,000 and $10,000 a year are to have their contracts whittled to $3,000 at the most.

With the salary limit a law in the Natonal league the question immediately bobs up: "What is the Chicago club to do with such players as Grover Alexander, Bill Killefer, Jim Vaughan, Les Mann, Claude Hendrix, Fred Merkle and many others, all of whom have been getting more than $5,000 a year?" The establishment of a salary limit is a severe jolt to them and likewise to the club, for it gives President Mitchell and Vice-President Veeck a lot to think about before sending out the contracts for the 1919 season. It is a big task to place before these two men, both of whom are new at the game.

Veeck, who represented President Mitchell and the Chihago Cubs in the league, did not let the other magnates put over the player limit without a fiyht. He was [illegible] by the New York team; that also bitterly opposed the rule, both knowing that with the players they carried it would be almost impossible to adhere to an $11,000 a month payroll. But they were alone in their opposition and the salary limit became a law.

The National league club owners, t is believed, have done this to make the players in the league realize they must do something to make it possible for the national pastime to continue on a paying basis. Heretofore, the magnates contend, the players have been greatly overpaid and that it has been utterly impossible to make any money. They say the players have been getting most of it, traveling expenses have increased and everything else has taken a leap as well as the players salaries. The only possible chance the club owners have of retrenching or making their game a successful one, they say, is by cutting the stipends of the men. That is what they have done despite the fact that the American league has taken no such action and do not see fit to interfere with the salary limits of the individual teams.

Wait for the protest from the players! They have done much shouting before, but they will be heard from one end of the country to the other when they learn they are to have their contracts sliced. The players who have been getting exorbitant salaries for the last few years will be the ones who will balk. Many of them have talked about an increase this season, but they realize how slim their chances are of getting it with the National league carrying a limit. Jim Vaughn, the star Cub pitcher, and leading hurler of the organization, has been counting on more money, but he will be fortunate if he is offered what he received last year. That goes for the rest of the high salaried players.

Fans have read of holdouts for [illegible] seasons. Within the last few years there have not been many, because the club owners conceded the demands of the men owing to the scarcity of material. Conditions have altered immensely in the last twelve months and are now it is virtually up to the men to take what they can get or leave it. That seems to be the way the club owners in John Heydler's league feel about it.

With a tremendous reduction in the contracts trouble will probably start before long. The leagues almost had a strike a few seasons ago when the Baseball Players' Fraternity was alive. It was averted through clever manipulation by some of the magnates. Do not be surprised if another fraternity is organized before spring and a strike takes place among the players in the National league before the clubs start for the south.

OPEN STORES FOR SOLDIERS

CO-OPERATIVE PLAN TO BE TRIED OUT IN TORONTO BY G. A. C.

The Grand Army of Canada will open co-operative stores in Toronto within the next few weeks, and if the venture meets with the success [illegible] anticipates there [illegible] co-operative stores [illegible] is an experiment through which the returned soldier could receive some benefit when the association was formed last fall. The membership of the association has increased at a rate during the past few [illegible] which has encouraged the officers of the association to proceed with the co-operative stores to ask Mr. A. W. Roebuck, as counsel for the association to obtain the necessary charter.

The profits of the stores will be distributed in three ways. Forty per cent. is to be placed in a sick and [illegible] benefit, 50 per cent. given to customers and 10 per cent to contingency fund. The object in getting aside a large sum for sick and funeral benefits. The acting Secretary, Mr. Hugh McNeil, pointed out was because many of the returned men were not able to secure insurance.

REQUIRED OVER YEAR TO PASS PROHIBITION LAW

Amendment Was First Submitted by United States Congress Thirteen Months Ago—When It Takes Effect.

Washington, Jan. 18.—National prohibition by constitutional amendment has been accepted by the United States just thirteen months, lacking one day, after the joint resolution by Congress was submitted to the states for ratification.

Fourteen of the thirty-six states which have approved the resolution gave confirmed their action. A question as to the efefct ve date of the amendment was raised when news came that Nebraska, the thirty-sixth state, had voted ratification, by a statement of Senator Sheppard of Texas, author of the resolution, that the country would go dry one year from January 16. Other students of the question held that ratification woud not be completed until one year from formal certification by the thirty-sixth state.

Possibility of a difference of effective date was foreseen. Mississippi, the first state to ratify the amendment, has not yet certifed its action to the State Department, although the affirmative vote on the amendment was taken more than a year ago, January 8, 1918.

Prohibition leaders regard the effective date as a matter of small moment, however, inasmuch as country-wide prohibition is ordered July 1 by the war measure passed by Congress to conserve grains. That measure remains in force until after demobilization of the military forces is completed, which many think will not be before the constitutional amendment is operative.

The United States is the first great nation to enact a permanent prohibition measure. With the outbreak of the war, Russia stopped the sale o fintoxicants by imperial order. France adopted a stringent regulatory policy and other countries did likewise, but none of them took legislative action to stop the sale of liquor forever. The war gave the prohibition movement overwhelming impetus and its leaders found little difficulty in getting through Congress the resolution submittingfi the constitutional amendment as well as various temperary amendments.

DRUG HABIT ON THE INCREASE

NUMBERS OF ADDICTS IS GROWING STEADILY UNDER PROHIBITION LAW.

The number of drug addicts in Ontario has reached an alarming size and is rapidly increasing. The evil is far worse now than under the regime of the licensed liquor trade according to a man who is probably in a better position to know than anybody else in the province. Not only in the large cities but in the smaller towns, he says, the drug evil has reached such proportions as to be a public menace, and the worst feature about it he adds, is that [illegible] drug addiction [illegible] an addict wants the drug he can get it with comparatively little trouble. Indifference in the enforcement of the law is given as the reason for the spreading of the evil.

The present law seems a good one some authorities think, but the trouble is outside the Ontario College of Pharmacy, with its limited authority. The government is indifferent in cases of violation of the law the college prosecutes at its own expense and the government receives half the fine. But this only a [illegible] cases that [illegible] Could be taken; there are no funds for a proper system of [illegible] enforcement.

To show how the law is being broken it was pointed out that wholesale drug houses are required to report monthly to the College of Pharmacy all sales of narcotics, but so far there has never been a report made of a sale of opium to Chinamen, yet thousands of dollars worth of the drug are annually seized in raids. Where do they get it from? A lot is smuggled into the country and unscrupulous druggists who may keep any amount on hand are also responsible for the traffic.

To combat the evil it is suggested that it should be stipulated that a druggist should be allowed to carry a small amount of the drug on hand and an inspector should be authorized to examine the books of all wholesale houses and check up where the stuff goes. In this way it could be found out how much each individual druggist bought and his sales in turn could also be checked. The college cannot undertake this work; it is the government's duty, declares the man already quoted.

JUDGMENT GIVEN

noon; he had something to drink. Heatherington stayed until 11 o'clock and drank with Bourgon.

Heatherington in the witness box stated that that night he did not feel well, had a pain in his stomach and a headache. He took a big dose of salts in the morning, but slept all day and could not keep awake. On Monday he tried to saw wood, but was too weak, and did not go to work until Thursday. "It was drinkable," were Heatherington's own words when asked if the contents of the bottle tasted good. Bourgon told him that it was high wines.

The evidence shows that Faux purchased from a local druggist a quantity of columnian spirits. He told the druggist that the spirits was for a sick horse.

Faux in his evidence said that before he brought the drinks to Bourgon the latter told him on the Monaghan road how to make it. He also mentioned his previous experience in police court. The recipe was simple. Columnian spirits with water or wine, half in half. Faux was to bring Bourgon the concoction and he was to be paid $3 for it on Saturday.

Faux had one and a half inches left in the bottle. He took it home and drank it. It made him sick, blind and very ill. Dr. Wood ordered him to be sent to the hospital, where he was for nine days in a very low condition.

The prisoner candidly admitted he bought several bottles of grain alcohol just before Christmas day and that he got $6 from Bourgon.

In conclusion the magistrate stated, "These men all drank from that one bottle marked ginger wine. Its contents were over 73 per cent. proof spirits, or liquor within the meaning of the Ontario Temperance Act. I cannot come to any other conclusion than that the defendant, Faux, sold the liquor to Bourgon, and is guilty under Section 40 of the Act, and I adjudge that he do pay a fine of $500 and $14.10 costs forthwith, and in default of payment that he be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of six months at hard labor.

Yes, I Intend To But Not Now

Have YOU any idea what that decision is costing you—even if you live? Of course, if you die the cost is much GREATER.

Read the following facts and then decide for yourself:

The premium you would pay for $1000 of insurance at age 60 WOULD BUY YOU nearly $4000 of insurance at age 21.

The premium you pay for $1000 of insurance at age 50 WOULD BUY YOU nearly $2500 at age 21.

The premium you pay for $1000 of insurance at age 35 WOULD BUY YOU $1440 at age 21.

Besides, while you may be insurable at age 21 you may not be insurable AT ANY PRICE at the other ages mentioned.

SALVATION ARMY STAFF CHANGES.

Commissioner T. Henry Howard (1), who has retired as chief of staff of the Salvation Army, and Ed. J. Higgins (2), who succeeds him in that office.

Salvation Army Campaign Opens

Monday morning saw the teams off to a good start. The City Council chamber was used for a general rendezvous in organizing for the start. The supplies necessary, cards, badges, lists, etc., were distributed Saturday night to those of the captains present. The utmost confidence was expressed in the results to be attained.

As was to be expected, there were several changes in the personnel of the teams. In the team of Mrs. J. H. Renwick Mrs. H. Bartley could not join in the canvass, and Mrs. C. H. Shield came forward and was enrolled on the team. Other changes were necessitated by coming in of engagements and unforeseen responsibilities.

At the meeting on Sunday afternoon a man in the audience wished to take the platform and give testimony, but his modesty prevented his doing so. He related that thirty years ago he was a boy and working for a farmer, and at the time picking potatoes. He had saved $30 from his earfnings. Just at that time came an appeal from the Salvation Army for funds to send missionaries to China. He thought the matter over, and finally walked ten miles to offer his money in aid of the cause. He said that now he knew that his action had been the turning point in his life and that he had been blessed since by gaining success in his business and earning money beyond what he might have gained had he rejected the impulse to aid in the Salvation Army work.

MAJORITY SOCIALISTS IN ASCENDANCY IN THE NEW GERMAN NATIONAL ASSEMBLY

Full Results of Election, However, Will not Be Known Until Friday —Bourgeoise Party to Control.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Berlin, Jan. 21.—While the majority Socialists will have the asrendancy over any other single party, the results of the election indicates Bourgeon's party together will have majority in the National Assembly. Full results are not expected to be known before Friday.

It is probable that Chief of Police Eichorn and Hugo Haase, the former Secretary for Foreign Affairs in the Ebert Cabinet, have been elected to the National Assembly. Berlin newspapers announce that a warrant for the arrest of Eichorn has been issued. It is said that various charges, proof of which would lay Eichorn liable to punishment for fifteen years, have been made.

The combined Bourgeoise parties in the kingdom of Wuertemburg and the Province of Hohenzollern, Prussia, elected ten delegates to the National Assembly. Majority Socialists seated seven and the Independent Socialists none. The combined popular vote of Socialists was 50,000, and the Bourgeois parties 920,000. Partial results in Berlin continue to show an unexpectedly large Independent Socialist vote.

NAVAL DRIVE IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

PLAN TO INTEREST PUPILS IN ACHIEVEMENTS OF ENGLAND.

Hon. Dr. Cody, Minister of Education, has given his endorsation to a joint campaign which is to be launched by the Navy League of Canada and the Daughters of the Empire in the schools of the Province, to interest the children in the achievements of the navy and the mercantile marine.

"Anything which informs the public and arouses the interest of the young concerning the history, traditions, spirit and achievements of the British navy and the mercantile marine cannot but be of national and Imperial benefit," said Dr. Cody. "The times demand a wider knowledge and a more vivid portrayal of the glorious record of the navy and the merchant service. By them the very life of our Empire has been preserved and the real freedom of the seas maintained for all the world."

YOUNG SOLDIER TAKES OWN LIFE

BROCKVILLE MAN DISCOURAGED BY PROSPECT OF ILLNESS.

Brockville, Jan. 21. — Evidently morose at the prospect of extended treatment in military hospitals for a leg saffered by enemy shell fire in France, Pte. Charles McKenzie Campbell, aged 23, of the Military Hospitals Command, Kingston, and a former member of the 156th and the 38th Battalions, shot himself through the heart at Briar Hill, near Lyndhurst, and finally succumbed after five hours of agony at 9 o'clock Sunday night. That the shooting was premeditated is evident from the fact that Campbell had made his will shortly before shooting himself, and this was found in the pocket of his tunic. It is understood that the will divided his estate, of approximately $1,100 in cash, equally between his sister, Daisy Campbell, and the child of Garfield Beerman, for whom Campbell had shown a marked liking. Campbell returned from overseas a few weeks ago.

The place where the meeting is to be held has not been decided, but this will be announced later.

There is no more practical or incisive speaker in Canada today than Mr. Carvell. He has been the leading critic of the Opposition for years past.

PEACE IN SIGHT FOR GERMANS

RESULT OF ELECTION BRIGHTENS PROSPECT FOR STABLE GOVERNMENT.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 21.—Early returns from the German election are interupted here to signify a promising prospect for the establishment of a stable German administration at an early date. The Majority Socialists and German Democrats, who are successors of the old radical party, apparently will go into the constitutent assembly with a big lead over the Independent Socialists.

Friedrich Von Payer, former Vice Chancellor and leader of the Democrats and Socialist Leaders Ebert and Scheidmann demonstrated their ability to work together in the old Reichstag. They can also count on the Centrist leader as an ally in their efforts to institute a government with a basis of popular support.

FREE HAND FOR THE DOMINIONS

MAY ACT IN PEACE CONGRESS INDEPENDENT OF THE MOTHER COUNTRY.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 21.—It is stated here that Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa will claim the right to enter the League of Nations, independent of Great Britain and on the same basis as Belgium and other smaller powers. In some quarters this is taken to mean that should the occasion arise the Dominions might oppose the Mother Country in the discussion of problems before the League. In other words these Dominions demand formal recognition by Britain and the rest of the world of their sovereignty in internal affairs.

CASE IS DECIDED FOR PLAINTIFF

GORDON, WIDDIFIELD & O'BRIEN SECURE HEAVY VERDICT FOR CLIENT.

Judgment was delivered today at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, by the Hon. Mr. Justice Latchford in an action brought by Charles Dawson, of Campbellford against Quilan & Robertson, Limited, for $26,953.61.

In 1916 Mr. Charles Dawson, of Campbellford, was the superintendent of the Dickson Bridge Works Company, Limited, which had a large munition contract with the Imperial Munition Board, and were operating in the town of Campbellford. Mr. Dawson was entitled to some $25,000.-00 profits at that time.

However, unfortunately, in the winter of 1916 and 1917 the Dickson Bridge Company's plant was burned down and many shells and much of the plant was destroyed by fire, so Mr. Dawson required to arrange for the sale of the plant and business to Quinlan & Robertson, of Montreal, and who were engaged in shipbuilding, Government contracts and were known as a wealthy, aggressive engineering concern.

Quinlan & Robertson took over the Dickson Bridge Works plant in Campbellford, put in a large amount of new machinery and brought experts from various parts of the country, but were unable to obtain the production Mr. Dawson had represented the Dickson Bridge Works had obtained when they were operating the plant. Mr. Dawson gave as the reason for this that the labor was scarce, large number of men having enlisted, and material for shell making was not uniform. Quinlan & Robertson refused to pay Mr. Dawson the amount that he claimed was due him, so action was brought in the Supreme Court against Quinlan & Robertson for $25,009.00

The action was tried at Cobourg last November and judgment was reserved by the Hon. Mr. Justice Latchford, and the result of the judgment is now that the amount claimed by Mr. Dawson has been allowed to him, with interest, and costs of action.

Pringle, Thompson, Burgess & Cote, of Ottawa, were the solicitors for Quinlan & Robertson, and Gordon, Widdifield & O'Brien were Mr. Dawson's solicitors.

Swedes to Fight The Bolshevists

Stockholm, Jan. 21.—Swedish military missions, which have returned here from Lithuaniax and Esthonia, have reported favorably regarding the sending of volunteer military expeditions to Lithuania. The first Swedish detachment probably will start for Libau this week.

AND NOW INDIA WANTS HOME RULE

RETURNED MISSIONARY SO ASSERTS IN SPEECH IN TORONTO.

Tornto, Jan. 21.—"Partially as a result of the war there is a very great agitation sprung up in India for home rule," declared Rev. G. J. Brown, Dominion secretary of foreign missions, in discussing the seventh annual report of the Foreign Mission Board before the Ontario and Quebec Baptist Convention sitting in Jarvis Street Church yesterday afternoon. "India," he said, "is coming rapidly into the life of the world. Some of the sentiment is exermely radical, some would like to throw British rule into the sea, and establish the independence of India. But the great bulk of the natives are loyal."

The home rule agitation, he went on, had been a serious matter for the British Government to deal with. "I just wish you knew how glad the Government of England is that they have missions out there," he said. "If you knew how the government is leaning on the missionaries you would realize that they are the greatest steadying force in the whole of India."

TROTZKY'S ARMY PUT TO FLIGHT

BOLSHEVIK FORCES SEVERELY HANDLED BY ESTHONIAN FORCES.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 21—A no-table success has been won against the Bolshevik by the Esthonian troops operating to the northeast of Lake Peipus, according to Esthonian official despatches received by wireless at Stockholm today and transmitted here. They have taken the town of Narva, on the Reval-Petrograd Railway line, together with a large number of prisoners. Finnish troops co-operated with the Esthonians, the statements says, a quanity of booty fell into the hands of the victorious forces, including guns, provisions and armored trains. The prisoners included division and regimental staffs. Leon Trotzky, the Bolshevik war minister, it is said, was present in Narva during the fighting and fled after the Bolshevik defeat.

FIRST TO SERVE LAST TO APPEAL

REASONS WHY SALVATION ARMY IS NOT ASKING TOO MUCH.

The Canadian public answered the appeal for funds for the war work of many deserving institutions. The Salvation Army was in the forefront of all these drives, doing its bit to help sister organizations in their good work.

Strangely enough the Salvation Army is the last of these social organizations to come to the public with a general appeal. It held off as long as it had a dollar in its treasury; was content to go on spreading comfort and cheer among the boys in the firing line and at the various bases and camps. The Salvation Army has depended largely on its street-corner collections and an occasional tag day, but its work among the distressed and among the soldiers, both at home and at the front, has become so extensive that a considerable fund is absolutely necessary to enable it to go on.

It would be a crime to allow the Salvation Army to slack off. It is the one institution that can always be depended upon to jump in where real help is needed. One million dollars is not too much to entrust to this efficient religious and social organization for its purposes.

Ex-Kaiser Reported In Better Health

Amerongen, Holland, Jan. 21.—Former Emperor William and the former Empress have sufficiently recovered from their recent illness that they are able to resume their former mode of living. They are taking their customary morning walks in the grounds around the Castle. Herr Hohenzolhern is reported in much better spirits. His birthday, Jan. 26, will be celebrated by a concert in the Castle.

Ireland to be Declared a Republic and Address Is to be Issued to the Free Nations of the World--Delegates Elected to Peace Conference

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Dublin, Jan. 21.—Probably no country except Ireland could present an episode as remarkable as the assembly of the Dail Eireann, which is the Irish Gaelic for the "Irish Parliament," which will be called to order in Dublin's ancient mansion House this afternoon to proclaim Ireland an independent republic.

About half the Sinn Feiners elected to membership in the British Parliament will participate, the other half being in various English prisons charged with sedition or merely held on suspicion under the Spacious and Elastic provisions of defense of the Realm Act. The Sinn Feiners will meet under the shadow of Dublin Castle with the presence of Field Marshal Viscount French, the first Viceroy in many years to give Ireland a purely military government. They will meet with his full knowledge and tacit consent to make measures which are purely seditious and indirect violation of explicit law.

WILL USE IRISH LANGUAGE.

Today's program will be carried out in the Irish language, which is virtually a dead tongue, so dead that the Sinn Feiners have been obliged to rehearse their parts and will be compelled to lapse occasionally into boycotted English terms because they cannot find Irish words to fit modern Parliamentary procedure.

Three items are expected to constitute the body of the program. The declaration of indepence, a message to the free nations of the world and the appointment of delegates to the Peace Congress. Ireland is a country of the unexpected but no one predicts any trouble or disorder. The revolutionary flags floats quite freely over the homes of Sinn Feinners in Dublin. Members of the party expect protection from the authorities of the nation from whom thy are separating. They do not talk of and apparently do not contemplate violence.

PORTUGAL TIRES OF DEMOCRACY

MOVEMENT HAS STARTED TO RESTORE MONARCHY IN THAT COUNTRY.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Madrid, Jan. 21.—The monarchist movement in Portugal, headed by Paiva Conceiro, has been successful in Northern Portugal, and a government has been formed at Oporto, according to reports received by the Spanish government.

The report adds that Lisbon is believed to have joined in the movement. Wireless despatches received in London from Lisbon yesterday reported the breaking out of a revolution in Portugal. The ex-king, Manuel, however, was declared to have sent a telegram to the Portuguese government asserting that he did not countenance the movement in his behalf.

TO BUILD MANY MILES OF ROAD

ONTARIO GOVERNMENT PLANS A MOVE TO SOLVE UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM.

Toronto, Jan. 21.—Addressing the annual meeting of the Ontario Motor League last night at the King Edward Hotel, Hon. Finlay G. Macdiarmid, Ontario Minister of Public Works and Highways, stated that the Government proposed immediately to ask for tenders for the construction of one hundred miles of the new Provincial highway, and that on the remainder of that highway important and extensive preliminary work will be proceeded with during the summer. According to present plans the Government do not intend to contruct new highways of a uniform width or of standard cost. Hon. Mr. Macdiarmid stated that he will recommend to the Government at the approaching session of the Legislature that the roadways comprising the arteries that will connect with the trunk road be constructed of material suitable to the traffic of these particular roads.

The Provincial Minister declared that it is the intention of the Government to encourage the counties to carry on an aggressive program in connection with the construction of market roads under their control, and he read a resolution passed at the recent convention of the United Farmers' Association calling upon the Ontario Government to exercise wise judgment and protesting against the reckless expenditure of the people's money in the construction of expensive highways for the benefit of idle speculators. So far as he knew this was the only organization that had entered a protest against the policy that the Government will pursue in its proposed scheme of new roads throughout the Province.

ISSUES WRIT FOR $8,000 DAMAGES

FOR DEATH OF C. N. R. FIREMAN WHO WAS KILLED AT BONAR LAW.

A writ has issued against the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. for $8,000 damages by Miss Jessie Long, Havelock, at Peterborough today by her solicitors, Gordon, Widdifield and O'Brien. The case will be tried at the Spring Assizes.

Suit is entered in behalf of Jessie Long, the widow [illegible]ay and Marjorie Long, daughter of the late William Long, a fireman on the Canadian Northern Railway, who was killed at Bonar Law on October 12 as the result of a collision which it is alleged was due to the defective condition of the brakes upon a C. P. R. freight train which crashed into Long's engine while it was standing upon the diamond.

At the inquest the C. P. R. engineer, who stated that he was running down grade and was unable to make the crew on the C.N.R. locomotive understand by whistling that his train was out of control, admitted that the signals were against him, but attributed his inability to stop the train to the fact that the brakes were not working properly.

MUST INTERVENE TO SAVE RUSSIA

THIS MATTER AGAIN TAKEN UP BY THE SUPREME COUNCIL.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 21.—The Russian question was again taken up by the Supreme Council of the Peace Conference when it met for today's session. There was a full attendance of members of the council for this meeting, Vittorso Orlando, the Italian premier, being present for the first time since his recent trip to Rome. Harold Scavenius, the Danish minister to Russia, even more emphatically than did Ambassador Noulins yesterday, declared that intervention in Russia was necessary to check the regime of terrorism there.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

TUESDAY, JANUARY 21, 1919

FIRE DEPARTMENT ESTIMATES.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT, under the leadership of Chief Grange, has been brought to a high state of efficiency. The full number of men allowed have always been kept, and the relations between the Chief and his staff are, and always have been harmonious. The work of the brigade has received deserved commendation from the citizens, and a general feeling of security prevails among the property owners.

Efficiency costs money, and it was only to be anticipated that the estimates for 1919 should exceed those of the past year. Better an up-to-date department and a reasonable insurance rate than these conditions reversed. The manufacturers of the city and all the other large property owners have always been in favor of improved service in fire protection. The opportunity for this is now before the new Council.

The double platoon system, if adopted, will add another $7,000 to the upkeep. That is a matter that the majority of the present Council are pledged to consider favorably, even to the extent of submitting the question to a vote of the people.

PRACTICAL RELIGION.

THE SALVATION ARMY deals only in that brand of religion which is eminently practical and which, therefore, shows results. It is noted for treating all classes alike in its operations. It makes no distinction between officer and private, rich and poor, in its ministrations among the troops.

The Army has never posed as a philanthropic institution in the generally accepted meaning of that term. The comforts with which it supplied the soldiers had to be purchased by the Army, and these comforts were sold at a narrow margin of profit, just sufficient to make possible the carrying on of the work.

The Army's best champions are the men in the service whom it helped. No soldier, even if he was without money, was ever denied a cup of coffee, a doughnut or a sandwich when he applied at the Salvation Army hut. There may have been complaints occasionally against other ministering agencies in the war zone, but none have been heard against the Salvation Army. The Army was first in the field and it will be the last to carry on.

The record of the Salvation Army is above reproach, and it is this record which, more than anything else, justifies its appeal to the people of Peterborough for funds.

WORK FOR THOUSANDS.

THE ONTARIO GOVERNMENT, it is announced, will soon call for tenders for the construction of hundreds of miles of provincial highways. There is no public enterprise that could be taken up that would so benefit the people of the Province as a whole. No enterprise, either, would furnish so many men with work at a time when the employment problem is so acute. The Government's announced program is in keeping with the general demand for administrative action to avert the calamity sure to result if hundreds of men are denied the opportunity to earn a living.

HOUSING IN ENGLAND.

ONE OF THE MOST urgent necessities for the reconstruction of national life is the provision all over the country of a vast number of cottages in England, according to the newspapers over there. There was already a great shortage in 1914, and during the war many young couples have married, intending to set up house when it was over. It is calculated that at least a million cottages are needed to meet all requirements. In view of this fact, considerable interest attaches to the survey in the Morning Post of the great rise in the cost of every kind of building material. Apparently the price of cement and lime has trebled, and that of tiles doubled. Fittings of all kinds have gone up anything from 100 to 500 per cent. As a result, the minimum cost of putting up the simplest and smallest cottage has doubled. Before the war it might have been done for £150; now the same building will cost £300. And the cottages have got to be built, even though in existing conditions there seems little chance of obtaining an adequate return, in money, on the expenditure.

A BRAVE FANATIC AND IDEALIST.

(Chicago News.)

THE TRAGIC and violent death of Karl Liebknecht, leader of the Spartacus faction of the German social democracy, removes from the world's political arena a man of exceptional intellectual and moral gifts. It is a pity that his idealism was so uncompromising and visionary. He had many attractive qualities that commanded admiration in free countries during his long and unequal fight against kaiserism.

Liebknecht was fearless and self-sacrificing. He dared speak the truth in the Reichstag about the kaiser's war and the kaiser's infamous hypocrisy. He refused to vote for the supply bills necessary to carry on the war. In the press he went as far in opposition to the autocracy and the military caste as the double censorship would allow him. Finally he was sent to prison on a trumped-up charge, and only the collapse of Germany and the revolution which followed restored him to liberty.

Then, unhappily, his fanaticism took a wrong turn. A dogmatic, consistent Marxian socialist, he demanded the immediate establishment of a socialist republic. He repudiated as wicked every suggestion of compromise with the moderate socialist and liberal parties. He favored a dictatorship of the "advanced" proletariat. Lenin was his exemplar, not Wilson or Lloyd George. Essentially he was, therefore, anti-democratic. He did not trust the people and was afraid of free and fair discussion.

The defeat of his attempted "second revolution" was inevitable in a country so industrial and literate as Germany. That defeat was a victory for real progress and democracy. Evolution, not revolution, should be the watchword of intelligent lovers of justice and liberty. Those who take up the sword in the name of reform and bring about civil war, fratricidal strife, perish by the sword. If history teaches any lesson at all, it teaches the lesson of toleration, accommodation, mutual concessions and final acceptance of the will of the majority duly and honestly ascertained.

THE GERMAN REPUBLIC.

THE CABLE has given details of the democratic constitution proposed for Germany. It provides for a president elected by direct methods, and with a seven-year term of office. There are to be two chambers, a lower house elcted by universal suffrage, and an upper house consisting of delegates from the Federal Parliament, which, however, Prussia is not to be allowed to dominate. The Ministry is to be responsible to the Chamber. Apparently this is the constitution proposed by the present Moderate Socialist Administration.

Meanwhile, the Spartacus group are still in full revolt against the existing regime, and are importing Bolshevik speakers from Russia to give expert advice as to how a revolution should really be managed. The constitution described above, if worked in a democratic spirit, would give ample scope for any reforming zeal, and it is to be hoped that the orderly habit of the German people will prevail, and that they will settle down to put it into practice. To ensure this it is desirable that some moral support should be given them by the Allies in their efforts to reach a stable and democratic form of government. It is just as vital for Europe as for Germany that this should be accomplished, and accomplished with the least possible delay.

THE GALLANT AIRMEN.

MAJOR-GEN. TRENCHARD has written an article describing the work of the Independent Air Force from its formation in June, 1918, up to the signing of the armistice. The airmen in France had a twofold task. First, they were the eyes of the army, scouting and spotting for the artillery. Secondly, they were a definite fighting arm, carrying on raids over the country behind the German lines. This was the task of the Independent Force, which General Trenchard commanded. His despatch gives a long story of hard, dangerous and useful work carried on with unremitting energy and courage. Five hundred and fifty tons of bombs were dropped, and nearly fifty German towns were raided. One very interesting fact is disclosed; machines capable of carrying out a long distance raid on Berlin were completed three days before the conclusion of the armistice. A well-deserved tribute is paid in the despatch to the magnificent courage displayed by the pilots and observers. In spite of a percentage of casualties which made death in the long run seem almost certain, these men fought on, day in and day out, often in weather in which no sane pilot before the war would have left the ground. It is an epic story of which the country may well be proud.

ONTARIO GAINS PROFIT FROM KEEPING OF BEES

Industry Affords Muoh Room for Expansion, Vastly Benefits Crops, and Offers Splendid Opportunity for Returned Soldiers.

(Rob Roy in Toronto Sunday World.)

Many and various are the suggestions for providing employment for returned soldiers. Some who propose that they should be given homesteads in the west apparently forget that homesteads are and have been free for over a third of a century, 160 acres of choice and being given to a settler for paying the registration fee —$10. With good health a young man of vigor and nitiative may become rich in a few years, but the life is a terribly strenuous one, and one of unutterable loneliness, quite unsuited to men who are broken and maimed. Life in the wilds of New Ontario is one for those possessed of boundless health and vitality, but not for men whose nervous systems are shattered.

In trying to direct the soldiers in any particular line of work two things should be kept in view, viz: the work must be productive and profitable. Voting public money for works simply to provide employment will only aggravate our national ills, if these undertakings do not add to our wealth in products of some kind to provide for our own people, or export abroad to pay our debts there. Any enterprise must also furnish good returns, be profitable to the soldiers.

The business of bee keeping is one that should appeal to men not able to do heavy, slogging work. The work is extremely interesting, is a healthy outdoor one, and to a skilful man the returns are very profitable.

In 1880 a number of beekeepers held a meeting in the City of Toronto. Mr. McKnight, of Owen Sound, presided. A provincial association was formed with D. A. Jones president, and Mr. McKnight secretary. Dr. J. C. Thom, of Streetsville, was present, and was president several years later. William Couse, of Streetsville, was also present and was afterwards secretary for a quarter of a century. There were at that time 250 members, now there are over a thousand.

Last year five milion pounds of honey was produced, valued at one million and a quarter dollars.

If this business worked to its limit, is it overdone, or is there any opening for soldiers to produce more honey?

Mr. Couse, one of the best authorities in the province, claims that Ontario should be producing not five but 25 million pounds of honey a year.

Take the case of Peel County, with an annual production of two hundred and fifty thousand pounds. This output in from about a dozen apiaries. There could be at least 30 apiaries scattered over Peel County producing at least one quarter of the present output from the whole province.

Honey is at present looked on as a luxury. This should not be, as there are carloads of nectar, in the fruit, clover and vegetable blossoms that go to waste every year. When we learn to use the gifts of nature honey will be looked upon as a necessity, and this valuable food will be found on every table.

But there is another side to the question. A man who starts a beeyard in a district may make several thousand dollars a year for himself, but will certainly make many more for the surrounding farmers. Take the case of alsike clover.

Blossoms of plants are the organs for the perpetuation of their existence. Barley, wheat, oats and others without bloom have a light pollen that is distributed from the male to female blossoms by the wind. Clover and fruits with an attractive bloom have a heavier pollen that must be distributed by bees going from blossom to blossom in search of nectar, and carrying the pollen about on their rough, hairy bodies. At the very time that the bloom is most attractive, the nectar is at the right stage to gather, and this is the very time that the plant can be fertilized by a visit from the bees. Many fruit men keep bees for the benefit of the trees. Clover near the bee yards always produces well. Farmers in Halton County have, last year, made $175 per acre on alsike seed, those high yields being attributed to the nearness of bee yards. Increasing over annual crops of honey from one and a quarter to five million dollars a year, as Mr. Couse suggests, would add many millions more to our crops of fruit, vegetables and alsike clover.

Many hope to see the day when consolidated schools shall take the place of the present cross-road institutes. At these gardening and scientific farming could be taught, and at every one several hives of bees should be kept, and the boys and girls taught how simple the business is. But that is in the future. At present the government should try to give practical instruction to returned men, showing them that with a knowledge of the business, and a very moderate investment, a splendid living may be made. Then, verily, Ontario will be a land flowing with milk and honey.

TEACHERS NEXT TO FORM UNION

ONLY WAY IN WHICH THEY HOPE FOR HIGHER SALARIES.

(By Marie L. Meehan)

For a considerable number of months I have at intervals scanned the papers hoping that something, if not the department of education, would invite the various school boards to offer a scale of salaries that would encourage those in the teaching profession and bring back a number of those who have left it or literally who have been driven out of it by the continued lack of appreciation of the public.

Far be it from me to blame the public. As an intelligent, hard-working, deserving body of leaders the teachers of Canada have a right to insist on justice. The average workingman has his union. Recently in our own city the policemen demonstrated this fact. They are organized. Yet hundreds of our rural teachers are sacrificing everything devoting their time and energy to the most helpful work we know, yet their profession means nothing to them outside of their section. I believe the teachers of each province and of Canada should comprise a large and active union with representatives to insist on their rights. These could run in conjunction with the school conventions, but it should be explicitly decreed that part of that time be put aside for discussion of teachers as well as schools and methods.

I have been in business and compared the education, mentality and general efficiency of the average business girl with the successful teacher (and we know a teacher must be successful now), and I repeat it is a shame that the latter are so poorly recompensed.

Naturally we look for a cause, and with all due respect to my sex, I attribute the conditions to the female propensity to timidity. We know that a very great percentage of our teachers are girls, yet we are subservient to a department of education composed almost entirely of men. I have never known a case of a woman being a trustee on a school board—yet who should appreciate and understand the needs of children so well?

There is always a tendency to eliminate the commercialization of anything heroic. All teachers should understand business methods. The sentiment is kept largely before them in their training.

The dentist has his active union so has the physician, even the laborer, so should the teachers of Canada.

There is nothing a farmer gets so cheaply as the education of his children, yet how many know that if a teacher makes a success in their school the first year she is worth a hundred dollars more the following year. Long practice has led them to believe that they are paying her the highest kind of a compliment when they invite her to stay on at her original salary.

1,270 PATIENTS ADMITTED TO NICHOLLS' HOSPITAL IN 1918

Greatest Number in History of Institution and 57 More Than Were Treated in Previous Year—Annual Meeting Yesterday

The annual meeting of the trustees of the Nicholls Hospital was held on Monday, January 20, at 4 o'clock in the Dominion Bank chambers. There were present Mr. Richard Hall, in the chair, and Messrs. W. H. Hill, B. F. Ackerman, Dr. Malcolm McCulloch, W. Madill, E. A. Peck, R. Fair, E. B. Fowler, James Edgar and W. Aldridge.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and confirmed, after which the secretary, Mr. Crane, presented the statement of receipts and expenditures for the statutory year ending Sept. 30 last. After discussion, the statement was referred to the city auditor for audit. The statement showed total receipts of $40,834.35, with a balance on hand of $1485.38.

Chairman's Report.

The report of the chairman was as follows:

The Nicholls Hospital has passed through a year of active work. The number of patients treated last year was the largest in the history of the hospital; 1,270 patients were admitted, being an increase over the previous year of 57, but the increase is in reality larger, for during 1917 we had the benefit, in numbers, of the military force which was mobilizing here at that time. The growth of the hospital may be seen when I say that in the year 1908, ten years ago, we treated 590 patients; this last year we treated 1,270, an increase of over 100 per cent.

During the past year we had to deal with the epidemic of "flu," and, in addition to our regular work, some 120 serious cases were cared for. This work was accomplished with very satisfactory results, thanks to the fidelity of our superintendent and her assistants under circumstances at once trying and critical.

The cost of maintenance and operation of the hospital has been a matter of much concern during the past three years, the steadily increasing cost of food, fuel and practically of every item entering into our work has made it difficult, with efficiency in view, to keep the cost of maintenance within bounds. We have ended the year with a deficit of $2500, and we shall likely have to take advantage of the provision in our Act of Incorporation giving us the right to call upon the Council to make up the deficiency. Should the cost of food, etc., come down, as we hope, during the year, the difference would be appreciable.

During the year the Board very wisely made a start looking to the provision of more adequate accommodation for the nursing staff. The purchase of the house on the corner of Argyle and Sunnyside streets has done much for the comfort of our nurses, and a letter, read in your hearing today, voices their appreciation in this respect.

To all appearances the war is over and we are proud of the many graduates of our training school who have done good service in their country's cause. Our superintendent, Miss Beamish, is still overseas, but we have good cause to believe that she has proved worthy of the trust reposed in her. We hope she will return to her work in due course. Her work has been carried on with the utmost fidelity by Miss Sanderson, whose untiring zeal for the welfare of the hospital deserves our fullest commendation.

I beg to thank the members of the Board and all associated in the work for their efficient services during the past year.

The election of officers was then proceeded with and resulted as follows:

LABOR SEEKING NEW SAFEGUARDS

Paris, Jan. 21.—The possibility that the demand for labor in debt—crushed European countries may cause a slackening of the laws for the protection of workers, will be the starting point of the consideration of the subject of international labor which was placed Saturday on the conference programme after responsibility for the war and punishment of the crimes committed during hostilities. The conference recognizing the inter-dependence of all nations, will, it is expected, base its decision on the work of the Leeds Labor conference in July, 1916, which approved the resolution introduced by Leon Joupaux, then secretary of the French Federation of Labor, declaring that the peace treaty should "insure to the labor classes of every country free from international capitalistic competition a minimum of moral and material guarantee relative to the following points:

Right of employment, right of labor organization, change of residence, social insurance, proper hygienic conditions, securtiy of labor, freedom to work in any country where employment is available under equal conditions with its citizens ,introduction in all countries of sickness, accident, unemployment and old age insurance, prohibition of labor by children under fourteen years, prohibition of night work for women and for adolescents under eighteen, broadening of legislation to insure the health and safety of workers and the creation of both national and international bodies to study, codify and interpret laws affecting labor conditions."

This programme, communicated through the Scandinavan Trades Union at Berne in October, Austria, Hungary, Bohemia, Bulgaria, Denmark, Sweden, Holland and Switzerland, was approved by all of them.

It is recalled that the A. F. of L. voted for portions of this programme at Buffalo, and that the statement of the war aims of the British Labor party contemplated an international labor council with similar objects.

In some points the programme to be submitted to the Peace Congress approaches that of the International Socialist Conference which is to meet next week at Berne, but unlike that of the Socialists, it is confined to remedial measures applied to specific problems.

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is Sign you have Been Eating Too Much Meat

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Directors Report

The permanent improvements made during the year are set out in the Superintendent's report submitted herewith and have in the opinion of the Directors been necessary and have been done in a satisfactory manner by the Superintendent and his assistants.

The receipts for sale of lots during 1918 were $4073.00 and $140.00 was expended in the repurchase of lots. Part of the Greenhouse having become delapidated, your Directors considered it advisable instead of making repairs to purchase a substantial steel structure to replace it. This was erected by the Superintendents. The total cost was $788.97. In order to make the Receiving vault more secure a concrete wall with iron doors has been constructed across the vault.

The total receipts for 1918 (other than from sales of lots were $6953.11 and the total payments have been $8130.60, leaving the sum of $1176.95 which was paid out of money received from sale of lots. The amount paid for wages during 1918 exceeded the wages paid in 1917 by $1262.25, whereas the additional amount received from care of lots, digging graves, greenhouse vault fees in 1918 exceeded the amount received in 1917 by only $343.75. The amount received for interest was $472.07 more in 1918 than in 1917 but a portion of this was interest due in 1917. The increase in the wages was occasioned by reason of the necessity of raising the rates of wages of all the employes in the Cemetery in order to retain them and owing to the ordinary day's work being charged to nine hours a day.

There was collected during the year from old accounts the sum of $667.43 leaving a balance of $565.45 uncollected and probably uncollectable.

In addition to the ordinary receipts there has been received during the year on Trust account the sum of $1300.00 for the perpetual care of lots belonging to the following estates: Dr. George Burnham $500; Rev. V. Clementi, $300; Mrs. Ann Graham $200; Lewis Spry $100;

MAKE STATES OF THE KINGDOM

NEW CONSTITUTION THAT HAS BEEN DRAWN UP FOR GERMANY.

London, Jan. 21.—Details of the proposed new constitution for Germany drawn up recently at a conference of widely known authorities on constitutionality law including Hugo Preuss, state secretary of the interior in the Ebert Government, are given in an official wireless despatch sent out from Berlin and picked up here.

It states that the Empire is to consist of its former uncomponent states; besides any territories which by virtue of the right of self-determination desire to be received into the Empire.

The despatch declares that the people have the right, regardless of former frontier, to erect new German free states within the Empire, providing any such free state has a population of two million. If the people of a border country wish to join the German Empire, the assent of the German people shall be acquired.

The Imperial President, who is to be selected by the people, must be 35 years of age and must have been a citizen of Germany for 10 years before the election. He will be elected by an absolute majority of all the votes of the Empire. The president will represent the Empire, but declarations of war or conclusions of peace rest with the Reichstag. Treaties with foreign states require the assent of the Reichstag. As soon as a league of nations, the object of which is the abolishment of secret treaties, has been formed, all treaties with the league shall require the assent of the Reichstag.

The Imperial President's tenure of office will be for seven years and his re-election will be permissible. The Imperial Government will be composed of a Chancelor and Minlsters, who will be chosen by the President of the Reichstag.

The Government must be in the confidence of the House of Deputies and shall be responsible to the Reichstag.

DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE ADDRESSES CONGREGATION.

Ottawa, Jan. 21. — His Excellency the Duke of Devonshire spoke to the congregation of St. Bartholomew Anglican Church Sunday morning in an appeal for assistance for the superannuated clergy fund.

His Excellency pointed out that in the Church of England only those who were properly trained for the ministry should attempt to take part in it. Canada, he said, had made splendid response to the calls of the war. In every sphere where assistance was needed it was cheerfully forthcoming, and he felt sure the present need of making certain an improved condition for the superannuated clergy of the Church of England would receive the most generous consideration of the laity of that church.

While Harry Hays, a returned soldier at Prince Rupert, lay sleeping in his room, a thirty-pound stone crashed through the roof from some blasting operations. He was not injured.

Y. M. C. A. HAD SUCCESSFUL YEAR IN EVERY DEPARTMENT

Annual Meeting Held Last Night and Cheering Reports Are Submitted as to Finance Membership and Work—Directors Chosen for 1919.

At the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last night Secretary Roper submitted his report as follows:

This is the 37th annual meeting of the Association since its formation in this city and the 22nd since the building was occupied. In looking over the record of the years of the past one cannot but feel that the Association has had a great influence for good in the city during that time. There is one recurring word that seems to appear more often than it should and that is the word finances. When this word occurs it usually is in connection with a shortage of funds and we ought to rejoice that through the generosity and loyalty of our friends and the devotion of our Directors that we have succeeded in reaching a position where we may look forward to the coming year of big opportunities without the handicap of a deficit or any shortage of necessary funds to carry on an efficient work. We should return thanks to God who has blessed the Association during the year.

The religious work of the Association has consisted of Bible Study classes for the regular gymnasium any boys or young men not attending gymnasium for any reason being invited to join the class into which they would naturally fall. The older high school boys held their meetings on Friday evening at the supper hour and in March the social feature was introduced. "Life Problems was the course followed by this group as well as by the senior employed boys.

A new feature was introduced in the social work of the Association when the men of the C. G. E were invited to the building and enjoyed the various privileges. This proved to be a popular innovation and this line of work will be further developed A night for returned men is being planned to be held as soon as possible. A bowling league for business men was organized in February and was a fine success. A new league was organized in the fall with 6 teams. Two boys teams also played during the spring

The Membership

The membership is in a flourishing condition considering that over 250 of our senior members are still overseas. A membership campaign in November added over 150 to the membership including renewals.

The dormitories have been filled during the larger part of the year and in this department the revenue exceeded the estimate by over $200. It was found necessary to ask two or three undesirables to vacate their rooms. At the present time six returned men are living in the dormitory. Two rooms are being kept open for the accommodation of returning men who have no home in the city. This morning we were privileged to serve one of our men in this way.

There is no doubt that many more rooms could be filled if we had them.

The physical department has maintained a high standard in attendance and interest and the services of Angus McLeod had a great deal to do with the efficiency of this department. A more detailed report will be presented for the physical work.

The boys department under the able direction of Harold Copp has had a splendid year. The membership and interest in all phases of the work comparing favorably with any previous year. The splendid foundation laid by Mr. Galley has made this possible in a great degree. A detailed report of this department is to be presented.

In conclusion the Secretary wished to take this opportunity to thank the Directors for their faith in placing the direction of the general work in his hands and for their hearty co-operation and support, to thank the rest of the staff for loyal and untiring support and sacrifice through a strenuous year, and for the help of the members and their interest in the work of the Association. We should look fotward to this most important year ready to render bigger service and to be ready to do our part in welcoming home our returning heroes and to assist them in every possible way during the time in which they will be fitting themselves into civil life once more.

Finance Committee

The Association has been able to finish the year in the best financial condition for some years. Ever since 1914 at least the Association has found itself facing a deficit. This year the Auditor's statement showed that all bills had been paid and the note which had been $3500.00 in January was reduced to $350. Enough unpaid subscriptions were outstanding to cover this amount. During the last few days out President, Mr. Illsley, has made a special effort with the result that tonight we are entirely free fro mdebt and the last note is retired.

The Association has come through the trying period of war in fine condition. The loss of revenue from memberships in the Senior department has been a serious handicap but we are proud of the record of our members who have responded to the call of service overseas, in the neighborhood of 300 having enlisted. During the period of training since the war began the Association has extended the privileges of the building free to all enlisted men. Only Y M C A 2 the generosity of the friends of the Association has made this service possible and has enabled the Board to present such a financial statement as we are enabled to do tonight The board of directors gratefully acknowledge their indebtedness to the citizens who have helped during this critical time.

In January 1916 it was found necessary to arrange for financial help in the form of a note to the amount of $6,000.00 This amount has been steadily reduced and at the beginning of the year it stood at $3500.00, since then the entire balance has been wiped out.

Having placed the Association on a sound and satisfactory footing it is now possible to face the returning of our men from overseas and to meet the problems of the reconstruction period from handicaps and to offer the best possible service that can be rendered by the Association to men and boys with especial thought and consideration for the returning soldiers.

During the early part of the year hikes were conducted up the canal and out to Lily Lake. Summer time brought bicycle hikes and swimming. Later during October when the building was closed a program of hikes afforded the fellows a very healthful pleasure.

A communication received from a local organization known as the Firemen's Benevolent Association suggested that a committee appointed from amongst its members should be given an opportunity to discuss matters with the Council for the mutual advantage of both and in order that points upon which they were slightly at variance would be the better understood.

A motion was passed last night instructing the City Clerk to write the Canadian Underwriters' Association stating that Peterborough is considering the adoption of the two platoon system and at the same time inform them that the men would have gongs placed in their houses and would attend fires whether on the off shift or not and that the Fire Chief recommends the measure as one that will strengthen the department and ensure greater efficiency and enquire what effect if any this would have upon the insurance rates.

It was decided that there would be a meeting of the committee next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when they will proceed to the fire hall and go into the matters thoroughly with the chief and check over the stock sheet which was furnished.

One Employment Agency for All Canada

THE Dominion and Provincial Governments are co-operating to distribute employment quickly and fairly. Employment Offices are being set up throughout Canada—a single, complete chain from East to West.

In all, some 60 Employment Offices are being established. They will be located in all centres of 10,000 people and over and wherever the need for them exists. One-third are already in operation.

Through these Government Employment Offices, all persons in need of employment, both male and female, will secure such positions as are available.

Through this same source an employer's particular needs will be promptly filled.

Indeed, the service rendered by these Government Employmen Offices will be such as to warrant the heartiest co-operation and support on the part of employers of labor.

They will endeavor to supply only such help as an employer can confidently take on the right man for the right position.

Thus, to the small employer of labor, they will take the place of the Employment manager. To the large employer of labor they will be of appreciable assistance.

The service of the Employment Offices will be given both to employers and to those who seek employment entirely without charge.

How They Work.

Inside the office he has interviewers, to confer with those seeking employment and to direct them to positions. In the larger cities he also has canvassers or salesmen to call on the employers and show them the value of the services rendered by the Employment Office.

In this way the work-seeker and the work-giver are quickly brought together.

Every effort is made to secure up-to-date, business-like offices, conveniently located.

For the Soldier.

The same Employment Offices are used to provide positions for returned soldiers as well as for every other person in need of employment.

In each employment office there is a representative of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment—a man who has served overseas. He introduces the returned soldier to the regular officials and gives him every assistance, both as to employment and other matters.

The Organization.

The local offices in each province are linked together by a provincial clearing house in the capital city.

They are directly supervised by a general superintendent who receives daily wired reports from each office. These reports state how many have sought work, how many have been placed in positions, how many and what classes need work, how many positions vacant. The general superintendent has each day a complete picture of the employment situation in the province under his care.

With the same idea in view, the Dominion Government has three national clearing-houses—established at Halifax, Ottawa, and Winnipeg. Those who plan to move from one locality to another can thus go "with their eyes open," because these clearing-houses show from their daily reports just what the employment prospects are—everywhere.

National Advantages.

With the completion of this single chain of Employment Offices the Government will be exactly informed on employment conditions.

Expert field agents will call on the lumbering, mining, shipbuilding and other industries to secure information as to anticipated requirements for labor.

Weekly reports sent in by trade unions provide additional information.

Finally, every concern with 25 or more employees will mail each week a post-card showing (a) the pay-roll of the previous week; (b) changes in staff and the nature of the occupations.

Advisory Councils.

Each local superintendent in the larger cities will be assisted by an advisory body composed of employers and employees.

Each province will have a similar advisory body.

There will also be a Dominion body—the Employment Service Council of Canada—to co-operate with the Department of Labor. This council will be composed of representatives from all those classes interested.

In addition to the above, the Government is co-operating with those who provide employment—so that as far as possible every willing worker will have work to do.

CHIEF GRANGE WANTS $29,076.50 TO OPERATE FIRE DEPARTMENT

If Double Platoon System Is Allowed $7,000 Additional, or Over $36,000 in all Will Be Required—Estimates Submitted at Committee Meeting Last Night.

At the meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee last night Chief Grange submitted his estimates for the year as follows:

Gentlemen:—

I am herewith submitting estimates for Fire Department for 1919. Only those things which are most essential are included.

The salary estimate includes the bonus given last June. This should be continued and the present salary made permanent. Since taking charge of the Department I have always had a complete staff and at present the men are, with only one exception, well experienced and capable men. Undoubtedly it is to the interest of the Department and the city generally to retain the present staff. The fires of last winter were of more educational value than ten year's experience would be under normal conditions.

The Bell Telephone Co. is seriously considering the refusal to supply us with power with which to operate our alarm system, owing to the fact that it is needed in their own business. The power supplied the Department by the Bell Company is, at present, inadequate, and if more alarm boxes or bells were used would not be near enough. We should have bells in the homes of the men and although I am not asking for more alarm boxes, there should be more, but this is impossible with our present supply of power. I would strongly advise that a motor-generator set, consisting of an alternating current motor attached to a direct current generator with storage batteries and four circuit switchboards complete be installed. This would give us sufficient power for time to come and would also eliminate the annual expenditure of $150.00 for power received from the Bell Company. The cost of this machine is included in the estimate re Fire Alarm System.

We have in stock the summer uniforms purchased late in the fall of 1918. These will not be issued until 1919 in the spring. The Department has issued only (16) one uniform per man during the past three years. Ten were issued in 1916, six in 1917 and none in 1918. Thus the stock is badly depleted and winter uniforms will have to be issued next fall.

We have in stock 6,500 feet of first-class fire hose, 2,000 of which was bought last winter. I would ask you to consider the purchase of an additional thousand feet in order to keep the present stock up to the standard.

Last year's estimate included two smoke helmets. These are used by all the Departments and very essential where dense smoke has accumulated in a building. I had the pleasure of seeing them demonstrated in Toronto at the convention of fire chiefs and was firmly convinced that they are absolutely necessary for the combatting of smoky fires and where acid fumes prevail.

A Baker cellar pipe and Alfco nozzles are also very necessary equipment. The former permits the directing of a stream on to a fire in a cellar from the outside. In many cases it is impossible for the men to enter a cellar and by means of this contrivance, the stream can be directed from the outside to better advantage than is possible with a straight nozzle. The ladder nozzle allows easier manipulation of a branch from a ladder, with more safety and fewer men than the ordinary nozzle.

Our ladder equipment is very much depleted. The forty-five foot extension which was badly worn, was broken beyond repair at a fire on October 9 on the premises of the Renfrew Manufacturing Company, Ltd. In extending the ladder, the fly top left the slots and caught in the structure against which it was placed, and in our efforts to have it dislodged it fell with the result stated above. Our 30 foot straight ladder has been in an unsafe condition for years, having been repaired many times and at present portions of it are bound up with wire. It is unsafe to allow men to use this ladder. A very handy ladder, 24 feet, was lost at the Quaker Oats fire in 1916 and has never been replaced.

All the horses at the fire station are unfit for the fire service. I strongly advise the purchase of a new team to replace the mill and brook horses. The other two could be retained and do service for the Board of Works as at present. I am of the opinion that it would be best to still keep four horses in order to guard against any accident that might happen to the motor-driven apparatus in the winter.

Although the cost of living has nearly doubled during the past two years, the salary of the chief of the Department remains the same as it was in 1917. I requested an increase of two hundred dollars and I think gentlemen, that I am justified in making the request. I also request an increase of one hundred for the engineer. I might say that I consider this request worthy of your favourable consideration.

Relative to the platoon system for firemen, information regarding the subject will be found attached to the estimate respecting the service.

Respectfully submitting the above, I have the honour to be, Sirs,

Your obedient servant,
GEO GRANGE,
Chief of Fire Department.

The Platoon System.

The platoon system would mean dividing the strength of the brigade into two shifts; one shift on duty at the fire station constantly and the other always subject to call in case of fire either by means of the small bell in their homes or the large tower bell. The "off shift" is still on duty, having to devote their full time to the service and having to remain in the duty and in such places as they can receive the alarm. Thus, I would have always a force of ten men at the beginning of a fire and ten more within a very few minutes. All inspection duty would be done by the [illegible] require some time off for the transaction of business, or work at home, further weakening the staff. Then at meal hours we are left with seven men at most for six hours each day. Under platoon system there would be no meal shift and no special time off duty.

I have asked for four more men and I would not like to undertake it with less. This system would tend, not only to maintain the efficiency of the brigade, but will greatly strengthen it. Health and morale would be improved and the men would be enabled like other men to spend a portion of their time at home with their families.

Excellent Bill At the Grand

There was an excellent bill in movies and vaudeville at the Grand Opera House last night, and the opening performances yesterday drew good houses. The program consists of Charlie Chaplin in "His Dare Devil Queen," Edith Storey in "The Demon," and a pictorial interpretation of O. Henry's story that relates the experience of a young Irish couple separated in New York and the almost uncanny process by which they were reunited. Vivian and Chance gave an excellent exhibition of step-dancing and other feats, and the Pathe news feature is [illegible] usually interesting.

Ex-President Taft will be at the Opera House Thursday night in the second attraction in the Chautauqua Lyceum Course.

Russian Affairs Before Council

Paris, Jan. 20.—The Peace Congress resumed its sessions early this morning, and it is stated had made good progress today towards agreement on the most important points.

The situation in Russia was taken up by the supreme council of the Peace Conference at its session today. Joseph Noulenc, the French ambassador to Russia, was present at the meeting, and addressed it on the Russian question. This announcement was made in the official statement given out regarding the proceedings of the plenipotentiaries. The next meeting will be held tomorrow.

NOT SUFFICIENT POWER FOR HEAT

PROFESSOR IN TORONTO DISCUSSES ELECTRIC PROBLEM FOR ONTARIO.

Toronto, Jan. 20.—Ontario is rich in water powers, but there is not such an abundance that will permit of the hope being entertained that the day will ever dawn when the homes of the Province will be heated by electricity. This is the opinion held by Prof R. W. Angus of the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering of the University of Toronto, who addressed the Royal Canadian Institute in the Physics building Saturday evening. He spoke on some of the problems connected with hydro-electric development, and gave a comprehensive and informative talk on the work along this line during the past fifteen years. Only about one-seventh of the five million possible horse power is as yet developed, he said.

United States' Naval Program

DOES UNCLE SAM PLANS A FLEET TO RIVAL BRITAIN'S?

(By H. C. Ferraby)

It is announced that the United States Government will adhere to its war-time program of naval construction and spend some $1,000,000,000 in 1920.

The peace time estimates of the British Navy were $250,000,000, a quarter of that sum.

The personnel of the United States navy will be maintained for some time to come at 500,000.

The peace time strength of the personnel of the British navy was 151,000.

Can you wonder that the British people are saying "to themselves "What does it all mean? Is it a challenge"?

I would urge the United States authorities and publicists to clear up the position by straight and definite statement and policy.

It should not be difficult to do. All students of naval warfare see quite clearly the difficulty which confronts the United States. Britain's strategical position is such that she can always concentrate her sea forces in a danger area in time to deal with any potential enemy. The United States is not in that happy strategical position. If the United States proposes to be a great power, the American navy must be strong enough to hold two seas at once if necessary—the Atlantic and the Pacific.

This is a position that is elementary in strategy—but it is not so elementary in diplomacy. Building to what I may perhaps call the two ocean standard, the United States runs the risk of arousing suspicion, dislike—and competitive building. It runs the risk of wrecking at the outset the whole scheme of the league of nations. I will be bold enough to speak very frankly on this matter, and say that I know that the British people will never allow any other nation whatsoever to overbuild it in naval power.

THE SALVATION ARMY

The Emergency Call

Many organizations are willing to assist a deserving case. The Salvation Army is ready to assist in any emergency. That is why the Salvation Army's need for funds at this time must meet with whole-hearted response.

With the repatriation of 300,000 soldiers, notwithstanding all that the Government is planning to do to meet the needs of the men, countless problems will arise, problems of human need, problems that must be met and coped with AT ONCE. They are not things that can wait.

That is why the Salvation Army Emergency Homes are centres of such steady activity. When an emergency arises in the home of a soldier who has done his bit, there must be prompt response, however difficult the individual problem. Here are a few typical cases:

Husband, a discharged soldier, goes to another town to work. Fails to send money home. Salvation Army finds family helpless with hunger and cold. No coal in house. Family all removed to Emergency Home, where in tiny, two-room suite, sufficiently furnished and warm, they can exist in something approaching comfort until the breadwinner can help them.

In an adjoining suite may be a mother and children on the way to rejoin father in another city. A missed train connection or any one of a hundred mishaps leaves them stranded for the night.

A room in a Salvation Army Emergency Home is seldom vacant for more than a few hours at a time, and with the crisis arising from the difficulty of re-establishing so many soldiers into civilian life, there must be no cessation in the work for lack of funds.

Salvation Army Million Dollar Fund
THIS WEEK

And the Emergency Home work is just one small part of the work for which the fund is needed. The Salvation Army must provide comforts for the boys over there awaiting transportation home. The Salvation Army Hostels from France to Vancouver must be ready at all times to receive and entertain returned men. The soldier must be helped back to civil life; he needs a job; perhaps he returns to find his wife sick, and a friendly hand needed in the home now and then. The Salvation Army visitors find ample opportunities for service, and they are instrumental in holding many a home together.

The soldier's child has the right to be well born, and there will be many an ex-soldier heartily glad that his wife can benefit by the attention of doctors and trained nurses at the Salvation Army Maternity Home.

Many of the boys will return to happy homes, homes well provided for. Difficult as it may be for even these men to accustom themselves to the old ways of living, their problem is simplicity itself compared with that of the soldiers and their families that the Salvation Army will be called upon to help.

And this help MUST be forthcoming. Our returned men must not be left to drift. It is the personal problem of the nation to-day, and every thinking man and woman is thoroughly grateful that there is an organization equipped to meet the crisis—an organization trained for this very work—an organization whose work is founded on sacrificial service—whose every ministration is prompted by such a love as that of the Good Samaritan.

Let your offering on behalf of the Homecoming Soldier be a measure of your sense of obligation to those who died for you on the battlefield.

"It is more blessed to give than to receive."

INSURANCE MEN HEARD FROM ON DOUBLE PLATOON SYSTEM

Fire, Water and Light Committee Informed That Such a Change Is not Likely to Reduce Rate—Chief Grange's Estimates for 1919.

Last night the Fire Water and Light Committe held its first meeting for this year. Chairman Morrison presiding and all the members in attendance except Alderman Turner, who stated by letter that he was unable to be present on account of the annual meeting of his firm being held on that evening. He regretted his inability to attend very much and brought to the attention of the meeting three matters which he would have raised for discussion had he been on hand.

The first of these was the building by-law as framed by last year's council. This was referred to the Property Committee. The second was the desirability of removing the electrical wiring on the east side of George between Hunter and Brock streets and running it through the lane at the rear as it at present constituted a menace, forming a barrier to the placing of ladders against the buildings in case of fire. This matter was turned over to the Board of Works. The third question which Alderman Turner suggested was the platoon system for the firemen.

In answer to a letter sent some time ago asking for information upon the matter, the Underwriters' Association wrote the Committeee stating that the adoption of the two platoon system would not result in any reduction in rates and unless accompanied by an increase in the number of firemen employed might result in a considerable increase.

Kingston Chief Heard From

A letter was read from Chief Armstrong of the Kingston Fire Department giving particulars as to the adoption of the two platoon system in that city. He recommended very highly and as far as the Canadian Underwriters' Association was concerned reminded Chief Grange to whom the communication was directed that they were never satisfied under any conditions.

Several letters were received from the La France Fire Co., in regard to the return of the tires on the chemical car which were claimed to be defective. They were forwarded to the firm at Dayton, Ohio, where they were manufactured and the La France people were unable to say what adjustment they would make. According to the letters the new tires will be along any day now.

Fuel in City Yard

City Treasurer Adams submitted a report showing the amount of coal and wood on hand in the city fuel yards at the end of the year. There are 1,701 tons and 242 pounds made up of approximately 129 tons No. 1 wheat, 512 pea, 635 nut, 23½ egg and 402 mine run. There are 1 and 7 16 cords of hard wood and 22 cords of mixed.

Fire Chief's Figures

The annual report of Fire Chief Grange was submitted. His estimates this year amount to $29,076.50 and if the platoon system is adopted it would make an increase in this figure of $7000. Last year the estimates as submitted were $26,394 and when passed had been cut down to $25,000.

The Utilities Commission were notified as a result of a motion passed last night's meeting to place new lights in several parts of the city where they were broken.

A Friend in Need

City Clerk Armstrong was also asked to write Mr. E. G. Patterson General manager of the Canadian General Electric Company and thank him for his action in despatching the truck of the plant and a team of horses to pull the big fire truck out of the ditch on East Chamberlain street where it was stuck while attending the Weaver Fire on October 18th.

The estimates and report of the Fire Chief as well as the request made by himself and the engineer for a raise of $200 and $100 respectively in their salaries, were discussed in a general way at last night's meeting. There was no attempt made to go into detail and the question which will require considerable time to dispose of will be considered at the next meeting of the Committee.

TO ERECT HEADSTONES OVER SOLDIERS' GRAVES

Large Central Monument Will Mark Each Cemetry on Old Battlegrounds of Flanders and Picardy.

(By W. B. Thompson)

A human document—never losing the thread of its practical purpose, but written with taste and feeling that reflect the fullness of public reverence for the heroic dead—is the report by Lieut.-Col. Sir Frederic Kenyon, director of the British Museum, containing his recommendations to the imperial war graves commission for paying homage to the graves and designing the cemeteries of our soldiers who have fallen on active service. The recommendations have been adopted.

In the circumstances of the cemeteries there is an impressive variety. Sir Frederic says: "Some are in towns or villages. Others are in the open country, sometimes near roads and sometimes far away. Some are in woods, some in orchards, some in open fields, some along the edges of the roads.

"And besides these there are the thousands of isolated burials—men buried hastily where they fell, men buried by the shell or mine explosion which killed them, men whose bodies could not be reached at the time for burial, and who have been subsequently sought out and buried by the devoted labor of the officers and men of the directorate. Of many who have fallen there can be no identified grave. Many bodies are found, but cannot be identified; many are never found at all; many are buried in graves which have subsequently been destroyed in the course of the fighting.

Individual Monuments

"This is especially the case in areas such as that of Ypres, where the same ground has been contested for three consecutive years and the whole countryside has been blasted and torn with shell fire. Therefore, whatever may be done in the way of placing individual monuments over the dead, in very many cases no such monument is possible. Yet these must not be neglected, and some memorial there must be to the lost, the unknown, but not forgotten, dead."

The commission had directed that there should be equality of treatment for all ranks.

Sir Frederic recommended that each grave should have its own headstone, 2 ft. 6 in. high and 1 ft. 6 in. wide. The rows of headstones in their ordered ranks carry on the military idea, giving the appearance as of a battalion on parade, and suggesting the spirit of discipline and order which is the soul of the army. They will perpetuate the effect, which all who have seen them feel to be impressive, of the present rows of wooden crosses.

Central Stone

The question of a central monument in each cemetery was considered. One suggestion was made at an early stage by Sir E. Lutyens, which has been received with considerable approval. It was that the main memorial in every British cemetery should be "one great fair stone of fine proportions, 12 feet in length, lying raised upon three steps, of which the first and third shall be twice the width of the second; and that each stone shall bear, in indelible lettering some fine thought or words of sacred dedication."

The horticultural design is at present engaging the attention of the Royal Botanical Gardens, Kew. "There is no reason why cemeteries should be places of gloom, but the restfulness of grass and the brightness of flowers, in fitting combination, would appear to strike the proper note of brightness and life."

A simple pattern of headstone with curved top has been approved, and progress has been made with the scheme of setting up the regimental badges. Some of the architects have been at work for a considerable time.

Sir Frederic considers that there should be also in each cemetery a cross.

ENGLAND MUST RETAIN SUPREMACY OF THE SEAS

Ex-President Taft, Who Will Be in Peterborough Thursday, Addresses Toronto Audience.

Toronto, Jan. 21.—"England's supremacy of the seas—if you like that expression—in time of peace has always meant equality for all nations and, in times of war, Britain must maintain her fleet to resist unjust aggression. If she didn't she would starve in a week."

So declared Hon. William Howard Taft, former President of the United States, in a vigorous and studied speech before the Empire Club in the King Edward Hotel yesterday afternoon.

"The question of disarmament," concluded Mr. Taft in ringing tones, "must depend upon the success of the League of Nations and its demonstration that it can furnish that assurance which nations can now secure by navies and armies for their self-protection."

The former President once again demonstrated to a Toronto audience that he is a distinctly original orator. Mr. Taft still retains that rare and happy faculty of "preparing" his hearers for every idea he wishes to "drive home" and in the address he simply played with the emotions of the vast assemblage that filled the big Victorian banquet room to capacity. The oratorical style of Taft is not less vigorous and graceful than it was on the occasion of his last appearance here about two years ago.

Taft Well Known Here

President R. A. Stapells called for toasts for the King and President Wilson, and the great assembly sang the National Anthem and "The Star-Spangled Banner" with a vim.

"When our distinguished guest visited us last he told us that his countrymen played poker," said Mr. Stapells. To-day we know they play a finer and a sterner game with equal ability and superb courage. The commingling of American and British blood shed on the battlefields of Europe for an ideal common to these two great English speaking peoples has cemented a feeling of respect for each other."

Mr. Taft, said the chairman, required no introduction to the Empire Club. Mr. Taft, he added, stood on the side of Great Britain the day she entered the war. (Applause.)

Mr. Taft, on rising to speak was greeted by a salvo of cheers, the members of the club rising to their feet and applauding vigorously.

Mr. Taft in his opening remarks said: "I am glad to be in Toronto again, although under very different circumstances from my last visit, when I was here before I was under an injunction of neutrality, and you weren't." (Laughter.)

"We tried to keep out of the war and respect the traditions of Jefferson. We thought we could pursue a policy of 'reasonable profit' (Laughter.)

"But we found that we were a great world power which God hadn't given us to keep useless when the fate of the world was at stake." (Loud cheers.)

FIRST ANNUAL SALE

The first annual auction sale under the auspices of the Peterboro County Shorthorn Association is to be held in the Montgomery House, Peterboro, on Thursday, January 30th, commencing at 1 o'clock. Any person anticipating the purchase of high class stock of this breed should not fail to attend this sale as his requirements can be filled here better than away from home.

Oshawa Wins From Bowmanville Team

Oshawa, Jan. 21.—Oshawa juniors proved themselves good soft-ice workers by upsetting Bowmanville's chances of cinching group honors by winning here tonight. The local lads scored two goals in the first period and blanked the visitors. They repeated again the second while in the third Bowmanville bulged the nets twice while Oshawa notched two, making the score 6 to 2 in favor of Oshawa.

The Desjardines brothers, on the fence for Oshawa, were the best on the ice, Bowmanville never getting in close for a shot in the first two periods. The line-up:

Mrs. Annie McClelland $200.

Your directors, during the year, purchased $3300.00 of War Loan Bonds at a cost of $3183.24 and now hold Debentures of the City of Peterborough for the sum of $19,417.31 and War Loan Bonds for the sum of $8800.00 making together the sum of $26,217.31 which were purchased at a cost of $25,714.24. The total annual income on these securities amounts to $1209.69.

There was in the bank on the 31st December last the sum of $2242.37.

Your Directors in order to ascertain as nearly as possible the value of the assets of the Company have had an estimate made of the value of the remaining unsold lots and also the land in the Cemetery not yet divided into lots and placing a value on these lots and the land at prices, similar lots are now being disposed of, the value of the unsold portion of the Cemetery is the sum of $190,000. This value is of course only an estimate and is not a presently available asset but will be such as the lots are sold, if it should become possible to carry on the Cemetery out of the ordinary revenue without using any portion of the money received for the sale of lots, which at present appears to be impossible unless the charges for burials, care of lots, etc., are increased, this your Directors do not deem advisable to do at the present time, but even assuming that one half the money received for the sale of lots is used for the upkeep of the Cemetery and the sum of $190,000 is in any way near the value of the unsold lots there should be an ample fund for the maintenance of the Cemetery after all the lots are disposed of.

Superintendent's Report

To the President, Directors and Shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery.

Gentlemen: Another year of work in your Cemetery has passed and although not much new work has been taken up, considerable renovating of the ground and premises has been done.

Painting—At a meeting of your Directors in May last it was decided to paint the gates and fence around the Cemetery which has been done in dark green at a cost of sixty-five dollars, including labor and material. This has made a great improvement in appearance and preserving the same. Vases and stands numbering about 700 were given a coat of aluminum also the garden seats in the Cemetery were painted. Office walls and ceiling were painted and wood work varnished also weather strip put on windows.

Concrete Drinking Fountain

As instructed by you I have built a concrete platform around the drinking fountain and put in a concrete ice box which has made a great improvement on the wooden platform which had become very much delapidated.

Vault—As per your instructions I have built a ten inch reinforced concrete wall dividing the vault with iron gates at left and iron door for entrance which has made it secure from entrance without using extraordinary means to enter. This was done at a cost of about seventy-five dollars.

Greenhouse—The old section of greenhouse running east and west has been taken down and replaced by a Lord and Burnham Semmie Iron Frame structure with iron columns and 10 inch concrete wall. This has made a great improvement both as to light for growing and also saving of fuel. The heating system has been overhauled and a concrete walk around benches and iron post set in concrete.

Grading—During the year I have graded and seeded section O, ground enough for three eranges in width making room for about ninety-five grave lots and on single grave section room enough for about 160 graves. Water mains have been laid on new ranges opened up. Part of the lawn at rear of Superintendent's house has been raised and the remainder is to be done in the spring as we used the soil for winter graves.

Trees

Twenty-seven maple and elm trees have been planted on lower sections of the Cemetery and all appear to be growing.

Interments

There has been during the year 315 interments, 8 removals, 28 foundations for monuments. All of which is respectfully submitted.

WILLING TO WALK TWENTY MILES TO TELL ABOUT TANLAC

MISS MCKENZIE GAINS TWENTY-FIVE POUNDS ON TANLAC AND HEALTH IS RESTORED

"I'm so grateful for the wonderful relief I have gotten from taking Tanlac, that I would be willing to walk twenty miles to tell anyone who suffers like I did, what this medicine has done for me," said Miss Adeline McKenzie, 424 Sixth Ave., South, Nashville, Tenn.

"I suffered for about eighteen months from nervous prostration and kept getting worse in spite of all I could do. I had no appetite at all and after eating my stomach would burn like I had swallowed a fire-coal. I would turn cold one minute and hot the next at times, and I was so nervous I couldn't keep still. I could hardly sleep at all and I fell off at least sixty pounds.

"After I tried several different medicines without getting any relief, my brother got me a bottle of Tanlac and I started taking it. By the time I had finished my second bottle my appetite begun to improve and the troubles were greatly relieved. The burning sensation in my stomach has disappeared, the nervousness is all gone, I sleep like a child at night and besides gaining twenty-five pounds in weight, I am in splendid health again.

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd.; in Havelock, by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield, by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd.; in Fowlers' Corners, by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert, by A. J. Scott; in Westwood, by G. Pringle & Son.

CARDINAL GIBBON OPPOSES PROHIBITION

Baltimore, Jan. 21.—Cardinal Gibbons in a statement issued here says: "I have always been in favor of strict regulation of the manufacture and sale of liquor instead of absolute prohibition, because by a strict regulation, the liberty of individuals is preserved, whereas by prohibition we face legislation which in the long run cannot be carried out and an early result of prohibition will be the secret and illicit manufacture and sale of bad liquor, whereby the government will be deprived of a large revenue besides being put to enormous expense in the employment of agents to enforce the law. Moreover, in carrying out the law, I see also an invasion of the home which up to now all men have agreed is a sacred and holy place. These agents enter our homes with the violence of burglars and the immunity of officers of the law."

ALEX. R. WALKER'S DEATH.

For 10 Years Librarian of Belleville Public Library.

Belleville, Jan. 21.—Alex R. Walker, public librarian of this city, died very suddenly at his home here of heart failure. He was 51 years of age, a son of the late Hugh Walker, license inspector for West Hastings. He had a legal training, was graduated as a barrister and solicitor from Osgoode Hall, and for a brief period practised law in Saginaw, Mich.; in Marmora, Ont., and in Belleville. Finding books more congenial than legal documents, he became librarian for the Belleville Mechanics' Institute, which was later merged in the Belleville Public Library. For sixteen years he had filled that position with conspicuous success. He was an ardent Conservative. He was at the time of his death secretary of the Greater West Hastings Conservative Association. His work in connection with the administration of the Patriotic Fund had been self-sacrificing for more than four years. He leaves his wife, one brother and one sister.

LOCAL SOLDIERS ARE COMING HOME

"EMPRESS OF BRITAIN" DOCKS AT HALIFAX AND MEN ENTRAINED.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Halifax, Jan. 22. — The troopship Empress of Britain, with 2,500 returned soldiers aboard, including 1,500 from Ontario, docked early this morning, and at 9:45 the first trainload left for the West. The voyage was uneventful.

The men aboard the first train are consigned to Vancouver and Calgary districts. Their train will be followed at half hour intervals by six trains in the following order: Second, Regina and Quebec Province; third, Winnipeg; fourth, Toronto; first section, fifth, Toronto; second section, sixth, London and Kingston; seventh, Montreal.

The first five trains will proceed to Quebec for the documentation of the troops aboard. All other troops arriving on the "Britain" are being documented here. The C. P. O. S. liner arrived off the harbor early this morning, but waited for daylight before proceeding to her berth. She left Liverpool yesterday week. Rough weather was experienced during the first half of the voyage, but the latter half was not unpleasant. The men say they have no complaints to make of the treatment they received.

MR. HALL REVIVES RAILWAY ISSUE

MOVES RESOLUTION AT LIBERAL CONVENTION RE PURCHASE OF C. N. R.

At the Liberal Convention in Toronto yesterday among the local men on the platform were R. R. Hall, ex-M.P., G. A. Gillespie, M.L.A. and Capt. C. R. Widdifield the new secretary of the Peterborough Liberal Association. A resolution regarding the purchase of the Canadian Northern moved by Mr. Hall was seconded by W. H. Johnston, Havelock. It ran thus:

"Resolved by the Liberals of Central Ontario, that a full investigation be held to probe the affairs of the Canadian Northern Railway, to find out and make public all the facts relating to the negotiations for the sale and purchase of the road; the names of those who benefitted directly or indirectly by the sale and purchase of this road; the names of those who dealt in its London securities before the unexpected purchase of the road was announced, and all surrounding facts and circumstances in any way relating thereto."

In supporting his resolution Mr. Hall said that C.P.R. stocks, which sold at 220 before the war, dropped of 157 on the declaration of war, although it paid 10 per cent. all through the war. Still Canadian tax payers are being called on to pay face value for $147,000,000 in unsecured C.N.R. bonds, a property that was falling behind at a rate of about $10,000,000 a year. "These bonds, I am told, were being sold at 37 cents in London before the line was taken over," said Mr. Hall. Who profited by the difference between 37 cents and $1.

Newspaper Hearing Ends at Ottawa

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—After an argument lasting eleven days, the newsprint enquiry appeal came to an end this morning, and it now remains for the paper control tribunal to decide whether the price of newsprint in rolls shall remain at $69 per ton as fixed by Commissioner Pringle, increased to $80 as the manufacturers' demand, or brought down to $50, as the publishers request.

Leslie West, son of Thomas West, whose barn on the Cormack farm, near Woodstock, was burned, was arrested, and, it is alleged, confessed to setting fire to it, but could give no reason.

SIR WILFRED LAURIER ASKS ALL WANDERERS TO RETURN

Toronto, Jan. 22.—"I voted for conscription, but I declined to enter the Union Government, although I was invited to do so. I did not support the Union Government, because if I had intended to support it I would have become one of its members. I have no apologies to make, and I am not asking anyone to make apologies to me. I believe that party government is essential for a free country in times of peace. I believe we will soon revert to party government, and the time is now ripe for all Liberals to sink past differences and get together. This is my view, and I am authorized to say that it is the view of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who wants the support of every man, woman and child in Canada who believes in the principles of the Liberal party."

The was the message brought by Hon. Geo. P. Graham to the delegates who attended the organization of the Liberal Association from Central Ontario at St. George's Hall, Elm street, last night. The delegates put in a busy afternoon, adopting a constitution, passing resolutions and electing officers. This was an executive meeting, but a meeting had been advertised for the evening to be addressed by Hon. Mr. Graham and other lights of the Liberal party. The attendance was disappointing; some 250 were present, the majority of them being delegates from out-of-town, for the newly formed association does not include the County of York or the City of Toronto. Mr. Graham's speech was somewhat conciliatory in part, but developed toward the close into an arraignment of the Union Government. He was enthusiastically cheered, and his eulogistic references to Sir Wilfrid Laurier were greeted with prolonged applause.

Resolutions.

The convention placed itself on record as having full confidence in the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier as the foremost exponent in Canada of Liberal and democratic principles and the chief opponent of autocratic rule.

It was resolved that a full investigation be held to probe the affairs of the C. N. R. and to make public all the facts relating to the negotiations for the sale and purchase of this road and the names of those who

MENTAL WEAKNESS DROVE CHARLES CREES TO DEATH

Verdict of Coroner Greer's Jury in Case of Man Who Suicided by Hanging—Testimony of Neighbors of Crees' Employer.

An inquest into the death of Charles Crees, whose body was found hanging in Herbert McKay's barn in Otonabee on the evening of January 13th, was held in the police court chamber last night before Coroner Dr. Greer, Crown Attorney Hatton representing the Crown and Mr. G. N. Gorden appearing in the interests of his client, Mr. McKay.

Mr. William Comstock one of the partners in the local undertaking firm gave evidence in regard to the way in which he found the body of Crees, when he had been called to the scene of the tragedy. He stated that the man was found hanging from one of the braces of the barn by a rope which was not about his neck but passed under his jaws and over his head in a vertical direction, the reason for this being that there was no slip knot in the end of the rope b ut an ordinary non-slipping loop.

Doctor's Testimony

Dr. C. H. Amys, the next witness as the physician who with Dr. Morgan conducted the post mortem examination gave evidence as to the cause of death and the indications present. He stated that there was a rope burn about the neck of the dead man and that one of the ligaments of the neck had parted which would show that the deceased had dropped as the weight of the body put upon the rope gradually would not in his opinion be sufficient to produce the result. All the internal conditions pointed to death by strangulation.

Dr. Morgan stated that he had signed the report presented by Dr. Amys and agreed with what he had said.

Crees' Employer Testifies

Herbert McKay, Crees' employer, and a farmer of the township of Otonabee was the next on the stand. In his evidence he asserted that Crees was a willing worker, that he seemed quite sensible at all times and never caused any trouble.

Deceased came to this country from England and worked for some time in Toronto and Prince Edward Island then he came east and he went to work for Mr. McKay's aunt near Havelock. After being there for some time he worked for Mr. McKay's father with whom he stayed for five or six years. He was employed for a month with the Quaker Oats Co., and was in the employ of the witness for two years.

In answed to a question of the Crown Attorney as to whether he ever abused the deceased or kicked him Mr. McKay stated most emphatically that he had not. "Did you ever hear that anyone credited you with abusing the man?" continued the Crown Attorney. "Not until Mr. Moore the County Constable informed me of it," was the reply.

Questioned as to the wages he had been paying Orees the witness stated that for the first year his man was to get $180 with board and washing. The next year $200 was the amount decided upon but during the

OTTAWA PROTESTS THE BANK MERGER

SAYS AMALGAMATION WOULD BE NOTHING SHORT OF NATIONAL CALAMITY.

Ottawa, Jan. 22—A representative gathering of the prominent merchants of the city assembled at the rooms of the Retail Merchants' Association under the presidency of Mr. Henry Watters, for the purpose of registering a protest against the proposed absorption of the Bank of Ottawa by the Bank of Nova Scotia, and to devise ways and means for combating the merger.

The sense of the meeting, as brought out by the discussion, was to the effect that the disappearance of the Bank of Ottawa would be in the nature of a catastrophe, not only of a local or provincial, but a national character, and that banks aren ot private but public institutions, the servants of the public, and as they are such, if valid reasons exist in the minds of the financiers why the merger should take place they should be made public.

Ottawa merchants registered a protest against the proposed absorption of the Bank of Ottawa by the Bank of Nova Scotia.

INDUSTRIAL UNREST IS ON INCREASE IN BRITISH ISLES

One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Men to Quit Work Tomorrow and General Strike Threatened in Scotland---Lawless Acts of Daily Occurrence in Paris.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 22.—Industrial unrest throughout the United Kingdom is seriously on the increase. A general strike for better hours and wages in Yorkshire and Scotland is called for this week, more particularly in the coal mining districts. This means three hundred thousand people out.

150,000 on Strike.

In addition to the threat of a railway strike, the whole Yorkshire coal fields probably will be idle tomorrow throwing one hundred and fifty thousand men out of employment, while preparations are being made in Scotland for a general strike for a forty-hour week. The cause of the trouble in Yorkshire is somewhat similar to that which is occurring in other parts of the country. The operators there have locked out some forty thousand men who insisted on taking twenty minutes of the employers' time for meals. In reply to the lockout the Yorkshire Miners' Association has declared a strike for tomorrow. The dispute in London between the engineers and operators has improved somewhat. The operators have granted the demands of the engineering trade, but the electrical workers are now threatening to strike.

Lawlessness in Paris.

Paris, Jan. 22.—The acts of violence and armed attacks are increasing daily in Paris, according to the Matin, which declares that the demobilization of the Allied troops is bound to have the effect of further increasing acts of lawlessness. Many former prisoners, now freed from the army, are burning to make up for lost time. This band of lawbreakers is now increased by men from the armies of the Allies. During the past week one hundred and thirty night assaults in Paris district were reported as having been committed by burglars from the American army. Deputy Police Commissioner Evans, one of the best New York police experts, will assist in connection with the Paris police to round up these criminals.

Ex-President Taft Here Tomorrow

When ex-President Taft arrives in the city on the noon train tomorrow he will be met at the depot by Mr. R. Harstone, representing the Local Council of Women, whose guest Mr. Taft really is, as he lectures under the auspices of that organization in the evening. Mr. R. R. Hall will also welcome the distinguished American on his arrival. Mr. Taft will go to the Empress, where he will lunch informally with a few friends.

During the afternoon the visitor will be entertained by American residents in the city, who will show him all the local points of interest, including the industries that are maintained by American enterprise and capital.

At 5 p.m. Mr. Taft will be taken to the Court House, where he will be received and presented with an address by the members of the local Bar Association as a compliment to the high place he has attained in the legal profession.

Mayor Duncan will preside at a dinner to be tendered Mr. Taft in the evening and at which covers will be laid for fifty invited guests who will represent the City Council, the Board of Education and other public bodies and societies.

After the dinner Mr. Taft will go to the Grand Opera House, where he will lecture in the second entertainment in the Chautauqua Lyceum course. Holders of tickets should retain their seats at once as the Opera House is sure to be crowded to capacity. No one should lose this opportunity to hear one of the most distinguished Americans of the day, the man who attained the highest position in his native land and whose patriotism is no more remarkable than is his friendship for the British Empire and the cause of the Allies.

A Writer of Note Coming to City

Mr. C. C. Trumbull, editor of the Sunday School Times, a paper with a weekly circulation of 115,000, and the writer of a number of books, will pay a flying visit to our city on Friday of this week. He will speak in the afternoon at three o'clock and in the evening at eight o'clock in St. Paul's Church, taking as his subject at both meetings, "The Victorious Life." Mr. Trumbull is a Presbyterian, but as people of all denominations take his paper, he may be said to belong to all the churches. The public generally are not only invited to these meetings, but are reminded that a rare privilege is their's in the opportunity which is given them of hearing this great Christian leader.

Burlington's new nominations for the council will be held Monday.

There is now an ample supply of sugar available in Canada and a considerable quantity for export.

Lloyd George Is Censured by Labor

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 22.—A meeting representing two hundred thousand railway workers last night severely criticized Lloyd George's government for its apathy towards their demand for larger pay and shorter hours.

PECULIAR WORK AT ELECTION

BRANTFORD'S MAYOR AND OTHER OFFICIALS MAY BE UNSEATED.

Brantford, Jan. 21.—Steps have been taken for the invalidation of the municipal election held here on January 6. The action is directed solely against Mayor McBride, and is launched by F. P. Walsh, who charged the Mayor before the City Council shortly before the election with graft, the charge being in connection with the city's handling of coal, F. P. Walsh being a coal dealer here. The Council instructed the City Solicitor to proceed against Walsh, but he ruled that as the council had not been attacked, the city could not enter suit. It is feared that if the Mayor's election be upset on the technicality that the polling booths were kept open later than the law provides for, in that the bylaw was not passed in time, the whole election would be upset, including two public works bylaws which were passed.

IN AGREEMENT ON RUSSIA'S STATUS

ORDER MUST BE RESTORED THERE BEFORE PEACE LEAGUE IS FORMED.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 22.—With the hope of definitely deciding on some policy for the settlement of the Russian question, the Supreme Council of the Allies met early this morning and got right down to business. Some announcement is expected this afternoon.

President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George are in complete agreement as regards the Russian situation, according to the Paris edition of the London Daily Mail. They regard the settlement of the Russian situation as an absolute necessity preliminary to the formation of a league of nations, the newspaper declares, and they are anxious to secure evidence of accredited Bolshevik representatives as to the status of Russian affairs.

The French opinion is not at present in favor of even this admission of the Bolshevik regime.

MANY REFORMS ARE OUTLINED

BAPTISTS ASK THAT ALL RACE-TRACK GAMBLING BE PROHIBITED.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—In a resolution presented by Rev. John MacNeill and Mr. S. J. Moore, the foundations on which Forward Movement of the Ontario and Quebec Baptist convention will be built was given definite announcement. The resolution calls for regular home worship, personal evangelization, making the most of the Sunday School, looking for 30 recruits for the ministry and 200 new students for the Baptist College this year, and the active effort and sympathy of the churches.

The matter came up for discussion at yesterday's sessions.

The resolution presented asked for the permanent forbidding of racetrack gambling, or permanent prohibition, for regulation of immigration and for mothers' allowances.

Rev. John Pollock said that many of the country churches were slowly dying of stagnation, and that they needed the serious attention of the Baptist Church.

WERE WELL RECEIVED.

Mayor Duncan and City Clerk Armstrong at Ottawa.

Mayor Duncan and City Clerk Armstrong were in Ottawa yesterday and had interviews with Hon. Dr. Reid, Minister of Railways and Canals, and Chief Engineer Bodin, in regard to the probability of the Government assuming a portion of the expense connected with the construction of the new Hunter street bridge. They were well received and the outlook is encouraging.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1919

ANOTHER BANK MERGER.

THE BANKS of Ottawa and Nova Scotia, two of the oldest and most flourishing institutions of the kind in Canada, are to be amalgamated, if present plans are consummated. All that is required is the consent of the shareholders and the sanction of the Finance Minister, both of which will not be lacking if judgment is to be formed by past events.

It is the fashion among those on the outside to object to such fusions of interests. The only reason that can be given is the fear that eventually there will be so few banks that the formation of a money trust will be possible.

What justification is there for such fear? If two banks in a city are in competition, why, in the interest of economy, should not the two be merged into one and the operating expenses reduced to that extent? There will always be left a sufficient number of such institutions to guarantee the life in business that rivalry is supposed to engender?

The entire tendency of the age is in the direction of centralization. The blacksmith shop has disappeared from the country crossroads, the shoemaker is becoming the memory of a day that is gone, and in all lines the smaller manufacturer and dealer is being swallowed up by larger concerns engaged in the same business.

There was a time when the transportation business was in the hands of a large number of railway corporations. These merged and absorbed each other until only three were left, and even then the claim was made that there were too many for the amount of business in sight. One corporation was forced into bankruptcy and another pressed up close to the verge of ruin. The State took over the former, and from present appearances it is likely that the same course must in the public interest be adopted with regard to the other. One corporation, under proper control, would be better than three that are forced to apply periodically for permission to raise their rates to save themselves from financial disaster.

The banks, by merging, are simply following out the procedure that is becoming so common in the world. On the ground of economy alone such a course is justified, just as it is in the amalgamation of two parallel lines of railroad. If the Government can prevent a score of banks from forming a combine in restraint of trade, the same can be accomplished if there are only half a dozen with which to deal.

THE VOICE IN THE WILDERNESS.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER calls upon all his followers who identified themselves with the Union Government to return to him and all will be forgiven. In this it would appear that Sir Wilfrid fails to understand the true condition of affairs. To a disinterested and unprejudiced observer who views the prospect from a tree, it looks as if it is Sir Wilfrid who has strayed away into the wilderness and not those who formerly followed his lead. It is Sir Wilfrid who is the lost sheep of the house of Liberalism, not the Unionists who formerly wore his trade mark. But Sir Wilfrid contumaciously insists that it is the party of the second part that is off the trail.

HUNTING FOR HERESY.

TRIALS OF MINISTERS on heresy charges are not so frequent as they were a quarter of a century ago, but they still occasionally occur. Here and there there are to be encountered men who have been read out of one denomination for failure to subscribe to all the articles of faith, only to be received with open arms by another. Usually the man convicted on such a charge profits materially by the experience through the advertising he receives. Only a week or two ago a Petrolia pastor was found guilty of heresy by a court, the members of which were his own peers. A few days after the verdict was published that pastor received a call to a larger church in a city not far from the scene where, in the judgment of his fellow clergymen, he had fallen from grace.

The foundation of the Christian faith as laid by a blameless life and illustrious sacrifice two thousand years ago still remains immutable and immovable. The Central Figure that from the Cross on Calvary prayed for those who put Him to a cruel death, is still recognized as the head of the Church by all Christian denominations. He brought a new faith to the world, abolishing old creeds and retaining doctrines that had been cherished for centuries, and His reward was death.

The various denominations may agree on the fundamentals, but in the interpretation of the Scriptures they differ. Schools and colleges are maintained by each to teach their several beliefs and impress upon the students what each sect regards as the proper meaning of the Bible. Is there to be no advancement made in the study of the Christian faith? Let every man recall the difference in the preaching of the day with that of thirty or forty years ago with regard to future punishment, for example. Men who renounced that doctrine were convicted of heresy and cast out of the Church, and yet the subject is seldom alluded to by a modern preacher. In fact, the doctrine has time and again been openly renounced in church courts and by pastors in some of the leading churches of the various denominations.

If the process of the sun widens the mind of man in material things, why should the same mental growth be regarded as an offence in the spiritual world? "The-increasing purpose" to which Tennyson alludes will not be restrained by anything the reactionaries may devise.

WHY THIS DISCORD?

AND NOW IT SEEMS that the next class to combine in a Federation of Labor—or which for the lack of a better term may be so described—is the teachers of Ontario, as stated in an article which appeared in The Review yesterday. And why not a protective union of teachers, if ministers, lawyers and doctors have combines to maintain their own interests?

This subject has been broached time after time at the sessions of the Ontario Educational Association, but this year definite action is likely to be taken. Teachers already have their local association, but what is required to attain the end in view is co-operation among these various organizations. If the teachers in Toronto go on strike, there is nothing at present in the ethics of the profession to prevent teachers from other places taking the positions of those who have quit.

Why, anywhere, should there be this misunderstanding between Capital and Labor? It exists just as surely as does the ill-feeling between the two races in Canada, for which—to be perfectly fair—it would be a difficult matter to fix the responsibility. There is certainly a misunderstanding somewhere, and it is just as certain that there is fault on both sides. There will be, too, while the political agitator is allowed at large.

Labor rails at the manufacturers' self-protection organization, and the manufacturer returns this sentiment with interest with regard to the workingman's labor union. The principle of give and take, of live and let live, is all that is required to bring the two classes together in something like harmony. The interests of both are closely interwoven, and this makes the present ill-feeling all the more difficult to either understand or justify.

There is not a doubt that the associations among the capitalists of the country tend to improve business conditions in the country, and this result could not be attained without promoting the manufacturer's personal interest. It is clear, too, by years of demonstration, that the labor unions have developed a better class of workmen and have elevated the dignity of Labor. The member of a Labor union cannot better his own condition without benefiting humanity in general, any more than the capitalist can accumulate gain without a general distribution of wealth among the masses.

The Labor unionist does not work for himself alone if he is true to the principles of unionism. The benefits which he works and pays for are open to those who make no sacrifice to secure them. The men who bind themselves together in a Labor organization are not so many enemies of the State as some suppose, any more than is the manufacturer who secures working conditions for his industry that permit him to employ Labor more fully and constantly than he would be able to do lacking organized action.

Four Labor men have been elected to the City Council. They have asserted time and again that they will work for the general welfare and not for that of the particular class that elected them. There seems to be a sentiment to the contrary prevailing among the people. All of which is due to misunderstanding. There are few men in the city—and let it be devoutly hoped that at least there are none in the Council—so narrow as to believe that the intersts of any one class are paramount. The new aldermen are at least entitled to a suspension of the popular judgment until they have demonstrated that they will live up to their election pledges, as all their supporters are convinced they will.

Henry Ford Gives Weekly To People

One of the most interesting sidelights of the character of Henry Ford—and there is no captain of industry in America who has piqued the public curiosity more—is afforded by the reasons and motives that induced him to venture into the field of the cinema. As a matter of fact, he is now one of the largest producers of film in the world. The Ford Educational Weekly, which will in future be released thru the Goldwyn Corporation, uses between 400,000 and 500,000 feet of film every week. It is turned out at a cost of $750,000 every year. Furthermore, not a cent of that every comes back either into Henry Ford's pocket or the exchequer of the Ford Motor Company.

The Ford Educational Weekly is in every respect unique, and reflects the unique personality of this extraordinary man. For not only does he make no money out of the venture, but he gets no advertising from it—which some people originally suspected to be his real purpose. The only place his name appears on the weekly is in the announcement, "Produced by the Ford Motor Company, Detroit," and that amount of advertising is obviously not worth $750,000 a year. Incidentally the development of this feature has necessitated the building and equipment at Detroit of a laboratory and plant more elaborate and larger than most of those belonging to the big producing companies.

Mr. Ford—whose worst enemies, even, admit that he is an idealist—explained his motives in the presentatives of the Glodwyn Company when the contract was signed in Detroit last week.

Several years ago he realized the tremendous advantages of the screen for publicity and for public education in the most interesting and vivid way. So he determined to build his weekly, a weekly that would have a genuine unselfish purpose, that would enable the man in the smallest town in Washington to know as much of what is going on in Arizona city and in daily man in the largest city and in daily contact wth natonal affairs. He determined to show the public and actual picture of important historical occurrences.

The Ford Educational Weekly is a scenic, travelogue, a historical record, a portrayer of industry in all its most interesting and human phases. It is Mr. Ford's especial desire to make it stimulate patriotism and good citizenship. It is not to be used for propaganda. One of its chief purposes is to record and encourage the after-war reconstruction of Europe and also of industrial conditions in America.

Lest any idea prevail that propaganda is any part of the function of the weekly, it is interesting to note that by the contract between the Goldwyn people and Mr. Ford's representatives the subjects to be filmed are to be selected by collaboration between the two firms.

TODAY'S STORY

Polester Goots, with his legs crossed at a gentle angle, sat smoking a mild cigar and reading the Easeful News. Suddenly a terrific explosion shook, rocked and waved the house to and fro, shattering window panes, bruskly breaking brittle bric-a-brac, and sending the ivory flying from the piano keys.

"I knew that boiler would explode some day if it wasn't careful," said Polestar Goots placidly.

And he good naturedly dusted a little plaster off his bald spot and went on reading Smiley B. Gentle's daily article, which that evening was entitled "The Ruffled Mind Is Its Own Accuser."

Shortly after that, taking out his $300 Swedish movement watch to see if it was much later, he dropped it and the delicate mechanism broke into a hundred worthless bits.

"Made rather a nice tinkle," thought Goots, with a whimsical smile. And he went on reading, and shortly after that the room caught fire.

"It was getting uncomfortably close in here, anyway," thought Goots amiably, and moved into the next room to go on reading. His wife was in there.

"It's stopped raining hasn't it?" he remarked.

"No, I don't believe it has," she replied.

"You don't! Oh, you don't!" he cried in a towering rage. "Your life seems to be made up of one continual argument!" And he stormed up and down the room for half an hour, his voice quivid with passion, and it was the longest while before he again became sufficiently collected to go on reading.

ASKING FOR INCREASES

New Proposals Being Considered by Veterans.

Resolutions passed by the Ottawa G.W.V.A., requesting the Government to increase the attendance allowance for paralyzed soldiers from $300 to $450; increase the total disability pensions for married men to $1,500 a year; and increase the widow's pension to a minimum of $1,400, not inclusive of extra allowances, all these are now being considered by the Pensions Committee of the Central G.W.V.A.

The Government has also been petitioned to place those who enlisted under and over the military ages on equal bases with those who were assumedly of military age, in so far as pensions, marriage and other allowances are concerned. The view is taken that boys who enlisted virtually sacrificed their best years in the service, whereas in the case of those over the military age it is pointed out that they had sacrificed long established business and home ties.

Calls for Work Now Rushing In

Calls for employment are beginning to rush in to the Ontario employment bureau in Toronto. During last week out of 47 stenographers who registered for positions only eight received work, and 16 office clerks out of 32 who applied were placed. During the week employers' orders were 45, re-registrations 178, applications for work 101, help wanted 109, referred to positions 89, and positions secured 54.

Domestics in one or two cases who have been placed from this office have received from $35 to $40 a month. The report for the week showed 362 help wanted and 294 positions secured.

The case of the shell-shocked soldier is proving the most difficult with which the department has to deal. Now that their pensions are cut off they are out looking for work, but employers do not want men thus afflicted. On the other hand, the men want employment to keep their minds from themselves and to support their families.

SENATE VOTES ARMY BONUS

Sends Bill Providing for Discharged Men to Conference.

Washington, Jan. 22.—With amendments authorizing the payment of 30 days' pay and 5 cents a mile traveling expenses home to discharged officers and enlisted men, the senate passed and sent to conference the house bill to permit soldiers to retain their uniforms. A provision for bonuses of thirty days' pay is attached to the war revenue bill now in conference.

FOOD TO END WAR, SAYS LEWIS

Tells Senate Failure to Provide Fund Will Renew European War.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Failure to pass the measure providing $100,000,000 for the purchase of food for European nations would result in the "lighting of the flames of a new European war that will keep our boys on the battle fronts for another year," Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois warned the senate in a speech advocating the passage of the legislation. Refusal to feed the small nations of Europe would lead to a condition of anarchy and the first assault would be on our soldiers and a renewal of the war in the Austrian and Russian border countries, he said.

LESSONS IN RIGHT LIVING

Influenza intelligently treated is not a serious disease. It terminates in recovery after about three days of fever, as a rule.

What do I mean by intelligent treatment?

I mean, first, rest in bed. Right here is where the patient or victim of the disease often makes his first mistake. He remains up and about trying to "fight it off." And maybe Mrs. Gamp encourages him by telling yarns about similar cases with sad endings in bed. Women, as a rule, display more sense than men about going to bed with such an illness, although women can and do generally endure much more suffering than men do without complaint. At rest in bed the patient is conserving energy to fight the infection; he is not exhausting organs which have overtime work to do destroying and eliminating the poisons of the disease.

Second, fresh air throughout the illness. That means, of course, cool or cold air if it is available, and never warmed up air. Some antiquated health official jumped into print early in the recent epidemic with a warning against fresh air for influenza patients, which pleased Mrs. Gamp mightily. Influenza patients treated in tents do better than these treated in enclosed sun parlors or in rooms with open windows.

Perhaps the most foolish and risky procedure for one coming down with such an illness is experimentation with alleged "grip" or "cold" cures. The pain killer in such medicines—acetanilide or similar coal tar derivative—destroys red blood corpuscles in vast numbers, interferes with the oxygen carrying function of the blood, seriously weakens the heart and impairs the germicidal or germ fighting activity of the white blood cells. That is a pretty stiff price to pay for momentary relief of aches and pains. There is no doubt that a good deal of the pneumonia developing as a complication of influenza is merely one of the untoward effects of indiscriminate self-drugging in the earlier stage of the disease.

One who imagines any known drug can "break up" or cut short such an infection as influenza, or, indeed, any respiratory infection, has much more faith in drugs than I have, and I have considerable faith in drugs when one near and dear to me is ill. More efficient and far safer for alleviating the early symptoms of so-called "grip" or "cold" is a hot mustard foot bath administered to the patient in bed.

FASHIONS IN WASHINGTON

WOMEN MAY BE EXTRAVAGANT IN DRESS, BUT ARE STILL ECONOMICAL IN USE OF FOOD.

(By Margaret Wade)

Washington, D.C., Jan. 22.—The national capital on a peace basis shows itself gay to the point of extravagance as regards food.

Dinner parties are again numerous with companies distinguished as of yore, and each new candidate for social honors has had her time honored tea as a debut. Dinners and teas have, however, been marked by a less elaborate display of flowers, food and favors than was the rule "before the war."

Few present day Washingtonians are natives of the District of Columbia even in the debunante ranks, hence the great charm of Washington for all who approach it in a kindly spirit, with society in its best sense constantly recruited from the thirty-two points of the compass to merge this first victory winter into the gayest season of a dozen years.

Even with a closed white house and little activity in the cabinet circle there is a strong official note in the succession of dinners, dances and days at home which were promptly restored to the social calendar with the signing of the armistice.

The vice-president and Mrs. Marshall are being continuously entertained while the first afternoon reception by Mrs. Marshall last Wednesday brought to that popular hostess one of the largest and smartest companies of the winter, with a display of modish gowns and millinery worthy of a white house party of the Taft administration, when the art of dress reached its highest degree so far as Washington is concerned.

At the most fashionable of the several charity balls of the season that in aid of the Children's hospital, when the vice-president and wife occupied the president's box—Mrs. Marshall wore a splendid new gown of sulphur colored satin brocaded in silver, with draped skirt, long waisted, rather straight lined bodice draped in silver lace and the new flowing sleeve, also of silver lace.

Mrs. Marshall's most modish visiting toilet—and, unlike many of her predecessors, the vice-president's wife visits almost like any other official hostess—is a dark blue satin and beige colored crepe, embroidered in blue, made in the long, slim silhouette of the hour.

With this she wears a becoming round hat, with drooping brim and the crown encircled in blue and gray ostrich.

In addition to calls acknowledging dinner obligations Mrs. Marshall has complimented several of the season's bus by attending their debut tea. She was also one of the earliest arrivals at the brilliant reception given last week by Mrs. Philander C. Knox and Mrs. Hiram W. Johnson at the home ten or fifteen miles out in Maryland, where the California senator has purchased and splendidly restored the old Calvert mansion, was the reason for the joint reception, as even with a motor fifteen miles is a long way to go for an afternoon call. No cards were issued for this day, but had engraved invitations been sent out by the best of the social secretaries the company could not have been more representative of official Washington in its happiest sense.

Mrs. Marshall came with Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh of Colorado and Mrs. Charles McChord of Kentucky, each in a smart visiting toilet on becoming lines, Mrs. Walsh's being a dull green silk with self-colored embroidered tunic, Mrs. McChord's a satin and voile combination in dark blue.

Mrs. Edward Douglas White, wife of the chief justice of the United States, was there with her husband Mrs. White wearing a cloth suit of London smoke with round hat covered in ostrich of the same tone.

Mme. Riano, the young American wife of the Spanish ambassador, wore a black velvet one piece gown with macha colored hat of quaint shape, a variation of the continental with clipped ostrich of the same tone, describing new and becoming angles in a most fascinating way.

Mrs. John W. Weeks of Massachusetts, Mrs. Atlee Pomemene of Ohio, and Mrs Miles Poindexter of far away Washington and Mrs. Ashurst of Arizona were other senatorial matrons present in smart attire Mrs John Hays Hammond, who was accompanied by Mr. Hammond, wore a smart grey gown of satin with moleskin trimming and gray hat with blue feathers.

The two hostesses, who welcomed their guests in the famous library, which is the largest room in the Knox house, were a pleasing contrast in dark and light demitoilets.

Mrs. Knox, always one of the best gowned women in Washington, wore a black velvet with smartly draped skirt and a decided waistline, under a soft girdle of velvet and delicate gold embroidery. The top of the gown was almost entirely of black tulle, well draped, with half sleeves of the tulle, also in some graceful drapery.

Mrs. Johnson who is one of the youngest of the senatorial matrons, wore a chemise gown of pale blue velvet in plain and brocaded pattern, with the neck cut in modish round shape in front, with long, close sleeves.

Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins who did the honors of the tea table in the dining room, wore one of the smartest of visiting gowns in a blue satin that is neither dark nor light, with its high bodice and the greater part of the undraped tunic covered in steel embroidery exactly matching the satin in color. With this Mrs. Elkins wore a round hat, rather high in the crown, covered in small but very rich ostrich plumes, also of the steel blue.

New York, Jan. 22.—It was reported here that Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, and Benny Leonard, world's lightweight champion, have been matched for a twenty-round bout in Denver on Washington's Birthday.

The bout, it is said, will be held in the Stock Yards Auditorium. It will be Leonard's first appearance over the Marathon route.

ATTEMPT TO INDUCE THE VETERANS TO GO ON LAND

Plan in Scotland Gives Each Man Ten Acres That Can Be Used for the Production of Fruit.

An effort to attract soldiers to the land has been set in operation in East Lothian near the Village of Longniddry. That location was chosen because it has a railway with connection with a nearby town, and also for a summer resort and the county seat. It is on the main line from Edinburgh to London. The surrounding country is among the best agricultural districts in Scotland. It is also half a mile from the southern side of the Firth of Forth. Midway between the old village and the railway station the experimental settlement has been started. The main street branches off from the main road, forms a crescent and again returns to the road. This is the recreation ground. On the opposite side of the road is the bowling green.

The houses face on the crescent and each has a southern exposure, thus ensuring sunshine for the front rooms. There are three kinds of houses all built in the same general style and differing in size. The smallest has kitchen, scullery, bathroom and living-room all embodying the latest ideas as to convenience and sanitation. Hot and cold water are laid for. This style of house is intended for a childless couple. The next style has an additional living-room upstairs and the third style has three living rooms, two of which are upstairs, and all the rooms are considerably larger than in the other two styles.

Gardens Attached

Attached to each house is a front and back garden. In each garden there have been planted one apple tree, six gooseberry bushes, six red and six black currant bushes, and several rose bushes. The original scheme provides for sixty houses. So far twenty have been erected, and are on what has been called Kitchener crescent. The Scottish Veterans' Garden City Association before launching this experiment visited a number of garden cities and how well they have planned this one is shown by the report of the Edinburgh Trades Council, which after an official visit pronounced the settlement far in advance of others of years' standing. The cost of erecting each house was £600, and the rent is one shilling, six pence, two shillings, two shillings, six pence per week, according to the size of the house.

Plainly this movement is philanthropic. Many of the houses are memorials and even parts of houses are of that character. Gayfield Cottage bears a tablet on the staircase to the effect that the cottage was erected by the staff and pupils of London Street Public School in Edinburgh "as a tribute to Scottish heroes who fell in the Great War." "Craigbinning Cottage" has a plaque on the wall with the following inscription: "In memory of Eric James Thomason, Lieutenant 7th Royal Scots, killed in action on Gallipoli on June 28, 1915." One cottage is erected to the memory of the "Yarrior," (and so named,) "commanded by Capt. V. B. Molteno, R. N., in the battle of Jutland, May 31, 1916." "Mohawk Valley Cottage," is erected by the members of the Mohawk Valley Garden City Association, Schenectady and Amsterdam, New York. It is a memorial to Kitchener, and its memorial stone was laid by his sister, Mrs. Parker. Two other cottages, "Shoreby" and "Colorado Springs Cottage" have both been built by contributions from the United States.

At about fifteen minutes' walk from the settlement is an allotment of ten acres to become, in time, chiefly a fruit farm. Already the jam factory is being remodelled. Piggeries, hen runs, bee hives are being prepared. Each man in the settlement will have his allotment here, and his training. The chances for happiness to both children and adults are immense, and the experiment will be watched with interest.

COLORS RESTORED.

When Canadian troops went to England in 1914 and later, some of them deposited their colors in Westminster Abbey. Now that the war has ended, the colors are being restored to the regiments in order that they may be brought to Canada. This is a photograph of a Canadian unit recovering its colors a few weeks ago.

SIR WILFRED

benefited directly or indirectly by it.

The War Times Election Act was the first step in the suspension of popular government in Canada and a resolution was passed demanding the immediate repeal of this Act.

A resolution denouncing the course now pursued by the Dominion Government was passed and a call was sounded to all Liberals everywhere to join in bringing to an end the present oppressive conditions and restoring the right of free speech and institutions.

Public Debt.

Owing to the fact that according to an announcement by the Government, Canada's public debt will be $2,000,000,000 at the end of the war, the Liberals of Central Ontario went on record as believing that to meet this enormous indebtedness and outlay and pay for our necessary imports, we must increase our exports to the fullest extent. Income and capital must hereafter bear a larger share.

It was resolved by the organization that where all the nations of the world are called into conference, Canada must be represented. That in the making of treaties Canada should have the right to negotiate with any other country directly. Our courts should have power to finally dispose of all matters brought before them for adjudication, and no courts other than our own should have jurisdiction here. The association also declared itself in favor of adequate pensions for disabled soldiers, their wives and dependents, and that the system of granting honorary military titles to civilians should be at once abolished and all such titles already granted cancelled and annulled.

Resolutions recommending the holding of conferences between employers and employed in order that there may be an exchange of views and a statement of difficulties were also passed.

Yes, Madam, your favorite sugar,. as much as you want.

One of the most satisfactory material pleasures of Peace is that we may again have plenty of Under war conditions we were unable to supply anywhere near the demand for Canada's favorite sugar. Few ships were available for bringing raw sugar from the tropics and a large part of the product of our refinery was needed for our soldiers overseas.

Happily, Peace has changed the whole sugar situation. Unless unforseen circumstances should arise the Lantic Red Ball will again brighten the shelves of stores throughout the country and housewives may have as much as they need of the famous Lantic "FINE" granulated, the perfect sugar for baking and the table; also there will be plenty of the Lantic delicious Old-fashioned Brown Sugars for the many dishes in which flavor is indispensable to success.

Lantic Sugar "The Seal of Purity"

YOU may again buy Lantic Sugar in the larger original packages, the 10, 20 and 100-lb. sacks, as well as in the 2 and 5-lb. cartons. The accurate weight and perfect protection of the contents of Lantic packages make them the most economical way of buying sugar.

Ask your grocer for Lantic Sugar, the sugar with the Red Ball on every Carton or Bag.

LABOR SHORTAGE AND HIGH WAGES FOR YEAR 1919

RAILROAD MEN IN UNITED STATES WARNED NOT TO CUT COMPENSATION.

A continued labor shortage, with resultant high wages, for at least the period of 1919, was forecast at a conference between some seventy-five men representing the various railroads centering in Chicago and government and state employment bureau officials in that city.

Charles J. Boyd, general superintendent of the Illinois free employment office, warned the railroad men that they were going to find it difficult to get workers in competition with other industrial demands, and advsed them that it would be very unwise to advocate a reduction of wages.

He pointed out that in 1918 the immigration of laborers amounted to only 110,000, as against an influx of 2,041,000 in 1910; that the United States had lost 250,000 men in the war, and that 75,000 more were in need of rehabilitation before they can return to work. Adding to this the 2,000,000 actually in the federal service with little prospects of complete demobilization for a year, he declared that the reasons for a continued shortage were obvious.

Expected Relief Not Seen.

Sanford H. E. Freund, director of the clearance division of the United States employment service at Washington, also declared that the relief expected to follow the armistice had not materialized. He told of how 35,000 men released from the powder works at Nashville, Tenn., and another 18,000 released from the works at Nitre, W. Va., had already been absorbed in shipbuilding work.

"We had before the armistice," he said, "the hard problem of finding men for jobs. For a short time afterward the situation was reversed and we had a hard time finding jobs for the men. But the demand for men in the industries that have renewed their activities since the armistice has about absorbed the surplus from the closed munitions factories.

"Until the last two weeks there has been a great shortage of common labor. Since then the deman dhas eased up somewhat, but this can be only temporary. With the seven months of the yeaf for open work ahead, the demand is bound to be more acute."

Pleads for Co.-Operation.

Freund urged upon the railroad men the necessity of co-operation with the 70 branches of the government agency. He told them that competition between the federal bureau and the railroads would be harmful to both and would increase the labor turnover, by which he meant the number of time men are changed in jobs.

W. G. Beird, federal manager of the Chicago & Alton railroad, admitted that the labor situation is a grave one. The roads are uncertain as to what they are going to be able to do in the coming year, he said. He also declared that, while skilled labor is fairly plentiful, unskiled is comparatively scarce.

"The worst part of it is," he continued, "that the available labor is more inefficient than it was formerly. One of our gravest problems is how to restore it to its former efficiency. With most roads facing a general cut in their budgets and with the continued drift toward a strict 8 hour day, it is something for which I must confess that I have not, as yet, been able to think out a solution."

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results both in regard to health and appearance.

WHEN SOLDIERS ARE DISCHARGED

THOSE WHO ARE ILL WILL RECEIVE TREATMENT FREE OF CHARGE.

Following up the discharged soldier is the duty, and the privilege of the Government.

Every man does not receive a certificate of perfect health with his discharge papers. Many are liable at any time to have a recurrence of the illness or wounds which put him out of action. The Government has foreseen these possibilities and has provided against any danger of these men, who have served their country well, being taken with illness, thus disabled to keep up with their brothers in the race for livelihood.

All that is required when an ex-soldier or sailor is ill from the effects of his war experiences is to inform the medical officer of the department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, and he will receive treatment free of charge. If his financial position is such that he cannot provide for his family during his illness, the Government will grant such allowances as will enable his family to live.

If there is no officer in the immediate vicinity, and the case is urgent, any physician may be called, and as soon as possible afterwards the department must be notified. Then the case will be looked into, and bills paid. Of course, the department should be notified early as it would be impossible to pay all bills contracted without its knowledge.

Special cars of patients has been provided for in all large hospitals. Sanatoria for the care of the tubercular soldier have also been established. This is humane and good business.

WIRZ WAS HANGED; WHY NOT KAISER?

PRECEDENT FOUND IN AMERICA FOR CHARGE AGAINST EX-EMPEROR.

Paris, France, Jan. 22.—Leon Bourgeois, former premier and French authority on the league of nations, in a statement to the Matin, cites a precedent for the punishment of Germans of all degrees convicted of violation of the laws of war—the case of Henry Wirz, who was tried by court-martial and executed by northern prisoners in the camp he commanded at Andersonville, Ga.

Wirz Was Hanged for Murder.

The charge brought against Major Wirz by the court-martial, which listened to stories of cruelty and deprivation recounted by thousands of union men, was that of "maliciously, willfully and taitorously conspiring to injure the heath and destroy the lives of union soldiers at Andersonville" and of "murder, in violation of the laws of war." He was hanged on Nov. 10, 1865. Maj. Wirz, a Swiss by birth, was subordinate to Gen. W. S. Windner, whom some prisoners thinks was chiefly responsible for the many atrocities recorded.

Andersonville prison, established in November, 1863, at the town of that name in Georgia and continued until the end of the war, was noted for the severity of the treatment accorded union prisoners. Of 49,485 men confined there 12,800 or 26 per cent. died of starvation, cruel treatment and insanitary surroundings.

FIRST TO CROSS RHINE

Capt. E. D. Otter Holds Honor for Canada.

Among the officers who arrived in Toronto yesterday, having returned to Canada on board the S.S. "Oympic," was Captain J. M. Booth, of the Y.M.C.A., who tells an interesting story regarding the first Canadian to cross the Rhine, Capt. E. D. Otter, of the Y. M. C. A., he claims, enjoyed this unique distinction. When his transport arrangements broke down, the captain commandeered a motor lorry, loaded it with canteen supplies, and, hurrying on ahead of the advancing column, reached the bridge one hour and a half ahead of the troops. Here he paused long enough to satisfy an enterprising photographer, then pushed on across the Rhine, and into the town where the troops were to halt. An animated interview with the German Burgomaster followed, with the result that when the soldiers arrived Capt. Otter had his canteen established in a hotel ready for "business as usual."

FOOD PRICES GOING HIGHER

Quartermaster Corps' Officers Asks More Money to Feed Soldiers.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Higher food prices next year anticipated by army officials, who in asking congress for appropriations for food purchases disclosed today that they had allowed for a 10 per cent. increase in the year beginning next July.

An army ration—food for one man for one day—now costs the government 58 cents. Col. Adams said appropriations had been asked on a basis of 53 cents.

PACKERS SAY THEY WILL NOT CLOSE THEIR PLANTS

But Large Number of Men Are Likely to be Laid Off—Business Conditions Sure to Improve in the Near Future.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—Toronto packers says plants will not shut down.

Many of the 5,000 people employed in Toronto packing houses may be laid off temporarily, however.

Packers hope for Britain to sell surplus stock to Europe and then begin bufing from Canada again.

South America became a real competitor in meat trade with Canada.

"Toronto packing houses will not close Saturday night, nor next week, nor the week after that—in fact they are not figuring on shutting down their plants at all," was the definite statement that a prominent Toronto packer made in reference to the story from Ottawa that such a move was probable.

"We have our domestic trade to carry on and we will keep our plants going," he said. "Of course the situation is acute and serious, but we have hopes that in a week or two it will be adjusted, and we will then go back to our normal condition."

In the meantime the British export trade is cut off and this may mean that a considerable number of the people who work in the five Big Toronto packing houses may be laid off for the time being.

5,000 Employed Now.

"I should say that there are 5,000 people now employed in the packing-packing industry in Toronto," estimated the manager of one of the five firms.

"It is inevitable that in a period of readjustment such as must follow a war there must be some dislocation of business, but it is only a matter of a few months at most. The farmers should feel assured to an ultimate market for their live stock, and all the packers desire is that they hold their stock over until the present difficulty is adjusted."

The adjustment that is hoped for, said one packer, is that the British Government, which controls the meat buying in Britain, may be persuaded by the Canadian overnment to resume the buying of Canadian bacon and to try to dispose of the surplus stock now in Britain to the markets of the continent.

FOR SOLDIERS' TRAINS.

Conference Being Held to Improve Accommodation.

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—The Militia and Immigration Department of the Repatriation Committee will meet today in Montreal with the members of the Railway Board to confer and complete arrangements under the new system with regard to the accommodation service and charges for meals on board the trains for the soldiers and their dependents returning to Canada. It is anticipated that the conference will result in more comfort and an assurance of better accommodation for all concerned.

WHAT ABOUT HELIGOLAND.

This map, reproduced from the London Daily Mail, shows the need for the restoration of Heligoland to Britain. It is pointed out that, with the Islands of Sylt and Borgum on either flank, it would serve as an admirable air-raid base for attack on British towns. Were Sylt, Heligoland and Borgum occupied for a term of years by the Allies (failing the restoration of Heligoland to Britain) the Germans could only attempt a surprise raid by violating the neutrality of Belgium and Holland, and any movement of a large German air force could be observed by the aerial corps in occupation of Heligoland and promptly signalled to London.

DUKE GOING HOME?

Earl of Athlone To Be Governor, Says Rumor.

London, Jan. 22.—A Sunday paper suggests that the Duke of Devonshire is shortly returning to England and will be succeeded by the Earl of Athlone. No confirmation of this claim is obtainable, though it probably springs from the fact that the Duchess of Devonshire is in England.

A RECORD IN CROPPING

Wheat Sown in January for First Time.

PATENT MEDICINE REPORT

Has Been Prepared But Not Yet Made Public.

At the end of last June some seven months ago, the Provincial Health Board discussed whether certain patent medicines, alleged to contain a large percentage of alcohol, and which it was claimed, were not sufficiently medicated to prevent them being used as a beverage, should be allowed on sale in Ontario. The board heard evidence and argument. Later, they held another meeting to make their report to the provincial secretary. The Ontario Licence Board await the report so as to be able to decide what action they should take.

POISONOUS WEED CAUSES ILLNESS

MYSTERIOUS CASES IN WHITBY ARE CLEARED UP BY EXPERT.

Mysterious poisonings of Ontario children in smaller urban and rural districts—notably in the locality of Whitby—have during several weeks past been the cause of local sensation and alarm, the symptoms presented in each case being akin to those of belladonna poisoning, children being in all instances the victims, and the sufferers in all cases happily responding to the measures taken by medical practitioners promptly called in.

The cause of trouble and of danger remainded a mystery until the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gaston, of Centre street, Whitby, was taken ill and Dr. McGaillivray, a local practitioner, diagnosed the case as one of belladonna poisoning. Investigation by this medical man led to the discovery that his youthful patient had been eating the seeds of a plant growing profusely in the family backyard, which seeds, somewhat resembling those of the "Thorn Apple," were handed by the doctor to Principal G. S. Johnson, of the Whitby High School, who, being himself unable to identify them, transmitted them to Mr. W. Hunt, of the O.A.C., by whom in turn they were referred to Professor J. E. Howitt, of the Borarical Faculty of the College.

"Jimson Weed" Blamed.

"The plant is the Jamestown or Jimson weed, sometimes called the 'Thorn Apple,'" writes Professor Howitt to a member of The Daily News staff. "This is an annual plant with a smooth stem and stout branches which are sparingly hairy. The leaves are thin and ovate, toothed or angled. The flowers are white, somewhat trumpet-shaped, about three inches long. The fruit pod is somewhat oval, covered with prickles and filled with black seeds when ripe."

"In Ontario this plant is often found growing in waste places, around railway banks and on rubbish heaps. The fruit is unattractive in appearance and is not likely to be eaten by older children, but they should be warned against it and younger children should certainly be kept away from places where this plant is grown if some means cannot be found to destroy it. It is an annual and if cut so as to prevent seeding will soon disappear.

Professor Howitt's authoritative determination of the cause of poisonings in the Whitby neighborhood which had excited very considerable alarm and induced considerable speculation and groundless talk as to the "murderous activity of enemy propagandists or monomaniacs" will set many minds at ease and relieve innocent residents who are so unfortunate as to be of alien origin of very undesirable suspicion and attention.

HOG TADE IN PERIL?

Ottawa Despatch Causes No Panic on Market.

Live stock and commission men have not become greatly excited over the rumor, given in an Ottawa despatch, to the effect that the bacon and lard trade of Canada is in dire peril. There is nothing in the shape of a panic on the market, and one of the largest dealers said:

"That Ottawa story must be taken with a grain of salt, and you want to know who wrote it. Reports like that do an immense amount of harm, all the same."

The story put the onus on the Government to do something drastic before Saturday night.

VETERANS HAVE NEW PLAN.

In order to spread this idea through the Dominion, the Provincial and Dominion organizations will be similarly approached by the local association to agitate for the innovation.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

SAYS INDIGESTION RESULTS FROM AN EXCESS OF HYDROCHLORIS ACID.

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather, ferments the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that Indigestion is caused by Hyper-acidity, meaning, there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach much like garbage sours in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousand of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

TO INTERN ALIENS

Brantford Council Endorses Police Commission's Views.

Brantford, Jan. 22.—The City Council has endorsed the attitude of the Police Commission which recently passed a resolution calling on the Government to intern all alien enemies, including those recently released from the internment camps, these men to be held in internment camps until arrangments are made for their repatriation. The council's action followed a short debate in which it was emphasized that 600 of these men are today working in local factories in good positions, while returned men were walking the streets looking for work and more men were returning every day.

Want Temperance Taught in Schools

LARGE DEPUTATION WAITS UPON MINISTER OF EDUCATION CODY.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—President W. J. Bowman, with Messrs. Thomas, of Ottawa, and Harris, of Toronto, represented the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in a deputation appearing before Premier Hearst and Attorney-General Lucas to present the views of the association with respect to suggested amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act, the Manufacturers contending in particular that right of appeal should be recognized and provided for from decisions under the Compensation Act. Consideration was promised the representations made.

"That the subject of scientific temperance receive adequate treatment in the schools of the Province, and that suitable text books be provided," was a request presented to the Minister of Education, and elaborated in a conference lasting several hours, by a deputation of twenty members of the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance, and churches and other organizations affiliated therewith.

STRIKE AGAINST TOBACCO TRUST

USERS OF WEED OBJECT TO PRESENT HIGH PRICES.

There is a movement on foot, headed by some of the college fraternal organizations to organize a world-wide strike against the exorbitant prices now charged by the tobacco trusts in Europe and in America for their goods, whether it be cigars, chewing tobacco or cigarettes. While the war tax on tobacco has gone up in all countries, tobacco has been increased in price to the consumer two to three times the amount of the war tax without any justifiable reason therefor. Raw tobacco is cheaper, but labor is higher. An appeal to support the strike, so The Toronto World is informed, is also to be made to all soldiers and sailors who have served in the great war, and also to all secret society organizations; and that while it may be some time yet before the thing will be effective, it will be very sweeping in its results. It will bring the tobacco trusts to their knees in one day.

The International Nickel dividend will probably be reduced owing to the decrease in the company's output.

Hogs are now being bought by the Toronto abattoirs at $15.50, fed and watered, which is $3.50 per cwt. below the figures of ten days ago.

winter the deceased had fallen sick having been severely frost bitten and was in comparatively little use for the rest of the term that their agreement covered. He had been in bed for ten weeks during which time Mrs. McKay waited upon him. It was decided with the consent of the man himself that as he was practically incapable of work for some time to come the McKays would assume payment of his medical bill, board and care for him in return for whatever work he could do. At the begining of the present year Crees was in better condition so they reverted to the $200 contract once more.

Mr. McKay stated that the only peculiar thing he could recollect about the deceased on the day of his death was that he had asked about a simple task he had to perform four times. Mr. McKay then went to meet the afternoon train due about 2.30 and upon his return after searching for some time for the man found him hanging in the barn. They had notified Dr. Harrison at Keene and he had advised them to acquaint the Coroner, Dr. Greer, with the details of the case which he did. They did not cut the man down until after the arrival of the undertakers.

The testimony of Daisy Wright, Mr. McKay's sister-in-law, and of his wife did not vary from that given by himself.

Neighbors Give Evidence

John H. Fyfe a neighbor of Mr. McKay's, whose land adjoins his on the north was next heard. He admitted being on bad terms with Mr. McKay for several years past and Mr. Gorden asked that his son Wilbert Fyfe, who was to be examined next, should be excluded from the room during the time his father was in the box. His request was complied with after which Mr. Fyfe, sr., proceeded to tell the jury what he knew respecting the case.

He admitted that he did not know Crees except to see him in the fields working. One day in June of last year the witness and his son, according to the former's testimony were going along a lane between his own and McKay's property. He noticed Crees and two women in a field nearby, the former driving a waggon and the latter evidently intending to plant potatoes or turnips. Of a sudden Mr. McKay appeared upon the scene cursing the man. He rushed up to him and when Mr. Fyfe who was in company with his son Wilbert came to a point where they could obtain a good view of what was taking place they saw Crees on the ground and his employer kicking him. Mr. Fyfe asserted that he had called out to protect and that McKay had run over to the fence and informed him that it was none of his affair and that kicking him was the only way in which he could get any work done.

Mr. Gordon stated that he would show animus on the part of the witness and requested the privilege of cross examining him, upon the grounds that he had made statements about a most respectable farmer of Otonabee which would go broadcast over the county unless they were contradicted. He promised the court that he would show that there was litigation pending between Fyfe and McKay at the present time and this condition he described as one of the most prolific sources of animus imaginable.

Upon being questioned by Mr. Gordon the witness admitted that as a result of some trouble on Hallowe'en night Mr. McKay had entered action against him for $500 damages which suit was still pending as far as he knew.

A Puzzled Witness

Wilbert Fyfe was next on the stand. His story corresponded with that of his father in the main points but when it came to details Mr. Fyfe jr. seemed to be at sea. He said something about McKay picking up a stone but when asked if it appeared as if the missile was going to be thrown at him or his father he replied in the negative. He described the kicking scene which figured in his parent's story but with so many variations as to draw upon himself the criticism of the Crown Attorney and when examined by Mr. Gordon he seemed to have forgotten everything connected with the story except that his father and McKay were on bad terms and that he saw the latter kick Crees.

Unwilling to Testify

James Rennie of Keene was what Coroner Greer described as an unwilling witness. He had known McKay for ten or twelve years and had worked with him for two months in the spring and a similar period in the fall of last year during part of which time Crees had been confined to bed. At first he stated that he knew absolutely nothing and replied to all the the questions put to him in the negative. Asked if he knew why he had been summoned as a witness he replied without hesitation that he did not.

"Did you say anything to County Constable Moore which would lead him to believe that you saw Crees kicked?" asked Mr. Hatton.

"I may have," was the reply.

"Were you telling the truth?"

"I expect so," said the witness.

He was then reminded that he was upon oath and admitted that he knew of Crees being kicked upon one occasion by his employer.

"Did Crees complain?" asked Dr. Greer.

When the witness stated that he had not the Coroner observed that he must have taken it kindly.

Mr. McKay's daughter was called to the stand at the request of Mr. Gordon and stated that during the time Crees had been with them they had had no trouble with him and he had never been abused in any way.

Cause of the Trouble

Mr. McKay's wife and his sister-in-law when recalled denied the truth of the kicking described by Mr. Fyfe of which they were witnesses according to his testimony.

Mr. McKay also denied Mr. Fyfe's story stating that upon the day when it was stated he had maltreated his man he and his wife and sister-in-law had gone to the field to plant potatoes as described. Crees was driving a load of manure but instead of putting it upon the part of the field designated by his employer he had started to drive the wagon through a crop of barley. Mr. McKay had run to the horses and taken the lines from his man's hands and drove them out of the grain. Crees apologised for his mistakes and Mr. McKay stated that he did not kick him or abuse him in any way. If he had kicked him Mr. Fyfe would not be able to have seen it from the position which he occupied, according to his own story.

Canadians Lead At Trap Shooting

Pinehurst, N. C., Jan. 22.—The first 150 of the 450 targets at 16 yards wer thrown in yesterday's first official session of the mid-winter trapshooting tournament here. F. S. Wright of Buffalo broke all of the first 75 and 74 of the second lot and leads the field of 170 guns at 148. A. H. Aber, of Dravosburg, Pa., and three other guns are tied at 147.

Joe Jennings of Toronto leads the Ontario contingent at 146, and is but two targets behind the leader. Jennings broke 72 in the morning and 74 in the afternoon.

S. G. Vance of Tillsonburg stands six targets from the top at 142. F. E. Healy and C. M. Candee are tied at 141. W. H. Gooderham of Toronto is at 137. The Ontario bunch have unanimously broken more than 90 per cent. of the targets thrown, an unequalled record for any district represented in the tournament.

YOU may never know all the Salvation Army Lassie has done at the front. Aside from your letters and parcels she bestowed the true MOTHER touch to the boys. They will never forget her!

They will never forget her mending their clothes within sound of the guns; handing out hot coffee, pies and sandwiches to the men on the march; getting up concerts and "free-for-all" songs around the piano; comforting the heavy-hearted; and restraining him with a mother's influence when nothing else on earth could give him the necessary spiritual strength.

One thing only will stop the Salvation Army Lassie continuing her wonderful work among the soldiers—Lack of Funds! Supply the money that is absolutely necessary and no Canadian soldier who has done his bit will be without a friend or a home to turn to!

Soldiers Home Coming Campaign
THIS WEEK

So far the Salvation Army has been able to finance its war work without a general appeal for funds. NOW comes the crisis. They are proud of the slogan "First to Serve—Last to Appeal." They appeal NOW only because they cannot continue without your help, and the appeal is made to you, not only in the name of the men who offered their lives for you and who are deserving of every comfort we can provide, but for the welfare of Canada.

The Salvation Army is giving vital help over here to the solution of Canada's problems of Repatriation and Reconstruction.

Does a soldier need a home for a few days? The Hostels are open to him. Does he need a job? The Salvation Army finds him one. Is his family in distress? The Salvation Army Lassie is ready to nurse, comfort, scrub, attend to the children—all with loving care for the sake of the Master! Help and help liberally, so that our homecoming men will feel that you stood behind them to the finish. Be able to meet these men eye to eye, conscious that you have done your duty to the full! NAPOLEON LAJOIE'S GREAT CAREER ON THE DIAMOND

One Time Battling King Has Made His Last Hit in the National Game.

New York, Jan. 21. Napoleon Lajoie, one-time batting king of the major leagues, has made his last hit in professional baseball. Lajoie announced his retirement from the game at his home in Cleveland recently and declared that he had resolved to give all his time to his automobile business.

Lajoie has not yet been released as manager of the Indianapolis club of the American Association, but that action is expected any day. Jack Hendricks, now leader of the St. Louis Nationals, may return to lead the Hoosiers. It will be remembered that Hendricks managed the Indianapolis team in 1917, when Lajoie led the Toronto Internationals by a pennant, the only pennant, by the way, Lajoie ever helped to win in his 23 years' experience in professional baseball.

When Hendricks was signed by th Cardinals and old International disbanded, Lajoie was sought by many league clubs. He was sold to Brooklyn but refused to accept that sale, and in the end the Superbas had to cancel the deal. Lajoie was handed his unconditional release, free to sign with Indianapolis. His managerial regime with the Hoosiers was far from successful.

Some weeks ago he notified the Indianapolis club that he would continue as manager only if he were relieved of the necessity of playing and were permitted to be a bench manager. The club feels that it cannot afford such a luxury which indicates that it is not at all certain that it will accept Hendricks even should the Cardinals hand him back to the Hoosiers.

Lajoie's last year in the majors was 1916, in which he played for the Athletics. The big Frenchman began his major league career with the Phillies in 1896, and in his 21 years of play in the major leagues he compiled a record that stands without parallel. Only five years in the 21 did he fail to hit .300, and once he fell short by only one point. Three of those years came at the end of his career, when his legs had gone back on him. His best average was .405 compiled in 1901, when for one short year he was a member of the old Athletics.

Four times Lajoie led the American league batters and four times he managed to make more than 200 hits. During his 21 years in the majors, Lajoie collected 3,243 base hits for a grand average of .338, and scored for more than 1590 runs. He accepted more than 14000 fielding chances, making only 502 errors, his grand average at first, second and third base, shortstop and the outfield being .966.

Lajoie was a member of the Phillies for five years, but he never led the National League. Just as soon as he joined the American league in 1901, he topped that organizations batting figures. In 1902 Ed. Delehanty ousted him from the top position, but in 1903 Lajoie was back at the top with an average of .355, in 1905 he led the league again with .381, only to be displaced the next season by Stone, that rather remarkable member of the St. Louis club. After that the reign of Cobb started.

The career of Lajoie makes a rather interesting story. He was born in Woonsocket, R.I., on Sept. 5, 1875. The Frenchman was driving a hack from the station to Woonsocket when he took to baseball. From the start he proved a phenomenal player and a great hitter. His easy grace at the plate, his powerful shoulders and driving swing, made him a terror to pitchers. Soon Lajoie decided baseball offered more opportunities for fame and fortune than "meeting all trains," and he forsook the hack and took to the willow.

Lajoie started playing professional ball with Fall River in 1896, and his work was so sensational that he and Phil Geier were bought by the Philadelphia Nationals before the season terminated. He was put on first base by William J. Shettsline, acting manager of the team. The next year Larry divided his time between first and outfield; then found his natural position when George Stalling, who had assumed charge of the club in 1897, put him at second base to start the 1898 campaign.

Lajoie stuck with the Phils, until the end of the 1900 race, then flopped to the Athletics in 1901, when the American league began its famous raid on the National league. He played phenomenal ball for the Athletics that year.

The next year an injunction obtained by the Philadelphia Nationals prevented him from playing in Pennsylvania, so he was transferred to Cleveland, where he played until the end of the 1914 season. When he joined Cleveland in 1902 he signed at a salary of $30,000 for four years. He managed the Indians from 1905 to 1909.

At the end of the 1914 season Lajoie was transferred to the Athletics.

REFUSE TO SIGN AN AGREEMENT

JOHNSON AND HEYDLER AGAIN SNUB THE MINOR LEAGUES.

New York, Jan. 21. Ban Johnson and John A. Heydler, Presidents of the American and National Baseball Leagues, decided at a conference not to sign at present a tentative agreement with the minor leagues.

Following Johnson's refusal to sign the paper, John H. Farrell, Secretary of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, took the document to President Heydler, who also declined to consider it.

They'll Take Their Time.

Heydler said that he and Johnson would not sign the agreement until they had time to go into the subject more fully. They may take up the situation as Presidents of their respective leagues at the next meeting of the National Commission, he stated.

"I see no use in signing a temporary agreement," said Heydler. "If there is any discussion let it be over a real agreement between the two parties. The minors wanted to break the National Agreement, and we gave them permission to do so. By a unanimous vote of the sixteen major league clubs at the joint meeting last Thursday we agreed to respect the contracts, reservations up to twenty-one players and present territorial rights of the minor leagues. This is all on record. What more can they want?"

Farrell, who had remained here to get the signatures of Heydler and Johnson, was greatly disappointed. He said he did not think there would be any trouble in getting the signatures after the agreement had been approved by August Herrmann, Chairman of the Commission, last Saturday. He added that while the big leagues had made several promises the National Association deemed it important that these promises should be in writing pending the drawing up of a lasting agreement.

Who Will Succeed Herrmann?

Before leaving here for Washington President Johnson appointed Col. Jacob Ruppert, President of the New York Club and [illegible], President of the Detroit Club, as the American League Committee which will act with the National Commission on the question of finding an available candidate for the position of Chairman of the National Commission. They will act with the National League Committee, William H. Baker of Philadelphia, and William Veeck of Chicago.

Johnson, while in Washington, will endeavor to make arrangements for the discharge of certain major league players in service in Europe. The American League clubs, as well as several National League clubs, have furnished Johnson with a list of players overseas, whom the clubs regard as essential.

Heydler said he would go as far as Johnson to ask for the discharge of player soldiers in Europe. He said under one order of the War Department officers and enlisted men overseas have the privilege of asking for their discharge if their ocean transportation is paid, and their services are needed at home."

Frenchmen Lost By Score of 11--3

ARENAS DEFEAT LEADERS OF NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE AT TORONTO.

Toronto, Jan. 22. The leading Canadien team met with a bad reverse here last night when Arenas defeated them by the score of 11 to 3. The locals were all over the visitors from the beginning to the end and showed an all round superiority that was amazing. "Newsy" Lalonde did not accompany the Montreal men, and his absence had a demoralizing effect on the team. He injured his arm in the Canadien-Ottawa game last Saturday and may be out of the game for a week.

Arenas surprised the large crowd by their good display. They outskated the flying Frenchmen and carried the play to them at all stages. "Ken" Randall played the best game he has ever shown on local ice and his rushes were of the sensational variety. Crawford was also a tower to work; and his puck-carrying and back-checking wrought havoc with the visitors. He appeared to be tireless and exchanged several hard bumps with "Bad Man" Joe Hall.

The game was not nearly as spectacular as was the case when these teams met here in their two previous contests this season. Canadiens were entirely to blame for this state of affairs. Hall and Corbeau proved anything but airtight in their defence work and allowed the Blue Shirts to get the close quarters without any apparent effort to stop them.

The line up:

Referee—L. Marsh.

Judge of play—S. Vair

FAMOUS JOCKEY DEFENDS THE RACE HORSES OF THE PAST

"Snapper" Garrison Says That Old Time Thoroughbreds Could Beat Best Records Made by the Racing Stars of Today.

(By "Sapper" Garrison.)

Race horses are not any faster or better than they were a quarter of a century ago. They run faster—that is, they make better time—but they are not greater than in the days of Luke Blackburn and Hindoo and Hanover and Salvator.

The race courses, however, are as far superior to those of the old days as velvet is to a rag carpet. I believe that a Hanover, a Luke Blackburn, a Tammany or a Salvator over the present-day course could come nearer running a mile in .30 than 1.34 4-5, which is the official mile record established by Roamer at Saratoga last August.

I don't want to detract from the merits of some of our racers of this day. Roamer has been a wonderful horse. Indeed, should pick him as about the best of the last decade, but somehow the thoroughbreds do not appear to have the courage and the stamina of the horses of twenty-five years ago.

Nor are the jockeys better. In fact, I do not think we have riders today the equal of those of the other days. The present style of riding—the leaning over—is not a modern creation.

Tod Sloan did not introduce it, as he is generally credited with having done. Long before Tod Sloan adopted that style of riding it had been employed by other jockeys. The object, of course, was to keep the weight off the horse's back and put it over his withers, where it would not be so much of a burden.

I do not believe there have been better riders than McLaughlin and John Spellman. McLaughlin was a remarkable jockey. His success was due in large measure to his ability to get away from the post.

There never was a rider more alert at the start, and he won eight of ten races by beating the other fellows away from the post.

Spellman has never been given credit for being a great rider except by those who know him and watched his efforts.

Undoubtedly riders have a great deal to do with winning races. A good jockey sometimes can win on a bad horse and beat a good horse with a poor rider, but the horse is nine-tenths of the battle.

The best race I ever rode was when I won the Suburban Handicap with Montana for Marcus Daly. I should not have been in the money, but I had something on the other riders; was fortunate at the break and throughout the run.

Both Major Domo, who was second, and Lamplighter, who finished third, should have beaten me, but I got home a head in front of Major Domo, with Lamplighter right on top of us.

Mr. Daly gave me $10,000 for winning that race. There were 22 starters, and after going half a mile I didn't think I had a chance, but I was lucky to escape interference. I kept my horse going and nursed him until I had an opportunity in the last quarter of a mile and then I wore down the two horses, in front of me, getting up just in time to win by a head, whereas I should have been third or out of the money.

Pittsburg Phil used to tell me and my friends that the greatest race I ever rode was on his horse, King Cadmus, at Morris Park, when I won by a nose, with three others finishing in a dead heat for the place.

Mr. Daly had Sheilbark in the race, and, while I was under contract to ride for him at that time, he gave me permission to take the mount on King Cadmus, because he didn't think his own horse had a chance.

I have no doubt that I could have won with Sheilbark. Pittsburg Phil, who was the best judge of a horse I ever knew, and unquestionably the most successful man of his age on the turf, always declared there was no other rider who could have won with King Cadmus on that day.

It was a cheap-selling race, but Pittsburg Phil won more than $100,000 on the race. He gave me $10,600 for winning, and that was the biggest fee I ever received.

The most trying experience I ever had was in the world's fair Derby, which I won with Boundless. It was a big field, and Starter Pettingill kept us 1 hour and 52 minutes at the post.

I am not vain when I say that it was my better judgment more than bad riding of the other jockeys—more mature experience, if you will—that enabled me to win that race. I had it on the other boys. I knew how to save my horse during that strenuous delay, while old "Pet" was trying to get the horses to line up.

That race was the richest stake I ever won, worth $50,000, but I didn't get much of a fee for winning.

It's a mighty hard thing to decide as to the best horse one ever saw race. I rode nearly all of the great ones during the time I was riding. The Dwyer brothers owned a great many. Hanover, Tremont, Hindoo, Luke Blackburn were all exceptional horses. Tremont was never beaten.

If I were to make a decision as to the best horse I ever rode, I should give it to Tammany. A lot of persons will not agree with me, I know. He was a better horse than Salvator or Tenny or Hanover, in my opinion, and I rode all of these to victory.

Matt Byrnes, who trained both Tammany and Salvator, always agreed with me that Tammany was better than the son of Prince Charlie and Salina.

I really never knew how fast Tammany could run, for I never let him down in al the times I rode him, except on one occasion, and that was the ony race in which he was beaten when I was on his back. Then Daily America defeated him by a nose in the great eastern handicap, but Tammany was giving away chunks of weight and had all the bad luck in the race.

I could place Tammany with a hair of his tail, or I could let him run his own race, as he pleased. He could go to the front or run from behind and that's what makes horses great.

Hindoo was a wonderful horse. Jimmy Rowe told me one time that he was a better horse that in Luke Blackburn. Sysonby and Colin came after that time, and I have been told that Rowe has said that both Sysonby and Colin were the equal of either Hindoo or Luke Blackburn.

"Father Bill" Daly was responsible for the making of more good riders than any man on the American turf. He developed most of the great jockeys of the two decades between 1880 and 1900.

Home Run Baker To Play With Uplands

Medina, Pa., Jan. 22. — Manager Miller of the Upland team of the Delaware County League is authority for the statement that Frank Baker, the home run king, had signed a contract to play with Upland next season.

Baker played with Upland in 1915 after quitting the Athletics. At that time it was reported that he received $100 a game. The Upland proposition is said to have appealed to Baker because it will give him an opportunity to play baseball a few days in the week and on the other days attend to his farm.

Pacific Coast In Big League Dream

"Walter Meredie, who managed Salt Lake in the Pacific Coast League last season, is quoted here (Portland) as saying he had two offers to manage major league clubs next season, but turned them down because he wants to help the Pacific Coast League develop into a major on its own account, with the addition of Portland and Seattle to its circuit.

"McCredie thinks that in a few years the coast league as now proposed will be able to assert itself to full majordom and that with a longer season than the American and the National it will be the class of the whole baseball world."

URSULINE CONVENT AT ROBERVAL IS BURNT

Chicoutimi, Jan. 22.—Another serious conflagration has stricken the county of Chicoutimi, Lake Saint Jean. The large convent of the Ursuline Sisters at Roberval was burnt to the ground about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The fire started in the laundry and rapidly spread to the entire building, where were some two hundred young women who were attending the boarding-school. The house is directed by a staff of some fifty nuns and all escaped without injury.

The material loss will reach $100,000 and is only partly covered by insurance.

A few days ago the catherdal at Chicoutimi was destroyed completely by fire with a loss of more than $300,000.

BROSSEAUS JUMPS TONIGHT TO PROFESSIONAL RANKS

Montreal, Jan. 22.—Eugene Brosseau, national amateur boxing champion, who will join the professional ranks on Wednesday in a bout with McKay of Brooklyn, is training under the direction of Frankie Flemin and Irish Patsy Cline at Rawdon.

Brosseau is boxing each day with Cline, and is likely to create the same favorable impression in professional ranks as he did in amateur competitions. He is under the management of Fleming for this bout.

NOTHING IN REPORT

Duke of Devonshire Not Likely to Leave Canada

Ottawa, Jan. 22.—"There is absolutely nothing in it," was the statement of a high official at Rideau Hall this morning with regard to the Duke of Devonshire leaving Canada. There is no indication of the Governor-General's term being abbreviated. This story, like the previous one, apparently arose from the fact that the Duchess is in England where she accompanied her widowed daughter, Lady Maud Mackintosh.

Sons of England Install Officers

The installation of the officers of Lansdowne Lodge Sons of England, was held on Monday, Jan. 20, in the S. O. E. hall, Hunter Street.

District Deputy Supreme Lodge Officer Bro. H. Beale installed the following officers for the year 1919.

W. Past Pres.—Bro. A. Fallis.
W. Pres.—B. Lemmon.
W. Vice-Pres.—R. Starr
W. Chaplain—J. Theobald
W. Fin.-Sec.—W. G. Shiner.
W. Rec.-Sec.—F. A. Rathbone
Committee:—H. Land, J. Wyatt, R. Stephens, J. Runnett, F. Smith, C. Hope
Inside Guard—D. Curtis
Outside Guard—J. Townsend.

After the installation, Bro. Proctor of Toronto, Worthy Supreme President addressed the members, pointing out the unrivalled record the S.O.E. had in the Dominion of Canada in the fact that out of a membership of 30,000, 6,900 had enlisted and gone overseas. Of this number 756 had laid down their lives in defence of the ideals upon which the S. O. E. is based. More than $93,000 had been paid out in war claims in the Beneficiary and Funeral Dept of the Society. $7,000 still held is awaiting proof of death. During the 43 years the Society has been in existence more than $1,500,000 has been paid to the members in sick or funeral benefits and more than $1,000,000 in beneficiary claims.

Lansdowne's Record

Lansdowne Lodge, Peterboro have had their share in the splendid record; 51 of the members having enlisted, 4 of whom have been killed, 16 have returned and 31 are still overseas.

During the evening the officers of the juvenile lodge were received and given a hearty welcome. Two new members were initiated and together with the large attendance of members the outlook is bright for a successful year in 1919.

The financial statement for the lodge shows that during the year more than $1000 was paid out to the members in sick and funeral benefits, but notwithstanding the heavy disbursements during the recent epidemic of influenza the finances of the lodge were in a better position than at the beginning and the auditors report stated that the books of the lodge were never in better condition.

After the closing of the lodge the members enjoyed a social hour together around the festive board, Bro. E. A. Peck presiding. Toasts to the King by Bro. Peck and to the Supreme lodge as represented by Bro. Proctor, the Supreme President, proposed by Bro. H. Beale were honored in the usual manner and a very pleasant, successful evening was brought to a close by singing Auld Lang Syne.

PROTEST AGAINST RAISE

In Telephone Rates Forwarded by Guelph Council

Guelph, Jan. 22.—This city's protest against a raise in Bell telephone rates has been sent forward. The telegram to Sir Henry Drayton recites that "We do not believe the circumstances justify any increase. Their request is based on the costs of 1918, when everything was at its maximum, and even now a decline in prices has begun. We also believe that considerable of the revenue has been expended in capital expenditure."

Refreshments were served at 11 p. m. President Morrison, on behalf of the Ladies' Auxiliary, announced that a dance, under the same auspices, would be held in the Woodman of the World Hall on the evening of Valentines Day, February 14th.

GENERAL BOOTH SENDS MESSAGE

CABLES ENCOURAGEMENT TO THE BRANCH IN THIS COUNTRY.

General Bramwell Booth, commander of the Salvation Army, has sent from London the following cable to the branch in Cnada:

"I wish you Godspeed and every success in your effort to enable the Salvation Arm yto play its part in meeting Canada's demobilization and reconstruction needs for the sake of her splendid soldier sons. We look to the Dominion to maintain her splendid traditions of generosity, built up during the war, and we regard every worker in the campaign as a comrade in a good and glorious cause. My prayers are with you."

PLAN BANQUET FOR VETERANS

TORONTO COUNCIL MAY BE ASKED FOR GRANT OF $15,000.

The prospects are that the city of Toronto will make a strong start, in co-operation with the military authorities, in providing "Welcome Home" banquets for her fifty thousand returning soldiers.

A conference between Brig.-Gen. Gunn, Mayor Church and the Controllers at a private meeting of the Board of Control resulted in a decision to recommend that the city council at its meeting next Monday vote $15,000 towards the series of receptions which the District Command has planned. Other organizations are expected to co-operate in providing money, material, labor and ideas. Women will be given a prominent place.

The veterans will be banqueted in groups of one thousand, it is understood, and the occasion will be made as pleasurable as possible. Women's organizations may provide the waiters, many of them already having promised every assistance. There will be music and decorations galore and a souvenir for every man. This is the first war grant for the city this year.

THE SALVATION ARMY IS THERE

(Guy F. Lee, in Chicago Tribune.)

We used to look on with a tolerant air
As they marched up the street with their band;
The tambourine, drum, and the shaky cornet
Brought smiles more than pennies to hand;
But they fed the poor bum and the child from the slum,
And took light to the darkest vice lair,
And wherever discouraged ones needed a lift,
The Salvation Army was there.

Over there where hell's playing its dirge they have built
Huts close to the trenches and dire.
And they're passing out cheer for a dime or a grin,
To men clothed in mis'ry and mire.
Handing coffee and pie, and renewed hope and vim
To Liberty's sons, as they dare
Their lives for our cause—most unselfishly brave
The Salvation Army is there.

These soldiers whose weapons are java and cakes,
And whose foes are discomfort and blight,
Have won the undying affection of all
Their khaki-clad brothers in Right.
They never consider themselves, and they live
The spirit of care, share and spare.
So I'm proud to remark that in peace or in war
The Salvation Army is there!

TEAM WORKERS IN BIG DRIVE MEET WITH CHEERING SUCCESS

Nearly All Factories Are Thrown Open to Canvassers in the Red Shield Campaign and Contributions Are Liberal.

Third day of the Big Drive is here. The last two days have been full of activity, and while results cannot as yet be announced the prospects are hopeful that the goal will be reached. Gradually a list of names is being made up of men who are from the city, and these will be seen as soon as possible, on return.

Yesterday the Quaker Oats Co gave permission that the employees might be approached while at work. So a corps of twenty men and four ladies was organized to go to the factory at 9.30 this morning and make a thorough canvas of the men and women in the building. It is expected that the results will justify the work. The thanks of the committee in charge of the Drive are with the company for the valued permission.

At the Bonner-Worth factory the employees were grouped in the top flat room of the building at 12.45 p.m. yesterday. A short appeal was made for the objects of the canvas. Something like 285 cards were taken to be filled in and returned to the office. It is expected that the factory will keep up its noted liberal record in this as in other appeals of the past. A generous cheque was handed in by the company.

Yesterday afternoon at 4.45 the workers had access to meet the employees at the Matthews-Blackwell factory, and a cheerful time was had. The appeal to the men for assistance was met in a very satisfactory way.

While that was considered a sufficient number of cards to be used in taking subscriptions were printed it has been necessary to print additional numbers, so freely have they been asked for and supplied. This looks hopeful and indicates that a willingness to support the Drive is fairly general.

A committee visited the C.G.E. Co. works, both yesterday and today, and were armed with cards, ballot boxes, the latter to hold the money sums donated. It was not practicable to go through the works so the plan was adopted to meet the men as they left work, and gathered to go to work at the usual hours.

Announcement will be made of the general results, though it is certain that a number of loose ends will be closed up during the next few days.

Annual Meeting Of All Saints' S. S.

The annual meeting of All Saints' Sunday school was held last evening when encouraging reports were presented. The report of the secretary, Mr. James Price, showed the average attendance for the year to be 243. The high water mark in attendance was reached last Sunday, which was 368.

The treasurer's report, which was read by Miss Cairns, showed a balance of $194.75. The school's contributions to missions and other outside objects amounted to $116.33.

The officers appointed for the ensuing year were as follows:

Secretary—Mr. James Price.
Treasurer—Miss C. Cairns.
Supt. Cradle Roll—Miss G. Hooper.

PEOPLE'S CHIMES SOUND WELCOME TO HON. MR. TAFT

EX-PRESIDENT OF UNITED STATES REACHES CITY ON NOON TRAIN.

Ex-President Taft arrived in the city today on the 12.25 train, from Toronto. He was met in the parlor car by Mr. Joseph Wearing, Secretary of the local Bar Association, who introduced him to Capt. Burnham, M.P., and Messrs. R. R. Hall, Robt. Harstone, and G. A. McDonald who were on hand to welcome him to Peterboro.

In Mr. MacDonald's automobile the party proceeded up George St., to Charlotte and then turned onto Water street and circled the block on which the city buildings are situated in order that the celebrated visitor might have an opportunity of hearing the People's Chimes playing American airs in his honor.

Upon arriving at the Empress Hotel the members of the Women's Council, and Messrs. Hall and Harstone had lunch with him after which he was entertained by his fellow countrymen in the city, being shown different points of interest.

Most Touching Of All Memorials

New York, Jan. 23.—The Tribune says editorially:

"Of all the varied soldiers' memorials, none is more touching than that planned for the Canadians who died overseas. Poppy seeds are to be sent from Flanders to the Horticultural Society of St. Thomas, Ont., which will plant them in memory of those who died fighting abroad, including Lieut.-Col. John McCrae, author of the famous lines:

"In Flanders fields the poppies grow
Among the crosses row on row."

Out of Jail Only To Be Re-Arrested

Joseph Francis Murphy, who has recently rejoined the ranks of his fellow men after spending thirty days in the County jail for robbing Hickey's boot and shoe store on Hunter street, was again taken into custody yesterday by Detective Meagher and acting Detective Cookman, upon instructions of Detective-Sergt. Newhall, charged with stealing several suits of clothes and two pieces of cloth from the Regent Tailor shop on Charlotte street.

He appeared before the police magistrate this morning but his case was remanded for a week upon representations of both the Crown and his Counsel, Mr. J. A. O'Brien.

It is stated that there are others implicated in the theft besides the accused man, Murphy. Further arrests are expected in the course of a few days.

MOOSE DYING OF FLU EPIDEMIC

TRAVELLERS IN WOODS REPORT THE FINDING OF MANY CARCASSES

Fort William, Ont., Jan. 23.—That moose are dying in the woods from Spanish influenza is the assertion of men who have been engaged in bush work and travel lately. One man ran across the bodies of two moose, lying not far from one another, neither of which showed any sign of wound or external injuries, while another bushman came up to a bull moose which was hardly able to travel from exhaustion, gave every sign of being almost in a state of collapse from some disease, and which was bleeding at the nose. So sick was this animal that it was unable to run away from the man. Whether the disease is influenza as we find it among men or not, these bushmen are convinced that there is some plague attacking the moose of the district, and express fear that it may seriously lessen the game resources of Thunder Bay district.

Prophets are often without honor, but seldom without competition.

Bar Association Presents Address to Ex-Judge Taft

There were a large gathering of citizens and members of the legal profession and of citizens at the reception give to ex-President Taft in the County Court room this afternoon by the members of the Peterborough Bar Association. Judge Huycke presided and the lawyers in attendance wore their court costumes.

The following complimentry address was read by Mr. F. D. Kerr, president of the Association:

To the Honourable William H. Taft:

Sir,—We, the members of the County of Peterborough Law Association, on your first visit to the city of Peterborough, desire to heartily welcome you to this community and to tender to you our warmest fraternal greetings.

As lawyers, we recall with pride that when at the bar, on the bench, when serving as administrator of a great foreign dependency, or when you occupied that place of power and confidence, the presidency of the United States of America, you never forgot what the study of the law had indelibly impressed on your mind, namely, that justice and law must ever walk hand in hand and that real liberty must be upheld by ordered law and constitutional safeguards.

We are not unaware of your work as a judge in your own country, and your services subsequently as administrator of the Phillipine Islands, where your prudence, judgment and wise exercise of the powers entrusted to you created among an Eastern people a lasting respect for law and order and for all those things which are the inseparable concomitant of civilized government. More recently as President of the United States, in addtion to displaying the highest gifts of statesmanship as head of that great republic, with a deep comprehension of the real meaning of liberty and freedom, you silenced the voice of clamor and upheld the independence of the judiciary as fundamental to all true liberty of the citizen.

You, Sir, were early among those of our cousins to the South of us who saw that the war in Europe was more than a strife between rival nations, and was, in fact, a world cataclysm involving all those precious things for which men, throughout the ages, had gladly suffered and surrendered their lives.

The lawyers of Canada will never forget the assistance given by you, and by so many members of the legal profession in your country, to the support of those efforts which so successfully placed your nation with its wealth of brave men, talent and resources side by side with heroic France and alongside the no less heroic British Empire, of which our Dominion of Canada so proudly forms a part.

The future, we believe, will demonstrate what it will have meant for civilization that cultured France and the great English-speaking peoples of the world spared not the sacrifice of their bravest and best in the maintenance of the common right of all nations to the enjoyment of law, justice, freedom and liberty.

It has been said the the late Emperor of Germany frequently sneered at the lawyer statesmen of the Allies as men who placed weight on "a scrap of paper;" but we feel proud that it was the lawyer statesmen who asserted, in the face of armed autocracy, the sacredness of contract, the inviolability of the given word and, at the cost of priceless lives, successfully demonstrated for all time that the sword of justice is the mightiest weapon ever yet forged, and that henceforth "right not "might" must prevail, not only among men, but among nations?

We are glad to recognize that your own association with the picturesque village of Murray Bay, situated so beautifully on the majestic St. Lawrence, down whose broad waters the trade of half a continent sweeps to the sea, has not only brought you in to intimate touch with Canada and its people, but it has afforded you at the same time a unique opportunity of understanding the national viewpoint of Canadians, and has permitted you to foresee the great destiny which awaits this country as one of the allied nations within the British Empire.

We venture to express the hope that you may, while in Canada, feel that you are among admirers, neighbors and friends. We trust you may be spared for many years to assist the councils of your own country, and that your experienced judgment may long be available for the guidance of all statesmen, who, throughout the world, are leading their peoples along the paths of freedom.

Signed on behalf of the County of Peterborough Law Association, this twenty-third day of January, 1919.

F. D. KERR, President.
JOS. WEARING, Secretary.

THOUSANDS OF COAL MINERS ARE ON STRIKE IN ENGLAND

Quit Work Because Employers Refuse to Allow Them Twenty Minutes Dead Time for Meals.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 23—Serious strikes and threats of more serious ones in England over disputes which ordinarily would be considere dunimportant, have led some students of British labor conditions to believe that demands are made, not in an effort to better labor conditions but in an attempt to revolutionize the whole condition of labor employment. Today 147,000 Yorkshire coal miners are idle because their employers decline to allow twenty minutes dead time for meals for surface workers. The stoppage of the work in the great shipbuilding industry on the Clyde is threatened over a meal hour dispute.

The discontentment is said to be caused by women who do not like to arise in time to prepare an early breakfast. In shipbuilding the anion is an active minority which demand a thirty hour week. A number of responsible labor leaders have declared they are not in sympathy with the continued trivial demands and they are represented as being supported by the more conservative members.

SURRENDER CITY WITHOUT FIGHT

GOVERNOR OF PETROGRAD RECEIVES ORDERS FROM MINISTER OF WAR.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 23—It is officially admitted that Leon Trotsky, the Russian minister of war has ordered Zinovieff, the Bolshevik governor of Petrograd, to surrender that city without a fight if it is attacked by Northern Russian forces.

The foregoing corrects despatches received from London last night which apparently were garbled in transmission between London and Copenhagen. The despatches last night made it appear that the Bolshevik had been ordered to surrender a town named Sinoveff which does not appear in the available maps, the name having been confused with Zinovieff, the commander of Petrograd.

In Northern Russia, the despatch adds, the Bolshevik forces have been defeated and the peasants are revolting against the Bolsheviki in all quarters.

LEGISLATURE TO OPEN FEB. 25

THIS DATE WAS FIXED AFTER CONSULTATION WITH DOMINION AUTHORITIES.

The provincial legislature will open for the coming session on Tuesday, February 25, according to an official announcement made yesterday by Sir William Hearst. The Premier and his cabinet have deliberated on this matter for the past few days and, it is understood, favored February 18 as the opening day, but recent advice has been received from Ottawa asking the provincial government to delay the opening until such time as the local legislature could work concurrently with the Dominion house in the matter of legislation affecting returned soldiers, which both governments contemplate putting through. It has been the policy of the provincial government to complete all sessional business just prior to the Easter holiday and it is understood that this plan will be followed this year. The session usually extends over a period of six or seven weeks and with Easter coming on April 20 this year all work should be completed by that time.

With the return of peace it is understood that the pre-war activities, which made the meeting of the legislature a distinctive even in society, will be revived this year.

WOOLEN MILLS TO BE MOVED HERE

ALEX. STEWART DECIDES TO LOCATE TORONTO PLANT IN PETERBORO.

Mr. Alexander Stewart of Peterborough is removing his woolen stock mill from Toronto where he has been operating it for some time to this city having chosen what is known as the Lubricator Building on Hunter street, east in which to instal his plant.

For some time Mr. Stewart's son-in-law has been managing the business in the neighboring city but as Mr. Stewart is a commercial traveller and spends his spare time in Peterborough he felt that he must either remove the mill to the place in which he lives or else remove to the city in which the concern was situated.

He decided upon the former course on account of having lived here for many years in which time he has become attached to the place. The machinery is nearly all here and in about two weeks he hopes to have it installed and the plant once more in operation.

To commence with he does not expect to employ more than four or five men. The manufactory will be operated day and night as there is a great demand at present for the material turned out.

When Mr. Stewart enquired about the installation of his electric motors he found that the ones he brought with him from Toronto would be useless to him here on account of the different current. This necessitated changing the machines and added to the expense connected with the move but in spite of this he is well satisfied as there are advantages offered in Peterborough which go a long way towards compensating for the financial outlay entailed.

CAPT. ROLLINS MAY BE BACK IN PETERBORO BY JUNE FIRST

Minister of St. Andrew's Is Now in Germany With the 27th Battalion of Winnipeg.

A private letter from Capt. (Rev.) James Rollins, which was written in Germany "beyond the Rhine," arrived in the city yesterday. Capt. Rollins was then with the 27th (Winnipeg) Battalion, and had served with them as chaplain through practically the whole of the great offensive, having gone with the battalion into the front lines two days before the battle of Amiens.

The letter relates that on November 11, when the armistice was concluded, the 27th were on the march going up to the front with the expectation of going into action that night. Capt. Rollins relates that the soldiers received the news very quietly, without cheering or other demonstration, never even breaking step as the word passed quietly along the ranks. That night they camped in the outskirts of Mons. On December 13 they entered Bonne, being the first there, marched through the town and crossed the Rhine. It was a kind of state entry, battle order, fixed bayonets, etc., every man at his best, but trying to hide his pride and satisfaction.

Capt. Rollins makes reference to the probable time of his return home but says that the people in Peterborough in all probability know more about it than he does. However, he says that they have been told that all will be home by June, and he hopes that in his case it may be much sooner.

HON. F. B. CARVELL SPEAKS IN GRAND OPERA HOUSE

Minister of Public Works to be in City Tomorrow —Visit Is an Important One to the Future of Peterborough.

Hon. F. B. Carvell, Minister of Public Works, will arrive in Peterborough on the 3.35 train tomorrow afternoon and will be met by the chairman of the Reception Committee, Alderman J. J. Turner, Mayor Duncan and Capt. Burnham, M.P.

He will be shown as many of the interesting features of the city as time will permit especially the public buildings, the site of the proposed ones, including that which it is hoped, the dry dock, will occupy in Ashburnham, and will be given an opportunity to see the Hunter street bridge as it is at present, and will be acquainted with the plans for the erection of the new one with which it is hoped the Government will assist. Such assistance would come through his department to some extent, and it is imperative that the Minister be impressed with the importance of this work.

In the evening it is anticipated that the Great War Veterans and their band will parade and the former will play in front of the Empress where Mr. Carvell, the members of the City Council and several other officials will have dinner. They will then proceed to the Opera House where the Minister will give an address.

The people of Peterborough are urged not to miss this opportunity of hearing this most prominent member of the Union Government. He is considered one of the keenest debaters and most forcible and eloquent speakers in the Canadian House of Commons and before the formation of the Coalition Administration was the foremost critic of the Conservative Government.

When Mr. Carvell rises to speak in the House of Commons the galleries fill as if by magic and remain so until he has resumed his seat. He is one of the big men of the Liberal party as was demonstrated when he relegated party politics to the background and got behind the Union Win the War party in the ranks of which were many of his bitterest opponents.

Mr. Carvell, in conjunction with Mr. Kyte, was instrumental in preferring the famous profiteering charges, which figured so conspiciously in the closing days of the Conservative regime. It is up to the people of the city to pack the Grand Opera House tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock and give one of the most prominent of Canadian public men a reception and a hearing worthy of Peterborough which is asking the Government to assist them in constructing what is, perhaps, the most extensive work in the history of the city.

MAJORITY PARTY HAS CONTROL OF THE ASSEMBLY

LATEST ELECTION RETURNS GIVE THEM OVER 160 SEATS.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 23.—It is impossible as yet to clearly forecast the results of the German election, according to an official wireless despatch sent out from Berlin and picked up here. The impression prevails, however, the despatch says, that the Majority Socialists, with 160 seats, have by far the strongest party, while the Democrats, with 80 seats, will doubtless stand at the head of the non-Socialist parties. It is presumed, it is said, that the Majority Socialists and Democrats, supported by an overwhelming majority, of the people, will be in a position to dominate the National Assembly. Among those whose seats are assured are Count Posadowsky, Dr. Jernhard Dernburg, former Chief of Police Eichhorn and Hugo Haase.

Kurt Eisner, the Bavarian Premier, failed to win a seat in German National Assembly in any of the 80 constituencies where he was a candidate. Since German troops were summoned to put down the Spartacan uprising in Berlin, the army has been assuming a position of greater importance, according to advices received here.

The supreme command of the German peace army has been transferred from the People's Commissioners to the Minister of War, who will be responsible to the Government. The Soldiers' and Workmen's Council will still be responsible for all social and economic regulations concerning the army.

Later Reports.

Basle, Jan. 23.—Reports from all the twenty-seven electoral districts in Germany indicate a return of the full number of 421 members of the National Assembly, and show that the Majority Socialists have a plurality in the assembly with 164 delegates. The next highest number of members was returned by the former Centrists, who will have eighty-eight members. Premier Ebert and Philip Scheidemann have gone to Weimar to superintend the making over of the court theatre there in which the National Assembly is to meet.

ADVISES RAISE IN PHONE RATES

AMERICAN EXPERT SAYS THAT PRESENT SCALE IS TOO LOW.

Ottawa, Jan. 23. — That the Bell Telephone Co. is entitled to a temporary increase in rates that would yield an additional revenue of one million dollars per annum, is an important recommendation made by W. J. Hagenah, the American telephone rates expert, in a report submitted to the Railway Board at the resumed hearing of the rates case here. The report was submitted by W. H. Butler, city solicitor of Montreal. Mr. Butler applied for an adjournment of the hearing because of the illness of Mr. Hagenah. He expressed the wish that the expert should be given an opportunity to appear before the board.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

THURSDAY, JANUARY 23, 1919

ONE OF MR. HALL'S ANGELS.

AT THE LIBERAL Convention in Toronto Mr. R. R. Hall called up the matter of the purchase of the C.N.R., or, more properly speaking, the taking over of that road by the Government, because the transaction has all the earmarks of an ordinary foreclosure on property the original owner of which is unable to meet his obligations. By the way, this was one of the pet hobbies that Mr. Hall was so fond of riding during the campaign of a year ago.

Mr. Hall in his resolution asks that the C.N.R. case be fully investigated. To the outsider it would appear that that embarrassed enterprise has already had rather more than its share of probing.

When the C.N.R. company defaulted in the matter of their financial obligations to the Government and foreclosure proceedings, under the terms of the agreement providing for such a contingency, were talked of, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in his place in the House, moved that the sum of thirty million dollars be paid the stockholders for their interests.

A royal commission was appointed to look into this feature of the case, and the members decided that the stock was worth nothing, an opinion that Sir Thomas White concurred in and had previously expressed.

Then Hon. George P. Graham, at that time a member of the House, thrust his head into the grab bag. He moved that all the money due the contractors who built the road be settled by the government. This apparently businesslike and fair proposition wears a different aspect when it is explained that the contractors were really no others than Mackenzie and Mann, and that the millions Mr. Graham would have had voted away would have actually gone to help swell the privat fortun s of these two magnates who had already received from the Government sufficient funds to build the road.

Parliament set aside the sum of $10,000,000 as the highest figure that could be paid for the stock if it was finally decided that it had any real value. Another commission found that it was worth something in excess of that amount, and there the matter rests until it is taken up again in Parliament. When it is discussed again the whole question will be set forth in such detail that even Mr. Hall, if at all reasonable, is likely to be satisfied.

The Borden Government found in the C.N.R. a half-completed enterprise on the verge of bankruptcy. Advances were made from time to time by the company because in no other way could the road have been completed. Altogether the sum of forty million dollars was advanced on a security valued at one hundred million. When the road was taken over the country became owner of a transcontinental line, an express business and a telegraph service. It was a long step in the direction of public ownership. The interests of the people have been safeguarded by the Government. If there was any attempt made to unduly favor the company, it was made by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. George P. Graham, not by those who were in a position to carry such a deal through but who prevented it.

THE GLOBE'S BREAKFAST BACON.

ON ITS RECORD the Globe can hardly pose as an authority on the trade question, the doctrines that it has preached throughout all the dark days of Opposition for the past forty years having been steadfastly repudiated by the people, and ignored, too, by its own party. Still it persists.

The Globe marvels that because, following the refusal of the British to purchase any more bacon from Canada, the coil here did not immediately take a tumble, especially when the price of live hogs fell away a matter of a cent or two a pound.

Would the Globe spread financial ruin among the dealers in Canada? They purchased bacon from the wholesaler at a high rate when the price of hogs was at the summit. What would be the result if they disposed of what they have on hand now at a sacrifice? What is true of the retail grocer or meat dealer is also true of the man who sells shoes, clothing or any article in common use. The selling price is regulated by the cost. The tailor who has stocked up under war prices cannot hope to remain in business if he drops the selling price of his goods to what it was when he got them from the wholesaler at fifty per cent. less. It requires some time for business conditions to readjust themselves after such a change as the one the Globe has in mind.

But the Globe goes further in its partisan diatribes on the trade question and it is a matter of regret that it has succeeded at least in deceiving, its gullible understudy on George Street. It blames the Canadian Government because there is a temporary suspension of exports to Europe. It demands that the way be cleared for the sale of Canadian foodstuffs in Europe and that shipping facilities be offarded the Canadian exporters to get their stocks overseas.

How can the Canadian Government, or any other government on earth, create a market for food in Europe or elsewhere if the supply on hand is already excessive? Why put ships into the carrying trade when there is no demand for their cargo? Has the Globe lost all the sense of reason that it ever possessed?

Let it possesses itself in patience. The suspension of the import trade will be only temporary. Conditions will be normal again just as soon as the present supply in England can be distributed. There is a dearth of food in Europe, and there is likely to be for several years to come. But Canada will secure its share of this market in open competition with the rest of the world. The live stock business in this country, including the raising of hogs, will be maintained in order to reinforce the depleted stock in the war-wasted countries of Europe.

A DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE.

SOONER OR LATER a politician's mas will find him out. If he attempts to play the role of a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, if he makes flesh of one and fish of another, in short, if he seeks to ride two horses at once, eventually exposure is inevitable. And the pity of it is that such a man brings into disrepute any cause which he assumes to espouse, whether the object of his avowed preference is Home Rule for Ireland or Union Government.

Mr. C. J. Foy of Perth is a lawyer in his home town and a man who aspires to political leadership. When it is stated that Perth has a heavy Unionist majority, then it is only natural to infer that Mr. Foy is, to all outward appearance at least, of the same way of thinking. His speeches teem with patriotism and with devotion to the welfare of the Empire. That is when he is at home.

Recently there was a meeting of Irish sympathizers held in Montreal and Mr. Foy was one of the invited guests. Before going he worked the transformation that changed the handsome and suave Dr. Jekyll into the Mr. Hyde, who had a penchant for giving free rein to his passions and his fancies. The meeting at Montreal was supposed to be held in camera, but by some means the reporters got inside, and Mr. Foy's speech, word for word as he declaimed it, was given to the world.

And what a speech! What he said about the British Empire was of a vastly different tone from that which marks his grandiloquent periods when at home. Of course, the report of the speech got back to Perth, and what the papers and people of that town are saying about Mr. Foy these days must keep his left ear at a perpetual white heat.

This is supposed to be a free country, especially so since the censor has been pleased to relax his regulations somewhat. Every man is entitled to hold his own opinions and to give public expression to them if he deems it wise to do so. Mr. Foy can be a Home Ruler, a Unionist, or even a Liberal, if he can reconcile the latter creed with his conscience. But the public prizes constancy and consistency among the higher virtues. The cause of Unionism has suffered from the lip service so often rendered it by the politicians intent on preferment. The cause of the Home Rule party has been victimized, too, by the artful wirepuller.

HON. GEORGE P. GRAHAM'S POSITION.

THERE IS SOMETHING anomalous in the position of Hon. George P. Graham, who, as the duly deputized representative of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, takes the role of peacemaker and invites the Liberal Unionists to return to the camp which they left as a measure of political safety as well as a patriotic duty over a year ago. Mr. Graham is hardly the man for that job. He is in his own person a terrible example of what happened to the public men outside of Quebec who remained faithful to the veteran chieftain when the great split came in the ranks. He was unable to find a constituency the electors in which were willing to assume him or his cause as a responsibility, and as a result the once outstanding figure in the party finds himself without a seat in Parliament.

Mr. Graham voted for conscription, it is true, but otherwise he remained true to what was left of the Liberal colors. He opposed the idea of a Union Government and has not yet changed his mind. He asserts that Union Government was formed only when the Borden Administration found itself facing defeat.

As imaginative as ever is Mr. Graham. It was not coalition that saved Premier Borden. Any fair-minded man knows that if Union had never been formed the country would have been divided into the war and anti-war parties, just as it was with Unionism perfected, and that the war administration would have triumphed. That was what happened in every allied country where a war-time election was held. Unionism, however, gave all the patriotic Liberals a chance to declare themselves on the great issue. Otherwise a large number of them would have refused to vote at the election of 1917, finding it impossible either to break party ties completely or to support Sir Wilfrid Laurier's candidates on his war record.

Mr. Graham, carrying out the instructions of his chief, invites the so-called prodigals home again. But the conditions of the parable have been reversed. Mr. Graham, with the olive branch in his hand, is really the Prodigal asking the rest of the family to share with him the husks and the other discomforts of the swine-herd, who is paying the penalties for his offences.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

IT IS A LONG, LONG WAY from the hog pasture to the foreign country to the seats of the mighty in Ottawa.

• • • • •

BY CALLING for the repeal of the War Time Election Act the Liberals betray their one hope for popular support.

• • • • •

THE FIERCE LIGHT that beats about the thrones in Central Europe has certainly achieved its mission by blackening every blot.

• • • • •

BEYOND ALL QUESTION the best possible assurance of the safety of democracy is a British fleet maintained at the pinnacle of supremacy.

• • • • •

TO TELL A MAN these days to go to Germany will get by the censor and at the same time fulfil all former conditions in the matter of getting hence.

• • • • •

ANY DESIRABLE PLANKS that the Liberals have placed in their new platform have the sign of second-hand goods stolen from the lumber yard of their opponents.

EVERY MAN and every organization in Peterborough has or should have an ax to grind, but the sharpened tools should hew in unison to build a bigger and a better city.

HEALTH OF THE WAGE EARNER

Never has the laboring man been so catered to as at the present time. His daily wage has been constantly soaring since the outbreak of war, his home and shop environment has been vastly improved, and his physical well-being has been made the object of the utmost solicitude; for it was the laboring man who made possible the successful carrying on of the war.

One of the latest advocates of the conservation of the workman's health is the American Hospital association. Its legislative committee, reports The Modern Hospital, proposes to have something to say in regard to compulsory sickness or health insurance. Believing that those sick or injured should be properly cared for at the expense of the employer and given completent medical and surgical care until completely restored to health, the committee plans to work with health insurance commissions of various states to that end.

Hitherto the health commissions have been the ones to say first how long a man should receive hospital care. Sometimes the time they specified has been too long, more frequently it has been too short, and a man was discharged from the hospital before he was cured, thus defeating the purpose of health insurance. Hospitals, being absolutely essential to the successful conduct of a health insurance plan, are considered to be entitled to have some voice in the matter of the time necessary for the proper rehabilitation of the sick and wounded. In any event the American Hospital association is evidently alive to its responsibilities in this respect.

Moreover, Samuel Gompers, chairman of the committee of labor, has recommended to Secretary William B Wilson of the department of labor that medical examination of applicants be made on of the functions of the government labor recruiting agencies. This recommendation was the outcome of a conference recently held in New York under the auspices of the national subcommittee on welfare work of the committee of labor.

The context of the resolutions adopted at this time was that the physical examination of workers is essential as a health conservation measure, that the purpose of the examination was not to debar the worker from industrial service, but rather to see that he rendered the maximum of service by being placed at work for which he was physically best fitted. Medical examination cards will be issued by the government recruiting agencies indicating the health of the worker and classifying him according to physical fitness.

By this method it is believed that communicable diseases will be early discovered and eradicated, their spread prevented, subnormal employes placed in occupations suited to their peculiar conditions, and the employment of those physically below par made possible.

WIT AND WISDOM

Cause for Thanksgiving.

An Irish farmer, waking up in the night, saw an apparition at the foot of the bed. He reached out for a gun and perforated the ghost with a bullet. In the morning he discovered that he had made a target of his own shirts.

"What did you do then?" inquired the friend to whom he told the story.

"I knelt down and thanked God that I hadn't been inside it," said the farmer piously.

Counting Money.

Talking about billions of dollars is different from dealing with concrete facts in reference to those immense sums. A daily paper says that an expert cashier can count four thousand dollar bills in an hour, or thirty-two thousand in a day. But to count a billion dollars would require his constant work, at that rate, day after day, for one hundred and two years!

In the Fashion.

"Mrs. Bings' new baby is just in the fashion."

"How do you mean?"

"It is such a red cross affair."

Would Be Represented.

A couple of old codgers got into a quarrel and landed before the local magistrate. The loser, turning to his opponent in a combative frame of mind, cried: "I'll law you to the Circuit Court."

"I'm willin'," said the other.

"An' I'll law you to the Supreme Court."

"I'll be thar."

"An' I'll law to 'ell!"

"My attorney'll be thar," was the calm reply.

Needed a Bishop.

A story is told about Mr. E. A. Perris, the new editor of the London Daily Chronicle.

It appears that some little time back he was chatting with another well-known editor, whose paper is not always to be relied upon for the accuracy of its statements.

"My dear fellow,' said Perris, "I think that what you want is a bishop on your staff."

"A bishop! Why?" asked the other in amazement.

TODAY'S STORY

Twelve German spies in all were put to death in the Tower of London, during the war.

Germans, according to their own estimation are the most crafty people on earth, but the British secret service officers beat their formidable spy system which they set up to seek information about Britain's naval and military operations.

Long before the war Germany made preparations by establishing a spy organization with branches all over the world, and with agents ranging in position from domestic servants to imperial ambassadors. It wasa secret service that cost millions of money.

But Britain's secret service turned out to be infinitely cleverer than Germany's.

Indeed, by the time hostilities began, the Intelligence Department of the British War Office was able to report that Germany's spy organization was absolutely broken up, and that, generally speaking, there was nothing to fear except from newcomers.

The newcomers, however, proved to be fairly numerous and well supplied with money. They came from all parts of the world. Some were Germans; others were neutrals in Germany's pay. They all worked with wonderful persistence, and the way they tried to worm out the secrets of arsenals and dockyards was truly astonishing.

Lody, the prince of spies, and the first of twelve shot in the Tower, was a Government naval officer who travelled all over the country from Portsmouth to Scapa Flow, and nothing of importance escaped his vigilance.

Kupferle, who hanged himself in Brixton Prison on the morning he would have been found guilty at the Old Bailey, was an officer on the German Imperial Military Staff. He had arrived in London from the United States and passed himself off as a citizen of the U.S.A. He was one of the heads of the German spy organization in the United States, and it was his intention after staying in England for a few months to proceed to Switzerland to consult his agents there.

Both Lody and Kuepferle got valuable information, but with one exception they failed to transmit it to Germany. The British secret service officers kept them under close observation the whole time, knew precisely what they were doing and checkmated their efforts to communicate with Germany.

It was just the same with all the other spies. In their innocence they imagined that the decks were clear that the British authorities could be easily fooled, and that their letters, containing information written in invisible ink, were passed without question by stupid people in the Censor's Office, and transmitted to Rotterdam, the headquarters of Germany's spy organization.

LESSONS IN RIGHT LIVING

(By Dr. W. A. Brady)

In reminding readers that one in every nine women die of cancer, I do not mean to frighten any one. One stands a still greater chance of succumbing to pneumonia or to cardiovascular disease. The purpose of mentioning these facts is to remind readers if there has been no known case of cancer in the family for a generation or two back, that is all the more reason to anticipate its possible recurrence in the family now, for no family can remain long exempt from cancer.

It is painful to contemplate how great a proportion of cancer victims are doomed through their own individual neglect. It is painful to think how many victims, knowing they have cancer, willfully refuse to submit to the only treatment which offers a reasonable chance of cure.

We know that a considerable share, probably one-half of all cancer deaths are preventable. They are preventable by early recognition of the nature of the trouble and immediate operation.

Ignorance is the cause of fully half the fatalities from cancer. For example, it is ignorance and nothing else in the world that prompts a woman to postpone seeking medical advice on the ground that it is indelicate or immodest to do so. No intelligent woman can possibly harbor such ideas. It is ignorance that prompts a man to experiment upon his stomach trouble instead of consulting a physician about it.

Cancer of the stomach is the most frequent situation in men and the symptoms are those of alleged "dyspepsia," developing after the age of 40. Cancer of the womb is the most frequent situation in women and the symptoms are those which fishwives assure the victim are caused by the "change of life"—a physiological event, by the way, which never causes symptoms.

Cancer usually develops in the site of some pre-existent lesion, either of the surface or of an internal part. A wart, a mole, a sore, the scar of an old laceration, an unhealed ulcer of the stomach, some such point of chronic or prolonged irritation offers a focus for the formation of cancer. The effect of prolonged irritation seems to be abnormal or irregular growth of the cells of the part, and that constitutes cancer.

Treatment by the X-ray and by radium, together with prompt and radical surgery, offers the best chance of a permanent cure of cancer. Treatment by X-ray following surgical treatment is especially helpful for the purpose of preventing recurrence in cases of cancer getatched from the surface.

Salted Peanuts Wholesome

"Please tell me whether it is healthy to eat salted peanuts and whether they are very hard to digest?

C.W."

Peanuts are very nutritious and as easily digested as any other food of equal nutritive value. For some people the addition of salt adds to their savoriness and hence helps digestion.

Baby's Eyes

"Our little girl 3 years old has had since birth a running of tears over her cheeks, especially trouble some when she is out of doors and the weather is the least bit cold. We were told that it was probably caused by the the nurse, who used a saturated boric acid solution (made from the boric crystals) for bathing the baby's eyes when she was born it there any way to overcome such a thing now?

Mrs. C. E. S."

A saturated solution of boric acid is quite the customary thing to use for bathing a newborn baby's eyes. Your description suggests chronic inflammation of the tearsack with or without ostruction of the tear ducts (which should drain tears into the nose.) Take the baby to an oculist for examination and treatment.

TO BE BURIED AT BONN

Bodies of Canadians Who Died Prisoners Will Be Exhumed.

London, Jan. 23.—There have been only eleven deaths among the Canadian troops which entered Germany. Their remains have been buried in the civilian cemetery at Bonn in a special plot. The bodies of Canadians who died prisoners in territory on both sides of the Rhine which has been occupied by Canadian or other British forces will be exhumed and again interred in this new burying ground. The spot will eventually be enclosed in maple trees.

JERUSALEM THE GOLDEN AS CITY APPEARS TO-DAY

Ancient Place, Hoary With Age, Feels a New Life Coursing Through Its Veins Since Its Conquest by the Allies.

My impressions of Jerusalem are of a "live town" full of newly awakened interests and special problems which will be watched absorbingly by the whole world, says a writer in a London newspaper.

Jerusalem is giddy with prosperity

The ancient city, hoary with age, sitting in its jewels and its rags amidst the baked and barren hills of Judaea, feels new life in its veins.

The British "Tommy" is here, and a Pactolian stream of piastres floods the shops, the bazaars, the very gutters.

None so meek, so dull, so unenterprising but can divert some of this torrent; and Turk, Jew and Gentile, shopmen, curio-sellers, restaurateurs, cabmen, guides, photographers, artisans, hucksters, barbers, shoe-blacks, and beggars are enjoying an affluence they have never known or dreamt of since King Solomon's day.

Jerusalem in war time has become very much like one of the numerous febrile, army-infested towns of Northern France, and in her streets a thousand allurements, from cheap jewellery to pink ice-cream, appeal irresistibly to the passing thousands of dust-colored soldiers.

"Poor Tommy"

Poor "Tommy"! you can't help having a little extra compassion for him in Jerusalem. He looks so bewildered. This isn't at all the Jerusalem of his boyhood's fancy. It isn't within a thousand miles of it.

As I write a band is discoursing lively waltz music in the principal garden off the Jaffa Road, which has now been converted into a sort of open canteen. Occasionally the music is drowned by the rumbling of heavy lorries or prolonged shriek of motor-horns, or punctuated by the shouts of vendors of cakes and lemonade who stand at the doors of their shops and accost the soldiers in execrable new-found English. One fellow, whose eye now and then is lifted to mine, has the impudence to bawl: "Hullo, hullo English! Good Stuff. Come in!"

What is going to happen?

What is to be its political, social, economic, industrial, and architectural future?

The inhabitants are dimly awake that Conferences are going on, in which the Commander-in-Chief, General Allenby, the Military Governor, the Chief Administrator of Occupied Enemy Territory, the Mayor of Jerusalem, the Mufti, the Chief Rabbi, the American Commissioner, the English Bishop, and perhaps others, are taking part.

Amongst the more ignorant strange rumors are afloat. It is difficult to say who are the most excited—the Jews, who number more than half the population, the Moslems, or the Syrian and Armenian Christians. But there is little doubt that the Jews, ever since Mr. Balfour's pronouncement concerning Palestine, have the most confidence in their destiny. It is astonishing the effect which the Balfourian declaration has produced. You hear the name of the Jewry as if he were one of the ancient prophets and the deliverer of the race.

The Wailing Place is deserted. No one comes there now. For the first time in centuries the spectacle of the crouching Hebrew lifting up his voice in lamentations at the lost glories of Israel has wholly ceased. There is nothing to lament about. The sun shines on Zion.

It is not an exaggeration to say that the Moslems and Syrians and Armenian Christians are nervous. For them the future of El Khuds and of Palestine under Jewish domination is not at all roesate. Many of them will tell you frankly that they will be obliged to emigrate. Already the manner in which the special trading privileges accorded to the Jews have been exercised indicates what their policy will be when they are given the full power they expect. "The Jew is clannish—exclusive! he has been kept down so long. Reaction will make him intolerant. We see clearly what is in store for us."

Meanwhile the Moslem is lying low; as low as Brer Rabbit or the Dead Sea.

The Mufti views the infidel's invasion, philosophically, and he, like the Sheikh of the Mosque of Omar, finds comfort in the present tide of prosperity. Also do they find comfort in the assurance given them by the British authorities that in the town-planning scheme now afoot the ancient wity within the walls is tb be untouched.

One measure of Turkish official taste is the breach in the wall made closs to the Jaffa Gate on the occasion of the Kaiser's famous visit in 1898 and the erection of that eyesore, the Kaiser's Clock Tower. This latter, at all events, one is rejoiced to hear, is to come down; the breach is to be filled up and the Jaffa Gate restored. The plans for the new city have been drawn by Mr. McLean, the Chief Engineer of Alexandria, who was responsible for the Khartum improvements.

The Holy City is hereafter to preserve her architectural soul secure from outside violation, and with this security may become one of the most beautiful, as it is the holiest, the most ancient, and the most interesting, city in the world.

WOULD COMPEL EDUCATION

Quebec in Petition to Archbishop, Asked to Introduce Legislation.

Montreal, Jan. 23.—Archbishop Bruchesi has been presented with a petition signed by many prominent Roman Catholics, English and French speaking, asking for the passage by the Provincial Legislature of a law introducing compulsory education. The petition sets forth that too large a proportion of Montreal children leave school before having acquiring sufficient instruction, that about 50 per cent. of the Public school pupils leave after the fourth year, and that the children of farmers fall back into illiteracy in great numbers.

TRAFFIC MANAGER IS OUT WITH FACTS

BEDFORD HAD BEEN GOING DOWN HILL FOR SEVERAL YEARS—IN FINE SHAPE AFTER TAKING TANLAC.

"For five years now I have been looking for something that would relieve my troubles and have found it at last in Tanlac," said George L. Bedford, of 5721 Central Ave., Kansas City, Mo., the other day. Mr. Bedford is well-known in business circles and holds the responsible position of traffic manager with the Gustin Bacon Manufacturing Company.

"For the past few years," he continued, "I have suffered constantly from stomach and liver trouble, and although I tried different kinds of treatments and diets I kept on getting worse all the time. My liver was so sluggish that it wouldn't act at all without my taking some kind of strong purgative. I had a sallow, unhealthy look and would get up in the morning feeling so dull and languid that I didn't have a bit of life about me. My food almost always gave me indigestion, and I would have a miserable feeling in the pit of my stomach and though what I had eaten as had formed a heavy lump there. I was badly constipated, and if I ate my lunch at noon, I would always have a mean headache right afterwards, and felt so drowsy and out of sorts that I could hardly do my work. I had always taken good care of myself and couldn't understand what was the cause of my trouble.

"Some three weeks ago I read a notice in the papers about Tanlac and decided I would investigate it. Well, I have only taken three bottles so far and I am actually feeling better today than I have for the past five years. My appetite is so much better that I enjoy all I eat and I can eat anything I want without having the least touch of indigestion afterwards. All that mean sluggish feeling is gone. I get up in the morning feeling fine and can work now without suffering from those awful headaches. My skin has cleared up, my liver is working right and that constipation has been removed. I have never taken a medicine that did me so much good as Tanlac and am glad to recommend it to everybody."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co. Ltd.; in Havelock, by A. C. Benke; in Lakefield, by Tanner Drug Co. Ltd.; in Fowlers' Corners, by W. A. Hunter; in Vielert, by A. E. Scott; in Westwood, by G. Pringle & Son.

City Assessor Henry came before the meeting last night to explain the needs of his office in regard to help. His clerk was leaving him on account of the removal of her family to Toronto. He felt that a young man should be appointed in case he should at any time become ill and so be rendered unfit to carry on the work. In such an event he might be able to go out and do some work which it would be impossible for a girl to do.

He had no one in mind for the position, but agreed with the members of the committee that a returned soldier, provided he was capable of filling the position, should get the first opportunity. He thought the committee should give him some idea of what they would pay a man should he procure one.

This matter was discussed by the members of the committee. They agreed upon the desirability of having a man for the position, but when it came to setting a salary experienced a considerable amount of difficulty. Alderman Turner felt that the matter should be left entirely with Mr. Henry to settle and he could send in a recomendation to the Council in regard to the salary to be paid. If it was not satisfactory it would be voted down.

Mayor Duncan persisted in his opinion that Mr. Henry should be given some idea of what the Council might be expected to pay. The matter was disposed of by Alderman Turner introducing a resolution which was seconded by Alderman Edgar, giving Mr. Henry authority to make arrangements with a man for his assistant, preferably a returned soldier, and that he make recommendation to the Council. The salary was fixed at $750 to commence with, increasing at the rate of $50 per annum until $1000 is reached.

A motion was passed recommending that the Council pay to the Board of Education the sum of money required for the month of February.

War to Peace

Article No. 7 Cut out for Reference.

Bringing Our Soldiers' Dependents to Canada

IN England, there is a colony of Canadian women who went overseas in order to be near their husbands. There are also in England and France many women who married Canadian soldiers and have never seen Canada.

It is one of the duties that Canada has incurred through the war to bring back these dependents of our soldiers with all speed, and to help establish their home life.

Up till the time the Armistice was signed, some 22,000 women and children were returned. There still remain about 50,000 to be brought back.

These 50,000 soldiers' dependents will be returned to Canada at the public expense. Those who have already arrived in Canada since November 11th, 1918, will have their ocean and railway fare refunded by the Government.

The facilities for transporting soldiers and their dependents are limited to about 30,000 monthly. Therefore, women and children will be returned to Canada at the rate of about 5,000 to 7,000 each month. Many of the women will be accompanied by their husbands. On every boat carrying 200 or more unaccompanied women there is a Y.W.C.A. secretary.

At the Ports.

To these 50,000 returning women and children every care is being given. Until they reach the shores of Canada they are in charge of the Overseas Militia Department.

At HALIFAX they are welcomed by the Women's Reception Committee, composed of women who have been engaged in war activities. This committee has been organized for nearly two years and has been doing splendid work.

At ST. JOHN there is also a committee representing all the organizations interested. This committee, although more recently formed, is giving excellent service. The National Y.W.C.A. has assigned two secretaries for work at this port.

On each of these Committees there is a trained nurse to give necessary attendance.

At the ports the organizations meet every boat. Locate the women's luggage. Take charge of the babies. Bring the women to a cosy rest room. Here cots and baths are provided for the children. Hot lunch can be secured. Overnight accommodation is arranged.

Women who are too sick to proceed on their journey are taken to the local hospitals. Women who are without money receive assistance from the Patriotic Fund; are provided with lunch baskets and money to buy meals on the train.

These organizations also secure the railroad tickets for the women, get their money changed, give them such information as they need. The workers accompany the women to the train.

The Repatriation Committee have a nurse, trained in social work, lent by the Victorian Order of Nurses to act as the committee's representative at each port.

On the Train.

On each train carrying unaccompanied women and children there is a Red Cross nurse, experienced in social service who has been enrolled by the Canadian Association of Graduate Nurses. This nurse carries with her first aid supplies and an emergency fund of money furnished by the Red Cross Society.

Telegrams are sent ahead to the local branch of the Patriotic Fund and to the local Reception Committees giving the number who will arrive.

On Arrival.

The Rotary Clubs of Canada have undertaken to provide motor cars to take the women and children from the station to their homes.

The Patriotic Fund have undertaken to provide temporary accommodation and other necessary assistance at cities and towns en route and at points of destination.

The main function of this nation-wide organization is to care for soldiers' dependents. It is therefore fitting that they should be responsible for arrangements for all the returning women and children.

Many other well-known organizations have been doing admirable work—meeting trains, providing rest-rooms, canteens and hostels and generally caring for the women and children. It is important that these organizations continue this work and co-operate as closely as possible with the Patriotic Fund.

Hugh Robertson, Veteran, Will Be In Charge Of Employment Bureau

Quarters Have Been Secured in Old Snowden House Block and Place Will Be Open for Business in a Few Days.

There will be a Government Employment Office in operation in this city within the next few days. Mr. Hugh Robertson, a returned soldier and labor man, will be in charge and the agency will be located in quarters that have been secured in the basement of the Snowden hotel block recently converted into an apartment house.

Capt. Burnham recently wrote the Minister of Labor on this subject and this morning received the following reply:

Dear Mr. Burnham,

As I promised I took up with Dr. Riddell, Superintendent of Employment Service for Ontario, the question of opening an employment office in Peterboro.

This morning I am in receipt of a letter advising that an office will be opened there in the very near future, and that office accommodation was secured there on Friday last.

This, I trust, will meet the need of Peterboro citizens.

Yours very truly,

G. D. ROBERTSON.

Mr. H. C. Hudson the provincial inspector of the labor bureaus that are being established was in the city the other day and had a conference with Mr. G. A. Gillespie, M. L.A., who assisted him in securing office rooms. The new quarters will be fitted up at once and the bureau will be in full operation by next week at the latest.

Mr. Hugh Robertson, who will be in charge of the office, was recommended for the position by the Trades Council, a recommendation that was backed up by Mr. Gillespie, when Inspector Hudson was in the city the other day. Mr. Robertson has been called to Toronto where he will receive instructions in his new duties.

Mr. Robertson is a native of this city, a member of the Molders' Union and of the pioneer labor unionists in Peterboro. He spent nearly four years in the service and is now suffering from the effects of his military service for which he draws an annual pension. Three of his brothers also enlisted. He was rejected at his first application but he went from one recruiting office to another until finally the doctors passed him.

Everyone feels that thechoice is an admirable one and labor and veterans alike will be given a fair show for Mr. Robertson's administration.

FIRING SQUAD WENT ON STRIKE

GERMAN SOLDIERS WHO REFUSED TO SHOOT NURSE EDITH CAVELL.

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—Captain Bob Pearson, a Methodist minister who joined the Canadian Expeditionary Force as a combatant officer early in the war and who was elected to the Alberta Legislature as one of the soldier representatives, passed through Ottawa from Bonn, Germany.

Capt. Pearson tells a new story of the last moments of Edith Cavell, as told him by nurses who had worked with her. One hour before her execution she wrote a letter to another nurse, who had become a victim of the drug habit as an anodyne to the horrors of war, but who had promised to give it up. In her last letter Nurse Cavell told this girl to keep her promise, and that the feeling that she would do so would help her to die happy.

Capt. Pearson added that he was informed by these nurses that the first firing squad told to shoot Miss Cavell mutinied and would not do it. Another squad was soon obtained, however.

Lloyd George and his daughter have been on a motor trip to Chateau Thierry and other scenes of battle.

Raise Salary Of Lakefield Pastor

REV. J. F. JULL'S SERVICES IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH APPRECIATED.

(Special to The Review.)

Lakefield, Jan. 23.—The annual meeting of Lakefield Presbyterian congregation was held in the church on Tuesday evening last. The meeting was one of the best in the history of the congregation. The various reports showed a considerable measure of progress throughout the year. The membership roll showed a net increase of 16. The debt was reduced by $300, with a good prospect of being entirely wiped out within the new few weeks.

Envelope and plate collections increased from $1886 to $1507 and missions from $168 to $389.01. The young people and their friends purchased and paid for a new piano for the school room. The W.M.S. and S. S. also reported a successful year.

The congregation requested the National Service Committee to recommend some suitable form of memorial for the soldiers of the congregation, decided to adopt the policy of an annual every-person canvas for ordinary revenue and missions and increased the stipend of the pastor, Rev. P. L. Juel, by $100.

After the business had been transacted the congregation spent a very pleasant social hour together in the school room.

Toronto Burglar Goes to Gallows

FRANK MCCULLOUGH IS FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER OF CONSTABLE WILLIAMS.

Toronto, Jan. 23.—Showing hardly any signs of emotion other than a biting of his lower lip, Frank McCullough, who for the last two days has been on trial for the murder of acting Detective Frank Williams on November 19, received his sentence at the hands of Justice Rose at 8.50 last night, whereby he will be hanged in Toronto jail on Friday, May 2, 1919. The trial throughout had been marked by the prisoner's apparent indifference, and up to last night he remained true to his pre-established boast made on the night of his arrest, when he declared that "no tears would go to the gallows with him."

His counsel, T. C. Robinette, K.C., before the sentence, asked that he be given as much time as possible to appeal for commutation. If the evidence warranted it, an application for a re-hearing would be made.

McCullough appeared quite cool and collected when the jury went out for the first time, and chatted unconcernedly with his guards and members of the detective force. The only time he showed any evidence of his feelings was when the jury came back to have W. D. Cross' evidence re-read to them.

Pays For Petting Fancy Canine

London, Ont., Jan. 23.—While stopping to stroke a pet dog, Mrs. C. Fidler of Mount Pleasant avenue had the lobe of her ear snapped off by the animal. Several stitches were required to bind the remaining portion of the ear together, but the wound is healing, and there is little danger of complications.

SURGEONS WERE BOUND TO TABLE

IN THIS POSITION THEY REMOVED SOLDIER'S APPENDIX ON TRANSPORT.

New York, Jan. 23.—Two army surgeons, lashed to an improvised operating table, removed the appendix of Corporal E. O. Williams, of the 56th Artillery, while the cruiser South Dakota was being rocked by forty-foot waves at sea, it was learned upon the arrival of the ship here.

The South Dakota nosed into port after a stormy voyage just ahead of the cruiser Montana, after a race across the Atlantic, which started at Brest, France, on January 4. The South Dakota brought 1,541 troops and teh Montana 1,311.

Two days out from Brest Corporal Williams was stricken with a severe attack of appendicitis. Despite the fact that the ship was storm tossed, the surgeons decided that an operation was necessary.

Tie Doctors to Table.

Capt. J. M. Lubby stopped the cruiser. While forty-foot waves rocked her, Williams was placed on an improvised operating table. To either side of the table Major Cresman and Lieut. C. A. Wood, U. S. army surgeons, lashed themselves. Between lurch s ace op ration was performed, and the patient was removed to the sick bay.

When the South Dakota reached the army piers at Hoboken, Williams was removed to St. Mary's Hospital, where it is said he is doing nicely and will recover.

During the storm the pilot house of the South Dakota was wrecked while Capt. Lubby, Commander R. F. Caldwell, Lieut. Montgomery and three quartermasters were in it. The three first named officers were badly cut and bruised and the quartermasters were so badly hurt, they have been in the sick bay since the accident.

Fired Last Shot of War.

Among the officers on the South Dakota was Capt. H. C. Carpenter of Battery C, 66th Coast Artillery, who, according to members of his organization, fired the last shot of the war. At any rate Capt. Carpenter sent over one shot near Sedan between 10:58 and 11 a.m. on November 11, the day the armistice was signed.

"But I took pity on the poor devils and fired into the air," Capt. Carpenter said, regarding the incident.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates gack to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appear, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date- Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it, and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

DEMANDS $50 FOR AN INJURED EAR

CITY OFFERS TO SETTLE WITH MR. PERRY FOR $35.

At the meeting of the Legal Committee last night Alderman Garside reported upon a rather peculiar accident of which Mr. W. J. Perry was the victim and as a result of which he demands damages.

While riding a bicycle along Chamberlain street a short time ago he turned out to pass a vegetable wagon and the branch of a tree pierced his ear drum in such a manner as to necessitate the services of a physician to extract it.

Mr. Perry was confined to his home for a week as a result of his mishap and at once consulted a lawyer as to his chances of making the city come across with enough money to reimburse him for the loss of time which he valued at $35 and the doctor's fee, which amounted to $5. The lawyer informed him that his chances in this connection were the brightest imaginable and tacked another $10 fee onto the $40 which he already demanded. This made Mr. Perry's bill as presented to the Council $50.

Alderman Garside stated that he had no doubt as to the extent of Mr. Perry's injury as he had himself examined the lacerated eardrum but he did express the utmost surprize at the $10 fee demanded by the lawyer.

In accordance with the advice of the police who reported upon the accident and the suggestion of Mr. Garside the offending tree has been trimmed.

A motion was passed authorizing Alderman Garside to offer Mr. Perry $35 to reimburse him for his loss of time which was to be paid by the city treasurer upon the former signing a release of his claim.

Switzerland Asks Access to Seas

Paris, Jan. 23.—The views and desires of the Swiss Federal Council, whose President, Gustave Ador, is now in Paris to present to President Wilson, Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George and other allied statesmen, include particularly a request for international compacts giving Switzerland access to the sea by way of the Rhine, the Rhone and the Po. Switzerland also desires to obtain the right of traffic over important railroads to the sea, and to the eastern countries of Europe.

Air Route to All The Dominions

London, Jan. 23.—At a banquet given by the Imperial Air Fleet Committee to celebrate Great Britain's victory in the air over Germany, Gen. Seely said air routes to all the great Dominions of Great Britain must be secured, and that he saw no reason why, in the lifetime of nearly all those present, there should not be great air roujes to every part of the British Empire, including Canada, Newfoundland, India and even the most distant parts of the Pacific Ocean. He added that in the effort to increase traffic throughout the world at large Great Britain meant to secure first place in generous rivalry.

CITY COUNCIL TO WELCOME MR. TAFT

WILL PAY EXPENSES OF DINNER TONIGHT AT THE EMPRESS.

It was after ten o'clock last night the Legal Committee got down to business with Alderman Turner in the chair. Ex-President Taft's visit today occasioned some discussion in regard to the reception to be tendered him.

Chairman Turner outlined the program which had been set for the day and which was published in Wednesday's papers. The council will attend the dinner at the Empress this evening and as many of them as desire will then proceed to the Grand Opera House where they have been invited to occupy seats upon the platform during Mr. Taft's address. As the Council are welcoming the American visitor on behalf of the city it was felt as a matter of principle that the expenses connected with the dinner should be paid by the municipality. At the meeting in the Opera House, however, the members of the council will pay their own way.

Mr. Carvell's Visit

In connection with Mr. Carvell's visit on Friday it was decided to engage the Grand Opera House as the most suitable place in which to have him speak. When he arrives he will be met by Chairman Turner, Mayor Duncan and Capt. Burnham, M.P., and will be shown about the city until evening when the council will entertain him to dinner in the Empress Hotel. Arrangements have been made with the Veterans' Band to play at 7.30 in front of the Empress and later in front of the Opera House.

STUDENTS TO BE PHYSICALLY FIT

CANDIDATES FOR UNIVERSITY COURSE MUST SUBMIT TO MEDICAL EXAMINATION.

The University of Toronto will require all male students in the future to undergo a physical examination at the hands of the university medical officer for the purpose of locating any physical disabilities and prescribing a suitable course of physical training in order to overcome the defect.

Sir Robert Falconer stated that the university would not adopt the system about to be introduced in several of the large American universities of requiring all male students before enrolling to undergo a thorough medical examination for the purpose of learning if they were suffering from any physical ailment which would render it impossible for them to carry on the work of the university as well as on to mental alertness and if necessary refuse them admission. Sir Robert stated that such a course was both impracticable and impossible in connection with the local university. He intimate dthat the compulsory physical examination inaugurated two years ago in connection with military drill would be continued despite the fact that drill has been cancelled, temporarily at least.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK FEVERISH CHILD

IF LITTLE STOMACH IS SOUR, LIVER TORPID, OR BOWELS CLOGGED.

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When, cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

NEGRO SOLDIERS ARE FINE GUARDS

HUNS UNABLE TO ESCAPE WHILE COLORED MEN WATCH THEM.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 23. — In the field artillery training camp at Coequidan, France, where the units of the Dixie division now stationed at Camp Gordon, received their finishing touches, there was a large number of German and Austrian prisoners at work or in the stockades. The Southern men were proud of the manner in which the negro soldiers of the South guarded the Hun prisoners.

Feared by Prisoners.

"There wasn't a single chance in the world for a prisoner to get away as long as a Georgia negro equipped with a bayonet was in the job," said one of the Savannah men in the 117th. "The negro guards made no bones about their desire to be given the opportunity of seeing what 'eho nuff' bayonet fighting felt like, and the German prisoners feared them worse than they did anything on earth. When a Georgia negro guard ordered Fritzie, at the point of a bayonet, to 'lift dat garbage can to dat wagon and show some speed,' Frits gave an exhibition of perfect obedience never witnessed by officers of the kaiser.

"Three or four hundred Hun prisoners were often assigned to a single guard and never one attempted to get away. In the first place, they were well fed and housed and were much better off than they were in the German army, and in the second place they had a mortald read of cold steel and a tremendous respect for the negro soldier's ability to use it.

Liked Negro's Singing.

"While fearing the American negro soldiers worse than they did the kaiser, the Fritzies were deeply interested in the singing of the negro troops. While a file of singing colored soldiers marched by where the Hun prisoners were working industry was suspended while the prisoners listened in amazement.

"One of them expressed to me his intense surprise that such fighters could sing so beautifully."

The other states will be: 11, Saxony; 12, Baden; 13, Wurtemburg; 14, Bavaria; 15, Austria; 16, Vienna and suburbs.

Cave Dwellers in France.

In prehistoric times, when man had to fight with wild beasts not only for food but for life, he found a welcome refuge in grottoes and caverns. But as soon as humanity had achieved some degree of progress in civilization our ancestors forsook these primitive natural shelters for more comfortable dwellings. Our readers, therefore, remarks the Scientific American, doubtless imagine that the troglodyte ceased to exist many centuries ago, at any rate in Europe. Yet even today there may be found Frenchmen who live underground only a few hundred kilometers from Paris.

Charm of a Rabbit Foot.

An explanation of the marvelous and mysterious properties of the rabbit foot as a good luck piece is to be found in the fact that witchcraft regarded the rabbit as a particularly mystical animal. The favorite disguise of the witches of old was to take the form of a rabbit—a close second was the cat—and records again and again show convictions and executions of women for the fearful crime of changing themselves into rabbits. A rabbit foot was a potent charm against the evil spells of the witch-rabbit.

Insane Pretend Insanity.

A rather paradoxical message comes from the Paris Medical. In general, it seems, the doctor is not lightly to dismiss insanity which is obviously simulated. A pathological basis should be sought. There are cases where the patient is insane to pretend to be insane.

Happiness Above All.

Care of the Telephone.

The telephone is a fine receptacle for germs of every kind, and little attention is paid to sterilizing this much-used machine. It should be washed out with alcohol as often as required, and to keep the dust out of it make a small round cover of soft leather or heavy cloth and stitch a broad ribbon around the edge, through which can be run a drawing string or elastic. Put this over the transmitter.

Well Described.

JESS WILLARD IS STILL CHAMPION OF THE WORLD

Bout at New Orleans Between Dempsey and Miske Cannot Affect Big Fellow's Title

New York, Jan. 21.—The followers of pugilism do not take seriously the reports coming from New Orleans saying that Jack Dempsey and Billy Miske will meet there in a twenty round contest to decide the heavyweight championship of the world, and that Jess Willard, the present holder of the title by virtue of his ring activities in Havana, April 1915, is not to be taken into consideration when this title bout is presented. A twenty round bout between Jack Dempsey, the leading contender for the heavyweight honors, and Billy Miske, the rugged St. Paul battler, would be welcomed by the rustic fans throughout the country, but when ot is decided to have those two men meet to decide the championship they are going a bit too far. Jess Willard is the champion and nobody can wrest the title from him by employing any tactics other than defeating him in the ring, declares Iconoclast.

Dempsey has hurled challenge after challenge at the champion, but the conqueror of Jack Johnson has turned a deaf ear to them. As champion that is his privilege. It is true that a majority of fight fans throughout the country are sick and disgusted with the actions of the champion, since he refused to defend his title, and it may be that some of those will die of their affliction before he enters the ring again. Until he is defeated in the ring or announces his retirement he must be regarded as the titleholder and to promote a "championship" contest with his crown at stake and without him having something to say about it is a joke.

Miske has agreed to meet Dempsey in a twenty round bout and if the contest is advertised as a "championship" affair, it is not at all unlikely that it will not be looked upon seriously, as it would mean nothing, but if it was run off as a bout to decide the supremacy of the two foremost contenders for the crown it would attract widespread interest throughout the country. No date has been set for the battle, but it will probably be held before the present racing season in the Crescent City comes to an end.

Miske is one of the two men whom Dempsey has not knocked for a goal, the other heavy who was not put to sleep by Jack being Willie Meehan, the Frisco lad. Miske and Dempsey have met twice. Their last battle was fought in Philadelphia, Thanksgiving Day, and Miske was on his feet at the end of the sixth and last round, but he was outpointed. In the first round, which went to Miske, the St. Paul battler landed two solid blows to Jack's jaw, and although Miske put all his strength behind the blows they were not hard enough to topple over Jask. During the bout Miske proved the better boxer, while Dempsey showed that more ring experience would do him no harm.

How Miske would fare in a long bout is the cause of much speculation Dempsey has a death-dealing blow in either hand, and if Miske succeeds in dodging them during the first ten rounds, many believe that he has a good change of staying on his feet the rest of the route. In the early going the St. Paul heavyweight may wear down Dempsey, and this may pave the road for a Miske victory later on. As to height and weight both appear about evenly matched. Dempsey is a fraction of an inch short of six feet, while Miske towers six feet. Jack, when he fought Gunboat Smith in Buffalo, weighed 190 pounds, while Miske weighed about 185.

HOW SILENT MIKE TIERMAN MADE FAN OF MR. STONEMAN

Famous Slugger of Old Days in Baseball History Aroused the Enthusiasm of a Broker in the Game.

(By W. A. Collins.)

New York, Jan. 23.—If it were not for "Silent" Mike Tierman, the old Giant outfielder who died several months ago, the deal by which the New York Baseball Club of the National League because the property of John J. McGraw, Charles A. Stoneman nd Francis X. McQuade the other day, might never have materialized. At least Mr. Stoneman would not have been one of the purchasers and the new president of the club.

John J. McGraw would no doubt have secured other backers. The little Napoleon has been determined to own the Giant club that his genius built up, and he is a hard man to keep from gaining any end upon which he has set his mind. But the deal as it was consummated the other day was indirectly due to Mike Tierman, now lying cold in death.

Charles A. Stoneman, the new president of the Giants, is a curb broker of 41 Broad street. He is also reputed to be many times a millionaire.

His interest in baseball, until he bought the Giants, was that of a fan. And Charles A. Stoneman was, and will always be, a Giant fan because of Mike Tierman.

"Poor old Mike is responsible for my entry into baseball as part owner of the Giants," says Mr. Stoneman. "I am sorry that he could not have lived to see me in control of the New York club.

"Of course I have been a close friend of John J. McGraw's for twelve years or more. It is only because of my confidence and belief in him that I agreed to finance the buying of the Giants and assume the presidency of the club. But I would probably never have known McGraw but for Mike Tierman.

"When I was a boy in Jersey City, back in the '80's, Mike Tierman was my idol. He was with the Jersey City Club then. Those were the days of great batters, but to my boyish eyes there was no hitter quite like Silent Mike.'

"Then came the time when Mike went away from Jersey City. He was taken by the Giants. I can remember well now how wrathful I felt at the New York club for grabbing him.

"After a while I decided that whatever team Mike Tierman played on was my team. So I began attending the Giants' games at the old Polo Grounds.

"I have been a Giant fan ever since. I have followed the club through its ups and downs under Freedman, Brush and Hempstead. I saw the club in the erut when John J. McGraw came to New York in 1902. I watched with interest his success in lifting it up to where the name of Giants stood for everything worth while in the game.

"Some twelve years ago I met McGraw personally. We have many interests in common, including a love of baseball and a love for thoroughbred racing.

"I have made some money downtown. When McGraw broached the question of buying the Giants to me I thought well of it.

"I only asked McGraw one question before I decided to become his partner in purchasing the club: 'Will you agree to retain the managership?' I said. When he replied that he would, I was eager to put the deal through.

"I believe that the success of the Giants from a financial standpoint, as well as that of playing, has been due to the genius of McGraw. To me he is the big man of baseball.

"I am happy to be associated with him. I think that together, and with the help of Judge McQuade, we will see that the popularity of the team does not grow less.

"We shall be guided by McGraw's experience in baseball. All of us have ideas that we think might better the sport. But McGraw has given his lifetime to the game. Where we think and surmise he knows by experience.

"But don't forget that poor old Mike Tierman was the man who made me a Giant fan. If it had not been for Mike I would probably never have known McGraw or thought of becoming a club owner in the National League. Worse still I might have remained in Jersey City."

HAMILTON DOESN'T WANT AN ALL-CANADIAN LEAGUE.

Hamilton, Jan. 23.—Knotty Lee's idea of reorganizing the Canadian League with eight Ontario cities does not meet with the approval of local baseball fans, nor does Tom Nelson, the Brantford magnate, see things in the same light as "Knotty." Cities like Guelph, Kitchener, St. Thomas and St. Catharines cannot support a professional team, and there is little satisfaction in having a league in which the smaller cities and where all the holiday and Saturday dates are given to the larger places. Nelson is in favor of a league with three Michigan and three Ontario cities, and that idea appears to be the popular one in London also. "Knotty" will have his troubles interesting Hamilton people in a league such as he proposes, but if he can form the Michigan-Ontario circuit he will get all kinds of support.

Jess Willard Is Afraid to Fight

REFUSES AN OFFER OF $101,000 TO MEET JACK DEMPSEY.

New York, Jan. 23.—"Cyclone Bill" Lyons blew in from Denver Monday night in time to see the Leonard-Dundee fight, and, incidentally, to disclose some inside facts anent the proposed Willard-Dempsey championship bout. According to Lyon, the heavyweight title-holder was offered finish bout at Colorado Springs, but Jess turned it down flat.

"The published of The Denver Post wired Willard, at Lawrence, the following telegram," said Lyons: "Offer you $101,000 to meet Dempsey, finish bout, Colorado Springs."

"In a short space of time Jess sent his answer. It gave me and the publisher a big laugh. Can you imagine what he said? These are the very words: 'Cannot accept because meeting Dempsey might physically incapacitate me.' I don't know who wrote the answer for Jess, but isn't it a pippin?"

Lyons stated that boxing is one for a big boom beyond the Rockies. The Denver A.C. on February 22 will stage a match between Benny Leonard and Jack Britton for ten rounds. The proposed match is the same as the one on which Freddy Welsh defended his lightweight crown against Charley White two years ago.

"It is almost impossible to drag Jess into the ring with a formidable man," continued Lyons. "He doesn't want to box any more. He had accumulated a fortune, and he is going to rest on his laurels. Dempsey is a big hit in and around Denver. They figure him a tremendous card in a bout with Willard.

"I have been commissioned to arrange several bouts for the Denver A.C. while I'm in town. We've got Benny for the 22nd. They are trying to match Billy Miske with Dempsey for the near future.

"In my rounds around the country, I can see where boxing is going to come back better than ever before."

Some pretty women are unconscious of their beauty, but the majority are not even momentarily forgetful.

CAVAN

Cavan, Jan. 23.—Private Sandy Sisson arrived home from the front on Friday evening. All his friends were pleased to see him safely back again.

Cavanville and South Monaghan Sunday School convention took place at Cavanville on Wednesday. The attendance was very large.

Mrs. Wm. Howden and Miss Daisy visited Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wright last week.

Mr. Willis Howden, of Millbrook, visited friends here on Sunday.

Mrs. James Roddy has been quite ill for the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Armstrong, of Manvers, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John White.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Preston, of Smith, spent the week-end with Mr and Mrs. John Morrison.

London Favors A Canadian League

London, Ont., Jan. 23—"Joe Jo" Keenan, the London man behind the revival of organized baseball in this section of the Province, was surprised at the contention of Thos. J. Nelson, the former President of the Brantford club in the Canadian League of 1915, that he would support only a circuit that included three or more Michigan cities. Such an organization would be only an experiment according to Mr. Keenan since he has had considerable to do with the game in Michigan cities in his long career. The only thing in favor of Nelson's plan is the fact that Sunday ball is possible, and this could be taken advantage of by a weekly expedition by the various Canadian team, as there are many strong teams at Bay City, Saginaw, Flint, and other towns, where exhibition games could be played.

To undertake a revival of baseball in cities like London, Hamilton, Brantford, Kitchener, St. Thomas, Cuelph, St. Catharines and Chatham, is not so much of an experiment as the Michigan bloomer, since the reorganization plans can be taken up right where the league left off in 1915. These cities retain the same interests with new blood in various quarters and with more enthusiasm than was shown in the old organization.

If the new league provides the fans with as fast baseball as was played in the Canadian League during 1911 they will ask nothing more from the club owners this year. The baseball fan does not care nor does he want to know whether Class D, C or B ball is played. Classification to the fan means nothin, but he knows baseball that he intends to support.

Class in organized baseball is governed by population and salary limits, and one only needs to refer to the Kitchener team of 1911, which lived up to a salary limit of $,200 monthly and won easily in competitation with clubs that did not know what salary limit means. Some undoubtedly reached $1,800.

One trouble with the man who is fond of his own jokes is that he expects everybody else to be fond of them.

It sometimes happens that after eating his cake the small boy makes the painful discovery that he still has it.

Mr. George Wallace, of Millbrook, spent Sunday with Cavan friends.

Miss Clara White spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. John McKnight.

Miss Thelma Spencer, of Millbrook, was the guest of Miss Audrey Cathcart on Sunday.

The old Hutchinson homestead, one mile south of Cavanville, was completely destroyed by fire on Tuesday night. The tenant, Mr. John McKnight, has been a heavy loser, as the fire took place in the night and very little was saved.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

JONES—RAPER.

A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Knox Church, Rev. J. A. McKenzie officiating, when Elva Lillian, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Raper, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Albert Jones of this city.

The bride was prettily attired in a travelling suit of navy blue, taupe satin hat and wore mink furs, the gift of the groom.

Miss Marie Easson was bridesmaid while Mr. Robt. Grandy of Omemee ably supported the groom. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold brooch set with pearls and to the groomsman a set of gold cuff links.

The gifts were numerous and costly, including a handsome reading-lamp from the Examiner office, testifying the esteem in which the young couple were held.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Jones left on the 3.47 p.m. train amid showers of best wishes and confetti, for Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo. On their return they will reside at 546 Stewart street and will be at home after March 1.

BELL—BAILEY.

Tuesday at high noon a very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. Canon Davidson at St. John's Church, Peterborough, when Agnes May Bailey was united in marriage to William Bell of this city. The bride was very prettily dressed in a pale blue crepe de chine dress, with a Brussels net veil, with a wreath of orange blossoms. They were attended by close friends, Miss Emily Griffiths acting as bridesmaid and Mr. Clement Leggett supporting the groom.

Miss Bailey was attached to the Royal Air Corps in England and lately came out to Mr. Bell, who had seen considerable service in France with the Canadian Expeditionary Forces. Both parties received many congratulations from their friends, and were much pleased with the many gifts both from England and in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell will probably make their home in Peterborough.

Inspector and Mrs. H. F. Ward, 73 Morrow street, entertained their friends last night to a dance and social evening in honor of their friend, Miss Hettie Gould, who is leaving in the near future for Toronto.

Judge MacDonald, of Kingston, after he had witnessed a performance of "In Sunny France" in Brockville, called up Wilson MacDonald and said: "Mr. MacDonald I would like to congratulate you on the prettiest show I have seen in many years."

EDITOR'S MAIL

COLLECTION FOR THE PRINCESS

Editor Review—After the announcement of the engagement of Her Royal Highness Princess Patricia of Connaught, the wives of the Lieutenant Governors of the various provinces of the Dominion were asked to hold a silver shower of five cents and upwards in order that the people of Canada might have the opportunity, should they desire to contribute, of sending a national gift to show their appreciation and regard for one who became endeared to so many during Her Royal Highnesses stay in Canada, and in remembrance of the war work accomplished by the Duke of Connaught and the great interest which he evinced in our soldiers from coast to coast, as well as the famous Princess Patricia Light Infantry, so dear to the hearts of the Canadians.

The collection will be purely voluntary and the nature of the gift will be decided upon as soon as it is known what amount has been collected. I am therefore asking the people throughout the Province of Ontario, through the press to co-operate with me in this voluntary collection towards the wedding gift for the Princess, either individually or through any organized Society or Association to which they may belong, and this letter will be the only intimation either to individuals or societies.

Sir Edmund Walker has kindly consented to be the Hon. Treasurer of the fund, and all monies should be sent to him on or before February 20th, 1919, to the Canadian Bank of Commerce, 23 King Street, West, Toronto.

Frank L. Jenne's Peace Benefit Sale

Will Cut Prices for Ten Days Below the Costs of 1914

Frank L. Jenne has decided to anticipate lower prices in the face of high wholesale costs, and on Thursday morning he will inaugurate in his Semi-Ready Store a huge Peace Benefit Sale. Every article in his store, from hats to hosiery and from suits to cravats, will be cut down—in some cases to nearly half their present value. Nothing will be reserved.

"Every Semi-Ready suit and every overcoat; every shirt and all cravats all hats, hosiery—nothing will be hidden away. It will be a no disappointment sale," said Mr. Jenne.

"There is no reason or cause for this unreserved sale beyond the fact that I am going to do my bit to try and make prices come down a notch," he said. "And many of the articles which I will advertise in detail in tomorrow's paper will be far below the wholesale price at which I can replace them.

"The Semi-Ready Company, the only clothiers in Canada with permanent warehouses and weaving facilities in England, have been a factor in keeping the cost of clothes down in Canada. Prices were so much lower here than in the United States that in the border cities of Canada half the trade in the Semi-Ready Stores was with Americans. Even the officers of the U.S. Army bought thousands of tunics from the Semi-Ready Stores. And so close were the costs in Canada as compared with those in England that returning soldiers say that clothes are as cheap today in our cities as in London.

"I am going to clear out some lines entirely," continued Mr. Jenne.

"My men's furnishing department will be fully as interesting as anything I have in Semi-Ready tailoring.

"I just want to emphasize in conclusion that no other store in this city can show a single Semi-Ready tailored garment."

SATURDAY'S FINE BILL AT GRAND

Owing to the two meetings booked for the Grand, ex-President Taft tonight, and the Hon. F. B. Carvell tomorrow (Friday) night, there will be only one more day of pictures at the Grand Opera House this week, and that is on Saturday next, Jan. 25. For this day a very attractive program has been arranged by the management. Taylor Holmes in Ruggles of Red Gap," in six reels, will be the feature picture. Charlie Chaplin will be on the bill in "A Hotel Mix-up," and in addition to this comedy there will be two other good comedy reels shown.

The popular Pathe news, giving all the current events of the day, and a Judge Brown story in two reels will complete a splendid 12-reel program. In order to permit of a full dress rehearsal for "In Sunny France" the matinee on Saturday will commence at 2 p.m. and the evening performance at 8 p.m. Patrons will please bear these hours in mind. Make it a point to attend the Grand Saturday and you will see a great show. Same prices, matinee 10c, evening 15c.

"Ruggles of Red Gap" is one of the many charming stories of frontier life from the pen of Harry Leon Wilson. It is a vivid and amusing recital of the attempts made by the socially ambitious in a western town to imitate the modes of the English aristocracy and tells of the adventures of members of the overseas nobility in the same surroundings, winding up with the marriage of an English lord to a former ballet-dancer whose face and figure were her fortune.

Are Looking For Larger Quarters

For some time the Lavois Knitters have been thinking of seeking another building for the sale for their plant on account of the steady growth of their business.

Several locations have been considered but no definite decision has been arrived at as yet. The market building in Ashburnham was thought of in this connection but it is not known whether or not the firm considers it suitable.

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT OUTLINES HIS PLANS FOR FORMATION OF A LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Capacity House Greets the Distinguished American Last Night—A Scheme, Practically Perfect in Details, to Ensure Perpetual Peace.

The Grand Opera House was taxed to capacity last night by the throng of people who turned out to hear the address of Ex-President William Howard Taft, who came to this city as one of the speakers of the Chautauqua Lyceum course secured and arranged for by the Local Council of Women.

Upon the platform with the lecturer were the Mayor and Aldermen of the city, local members of the Bar and other representative citizens.

The first number upon the program was an appropriate one by Mrs. G. H. King, who sang "The Star Spangled Banner," and "A Khaki Lad." Mrs. Morris Park gave the French rendering of the Marseillaise and in conjunction with her husband Capt. Park, sang a duet entitled "The Garden of My Heart." All three singers are well known to Peterborough audiences and their contributions last night were exceptional and received the commendation they deserved.

Mr. R. R. Hall presided and in his introductory address complimented the Local Council of Women upon the enterprise they had shown in arranging a series of entertainments of a standard which would prove a decided stimulus to education and moral elevation.

He referred to the friendly relations which have existed between the Canadian people and their American cousins for over a century and which were never upon such a firm foundation as at the present time when we have but recently emerged from a war in which both peoples have striven side by side and come forth victoriously after having secured for the countries of Central Europe that freedom which makes possible government of the people, for the people by the people, which the United States obtained long years ago and which worked out so satisfactorily there that it influenced England in extending democratic privileges to Canada and her other colonies.

As a result of the war the two great branches of the Anglo Saxon race will stand together throughout all time and will be found upon terms of the closest friendship wherever the English language is spoken.

The Ex-President's Address

Ex-President Taft at the outset of his address referred in terms of the highest praise to the good accomplished by the National Council of Women as an association devoted to the enlightment and moral improvement of the people. His visit to Canada afforded him the greatest

The Ideals of a True Statesman

It was a welcome as manifold as it was hearty that the people of Peterborough extended yesterday to the city's distinguished guest, ex-President Taft. The members of the Bar hailed him as one of the brightest ornaments of the profession. Patriotic Canadians welcomed him as a warm and disinterested friend of the British and Canadian peoples and a champion of the cause of the Allies since the first days of th war. He has been acclaimed as the man who, now that peace has been restored to the world, would make that peace perpetual, not a mere breathing spell in which the warring nations might gather new strength for another conflict, more sanguinary than the last. Added to all these outstanding virtues is the fact that Mr. Taft has held the highest office in the American Republic, a country with which Canada has lived in unbroken and unthreatened amity for the past hundred years and between whom the bonds of friendship were never so strong as they are today. The visit of ex-President Taft to this city was an event of international importance, and his tour of the Province cannot fail to influence the future relations of the two nations of the northern part of the western continent.

In his address at the Grand Opera House last night Mr. Taft gave an outline of his own ideas as to the constitution of the proposed league of nations, although it is likely that he is in this matter in accord with the views of President Wilson and the majority of the American people among whom the movement took definite form three years ago. It may be that the plan is in advance of the present spirit of the age, that the ideals are high, but no man or nation ever attained anything lacking a lofty aim.

Ex-President Taft brings to bear upon his subject the trained mentality of the able jurist. His plan as outlined last night is judicially perfect in every detail. Every contingency that is likely to arise in the operation of the scheme, if it is finally adopted, has been anticipated and provided against so far as it is humanly possible to do so. The league of nations he hopes to see born of the peace negotiations now in progress would be a power in which every geographical section of civilization that showed its fitness would be eligible for membership, a power that would transcend that of any single sovereignty on earth, and which, sitting as a court of justice, with malice or enmity toward none, would shape the destiny of the world.

What warrant has Mr. Taft, or the country of which he is an outstanding citizen, for practically assuming a dictatorship in such a matter as this? His personal record and that of the United States is sufficient justification for what some ill-natured individuals may regard as an interference in affairs beyond the American jurisdiction. For the past century the United States has sat as the mediator in all international and internal disputes among th countries in the South American continent. There has not always been harmony in these nations, but their record will at least compare favorably with that of the half civilized nations of Europe, not to mention the frequently strained relations between the British Empire and some of her dependencies.

The United States has before this taken part in the missionary work of pacification across the ocean. That nation helped to quell the Boxer rebellion in China. The United States assumed the sovereignty of the Philippine Islands twenty years ago, and is fast training the natives in the science of self-government and in the peaceful pursuits of civilization. No Asiatic power can exploit these islands so long as the protection of the United States is vouchsafed them.

The United States set Cuba free, made Porto Rico and the Hawaii Islands parts of itself, acquired Texas and converted it into a peaceful and self-respecting commonwealth. With this record to its credit, the voice of that nation can raise itself with confidence in the deliberations which everybody hopes are to make the world a safe and better place in which to live.

If Mr. Taft did not refer specifically in his address last night to the freedom of the seas, his views on that point are well known. He believes that the British fleet is the one great factor that is to make for the safety of the world. One point of the fourteen raised by President Wilson he did make clear, and that relates to the question of what is to be done with the colonies held by Germany before the war. "We could not," he said, "look these colonies in the face if we gave them back to Germany after the way she has used them."

And, here the record of the United States stands her in good stead. Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands were not restored to Spain at the close of the Spanish-American war and Spain's colonial history is at least no blacker than that which has marked the policy of Germany in dealing with her dependencies.

Dublin, Jan. 24.—A new political association called the Irish Centre Party was formally constituted yesterday. Lisbon Declares For A Monarchy

President Wilson May Be Chairman

MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS IS WELCOMED TO THE CITY

Hon. F. B. Carvell Arrives From Ottawa This Afternoon and Is Met at Depot by Committee —The Meeting To-night.

Hon. F. B. Carvell, Minister of Public Works, arrived on the 3.35 C. P. R. train this afternoon from Ottawa. He was met at the depot by Mayor Duncan, Capt. Burnham, and J. J. Turner, Chairman of the Reception Committee and was shown the principal features of interest in the city.

This evening at the Empress Hotel the Mayor and aldermen and several of the officials and public men will have lunch with the Minister. The Great War Veterans and their band will parade and the latter will give several selections in front of the hotel at 7.30 and will then proceed to the Grand where they will again play.

At 8 o'clock in the Grand Opera House a mass meeting will be held which will be addressed by Mr. Carvell, Capt. Burnham, M.P., G. A. Gillespie, M. L. A., and Mr. R. R. Hall. There will be several musical selections and the program will be one of the best arranged in some time.

Last night the people of the city turned out to hear a great man from another country and tonight they are asked to again attend in numbers which will pack the house to listen to the address of a leading public man of our own Dominion, conversant with affairs pertaining to this country and city and who is well qualified to speak upon the outlook for the industrial future of Canada which is causing so much speculation at the present time.

Last night many people had an opportunity of seeing for the first time an American whose name became famous in this country during the days of the Reciprocity Campaign of the Laurier Government. Tonight they will see the member from Carleton, N.B., whose smashing attacks in connection with the profiteering charges led to their investigation and the removal of conditions making possible such abuses.

WILSON MACDONALD PRAISES WORK OF THE YOUNG PEOPLE

Who Will Take Part in "Sunny France" to be Presented at the Grand Opera House Next Monday and Tuesday Evenings.

Mr. Wilson MacDonald, in discussing the coming presentation of "Sunny France" today, said: "Few people have any conception of the really great and vital work that the I. O. D. E. are engaged in. This empire-wide organization is proceeding with undertakings that are wonderful in their scope both in patriotic and in charitable fields. To carry to conclusion this work, hundreds of thousands of dollars will be needed.

"The organization is bending every effort to obtain these funds.

"For instance; here in Peterborough, one of the local chapters, namely, the Peter Robinson Chapter, have been very active in many ways in order to raise the needed money to enable them to contribute their share of the burden of their order. The Peter Robinson Chapter have given dances, teas, have made and sold flags, are engaged in ushering at the local opera house, and now they are presenting "Sunny France," and it is for the purpose of supervising the production of this play that I am in Peterborough.

"The success these young ladies have met with would not have been in any way possible were it not for the extraordinary co-operation of every member of the Chapter; every one does her share; and the loyal support of the Peterborough people who give such very substantial recognition to the work and endeavors of this Chapter.

"It is indeed gratifying to find each ready response as is being received from the Peterborough people in their patronage of 'Sunny France.' The sale of seats is most encouraging.

"One thing that strikes me in particular is the cleverness and adaptability of the young people in their ready grasping of the work and their execution of the dances. The dances that are found in 'Sunny France' are classic, and I am sure that their presentation will delight the audiences here as they have in other cities of Canada where this play has been presented.

"As a matter of fact, in Victoria, B. C., we were obliged to give twenty-two performances, and this, bear in mind, by amateurs. This is an extraordinary record for an amateur play, I think you will agree.

"I was happily surprised by being informed by the officers of the Chapter that they had arranged with Mrs. Parsons to give a reading between the acts from my recently published book of Canadian poems, "The Song of the Prairie and Other Poems." This book of poems has met with most complimentary criticisms from the literary people of Canada and the United States. The poem selected is entitled 'The Girl Behind the Man Behind the Guns,' a poem characterized by Joyce Kilmer, the editor of The Literary Digest, of New York, who lost his life on the fields of France, as one of the gems of English literature."

LONDON JOURNALS FAINT IN PRAISE

OF THE PLAN TO HOLD CONFERENCE WITH RUSSIAN FACTIONS.

London, Jan. 24.—Newspapers here comment luke warmly on the plan for a conference between an allied commission and representatives of the various governments in Russia. The Post sarcastically condemns the proposal, saying, among other things, that it displays more than Christian meekness.

The Telegraph, admitting the plan to be inspired by the best motives, condemns it as being politically hazardous and ethetically wrong.

The Times, while not enthusiastically in favor of the proposal, hopes it will work, and says that even if it does not the hands of the Allies will have been strengthened by the failure.

J. Dillon, the foreign political expert of the Telegraph, writing from Paris, says the plan caused consternation in various circles in Paris and adds that he is authorized to declare that governments of Omsk Archangel, Crimea and Yekaterinodar will absolutely refuse to send representatives to the conference.

Street Car Men On Strike In Paris

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 24.—A General transportation strike was declared in Paris his morning. The subway lines, surface cars and automobile busses are affected. The strike is apparently well organized and not a wheel had turned up to half-past eight o'clock.

Ex-Kaiser Still Using Wood Saw

Amerongen, Jan. 24. — Sawing wood continues to be the chief occupation of the former German emperor, who spends several hours each morning and afternoon within the castle grounds working hard while several menservants respectfully hand him logs and pile the short sticks in heaps for use later on in the furnaces of the castle.

The shortage of coal in Holland compels the burning of wood, plentiful supplies of which are obtainable from the surrounding estate. William Hohenzollern works so well that he is able to furnish the entire consumption of the castle fires. The former emperor scarcely ever speaks to his attendants while he is at work.

The two moats which encircle the castle are now covered with ice sufficiently thick to bear skaters. Villagers, however, have been given to understand that the accustomed permission to skat on the moats cannot be accorded while the former emperor is in the castle.

Made Machine Gun That Shoots Nails

Kingston, Jan. 24.—A machine gun was recently manufactured in the Provincial penitentiary at Portsmouth. The genius was an Austrian Pole named Simondski, serving practically a life term. He was assisted by another Austrian. Before the gun was actually completed the prison authorities discovered the handiwork of the pair. When tested the gun fired nails.

Simondski was sentenced at Toronto for burglary, and in August, 1914, he escaped from the Prison Farm by felling two guards and riding off on the sentry's horse. An additional sentence of twenty years was imposed upon him after he was caught at North Bay.

Relief Afforded To Flour Millers

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—If the mills of Canada are compelled by temporary interruption to their export shipments to reduce the output of flour, the output of bran and shorts will also, of course, be affected. A proportion of bran and shorts is being released for export to the West Indies, Central and Southern America and Newfoundland. Bran and shorts from four sold in Canada will, of course, continue to be available at the fixed prices already established. The effect of the new regulation will be to afford relief to the flour millers, without detriment of Canadian farmers, as the bran and shorts allowed to be exported would not be manufactured unless an export market was found for the flour.

Thirty-four women have been elected to the National Assembly of Germany.

Nurse Is Cousin Of Edith Cavell

Stratford, Jan. 24.—At the annual nurses' graduation exercises of the General Hospital, a new feature was the presentation of 133 badges bearing the city's coat-of-arms to the nurses and helpers during the "flu" epidemic. The presentation was made by Acting Mayor John Stevenson.

Two medals for proficiency and efficiency are given each year, and it is interesting to note that the winner of one medal if Miss Florance Cavell, of Owen Sound, cousin of the martyred Edith Cavell. The other medal was won by Miss Hazel Hodder of Dutton.

THE PLAN THAT FAILED.

TO EX PRESIDENT TAFT really belongs the credit of evolving a practical plan for the prevention of war by the formation of a Court of Arbitration, which was really the nucleus of the plan now before the world. As was stated in these columns a few days ago and as Mr. Taft said in his address last night, during his presidential term he formed such an alliance with France and England [illegible]

The occasion of the signing of that treaty marked an epoch in the history of the United States. When the representatives of the three nations that were parties to it affixed their signatures, each used a number of gold pens that were distributed as mementos of what was regarded as a new triumph of diplomacy. But the obtuse United States Treaty refused to ratify the treaty and nothing came of Mr. Taft's efforts.

Had that treaty been approved by the Senate, it is not only possible but highly probable that the late war would never have occurred. England, France and the United States would have formed a combination that no other power under the sun would have been insane enough to provoke to combat. It is believed that the ex-Kaiser would never have hurled his empire into war had he been able to foresee the forces that were eventually to confront him. He relied on the neutrality of Britain, which included all the armies furnished by the dominions, and was firmly of the belief that the United States would not fight. Taking one power after the other, the way to ultimate world conquest would have been comparatively easy. England, France and the United States in what would really have been a league to preserve the peace, not only among themselves but with all other powers, would have used their united force to prevent war, just as such an aim is planned today by the proposed league of nations. If the ex-kaiser was responsible for the recent cataclysm, then it is not too much to say that ex-President Taft was the one statesman of sufficient broad vision and foresight whose wisdom would have averted the greatest tragedy that has ever convulsed the world. Mr. Taft is regarded as one of the world's foremost statesmen today. History will give him a still higher place when the ideals for which he has labored all these years have been finally achieved.

FORCE IN COMMERCE.

RETURNING with renewed vigor to a discussion of the trade question as it affects Canada and Europe, the Globe continues to call on the Government at Ottawa to do something to open the markets of the latter to Canadian bacon and flour. The Globe's argument encourages its readers in the inference that its idea is that markets are opened with a crowbar or some such burglarious appliance.

Here is a problem over which the Globe would do well to ponder. How is Canada to fare in the markets of Europe, if the price of wheat in this country is to be arbitrarily set at $2.24 a bushel while overseas wheat-growing countries are supplying the grain and its products at something less than half the figure that prevails here?

JUSTICIABLE PROBLEMS.

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT last night made clear the difference ebetween justiciable and non-justiciable problems likely to arise in human affairs. The one can be settled in a court of justice, the others are beyond the jurisdiction of either law or equity. There may be a multiplicity of laws on the statute books, but not enough yet to cover all cases that crop up from time to time.

It would be a justiciable offence, for example, for a Canadian citizen, while laboring under an excess of patriotic devotion, to go to Washington and demonstrate his disapprobation of all things American by hurling a brick through the window of the Capitol or wrecking a similar vengeance upon the presidential residence. In the same category would be classed similar actions on the part of a devoted American who so disported himself at Ottawa.

But there are other objectionable nation characteristics that cannot be dealt with by any kind of legal machinery even though the exercising of them may interfere with the international harmony that is so desirable of attainment. Newspapers and jingoes in either country can hurl metaphorical and rhetorical brickbats at each other with impunity. Fortunately such belligerents are becoming more and more rare with the passing of time, and let all pray for the utter extinction of papers and orators of this type. National relations should be similar to those which prevail among neighbors in a community. The man who hurls insinuations and epithets directed against the resident on the other side of the line fence may keep within the law, but he is a public nuisance just the same and a breeder of discord among his fellows.

GLORY ENOUGH FOR ALL.

"THERE IS GLORY enough for all," said ex-President Taft in his address last night, referring to the defeat of Germany and the part each allied nation took in bringing about that victory. "There should be no jealousy, no enmity, between any of the various powers."

Mr. Taft said enough to indicate that he has noticed a disposition on the part of some Canadian newspapers to attempt to minimise the part taken by the United States in the war. It should be remembered that from the first, even if the American nation was nominally neutral, its sympathy and its resources were with the Allies. Conditions in Canada and in the United States in August, 1914, were vastly different.

Canadians had always regarded themselves as part of the British Empire, ready to take part in every conflict that threatened the Imperial integrity. When Britain declared war on Germany, the Canadian Parliament was called together in special session and unanimously voted to enter the fray after the leaders on both sides of the House had made addresses that roused the patriotic ardor of the people from one end of the Dominion to the other. There was no opposition manifested then to the course that was decided upon, to the policy that has been carried out with so much national honor.

The United States was fettered with the tradition, over one hundred years old, that taught them to shun anything like participation in the disputes of European powers. At least one-quarter of the vast population of the Republic was either open friends of the Central Powers by birth or descent or were hostile in a measure at least, to Britain. President Wilson had no power of himself either to declare war or to force the hand of Congress, members of which were unalterably opposed to active participation in the fray. There was not the unanimity among the American legislators that marked the members of the Canadian Parliament in 1914.

To break down the tradition of a century, to unite the different races in the United States, to blend the patriotic sentiments of the various elements, to overcome congressional scruples and prejudices, became the task of President Wilson. He persevered to the end, and when his object was achieved the work of preparation began. The latter part of his task, that of raising an army of almost five million men, equipping and sending overseas a force of two millions, was a compartively easy matter and required less time than did the work of preparing the American people, or rather the hostile factions and the pacifists in the United States, for the great change in the country's foreign policy.

As ex-President Taft says, there is no cause for jealousy. There is glory and honor enough for all.

A PRACTICAL PACIFIST.

TWO OF THE MOST distinguished advocates of international peace among the many in the United States today are ex-President Taft, who received so hearty a welcome in this city yesterday, and William Jennings Bryan, three times an unsuccessful candidate for the presidency. Both in this matter may be idealists, but there is in all important details a vast difference between them. Mr. Bryan in this, as in all other important questions, is a dreamer. Mr. Taft brings to the support of his ideas the trained mind of a practical man of affairs. Mr. Bryan confines himself to academic arguments as to the folly of war and the benefits of peace. Mr. Taft, while lacking nothing as to these features of the problem, would deal with it as all human errors are handled.

As a lawyer who has held high judicial positions, Mr. Taft recognizes that the mandate of any earthly court cannot be enforced without police agency. Applying this same principle to international affairs, he does not fail to see that with a league of nations in existence, formed on the almost perfect plan which he outlines in his public addresses, a certain measure of force is still essential to carry out the findings of such a tribunal.

While Mr. Taft preaches peace on earth and good will to men, he is not satisied to let it go at that and to depend on moral suasion alone to effect the salvation of mankind. He does not spin beautiful theories on the question of disarmament and advocate the scrapping of every war vessel and the disarming of even soldiers. A certain military force will be required by every power if for no other duty than the preservation of internal harmony. With say a score of civilized nations in a League of Peace, the naval and land forces of nineteen of these could be combined to reduce to reason the twentieth in the event of the latter forgetting its obligations and stepping out of bounds. That is a proposition which cannot fail to commend itself to every man who is not laboring under the delusion that the millennium is already here and that this war has miraculously converted the world to a creed in which the Golden Rule is paramount.

WITH THAT perennial smile and inexhaustible store of good nature, it is little wonder that Mr. Taft preserves his youthful spirit.

THE AMERICAN SENATE will have an opportunity to sit in judgment upon the the league of nations as agreed on by the Peace Conference, but the former august body has probably acquired wisdom since it defeated Mr. Taft's original plan.

WILSON'S ENTRY INTO LONDON

(By Ella Ankers.)

President Wilson was welcomed to London by the man and woman in the street as the greatest man in the world! Why? Because he had become the incarnation of the idea of a world peace. I never witnessed a more glorious day of enthusiasm.

It was natural that flags of all the allied nations should wave over London in honor of the president. It was like a rainbow of bright hopes from all mankind rising over him, while people still wait in the mist for the sun of peace. The first condition, of course, is the friendship of United they alone can give the world lasting peace; divided they will forever prevent it.

As I pushed forward through the immense crowd today I passed an old fashioned statue of a king in peruke and court stockings. Curiously enough the first president of the American republic to visit London passed on his triumphant way this statue of King George III.

An elderly, distinguished lady was explaining things to some boys around her as they all waited for Wilson on a stony doorstep.

"This is King George III.," she said, "the obstinate fool who treated the Americans so badly that we lost those colonies. But he was not a true Englishmen at all. He was really a German, and he could not get Englishmen enough to fight for him, so he had to hire Germans to do the job. So we lost the war, and justly so. Don't you think that we should have the statue of George Washington here? He was a great Englishman."

"Hear, hear!" some listeners joined in. "Why not President Wilson himself? He is also a great Englishman. His grandfather was a minister in England."

"No, he is a great Scotchman," another interrupted. "His mother was born in Carlisle."

I left the crowd before the competition became too lively. I supposed that an American might soon turn up to claim that Mr. Wilson was an American.

St. James' palace, the fine but gloomy Tudor pile, was gloriously adorned with English and American flags. Two hours before the time for the president's arrival people were packed together watching the minutes of the tower clock. Sometimes a band played a cheerful march. At last guns began booming and the rowd shivered with excitement. At hat moment the president arrived at the station and soon would pass here.

"What do you think President Wilson will do with the kaiser?"

"Just leave him to his own people. I suppose. They will punish him all right. The worst of it was that he ran away and left the old lady behind!"

A distant roar of cheers mingled with the whirring of aeroplanes, and flocks of shining silver birds flew mereily over our heads—the first heralds of the triumphal car.

From Marlborough house a graceful old lady, dressed in black, steps out of the door and stands waiting in the street, waving an American flag. She is followed by a fair young boy of 16.—It is the Dowager Queen Alexandra with her grandson, Prince Olaf of Norway.

After that I heard no more, my senses were drowned in deafening cheers. Walls, roofs and streets were one wave of flags and music. The president was driving past at the side of George V. I gazed a second at the great American. A glimpse of his strong, gray, judging eyes and his all conquering smile—and the frantic cheers fell on the next carriage, on two stately women, Mrs. Wilson and Queen Mary.

It was the greeting from one people to another: We will hold together in confidence and in hope.

ELLA ANKER.

TODAY'S STORY

The red cheeked girl burst into the room like a gust of frosty air.

"Hello, Marian!" she said. "Come on out skating. The ice is fine."

The girl on the divan before the fire smiled languidly and pushed a box of chocolates toward her friend.

"Really, Sue, I couldn't. I'm not feeling well."

"Fresh air'd do you good."

"Oh, no, it's too cold. You see, I have a touch of—"

"Have you seen Molly Marshall's new fur coat?" interrupted the guest as she attacked the chocolates.

"No; what kind is it?"

The girl up on the couch stirred with surprising vigor.

"Really? I didn't know he skated."

"Does, like a breeze. That negligee's awfully unbecoming to you, Marian."

"Do you think so. Why?"

"Not your style. You look so messy in floppy things, you know. That green sport suit of yours is the best looking thing you ever had."

"Really?"

"Um-hm. Molly Marshall's an awfully good skater, Marian. She's doing all kinds of stunts with Bobby Owens."

"She can't skate as well as I can!" declared the invalid. "I guess I could teach Bob Owens a few stunts, too."

"Of course, you could, if you felt well," Sue agreed. "Bob simply loves athletic girls, you know. He told my brother Peter that one reason he liked you so well was because you were such a good sport. Too bad you can't come out today. You don't look very well, but I think it's just the yellow of that kimono. You look better now than when I came in, though. You have more color."

"Do I? I feel a little better, too, since I sat up. It wouldn't do me good."

"Yes, but I wouldn't advise it today, Marian."

"I don't believe it would hurt me."

"I wasn't thinking of that. Of course, if you are sure you can skate as well when you aren't quite strong—You wouldn't want Molly Marshall to get ahead of you."

The girl who had been sick moved over to the dresser and began to arrange her hair very rapidly.

"I guess if I couldn't beat Molly Marshall I'd never put on a pair of skates again as long as I live. I'll wear my green suit. It isn't very cold, is it?"

"Not very. Are you sure you ought to go, Marian? Of course, if you're sick—"

"I'm not sick," declared Marian, busy with the laces of her heavy boots. "I wasn't really sick to begin with, and I feel lots better now. And I'm sure a turn on the ice will make me all well."

"Yes," Sue agreed. "I think it will."

"Please, sir, mother wants to know what you will give her to spread 'em around the town? My sister's got 'em awful."

WHAT ITALY DEMANDS AT THE PEACE CONFERENCE

Bases All Her Claims for Consideration Upon the Record Made by Italian Troops in the War.

Now that the war is over Italy makes demands for compensation for her sacrifices. The following is a resume of the case which the Italian delegates will present to the peace congress:

Italy was not assaulted. Italy took up arms on her own accord, for the triumph of justice, which only incidentally applied to herself as well as to the allies.

When the treaty of London of April 1915 was set up, the honorable signatures of England, France and Italy were accepted as a sufficient guaranty that a portion of Dalmatia besides Trento and Trieste, being Italian, was to be assigned to Italy.

Now it is to the Treaty of London that Italy is keeping faith, and Italy wants both England and France to do the same, believing that the time is past when a regularly signed treaty can be considered a mere scrap of paper.

A Frank Word

As the discussion stands just now, and after almost two months of bitter controversy originated by the Croats, and not by us, in regard to Dalmatia, we believe we must—against our own desire—speak a friendly but straight word to the English as well as to the French people and say to them.

Do you recognize your signature you put under the Treaty of London, which was unmistakably portion of Dalmatia (not all Dalmatia, Croats please take notice) to Italy? We presume yes. Then you should feel both the moral and legal obligation to support Italy's rights just as Italy is earnestly supporting yours. Otherwise Italy may reserve her liberty of action on all other points of the same treaty.

Do you prefer to consider Dalmatia as a Croation and not as an Italian Province, and want to apply to her President Wilson's principles? Well, let it be done so. But the same principle must then be enforced in its fullest extent, not only for Dalmatia, but also for other provinces, and so—

Return Alsace-Lorraine by Germany to France, as already agreed;

Return Corsica, Nizza and Savoia by France to Italy.

Return Malta, Cozzo, Comino and Cominetto by England to Italy.

Return Canton del Crigioni by Switzerland to Italy.

Return Dedecanese by Italy to either Turkey or Greece.

N.B. to speak of all the Russian provinces, and including all colonies, which would bring the returning by Italy, France, England, Germany, etc., of many of them to their former owners or give them independence, as the case may be.

Jugo-Slavs Not Pro Allies

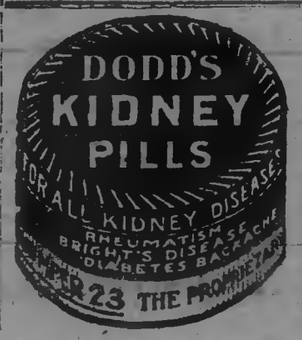
We want our friends, our Allies, to understand our position and our rights, and want them not to become too enthusiastic of the so called Jugo Slavs, so forgetting what Italy has done in this war.

Let the Croats get their independence, but be auspicious about their posing as an "oppressed" nation, and note they feel very much encouraged in their boldness when seeing your disposition to listen too much to them, who after all have been and practically still are our common enemies. Remember that only when the defeat of the Central Empires became apparent they attempted to lay a foundation of a Jugo-Slav rtate (so different from the Czecho-Slovacs who fought against Austria), and even this under the rule of the House of Hapsburg. Do not forget the farcical surrender of the Austro-Hungarian navy to the Jugo-Slavs, and be convinced that the Croats (the real leaders of the Jugo-Slavs) are neither your sincere friends nor ours. The very fact that Italy wants to keep faith to every point of the Treaty, she signed at London on April 1915, is a proof of her sincerity.

This is why Italy wants no change in the Treaty of London neither for her benefit nor for her injury. And this is why Italy asks the people and press to support her.

A spinster says that an old bachelor is a man who has lost an opportunity to make some woman miserable for life.

is declared, as wer definitely established as being due to the causes names. The officials intend to publish the complete material on which the investigations were based, "to demonstrate that this is not propaganda, but strictly for the purpose of establishing the facts."



Half A Million Died Of Hunger

Berlin, Jan. 24.—It is announced officially by the German Government that further investigation of mortality due to the blockade from the autumn of 1916 until the end of 1918 shows that the figures were much higher than were at first supposed. More than 500,000 deaths, it is said, were caused by malnutrition or under nutrition. Only civilians are included in the list which gives the announcement. If it errs at all, it is by giving too low figures. Only such cases were included, it

RESULT OF DRIVE NOT YET KNOWN

FORMAL CANVASS OVER AND RECEIPTS TURNED OVER TO TREASURER.

Though the three days' foremal canvassing have closed all of the work is not as yet done. Men dropped off the teams and did not find substitutes to take their places on the teams. This necessitates picking up the loose ends and cleaning up parts of several districts. It all means money. All day long we run up against people who were out of the city or who had not been reached. So many a substantial sum is added to the total.

Repeated enquiries have been made as to the sum realized. So far no attempt has been made to open the packages and make a list of receipts. This morning a clothes basketful of big envelopes containing cards, cash and returns was handed to Mr. W. H Dunford, of the Bank of Commerce, who has undertaken, as treasurer, to get the avails into orderly shape. Many workers handed in their statements and case personally instead of giving it to the team captain to be credited on the work of the team. This will be done and presently we shall know how the big drive has worked out.

Then again the cards of subscriptions from the factories have not all been collected. In the aggregate these will amount to a very considerable sum and will strengthen the total very well. In general, has been disclosed a cheerful willingness to help the Army, and even if the amount offered be not large, there are a whole lot of such contributions.

Presently, say at the beginning of the week, those who have been in the work will be called together in conference to see who have been missed, and what can be done to cover these cases. Many, no doubt, willing to contribute, is asked. An appreciated help was the generous gift of the Woman's Patriotic League of East City, $100.00, per the president, Mrs. R. H. Parsons. The scrutiny of the returns will, no doubt, disclose other and similar contributions from local societies, and all such shall have due mention.

As severa cases have come in where people hav esignified willingness to subscribe and did not know where to take the gift, it has been arranged that such may be handed to the treasurer, Mr. W. H. Dunsford, at the Bank of Commerce, who will give receipts and credit for the same.

One satisfaction in the campaign is that the expenses of the drive have been only trifling. The newspapers have been more than generous, and their help has been a factor in the general result. It is true that a larger organization, calling for mightly meetings, lunches, etc., as was done at the Patriotic Fund campaigns would have been nice and rousing and worth the money from the point of the get-together spirit aroused. But it was felt that any extraneous expense could be set aside and that personal work and diligence might be reckoned on the make up anything that the other course might have ensured.

Dr. J. J. Bedard of North Bay was fined $200 and $80 costs for breach of the Ontario Temperance Act; he issued 390 liquor prescriptions in 21 days, in some cases ordering 16 ounces instead of 6.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation of Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing at any time.

You cannot begin to measure its goodness alongside of others, the quality being INCOMPARABLE.

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT OUTLINES

pleasure, and having been previously acquainted with the characteristics of the people he was sure that he saw a change brought about as a result of the influence of the great test to which they have recently been subjected and which indicated a national character victoriously and triumphantly born.

"By your sacrifices of the past few years you have shown what kind of people you are and demonstrated that you are ready and willing to give up everything that righteousness might prevail. There can be no rivalry between Canadians and my countrymen who stood shoulder to shoulder with you in the later conflicts of the great war for there is glory enough for all," asserted the distinguished speaker.

Passing on from this phase of the subject he stated that the most important question to be considered now was that of deciding what we are to do to complete the purpose of the war and justify the sacrifices of life and pleasure which have been made; to ensure the permanent peace of the world and remove for all time the danger of a repitition of such a world wide catastrophe.

A league of nations was in the opinion of the lecturer the only solution of the problem, and he proceeded to outline what he conceived to be the most feasible plan for such an arrangement. He began by telling what had been done during his term of office as President of the United States when arbitration treaties had been made with France and England. The measure was rejected, however, and led eventually to his defeat.

He described the manner in which the alliance was to have been carried out and stated that it would have to consist of an international court of arbitration, a council of conciliation, a force to see that the judgments of the court were complied with and a congress of powers to take action in the event of any of the nations proving refractory and refusing to be bound by the decisions of the court in which case force as derived from the United powers would be used to crush out the insurrection.

What a League of Nations Means

The speaker explained the project in a manner which ensured against misunderstanding. He commenced wit hthe first organization which formed by a league of nations would be instrumental in ensuring the continued peace of the world, the international court of abitration.

To this would be referred all justiciable questions. It would be composed not of representatives of the different countries but of the most eminent and able jurists obtainable in any of them. By justiciable questions the speaker meant those possible of a satisfactory settlement by an application of international law when correctly interpreted by the court.

Non justiciable questions would be referred to the Council of Conciliation, which being a diplomatic body should be representative of the nations especially those chiefly interested in any case which might for the time being engage its attention. Members, in an eventuality of that kind could be appointed to it, temporarily.

The Sealing Dispute

A non justiciable point was defined by Ex-President Taft as one impossible of a satisfactory settlement by the application of international law on account of the question of mere right taking precedence over a judgment as rendered according to the letter of the law. As an illustration of this he recounted the case which was precipitated some years ago when Canadian seal hunters, while not approaching within the three mile limit, killed seal whose rookeries were situated on islands belonging to the United States in Behring Sea. The sealers catching their prey in the water made no effort to discriminate between the male and female of the herd which was, in consequence, in great danger of being entirely destroyed. American revenue cutters took the Canadian sealing schooners into custody, a complaint was made to England which caused a protest to be made to the States.

It was decided to arbitrate the matter upon the understanding that should the decision go against the United States the case could be reconsidered by a committee of conciliation such as the speaker was describing in connection with the proposed league of nations. The arbitrators decided against the interests of the United States ruling that as the Canadian sealers were killing their prey in open water which was the property of no particular country they were justified in doing so and could not be interfered with. The decision was according to law and yet it was morally wrong that a condition of affairs should be upheld which would result in the wholesale destruction of the seal herds in that part of the ocean. The point was a non justiciable one and when referred to the committee of conciliation an agreement was reached whereby the States was given the privilege of protecting the seal in return for certain monetary concessions.

Preventing Wars

Dealing with the third point in the programme outlined the lecturer discussed what would be required of a union of force to suppress premature wars. He reminded his auditors that when it was known that a force existed which was powerful enough to see that the law was obeyed it prevented infractions of it in many cases.

A police force while not always arresting men is at the same time preserving order in a community the knowledge of its existence and efficiency being sufficient to deter would be offenders from carrying out their designs. A united force, representative of the nations of the league would act in much the same way and would superintend the carrying out of the decisions of the court of arbitration.

In dealing with the possible mode of application of this program to conditions arising out of the recent conflict the speaker stated that in the first place the league of nations would have to consist of "the big five" to begin with, which would enjoy the status of charter members. Nations which had not learned the art of self government would have no claim to membership in such an alliance.

In this connection he contrasted the difference between the methods of government in the democratic countries of North America with that of some of the republics of South America. In the States and in Canada if the government is turned out of office it takes its defeat in good part knowing that it is the will of the majority of the electorate and this infallible. In some of the South American republics the government when once elected to power assumes that it is there by Divine right and that those who vote against are traitors and they are treated such until they reach proportions which give them the balance of power whereupon they sweep down upon the government with their guns and chase them into the seclusion from which they have themselves lately emerged and where they will in turn be again forced to flee when their short term of tyranny has run its course.

This condition in the opinion of the speaker was one which would in all probability be met with in some of the new European republics which would be launched as a result of the war. He named from six to ten of these and stated that with the old land from which they had sprung contiguous to them and viewing them as a constant reminder of defeat and with the people of the new nation smarting under years of tyrannical rule upon the part of their parental neighbor conditions were anything but propitious for the preservation of peaceful relations.

Having started these republics, of which Poland would be one, upon their career of independent government it was incumbent upon the league of nations to exercise a guardianship over them until such time as they had learned the art of democratic rule and proved their ability to live peaceably with their neighbors, after which they might be permitted to take their place with the other nations comprising the international league.

A Lesson From Cuba

This was what the United States had done with Cuba which after being freed from the supervision of the big Republic immediately got itself into civil war which ex-President Taft was commissioned by President Roosevelt to endeavor to settle. His efforts in this direction were fruitless and the States was forced to intervene once more and treat Cuba as a protectorate for another two years when she was again left to her own devices with satisfactory results. In the same way a league of nations would be called upon to guard the young nationalities which will spring into life as a result of the war and the terms of the peace treaty, if anything more than chaos is to be obtained.

Even Germany whose war policy received the most scathing denunciation from the Speaker might qualify for a place in the League of Nations when she had complied with the demands of the Allies in the way of an indemnity and showed herself to be truly repentent for her frightful atrocities of the war.

Germany, the speaker described as a nation which had been obsessed with the idea that her destiny entitled her to control the world in order that she might force her kultur upon its people. She had sprung into power through the sword and her people were reared in an atmosphere of warlike preparation. Having allowed the idea that they had a mission to perform in conquering the world to become firmly implanted in their minds the German people sought the old palliative for a guilty conscience and believed that they were helping God and plunged into a campaign of ruthlessness which brought the States into the struggle.

With republics hemming her in on all sides and under the supervision of such a system as described the speaker expressed the utmost confi-

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH 'DANDERINE'

SPEND A FEW CENTS. DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT.

TRY THIS! HAIR GETS BEAUTIFUL, WAVY AND THICK IN FEW MOMENTS.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents; apply a little as directed, and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire, soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

MR. TAFT'S ADDRESS TO HIS FELLOW MEMBERS OF BAR

Spoke at Court House Yesterday as One Lawyer to Others

(By Joseph Wearing)

"Once a lawyer, always a lawyer." This was the impression given to one after seeing and hearing Hon. H. W. Taft, twenty-seventh President of the United States at the Court House yesterday afternoon. It was a happy thought on the part of some members of the local Bar that the reception of the County of Peterborough Law Association to the distinguished jurist should take place in the new Court Room which with its new fittings and artistic decoration is a credit to the City and County. A former judge himself, Mr. Taft was escorted into the Court Room by His Honor Judge Huycke and given a seat on the bench occupied by the presiding judge at trial. Awaiting his arrival were the court officials, the members of the law association and representatives of the Medical Society, the Ministerial Association, the Trades and Labor Council, the Board of Trade, the Women's Council, and other local organizations, and all rose to their feet at the entrance of Judge Huycke and the ex-President. When Mr. Taft seated himself in the judge's chair he did so with the utmost familiarity and it was quite apparent that it was no new place for him. It was also apparent that he filled the chair.

Judge Huycke Extends Welcome

After the reading of the address of welcome by Mr. F. D. Kerr, the President of the Law Association, His Honor Judge Huycke spoke for a few minutes with the eloquence and grace which are his alone, of the common bond of law and language which cements the British Empire and the American Republic and of the part Mr. Taft has played in making this bond stronger still. "Our people and your people," said His Honor, "spring from the same stock. Both speak the language that Milton sang and Shakespeare wrote."

The judge also referred to the fact that both in Canada and the United States the Common Law of England is for the most part the system of jurisprudence which is administered by the Courts and he coupled the names of great English judges, like Mansfield, Jessel, Cairns, and Halsburry with great American judges like Marshall, Storey and White, and great Ontario judges like Blake, and Moss and Boyd, as having built together in their respective countries a worthy superstructure upon the common foundation of the Common Law of England. His Honor closed his brief address by an eloquent tribute to the work done by the American nation in helping to bring the war to a triumphant conclusion and also to the aid given by Mr. Taft himself. "Never again," he said "will it be proper to refer to Americans and Canadians as cousins. They are now brothers in language, in law and in sacrifice."

Spoke to Fellow Lawyers

Big, hale, hearty, and radiating good nature! This was the instant impression as Mr. Taft rose to reply. He speaks in measured, considered language with a fine bass Middle West voice, and in moment of beat rises to majestic eloquence. He would win any audience with the chuckle which breaks out every few minutes and which directly precedes an outburst of rich, compelling humor. None enjoys the joke better than he does, especially if he is telling one on himself. That chuckle alone would ensure him immediate success on any Chautauqua platform and should have a high financial value.

The Ex-President thanked the Law Association in the most hearty way for the reception and address of welcome and referred to the beautiful Court Room and the favorable impression it gave him to see members of the legal profession in Court attire. "I think in our country we made a mistake by discarding the gown," he said. "The dress of your lawyers adds to the dignity and decorum of the Court and tends to a higher appreciation of the sacred trust imposed upon those engaged in the administration of justice."

He then spoke of his own familiarity with law and courts of justice. As a boy he had learned the names of English Law Reporters by heart in his father's library and had read the lives of the great English Justices and Chancellors. "It would not be too much for me to say," he said, "that I was raised on the English Common Law," and he acknowledged the great debt which America owed to Great Britain for this system of law. "I love the Common Law with all its angularities and inconsistencies like I love a friend with the same defects. The glory of this system and the superiority which has made it greater than any other system is its practicability and the fact that it can be adapted to every occasion and requirement." This was the high tribute paid by the speaker to the law of England.

Mr. Taft also mentioned his deep respect for the great English judges. "I like them," he said, "because they speak right to the point without any quibbling of words," and he mentioned the remark of Baron Bramwell, who referring to a judgment of Lord Herschell, exclaimed bluntly, "This beats me."

After personal references to the profession of law, Mr. Taft spoke of the common principles of justice for which Canada and the United States were working together to establish in the world. Americans present must have been proud of their former President when the passion of a big man and the fervid eloquence of a natural orator he reviewed the world situation and spoke of the contest which has vanquished militarism perhaps for all time.

Soldiers Home THE SALVATION ARMY Coming Campaign

As the Boys Come Home

YOU will meet your soldier boy and what a glorious time you and he will have. You will kill the proverbial "fatted calf" and make merry. You will see that he is comfortable until he settles down again into civilian life.

But what of the men who arrive at the same time with NO friend to greet them, no home to welcome them, no job to turn to? There's a problem you must face—or let the Salvation Army face it for you.

SALVATION ARMY MILLION DOLLAR FUND THIS WEEK

The Salvation Army fills the breach here at home, just as it did, and still does, over there! It holds out open arms to the soldiers, welcomes them, feeds them, furnishes clean beds and hot baths, comforts for body and soul, and stands by a man and his family until he is on his feet.

Canada must solve the problem of repatriating her soldier sons who have done their part so valiantly. Apart from all obvious considerations of gratitude, it will pay us in dollars and cents to let the soldiers see we are standing firmly by them. To desert our men now the excitement of war has passed, would be to earn their just reproaches. Look at this appeal from all sides; ask any returned man about the work of the Salvation Army. Then help to make this campaign the success it deserves to be.

"They loved not their lives to the death"

Who provides beds and meals for soldiers close to Railway Stations?
Who mended the soldiers' clothes over there?
Who entertained hundreds of thousands of soldiers and sailors daily at the Huts?
Who helped to keep the soldiers' homes here intact?
Who keeps in touch with the Homecoming soldier?
Who provides the Emergency Homes and the Maternity Homes?
Who has cared for thousands of war widows?
THE SALVATION ARMY
Shall their work stop for lack of funds?

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WALK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her to Health.

Perth Amboy, N.J. — "For three years I suffered with a severe female trouble, was nervous, had backache and a pain in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells and was often so faint I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, and tried it. Now I am better, feel strong, have no pains, backache or dizzy spells. Every one tells me how well I look, and I tell them to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — that is what makes me feel well and look well. I recommended it to my sister and she is using it now. You can use this letter if you wish, for it is certainly a grand remedy for a woman's ills." — Mrs. MARTHA STANISLAWSKI, 524 Penn St., Perth Amboy, N.J.

For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

dence in Germany's peaceful attitude in the future.

Legal Complications Probable

Having described the difficulties which would in all probability be met with in establishing Europe upon a peaceful basis the lecturer dealt with the tremendous task which will be presented by the interpretation of a legal instrument of the long and complicated character of the peace treaty which will eventually be signed.

Even such a comparatively simple, and plainly drafted constitution as that of the United States required the services of a staff of celebrated jurists constantly to interpret its constructions, and in a treaty such as that which would be required to restore the peace of the world where it was impossible in drafting it to allow for future contingencies it would be absolutely necessary to have an international court to take charge of such disputes as would inevitably arise and which in many cases after decision had been rendered would have to be passed on to the committee of conciliation if a satisfactory agreement was to be consumated.

Ex-President Taft dealt with the objection that such an arrangement as this might infringe upon the sovereign powers of the nations by comparing the liberty of separate countries under such conditions to that of the individual who is protected by the law just so long as he obeys it. "There is no such thing as freedom of action in the world," asserted the speaker, "the liberty of the individual stops at the point where he commits an act which is oppressive to his neighbor and so with the sovereign powers of the world." Their freedom would be secure just so long as they did not attempt to curtail that of some other power. We would attempt to enforce the rules of international Law and so promote the bonds of neighborly feeling and goodwill. "This cannot be done except through a league of nations," concluded the speaker.

MR. TAFT'S ADDRESS TO

"What we have been fighting for together," he said at the end of his reply," is expressed in the Massachusetts Charter of Liberties drawn up many years ago: "that this (the German Government) may be a government of law and not of men."

At the close of the proceedings one realized something of the power and personality required to push through the ruck of a hundred million people to the highest office in the nation. Mr. Taft has both. Judge of the Superior Court of Cincinnati, and later of the United States Circuit Court in that district, Governor of the Phillipines, Minister of War, President of the United States, and now Professor of Jurisprudence in Yale University! This is the record of the man who has honored the Court House at Peterborough by his presence and eloquence.

Semi-Ready Editorials

From the Semi-Ready Special

The Cost of Wool

The Government fixed the price of war wheat at about three times its average price in peace times.

The price of wool had been left to the "open market" in the matter of price—and it has fluctuated between two and three times the peace-time price. When the British Government cornered the wool market, the price jumped to four times the normal price.

The cost of a good suit of clothes is just about twice what it was before the Kaiser went war mad.

The old $10 ready-made suit value has been replaced by suits at from $17 to $22.

Even the $15 Semi-ready Suits, with their fixed label-in-the-pocket standard of value, have advanced in cost to $22.50, and promise to be $25. if costs mount higher.

We have two buyers in England today watching the market, watchfully waiting. Not in four years have we failed to keep in close personal touch with the market.

The genuine British weaver has kept up his quality standard—

For Semi-Ready Tailoring — we have improved the standard of making—and were it not for the huge stock of wools held by the various governments for future needs the price of a good suit or overcoat, would not be so high as it today.

All is Not Wool That Curls

A pure wool yarn, free from old wool and from cotton, is hard to get. They cannot make such a yarn into cloth for home consumption in England.

But for their export trade to Canada, to customers like the Semi-Ready Company, who had established a standard and who must maintain it, the War Board issued a special permit to the English weavers.

This is why we are to-day getting fine wool cloth, worth from 10 to 15 guineas when tailored — cloth which was formerly used almost entirely in London, Paris and New York, where the millionaires would feel slighted if they did not pay $100 to $150 for a suit model.

All is not wool that curls— but we have maintained our pure wool standard in the making of all suits of quality—but not in the cheap lines at $15 and $18. This we have avoided as a war plague.

What About the Future

The men's suit trade suffered in war times. With over 20,000,000 extra men wearing uniforms, the civilian trade suffered.

What trade suffers most in war should prosper more in peace.

That these twenty millions will again require civilian clothes, both suits and overcoats, will tend to keep up the price of cloth whilst other wares return to a formal price-level.

Men in the woollen trade say they do not see any prospect of a fall in the price of good cloth until a year after the signing of peace and the demobilisation of the vast armies in Europe and America.

To help you to await that day this Peace Benefit Sale is designed, and it will not be for long.

FAVOR CHANGES IN GOLF RULES

ROYAL CANADIAN GOLF ASSOCIATION DEAL WITH HANDICAPPING PROBLEM.

New York, Jan. 24.—Not long since the secretary's office of the United States Golf association received a communication from the Royal Canadian Golf association asking for data concerning the system of par handicapping. The letter requested information as to the various par distances, and it may be said that at no very remoted date golfers across the border will b chandicapping along lines much as it is done here.

The Calkins system is quite well known among golfers now, especially in this section. With the increased resiliency of the ball it has been found necessary to change the par distances until now the table reads as follows:

Holes up to 250 yards inclusive, par 3; holes 251 to 445 yards inclusive, par 4; holes 446 to 600 yards inclusive, par 6, and holes 601 yards and upward, par 6.

These figures are of course not arbitrary, as due allowance should be made for configuration of the ground, difficult and easy conditions, and so on. After the U.S.G.A. made its latest revision John G. Sweeney, of Detroit, a former executive committeeman, made a number of exhaustive tests of the flight and run of the ball, and these tests showed that the greater par distances as comparer with earlier periods just about represented the difference in length between the latest makes of rubber core and the solid gutty.

Women's National Body.

Every once in a while there is some agitation started for a women's national golf association, the idea being for the feminine players to arrange their own tournament, instead of leaving it in the hands of the United States Golf Association, as it is now. Under present conditions some official of the parent body is on hand to start and finish the event, the medals are given out, the presentation speeches delivered, and the huge Cox trophy formally given over to the champion's club.

Now the question is asked, How could any women officials who had entered a tournament ever hope to play in it if they had to devote their time and thought to the management of the affair? Women who play golf want to have the fun that goes with it, and do not care to be bothered worrying about the responsibilities of a big affair like the national championship.

Those who do not play the game usually get out of touch with things, and although they might be spasmodically interested, they would surely not want to devote several days at a time to something that is merely a thing of the past to them, and no longer an obsession, as it is with the artive golfer.

Not Much Fun.

If any woman desires an opinion on running a tournament and trying to play in it, let her talk to M'ss H. Ethel Maule, for years secretary-treasurer of the Women's Golf association of Philadelphia. Miss Maule, who is a good player, would enter a championship, but by the time she had sent everybody off on their eighteen hole journey, filling in absentees' places, adjusting handicaps and trying to keep everybody happy, she was quite ready for a tonic and a siesta and too worn out to do herself justice in a round. The latest report is that Miss Maule is to resign her office in order to get more competitive golf.

NEW SCALE OF RACE WEIGHTS

Jockey Club Revises List for Events at Track Under Its Rule.

New York, Jan. 24.—An amendment to the rules of horse racing calling for a new scale of weights, with a general revision upward, has been proposed to the Jockey club for use on the tracks under its jurisdiction. A meeting will be held soon to act on the proposed change.

The proposed increases will bring the scale up to and in some races over that in operation in England. Except for 4 year olds in the six furlong and mile races, the increase in all other classes will be all the way from one of five pounds. A scale for mile and a half races has been added. Heretofore the weights for this distance have been the same as those for the mile and a quarter.

Eddie Fitzpatrick, formerly of the Toronto International Leagues, and latterly of the Boston Nationals, wants a place on the Leafs this season.

In a rough, fast game at Ottawa last night the Arenas of Toronto were defeated 3 to 2, the Senators tieing the score in the third period and winning toward the close.

The marriage took place yesterday of Mr. H. B. Boorman, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Boorman, Peterboro and Miss Edith Purvey, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Purvey, Hayward's Heath, England, at the Bond street Methodist Parsonage, Toronto, by Rev. T. Davis.

SOCIAL EVENING FOR THE CHOIR

CHOIRSTERS OF ST. JOHN'S ENTERTAINED BY MRS. GEORGE DREDGE.

St. John's choir were royally entertained by Mrs. George Dredge at her home at 339 London Street, last night, to supper at 6.45 and an evening's entertainment which was thoroughly appreciated by the choristers and hearty thanks for both the kindly thought and splendid entertainment were voiced by the Rev. Canon Davidson, Mr. H. W. Morphet and Mr. R. J. Devey. Mr. Harry Long replying for Mrs. Dredge said that no one in the parish more thoroughly appreciated the loyal services of the choristers than he did, and their hostess was amply repaid by the evident enjoyment of the company present.

The resolution carried at the Vestry meeting expressing hearty appreciation of the choir was read and a delightful evening's entertainment closed at 11.30 with Auld Lang Syne and the National Anthem.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS TO CITY'S GUEST

COMPLIMENTS EX-PRESIDENT TAFT ON HIS OUTSTANDING RECORD.

At the civic dinner at the Empress last night, tendered to ex-President Taft, at which there were almost 50 guests, including city officials and members of the Board of Trade, Mayor Duncan read the following address to the guest of the evening:

Hon. William H. Taft:

Dear Sir,—The Council of the city of Peterborough, for itself and on behalf of the citizens, wishes to give you a most cordial welcome on this your first visit to this city.

Although we are not fellow citizens, as near neighbours, and good neighbours, we take a keen interest in the public affairs and the public men of the United States, and we are exceedingly pleased to have a visit from one who has occupied the exalted position in the republic that you have occupied, and who has filled such positions with such ability and evident desire to serve the people that you have shown.

We are glad to bid you welcome as an eminent citizen of the United States. Our countries are drawn together by the ties of proximity, language and race, and recent great events have demonstrated anew that we have the same ideals as nations and that we do not hesitate to make great sacrifices for those ideals. We count it a happy occurrence that, when those ideals of liberty and justice were at stake, the armies of the United States have fought with those of Britain and her Allies to save them from destruction by the powers that menaced them. We believe that one result will be that, whatever may take place in regard to a League of Nations, our country and yours will no longer be cousins, but will be brothers.

We also greet you heartily because of the great qualities of mind and heart that you have shown as a statesman, as a jurist and as an educationist. While you have devoted your abilities to the great country of which you are a citizen, we know that you take a deep interest in the welfare of the people of the world and in the progress of our age, and we recognize and appreciate that interest and the part you have taken in world affairs.

We believe that in no place in America will you receive a more hearty welcome than in Peterborough, and we hope that your impressions while here and our recollections of your visit will be most pleasant.

GEO. H. DUNCAN, Mayor.

Mr. Taft made a brief but graceful response to the address.

Malott who will speak on "The Epworth League as a training ground for citizenship."

At 6 o'clock supper will be served in the S. S. Hall at a moderate charge.

The evening session, commencing at 8 o'clock, will be in the form of a rally of Epworth Leagues. Young People's Bible Classes and other Young People's Organizations. Has Large Stock Of Liquor On Hand

So many large seizures of liquor have been made in recent months by officials of the Ontario License Board that that body has a new difficulty to overcome. At present it has about four carloads of intoxicants stored away in local warehouses.

In the past considerable quantities of liquor have been sold to the various hospitals to be used for medicinal purposes. Occasionally, too, when it was known that the liquor was absolutely pure and one of the recognized brands, it has been sold to the vendors. But it is the adulterated beverages that the board is now seeking to dispose of.

The board is in communication at present with one of the large distillers seeking to find out if the liquors can be realized on. It is believed that those liquors which have only been weakened by water can be standardized again. With the liquors which have been doped, however, it is thought probable that the alcohol can be extracted.

R. C. G. TRUMBULL OF PHILADELPHIA IN THE CITY

Mr. Charles Trumbull, editor of the Sunday School Times, will address two meetings today in St Paul's Church, in the afternoon at three o'clock and in the evening at eight o'clock. The pastor of the Church, Rev. R. Pogue, knew him personally when he was in Philadelphia, and it was through his efforts and that of others who were anxious to hear him, that the Christian people of Peterboro will have the opportunity of hearing his messages. His subject for both meetings will be "The Victorious Life." He arrived this morning by the 12.25 train and met the ministers of the city at a luncheon given them in Hooper's parlours by a couple of laymen.

WORK FOR THE FIREMEN

At noon today two alarms were rung into the Fire Department in quick succession. The first was caused by a chimney fire at the residence of Mr. W. Barrul, 267 Lake street, and was received at 12.04. The second was a blaze of the same kind at the home of Mrs. P. Poomey, 497 Parnell street at 12.15. There was no damage in either case.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

A POPULAR TRAIN

"The National" Runs Through Famous Clay Belt of New Ontario, the Cobalt Mining District and the Highlands of Ontario"

Travellers between Western and Eastern Canada appreciate the high standard of railway service afforded by "The National"—the splendid train which operates between Winnipeg and Toronto, east and west bound. This through train uses the rails of the Canadian Government Lines from Winnipeg to Cochrane, the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario (owned by the Ontario Government,) from Cochrane to North Bay, and the Grand Trunk from North Bay to Toronto.

"The National's" trip between the Manitoba capital and the Queen City of the East is one of 1,256 miles. The departure from Winnipeg is at 3.30 in the afternoon and Cochrane is reached the following night. This is a wonderfully interesting trip through the sparsely populated territory of New Ontario, giving the traveller an opportunity of inspecting this fertile region, including the famed clay belt, where tens of thousands of settlers will make their homes in the future. The area of New Ontario is 330,000 square miles, fully four times the size of Old Ontario, and, in addition to great expanses of good farming land, it has wonderful resources in timber, minerals, water power, fish and game.

"The National" next threads the rich districts served by the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario, including the Cobalt Silver camp and the Timagami Forest Reserve. There is a daylight run over the Grand Trunk through the "Highlands of Ontario," comprising the beautiful "Lake of Bays," Muskoka Lakes and other holiday resorts.

The three railways combine to make the passenger service over this new road the equal of that offered anywhere on the Continent. The smooth, straight, and level roadbed embodies all that has been learned in three-quarters of a century of railroad building. The greatest travel comfort is therefore assured.

HON. F. B. CARVELL MADE NO PROMISES WITH REGARD TO PUBLIC WORK IN THIS CITY

But Cabinet Minister at the Mass Meeting Last Night Stated That He Had Looked Over the Ground and Would Report Situation to Colleagues—Had no Authority to go Further.

Hon. Frank Carvell, Minister of Public Works in the Union Government addressed a large mass meeting in the Grand Opera House last night having come to Peterborough upon the invitation of the Mayor and in accordance with a tour of the cities which he is making for the purpose of collecting information which will prove useful in connection with meeting the industrial problems which are facing the country at the present time and effect his department to a considerable extent.

Upon the platform with the speaker, last night were the Mayor and members of the City Council, Capt. Burnham, M.P., J. E. Sexsmith, M. P., Mr. R. R. Hall and several other gentlemen. Mrs. J. H. Renwick, Miss Bentley and Mr. Ed Hanrahan each contributed a vocal solo which were much appreciated by the audience after which Mayor Duncan read a civic address of welcome to the visitor.

Mr. R. R. Hall in a brief address touched upon several points of great interest at the present time.

He referred to the immediate future as a transition period through which our country will have to pass before a return to normal times can be expected. For the past four years all the industrial powers of the Dominion have been concentrated upon the construction of engines of war and there is bound to be a great displacement in labor conditions and a certain amount of reaction which will require tactful handling.

It will take time to get living conditions back to their former peace channels and Mr. Hall emphasized the need of patience. The soldier and how best to assist him in returning to civil life is the foremost problem and he felt that the experiences at the front were such as to engender in his character the quality of patience which will prove invaluable in the days before him which, for some time to come, in a great many cases will not be without trials

He advocated strongly that public works should be proceeded with as expeditiously as possible in order to furnish employment for those without work. He was sure the public would not complain if this resulted in inflated tax bills which would have been to some extent avoided had the carrying out of such projects been delayed until some time in the future when construction expenses would not be so high.

In this connection he mentioned the development of hydro power upon waterways such as are in the vicinity of Peterborough and are under Federal Control. These might be handed over to the Hydro Commission free of rent upon condition that they proceed at once to develop the energy obtainable from them, and while providing cheaper power this program if carried out would give employment to a large number of men.

Mr. Burham's Address.

In accepting the invitation of the city to join in the civic welcome to you, sir, may I be permitted to congratulate you upon the subject you have chosen for your remarks this evening, namely, "The Return of Canada to Peace Conditions and the Prospects of the Future."

It is plain that strife in western, modern industrialism is due to lack of national organization. That part of it which is not actuated by proper motives need not at present be considered. When we have reached an agreement or understanding amongst the well intentioned it will be time to attend to the rest. The ray of rampant individualism is past. People and callings having loose business relations with each other must sooner or later come to grief just as we have done. Surely, a peace conference of labour, capital, agriculture and the consumer can be called after all these centuries of conflict. Mr. Gompers has shown that compulsory arbitration is out of the question. The view opposed to this contention of labour is that we must consider conditions not abstract ideas of freedom. Which shall it be then? Freedom, free competition, free imports of labour and of the products of labour, or national organization, regulation and control? If we decide to make of a nation a well-constructed, well-balanced and properly interacting and compensating machine we must handle it as such. It will not then be so easy for it to get out of gear. If not such a well-balanced, state-controlled machine but a catch-as-catch-can open free-for-all competition we may perhaps be able to establish a unit of labour—cost and nothing more—but it is doubtful and it is doubtful if industrial peace should then be ensured. But we must get to work and find a soluton or we may find trouble. This is presumably the kernel of re-construction. Our representatives must study the problem more deeply and devote themselves wholly and not partly to the greatest of all tasks. A constituency's business demands a member's undivided and disinterested attention. (How can a member have interests of his own in a nation's resources or business and handle those resources with a single eye to the nation's advantage? If the world can be made lovely for the rich it should be made lovely for those who are not rich. The day of the Great Scramble should be brought to an end.

Mr. Carvell on the Situation

While expressing the utmost confidence in the ability of the Canadian people, who had shown themselves capable of such tremendous sacrifices in connection with the recent war, to solve satisfactorily the problems which confront the country in the reconstruction period upon which we are entering, Hon. F. B. Carvell has a reputation of speaking from the shoulder did not in his address last night seek to minimize the gravity of the situation which faces our Dominion at the present time and the extent of our financial obligations which should be considered even though the Government has no intention of holding them forth as an excuse for inaction. The government did not contemplate following a policy of inaction; it was going to do everything humanly possible to avert as far as possible any dislocation of labor conditions and to repatriate and re-establish in civilian life the returned soldier.

In the early stages of his address Mr. Carvell made it plain that he did not intend to commit himself or the Government he represented to any promise in connection with local conditions or construction work. He had been shown about the city and had obtained a great deal of valuable information in regard to matters of interest to the Government and concerning his department and upon his return to Ottawa would impart it to his colleagues for future reference.

The burden of the Cabinet Minister's speech was the repatriation of the army and the re-establishment in civil life of the veterans. He explained thoroughly the plans which had been formulated towards this end and did not scruple to outline some of the difficulties which lay in the way of carrying them out as speedily and efficiently as certain people desired.

He stated that the Government had decided upon such a program of public construction as was refered to by Mr. Hall and Capt. Burnham In arranging it the particular requests of one city or another were not being considered to any extent; it was to be carried out with a view to the needs of the entire country. Road construction was one of the plans which had been decided upon.

The steamer brought from Brest to Boston 1,295 troops and 325 officers, after which she came on to this port to land the other passengers and load cargo for Liverpool.

MAY BE GREATEST VICTORY OF WAR

BRITAIN'S ACTION IN OFFICIALLY RECOGNIZING PROPOSED LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 25.—Great Britain's decision to leave such questions as the future of Mesopotamia, Palestine and the German colonies to the League of Nations is profoundly important, says the Daily News. The adoption of such a policy by the British delegation has established the league in its true place in relation to the Peace Congress and invests the entire proceedings of the Congress with an atmosphere of confidence and good will, created by the refusal of the great nation to take advantage of the accident of military possession of valuable territory.

If Great Britain is ready to give such an effective pledge of her faith in the League of Nations, no other power is left with an excuse for holding back. The decision may well prive to be the greatest victory of the war.

ADVANCE PARTY OF C.E.F. IN SIBERIA COMPLETED BY THE ARRIVAL OF A TRANSPORT

Men in Land of Snow and Ice Complain of Postal Regulations—A Land of Distances Greater Than Canada—Far From Home and Thousands of Miles From Fighting Front.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

(By W. Playfair, Official Correspondent with the Canadian Forces in Siberia.)

Vladivostok, by Mail (delayed).—With the arival today of a transport bringing Canadian troops to Siberia, the advance party of the C.E.F. is completed. The base and force headquarters staffs are now here in full number, with the hospital, army service corps and part of the cavalry and infantry units. The draft which left Vancouver on the afternoon of Sunday, November 15, by the C.P.R. steamship Monteagle, arriving today, had a remarkably smooth passage for the season. Of the three hundred horses brought on the vessel, only four wer lost.

Incidentally this transport brought the first mail that has been received by the advance party which arrived here in October. Mail destined for the troops here is carried from Vancouver exclusively on Canadian transports, which are extremely infrequent. On the other hand, outgoing mail for Canada leaves here as often as twice a week. There is a great deal of dissatisfaction among both officers and men, over the postal arrangements. It is now expected that another transport will arrive before Christmas with Canadian mail. A second is expected shortly after the new year.

Although Canada is a land of great distances, the Canadian forces now here are learning new lessons in geography on a large scale. They are many thousands of miles from home, three thousand miles or more from their fighting front and in a territory of immense distances and exceedingly poor transportation facilities. The city of Vladivostok is separated dismally from the rest of Siberia owing to the virtual breakdown of rail communication with the interior. Canadians arriving here find themselves four thousand five hundred miles from Vancouver. They came expecting to get to early action with the Bolsheviki, but they find them three thousand miles away.

PRICES OF FOOD LIKELY TO DROP

PACKERS EXPECTED TO LOWER FIGURES ON PORK

Retal prices of several commodities should now be slightly cheaper than at the first of the year. Fresh eggs should be sold over the retail counter, according to the wholesalers, at prices not exceeding 70 cents per dozen. The farmers are now receiving about 56 and 58 cents for freshly gathered eggs. By the time the eggs reach the retail store there is about 7 or 8 cents per dozen added to their cost for handling, packing and transportation. At 70 cents per dozen the retailer is allowed a margin of approximately 5 cents per dozen. Butter has not declined at all and is not likely to be any lower for several weeks. Butter prices in the United States are several cents per pound lower than they were two and three weeks ago, but the Canadian prices are stationary because of the small margin of profit allowed by the Food Board. In this way Canadians were buying butter in December at from 10 to 20 cents per pound lower than it was being retailed in the United States. So that while the American prices have tumbled there is still no change in the Canadian markets. Prices in Buffalo, Chciago and New York are still higher than Toronto prices.

Pork has not declined in price at all, excepting cooked hams. It was said that cooked hams would be the last pork product to be affected by the lower prices now being paid for hogs, but some of the abattoirs had more cooked ham on hand than any other kind of pork and consequently they lowered the price on Thursday by 1 cent per pound. Lard has dropped about 2 cents per pound and will be cheaper this coming week. It will be another two weeks before bacon starts to come down. Pork chops and pork roasts may retail a little cheaper after today. The packers have not yet lowered their prices of straight pork, but will probably do so early this coming week. The first drop will not be more than 2 or 3 cents per pound, but further declines will follow shortly.

EVERY VESSEL IN BOLSHEVIST FLEET IS SUNK BY THE BRITISH

Attempts of Russian Rebels to Bombard Revel Ends in Disaster—Riga Also Saved From Attack.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 25.—The Bolshevists' attempt to bombard Reval, the capital of Esthonia, from the sea, have resulted in complete failure, according to reports received here. Every vessel in the fleet is said to have been sunk.

Riga was saved from an attack by the Bolshevists and from disorders within the city by the British fleet, which was sent into the Baltic late in December for the purpose of assisting British refugees to leave Russia.

Ufa has fallen to the Bolshevists, the reverse to the Russian and the Czecho-Slovak forces there being said to be due chiefly to the failure of the arms to arrive from Vladivostok. Troops which defended the city have fallen back to Zlatoust, 140 miles to the northwest, where they are making a courageous stand in the gorges of the Ural country. Thousands of rifles have arrived at the front and have been rushed to Cheliabinsk, which is not believed to be in danger for the present at least.

CAPT. C. VIVIAN FESSENDEN ARRIVED AT HALIFAX TODAY

Transport Docked With Large Number of Ontario Soldiers—Mumps and Flu Among the Troops.

Capt. Fessenden is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Fessenden, 602 Rubidge street, and went overseas with the first contingent of the 48th Highlanders from Toronto. He was gassed and taken prisoner at the battle of St. Julian, and was in a German camp up to a short time ago.

Capt. Fessenden was a graduate of the Royal Military College, and previous to enlisting held a position on the staff of the Canadian Light and Power Company at St. Timoee Influenza on Board.

A Canadian Press despatch says the steamer Aquitania, with five thousand returning soldiers aboard, including two thousand from Ontario points, docked at Halifax this morning. The steamer berthed with the yellow jack flynig as several cases of mumps and influenza developed on board. Among those arriving on Aquitania were Sir George MacLaren Brown, European General Manager for the C.P.R., and Capt. Bogert, American Naval Representative of Admiral Browning, during his inspection of German warships immediately after the signing of the armistice.

CAN TREAT WITH GERMAN PEOPLE

RESULT OF ELECTIONS GIVES GOVT. STANDING WITH PEACE CONGRESS.

London, Jan. 25.—Basing its comment on the final unofficial figures on the results of the German elections for the National Assembly, as received yesterday from Basle, The Times points out that no party has an absolute majority in the Assembly, but expresses the opinion that there is every probability of a strong combination between the Majority Socialists and the Democrats (the former Radicals, reinforced by some National Liberals), together with whatever recruits they may attract from the other groups.

Such an arrangement of parties, says The Times editorial, would produce the one result which concerns the Allies and the United States. It would give Germany a strong government with the indisputable moral right to bind the German state and people. The Allies and America should hasten to recognise the state of things which the election has created.

"Hitherto we had no direct representatives of the German people to deal with. These elections furnish such representatives. Let us recognize their title and lose no time about it."

It may be pointed out that the original plan for the national assembly called for 433 members of that body, but owing to the fact that Alsace-Lorraine did not vote the total is reduced by 12 and hence will be 421.

Congress Should Fix Time Limit

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 25.—It is hoped, says the Paris edition of the London Daily Mail, that when the Peace Conference appoints committees to investigate subjects today it will fix a time limit. The paper quotes a diplomat of experience in such matters as estimating that, having regard for the large amount of material already collected, each committee ought to be able to prepare its report in a week. He anticipates, however, that the committees will ask two weeks and that the matter will be compromised on ten days.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

SATURDAY, JANUARY 25, 1919

MR. CARVELL'S VISIT.

THE MATTER of governmental aid in the construction of the Hunter street bridge is one that belongs to the Department of Railways and Canals, so that Hon. F. B. Carvell, who spoke in this city last night, has practically nothing to do with it. Mr. Carvell's department, however, has jurisdiction in the erection of a public building in Peterborough and in the construction of the dry dock that is proposed for Ashburnham.

No one need be disappointed or discouraged if the Minister of Public Works in his address last night made no specific pledge that work on these two enterprises would be begun at a certain time. He made it clear that he had no authority to do so. As a member of the government, all he can do is to look over the ground, as he did yesterday, and report back to his colleagues as to the necessity for the improvements.

There is no reason why the citizens of Peterborough should entertain any doubts as to the early commencement of the construction of the Federal building and of the dry dock arranged for in 1914, and deferred, like so many other enterprises involving heavy expenditure on account of the war. The government of which Mr. Carvell is a member has announced a program for the resumption of such works in order to take care of the employment problem. Peterborough is not likely to be overlooked in this regard.

Mr. Carvell is evidently a businesslike member of a businesslike Administration. His address last night was optimistic, even though he did not attempt to minimize the serious financial obligations that the war has forced upon the country. His message should be especially encouraging to the veterans who heard it, as outlining in detail just what the Union Government has planned for the care of the returned soldiers.

THE ANONYMOUS LETTER AGAIN.

IT IS ONLY RIGHT that the newspaper that chooses to publish an anonymous letter reflecting upon another should be held morally, if not legally, responsible for anything that appears in such a communication.

A local contemporary last night granted the questionable courtesy of its columns to an anonymous letter which deplored the fact that ex-President Taft, only the previous day the honored guest of the city, was, according to his own statement, incidentally made, a member of a certain faith, a m atter which all right-minded persons are given to regard as one that lies entirely between a man and his Maker. Not satisfied with this, the paper is indirectly responsible for a slur cast upon the enterprising members of the society who brought the distinguished American here.

Whatever may be Mr. Taft's creed, in none of his speeches did he attempt to make a proselyte of any man or woman in the city. It is certain that in his own country his faith was never challenged even in the excitement of two election campaigns for the presidency. Does his membership in a certain church make him any the less an authority on the important question that he discussed so ably?

The writer of the letter in question hides his identity behind the pen name "Bethlehem," but has evidently failed to catch the spirit of Christian charity that is supposed to emanate from that historic place. The only saving feature about this horrible lack of journalistic taste is that Mr. Taft had left the city before the letter was published and is not even likely to hear of it. His good impressions formed of Peterborough and its citizens during his visit will not be marred by an epistle suggestive of life in the backwoods.

HOW THE PLATOON SYSTEM WOULD WORK

WHEN THE FIRE Department was called last evening to the Bell Apartments to handle a blaze which, but for prompt action, would have proved serious, half the members of the brigade were away on supper leave. Another was sick, so that when the alarm was turned in only six men besides Chief Grange were on duty. The men who were home at the time rose from their evening meal and responded promptly to the call for duty. All of them were at their posts with commendable promptitude, but even at that time was lost which might have had serious consequences.

With the double platoon system in existence, such as is recommended here and has been adopted in other cities, large and small, in Ontario, there would be ten men on duty all the time. The men on leave would respond to every alarm, and the dispatch with which this can be done was demonstrated last night. There would be twenty firement to answer every call, instead of fourteen as at present. The property owners of the city should remember that there are at certain hours of the day only at the most seven men on duty, and this number is even less in the not improbable event of sickness, for firemen, even if they are on the city pay roll, are not immune from the "flu" and other physical afflictions.

Chief Grange has brought the department up to a high standard of efficiency. The roster is complete, and every member of the brigade is thoroughly capable. The relations between the chief and his assistants are perfectly harmonious. This satisfactory condition, however, cannot possibly be maintained unless the men are placed on the same plane as other civic employes and given an opportunity to lead such an existence as is denied to no other citizens outside of jails and penitentiaries. There is no reason on earth why a man who takes his life in his hands every time he goes on active duty should be kept on call twenty-four hours a day and compelled to lead an existence which practically estranges him from his family.

A FORTUNATE OMISSION.

FORTUNATELY Hon. F. B. Carvell did not incidentally indicate his religious faith in his address last night, as Mr. Taft did the previous evening. This will prevent any pharisaical anonymous writer from using the columns of the Examiner for challenging Mr. Carvell's right to appear on a public platform in Peterborough.

HIGH COST OF PUBLIC LIVING.

IF ORGANIZED LABOR achieves its present ambition and succeeds in sending representatives from its own class to Parliament, one of the next probable steps will be a move for the increase of the present sessional indemnity of $2500. The cost of living has gone up everywhere in Canada, but not quite to such an extent as at Ottawa, where the men who cater to the wants of the members of Parliament are already revising their lists so as to reap as rich a harvest as possible during the coming session.

It is not a fact that every member of the Federal House is a man of easy circumstances, but the business people of Ottawa regulate their program on the assumption that he is. There are men in Parliament who have no other source of regular income, and with all such public service is in no sense a financial bonanza. After a member pays his legitimate and unavoidable expenses at Ottawa through a session, every one of which appears to grow longer than the preceding one, he is lucky indeed if he comes out even. This calculation takes no note of the expenditure he was forced to make during his campaign for election.

In Ottawa, private houses no longer take in boarders. The cost of living at a pension is higher than the regular hotel, and rates increase year after year. Some of the hotels at the Capital are already sending out circulars advertising their rates and bidding for the patronage of members during the approaching session. The schedule of one of these places of public entertainment will suffice to give an idea of what the financial penalty is for spending a few months at Ottawa as a representative of the people.

The hotel in question charges 75 cents for breakfast, $1.00 for lunch and $1.25 for dinner, or $3.00 a day for meals alone. A room costs $2.50 a day, so that every member of Parliament cannot even subsist while on active duty for less than $5.50 a day. Besides this unavoidable expense, there is outlay in other directions that are equally inevitable, such as entertaining any of his constituents as may call upon him at Ottawa.

Under present conditions, with the number of voters largely increased by equal suffrage, it will take almost the entire sessional allowance for two years to carry a candidate through his election campaign, every cent expended legitimately at that. It is apparent, then, that membership in the House is not at the present rate of living an attractive job from a financial point at least for a poor man. A member of Parliament should devote practically his entire time between sessions to looking after the welfare of his constituency, and while so engaged he will incur additional expenses. The trouble with the present system is that this branch of the public service is filled by so many men of means who regard the sessions as so many holidays which furnish them with opportunities for social revelry. During the time between sessions their entire time is devoted almost exclusively to their private business interests.

What is wanted is a greater number of members who can work the year round for the ridings which they represent. Parliament should not be made a rich man's club. The road to membership should be open to the man of limited means, and all such should be allowed a compensation sufficient to carry them through a session without, at least, actual loss.

BRITISH DO NOT HATE GERMANS

(By Harry Hansen.)

The first thing that strikes you as odd about London is the unemotional way the English talk about the Germans.

"What's the kaiser doing?" I asked an English journalist. "I've been nearly two weeks on the ocean and his activities have escaped me."

"The kaiser? Indeed, I don't know," was the reply. "He doesn't count anymore, anyhow."

There was an amiable officer in my compartment and he had something to say about the Germans, too.

"I suppose your American troops will be real hard on the Germans, eh?" he asked pleasantly.

"Probably," I replied, "but your Tommies will treat them the worst, won't they? They've got some unpleasant memories, we understand."

"Oh, I think the Tommies are rather easy on them," he replied. "As a matter of fact we are having a hard time to keep them from fraternizing. There have been several official orders against it, but what can you do when people are so civil to you

Another close observer had the view that the Germans were extremely adaptable. They realize that they have been beaten and that the thing to do is to resume the old friendly relations as soon as possible. So they are using every effort to make friends.

"Let's be good friends again, just like before the war," is their view, according to this observer's idea. And he amplified it like this:

"The Germans are going into this business of making friendships with a lot of concentrated effort, just as they made war. Their idea is that the sooner they get back into the good graces of the allies the sooner they will recuperate from their losses.

"The Tommies have really treated the Germans more considerately than the French, but you can't say that the French have been hard with them. In the occupied territory, for instance, the statutes of the kaiser still stand. The Germans didn't throw them down and neither did the French. The French merely draped them in black cloth."

London bears its scars well. Somehow we in America get the idea that its streets are full of men on crutches, men mutilated in the wars, women leading the blind. But one sees very few of them.

The streets are active with men on furlough. There are thousands upon thousands of uniforms. Unique uniforms, too—such as those of men dressed in what appears to be a civilian suit of bright horizon blue, with a bright red necktie. It is the uniform of wounded men who have not yet been released from hospitals.

But the influence of the war strikes one as soon as he lands. There are about three or four men to hustle a shipload of luggage.

You remember the war again when you see the poverty stricken women with their little ones wrapped in shawls—an old, frayed, black shawl—standing in front of windows containing toys and edibles and peering longingly at them.

And then the darkness of London confronts one. At 10 o'clock all the theaters and restaurants close. Lights are turned out. The gorgeously attired crowd at the Savoy filters slowly out—strange, shadowy figures. A few lamps reflect the brilliance of davalieres and gems. There are gorgeous collars of pearls. One hardly notices them.

"My, how bright things are tonight," says an observing Englishman, and you wonder where he finds the brightness.

"Yes, we lighted that other chandelier tonight," says the attendant, pointing to an alabaster bowl in which two incandescent globes are dimly shining. "First time in a year, sir."

You seek information. "What, haven't you had more light than this?" you ask.

"We had none at all, sir, a year ago," is the reply.

England is conserving its coal supply. Today most of London is without heat. But it has been a wonderful fall, just as in Chicago, and now it is as balmy as in spring.

Mrs. B.—Yes; it is his pet aversion.

A Wise Son

Robbie—Oh, not so very. Ma isn't what you'd call a really bad-tempered woman.

Not in the Chimney

She—Did you hear the chimney swallow?

Embarrassed Youth—That wasn't the chimney, Ethel; that was I.

Advice

Get up and try again, young man,
Don't sit around and sigh;
I'd rather be a failure than

Happy Thought

Leading Man (of the stranded troupe)—Nothing to do but walk back to dear old Broadway, methinks.

Leading Woman—But think of the disgrace.

Ingenue—And the rustic gibery!

TODAY'S STORY

The most important man in the United States at the present time is Vice-President Thomas Riley Marshall. If, for any reason, an inability should arise on the part of President Wilson to perform the duties of his office, those duties automatically devolve upon the Vice-President. The constitution provides for this.

Under ordinary circumstances a Vice-President's chief obligation appears to be self-effacement. There probably is no other public functionary in the United States whose badge of office is so closely and completely linked with a modest oblivion. And now, all of a sudden, the spotlight is turned upon him. Although the concensus of opinion is that President Wilson's absence from the country is in full accord with his three-fold capacity of treaty-maker, as head of the government and commander-in-chief of the army and navy, and that, therefore, the "inability" contemplated by the constitution does not apply, nevertheless the fact remains that he question has been mooted, and Vice-President Marshall himself has declared that, if ordered by a competent tribunal, he would, as a law-abiding citizen, acquiesce, and take a seat in the presidential chair.

Mr. Marshall was born at North Manchester, Ind., on March 14, 1854, and is a lawyer by profession. He was governor of his native state from 1909 to 1913, and was elected Vice-President of the United States for the term of 1913 to 1917, being re-elected for the term of 1917 to 1921. Should he be called upon to perform the duties of President, his executive experience as governor of Indiana would be of much service to him.

MEELS

There is 3 principle meels, brekfist dinnir and suppir, making the day pass much quicker than if there was only one or 2. Some people call you for meels, and some ring a dinner bell and then haff to call you enyhow. The reeson people ring a dinner bell even for suppir and brekfist and suppir is because there aint eny brekfist and suppir bell. This proves that as long as people find out theres a meel reddy, thats the same thing.

Most people dont tawk much at brekfist for 2 reasons, ferst, because they jest got up and havent got enything to tawk about yet, and 2nd because they dont feel like tawking. The principal rule at brekfist is not to use all the rest of the cream.

Lunch is dinner wen there aint mutch of it. Some people call suppir dinner, thinking it sounds more important, but the result is the same. A good way to tell how hungery a person is by how awften they say, Aint dinner reddy yet.

Brekfist starts with dizzert, sutch as a orrindge, and dinner and suppir ends with it, such as pie if youre lucky. Some children eat a slice of bred and butter affir their dizzert jest to prove they aint full yet, even if nobody sed they was.

Making the Soldier A Civilian

EARLY in the war, the Government realised that the returned soldier would need one of three things.

(1) If he was ill, he would want to be made well.

(2) If he was so disabled by service that he could not follow his old occupation he would want an opportunity to recover his power to "make good" as a civilian.

(3) If he was fit, he would want to be put into touch with employment opportunities.

To help in this three-fold service the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment was organized.

The Medical Branch.

The Medical Branch of this Department gives the special after-care that soldiers who have suffered through war service need.

On his return to Canada the invalided or wounded soldier is treated in military hospitals. If the Medical Board decides that his case requires extended treatment in certain diseases, he is discharged from the army and comes under the care of this Department.

The Medical Branch then provides free medical and surgical treatment;

—free artificial limbs and special boots for deformed feet;

—free surgical appliances, eyeglasses, etc.;

—free dental treatment.

At present this service is available not only on the soldier's discharge from the army, but whenever he becomes ill again on account of disease or wounds due to war service.

The Vocational "Re-Training" Branch.

Some soldiers have so suffered on war service that they are prevented from working at the trade or occupation they followed before enlisting. This branch of the Department arranges for such men free re-training in some trade or occupation.

* * * * *

While undergoing medical or surgical treatment in the hospitals of the Department, or "Re-Training," the soldier receives pay, and his family and dependents are granted adequate allowances.

Information and Service Branch.

This branch of the Department has been organized recently to give special service to the demobilized soldier.

This branch first comes into contact with the soldier in France and England. Here it finds out the soldier's previous experience, the employment he now prefers to take up, and the locality in which he intends to settle.

Representatives of the Department keep in constant touch with returning soldiers before they reach Canada to let the men know just what the country is prepared to do for them, to advise them, and to give them information.

This service will be extended throughout Canada and by means of it the returned soldier will be placed in touch with Government Employment Offices, where details of existing opportunities for employment are available.

The representatives of the Department will themselves be returned men—those who can appreciate the soldier's problem.

The work these branches do will be described more fully in later announcements.

To any one interested in the work of this Department information will be gladly given on application to—

Past Peace Conferences Differed in Character, But Were Always Secret

FROM the story of the peace conferences which have terminated recent wars, no general line of procedure for the settlement of the differences arising out of the World War can be foreshadowed. Even a military armistice does not always follow peace parleys. When Mr. Roosevelt intervened to put an end to the Russo-Japanese war, hostilities dragged on for a long time while delegates were journeying to Portsmouth, U.S.A., and it was there arranged that fighting should only cease when the actual peace treaty was signed.

The most important peace conference was that which settled the Balkan War. The delegates of Turkey, Bulgaria, Serbia, and Greece met at St. James' Palace, London, and, after discussing terms for some weeks, failed to agree upon them. The conference was opened by Sir Edward Grey, who welcomed the delegates in a speech that was given to the public, but afterwards negotiations were conducted in private. This is the nearest approach to publicity that has yet been reached.

Although there is the classic instance of Bismark's brutality in conducting negotiations with prostrate France in 1871, the meeting of delegates, as a rule, tends to relax personal hostility. While war is on it is a crime to hold communication with enemy subjects. During the Balkan War peace negotiations in London we saw the Turkish delegate sitting with the Bulgarian, Serbian, and Greek plenipotentiaries at the Mansion House table, making guarded friendly references to each other, and quite throwing aside their standoffishness under the exhilarating influence of the Lord Mayor's champagne. A little later, the peace negotiations having failed, the delegates were back in their camps again. The day of the friendly nod had gone, and they studiously avoided taking the same trains back to their respective capitals to report their lack of success. The Balkan peace was eventually signed at Bucharest.

The peace that closed the Boer War was arrived at without the British and Boer delegates coming to a formal round table. Mr. Schalk Burger and a few prominent Boers came into Pretoria under the white flag on March 23rd, 1902. They said they wanted peace, and Lord Milner, representing the civil government, and Lord Kitchener, representing the military authorities, gave them a safe-conduct to Kroomstad, in the Orange River Colony, to consult other Boer leaders. Fighting went on. In May Botha, De Wet, Delarey, Smuts and Hertzog, who had been allowed to hold their peace conferences at Vereeniging, left that little Vaal river hamlet, and took into Pretoria their considered appeal for peace. The home government was consulted on it, and their answer was taken back to Vereeniging, where they decided to surrender unconditionally, and returned to Pretoria to sign the peace document before Lord Milner and Kitchener on May 31st. This peace, though based on these terrible military conditions of "preconditional surrender" was a very generous one, and the British Government gave £3,000,000 for the repatriation needs of the people against whom we had been warring. This treatment and the establishment of a Union of South Africa, which speedily followed, settled an unhappy war in a way that made South Africa a source of strength to us in the Great War in Europe.

There have been cases where a peace treaty concluded by belligerents has been revised by the Great Powers. The peace of San Stefano, signed by Russia and Turkey was taken to the Aepeal Court of the Congress of Berlin in 1878. It is the most notable instance of this having happened. There were doubts whether the Treaty of Bucharest, settling the Balkan wars of 1912-13 would not be revised by the Powers, but the Venizelos' fears on this ground were not realized. The maintenance of the balance of power in Europe has been the excuse for modifying treaties made by individual belligerents. It sounds to the present day reader like a new theory, evolving from the concert of Europe, which used to periodically exert pressure on Turkey and Greece in the latter years of the nineteenth century, or resulting from the Triple Alliance, which provoked the creation of the Triple Entente. But it is interesting on looking over the old peace treaties, that are now household words without much meaning or value, to discover that the principle of the balance of power in Europe was first recognised by the Treaty of Westphalia, in 1648, and also that it was under that international act that Alsace was handed to France, to be wrenched from her—after many vicissitudes—by Germany in the imposed peace laid down by Bismark at Versailles, and eventually signed at Frankfort.

In looking back on the war the names of many localities associated with peace treaties will be recalled. Amiens, that fell temporarily into German hands early in the war, was the town where the treaty bearing its name, after being negotiated in London, was signed between Great Britain, France and Holland, and Spain, in 1802.

Another interesting township with a peace history that was overrun by the Austrians when they made their break through at Caporette in the autumn of 1917 is Campo Formio, not far from Undine. The treaty was between Napoleon and Austria, and was signed in 1797. It was noteworthy as one of the most barefaced acts of diplomatic duplicity on record, a secret clause in the document having the effect of robbing Italy of her Venetian provinces, and handing them over to Austria.

Teach Children Correct Speech.

After all, the best place to carry on a campaign for better speech is right in the home with the little circle that three times a day gathers about the dining room table, or perhaps it is only the kitchen table. It makes no difference, and the same little circle will in the evening gather about the hearth. For it is the speech which we hear about us at home that clings to us through life.—Exchange.

Doing Right.

Everything on earth has its price, and sooner or later we pay for all that we have. When we complain that doing right takes so much toll of effort, sacrifice, and the loss of what we call "success," we have only to look about us to see that evil-doing is more costly still. Its demands may come in on the instalment plan, but they will be all the more exorbitant because

WINTER WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian winters are extremely hard on the health of little ones. The mother cannot take the little one out for an airing. The consequence is that baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes colds and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little one healthy. They regulate the stomach and bowels and prevent or cure colds. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Herbert was asked to hand the tools to his father, who was under the car trying to repair it. For this his father praised him, telling him he had been of great assistance. When they reached home and explained to his mother why they were late Herbert promptly added: "Yes, and if there hadn't been two of us men along we might not be here yet."

Much Good in Kind Words.

Kind words do not cost much. They never blister the tongue or lips. Though they do not cost much, yet they accomplish much. They make other people good natured. They also produce their own image on men's souls and a beautiful image it is.—Blaise Pascal.

Pine Leaf Paper.

It has been estimated that if the immense waste were eliminated, the daily output of the long-leaf pine industry would be 4,000 tons of paper, 1,000 tons of rosin, 300,000 gallons of turpentine, and 600,000 gallons of ethyl.

CUT IN SALARIES ALL THAT WILL PROTECT BASEBALL

Man Who Made a Million Out of National Game Is in Favor of Retrenchment.

(By Ascer C. Reichow.)

"Baseball is getting back to where it belongs. The reduction in players' salaries was inevitable. The clubs in the major leagues were topheavy with the high salaries they paid. Players and Club owners must be fair to each other if the game is to continue on a paying basis."

This is the opinion of Charles W. Murphy, former owner of the Chicago Cubs, and the man who is credited with having made a million dollars out of baseball. He was in the game when it was good and got out in time to save himself a lot of money, but has not lost interest in the sport. He has watched the movements of baseball closely and for the last few years has declared the magnates ought to do what the National league voted for in New York wednesday. In his opinion that is the only way the men who have invested in enormous and expensive plants can collect any dividends.

On Minor League Basis.

If the National league remains alone in the decision to have a salary limit of $11,000 a month it probably will not gain much in the way of prestige, as it is putting itself on a minor league basis, the opinion being that a major league in the remuneration players are to receive. But the magnates have shown a lot of common sense in doing what they have done, as ball players have been overpaid and have been reaping the harvest of baseball. If the American league does not follow suit in reducing the players' salaries it is doubtful if its clubs will have as successful a season financialy as the clubs in the National league. The only hardship the parent major organization confronts in difficulty in inducing players to given contracts. Should the American league also adopt a salary limit of $11,000 everything will be rosy for the club owners and the game.

"I do not hesitate to say," continued Murphy, "that had I been at the meeting of the National leagle in New York, I would have poted for the salary limit. It is the only thing that will save baseball. The clubs could not continue to pay enormous salaries and exist. Baseball is a business the same as anything else, and money must be made to keep it alike. The club owners hust be given a chance to break at least even on their investment. They have not been doing that in recent years, therefore, the messure taken by the National league was inevitable.

Enormous Salaries Must Go.

"I do not say this with any intention in mind of being against the ball player. I have always been for him. It is a known fact that when I was president of the Cub team I had the highest paid club in the league and I had players who were worth it. But they were not getting the salaries paid inferior men in the last three or four years. My players were satisfied and played the game to win every day. One does not blame the player for attempting to get all he can, but because of the increase in general expenses he must realize it is impossible for the club owner to continue to pay enormous salaries. If he does not the game runs the risk of going to smash.

"The Chicago and New York clubs went on record as opposing the reduction. They must take the other clubs into consideration. If the other teams failed to make money and close up there will be no baseball and the Chicago and New York teams will be compelled to suspend business. If that happened where would their investment be?

"One of the biggest mistakes baseball ever made happened in the American league when Johnson's pay of $25,000 a year was made public. I know from experience. I had players come to me and demand an increase. I asked why they thought they were entitled to it. Their answer was: 'If Johnson is worth $25,000 to the American league as president, I certainly am worth a few hundred more to your ball club.' Then the National league followed with its error by paying John K. Tener the same salary."

HIS FATE

By GLADYS ETHEL SALTER

"Who is she?" inquired Albion Ward, with interest and admiration.

"She is Nell Rodley. Always trim and neat as you see her now, smiling, happy and not much of a home life to brag of."

Ward was a stranger in Rushville and sojourning there briefly. His companion was an old timer with whom he had a casual acquaintance. He had been attracted by the young girl, who had driven up in front of the main store with a fiery horse attached to a buggy. Grace and agility marked her every movement. She paused to stroke the head of the horse and the animal seemed to understand that he was to behave himself until she returned. She came out of the store finally and was hailed at the curb by two young girls.

"You'll be sure to come, Nell?" one of them asked.

"Oh, I couldn't miss it! Grandfather is away and I'm so happy to think I had enough out of the milk money I earned to buy—these," and the speaker lovingly caressed a box she carried. "You will surely call for me?"

"Yes, brother is going to drive us over and we'll pick you up on the way."

"I'd like to know this young miss," confessed Ward, as he strolled on alone. He started down a country road. He covered several miles and threw himself upon the green sward to recuperate before he essayed the return journey.

The drowsy flower-perfumed air lulled his senses to somnolence. A break upon the silence aroused him. Coming down the road at full speed, her hair flowing, her eyes a-sparkle, her lips parted in excited delight was Nell. Both she and the spirited animal seemed to enjoy a burst of unrestrained liberty. She flashed by the spot, the vehicle struck a rut and bounced high in the air. A mock shriek rang out, then a silvery laugh echoed thrillingly and the rig vanished. It had seemed to Ward that as the buggy bounced out of the rut some object lifted in the air and circled to the road. He went forward to explore this supposition.

"Why!" he exclaimed, "it's the box the young lady had in the town. Wonder what's in it?"

Removing the paper covering, Ward beheld lying in a nest of tissue paper a pair of dainty blue slippers. He stood gazing at them, weaving all kinds of sentimentality about them and their owner.

"She will be greatly disappointed when she misses them," ruminated Ward. "Possibly she may come back searching for them."

He lingered about the spot for over an hour. Then Ward struck out for town, a quaint conceit in his mind. He repaired to a public garage. He inquired as to the Bodley farm. It was dusk when he started from the village, driving an automobile, the lost package at his side.

The moon was just coming up as Ward reached his destination. The somber farmhouse showed only one light, at its rear. Ward left the machine and made his way towards it. Through an open window he viewed Nell Bodley. She sat with forlorn face, gazing into space. Across a chair hung a filmy dress and some trifles of ribbons and laces.

"Do not be startled," spoke Ward boldly. "I am a stranger, but I know some of your friends in the town."

Nell had started to her feet. She looked half frightened.

"I have come as a sort of fairy godfather," went on Ward. "You are going to some social function tonight, I understand."

"I was," said Nell, "but someone stole a purchase I had made out of the buggy—"

"No," corrected Ward. "You mean a pair of Cinderella slippers? They jolted out down the road. Here they are."

"You found them? Oh, how kind, how good you are!" cried Nell. "But it is too late. I could not go without them, and my friends have gone on without me."

"Miss Bodley," spoke Ward, "I have an auto outside. I will feel it an honor and a pleasure to drive you wherever you wish to go. I will attend to some necessary adjusting of the machine, and will be ready in five minutes."

She came out just as the full moon sailed beyond the horizon in its full splendor. Albion Ward fancied he had never seen so beautiful a creature. Then a dash down the road and an arrival at a farm where a merry party were having an old-fashioned barn dance.

The hostess of the evening, coming out to welcome Nell, and advised of the situation, insisted on Ward remaining as a guest.

It was a novel and charming experience for the city-bred young man. Nell remained all night with her hostess, but by that time she and Ward were so well acquainted that it was understood he would call and see her the next day.

"Cinderella," he said, one afternoon, a week later, "I am called back to the city. Will you miss your fairy godfather?"

Her face fell. She turned aside to conceal the regretful tears.

"Nell," he went on softly, "look into my eyes and see if you cannot guess what I wish to say to you of truth and love."

SUIT WITH JACKET EFFECT

This chic suit is of navy velours de laine, with collar and facings of tan. A broad girdle, loosely tied at the back, adds a new touch to the Hawaiian jacket with flare and peplum.

LATE FABRIC FOR LINGERIE

Voile Has Gained Place of Favor and Has an Advantage Over Satin and Silk.

Voile is a fairly new fabric for lingerie, but it has already, in the few months that it has been used for undergarments, gained prestige.

To be sure, voile lingerie ten or twelve years ago would have seemed absurdly unpractical. Voile was too thin, we would have said, too fragile for the hard wear that lingerie must have.

But those statements would have been made in the days before lingerie had had a chance to show its good points. And they would have been made, too, in the days before we used fur and chiffon, tulle and satin for lingerie. Nowadays, of course, satin is considered one of the most durable of fabrics—one is tempted to say undermuslins—in the good old-fashioned way, but undermuslins are now only a part of the matter, for most of them are made of silk and satin and crepe.

Voile has one advantage over satin and silk in the minds of some women, at least for underwear. They cling to a liking for a regular tubbing fabric for underwear. It matters not to them that satin can be washed in soap and water and ironed; satin does not seem so fresh and clean as cotton of some sort. So to them voile is a welcome addition to the fabrics from which underwear is made.

QUAINT AND PRETTY SWEATER

Short, Sleeveless Garment With Narrow Belt Assists in Solving Problem for Some Makers.

They are undeniably quaint and pretty, those short, sleeveless sweaters, until they start to lose their shape. That happens when the purling begins to give, or where there is no purling at at all.

Narrow belts of kid and wee ribbon girdles constitute two answers to this problem of "giving." Still, neither one is especially distinctive or in keeping with the type of garment on which it is used. So a fastidious girl with a bright idea all her own hit upon the plan of the narrow self-girdle. She took quite long strands of the mercerized cotton matching her sweater—six strands, to be exact. These she twisted round and round into some simulation of a monastic cord. Then she weighted the ends snugly once about the sweater, then with self-pompons, tied the girdle again with graceful looseness. The effect was smart to a degree.

And this suggests other things for a clever girl to do along this line. For instance, double strands of the cotton might be loosely plaited, then weighted with big self-tassels. That is certainly an easy thing to do, and such a practical, good-looking thing when done.

Poor Kidney Action Brings Fatal Results

It is well for everyone to realize that from the moment the kidneys fail to remove the poisons from the blood stream, these poisons accumulate and set up the infections that cause disease.

What are the indications which give warning of this approaching suffering?

Here are a few of the symptoms. That pain in the back, dizziness, swollen joints or ankles, painful urination or brick dust deposits. At the first attack of any of these troubles turn to the old tried and tested kidney remedy—Gin Pills. Take them as directed and you will soon feel fine.

Do not misunderstand the reason for Gin Pills. How they came to be called Gin Pills is this:

Gin has long been considered a remarkable curative agent for kidney or bladder trouble. This virtue comes from one ingredient alone in Gin and NOT from the alcohol. That is why the beneficial ingredients in gin can be taken in pill form, without alcohol, and that is what you get when you use Gin Pills.

When you decide to try Gin Pills you are protected. Buy a box from any dealer for 50 cents. If you do not get genuine relief after taking them, all you have to do is ask for your money back and it will be returned.

This is certainly a generous offer; but we make it feeling that once you have tried Gin Pills and know the beneficial results they bring, you will continue to use and recommend them.

Fighting Doors.

All the doors should swing high enough from the floor to clear any rugs placed near them. And they should be placed so that they will not jam against one another. I know of two doors in a house that persist in locking knobs just as two angry bulls lock horns in mortal combat—or is it deer that do this? And when these doors are in that position, you can't get out but have to back out, go around another way, and separate them. We don't intend having any doors like that in this house.—Harry L. Shumway, in the House Beautiful.

Not the Doctor's Fault.

"She has been a steady customer of the beauty parlors," remarked Felicia, descriptively, "for a number of years. The reason the results are not all that might be desired is that the beauty doctors had so little to start on. She was, you might say, wholly without preliminary training for the course."

LESSONS IN RIGHT LIVING

The nature of cancer, and hence its cause, is unknown. All sorts of theories have been proposed to explain the great and apparently increasing prevalence of this disease. Most of the theories fail to apply when considered in connection with any considerable number of cancer cases.

Cancer consists of an abnormal, irregular or unrestrained growth of the ordinary tissue cells of the structure or organ involved. It is an anarchy of growth, and anarchy in any body must be destroyed or it will eventually destroy the body.

Constant irritation and unfair treatment, ill usage, damage done by injury, congenital defects, and the application of poisons of various kinds seem to be the predisposing factors of anarchy in the body.

Eighty-five per cent. of all cancers of the lips, tongue and throat occur in tobacco smokers.

Good dentistry, as opposed to the bargain kind, is recognized as one of the preventives of cancer in the mouth.

One-third of all cancers in civilized men occur in the stomach, and a man has to be pretty thoroughly civilized in order to know how to abuse his stomach as a regular habit. The eating of very hot food, too highly seasoned with condiments, and the drinking of stimulating or irritating beverages, such as whiskey, ginger ale, carbonated water, including plain soda water, must be included among the predisposing causes of cancer of the stomach. Overeating and hasty swallowing or incompletely masticated food are also predisposing causes of cancer of the stomach.

The irritation of excessive scar tissue about the seat of lacerations unrepaired or incompletely repaired after childbirth has always been considered an important predisposing cause of the most frequent and most tragic of all cancers, cancer of the womb in mothers of large families.

The irritation of frequent shaving over a trifling wart or pimple on the cheek, or of frequent pinching or picking at such a lesion, appears to be a common predisposing cause of the skin cancer which is prone to develop on such a site after middle age.

Cancer may occur in children, in youths, or at any age, though it is most common at or after middle age.

Cancer is not inherited, and there is no evidence that it is a communicable disease.

A Long Lived Delusion.

"* * * * but I have no pains in the back to indicate kidney trouble, so I * * * * *"

Neither has a patient who actually has kidney disease, as a general rule.

And Another That Dies Hard.

"* * * * He seemed to think my liver was hardened. I have taken all sorts of calomel, scarcely a week has passed without a thorough calomel purge. Could the liver undergo hardening under such conditions?"

Calomel has no known effect on the liver. It is merely a cathartic, and a very crude one at that. Calomel is prescribed more out of sympathy and reverence for the traditions of medicine than for any real benefits the drug can produce. Calomel has far less excuse than castor oil in a doctor's armamentarium, and castor oil has almost no excuse at all. These antiquated medicines ought to be put away in the medical museum along with angleworm juice and toads' eyes.

And Another Just As Foolish.

"Will you please tell me just how to take the yeast cakes you recommend for clearing the blood of impurities? Do you mean the common yeast cakes such as bakers sell for baking? Mrs. S. A. B."

I have never suggested or recommended yeast to clear the blood of impurities. Sometimes an ordinary yeast cake may be taken after each meal or after two meals daily for several weeks as a remedy for obstinate pimples or boils. The yeast cake should be mixed with cool water or fruit juice or beef broth to fluid consistency to drink. Yes, any yeast cake sold for baking is right. Pimples or boils or other eruptions have nothing to do with the purity or impurity of the blood or of the individual affected.

The Life of John Buckley.

It was ancient history to some that the "Life Story of John Buckley," edited by the well-known J. C. Buckmaster of the South Kensington museum, London, was really the story of the editor's life. It was one of the books of its season in 1907, one of the best bits of biography we have in fact, and I am not surprised to find that the question of its authorship has bobbed up once again in the old country.

Primitive Methods of Farming.

In Central America many primitive agricultural implements are still retained. The native farmer still uses a plow with a crooked tree-branch tipped with iron. The objection to the modern two-handled plow is that a hand is needed for guiding the animal, hence the introduction into Honduras of a trial modern-style plow with one handle.

HOLLAND'S WHITE ELEPHANT—Passing Snow.

Masonry in the Revolution.

During the American Revolution craft lodges were found in many of the English regiments in America, and a number of them existed in the Continental army. There is a record of ten regularly constituted, acting under warrants and attached to the Continental regiments. It is claimed that General Lafayette was made a Mason at Valley Forge during the American Revolution, but R. F. Gould states in his history of Masonry that Lafayette was raised by the American Union lodge at Norristown, N. J. It was in the American Union lodge that the first resolutions were passed urging the election of a general grand master for the United States.

Telephoning in Japan.

The editor of the Japan Times says the telephone service in Japan is utterly bad. He wonders "what Job would have done had he lived in Tokyo and wanted to telephone to the specialist on boils." He concludes with the following incident: "A lady in Karuizawa called up her house in Tokyo, left by the next train, got the call and talked to herself in Karuizawa six hours after she arrived in Tokyo. That's not a joke. It's the solemn truth."—From The East and West News.

Friendship's Opportunity.

Many fine and splendid people at times try the good nature and good will of their very best friends. It may be that they are wrestling with some wearisome problem or endeavoring to bear up under some heavy burden and for the time being appear to be anything but their own natural selves. But instead of accusing them of unkindness or of taking offense at their attitude they true friends overlook their unnaturalness, realizing that they will not remain so for long.

Popular Symbol in China.

One of the most frequent groups of symbols seen in Chinese designs is the Buddhist group. The Buddhist knot is the sign of longevity, and also stands for the eight Buddhist commandments. Two fish denote domestic felicity. These fish, or perch, go in pairs and are always faithful to each other. The umbrella of 10,000 people is presented to a mandarin on his leaving a district as a token of the purity of his administration. The canopy, like the umbrella, is a sign relating to official life, which is the ambition of every Chinese.

Goat's Milk Popular.

Canned goats' milk is finding an increasing market all over the world, and is said to be a profitable industry. In the course of the year the goat will produce twelve times its weight in milk, while a cow will yield only three times its weight, but the goat is not so reliable as an all-year-round source of supply. Goats' milk is very rich, and is in demand as a food for invalids and many children, and the goat is said further to be free from tuberculosis.

Ash Hopper.

A man the other day brought back memories of olden times when, in reply to a remark that spring was coming on fast, he said: "Yes, it's about time I was building the old woman an ash hopper." How many of you kids know to what he referred?—Eldorado Springs (Mo.) News.

Put Strangers Above Relations.

It was a vizier, Ibn Al-Amid, who lived in the eleventh century, who wrote this strangely modern advice: "Choose your friends among strangers, and take not your near relations into favor. Relations are like scorpions, or even more noxious."

SOME STYLES THAT REMAIN

Tendency Is Noticed to Eliminate Excess of Trimming Which Was More Popular at the Beginning of the Season.

New York.—Wherever merchants are foregathered, writes a fashion correspondent, there is talk, interesting talk, concerning the prices that women pay for clothes this season.

One expected the level of prices to be higher, because food, fuel, light and rent have increased beyond the knowledge of man; and there have been flagrant cases of injustice to the public in the amount of money demanded by some dressmakers for building clothes, but there are cases that must be settled with the individual, not the mass; the outstanding fact that interests the sellers of clothes is that women debate vastly more often for a high-priced gown than ever before and buy the plainest with seeming willingness. Why? The answer is explained by the word "extravagance" in a well-headed conservation.

The feature of this black velvet frock is the panels back and front, which are of black and gold gauze and fall below the skirt. The bodice is plain and finished at the neck with fur.

It does not take a woman with extraordinary shrewdness to know that cheap materials are not lasting. Nobody ever bought them with the belief that they would carry one with satisfaction throughout the season. They were bought by women who preferred to spread a small income over many cheap costumes; women—and America is filled with them—who like to vary their costume every day or every two months rather than be compelled to wear the same [illegible] the weeks of a settled season. It is a form of getting stimulation.

Wisdom in Buying Gowns.

It is, no doubt, an actual hardship for a large mass of American women to deny themselves the pleasure of a constant procession of clothes at small prices, but they must economize in this, as in food. A cooking expert has said that there are no such garbage pails in the world as here; that the kings of Europe did not have such garbage as the factory woman in the tenement districts of this country discards. This, it is true, has stopped; and even when garbage is plentiful, showing a spirit that is not unpatriotic but ignorant of thrift, then the government steps in and gets all sorts of things useful to the war out of the pail that once was nosed by the dogs and dumped into outer darkness.

Why Women Buy With Care.

So even though the American woman may not wish to wear one good costume throughout the season, her patriotism commands her to do it. This is the kernel of the entire situation. She buys in order that her clothes may last. She does not wish to take the time to constantly mend cheap clothes and renew them at odd moments. She has gone back to the ways of her great-grandmother, who chose material carefully and in many lights, paid a good price for it, and expected it to live up to its reputation.

A woman who goes into a shop this season to buy an every-day gown, pays $30 where she once paid $18 for it. This is as near the average figure as the shops can get. She asks if the [illegible] will wear. [illegible] dye, if the seams and stitchery are good, and when she finds that they are just what they once were, but that they are not up to her modern standard of purchasing, she adds $10 or $15 to the price and buys another gown that suits her judgment.

No one is happier over the state of affairs than the shopkeepers. They prefer to sell fewer gowns at good prices, for, while it is not necessary to renew them in a few months they give greater satisfaction to both parties.

Styles That Remain With Us.

The continuance of the chemise frock and the sandwich silhouette has given comfort to many women, because it allows them to wear, for a time, the frocks they possess. Whether or not this silhouette will die out as the season strengthens, no prophet can tell us; but there is uneasiness among those who watch fashions closely.

Everywhere one finds a tendency to widen the hips. We are trying to get a peg-top silhouette as opposed to a planked shad silhouette. If this change comes about, the straight chemise frocks or tunics will not have as much value as they have today.

It is not only the Americans, but also the French, who have proposed this silhouette. It is not universal; one sees a continuance of the straight line on the great majority of French and American clothes, but with more tendency toward the peg-top outline in the home-made things than in the foreign ones, except from houses like Callot.

The reason for this innovation is due to the military and it is strange that it did not occur before the fourth year of war. We have admired the silhouette of mannish wide hips and narrow ankles for many months without thought of introducing it in women's clothes. Now it is here and it is carried out in almost the identical manner that the military tailors use with men's trousers.

Simplicity vs. Ornamentation.

Another subtle change that has come across the sky of fashions since the first French styles were shown is a tendency to eliminate much of the trimming with which the season began. There was an over-elaboration of rich and massive embroidery, of tassels, of colored facings, of strips of metallic ribbons, and of other strange and capricious gewgaws that the mind can invent when large ideas are lacking. The universality of all this ornamentation, such, for instance as miles of fringe, was its own undoing. It bordered, dangerously, on the ugliest period of mid-Victorianism. It gave one an unpleasant memory, even if a far-off one, of beribboned milk stools and frying pans in the parlor. It was well done; no fault could be found with its quality, but why do it? This was the question asked by those who are apostles and disciples of simplicity.

After awhile, as the majority came to the conclusion that everyone was in danger of being over-ornamented, the dressmakers had calls for quieter frocks.

No matter how severe a suit or cloth frock is, the merest good nature lifts it out of the commonplace class. We do not need several yards of fringe, splashes of colored embroidery, a half dozen tassels, and a few fur pompons to prove to our neighbor that we know what's what.

Getting Down to Essentials.

Possibly there has not been enough cold weather to justify the usage of the several weaves of the hairy and animal-like fabrics now in the season, but there is a noticeable absence of them in the clothes worn by women who have chosen well among the seasonal offerings. These [illegible] beaver, seal, mole a-plenty, but only a few inches of their substitutes which gave the Paris weavers so many anxious and elated moments. They may arrive, and, again, their full development may not come until next winter. New things have a way of holding back and consolidating for a swift offensive the second year.

This condition, therefore, leaves women with smaller choice of materials for their winter wardrobe and more puzzlement as to silhouette. The [illegible] is done. Our last spring clothes have served their second term. A season faces us in which we must be true to one set of costumes for six months, don't buy cheaply, nor carelessly. Spend your money as if it belonged to the government.

It is seldom that men discover rich mines without digging. Nature commonly lodges her treasures and jewels in rocky ground. If the matter be knotty and the sense lie deep, they must stop and buckle to it, and stick upon it with labor and thought and close contemplation, and not leave it until they have mastered the difficulty and got possession of the truth.—Locke.

Practical Use for Them.

"What's the use of having two or three homes, as these millionaires have?" asked the idle wayfarer who wanted to start a little conversation. "There's a whole lot of use," replied the man who was beating carpets. "If I owned two homes I'd live in one while my wife was cleaning the other."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Cabman Knew Him.

During a lecture tour through the United States Sir Conan Doyle arrived one day in Boston and was considerably astonished when a cabman accosted him and addressed him by name. "How did you know who I was?" said Sir Conan Doyle, much interested, and not a little flattered by the recognition.

"If you'll excuse me saying so," said the cabman, "the lapels of your coat look as if they had been grabbed by New York reporters, your hair looks as if it had been cut in Philadelphia, your hat looks as if you had had to stand your ground in Chicago, and your right shoe has evident Buffalo mud under the instep, and—and—"

"And what?" queried Sir Arthur.

"Well," replied the cabman, "I saw 'Conan Doyle' in big white letters on your trunk."

Reputation and Character.

Reputation is what men think you are, character is what you are. Both are important, but character is indispensable to success. Without character you are not likely to have a good reputation—very long.

Meanness Hard to Overcome.

Some men's meanness consists of their stinginess with their means. When they give up their meanness they will be willing to give up more of their means. Such men, however, are pretty hard to convert.

NEW C.P.O.S. LINERS

THE part played by the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services in the great European war will make a big chapter in Canadian history. Undoubtedly the sea supremacy of Great Britain was one of the most potent factors in the winning of the victory which was obtained, and the ships of the C. P. O. S. took a big part in making Great Britain supreme at sea. There are few branches of sea service in which they did not take a part. Mounted with guns some of them were where there was fighting to be done.

Over 4,000,000 tons of cargo and munitions of war have been carried in addition to many thousand horses and mules.

The C. P. O. S. have carried from the outbreak of hostilities to October 31st, 1918, 1,041,000 troops and passengers all over the world, embracing ports in China and Japan, Singapore, Bombay, Mesopotamia, Suez, Gallipoli ports in the Mediterranean, Colombo, Dares-Salaam, Delagoa Bay, Durban, and Mauritius, in addition to the west coast of North and South America, and the United States and Canadian ports. The total loss of troops carried caused by enemy action and irrespective of disease has been eight in number. On one consecutive continuous voyage one of the company's vessels steamed 23,441 miles.

Over 300 officers and engineers were found out of the company's service for the Royal Navy. Lieut. R. N. Stuart, one of these, has won the D.S.O. and the V.C., while many others have received decorations and been mentioned in despatches.

The Missanabie, a C. P. O. S. steamer, was the first big vessel to sail on her maiden voyage from Great Britain to Canada after the outbreak of the war in 1914, a sister ship, the Metarama, sailed on her maiden voyage from Liverpool, March 24th, 1915. These two splendid ships have been followed by two larger ships, the Melita, which sailed from Liverpool Jan. 20th, 1918, and her sister ship, the Minnedosa, on her maiden trip from Liverpool Dec. 5th, 1918 to St. John—the first steamer to sail since hostilities ended. The Minnedosa is a splendid acquisition to the already large fleet of C. P. O. S. vessels. She has a gross tonnage of 14,000, length 546 feet, width 67 feet, depth 45 feet and a total cargo capacity of 488,000 cubic feet.

There is accommodation for approximately 500 cabin and 1,000 third class passengers. The Gymnasium on "A" Deck (or Boat Deck) is fitted with the latest mechanical devices for exercise and amusement. On "B" Deck (or Upper Promenade Deck) are located the Cabin Dining Room, Cabin Drawing Room and Cabin Lounge.

The Entrance Hall [illegible] extensive Promenade Deck [illegible] panelling, mirrors and stairways to an attractive approach to the Dining Saloon.

The Spacious Lounge with its charming old English fireplace and [illegible] windows is [illegible] with apple green panelling. It is most comfortably furnished and hung with beautiful old English prints of the 18th century and some rare old red lacquer mirrors.

The Drawing Room, panelled with most beautiful Australian Black Bean Wood in the Queen Anne style, has an air of coziness not often found on board ship. The beautiful colored prints which adorn this room are from the famous panels painted in 1780 by Fragonard for Madame du Barry and purchased by the late Pierpont Morgan. A writing recess is also to be found in this room.

The Smoking Room is panelled in old oak of the Jacobean style. Its fine old chimney piece and sporting prints being noteworthy features.

On Deck "C" (or Lower Promenade Deck) is to be found the Purser's and Ticket Office. A special feature is the spacious square and gallery round the well over the Dining Saloon. A good number of well appointed, airy and commodious staterooms are provided amidships for cabin passengers containing three and four berths. At the forward end an entrance for third class passengers is provided.

On "D" Deck is situated the Dining Room, which extends the whole breadth of the ship and has seating accommodation for 300 persons, placed at small and large tables. It is tastefully decorated in the Georgian style, a special feature being the open staircase. There is accommodation for 60 cabin passengers on this deck in four berth staterooms.

At the extreme after end of "D" Deck, the Third Class Smoking and also Third Class Ladies' Room is to be found, whilst at the forward end there is a Third Class Dining Saloon, with seating capacity for 140 persons, another Smoking Room and also a General Room. The Main Third Class Dining Saloon, seating over 400, is also on this deck.

On the starboard side of Deck "E" are a number of Cabin Staterooms containing two and four berths, whilst another Third Class Dining Saloon, with a seating capacity for 128 persons, is situated in the after end of the ship.

The Missanabie was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine in 1918.

UNDERDRAINAGE PAYS

Proven Methods of Draining Low Land, Swamps and Springs.

Mutual Respect and Confidence Are the Keynotes of Successful Co-operation — How These May Be Developed In Any Community.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

IN general the conditions making drains necessary are those where the gravitational or free water is either on the surface of the land or so close to the surface as to interfere with the proper growth of plant roots. The instances where the water is lying on the land, such as in pond holes, sloughs, pockets, swamps, etc., are very common in Ontario, and it is usually an easy matter for these conditions to be remedied. They may be remedied either by means of open ditches or a system of tile drains.

Where there is a large area of low-lying land which is uniformly wet, such as we have in the southwestern counties, namely, Kent, Essex and Lambton, tile drains augmented by open ditches are used, and sometimes when the wet land is the same or possibly lower than the lake level dikes are constructed and pumps installed to remove the water. Other instances where low-lying and flat lands require drainage are those which are occasionally flooded either during the spring freshets or during heavy rains. If no means has been provided for this water to be removed quickly the crops growing on this land will be killed out, and thus cause financial loss to the land owners.

In the case of underground springs we have a condition where the impervious layer of the subsoil has caused the underground water to be blocked and held to such an extent that it eventually comes to the surface. These can be prevented by having a tile drain put in a short distance above the springs so that the water may be cut off and conveyed to a proper outlet.

Another instance is that where irrigation is being carried on. In some of the irrigation districts the water is fairly saturated with alkali salts. When this water is used for irrigation it is spread over the land and eventually is evaporated from the surface of the soil or from the leaves of plants and trees by the sun, the alkali being left on the surface. This alkali accumulates until it becomes so strong as to prevent the growth of plants or trees.

To remove this alkali it is necessary to install a system of underdrains, then thoroughly flood the soil which is saturated with alkali, thus dissolving the alkali and allowing the water to pass off through the drains, thereby removing the alkali. After this has been removed it will be necessary to use a greater amount of water for irrigation of this soil, and after each irrigation as soon as the water has been evaporated to such an extent that the remaining water is almost saturated with alkali the free water remaining in the soil and containing this saturated solution of alkali must be allowed to run off through the drains.

Across many Ontario farms we see small creeks flowing at least part of the season. In most instances where this occurs the drain can be placed parallel to this creek, and except during the spring freshets or after very heavy rains the water will flow through this drain, thereby obviating the use of the creek. When this drain is installed the creek banks could be levelled, and instead of being a creek with ragged banks and weeds and small trees growing alongside, could be converted into a scoop ditch. This ditch could be of such a nature as to allow farm machinery to cross back and forth, and would take care of the occasional heavy flows of water.

In all conditions where the ground water comes within two and a half feet of the surface of the soil, it is necessary for this also be removed in some manner so that plants may have proper root growth.—W. R. Scott, B.S.A., O. A. College, Guelph.

Philosophy of Having a Good Time.

Take the "t" out of toil and you have oil. You can't take the hard work out of farming as easily as that, but a little run robs it of much of its drudgery. Good times are the oil in the cogs of agriculture. That is what a great many sincere persons overlook who study economics more than human nature.

When we attempt to organize a farmers' association, what is done? ... a vast amount of talking is committed anent education and improvement. Both are good, of course, and the farmer, in common with all humanity, wants to improve — there's a difference between improving and being improved—but he's not always too sure that the association will effect the improvement.

To begin with, he is often not too well acquainted with his real neighbors—the men in the inside of the men he knows now show themselves only to kindred spirits. Then after a hard day's work he is prone to stay quietly at home in preference to driving several miles to discuss, under a smoky lamp, the old problems in much the same old way.

But there's one thing everyone wants—a good time. Everyone takes his recreation in some form — only there's nothing collective about it, each goes his own way at his own time. Really persuade the neighbors once that they can have a better time at the club meeting than they can at home, and they'll go without coaxing.

So that seems the logical starting point. A leader never finds it hard to get people to organize for pleasure—to have a good time.

And it leads to great things, too. As people become better acquainted, mutual respect and confidence develop. That is the fundamental and first step to business co-operation.—Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Wire's Long Stretch.

While S. E. Wharton of Boston was traveling in Switzerland his attention was called to the longest unsupported telegraph wire he had ever seen. It crosses in one span the Lake of Wallenstadt, being fastened to two iron towers which are almost 8,000 feet apart. The line is made of steel and that section of it closest to the lake is more than 100 feet above the surface of the water.

Above, Not Against.

We may not be able to dissipate the forces which war against us, but we can strengthen the forces which range themselves for us. We may not be able to change the conditions in which we must live, but we can train ourselves to be more brave and patient in their endurance; to keep our spirits above them, instead of in constant irritation against them.

Kauri Gum.

The kauri gum district of New Zealand covers an area of approximately 314,000 acres. From kauri gum (named after the kauri pine) is made the high-grade varnishes used for furniture and for automobiles. Since the discovery of the gum by an American sea captain in 1873, New Zealand has produced kauri to the value of $92,000,000.

Controlling the Winds.

Controlling the winds is not yet an aviation triumph. If an aircraft starts from one point to another due east, and there is a wind blowing of 15 miles an hour northeast, that will clearly have to be taken into consideration, and the compass course altered (before ascending), according to the total distance of the journey.

Losses by Poisonous Weeds.

The loss of cattle and sheep due to poisonous weeds is very great. On the United States' national forest ranges alone the loss in 1916 amounted to 6,648 cattle and 16,273 sheep, besides a number of horses, goats and other animals.

THE SITUATION IN IRELAND

(Rep. Father Minehan in Toronto Globe.)

These are sad days for many lovers of Ireland. The spectacle of a kindergarten "Republican" Parliament solemnly meeting in the Mansion House, Dublin, and permitted to play its part by the contemptuous and amused toleration of a Government to which it is indebted for the very letters and messages it receives, would be a most delightful piece of comedy in a nursery, but is a most tragic bit of insanity under present conditions. The world situation today is too serious, too weighted down and recent suffering and its burdens too absorbed with a tremendous passion for reconstruction, to tolerate political opera bouffe. What would be a cause of mirth five years ago will stir up fierce resentment now. The present Congress at Versailles will hardly be in a mood to put on a level with King Albert of Belgium a marionette President born in New York of a Spanish father, a combination of the Bowery, Barcelona and Ballydoyle, who did his best "to stab the allies in the back" in the most crucial hour of their struggle for world liberty, and is now used by Germany to stab the Congress in the back by endeavoring to set America and Great Britain at loggerheads.

I do not hint for a moment that the De Valera coterie have the least conscious intention of playing pawn for the Huns. They are not deep enough or guileful enough for that role. But that, nevertheless, is the role for which they have been and are used.

The conduct of the British Government in regard to Irish affairs during the last four years has been worthy of the deepest execration. That Government has played into the hands of the extremists on both sides, and done its malignant best to kill patriotism and statesmanship. The appeals of the Redmonds, the Devlins, the Kettles, the men who were ready to give their lives for their country's liberty and the liberty of the world—the men who saw that Ireland's industrial, political, social greatness lay in having the full management of her own affairs and at the same time a voice in world affairs as an integral part of the British Empire—were systematically unheeded, and themselves driven into sullen hopelessness. England has much to answer for in her treatment of Ireland, but perhaps nothing more flagrant (considering the age and the situation) than her Government's treatment of John Redmond.

But I do not for a moment hold the bulk of the British people responsible for this treatment, for the policy which puts unpatriotic bigotry in a War Cabinet while a man like Major Redmond, more advanced in years and of conspicuous bility, fills a grave in Flanders. I am persuaded that millions in Great Britain regard such a policy with shame and indignation, and that history will brand it as one of the crimes of the great war. And because of this growing sentiment Ireland must ere long come to her own despite Sinn Fein antics. The cry of the Irish blood poured out on the Western and Eastern fronts for the allied cause will, I hope, be heard and heeded by the greatest Congress in the world's history, despite the efforts of the De Valera tom-toms to drown it.

If these hare-brained fanatics think that America, after pouring out blood and treasure for years for national unity, will advocate the cause of dismemberment of the British Empire, they are mightily mistaken. The grievances of men who have been able to increase their drink bill by two million pounds a year during a war in which patriotic Americans were making heroic efforts to reduce their drink bill to the vanishing points, particularly when that prosperity so badly used was due in a measure to peasant proprietorship financed by British money, will not appeal strongly to Uncle Sam.

Nor will the race or nationality cry receive a very sympathetic hearing in the same quarters, seeing that the descendants of Spain in New Mexico, the German element in some of the Western States, as well as some others, could advance it as effectually for absolute independence as can the Sinn Feiners.

"Fools rush in where angels fear to tread." And fools impotent for good are often potent for harm The antics of a Marcovitch and a De Valera have done immense harm already. They have played the game of the reactionary, the thug and the bigot.

Would it not be in order for those who would give their heart's blood for Ireland's freedom to unite in protest against the present minstrel show (a poor one at that) which is being now staged in Dublin before a world still sore from its wounds and exhausted by its terrific struggle for liberty and life?

Importance of the Past.

To think of ourselves as masters of our habits is to fall a trap for our own moral death. What we are at this moment, what we can do at this moment, depends not only upon making up our minds at the time being but also upon how we have made up our minds countless other times in thousands of minutes already gone by and now out of our control. The one thing we cannot control is the past; it may however control us for good or evil.—Youth's Companion.

Peace.

Peace is not an ideal at all; it is a state attendant upon the achievement of an ideal. The ideal itself is human liberty, justice, and the honourable conduct of an orderly and humane society. Given this, a durable peace follows naturally as a matter of course. Without this, there is no peace, but only a rule of force until liberty and justice revolt against it in search of peace.—N. M. Butler.

A man who has lost his keys might become excited if the holder contained a thousand-dollar bill, but the average citizen can use the device safely enough.—Popular Science Monthly.

Chrysanthemum Is China's.

There is a common belief that the chrysanthemum originated in Japan, but like many other good things, it was really borrowed from the Chinese. It is, however, the royal flower of Japan, appears on the seal of the emperor, and on the postage stamps of the country, while it has been the principal feature of an annual fete for 900 years. Adopted though it was, the Japanese have done so much with the chrysanthemum that they feel they have a right to call it their own.

INFLUENZA LEAVES THE BLOOD THIN, THE NERVES WEAK

The Danger From Such Disease is Seldom Over When the Acute Stage is Passed—Tonic Treatment Strongly Recommended.

Doctors have agreed that Spanish influenza is really a severe form of the grippe which became known in this country a number of years ago under the French name of "la grippe" and which has been epidemic several times since.

The danger from grippe is seldom over when the characteristic symptoms, the fever, the catarrh, the headache and the depression of spirits pass away. The grippe leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin blood, impaired digestion and oversensitive nerves—a condition that makes the system an easy prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, rheumatism, nervous prostration and even consumption. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of strengthening the blood and nerves during convalescence. Until the blood is built up there can be no complete recovery of strength and health.

COULD HARDLY CRAWL ABOUT

Among the many victims of la grippe who proclaim the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mr. Amos Caulback, of Petite Riviere, N.S., who says:—I was taken down with a severe attack of la grippe or influenza. After a time the early symptoms of the trouble left me, but I did not regain my usual strength, and I had always been a strong man. There were times when I felt I could hardly crawl about and was so rundown I could scarcely go about my business. I continued taking medicine but it did me no good. Then I found the trouble was affecting my digestion and the disagreeable feeling from this added to my general misery. I was finally advised to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I decided to try them. I had only been on the pills a few weeks when I found my strength returning, my appetite improved, and still continuing the use of the pills a few weeks more found me restored to my old-time vigor. I can most strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all who have passed through an attack of influenza, as a safe medicine for renewing their trength."

REGAINED FLESH AND STRENGTH

To rebuild the blood, to strengthen the weakened nerves and to get back the lost flesh and strength is the problem of the victim an attack of influenza. How Mr. Charles Darling, of No. 14 Week Street, Bath, Me., accomplished this is best told in his own words.

"My doctor treated me successfully for the grippe," he says, "but he did not seem to help the after-effects of the disease. I had headaches nearly all the time, my strength was nearly spent and I often had to lie down and rest. I was pale and lost in weight and had a dull, languid feeling most of the time. My blood was very thin and poor and my stomach troubled me.

"One day I got a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the drug store and after taking them for about a week I noticed my health was better. My headache was relieved and I was getting stronger. I continued their use and have a better appetite and can eat anything I want. I no longer have that tired feeling, my color is normal and I am gaining in flesh."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain just the elements needed to build up the blood and restore the lost color and vitality. New energy circulates through the system with the enriched blood, the heart stops its alarming palpitating color returns to the cheeks and lips nothing more is needed except sunlight, good air, proper food and rest.

WEAK AND RUN DOWN

Miss Irene Bootes, Portsmouth, Ont., says:—"I take much pleasure in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because I have proved their worth in my own case. Last winter I had a severe attack of la grippe and it left me weak and all run down. I had severe pains in the chest and under the arms, palpitation of the heart and attacks of neuralgia which left me with the feeling that life was scarcely worth living. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began their use only on the principle that I would try anything that might better my condition. I had only been using the pills a couple of weeks when the pains began to leave me. Gradually my strength returned, my appetite improved, and in a little more than a month I felt my old time vigor had returned. I am sincerely glad I was persuaded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I shall always have a good word to say for them."

HELPED HIM WONDERFULLY

Following an attack of grippe, Mr. William Fielder, of No. 132 First street, Albany, N.Y., suffered from stomach trouble. He says:

"I was very much run down after having the grippe and lost both in weight and strength. My stomach was often sour and was very weak. A dull aching pain in the back of my head caused me much distress. An article in the paper brought my attention to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I gave them a trial. Before the first box was finished I felt stronger and kept on with the remedy. I am feeling good, and my stomach is as strong as it ever was. I have gained in weight and strength and no longer suffer from headaches. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills certainly helped me wonderfully and I am glad to recommend them."

GRIP VICTIMS NEED A TONIC

The debility that invariably follows the grippe is not a disease of any one organ. It is a general condition of unfitness. It must be met by a remedy generalized throughout the entire system. In fact, it must be corrected by building up the blood, which, when rich and red, carries renewed health and strength to every part of the body.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic, not a stimulant. They build up the blood and not only cure the diseases after effects of grippe, but are also a specific for all troubles due to poor blood, such as anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, women's ailments, and the generally worn out feeling that affects so many people. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Natal Day of Some Diamond Stars

The twenty-second of January marked the natal day of several veterans of the diamond sport. William O'Neil, long prominent in baseball society, was born in Montreal in 1880 at St. John, N.B. There have been many O'Neills and O'Neils in baseball. One of the greatest was O'Neill, the original "Tip" of Montreal just a little more than three years ago. "Tip" was the chief who, while playing with the St. Louis Browns of the old American Association, set up a batting record of .492.

Another old-timer, Ira Thomas was born thirty-eight years ago at Ballston Spa, N.Y. Ira was with Hartford, Newark, Providence, the New York Yankees and Detroit before he became the star backstop of Connie Mack's Athletics. Thomas later acted as a scout for the Philadelphia Americans.

January 22nd, also the thirtieth birthday of Amos Strunk, the famous outfielder of the Athletics, and one of the survivors of the once proud Mackmen. The big left-hander started playing ball in the outlaw Atlantic League in 1908, and was picked up by Connie Mack, but was farmed out to Milwaukee in 1909. He was recalled to the Athletics the following year, and was, in 1911, made the regular center gardener of the Mack team. Strunk was born in Philadelphia, and is one of the few players to make good in their home town.

Reports ...as many as five trades ...re which, if closed, will ...ard distributing playing ...nearly every team in the ...teams expected to be in... prospective transactions Brooklyn, Cincinnati, St. ... and New York.

...l New York do not need ...improvement if all of ...come back from the ser... go south to train, but ...hell and Vice-President ... are seeking to get ...engthen spots on their ...ear a trifle weak. Mitchell has pitching and outfielding material to use in trades which makes his chances bright of completing a deal or two. McGraw has outfielders and possibly an infielder or two to exchange for what he needs.

Cards and Phils Start Trades.

It took the St. Louis and Philadelphia teams to start the trading in the National league. Their deal was closed Tuesday and involved players Stock, Davis, Dilhoefer, Baird, Packard and Stewart. The Cardinals are thought to have obtained the better of the exchange in that they received in Stock one of the leading third basemen of the league. His trade by the Phillies was rather a surprise unless Branch Rickey hopes to use him in another deal. Baird and Packard should be of good service to Manager Jack Coombs in building up the Phillies.

New York and Cincinnati are expected to make a trade for Hal Chase, whose case comes up before the National league Jan. 30. If President Heydler rules that the evidence filed against him for alleged betting is insufficient he will be acquired by the Giants. Chase has already announced to his friends that he will be with the New York club. What the Reds will get in exchange for him is not known, but it is likely McGraw will turn over First Baseman Walter Holke and an outfielder. That deal will help both teams. It will give the Giants one of the strongest infields it has had in many years, and a hitting club of unusual power.

Dodgers to Trade Daubert.

President Ebbets has announced he would not have Jack Daubert on the Brooklyn team. This means a trade for that player will be made. Ebbets is negotiating with several clubs in an effort to dispose of the crack first baseman. If the league does not let the New York club take Hal Chase from the Reds Ebbets may make a deal with Garry Herrmann, the report being that the latter has offered Brooklyn Shortstop Bill Kopf and another player for Daubert.

Pittsburg and Boston are keeping the wires hot trying to close a deal. Casey Stengel, an outfielder, wants to play in the east and the Braves are attempting to land him. George Stallings needs outfielders as badly as anything and the acquisition of Stengel would add hitting and fielding strength of his garden. What the Pirates expect to get in exchange for Stengel is hard to guess as it is rather difficult to imagine what Stallings can give that is worth while unless it is Nehf, and it is a certainty he is not going to let go of his best pitcher.

There promises to be much trading before the National League clubs go south for the training spasm. When it is all over with the teams are expected to be as closely matched as they have been in years, providing, of course, they succeed in getting their men out of the service.

Matinee Caps.

Lovely little matinee caps appear out of hardly more than a few inches of lace, ribbon and swansdown; camisoles can be evolved in no time from all kinds of odds and ends which the casual onlooker would never deem fit for the purpose. And this is no time for hesitation. Now, above all others, is the chance to buy while yet we can, so that anything of obviously good value should certainly be snapped up at sight. Quite certainly it can be put to excellent purpose and equally surely it will not soon again be available at anything resembling a reasonable price.

HON. F. B. CARVELL

Post Discharge Pay

In dealing with what had already been accomplished and what was to be done in the future towards repatriating and re-establishing the returned soldier the Minister mentioned the six months' post discharge pay which it was hoped would ensure the discharged men against immediate hardships from lack of employment and unfitness to go to work, immediately, in mid-winter. The hospital accommodation for the sick and wounded which had been provided was also referred to in this connection.

In speaking of the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Department the speaker outlined some of the work which was being undertaken by this organization in the form of technical school education etc. The pension policy of the government was explained by Mr. Carvell who referred to it as an effort to place the returned men in the same position in respect to his ability to live comfortably as he enjoyed before entering the service of his country. Liberal loans at easy rates were contemplated as a means of enabling the veteran to obtain land if he desired to follow agricultural pursuits and the passage to Canada of the 50,000 dependents of soldiers at present overseas was being paid.

Welcome the Coming

Referring to this matter, Mr. Carvell appealed to the people generally and women's organizations in particular to receive these wives of the home coming men, many of whom were old country women who had never set eyes upon Canada before in a cordial manner which would go a long way towards aiding the husband to bear any trials to which he might be subjected upon his return.

He reminded his auditors that the duty of aiding the soldier to reestablish himself was one which should not be borne solely by the Government. The responsibility was one which must be partly assumed by the people. It was their duty to do their part and if they failed there was many things in connection with this most important matter which would go undone.

Dealing with the other side of the question Mr. Carvell stated that while the Government did not for a moment entertain the idea of shirking its duty towards the homecoming veteran it was but right that the people who demanded that money should be freely spent in order to carry out projects such as had been described above be acquainted with the financial conditions of our country in order that they might realize the responsibilities which the members of the administration were assuming.

Facts and Figures

Previous to the war Canada's national debt amounted to $330,000,000 considered at that time as oppressive. In a fortnight, however, since the war, $670,000,000 had been raised throught he Victory Loan which sum had been subscribed by the Canadian people. When accounts are squared up in connection with the repatriation of the soldiers and the payment of their post discharge allowance $75,00,000 will be required to discharge our obligation in this direction. The pensions will require from $10,000,000 to $50,000,000 annually to carry on the Department of Soldiers' Re-establishment will demand an expenditure of from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 for the next five years. Our total national debt will making use of figures conservatively, amount to $2,000,000. Previous to the war $12,000,000 took care of the interest of the debt but it will now require $110,000,000 to discharge our annual liability in this connection.

Income and Outgo

In speaking of the revenue as set forth in the Auditor-General's report Mr. Carvell reminded the people that receipts from the post office department while represented as a revenue were entirely consumd in defraying the operating expenses of the system which was true also of the Intercolonial Railway. The loss from the falling off of excise returns amounted to about $18,000,00 per year which would have to be made up and which the speaker did not regret as he had always been in favor of the temperance movement and meant to stick to his record.

While these figures appeared oppressive Mr. Carvell looked upon the future optimistically and quoted them with the sole purpose of demonstrating that the Governmentt while ready and anxious to spend money in connection with the alleviation of hardships and unfavorable industrial conditions arising out of the reconstruction period found it necessary to proceed with a certain amount of caution.

In conclusion the Minister of Labor referred to the Labor situation. He thought that something should be done towards forming an international agreement between capital and labor. The labor men had been well paid during the last few years but living expenses were correspondingly high and it was doubtful whether many of the workingmen had bee nable to save money. On the other hand there was no doubt but that manufacturers of articles demanded by the war had done well in the past four years and the speaker stated that these men if patriotic should keep their factories open if at all possible in order to keep the men in employment even if the business was scarcely paying.

Mr. Carvell expressed himself as being heartily in favor of the income tax. He was the first member of Parliament to suggest its application and last night asserted that he favored the adoption of a graduated system of income levy so that a man would be required to pay accordingly to his means. This was one source of revenue to which he looked forward with confidence to aid in meeting the heavy monetary obligations which Canada had assumed as a result of the war.

With The Curlers

All curlers are reminded of the vice-skips' bonspiel, which is fixed for Tuesday of next week. There will be two games each night, the first commencing at 7 p.m. sharp and the other at 9 p.m. Every ring in the schedule is being put into the draw for the bonspiel, and it is hoped that the skips for these games will see that all the members of their rinks are on hand at the time named, as otherwise the game will be lost by default. The draw is now posted at the rink, and the skips can readily see whether they will play at 7 or 9 p.m. on Tuesday. Remember, the vice-skips in the scheduled games are the skips int his bonspiel and are responsible for having their players on hand.

WORTH MORE THAN ALL MONEY ON EARTH

MRS. RASPBERRY ABLE TO DO HOUSEWORK FIRST TIME IN FOUR YEARS — GAINS 35 POUNDS.

"I had rather see my wife well and happy like she is since taking Tanlac than to have all the money in the world," declared Henry Raspberry, of 1812 Campbell St., Kansas City, Mo. Mr. Raspberry, who has recently been employed as a foreman by the Armour Packing Company, was formerly in the service of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad.

"Before my wife took Tanlac," continued Mr Raspberry, "she had rheumatism in her limbs so bad she couldn't even dress herself. I would have to help her out of bed in the mornings and put her clothes on for her. Her stomach was in such a bad condition that she could hardly digest anything. The gas on her stomach would cause intense pains in her side, and such awful spells of palpitation of the heart that she could hardly stand it. She was extremely nervous, her breath was short and very offensive, and she had fallen off in weight until she was hardly more than a frame.

"At the time she began taking Tanlac she only weighed eighty-seven pounds and had not been able to do any of her housework in four years. But she now weighs one hundred and twenty-two pounds—has actually gained thirty-five pounds—and is as healthy and active as she was thirty years ago. The rheumatic pains have all left her and she can do all her work and look after the family without the least trouble. She can eat meats, pickle, all kinds of vegetables and anything else she wants and never have a spell of indigestion. She is not the least nervous any more, sleeps the whole night and is as well as she ever was. I can't find words to express my thankfulness for what Tanlac has done for her. It is nothing short of wonderful."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. H. Wayne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Bowers' Corners, by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert, by A. [illegible] Scott; in Westwood by O. Prinzle & Son.

Over Two Hundred Make Profession

EVANGELIST KENNEDY CONCLUDES SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL SERVICES AT TWEED.

Evangelist H. D. Kennedy was in the city yesterday. He has just closed a very successful campaign at Tweed. Large crowds attended his meetings there and after the first week a real genuine old-fashioned revival broke out. People were driving in for ten miles to the services, and over 200 professed conversion and publicly confessed having found Christ in the meetings. The local press had many a nice things to say of the thoroughness of the Evangelists work and methods.

On the closing day though pouring rain two largely attended meetings were held and resulted in the conversion of a number of souls.

Mr. Kennedy left this morning for western Ontario. He opens his next campaign at Thedford, Ont., in the London conference and expects to spend the season working in Ontario.

HARD STUDY IS AN ESSENTIAL

MR. G. N. GORDON SPEAKS TO COLLEGIATE CLUB ON LEGAL PROFESSION.

Mr. G. N. Gordon gave an address to the Collegiate Institute Club at the Y. M. C. A. last night. Mr. Chas. Armstrong, the president, presided.

Mr. Gordon's address was upon the Legal Profession. He traced the history of the development of the English Common Law and also explained how the profession first was created and developed.

He went on to explain how students might enter the legal profession in Ontario, the time required for the course, and the rewards there were for those who by perseverance, industry, and faithful attention to clients' interests, carried out the responsibilities placed upon them.

Mr. Gordon advocated the most thorough attention by students to their studies in the Collegiate Institute as laying the most important foundation for the professional training later on. He said that defective Collegiate education would be a hand cap for a man entering the profession of either law or medicine, while thoroughness, industry and patience developed by a student now, assured his future success in any profession. The speaker described the pleasure and satisfaction there was to the student in having a friendly and intimate acquaintance with the books in his library, and said that it was the most profitable and pleasant diversion for a man of studious habits to spend his evenings in company with his books.

Mr. Gordon paid a tribute to the Collegiate staff of teachers for the thoroughness of the training that they were giving the students, and told the members of the club that they were in a far more fortunate position than their fathers had been who required in most cases to surmount great difficulties in order to obtain the benefits and advantages of an education. He urged the students to make the very best of their time in order that they might reap full advantage of the opportunities that ever now given them.

At the conclusion of the meeting Mr Gordon was accorded a hearty vote of thanks.

DRIVER PARSONS WRITES HOME

HELPED TO CELEBRATE OFFICIAL NEWS OF SIGNING OF ARMISTICE.

Mrs. C. Parsons has received the following letter from her son, Driver Jack Parsons, who enlisted with the 74th Field Battery and who has been in France for the past seven months.

"Dear Mother:—

Just a line to your more than welcome letter which I received dated Nov. 17—which I was glad to receive. It seemed such a long time since I had received a letter from home. Well we are having pretty good weather here at present because we are moving again. We always get wet weather when we are moving any place.

I am pleased to hear that you celebrated when the armistice was signed don't blame you. It is a blessing that it is all over. I sure did celebrate when I knew it was official. Oh anyway it will not be long now before all the boys are back home now and we will not be sorry either. All the boys out here are fine and enjoying themselves. Just fancy two more weeks and it will be Christmas. My how the time does fly. I don't expect I shall have such a good time this year as I had last. I was in Ottawa.

Say mother, don't send any more parcels after Christmas as I shall not need them and they will only go astray but keep on writing. Well, mother, it is getting near bed time now and I am going to sleep on the soft side of a brick floor in a private house (sitting room). Well I guess I will draw to a close, wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. I remain,

Your loving son,
JACK

IF CROSS, FEVERISH OR BILIOUS GIVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love the pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

HOME COMING OF THE HEROES

"THE GENTLEMAN WHO WAS UNAFRAID BUT FELL MAY GOD REST HIS SOUL."

(By Estelle Cuffe.)

They are really coming back, and the day of their welcoming has come—the day which figured like a brighter trend in five longs years of nightmare. Ever since that well remembered time when we bade them farewell, cheering them on their way with smiles that were prompted by our pride in them, but feeling humanity sick at heart withal, we have looked forward to that most wonderful of times, "when the boys come home."

To those whose boys have braved the dangers of warfare under the protecting wing of Fortune, that day of days is here. To those people whose dear ones have fallen in the fight, comes the comfort of knowing that there is a greater homecoming awaiting them, when they will meet their loved ones never to part again. Of one of our fallen heroes were written beautiful and expressive words—and they can be applied to all our honorable dead—"A gentle man unafraid. May God rest his brave soul."

Welcome Home.

As citizens of our vast Dominion of Canada, at whose service the lad placed their lives—lives so sweet and precious both to themselves and to others—we welcome home the remnant of that glorious army of ours. The wonderful happiness depicted on their countenances would lead one to believe that if only to experience such joy the hardships of war were worth bearing. Men are seen in every state of disability, and some are incapacitated to such an appalling degree! Our hearts go out to them, and doubly so when we see those genial smiles resulting from a cheerfulness that we wonder can outlive pessimism and despair. The same soul within them that made them defend their God, their loved ones, and their country, that same soul, depth of character, or what you may, leads them to accept with a smile the burden which is theirs. Worthy companions of their brethren "in Flanders Fields!" Shall we stay-at-homes prove ourselves worthy of that whole brave band who in the greatness of their love and sense of duty marched forth to fight our battles?

A Square Deal.

Great promises were made to our boys when they went away. Their return was pictured in word pictures of glowing colors, and it was understood that all would be more than well at their homecoming. Most soldiers, however, loath any fuss, and wish for nothing but a square deal. To some's shame, we know of cases where they do not get it. But they must and, in time, let us hope that they will. We told them to go, if not by our words, by our actions. The words of a much-used recruiting song were:

We don't want to lose you,
But we think you ought to go,
For your King and your Country
Both need you so.
We will cheer you, bless you, kiss you
When you come home again.

Yes, we promised that all would be well, and it is for our government and every municipality to deal fairly with the returned men. Those voices in Flanders' Fields send us their appeal, "Take up our quarrel with the foe." Their quarrel was one for justice, honor and right, and it is ours to take up that quarrel and to uphold the high ideals for which they offered their life's blood. "If we break faith they shall not rest in Flanders' Fields."

The problem of the returned men is a huge proposition, we must admit, but no bigger than the one tackled and successfully dealt with by our soldiers. The broken threads of thousands of careers are to be firmly tied up, and each man placed in the sphere of life which he desires and in which he feels best able to move. And then there are the maimed and blinded who must be granted a comfortable, happy living. No act of charity is this. The comfort and well-being of our returned men is a matter of duty to be skilfully taken in hand by our government and such legislation meted out as is the due of the heroes. Let us hope that our government will prove loyal, remembering the "voice of the people" and give the men a square deal absolutely.

Individually, we can help to show the men that we realize what they have done, and that we are willing to acknowledge our debt to them. First of all, we must uphold them, and if there is a preference to be given, give it where we know it belongs.

Give Them a Chance.

A common remark is, "They'll never be any good again, after four years of trench life. Look at ——. Why, he doesn't settle down to anything." Give him a chance. All men are not equally able to stand the strain of four years of warfare. In some cases men go into civilian life with little or no difficulty in the change. For others, it takes longer to adjust themselves to a daily routine after war having racked their souls and bodies for a number of years. Suffice it to say that in the majority of cases, the man who had the manhood to give his life into the hands of his country, to be at her service as long as she needed it, will have all the attributes of a good, self-supporting citizen on his return. It is our part to have confidence in him, and uphold him if occasion demands.

In matters of business, we know from our consciences to whom we owe the preference. And if we follow the dictates of that conscience we must give the returned man the preference to the letter. We promised!

God grant that individually and nationally the returned man will get fair and honorable treatment at the hands of his civilian countrymen, and that we may prove ourselves worthy of that brave and gallant band who went "over there."

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid Is Cause of Indigestion

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, water brash, or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescing and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, eliminate the poisons and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

Soldiers' Chance To Take Up Land

WHAT THE LAND SETTLEMENT COMMITTEE IS DOING FOR VETERANS.

With regard to the placing of soldiers upon the land, W. G. Black of the Soldiers' Land Settlement has issued the following statement. "The Soldiers' Land Settlement is completing its organization with the utmost rapidity.

Legislation providing for the requirements of land near railways will be presented to Parliament at the next opening. All soldiers in Alberta and any other province, who are qualified by farm experience to go on the land next Spring, will have equal opportunity of doing so.

There is Crown Land available upon which they might settle, but the Settlement Board is discouraging all soldier settlements from locating at points remote from market facilities and on land not of the finest quality. It is the policy of the Board to see to it that no soldier is permitted to settle under conditions whereby he will not be able to secure the highest results for his labors. Civilian settlement in the past has not been so regulated.

It is the wish of some people and may seem apparent it should be borne in mind that such has ever actuated entirely, though the policy of the Soldiers' Settlement Board to follow a course which in the end may render assurance of success on the part of the settlers undoubted.

Useful Insects.

In addition to the insects which help man by their warfare against his enemies and those that are useful to him in medicine, there are many others that serve useful purposes in a commercial way. Most familiar of these are the honey and wax obtained from the bee. There is a Chinese bug which secretes a kind of grease on trees. This hardens into wax and is collected, melted and purified, when it becomes white and glossy in appearance, and when mixed with oil it can be made into candles.—Chicago Herald and Examiner.

How Beavers Fell Trees.

A naturalist, who has given particular study to the ways of beavers, asserts that those creatures have an ingenious method of cutting the trunk of a tree that they wish to fell. Instead of attempting to gnaw it straight through they make two cuts, one above the other, and they pry out pieces between the cuts. The result of their operations is a V-shaped notch, resembling that made by a woodsman with an ax.

Spanish Avaram.

The Madras government plans to encourage the systematic cultivation of avaram, the bark of which is said to be the best tanning agent for the production of soft and good leather by unskilled labor. Avaram grows only in southern India, and it is because the tanners of this region have available supplies of this excellent tanning material that South India hides have gained their present high position.

Does Hair Suddenly.

In the western parts of New South Wales men are often denuded of all their hair. A man will go to bed apparently nothing wrong with him and wake up in the morning to find that every hair on his body has fallen out during the night. This disease has never been known to attack a woman. Once the hair falls out in this fashion, nothing yet invented will make a new crop grow.

Slick Confidence Men.

"Some of them Kay See confidence men are pretty slick, ain't they, Lester?" asked old Riley Rezzidew. "Yes, siree!" replied Lester Lazzenberry, who was just back from the Big Burg. "They're so durn slick they'd pick the pockets of a billiard table if you didn't watch 'em every minute."—Kansas City Star.

Faulty Judgment.

"Miss Jones," sternly inquired the superintendent, "what has happened here? Five of your boys have black eyes and bruised faces." "The worst battered and most cheerful one is the new boy," answered the sixth-grade teacher. "The others thought he was for peace at any price. But he wasn't."

Queer Physiology.

HAVE ROSY CHEEKS AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY—TRY THIS!

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the whole alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity an dgives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

PROPOSE CHANGE IN GAME LAWS

LEGISLATURE AT NEXT SESSION MAY PROHIBIT SLAUGHTER OF FAWN.

Toronto, Jan. 25.—Only minor changes in the Ontario Game Law are to be proposed to the Legislature by the Government during the approaching session and these chiefly for the improvement of the working efficiency of the act rather than variation of principles embodied therein.

"It is not, however, intended to continue the allowance of two deer to each hunter," explains Hon. Finlay Macdiarmid, the Ministerial head of th Department. "That allowance will b erepealed. It was only granted under exceptional circumstances created by the war and was by no means to be accepted as a precedent or an principle.

"It has also been suggested," Hon. Mr. Macdiarmid continued, "that a clause be inserted in the act prohibiting the killing of fawn, of which it has been said there was much wanton slaughter last season. Such a prohibition would have much to commend it and I intend submitting it for the consideration of the Fish and Game Committee.

No Sport, Anway.

"There is no sport in shooting a fawn," the Minister added. "In fact fawn-killing is foreign to the instinct of sportsmanship. There is no quantity of meat in a fawn carcas. And if the fawn be protected until it attains its growth it will afford good sport and at the same time be worth while in the way of meat supply. Nor could anyone plead in justification of the killing of a fawn that he had mistaken it for a full grown animal. A prohibition such as sugested would not be on a par with stopping the killing of deer, which also has been suggested, for there is a possibility of a hunter mistaking a doe for a buck."

As for the fish protection clauses the Act there would appear to be no suggestions that they are not working admirably requiring no amendment.

Popular Soloists At Carvell Meeting

Peterborough continues to hold its own as one of the leading musical centres in Canada, as was demonstrated by the soloists at the Taft meeting and again at the gathering addressed by Hon. F. B. Carvell at the Grand Opera House last night. Miss Emeline Bentley will soon be recognized as one of the best soloists in the city. The reputation of Mr. Ed. Hanrahan is already established and that populuar artist, Mrs. J. H. Renwick, surpassed herself in her admirable rendition of "Annie Laurie."

HISTORY OF ALL SAINTS' DATES BACK TO YEAR 1902

Anniversary Services Will Be Held Tomorrow With Rev. Dr. O'Meara of Toronto as Preacher.

Tomorrow will be a day of special interest at All Saints' Church when anniversary services will be held, the preacher being Rev. Dr. O'Meara of Toronto. It will be of interst to many at this time to know that the work of All Saints' dates back over a period of about forty-four years, from 1875, when a mission Sunday school was established in a small way under the leadership of Rev. J. W. Beck, M.A.

In 1880 the first church building was erected and subsequently converted into a parish hall in 1910, which witnessed the building of the nave of the present church.

The history of All Saints' as a separate parish dates from 1902, while January, 1915, witnessed the completion of the present building by the addition of the chancel and vestries, thus making the anniversary of double significance.

The growth of All Saints' has been remarkable. At present the congregation numbers 350 families, while the Sunday school has outgrown the capacity of the present building, necessitating the use of the church for Bible class purposes. The Sunday school attendance last Sunday was 368, including 30 teachers and officers.

During the past six years, besides meeting its current needs, the congregation has raised over $11,000 for building purposes, about $5000 of which was contributed voluntarily recently in the course of a year.

Dr. O'Meara, the principal of Wycliffe College, Toronto, who will preach at both services tomorrow, is widely known throughout the Dominion as a preacher and organizer.

The special collections will be for the half-yearly interest fund for which $350 is required.

The annual vestry meeting will be held on Monday evening.

FOR TUBERCULAR MEN.

Soldiers' Welfare League Is Formed in Hamilton.

With the object that suitable pensions may be awarded to all soldiers suffering from tuberculosis, an association known as The Invalided Tuberculous Soldiers' Welfare League has been formed at the Mountain Sanitarium, Hamilton, where soldiers suffering from this disease receive treatment. It is maintained that the recommendations of the sanitarium officials should receive greater consideration by the pension boards and that a tuberculosis specialist should be an advisory member of this board. Failing this, a specialist in this line ought to examine the patient and the board should accept his recommendation. As a general rule the pension awarded by the board twelve months after the soldier's discharge should be of a permanent character, and no reduction permitted at any future period, it is urged.

ITALY'S LEAGUE PLANS.

Lawyers Suggest Three Committees of Central Council.

Rome, Jan. 25. — An important feature of the project for a league of nations formulated by authorities on international law, councillors of state and judges of the Supreme Court, announced here, is that from the central council of the league there will be dependent three committees which will devote their attention to economics, labor and military affairs. These committees will conduct inquiries and each will seek to adjust controversies subject to its special jurisdiction. The plan will be supported by Senator Scipioni who has gone to Paris as a supplementary Italian delegate.

Lieut. James Sclater, D. S. O., is the new prohibition commissioner for British Columbia. His salary will probably be $4,000 a year.

Freight rates on regular steamships plying between Canada and the British Isles have dropped to $1.50 per cubic foot.

The Canada, first of the wooden 1,500-ton steamers being built in British Columbia for the French Government, was launched yesterday. Twenty of the ships are being built in Vancouver and twenty at Victoria.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS AT MASS MEETING

WELCOMED HON. F. B. CARVELL ON FIRST VISIT TO CITY.

At the meeting at the Grand Opera House last night Mayor Duncan, who presided, made the following address:

It gives us great pleasure to welcome the Hon. Mr. Carvell to Peterborough. We are pleased to do so for several reasons. This is Mr. Carvell's first visit to Peterborough, and we are glad to have our public men become acquainted with our city. We are sorry that he has not been able to give us more time, but it is gratifying to have him come here, become to some extent familiar with the city and speak to us. Perhaps he may find time to come again and remain longer, when he can see more of the industries, the public institutions, the parks and other points of interest and learn more of our inland system of navigation.

We welcome Mr. Carvell as a Minister of the Crown. During the four and a half years that the world, including our Empire and Dominion, passed through the great trials of the war, no community was more earnest in supporting the great efforts made to defeat the vile purposes of the German Empire. In enlistment in the valiant Canadian Army, in contributions to the patriotic funds and in Red Cross and other work our people were to the forefront and demonstrated their loyalty and patriotism and their devotion to the cause of civilization and justice.

We welcome the Honorable Minister, also, as a visitor from another Province of the Dominion. It is a good thing for the people of the different Provinces to become as far as possible acquainted and especially for the public men to know all parts of Canada, and we are greatly pleased to have Mr. Carvell, whose home is in New Brunswick, come here and meet us and give us the opportunity of greeting him. And we wish to give Mr. Carvell a hearty welcome personally. He is one of our ablest public men. He has been in public life for many years, and his ability, his frankness, his earnestness and other qualities have been recognized by all who have associated with him and had the pleasure of meeting him, and are known throughout the Dominion. Mr. Carvell's visit is not without business interest to the department over which he presides.

In 1914 the Government was ready to erect a new building here to provide accommodation for the post office, the customs office and the local business of other departments, and were also preparing to construct a dry dock. Like other public works throughout the country these were not proceeded with on account of the war. It is characteristic of Mr. Carvell that he has given personal attention to these matters and has looked into them upon the ground while he has been here. The Government has recognized the need for proceeding at this time with delayed public works and the local works will, I have not the least doubt, be taken up again and gone on with as soon as arrangements can be made to do so. While Mr. Carvell has incidentally, and yet carefully, given attention to these matters of business, we hope he has enjoyed and will enjoy his visit here, and that he will come to see us again.

Before calling on Mr. Carvell to address you, I know that others will be pleased to have an opportunity to join in welcoming him, and as his visit is not a political one, I will ask Mr. Burnham, M.P., and Mr. R. R. Hall, ex-M.P., to say a few words.

Two new railroads will shortly be built into Ungava territory.

Ask That Players Be Hurried Home

Washington, Jan. 25.—Ban Johnson, president of the American League, called at the War Department in connection with his efforts to get baseball men out of the war in time for spring training and preparations for the coming season.

He took with him a list of players and war department officials undertook to locate the men for him in order that the clubs may arrange to have them file applications for discharge.

Mr. Johnson conferred with Gen. March, chief of staff. So far as known, there will be no change in the policy of the department not to issue any special order in favor of baseball players, but to treat them as all other soldiers are treated and leave to their customary commanders to pass upon their applications for discharge. Since the league players have their places awaiting them, however, they will, with the class of soldiers commanding officers have been authorized to discharge without delay, where military efficiency would not be injured by that action.

Alberta's growth is remarkable in the increase in the population during the last two years. The increase since the census of 1916 is estimated at one hundred thousand.

There was little or no interference from the Bolsheviki.

GRAND FLEET TO BE DISPERSED

FLAG WILL WAVE AGAIN IN ALL PARTS OF WORLD.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 27.—(By Reuter's.)—Sir David Beatty, receiving the freedom of the city of Edinburgh on Saturday, announced that the Grand Fleet was being dispersed. Archibald Hurd, discussing the effects of the dispersal of the Grand Fleet, says that the flag must again be shown in Canada, the Pacific, China, the Indian Ocean and the Persian Gulf. Whatever the Admiralty plans, they must fit in with the dominions, which certainly desire to bear a larger share in the naval defence of the Empire.

FIFTEEN LOCAL SOLDIERS ARRIVE IN CITY SUNDAY TRAVELLING BY FREIGHT

Reached Port Hope by Short Cut and Were Stranded There Until Freight Picked Them Up—Cadet Allen Gives Interesting Account of the Trip.

Fifteen Peterborough soldiers arrived home yesterday afternoon on board a caboose of a G. T. R. freight train which conveyed them from Port Hope where they were stranded on account of the lack of a Sunday train service.

Among those to reach the city yesterday were Cadet, formerly Sgt.-Major G. W. Allen, M.C., who enlisted in Peterborough with the first contingent in 1914 and went overseas with the Cobourg Field Artillery. He was wounded and returned to Canada in December of 1915, but did not remain long on this side of the water. He re-enlisted in the 49th Bn., of St. Catharines with the rank of Sergt-Major and returned to the front. His home is at 555 Chamberlain street.

At the battle of Vimy Ridge Cadet Allen was again wounded, this time slightly. He was decorated for bravery receiving the military cross and was recommended for a commission. He had commenced his course in order to qualify when the armistice was signed and he returned to Canada.

On Wednesday near Levis, Quebec a troop train upon which he was travelling became snow bound and could not be freed from the drifts for twenty-five hours in spite of the fact that three engines were hitched to the coaches and the soldiers worked like trojans clearing away the snow.

On Thursday the storm-bound train was released and proceeded upon its way. Cadet Allan was to have made connections at Tichborne for Kingston where he would be granted leave but failed to wake up in time to make the change and was carried to Port Hope where he arrived about six o'clock yesterday morning. There he met Ptes. McKay, Millard, Martin, Carter, Richards and Sergt. Douglas Eldrid, who had just alighted from the G. T. R. train and, with eight other Peterborough boys were planning the best and quickest means of reaching their native city.

At first it was decided to have cars go for them but when the G.T.R. decided to run a train and gave them the privilege of coming home in the caboose, this idea was abandoned.

Tday Cadet Allen leaves for Kingston to report and obtain leave.

203 GERMAN SUBS SUNK DURING WAR

OVER HALF OF THESE WENT DOWN WITH CREWS.

London, Jan. 27.—Of the 203 German submarines lost during the war, it is estimated here semi-officially, 120 were sunk with all on board, and that in the others an average of half the crew perished.

The complement of the German submarines varied. Some small boats had only 30 on board, while a boat of the cruiser type averaged between 50 and 60.

The British navy during the war lost 59 submarines, 39 of which were destroyed by the enemy. Of the remainder four were interned by neutrals, seven were blown up in the Baltic Sea, four were sunk by accident on trial cruises and five were wrecked in collisions.

Thirty States of the American Union have certified to the State Department ratification of the Federal prohibition amendment.

EX-KAISER BEING DESERTED BY HIS FORMER FRIENDS

HAS GROWN SURLY AND RARELY SPEAKS TO THOSE AROUND HIM.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 27.—William Hohenzollern, former German emperor, has grown very surly and rarely speaks a word to his men servants and guards, according to the Mail's correspondent at Amerongen. His last recorded remark was made a few days ago, when he said that his "time at Amerongen was nearly up," it is said. His wife, on the other hand, maintains a cheerful disposition and shows an interest in the welfare of the people living near the castle, wher she is staying. The correspondent says: "The former emperor is being gradually deserted by everyone. He receives practically no visitors, and his former voluminous correspondence has become very small."

Paris, Jan. 27.—The Supreme Council of the Peace Conference met at 10:30 o'clock this morning. There was a full attendance of members.

It is proposed to spend sixty millions on Canadian Goverment railways, and over twenty millions on public works.

When the war broke out Canada's net debt totalled $336,000,000, and her gross debt $'44,000,000. Net debt of the Dominion now stands at $1,330,000,000, and gross debt at $2,491,000,000.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE ONE AS TO ULTIMATE FATE OF GERMANY'S LOST COLONIES

Under No Consideration Shall These Be Restored—Attitude of United States on This Question Has not Been Revealed—What Belgium Is Asking For.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 27.—One of the questions which it was expected the Supreme Council would take up today was the ultimate fate of the German colonies. France and Great Britain, it is declared, are agreed upon at least one feature of a solution of the problem, which is that under no consideration shall the colonies revert to Germany. The reasons advanced for such decisions are various, but prominent among them is the fact that it would render it impossible for Gremany to establish submarine bases in her colonial possessions.

The American attitude is as yet unrevealed. A prominent official declared to the Associated Press today that should the Franco-British viewpoint prevail, German Kameran would be taken over by the French, in accordance with an agreement arrived at by Great Britain and France. Belgium lays claim to that part of the Congo which she conquered by force of arms, Belgian troops having captured Tabora and the territory lying beyond the western slopes of Lake Victoria Nyanza. The Belgians also desire a strip of territory along the left bank of the Congo, the delimitation, of course, to be settled amicably with Portugal, territorial compensation being given the latter.

Famine Relief Bill Is Before Congress

Washington, Jan. 27. — An agreement on the Administration bill appropriating $100,000,000 for European famine relief was reached today by the Senate and House conferees after a brief session.

CLOSING BY-LAW IS ULTRA VIRES

COUNCIL HAS NO RIGHT TO REGULATE LAWS BEFORE 7 P.M.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 27.—Niagara Falls early closing bylaw passed last May to help out in view of the electricl shortage is ultra vires, ccording to a decision made by Magistrate Fraser. Frank Mango was charged with having his store open for business after 6 o'clock one night contrary to the provision of the early closing bylaw. W. F. Griffiths, his counsel, pointed out that the statutes only allowed municipalities to pass bylaws to close shops between 7 o'clock in the evening and 5 o'clock in the morning.

The magistrate admitted this was correct and dismissed the case. Now there is no longer an early closing bylaw in Niagara Falls, and stores may keep open all night if they wish, any night but Sunday.

Canada will spend $89,000,000 in soldiers' gratuities, and $40,000,000 or pensions this year.

Bolshevists At Breaking Point

London, Jan. 27.—A serious division exists between the Russian Bolshevists, says a Stockholm despatch to the Times. Lenine, fearing an economic boycott of the country, favors a policy of compromise both at home and abroad, in order to save what he can of his system.

The party headed by Trotsky, on the other hand, is for heroic measures. They insist that such a course would provoke intervention and thereby force the Allies to postpone demobilization while the Bolsheviste carry on a violent propaganda among the Allied troops.

The quarrel is exceedingly bitter, as both parties realize the desperate position of their cause, which is partly owing to the failure of the Bolshevists in Germany and partly to the economic ruin of Russia. It is agreed that affairs cannot go on as they are.

SOCIALISTS OF FRANCE URGED TO MAKE CHOICE

WHETHER TO FOLLOW PRESIDENT WILSON OR LENINE IS THE QUESTION.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 27.—The Socialists of France must make a choice between following President Wilson or Premier Lenine of Russia. This declaration was made at an agitated Socialist meeting in Paris on Sunday by M. Loriot. After the Socialist leaders, Albert Thomas, Pierre Renaudel and M. Longuet were shouted down when they tried to speak, M. Loriot declared: "President Wilson is an able man who is seeking to save the Bourgeoise, but he must not be followed. The moment has come to choose between him and Lenine."

PENSION FOR MRS. ROOSEVELT.

Congress Votes Her a Grant of Five Thousand a Year.

Washington, Jan. 27.—A bill granting a pension of $5000 a year to the widow of Theodore Roosevelt was sent to the White House for the President's approval after being passed by the House without a dissenting vote. The bill had been unanimously passed by the Senate. Before acting on this bill the House had passed a similar measure of its own granting the pension by a vote of 250 to 9.

T. James Moore, city clerk, Guelph, had his salary increased to $3,000 per year.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS RUN RIOT IN PARIS STREETS

Thirty-Four Murders, Many Assaults and Robberies Committed During December—Police Force Strengthened.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 27.—Thirty-four murders, 230 day and night assaults and nearly 500 serious fights, due to American soldiers, occurred in the Department of the Seine during the month of December, says the Matin today, in reverting to the subject of the reorganization of the American police in Paris. The reinforcement of the police contingent had been demanded by Brig.-Gen. W. W. Harts, the newspaper asserts, and with a new organization effected police operations have been carried out on a wholesale scale, especially in the Martre section, resulting in the arrest of many American deserters.

Another of the Paris newspapers, the Intransigeant, welcomes the reinforcement of the American police service in these days when, it says, attacks by armed men were becoming over-common and jewelry stores wer being robbed in full daylight in the main streets.

MR. GORDON ADDRESSES TRINITY BROTHERHOOD

Discusses Capital and Labor and Urges Fair Deal for Workingmen—Society Plans Winter Program.

The Mens' Brotherhood of the Trinity Methodist Church was addressed yesterday afternoon by Mr. G. N. Gordon, upon the different items of memorial presented to the Federal and Provincial Governments at the last General Conference of the Methodist Church, urging social, political and economical reform.

Mr. Gordon dealt throughout with all the planks in this platform and gave his interpretation to the brotherhood who will discuss the matter in detail next Sunday afternoon.

Some of the subjects of the address were as follows:

The repatriation and distribution of land to the soldiers.

Mothers' and Wives' Pensions.

Preservation of the national resources of the people and development by the Government.

Nationalization of railways and other lines of communication, and the relationship of capital and labor.

Mr. Gordon claimed in his address that there should be fair dealing between capital and labor and that every toiler was entitled to live comfortably, happily and have healthful surroundings, by care and frugal living, and that if the wages of the present standard were materially reduced it meant the reduction of the standard of living and the bringing of many families near the line of poverty.

By maintaining the present standard of living it means the merchants receive more money for their goods purchased by the workingmen and in turn the merchants pay more money for goods they buy from the manufacturers who employ the workingmen, so that in fact while it means a greater expenditure by the employer, yet the money is cast into circulation again and again and others benefit and even the employer must benefit indirectly.

The Brotherhood has invited speakers who give address upon different themes each Sunday, and had developed a very large attendance, and expect during the rest of the winter, to have many interesting addresses given by representative men of the city.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

MONDAY, JANUARY 27, 1919

A FINANCIAL BAROMETER.

AS SHOWN by the report of the annual meeting in Saturday's issue, the Toronto Savings & Loan Company had a prosperous year in 1918, and in every department marked improvement is noted. The success attained by any corporation, one of the branches of whose business is the renting of property or the sale of it on the instalment plan, is an excellent barometer of the financial condition both among the business men and the wage-earners. It is satisfactory to note that in the annual report of the Toronto Savings & Loan Company it is stated that all payments maturing on the investments during the year have been satisfactorily met and that the rentals from the property owned by the company have been promptly paid. This is the best possible evidence that prosperity has been general during the year 1918. Notwithstanding the high cost of living, the people have been able to meet their financial obligations.

The war has interfered with the operations of this company just as it has with all private enterprises except those directly engaged in lines for the products of which the conflict created a demand. It is hoped that with the return of peace, every branch of the work for which this company has been organized will be resumed. This will mean a revival in the building trade, from which will result a solution, in a good measure, of the housing problem. It will also mean work for hundreds of men, both in construction work itself and in the production of the necessary material.

Officered as it is by some of the best business men in Peterborough, the success of the Toronto Savings & Loan Association is not to be wondered at. It is as little occasion for surprise that all of these have been re-elected to their former positions. They include Mr. G. W. Morrow, manager and vice-president; Richard Hall, also a vice-president, and D. W. Dumble, a member of the board of directors.

STARVATION SELF-INFLICTED.

THERE IS ALWAYS sympathy for the people who are reduced to starvation through the dispensation of Providence, Who, for some reason hidden from finite vision, sweeps a country with famine or a disease that causes a stagnation of production activities. It is the same in the case of individuals. Men or women reduced to penury through no fault of their own are genrally assured of the practical sympathy which volunteers them aid, while the willful wastrel may be permitted to suffer alone.

In extenuation of her offences against humanity, Germany now pleads that the people of that empire were reduced to a condition of semi-starvation by the blockade which the Allies maintained so strictly, and that at least half a million non-combatants died for the lack of proper nourishment.

Whether this assertion be true in detail, or grossly exaggerated, as is probably the case, the fact remains that the German people, duped as they may have been by the militarist party, have no one but their leaders to blame. The blockade would have been lifted, the regular channels of trade opened, and the work of production restored to its former standard, at any time, if the war-mad nation had only consented to lay down its arms.

Ther were hundreds, probably thousands, of old men, women and children outside of Germany starved to death on account of the war. The world will save its commiseration for these, not for the people who wantonly caused the suffering. The sins of the Germans were upon their own heads.

MORE FEMININE LOGIC.

THE OLD LADY across the way says that this matter of publishing anonymous letters often gets a paper into a tight corner between the Prince of Evil and the deep sea. Refusing to publish them may make enemies, but the same result follows their appearance in print.

Still, in all matters of doubt ther is nothing like exercising the commercial instinct by charging regular advertising rates.

SNAPPING AT PUBLIC MEN.

A FEW MORE local incidents such as occurred recently, and it will be a difficult matter to induce a public man of note to come to Peterborough for the purpose of delivering an address. Ex-President Taft was here last week, and everyone felt that guest and host had alike scored creditably during the visit of one of the most distinguished of American public men. Then a local newspaper threw a wet blanket over the city's felicitations by attacking the religious faith of our illustrious guest. "Woe unto ye, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites," scribes especially who attack from cover.

Hon. F. B. Carvell, Minister of Public Works in the Union Government, accepted a civic invitation to come here to look over the situation with regard to the necessity for construction work that will call for the expenditure of thousands of dollars in Peterborough at a time when the employment problem is serious, an expenditure which will afford well paid work for hundreds of men. Mr. Carvell also addressed a public meeting and was given a cordial reception.

The same yapping newspaper that attacks the faith of the American visitor assails Mr. Carvell. At the very outset it betrays its own sad lack of information by asserting that Mr. Carvell did not say anything about the construction of the Hunter street bridge, a matter that is outside the jurisdiction of his department, just as much so as is the tariff question. The newspaper in question further betrays its animus—easily accounted for—by alleging that the Minister of Public Works did not really tell his audience anything. This is an allegation which all those who heard Mr. Carvell or who read the excellent report of his address which appeared in The Review are in a position to challenge.

Mr. Carvell gave an able and lucid exposition of what the Government has already done, to the extent of its power, to solve the employment problem and to not only get the Canadian soldiers back from Europe but to care for them on their arrival.

The Minister of Public Works made it clear that he had no authority, even as a member of the Cabinet, to make definite promises as to when work will be begun on the Federal building and the dry dock in this city. That is a matter which must come before Parliament. Orders-in-Council will pass away with the necessity for this usurption of the prerogatives of the people.

No Government on earth can either create employment when there is none except by embarking on a program of public works which the present Administration has clearly announced its intention of doing. Work on the Welland Canal has already been resumed. The Trent Canal is to be completed, the requisite funds for both of these projects having already been voted, and, not held for further parliamentary action as in the case of public buildings for this city. If the manufacturers choose to lay off men, lacking a market for their goods, the Government has no authority to compel them to do otherwise. If there is no market for these goods anywhere on earth, the Government cannot create one.

With regard to the returned soldiers and in dealing with the other problems of the day, Mr. Carvell was equally clear.

Upon their arrival in Canada the soldiers are to be granted a post-discharge pay of $100 a month for six months, in order to give them an opportunity to recover from the fatigues of the service and to re-adapt themselves to civil life.

Soldiers who are sick or crippled are to be given hospital accommodation for so long as they choose to remain.

Whatever may be the objections to the present scale of pensions, the system is to be amended until every man disabled in the service is made at least as well off, in a material sense, as he was before he enlisted.

The wives and dependents of the Canadian fighting force are to be brought back from Europe at public expense.

The United States has had two wars within the memory of the living before its participation in the recent conflict, and for that reason has gained experience in dealing with the problem of repatriation. It is gratifying to note in this connection that the leading papers of the neighboring Republic are commending the policy of the Canadian Government and urging the adoption of its main features upon the American Congress.

Perhaps the Minister of Public Works did not in his address state anything that our contemporary did not already know. It is too much to expect a mere member of the Dominion Cabinet, exalted as his public reputation may be, to enlighten the omniscient—or the opaque. Still, Mr. Carvell did certainly give, in a connected narrative, information that is furnished by the Government from time to time in official propaganda and in advertisements in the papers.

Oleomargarine.

(Kingston Standard.)

The sale of oleomargarine in Canada will not be interfered with except by Parliament when it meets. That is right. The public wants a free discussion upon the matter before being deprived of a wholesome food by the action of the dairymen.

Plenty of Blame.

(Guelph Herald.)

The commissioner hearing the Northland enquiry averred that the newspapers have a great deal to answer for. It would appear as if more than the newspapers have something to answer for, if the returning soldiers' complaints are justified.

(From Sinclair Magazine)

Just as soon as her soldiers are released from military duty they will be given an opportunity to help construct 5,000 miles of highway already planned and provided for. It is believed that the returning soldiers who would regard such work with favor and so enter upon it from choice would give a service far above the usual standard. The spirit of discipline instilled by army life, the cheerfulness while at work as well as the road-making experiences of many of the American troops while in France would qualify the returning soldiers to build roads in but a fraction of the time which would be required under other conditions.

During the past year American road engineers, after an intensive training in our comps and cantonments, built military highways in France so extensive that their length was represented by the distance from New York to St. Louis. Camp life has proved so attractive to many men who have enjoyed the associations of barracks, mess halls and recreation huts, that living in quarters is no longer regarded as distasteful to them. This fact in itself may aid in carrying out highway construction programs.

The time was when most road work was done by unskilled labor. Since 1900 the industry has undergone such development that skilled laborers, mechanics, technically trained men and men of scientific education are demanded to carry on the work. The returned soldier or sailor is therefore afforded a chance for specialization and originality in working out such road features as system, design, alignmen, drainage, road material, as well as construction methods and the building of bridges and culverts.

In road work, as in other vocations there is always a demand for the man who is more capable than others who choose the same calling. When therefore, the men of the demobilized army select highway work even for temporary employment, or until the economic conditions of the country again become normal, they may enter upon their new vocation with ambition and determination to use their new experiences for advancement.

But the problem is not merely to find employment for the able-bodied. Men returning home with empty coat sleeves and trouser legs pinned up, or suffering other physical destruction from their part in warfare, are to be reconstructed and made as perfect as modern science and medical attention can accomplish. Uncle Sam has declared that he owes more than a pension to such men. He is determined to give each one a course in vocational education which will enable him to go back into the industrial life despite his handicap. Whether armless or legless, shell-shocked or victims of poison gas, they all want the chance to take their places again in the great bustling world. They do not ask for hero worship nor for pity, but for a fair chance. Rehabilitation has proved that the loss of an arm or leg does not unfit a man for gaining a livelihood. It has also taught that the artificial limb should supply the lost function and not merely the image of the lost member. It is confidently predicted that many of these men will find profitable employment on America's new highways. Simple appliances added to road-building machinery might aid the reconstructed man in taking up such work. The constantly growing policy of road patrol or the road service, that keeps vigilant watch over highways in order that needed repairs shall be reported as soon as occasion arrises, offers a field to the rehabilitated man. Clerical work in the offices of highway officials might attract others who walk by means of mechanical appliances may give valuable service in road laboratory work, which is proving of greater economic value year by year.

Probably the largest field of highway opportunity open to the physically reconstructed men is in the actual building of the roads. Men whose lungs have been seared with deadly gas, victims of liquid fire and those whose nervous systems have been impaired through the rigors of modern warfare or actual shell-shock might find benefit in this fresh-air employment, providing they have recovered sufficiently from their disabilities.

Finally, the demand for highway engineers might be supplied from the ranks of the rehabilitated. The man with a sound head, despite artificial arm or leg, may always find room at the top. Fortunately several universities have lately enlarged their engineering courses to give certain special preparation useful to those engaged in highway work. To the highly efficient engineer equipped with scientific training as well as knowledge, theory, practice and good judgment, one more or less arm is of slight importance. A man apparently handicapped by the ravages of war might, by determination and effort, succeed in equipping himself for a more important place in the world than that which he left when he took up arms for his country. In a new field he may do his share in making the American highways the best in the world, a monument of peace after world strife and a memorial to the soldiers who returned from France after their part in preparing the world for that peace which is called by the other name so dear to all Americans, "Liberty."

TODAY'S STORY

"Once during the battle of the Somme I had the privilege of discussing with a very great French soldier the characteristics of the different breeds of fighting men," writes Col. John Buchan, the distinguished author with whose history of the war many are familiar. Colonel Buchan's romance, "John Freemantle,"

"He put, as I remember, the Scots and the Dominion troops first among the British. I demurred, and argued the claim to equal rank of the old-fashioned English county regiments who rarely go into the papers but who seemed to me to do the most of the work in most battles.

Scots and Colonials

"Yes,' said he, 'but we French incline to admire the qualities which we do not possess. Your Scots and Colonials have an elan, a fury which we reverence because it is rare among us.'

"That seemed to me a remarkable saying, and largely true. We have been accustomed to think and speak of the furia francese and the Gallic fire, but I believe that the greatest quality of the French soldier is his inhuman patience and quiet stoicism. In the early days of the war the French wounded were things to marvel at. Foreign opinion of ourselves is always to be respected, and if the French admire our clan and dash, why, it must be there to admire, for there are no better critics. Perhaps the authority I have quoted was not wholly free from bias, for the Highlander is a figure of French nursery tales, and the national memeory does not forget the 'Old Alliance' and the days when the French King and a Scott'sh bodyguard and a Scot was Constable of France.

"Sir Douglas Haig is a typical Scottish soldier, and in the crisis of last April he called on his men to endure to the last. 'There is no other course open to us,' he said. 'but to fight it out. With our backs to the wall, and believing in the justice of our cause each of us must fight on to the end.' It was tremendously impressive, but the impressiveness lay not in the eloquence, but in the absence of it.

"And yet, as the exception which proves the rule, I recall another appeal made at the some time by another General of Scottish blood which excels in the opposite way and might rank with any battle-order of the French. I transcribe a sentence or wo of Sir Arthur Currie's appeal to the Canadians for the sake of those who love great words.

" " 'I place my trust in the Canadian Corps, knowing that where Canadians are engaged there can be no giving way. Under the orders of your devoted officers in the coming battle you will advance or fall where you stand facing the enemy. To those who fall I say, "You will not die but step into immortality. Your mothers will not lament your fate, but will have been proud to have borne such sons. Your names will be revered for ever and ever by your grateful country, and God will take you unto Himself." 'Cromwell or Lincoln could not have bettered that.

Kindly and Merciful

"The consequences of the complete sanity of our fighting men is that they are most kindly and merciful. Cruelty is generally the result of jangled nerves and a fluttering heart. The Germans in Belgium were brutal because their unquiet minds saw the rifle of a franc-tireur behind every bush. In this let me quote the letter of a Scottish officer during the Somme. 'The more I see of this show the more I realise the fundamental decency of our own fellows. They may not be as well trained as the French, and I know to my sorrow that they have not the Boches' taste in music. But for genuine goodness of heart, for kindness to all unfortunate things like wounded and prisoners and dogs and ugly women they fairly beat the band.'

"Sanity, humor, mercifulness — these are great qualities and they are happily the qualities of the whole British Army."

NEW ZEALAND AGGRIEVED.

Thinks She Should Have Two Peace Delegates.

London, Jan. 25.—Premier Massey of New Zealand, interviewed, says that Premier Lloyd George quite frankly told him that the allocation of only one delegate to New Zealand was not the British Government's doing but was the work of the Peace Congress as a whole. Mr. Massey said that he fully realized that the British Government sympathised with his grievance. He intends to bring the matter before the Imperial War Cabinet at the first opportunity. Referring to the contention of the Allied nations that Great Britain was already over-represented, Mr. Massey said that if the other dominions demanded separate representation on the League of Nations, he would lodge a claim for New Zealand.

LESSONS IN RIGHT LIVING

(By Dr. W. A. Brady.)

Most members of the human family bear more or less striking resemblance to other birds. Everybody has known Walrus Jake and Mrs. Cat and Fred Fox. Members of the evil or crooked sex go in for animal imitations mostly, and members of the gentle or credulous sex adopt as models different species of birds. If my zoology is clear some woman make up to resemble Plymouth Rocks. The Plymouth Rock is not so very ornamental, but an indispensable bird. Others are orioles. Occasionally you meet a pheasant along Main street and far too many chickens that ought to have gone to roost hours before.

It is a woman's duty to look her best, whether she has a husband or only a hope of a husband or even a mere memory of a husband. When nature, queen of the beauty specialists, fails her then she must fall back on her own makeup case.

The test of a makeup is its unobtrusiveness. As long as the stuff is not obvious no one but a veritable hen can take any exception to it. Most of the birds are not concerned about the cackling of hens.

Provided a lady eschews cosmetics, some of which are in themselves poisonous or injurious (for example, rice powder often causes inflamed eyes), it is nobody's business except her own what myteries she employs in her toilet. I said lady. Some women and far too many girls evidently think the test of a good makeup is the way men stare.

An anxious mother whose letter manifests sound sense wonders whether it is entirely right to forbid her daughter, a girl still in high school, to use powder and rouge. It seems that "all the girls use it" nowadays. If the mother permits her daughter to wear high heels and corsets, why should she object to other artificialities of ornamentation? It doesn't seem quite fair to allow the child to wear only half of the makeup.

The energy, time, thought and money a member of the credulous sex spends on beauty dope would accomplish marvels for her appearance if intelligently appropriated for better hygiene and better health—but, after all, what a hard cruel world this would be for us men if the birds were less credulous!

Something Good For Complexion.

"Please tell me something that would be good and safe to use for my daughter's complexion. She is determined to use something for it.

MRS. F. M."

CARING FOR INVALID

Some Ways of Making the Sick Comfortable in Bed.

Be sure to fix things so an invalid may sit up in bed comfortably. The ordinary bed rest is as good as any and a pile of pillows even better, if there are enough of them of varying bulk and if care is taken to support the small of the back and the end of the spine.

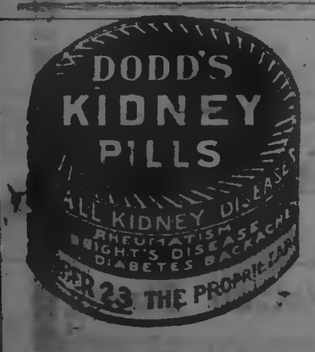
Sitting up in bed is a trial even under the best circumstances, the inevitable slipping down causing a great strain on the weakened muscles. This can be obviated by inserting a stiff pillow under the covers, against which the feet can press.

A soft pillow folded under the knees is also a help. However, in case the invalid is ill and there is no room for a bulky pillow, here is a good substitute. Slip a folded sheet under the bed covers and across the whole bed at exactly the spot touched by the feet of the sick person. Fasten each end securely to the framework of the bed at both sides. The sheet is folded so as to make a sort of hammock against which the patient may brace his feet. If the sheet is not long enough it can be folded diagonally.

A DANDRUFF REMEDY

For dandruff here is a good lotion: One ounce of tincture of cantharides, one dram of liquid ammonia, half an ounce of glycerin, half a dram of water. Rub the scalp thoroughly with this until no further evidence of dandruff is noted.

W. C. Barrie, of Galt, is the new president of the Ontario Plowmen's Association.



Zeppelin Limitations.

Basing his statements on accurate measurements of a Zeppelin that was brought down in England last October, on known facts regarding the lifting power of hydrogen gas, on the state of the barometer during the flight, on the temperature of the air recorded in the airship's log, Jhadoo Jahox writes in Aeronautics as follows:

"It would appear from the foregoing that the latest type of Zeppelin is designed to attain a height of 17,000 to 18,000 feet when over its objective and after dropping its bombs, but is capable of going even higher under stress of circumstances and at the risk of suffering some slight damage on returning to its base.

"These conclusions accord well with Mr. Warner Allen's statements that these airships are built with a view to flying between 16,000 and 18,000 feet. Of course, on a short flight they could go higher, in view of the reduced quantity of petrol to be carried."

Western Soldiers Rugged.

The "early to bed and early to rise" slogan is noticeable on the faces of the boys in khaki who are arriving here from the West and other parts of the country. These youths are certainly typical of the real American. Health, brawn and muscle are their principal characteristics and with all this there is a certain amount of chivalry that is not seen in New York. The average New Yorker is a pale individual. Indoor work, of course, is responsible for this and he always is in such a hurry that he thinks of no one but himself. Some of the New York youths marvel at the appearance of these visitors from the West. They cannot understand why they should be so ruddy. The explanation is easy. It is because they spend more time in the open. Nevertheless the appearance of the boys from other parts of the country is causing 17 kinds of jealousy.—New York Times.

Non-Inflammable Celluloid.

The usefulness of celluloid as a substitute for various materials is lessened by its extreme inflammability. Considerable interest has, therefore, been aroused by the invention by a professor in a Japanese university of a non-combustible, or at any rate slow-burning celluloid. While not exactly fireproof this substance requires a great deal of heat to kindle it, and burns very slowly.

The new material is made from the soy bean, which the Japanese have found so widely useful, and it is said, includes the use of formalin to produce a durable, hornlike substance. It is claimed that the Japanese product will be cheaper as well as much preferable to the combustible celluloid

PLAITS AND PANELS MODEL

Accordion plaits and panels are very popular this season. This skirt is of lustrous black satin and the panels are edged with broad silk fringe.

CARE OF SILVER GRAY HAIR

Tonic Containing Glycerin Should Not Be Used—Ornaments Detract More Than They Add.

Gray hair, more than hair of any other color, should be beautifully arranged. The hairdress is three-fourths of the trick of an admirable coiffure. The length, thickness, color and texture of the hair, notes a correspondent, do not matter so much, if it is beautifully undulated and becomingly coiffed. What the hairdressers nowadays can do with a skimpy little thatch of thought dome roofing is something marvelous. And they will teach you tricks of which you may well be proud.

To gray hair only certain tonics should be applied. Any tonic containing glycerin will discolor the silver sheen.

As a rule, hair ornaments detract more than they add. Brilliant ornaments or any elaborate coiffure fresco effects are suitable only for the grand hope-to-die social occasions. Shell pins are out of style. This is the day of the simple effect, of good lines and a deletion of everything that has neither meaning nor place. Hence, beautiful hair is considered sufficient unto itself, without any of the claptrap, fuss stuff for which in times agone we used to exchange our good cash, coin, spending change.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Very lovely is a frock of taffeta and velvet combination, trimmed with silk fringe, the sleeves of which are elbow length and cut kimono fashion in one with the bodice.

Chenille embroidery, combined with beads, is the charmingly effective trimming seen on some lovely frocks of satin.

In millinery the color combination of French blue and black is exceedingly popular, and to a less degree is noted seal brown and henna—the color formerly known as terra cotta.

Frocks of panne velvet trimmed with silk braid are very smart; in fact, velvet frocks, both plain and trimmed in many ways, are a delightfully attractive mode of the moment.

Formless Blouses and Coats.

Cheruit makes extremely wide and formless blouses and coats, and she, like Lanvin, uses these long loops, which are really slings. Undoubtedly they were suggested by the sight of the wounded in Paris, and the fact that the dressmaking houses in France turned out so much of the essentials for the hospitals.

HATS MUST BE PRACTICAL

Becomingness, Serviceability, Individuality, Always Figure Prominently in All Headgear.

War has not robbed woman of her natural desire to please, but it has taught her that discrimination is a far better part than display.

At present no hat stands a ghost of a chance of success unless it is practical as well as smart.

The woman with a taste and a talent for dress realizes that a hat, no matter how beautiful or how expensive it may be, is worth to her only its measure of becomingness.

So the autumn hat is a combination "hunnit" of chic, serviceability and individuality—just such a combination as will delight the feminine heart.

It is worth noting that velvet is the vogue for all the hours of the day and night, but it is developed in so many ways and allied to such a variety of things that it never fails.

It does not now matter half so much what hat one wears as how one wears it, and the head must fit way up into the crown and the hat must droop down well over the eyes if one would not be hopelessly out of the prevailing style.

SAPPHIRE TO SUPPLANT RUBY

Precious Stone Has Increased in Price on Account of War and Imitations Are Almost Impossible.

According to advices from London jewelers, the sapphire is to supersede the ruby as a fashionable jewel. For a long time the ruby has held first place, having succeeded the sapphire in favor, which was deposed by the fashionable world, despite its magnificence of color, as it had become cheaper in price. It appears now that the ruby, while bringing high prices, is nevertheless the simplest of all stones and can readily be imitated. In fact, it is difficult to detect imitations.

Consequently the sapphire will now be preferred, it having greatly increased in price during the war and it being almost impossible to manufacture imitations.

Diamonds and pearls will, of course, continue to be worn as usual and are always in fashion. Diamonds are now at the highest price in history, and may continue to increase in price.

Then and Now.

"Thirty years ago," said the man who had traveled to the end of the earth and most of the way back, "I started out, alone, unaided, without friends to help me along, with the intention of making the world pay me the living that it owes me. My only allies were a dollar bill and a determination to make a million more. Today (and he threw out his chest proudly) I still have the determination and fifty cents in change."

Crab's Keen Watch for Enemies.

The fiddler crabs of the Philippines have remarkably sharp eyes, and may be seen standing for perhaps fifteen minutes at a time quite still, scanning the landscape for signs of their chief enemies—snakes, skunks, frogs, toads and fishes. Noise will not disturb them, but they beat a hasty retreat home if anything moves near, or boldly stand and frantically wave the big claw, being particularly angry if a lady crab comes near.

"Colonel" Is a Column Leader.

The Spanish for colonel is coronel, the Italian colonello. The Spaniards originated the word 400 years ago and seem to have made it by combining the sense of the Latin columna, a column, with that of corona, a crown. We follow the French spelling, but in pronouncing we retain the Spanish "r," hence "kernel," as we say it. Literally it means the leader of a column or of the company at the head of the regiment in column.

Cold-Water Cure.

If our eyes are in good order we may keep them so by opening them under cold water every morning when we wash, but cold water is for strong eyes; weak ones should use it tepid, with a little boracic powder dissolved therein. Keep your boracic solution ready mixed in a bottle, then you won't have to make it up every day.

SLIP-OVER BLOUSE

Device Worn With Choice of Silk or Satin Skirt.

Collarless Garment, Regardless of Becomingness, Promises to Continue Popular During Season.

The blouse shown in the sketch is one of the very smart little panel effects being developed in great numbers for the season. This blouse is a slipover. The neck is sufficiently wide to make it possible to slip the blouse very easily over the head, and it is held in at the waist by a narrow elastic band, which is in turn concealed by the ribbon belt run through openings in the panel, back and front. This is very smart as a suit blouse, or it may be worn with one of the lovely silk or satin skirts, the two forming a very satisfactory afternoon dress for informal occasions.

If women come to realize that the blouse which comes well below the waistline is unquestionably the smartest and most becoming, except for distinctly sport wear, the separate blouse will come into wider use.

The model sketched, as originally designed, was made of navy georgette, with beading in navy and red, the large beads used to outline the panel, neck and wrist being in a vivid red. The ribbon belt may be of navy faille or black velvet. A red belt would be striking, but not advisable, as sharply dividing the figure at the waistline is not becoming to the average figure.

The collarless blouse will almost unquestionably continue to be the most popular selection during the season, although a large number of blouses are being shown with moderately high collars. Regardless of becomingness, the collarless blouse is certainly more comfortable, and in these busy days that is a very important consideration.

EASY TO MAKE A LAMPSHADE

Throw a Square Material in Studied Carelessness Over Lined Wire Frame and Start is Made.

One of the simplest and at the same time most effective lampshades is made by throwing a square material in studied carelessness over a lined wire frame. For the floor lamp this is especially artistic. The frame should be lined with silk, either plain or shirred on, exactly as if it were to be covered with shirred silk or plain panels in the approved lampshade manner of the moment. After that a square of handsome silk, brocade, Japanese embroidery or anything sufficiently valuable to suggest that it remain uncut is thrown over the shade so that the points fall evenly. Heavy fringe may weight the edge, or tassels at the corners will perform the same office. A small hole in the center may have to be worked through the material so that the tip of the electric fixture which holds the shade may work through. The silk could be tacked very lightly here and there to the lined frame to keep it from slipping out of place.

FRINGE ON VEILS

Season's Vogue Provides for the Popular Trimming.

Arrangement of Border Sometimes Covers Mouth and Chin of Wearer —Some Popular Colors.

The present season's vogue for fringe has extended even to veils. Some of these veils are slip-over affairs. That is, the veiling is sewed together and an elastic band arranged at one edge, so that it may be held to the hat. Others are finished at the lower edge and two ends with the fringe, and an elastic band may be used to secure the veil to the hat, or it may be merely draped and pinned.

Fall and winter millinery fashions would, at a mere glance, seem to discourage the wearing of veils. Hats are frequently so oddly shaped and trimmed that draping a veil over one of them would seem to be rather a difficult task. Veils, however, are of generous proportions, and they are so uniformly becoming that women simply will not abandon them, regardless of hat shape or size.

The harem veil is one of the novelties of the season, one-half of it being filmy net or chiffon, while the other half is comparatively heavy, and when draped over the face the lower half of the face is barely visible.

Shetland veilings, always serviceable, are shown this season heavily embroidered in wool. Sometimes the wool embroidery is arranged as a border, covering mouth and chin of the wearer, and again one or two striking flowers are embroidered in wool on the open Shetland mesh.

The new hats for fall feature feathers, either fancy feathers of one kind or another, or ostrich as first favorites in the line-up of trimmings, with bows or self-fabric arranged windmill or airplane fashion; second, and from present indications one of the most popular millinery colors of the fall and winter season is to be a brownish red, or reddish brown, christened "henna." The windows of the smart shops are filled with hats featuring this shade, and it also appears frequently as a trimming touch on smart frocks.

Finding Broken Wire

It is a difficult matter to locate a broken wire in an ignition cable, unless one knows how. Here is how: Draw each individual wire out somewhere along the cable. Hold a compass within a half-inch of the wire. If the current is flowing through the wire, the compass will be deflected from its normal position in one way or the other. A broken wire will have no effect on the instrument, which thereby acts as a detective.

Chinese Wedding Presents.

In social circles of the celestial empire the family of the bridegroom makes presents to the family of the bride of various articles a few days before the day fixed for the marriage. The presents generally consist of food, the leg and foot of a pig, the leg of a goat, eight small cakes of bread, eight torches, three pairs of large red candles, a quantity of vermicelli, and several bunches of firecrackers.

Labor-Saving Penholder.

To conserve his time a man whose monthly duty it is to sign 100,000 salary checks for a railway company employs a multiple penholder that permits his signature to be written five times in one operation. The apparatus, says Popular Mechanics Magazine, differs from some others in that the fountain pens are clamped to a pivoted rack that is mounted in a portable box resembling a suitcase. The cover, when opened flat on the desk top, holds a frame in which the vouchers are placed for signing.

"Parsec" Is a Long, Long Way.

A "parsec" is a distance that the most zealous pedestrian would hardly care to walk before breakfast. In fact, it doesn't enter into the sphere of human operations at all, but it is a handy unit in astronomy. It is equal to 20,000,000,000,000 miles and is the distance traveled by light in 3.3 years. A few of the nearest stars are from one to five parsecs distant from us, but most of the stars that dot the sky are scores or hundreds of parsecs away.

MRS. MAY COULD NOT WORK

Made Well and Strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbia, Pa.—"I was very weak and run down and had dragging-down pains and pains in my back. I could not get around to do my work and had to sit down and rest often during the day. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the papers and read the testimonials, so I thought I would try it. Now I am healthier than I ever was in my life, and can recommend it to any woman who suffers as I did." —Mrs. ELIZABETH MAY, R.F.D. No. 1, Columbia, Pa.

The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and the letters which we are constantly publishing from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of this famous root and herb medicine.

Long Wars of the Past.

A review of history shows that all the most momentous clashes of arms have resulted in long wars. In the middle ages England waged an intermittent conflict with France known as the Hundred Years war; while the corresponding conflict between England and Scotland may be said to have been a five-century one.

No Crime to Stifle Yawn.

The office boy says he has no record of any law having been enacted making it a crime to stifle a yawn. You may have in mind the case of Macbeth, who, as you will recall, created a sensation in the newspapers of his time by murdering sleep.—Indianapolis Star.

Liberty Before All Things.

WOMEN BUY FURS AT $10,000 A SET

ONE AND A HALF MILLION DOLLARS SPENT RECENTLY IN CHICAGO.

Despite the war, fur buyers throughout Chicago, representing some of the larger department stores and most exclusive shops, said today that during the present season the most expensive wraps in years, and more of them, have been sold to wealthy women here. A dozen society leaders are wearing wraps that cost $10,000 or more. The number that have purchased wraps at $1,000 to $5,000 reaches into a probable 300, it was said. Dealers estimated furs valued at $1,500,000 had been sold in Chicago this year.

"Women are spending their money on expensive coats as they have spent money on jewels in the past," said W. F. Smith of Marshall Field & Co. "This is the best fur year so far as wraps are concerned that we have seen in years."

Women Defend Purchases.

At the store of John T. Shayne & Co., three wraps that were valued at more than $10,000 were sold, according to the president of the company, Thomas J. Considine.

At Mande Brothers fifty or sixty wraps valued at $1,000 to $3,000 were sold, was the statement of the fur buyer.

Officials of the Women's Association of Commerce, when questioned about these expenditures, declared they were not a sign of extravagance.

"It stimulates commerce," Miss Sophia E. Delson, president of the association, said. "Speaking for the commercial interests of Chicago, I feel that the money has not been wasted. Many men have a share in it. Thousands of workers and business men have participated in the assembling of these expensive garments, and it has helped them, I think, from the commercial point of view."

"Shows Lack of Imagination."

Miss Amelia Sears, civic director of the Woman's City club, said of the purchasers of the most expensive wraps noted:

"After all it isn't as if they consumed food valued at $10,000. You couldn't feed the fur to any one in Europe. But I think spending that much money on one article shows a lack of imagination—yes, and a gross materialism."

Committee Call At Headquarters

In pursuance of the resolution passed at the last meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee the members visited the fire hall this afternoon and discussed some of the matters pertaining to the estimates in an informal manner with the chief.

They were shown through the building and several points referred to in the annual report of Chief Grange submitted last week were demonstrated by an inspection of the stock and equipment of the department.

When next the committee meets they will go further into the matter and in all probability will get down to business on the consideration of the estimates as furnished by the chief.

Yes, I Intend To But Not Now

Have YOU any idea what that decision is costing you—even if you live? Of course, if you die the cost is much GREATER. Read the following facts and then decide for yourself:

The premium you would pay for $1000 of insurance at age 60 WOULD BUY YOU nearly $4000 of insurance at age 21.

The premium you pay for $1000 of insurance at age 50 WOULD BUY YOU nearly $2500 at age 21.

The premium you pay for $1000 of insurance at age 35 WOULD BUY YOU $1440 at age 21.

Besides, while you may be insurable at age 21 you may not be insurable AT ANY PRICE at the other ages mentioned.

The one great fact that touches our lives is the verdict of NOW.

ALDERMEN ATTEND SERVICE IN THE PARK STREET CHURCH

Following a long established custom, the members of the City Council last night attended church in a body, accepting this year the invitation of the pastor and officers of the Park Street Baptist church to take part in the services last evening. They met at the city hall early in the evening and marched to the church in a body. The front pews in the centre of the church were reserved for them. Those who attended were Mayor Duncan, City Clerk Armstrong, and Aldermen Turner, Morrison, Garside, Murray, Edgar, Hamilton, McIntyre and Taylor. Attending Divine service is no novel experience for the aldermen, as every member of the Council is connected with some place of worship, nearly all denominations in the city being represented, the Salvation Army claiming Ald. Murray.

Rev. D. Brown, the pastor of the church, before beginning his discourse, welcomed the visitors in a few well-chosen words. He stated his opinion that no council ever elected in Peterborough was called upon to face graver responsibilities than will devolve upon the present board, and expressed the hope that they would prove worthy of the trust that had been committed to their keeping. The people could assist the aldermen in their work, and this aid, he was sanguine, would not be lacking.

Mr. Brown said he did not propose to offer the aldermen advice on the discharge of their duties, which they knew more about than he did, but intended to preach on a Bible topic as usual. The subject of his sermon was "His Coming: When?" and the text was the fourth verses of the third chapter of the second epistle of Peter: "And saying, where is the promise of His coming? For since the fathers fell asleep all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation."

The speaker on this theme delivered one of the thoughtful, scholarly and earnest discourses for which he is noted. He did not attempt even to approximate the date of the Second Coming. It may be tomorrow or at the end of the present century. But one thing is certain, the world is ripe for it now, the conditions that are foretold in the Scripture already prevail. Just as in the days of Noah when the people paid no heed to the warning but were buying and selling and sinning, so are they engaged today.

An excellent musical program was furnished by the choir under the leadership of Miss Norma Moore, who also fills the position of organist.

The annual meeting of the church which continues to show steady progress, will be held Wednesday evening, and a full attendance is requested.

APPROVES STEP PROPOSED HERE

OWEN SOUND PAPER FAVORS MEMORIAL HISTORY OF SOLDIERS THERE.

(Owen Sound Sun-Times.)

We note with special satisfaction in the Peterborough Review of Jan. 16th the announcement that "The Officers and Men" of Peterborough's military unit, the 93rd Battalion, have requested Capt. C. R. Widdifield, one of its most distinguished members to write a history of the regiment.

Capt. Widdfeld is a son of His Honor Judge Widdifield, of our own town and is certified as having all the requisite equipment, including, literary ability, for the task. The history proposed will include a full record of the individual members of the battalion and their services whether in England or France. The co-operation of parents of the men and others is bespoken to supply desired details of information. This is not a scheme to make money by exploiting the widespread public interest in the men who helped to win the war, and an appeal is made to all who are able to help in any way to do so.

This is a good lead and one which we hope may be widely followed. Why should not "the Officers and Men of Town" who sacrificed and served with such distinction be similarly honored and the memory of their loyalty and valor be perpetuated. This is not thought of or suggested in any sense as a substitute for a memorial, or memorials that should be erected in Owen Sound, or in the chief local centres of the country, but as a souvenir of the war a copy of which might be in every home in the county, and would be prized and treasured as an heir-loom in the homes from which our brave defenders cade at the call of the Empire and human ty.

We would suggest that our War Veterans Association should consider this matter an ddecide as soon as possible on omething of the kind proposed in Peterborough. It would not be hard to find a competent editor who ,out of the mass of material available could make such a literary memorial as would be for all time not only a most interesting chapter in the history of the great war, but an important chapter in the history of the county and of the province.

The expansion of industrial facilities at Calgary is noted in the building permits issued, which one day recently amounted to $42,000.

RISES IN DEFENSE OF DOG

Toronto Newspaper Man Vigorously Condemns Silly Proposal That They Be Killed Off in Wartime.

A wrathful correspondent of the Mail and Empire suggests that dogs ought to be killed off in wartime or else such a stiff tax imposed upon their owners as greatly to reduce the dog population. Similar views have been expressed since the war in England. Only the other day Lord Claud Hamilton said that pet dogs are a nuisance and that if he had his way he would "slaughter all the Pekingese dogs in the country and have them made into meat pies." Not long ago Punch presented a picture of a tough-looking citizen grooming an equally ugly fighting bull terrier while a curate addressed him as follows: "Don't you think, my good man, that in wartime you would be better employed in keeping a useful animal, a pig, for instance?" "Yus," growled the dog fancier, "and a nice fool I'd look goin' ratlin' with a pig." Proposals to destroy dogs are founded rather on personal prejudice or ignorance than on a consideration of the advantage to be gained by their extermination. The assertion that they consume much food that might better be converted to human use is not justified. As a rule dogs live on table scraps and odds and ends of food which would otherwise be wasted. As for the Hamilton suggestion about making Pekes into meat pies, it is probable that all the Pekes in the British isles would not provide a single enjoyable meal for one battalion.

It is true that dogs frequently kill sheep, but they also kill cats and rats and thus help to square the account. In thousands of farmhouses they constitute an invaluable guard for the women folk. They even do such chores as driving up the cows, churning the milk, fetching and carrying and performing other services that make amends for the undeniable fact that they get their hair on the furniture and come into the kitchen with muddy paws. At the front they are doing war work of undeniable value. In Belgium they are beasts of burden. They carry messages from the trenches to headquarters in the rear. They guard against enemy raids; they locate the wounded lying in No Man's Land, and are a real god to many thousands of homesick soldiers. A proposal to abolish dogs is about as sensible as a proposal to abolish nephews, and has about as much chance of succeeding.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

CONGRESS MAY PUT EMBARGO ON IMMIGRATION FOR 4 YEARS

That Is Measure Discussed Today at Washington—Present Native Citizens Entitled to the First Chance.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The Immigration Committee will today report to the House a drastic bill prohibiting immigration into the United States for a period of four years. The Rules Committee of the House will be asked for a special rule to expedite passage of the bill and an attempt will be made to force it through the House and Senate at this session.

The committe decided on this action by a vote of 9 to 4, after hearings that occupied several weeks. Labor union officials and others had advised that immediate stoppage of immigration would be necessary in order to prevent serious conditions of unemployment in this country.

The bill provides that no persons shall be admitted to the United States except officials of foreign governments, tourists, families of naturalized citizens and such persons as ministers, teachers, lawyers, physicians, students, authors, artist and member of the learned professions. The bill also would permit the entrance into the United States of persons who can prove that they are seeking to avoid religious persecution.

Any kind of immigration would be permitted from Canada, Mexico and Newfoundland, under rules prescribed by the Commissioner-General of Immigration. Men not citizens who left the United States to enter the military service of the allies also would be permitted to re-enter the country.

It has been pointed out that there have been 4,000,000 persons in the United States employed, directly or indirectly in war industries, and that all of these persons will be more or less affected during the transition period. Furthermore, it is said, there are nearly 4,000,000 men in the military service who must be taken care of and given employment.

The industrial facilities of the nation are not sufficient it has been argued to absorb this great quantity of skilled and unskilled labor in a short period of time.

Much opposition to the bill has been manifested by the manufacturing and employing interests, which maintains that despite the condition of the labor market there is now and will continue to be a great shortage of cheap unskilled labor.

It is asserted by agents of the Commissioner-General of Immigration that when the bars for immigration are let down there will be a tremendous rush of immigrants to this country the like of which New York has never seen before.

Children and Music.

The value of good music in the home cannot be overestimated. Fortunate the child whose ear is accustomed from the cradle to beautiful sounds and melody. And yet even more fortunate the child who is accustomed to hearing the singing voices of those about him. Children love to hear songs, children's songs, big people's songs and folk songs. They love to hear the songs of long ago when mother was a child, and the lullaby grandmother used to sing. The child loves especially at bedtime song, sung at the crib before the final good-night."

Conscription Under Moses.

Moses made the first conscription law. He wanted an army and he made this rule: "From twenty years old and upward, all that are able to go forth to war in Israel" were to serve. His registration boards were also allowed to grant exemption which included men who had new houses not yet "dedicated," and those who had vineyards of which they had not yet eaten and finally those who were afraid to fight.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre To Hair

That beautiful even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

EMPLOYERS SHOULD TAKE BACK FORMER WORKMEN

This Is a Duty Owed to the Men Who Have Been Overseas—An Experiment Tried Out in the West.

Let the question of the returned men be considered in a sane manner. This does not imply the meeting of every hero with a flannel bag and a row of sentimental gushings upon the state of his heroic soul, nor the assumption that such a man is of no use for civilian life. The work of repatriation, if taken aright, cannot fail to prove the biggest event in the history of the country, but the fact must not be overlooked that three-fourths of the opportunity to carry on the movement to complete success rests with the employers of Canada.

Every employer of labor, whether on a large or small scale, owes a duty to the returned men. The very life of the commerce by which he lives and has been enabled to maintain his business stability has been preserved and guarded by the life blood and self-denial of our fighting men.

There are thousands of whom the duty can never be repaid in person; but towards those other comrades who have been spared to return this credit due must never be allowed to assume the form of a bad debt.

Is it to be considered an act of grace, charity or extreme heroism upon the part of employers to take back these men even after repeated pledges given to this effect? Rather let it be widely understood that the employer who would stop merely at this point and consider that his whole duty has been performed when he undertakes to replace one or two men is falling far short of what Canada expects from every man who stayed at home.

Co-operation Essential.

Co-operation now and continued co-operation for many months hereafter must be the motto of all who have to do with the placing of the returned men. The Government is doing its part by the provision of pensions, medical care, advice and oversight, the rebuilding up of the home life of the men with the return of their dependents, establishing of employment bureaus, and in the thousand one after care departments, employing the best of advice in energy and enthusiasm to cope with the problems which may arise, but to the employer is committed the task, the duty, of seeing that the man who returns to civilian life after months spent amid nerve-wrecking scenes will be given a fair trial and has a helping hand wherever necessary.

A Western Experiment.

The following account of an experiment undertaken by several large grain firms in Winnipeg may suggest a program of action for employers in other parts of the country.

These firms have taken back their men at salaries varying from $60.00 to $75.00 per month; such salaries are, of course, much lower than those paid to the same men before the war but the men have been taken back on this basis—that while they are engaged in the task of refitting themselves to meet the demands and duties of civilian life a full day's work will not be expected of them. They are required to report at the proper hour in the morning and are requested not to loaf around the offices, but at the same time they are left absolutely free at any time to go out and stay out for the balance of the day, if they feel that the work is getting too much for them. The only thing required of them in this respect is that they report to the office of the manager as they go out. As these men settle down to the routine and are able to do a larger share of the work their wages steadily increase. In one office alone, which employed seven men under this system, paying them at the rate of $60.00 a month about a year ago, at the present time the lowest paid man is receiving $100.00. In this instance the situation was simplified a great deal by the fact that nearly all of the men taken into the scheme were unmarried and therefore while undergoing readjustment the $60.00 per month provided a living wage.

SIMPLY COULDN'T FIND SIZES

Poor Lady Wasted One Whole Afternoon, and Finally Gave Up Task in Despair.

"Gosh! I wish I was—not a Belgian—but a pole; not a native of Poland, but a tall, slim willowy pole, that could drape herself in the ready-made dresses which the stores are, selling now, or, rather, offering for sale, for if every one has my luck, not many sales are made," said the matronly one to her street car companion.

"I am fair (gray), fat and forty (bust measure), and the other day I went downtown to buy a—wash dress, we used to call them, now you ask for a tub frock. Well, I asked for them and that was about all. One saleswoman showed me what she called a simple little gingham (it looked like the ones the nurses wear) for $19.75, and another which she said was of better quality for $25. I was prepared to pay the price, but I didn't like the gowns. It was the same way at the other stores. Every thing that was attractive was 'only in the smaller sizes.'

"There was one simply made georgette crepe that I thought might be becoming to my matronly style, but when I inquired about it, it was a sixteen-year size. 'Do you have it in a sixty-year?' I asked, but the clerk ignored my query.

"I met numerous other women about my build and age during the afternoon at different stores—some of them so often that we grew quite chummy, but I don't suppose they fared any better than I did. I finally met one I knew and I said to her: 'You might as well go home. They don't make 'em for us.'

"I also looked for a small georgette hat (they had been advertised), and the clerk said: 'Yes, we have them, but you wouldn't want one with fringe on it.' She was right, I wouldn't.

"I shopped from 12 o'clock to 5:30 and came home bearing with me the two articles I had been able to find in my size—a hair net and a belt. Really a comfortable costume for hot weather, but hardly suitable for a fat lady sixty years old."

Japan's Income Tax Increases.

Japan having decided upon an increase in her navy that involves the expenditure of $150,000,000, spread over six years, a general increase of taxation has been proposed, and it will probably be carried out.

The income tax is to be raised in a way to bring an aggregate addition of 20 per cent, the increase being graduated so as to be only 10 per cent upon the smallest incomes and 50 per cent upon the largest. The minimum income tax will be $250.

A war profits tax is to be initiated on both business profits and on incomes, but no personal income of less than $1,500 a year will be taxed on account of its having risen during the war, and in this way the wages of working people and moderate salaries do not have to pay for the wage increases of war time. Higher than $1,500, personal incomes must pay 15 per cent of increase and companies that have increased profits must pay 20 per cent tax upon the increase.

Pershing of French Descent.

Some interesting associations may easily be woven into a news item telling about a celebration which recently took place at Laclede, Mo. The town, one of the oldest in the old Southwest of the United States, was named after Pierre Ligueste Laclede, a native of Lion, France, founder of St. Louis, Mo. Years ago a man named Pershing, a descendant of an emigrant who left Alsace when it was a French province, settled in Laclede. His son, the present Gen. Joseph Pershing, commander of the American expeditionary forces in France, was born there. The celebration referred to was, of course, in honor of General Pershing, and it was one of the most enthusiastic ever held in what used to be an almost exclusively French section of the country.

A Seven-Time Winner.

The unique record of having been torpedoed seven times is held by William Jessop, a seafarer of Hull, England, who is seventy-two years of age. He is still on the active list. "Young men," he said, "have sometimes refused to sail with me, as they think I shall be unlucky." Jessop is the oldest member of the Ships' Cook and Stewards' union in Hull, and generally sails as a cook or steward. During the first year of the war he was torpedoed three times, and the last four ships on which he sailed were all lost. His courage, however, remains undiminished. "I will sign on to go anywhere," he declared.

Soldier Dressmakers.

War-broken soldiers are making ladies' dresses in London, while former dressmakers are turning out shells and other munitions in factories. The London costumier has never been so busy in her life. Many are five or six weeks deep in work, their clients being grateful to get a promise of dresses at almost any date. Munitions pay the dressmaker better than the needle, and they are all eager to go to Woolwich or the big factories to help make shells. A suburban dressmaker, who has three wounded men helping, says it is astonishing how well they do the work. The finest bead work on the market is turned out by wounded soldiers.

TRIBUTE TO HERO

F. H. Simonds Eulogizes Col. Raynal C. Bolling.

Services of Aviation Expert, Before His Untimely Death, Were of the Greatest Value to the Country He Loved.

The men whom we could least spare, and there are none we would willingly spare, are the men who are giving their lives to stem the fury of the German onslaught, writes F. H. Simonds in American Review of Reviews.

It is this thought which must be in the mind of all who knew Col. Raynal C. Bolling, dead to the enemy in the early days of the great German offensive in March. Among all the Americans who felt and foresaw the coming of this war to our own country, none with clearer vision or, more instant response set himself to the task, alike of preparing himself and of striving to persuade his fellow-countrymen to prepare themselves. He chose for his work the aviation branch and for the three years, while the war was still remote and meaningless to millions of people on this side of the Atlantic, he devoted his life to study and to practical training in flying.

When at last the war came, no American of his age counted greater material success or was richer in the things men sacrifice for an ideal, than Colonel Bolling. General solicitor for the United States Steel corporation, respected and honored in the legal profession for his attainments and his promise, recognized as the one whose influence and power for usefulness in the future was to be great, happy in a home which gave him all that a man can hope to receive on this side of his life, Colonel Bolling laid aside all of these things to respond to the call of his country, not only willingly but ready trained for practical service.

For those who knew him and loved him the tragedy of his death, a death which all who knew his daring spirit, the unfailing response it made to every challenge of danger and difficulty foresaw, does not lie in the fact that he met the death he expected and they expected for him. Rather it is found in the realization that a man who might have done so much more in aiding his country and his countrymen to prepare for the real struggle, whose services were so essential, whose loss was so irreparable on the practical side has been lost to us at this grave hour.

Colonel Bolling did not die before he had done much which will count in the future and will be a portion of the history of American organization for the conflict.

Penny Postage Gone in England.

Penny postage, which disappeared at midnight Sunday, June 2, was one of the great triumphs of peace, and succumbed only to the demands of war. Although the price has gone, the principle remains, and nothing has been a truer index to the march of progress than the penny stamp. Its first use in 1840 for inland postage amounted almost to a revolution. That date fixes the "great divide" between the old postal systems and the new. The penny stamp, probably more than any other influence, exercised a power in holding together the scattered bonds of kinship and acquaintance throughout the far-flung British empire, and as a factor in imperial trade it provided the facilities upon which modern trading depends.

Many years ago King Edward, then prince of Wales, said he looked forward with hope to the day when every English-speaking man, in whatever part of the world he might be, should be regarded as being as much an Englishman, so far as the penny post was concerned, as if he lived in Kent or Sussex.

Origin of "Crater."

The word "crater," from the hole made by a mine and afterward fought for, has thoroughly established itself in the language of the trenches. It is highly obvious and inevitable borrowing from the volcano.

But the volcano itself took the word from the original "crater"—the mixing bowl (from the verb meaning to mix), in which the Greeks from the earliest known times, mingled water with the wine that they seldom cared or dared to drink neat.

These craters, which stood in conspicuous positions in the hall, were often of huge size, and the resemblance to them of the volcano's orifice struck all ancient observers, who used the word "crater" in the modern volcanic sense.

Airplane Flare Perfected.

Perfection of an airplane flare for use in night bombing expeditions was announced by the ordnance department. The flare is released from the plane in a parachute and is set off by air friction. At a height of 2,000 feet it will cause a light of more than 400,000 candle power over an area of one and one-half miles in diameter. The glare prevents detection of the plane from the ground it was explained.

Pigeon Messengers.

British naval pigeon service has 4,000 pigeons for messenger duty in France and elsewhere. Of these 3,000 birds are loaned by 300 British pigeon fanciers. Pigeons often make 250-mile continuous flights carrying war messages.

ALFALFA AND PROSPERITY

If there is one crop more than another on which the prosperity of a country may be firmly established it is alfalfa—the king of fodder crops. This wonderful crop has been the foundation of successful irrigation agriculture in the United States, and history is now repeating itself in Canada. In Southern Alberta already an important alfalfa growing district—government reports show that there were 30,500 acres in this crop this year—farmers are using more and more of their irrigated lands every year for the growing of this valuable fodder, and it is only a question of time when the irrigable lands of Southern Alberta will rank among the largest alfalfa producing areas on the North American continent. The country is still young. Thousands of acres of irrigable land have not been touched by the plow. Thousands more have been broken during the last two seasons and are not yet ready for this crop, as it does not do well until the sod has been thoroughly integrated — a process which is best accomplished by the growing of one or two other crops beforehand. Then, too, during the last two years the most urgent call has been for wheat.

For the growth of alfalfa Southern Alberta is extremely well favored. Alfalfa requires abundant sunshine and a warm summer temperature. Southern Alberta has both. During the summer months the days are much longer than they are farther south, and the sun shines almost continuously. Alfalfa does best on rich, deep, well-drained soil. These are special characteristics of the soil in Southern Alberta. Alfalfa thrives best under irrigation, in arid and semi-arid climates. The climate of Southern Alberta may be said to be semi-arid, and under irrigation alfalfa grows there to its highest perfection.

In the Lethbridge irrigation district, which is the oldest of the irrigated areas of Southern Alberta, alfalfa is beginning to be looked upon as the mainstay of the farmer. Yielding from three to four tons to the acre, and in some cases even more, in two cuttings, and selling at from $25 to $30 a ton, alfalfa has brought farmers returns of $100 an acre and upwards in one season. It is no wonder that a visitor driving through this country recently and seeing the beautiful green alfalfa fields on every hand should pronounce it one of the most prosperous districts in the whole of Western Canada.

But besides these very satisfactory returns from the sale of the hay, alfalfa is of inestimable value on account of the improved condition in which it leaves the soil in which it has been grown. Enormous yields of other crops have been obtained on land previously growing alfalfa. In 1913, which was by no means an extraordinary crop year, 757 bushels of potatoes to the acre were raised at Lethbridge on land which had been in alfalfa the previous year. Wheat on similar land yielded on successive years 58 and 59 bushels to the acre. Coming nearer to the present, two acres of land near Lethbridge that were planted to tomatoes this year after being in alfalfa for a few years, produced 35,000 pounds of ripe fruit in less than two months after being set out.

And this is not all that can be done with these irrigated lands. To obtain the fullest revenue would require that no roughage be sent from the farms as such, but only in the form of butter, cheese, beef, mutton and pork. The plant food contained in alfalfa hay is often worth more than the money actually received for the hay itself, high though this is. If only unmanufactured products were sent away this valuable plant food would be left on the farm, giving it every year increasing fertility. It is held that for every acre of irrigable land at least one head of cattle or a proportionate number of hogs or sheep, can be supported all the year round. This fact is beginning to be appreciated, and it means that many times the number of livestock at present kept can be maintained on these irrigable lands. And as the number of live stock increases, the prosperity of the country will grow correspondingly. There are already signs that the time is not far distant when the irrigable areas of Southern Alberta will become the home of the most closely settled and most prosperous mixed farming and stock raising communities in the Canadian West, and, indeed, one of the most prosperous communities on the whole of the continent.

VICTOR NOW LOVED

War Has Brought Popularity to Italy's King.

His Democratic Ways, and Courage in the Face of Danger, Have Greatly Endeared Him to Both Soldiers and Citizens.

The war has cast some kings down from their thrones and held up others to the scorn of the world. But it has also made some honored and beloved, not by their own people only but by millions of the citizens of other countries. King Albert of Belgium is one; King Victor of Italy is another. Victor has not the imposing presence and heroic bearing of Albert, but his soul has risen nobly to the occasion.

The extreme democracy of Italy, says Mr. Herbert Vivian in "Italy at War," has always expressed itself in the freest criticism of the monarchy. During the agitation of May, 1915, when many persons feared that Italy might shrink from war, the name of King Victor Emmanuel III was frequently taken in vain. The press published impudent caricatures and openly accused him of being swayed by Austrian sympathizers.

Poor little man! So small, and rather alone! He has a splendid wife, worthy daughter of the old lion of Montenegro, and he finds much homely happiness in his sturdy family. But he has been the subject of many slights and much indifference; indeed, only in Italy is it known how near he was exiled in May, 1915.

But the time for pity has gone by, and the king is now by far the most popular man in the kingdom. He is almost a dwarf, with a colorless face slightly bronzed by the elements, a crisp, manly voice, and a way of laughing with his eyes. He stands erect, with his short legs wide apart. His hair is beginning to grow gray, and there are furrows on his forehead and beside his mouth, yet he bears himself like a young man, walking fast and never tiring. He speaks little and simply, always to the point, looking men straight in the eyes and awakening strong feeling wherever he goes.

He buzzes about the battle front in a little gray motor, without escorts, and with no precautions for his safety. He sleeps little and cares not where; he is quite happy in an Alpine hut or on straw. His fare is of the simplest—a little cold meat, bread, cheese and chocolate—and he is always ready to share it with the nearest soldier. He says "Tu" to everyone in a fatherly way, and welcomes familiarity from the soldiers. They treat him as one of themselves, but none have ever taken advantage of his good nature. He laughed heartily when an old soldier called out to him: "Nay, majesty, what be doing here? This is no place for thee. Get thee gone at once!"

He interests himself in all the men he meets. "Dear me," he says, "what [illegible] post cards! Are they all sweethearts? Give them to me and I will send them with my own letters. Such things should not be delayed." "Why do you look so glum? No news from your family? Cheer up. I'll send a wire for you to inquire." The soldiers see him praying with glistening eyes over a dying comrade. "For your majesty," grasped a dying soldier as he stretched out his arms. "Not so, my son," was the grave reply, "for Italy."

Another incident that happened on the battle front gives a picture of the king's courage. In the midst of shell fire a lieutenant who had fallen, mortally wounded, called a soldier, gave him a few keepsakes to convey to his family and then ordered him to fly. But the soldier tried to carry the lieutenant to a place of safety. Some gunners called to him through the infernal fire: "Save yourself! Save yourself!" But still he remained. In the distance a motor horn could be heard, and the whisper went round that the king had left the field. The soldier still struggled with the officer's body, but the lieutenant died in his arms. Flinging himself on the corpse, the young fellow exclaimed with tears:

"Even the king has gone away!"

Then a hand touched his shoulder. He shook himself, rose and stood at attention. "My dear boy," said the king, "the car has gone, but the king is still with you."

And there he remained till the end of the day.

Life's Treasure Stores.

Success and contentment begin with the realization that life represents a valuable treasure. We may liken life to a field. At first the owner values it for wild berries; then, ceasing to be a wanderer, he becomes an agriculturist, and values it for its rich harvest; grown wiser still, he discovers coal; amazed at the treasure, he digs and finds silver and gold; astounded, he goes deeper, and lo! the seam is full of diamonds. And every life holds all the strata of underlying and unsuspected stores of treasures.—Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis.

Ladies—Measure His Head!

A phrenologist writes: "Heads wearing hats 6¾ and smaller, or being less than 21 inches in circumference, can never be powerful. Between 19 inches and twenty inches heads are invariably very weak, and no lady should think of marrying a man with a head less than 20 inches in circumference. People with heads under 19 inches are mentally deficient, and with heads under 18 inches invariably idiotic."

Good Reasons for Talking.

John talked continually, so one day his mother losing patience said: "I do wish you would keep still. What makes you talk so much all the time?" He answered quickly: "To get to talk as I won't forget what I think."

Justice Leads to Love.

Do justice to your brother (you can do that, whether you love him or not), and you will come to love him.—Ruskin.

Canada's estimates of expenditure for 1919, may aggregate $400,000,000.

Moose Jaw and Prince Albert will be the two live stock centres to be financially assisted by the Provincial Government.

In Quebec city a committee wants a local censor to revise the films already passed by the Provincial Board, and also urges that children under fifteen years of age be prohibited from attending moving picture theatres, even if accompanied by their parents.

FOOTBALL PLAYER SAYS WAR IS LIKE WORK ON GRIDIRON

Famous Half-Back Who Won Honor in the Trenches Says the Hotter the Battle Became the Better He Liked It.

(By George S. Robbins.)

Trophies, emblems and citations for bravery in battles in Alsace, the Marne front and the Argonne forests are mementos brought back by Corp. August H. DeFord, a south side football and baseball players who probably has appeared in his last game. The big game was on the French front, and DeFord has the papers as well as the scars to prove he did his bit to win it. This battle scarred soldier was in France seventeen months and was cited for bravery nine times.

"The war looked like a big football game," said DeFord, who expects to be home in Chicago from the big reconstruction hospital at Fort Sheridan in a few days. "Like a football game, the hotter the war got the better I liked it."

Corporal DeFord's most thrilling experience and one of the brilliant individual exploits of the Americans on the Marne front occurred on May 28.

It was "zero hour" for company M, 28th infantry, of the 1st division, at 5.45 on that day and, along with others of his company, DeFord was ready for the dash "over the top."

"It was the corporal's duty to advance fifty yards ahead of the line with machine guns and dig in or get in shell holes," said DeFord in describing his adventure of that day. The object was to hold the foe at bay while the boys dug in.

"In this instance I looked around and I seemed to be the only corporal out there. This made me too much of a target, I thought, and I quickly decided to throw away my machine gun and dash ahead with my two automobiles. The elevation of the enemy machine guns was too low to get me in a vital spot, I figured, and I decided to take a chance and make a dash for the Germans.

Kills Six of the Enemy.

"I rushed pell mell down into the machine guns of the enemy and was lucky in getting right upon them. There were nine Germans in there with one machine gun. One gunner was busy and there was a feeder and observer besides six ammunition men sittting on the fire pit when I jumped in. I pumped both automatics at them and killed six of them. The others threw up their hands and I ordered them to jump out and beat it for our lines.

"In the excitement I had emptied all my ammunition and didn't dare attempt to reload my guns. They would have known my plight and might have pounced on me. I spoke German to them constantly and ordered them along. I bluffed my way along and the boys in our company probably saw us on our journey back.

Save by His Prisoners.

"I ordered the first German to carry the tripod, the next one to tote the machine gun and the other to take the breach block out and take it along. This is the most important part of the machine gun, and I knew with it out I was safe. We were off to the rear. When we had proceeded some distance I received a machine gun wound in my left thigh from a stray bullet. Exhaustion from loss of blood caused me to fall. We were well down toward our line and to my surprise the Germans picked me up and carried me into a shell pit. They bandaged me, gave me some artificial coffee made of acorns. It tasted mighty good to me.

"Those three Germans who could have plugged me picked me up and carried me to our lines, where I received first aid.

Carried Back on Stretchers.

"Our officers ordered these three captives to bear me on a stretcher and they toted me back seven kilometers. When they left me one of the Germans said: 'God bless you' and that was the last I ever saw of them."

Commanders of companies K, L and I saw Corporal DeFord put this thrilling exploit and all three cited him for bravery. His wounds healed some time later and he returned to the firing line. He later took part in several raids and sniping expeditions.

JESS WILLARD AGREES TO BOX

WILL GET $100,000 FOR MATCH, WIN, LOSE OR DRAW.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—A purse of $100,000 drew Jess Willard, heavyweight boxing champion, out of retirement. Tex Rickard, promoter of the Joe Grans-Battling Nelson heavyweight championship contest between Jeffries and Johnson, after two days' of conference, obtained Willard's signature to a set of articles to box any opponent selected for him. He agreed to box any number of rounds up to forty. The match will be decided next July, probably on the Fourth. Willard will receive $100,000 win, lose or draw.

Rickard said that either Georges Carpentier, the French heavyweight, or Jack Dempsey, who has been clamoring for a match with the champion, would be Willard's opponent. Rickard reserved the right to wait until March 25th before making the selection. The place for holding the battle will be named sixty days before the contest.

The contest will be the first that Willard has fought since he met Frank Moran, of Pittsburg, in New York, in March, 1916. Rickard was the promoter of that match.

POLO TO HAVE MILD REVIVAL

No International Matches Will Be Played This Year.

New York, Jan. 27.—Polo will not be revived to the extent of international and national championship games this year because of the number of polo players still in the service, it was announced at the annual meeting of the Polo association here. Intercircuit contests will probably not be held immediately and tournaments between visiting teams are expected to be superseded by home play or play between near by clubs. The 1918 schedule will be arranged during the course of the season.

Only thousand and five of the 1,550 members of the association went into the service, it was stated. Of that number six are major-generals and six brigadier-generals.

H. L. Herbert, chairman; W. A Hazard, secretary and treasurer, and the committee members are unanimously re-elected.

Baird, Pitcher Gene Packard and Infielder J. S. Stewart. There was no money consideration.

Manager Coombs starts south to select a training camp for the Phillies, who will leave here March 22. On their return east the Phillies will meet the Philadelphia American team in a series of five games beginning April 16.

Lipton Has Now Resumed His Effort to Lift Cup Held by U.S. Yachtsmen

PEACE may have been won, but Sir Thomas Lipton is still on the warpath, and for him there will be no cessation of hostilities until he lifts the famous America's Cup, held these many years by the yatchsmen of the United States. His challenge for another race was received in New York a few days ago, and the America yachtsman have offered to have the international race in 1920. As to the prospects of the Shamrock IV winning the race, this is a matter for sporting experts to discuss, or it may be that the demobilized war prophets will have a shy at it. In the past the prospects have always seemed good, but inevitably they have been disappointed. At least the latest challenger can do no worse than her predecessors. To win the America's Cup a challenger has to face more formidable obstacles than in any other modern sport. In fact, with the present rules it may be said to be almost impossible that the challenger should succeed. It is this that makes Sir Thomas Lipton, Bart., without a peer as a sporting man, and that has made real sport lovers of the United States ready to cheer his victory more heartily than they would cheer the success of their own defenders.

The first race for the cup that has come in the past fifty years to be the most coveted prize in the world of sport took place on Aug. 22 1851, when the British Royal Yacht Squadron offered a cup for the sailing boat that was first round the Isle of Wight. The winner turned up in the schooner-yacht America, designed for a New York syndicate. It was in honor of this yacht that the mug has been called ever since the America's Cup. With the cup in American hands rules were drawn up for its defence, and since the America had crossed the Atlantic under her own sail, it was provided that challengers thereafter should also cross the Atlantic under their own canvas. It is this condition which has helped save the cup for the United States these many years past, and which constitutes the obstacle that makes its winning almost an impossibility.

In the days when the America won the cup, a racing yacht was simply a fast sailing boat, differing from other boats as one star differs from another in magnitude, or as one greyhound differs from another in speed. In these later days a racing yacht has come to differ from a sailing boat as a bulldog differs from a greyhound. That is to say, a yacht capable of crossing the Atlantic under her own sail has to have some bulldog qualities of staunchness and seaworthiness, whereas when she entered the race she would be confronted with the pure greyhound breed, and the contest was a race not a catch-as-can affair. This condition, which leading American sportsmen have denounced as unfair, in that it imposed tasks upon the challenger from which the defender was exempt, prevented the earlier challenges from having a ghost of a chance. Indeed, the first return match the British challenger had to compete against all the New York Yacht Club boats that wanted to sail, because the America had to compete against the whole English squadron. This term was later abandoned.

There is another condition, however, which makes the task of the challenger more difficult, and which will make its final victory, should it come, all the more glorious. That is the fact that the New York Yacht Club, the custodian of the cup, is permitted to build as many defending yachts as it pleases or as its members desire. The yachts then hold elimination contests, and the very fastest of them is chosen to defend the cup. Presumably the British yachtsmen have the same privilege.

Lord Dunraven made several attempts and then gave up, having come to the conclusion that he had about as much chance of lifting the cup as he would have of lifting a red-hot stove, and entertaining opinions of American sportsmanship which were only equalled by American popular opinion of Dunraven. Then Sir Thomas entered the field. He sent over three Shamrocks. All of them were defeated. Shortly before the war began the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, in Sir Lipton's name, issued another challenge, which was accepted. The Shamrock IV crossed the ocean, fulfilling the initial conditions, and preparations for the race were going forward when war broke out. The challenger was then laid up in South Brooklyn, and there she has remained ever since.

Bluff That Failed.

General Plumer, who has recently been recalled to France from Italy, can be very ironical when he chooses, as the following story proves:

Shortly before the war, when he held the Irish command, a regiment was being manoeuvred before him on a field day, and the colonel in charge succeeded in getting his men mixed up pretty thoroughly.

However, he went grimly on, and at last, calling a halt, rode up to Plumer with an air of importance.

"I flatter myself that was extremely well done, sir," he said, evidently with the idea of trying to bluff that nothing had gone wrong.

"Oh, excellent," was General Plumer's suave reply. "But may I ask what on earth you were trying to do?"

Insects That Have Food Value.

Among insects which have been and are considered of gastronomic value are caterpillars, moths, a favorite in some parts of Africa; the pupae of the silkworm in China; ants, alive and roasted, are appreciated in Burmah, as well as by the Indians of North and South America, while it is said the lumbermen of Maine enjoy an occasional meal of large wood ants. The beetle is eaten in the Nile valley, in Turkey, Lombardy, Java, Peru, and is said to be nutritious and fattening. In Central America the eggs of three aquatic bugs are made into little cakes and eaten. Mexicans make a strong drink by infusing a tiger beetle in alcohol.

Possibilities of North Africa.

North Africa—Tunis, Algeria and Morocco—contains around a half million square miles. Some of it is desert, but much of it is highly productive, and it has special advantages for producing some forms of live stock. The climate and pasture make it almost as ideal a country as Australia for sheep raising, and it has peculiar advantages for what might be called extensive pig raising; its acorns and other tree crops taking the place of corn. Yet down to the beginning of the war very little had been done to make this potential wealth actual and available.

Worsted.

"I noticed that you engaged in earnest conversation with that conductorette."

"We were just having a little argument about the proper pronunciation of the street I live on," said Professor Digga. "She insisted that it should be called 'Wellington,' but having some knowledge of the man who defeated Napoleon at Waterloo, I contended it should be 'Wellington.'"

"Well which is it to be henceforth—'Wellington' or 'Wellington?'"

"Ahem! 'Wellington.'"

Gets the Money.

"I'd like to write a story I'd get paid for."

"Oh, I write home once a month."—

Tried Hard to Save Shipmate.

Sailors are always true to their shipmates. There is never an incident where danger threatens one man of a ship that some other man of the crew is not ready to stand by. John J. Swigart, a seaman, United States navy, was doing duty on an army transport. A shipmate fell or was washed overboard and the alarm was given. Although the vessel was going at a high speed, Swigart jumped overboard and, landing in its wake, swam to a point where the man was last seen. He searched for the body until completely exhausted. For his heroism he has been officially commended. Swigart enlisted from Cincinnati, March 19, 1917.

France has many black fighting men from Senegal in the field, nor are they the only troops recruited from savage or semi-savage races that are engaged in the great conflict. A young British officer found himself one night, by a mischance to his command, stranded by the wayside, and with only a little group of negro stragglers anywhere in sight. He was very tired, having had no sleep for many hours. One of the Africans talked the pidgin English of a coast town, and this man informed him that some motor-lorries would be coming along soon, upon which it would be possible to get a lift.

"Soon," in the mouth of an African, is an elastic term, but the captain thought he could afford to wait an hour before setting forward on foot in search of some other means of transportation. Meanwhile, he wished a nap—wanted it desperately—but he could not trust himself to wake at the end of an hour. The African could not tell time, but the captain determined to depend upon him, nevertheless. Showing him the dial of his wrist watch, he explained that he wished to be waked when the long hand reached there and the short hand there. Then he lay down, with arm extended, and the negro crouched beside him, with his eyes on the dial.

Exactly at the right moment the sleeper was called; and as he opened his eyes they fell upon the African, in precisely the same position, with something strained in his aspect that suggested inquiries. It appeared that he had not dared look away during the entire hour.

"For sure him clock trabbel slow, massa," he explained. "But s'pose him stop go walkee, walkee? S'pose him go jump, jump?"

Upon a river steamer in Africa Miss Mary Kingsley, the English explorer, once heard other passengers giving directions to the native steward in the adjoining main saloon:

"You savvy six o'clock? When them long arm catch them place, and them short arm catch them place, you call me in the morning time."

An interval of silence, and then another voice:

"You savvy five o'clock? When them long arm——" And so it went on, until each passenger had pointed out on the clock face the proper relation of the two hands to each other at the moment he desired to be called. The ignorant native steward, who could not tell time and could not learn to, was yet sufficiently observant to place and remember the calls correctly; he never got them mixed.

Most of the snakes used by pharmacal firms are produced from a large "snake farm" at San Antonio, Tex., where all kinds of reptiles are bred. This farm consists of eight acres of land fenced about, besides the land required for raising rabbits, chickens, frogs and other "snake feed."

The inventor of the Bell telephone, Alexander Graham Bell, has another invention to his credit that very few know of. Yet it is in constant use in France. It is called the "telephone probe," and absolutely locates the exact position of a bullet in the human body.

And it was days before the puzzled mother got the name straight. Miss Olive Terrington.

WHERE CHARITY HAS A CHANCE

HOME OF A BLIND VETERAN IS DESTROYED BY FIRE.

At about 3 a.m. Saturday morning the home of D. J. McIntosh was completely destroyed by fire.

Mr. McIntosh was living on a small farm on the Nasau Road. The fire started in the driving shed and as no stove or fires has been near the sheds, the cause of the fire is still a mystery.

Mr. McIntosh returned home from the front about eighteen months ago, blind, besides suffering from the effects of wounds, he will feel the loss badly as nothing was insured.

Mr. G. Chatton, another returned soldier, residing on the adjoining farm, was the means of saving the nine-month-old son of Pte. McIntosh from being suffocated in the smoke, and also rendering valuable assistance.

Mr. McIntosh was a member of the G.W.V.A. and as he is left almost destitute, he will be glad of any assistance in making another home for his wife and three children. He will be thankful to anyone who will be good enough to find him a nice little home in a good locality. Mr. McIntosh is now staying at 513 Romaine street.

NEW SACRED SONG BY ASA HUYCKE

'I SHALL BE SATISFIED," SANG YESTERDAY BY MISS IDA LYNN.

Mr. Asa Huycke, choir-master of the Murray Street Baptist Church, has added another gem to the musical lore of the day, his latest contribution being a sacred song called "I Shall be Satisfied," which he composed while in Chicago last summer, and which he later set to music. The song was first presented to the Peterborough church-goers yesterday when it was sung at the morning service in Mark Street Methodist Church by Miss Ida F. Lynn, who also rendered it as a solo at St. Paul's Church last night. Competent musical critics have declared it to be the best yet produced by Mr. Huycke, both as to words and music.

The words of the song are as follows:

When my great day comes to cross the line,
And I lay me down to die,
Will I dare look back o'er the hills of time
Where the white dead ashes lie?
Will the trail I've trod be free from strain
And straight and white that day?
Will the seed I've sown bear gokier grain
Or horns, along the way?

Oh, Christ, of all when Thour callest me
On that last day here of mine,
Help me, dear Lord, to ready be
To fearlessly cross the line.
Not one of Thy hibhest servants, Lord,
But anywhere by Thy side.
Oh, make me of some little use to Thee
And I shall be satisfied.

MATTHEW LYTLE PLEADS GUILTY TO MAKING MOONSHINE WHISKEY

Fined $200 and Costs and Must Besides Spend One Month in Jail—License Inspector Stewart Makes Clever Capture—Another Case Is Pending.

Matthew Lytle of the township of Dummer was sentenced to serve one month in jail and pay a fine of $200 and $16.90 costs or in default of the latter alternative to serve an additional six months' term of imprisonment when he pleaded guilty in the County Police Court this morning before Magistrate Langley, to a charge of having upon his property an illicit whiskey still.

Lytle is a farmer residing in Dummer about thirty miles from Peterboro. He has a wife and family and is about 55 years of age, although prematurely stooped as a result of rheumatism. His farm while a large one according to the evidence at his trial is composed of poor land and it is thought this may have tempted him to enter into a more profitable business on the side.

Mr. Joseph Stewart the District License Inspector had heard many complaints regarding the number of automobiles and buggies which found it necessary to stop in front of Lytle's home in Dummer. He was suspicious of him for a considerable time and set about collecting evidence in a systematic manner so that when the time came the culprit would not escape.

Armed with a search warrant on January 20th Inspector Stewart accompanied by High Constable Moore and Constable William Dickson of Asbodel raided the farm of the prisoner and found a miniature distillery in the kitchen of his home with two 20 gallon milk cans serving as mush tubs filled with liquor in the first stage of fermentation.

The illicit apparatus was seized and taken in charge by the Department of Inland Revenue and this morning Lytle appeared charged with having an outfit on his premises contrary to law.

Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the prisoner and Mr. J. E. L. Goodwill acted for the Crown. Lytle pleaded guilty to the charge of having an illicit whisky manufacturing plant upon his premises and immediately the Crown produced a second charge of allowing the apparatus to be upon his premises.

This was sprung upon Mr. Gordon without notice and he protested vigorously. He stated that it was ridiculous to bring two charges of a nature identical against a man who had already pleaded guilty to one. Having and allowing to be upon his premises should according to his argument constitute one accusation. The second charge Mr. Gordon maintained was inserted in the statutes to cover a case where it could not be established that the owner of the property upon which the still was found was personally implicated in the manufacture of the liquor. His client admitted his guilt upon the first accusation and it was consequently unjust to charge him a second time.

Lytle was sentenced to serve one month in jail and pay $200 and $16.90 costs or in default of payment an additional six months' term of imprisonment upon the first charge and the case was remanded for a week at the end of which time he will appeal upon the second accusation if the Crown persists in its intention of pressing it.

His Stock in Trade

Two milk cans, (mash tins) capacity 20 gallons each.
One box of raisins.
One tub and coil of lead pipe, (crude still.)
One empty can. (for condensing.)
Four tins of syrup.
Package of Yeast Cake.
Total value $4.50.

It cannot be said that the apparatus showed much ingenuity in construction. It was on exhibition in the court room and consisted of what appeared to have been a five gallon kerosene can from the spout of which extended a coil of lead pipe about half an inch by seven or eight feet in length. This was passed through a wooden pail which was to be filled with water and serve as a condenser. The lead pipe then lead out of the pail and the drip from this would no doubt be the "real thing."

Two milk cans of mash in an advanced state of fermentation are stored for safe keeping in the office of the jail. Upon entering the little room the odor of whiskey in the making is quite pronounced. The smell is the most appetising thing in connection with it, however, as the liquor in the two receptacles, is muddy in appearance. It is thought that it is composed of wheat, raisins, potatoes, black-strap, yeast and water and when put into the gasoline can and heated upon the stove and the vapor condensed in the warm would no doubt produce a grade of moonshine whiskey which would excite the envy of a Kentucky mountaineer.

HUNDRED THOUSAND ON STRIKE IN BRITAIN

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 28.—It is estimated that nearly 200,000 men and women are idle in the United Kingdom and Ireland because of strikes in the various trades, creating one of the most serious situations industrially that the country has had to face in many years. Half of the strikers are in Belfast, where the strike movement is continuing to spread. The city of Belfast by night is now in virtually total darkness, hospitals being the only places where lights can be shown without danger of attack by strikers. Everywhere else the display of lights has caused either stoning or storming of premises. In cases where such drastic action was not taken people were forced by threats to screen their lights.

Even in private houses it is not considered safe to use more than one candle, and the supply of candles is rapidly diminishing. There is no change in the situation at the Clyde, where 20,000 shipyards workers are out, nor in other places. Except in London, where the question at stake is one of wages, all these strikes are due to a demand for shorter hours with the same privileges and wages as prevailed when longer hours were worked.

100,000 Out in Belfast.

There are 100,000 people involved in the strike at Belfast and twenty-five trades are affected. Rioting and destruction are rampant.

"The strike is the most serious ever experienced in this city of strikes," a correspondent writes. "Belfast is like a dead city. Its entire social life is paralyzed, theatres and saloons are closed, tram cars are not running, bakeries and laundries are closing, and there were no afternoon papers on Monday. Only two small editions of the morning newspapers appeared yesterday."

TURKS AND TARTARS IN COMBINE TO MAKE WAR ON THE ARMENIANS

Report Says That Over Twenty Thousand People Were Slaughtered by United Armies in Baku Allies Are Unable to Relieve the Beleagured Towns.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 28.—Intense anxiety is felt by the Armenians here over reports that large bodies of Turkish troops have joined Tarter bands and are attacking Armenian villages. It is feared that still another chapter of atrocities will be added to the Turkish record before the Allies are able to relieve the beleaguered Armenian towns. Details still are lacking of the massacre at Baku after the Turks, reinforced by Tartar and German troops, had captured the city. Unofficial reports to the Armenian bureau here indicate that about 20,000 people, including a considerable number of Armenian soldiers, were slaughtered in Baku and in the surrounding region.

LOCAL HOCKEY PLAYER HELD AT PORT HOPE AFTER GAME

Harold Frost, Defense Man, in Collision With Right Wing in Lake Town---Attorney O'Brien Leaves to Conduct His Defense.

Harold Frost of Peterborough Juniors was arrested last night at Port Hope at the close of the first game of the season to be played in that town. He was charged with assaulting Ware, one of the neighboring town's men in spite of the fact that the referee did not even penalize Frost at the time and declared the accident to be the result of a clean body check.

A despatch from Port Hope has the following to say about the game and the regrettable incident in particular.

The only excitement furnished in the opening game of the season here tonight when the locals lost to Peterboro juniors by 6 to 2, was the arrest of Frost, the Peterboro defence man, for an assault upon Ware, the speedy right wing of the locals. Ware was making a rush on goal, when, it is alleged that Frost raised his knee, striking Ware in the stomach, putting him down and out. A doctor was called, and Ware's condition was so serious that he was at once removed to the hospital. When the bell announced full time two policemen placed Frost under arrest on a charge of assault. The ice was very soft and the game slow, combination work being out of the question.

The account cannot be said to be remarkable for its fidelity to details. It probably represents the view points of an aggregation of sports who would howl for the arrest of a man who had made himself conspicuous upon the team of their opponents through his ability as a player.

Last night Port Hope lost to Peterborough juniors. That is what the Globe says but the description is not vivid enough and the terms in which it is couched are so mild as to give one the idea that the game was fairly well balanced with Peterborough's team slightly in the ascendancy.

As a matter of fact Port Hope was beaten to a standstill last night. They were beaten at all stages of the game and were outclassed in every conceivable direction. During the progress of the entire match they only made 15 direct shots at the Peterborough nets and in the second period they never got the rubber, past centre ice. The entire game was played about the goals of the Port Hope team, and furthermore the score was 8 to 2 in favor of Peterborough and not 6 to 2 as is stated in the despatch to the Toronto morning papers.

A Clean Player

Harold Frost has long been recognized as a clean and efficient hockey player. Port Hope has not had a hockey team for several years and from the outset of the game last night the rooters realized that they were out of luck as far as a result favorable to them was concerned. Consequently they looked about them for some person or thing upon which to vent their wrath and then as the result of a sheer accident which was regarded as such by a veteran referee, Frost threw Ware with unfortunate consequences they poured forth upon him their bitterness in the form of vituperation and threats.

It is only fair to say that the sporting element of the town did not blame the visiting player for what was plainly an accident but the "roughnecks" immediately armed themselves with hockey sticks which their representatives upon the ice seem unable to use in the proper manner and licked their lips to get a whack at Frost or the referee.

Instead of listening to advice from thereal sports of the town, the Mayor of Port Hope fell in with the wishes of the disgruntled fans and Frost was taken into custody charged with assault and $500 bail for his temporary release was refused.

Mr. G. N. Gordon was communicated with and Rev. Father Gorman, President of the Association advised of the trouble. This morning Mr. J. A. O'Brien and Father Gorman left for Port Hope and it is expected that a speedy adjustment will be made.

The line up last night:

Peterboro—Goal, Flowers; defence Campbell and Frost; centre, Cherret; right wing, Park; left wing, Hagerman; substitutes, Girard and Williams.

Port Hope—Goal, Copeland; defence, Irwin and Sherry; centre, Hills; right wing, R. Ware; left wing, Southwell; substitutes, Hogan and K. Ware.

REEVE M'INTOSH ELECTED WARDEN ON NINTH BALLOT

Reeve Squires of Norwood Was Runner Up and Final Vote Was Nine to Seven---County Council for 1919 Is Now in Session

Mr. John McIntosh the veteran reeve of the Township of ..orth Monaghan was elected Warden of Peterboro County at the inaugural session of the Count Council of 1918 held this afternoon.

There was a spirited contest for the position and it was not until the ninth ballot that the issue was decided. Reeves Squires of Norwood was the outstanding opponent and in the second ballot the issue was a tie standing 8 votes to 8.

Reeve Bullied of Chandos forgot his qualification certificate and was unable to take his seat at the Board in consequence of which there were only 17 members voteing and in the last ballot Reeve Easson declined to vote. This gave Reeve McIntosh a total of 9 as compared to Reeve Squire's 7 and the former was declared elected.

There were nine names placed in nomination for the wardenship as follows:

Reeve Squire, proposed by Messrs Matheson and Clarke; Reeve McIntosh by Messrs Brown and Bell; Reeve Griffith by Messrs Shaw and Easson; Reeve Bullied by Messrs Coughlin and Holland; Reeve Nicholls by Messrs Easson and Anderson; Reeve Shaw by Messrs Anderson and Nicholls; and Reeve Holland by Messrs Shaw and Easson.

The voting varied and at times there were only three in the running and once as many as five. When the final decision was made there were only Reeves McIntosh and Squires to choose between.

The roll was called and ran as follows:

Messrs. W. E. Griffith, McLean, Bell, Clarke, Holland, Squire, Matheson, Coughlin, Anderson, Easson, Darling, Nicholls, Middleton, Brown, Moore, Shaw and McIntosh.

Reeve Bullied will procure his certificate tomorrow and take his seat at the council table.

Lytle is a farmer residing in Dummer about thirty miles from Peterboro. He has a wife and family and is about 56 years of age, although prematurely stooped as a result of rheumatism. His farm while a large one according to the evidence at his trial is composed of poor land and it is thought this may have tempted him to enter into a more profitable business on the side.

Mr. Joseph Stewart the District License Inspector had heard many complaints regarding the number of automobiles and buggies which found it necessary to stop in front of Lytle's home in Dummer. He was suspicious of him for a considerable time and got about collecting evidence in a systematic manner so that when the time came the culprit would not escape.

Armed with a search warrant on January 20th Inspector Stewart accompanied by High Constable Moore and Constable William Dickson of Asbodel raided the farm of the prisoner and found a miniature distillery in the kitchen of his home with two 30 gallon milk cans serving as mash tubs filled with liquor in the first stage of fermentation.

The illicit apparatus was seized and taken in charge by the Department of Inland Revenue and this morning Lytle appeared charged with having an outfit on his premises contrary to law.

Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the prisoner and Mr. J. E. L. Goodwill acted for the Crown. Lytle pleaded guilty to the charge of having an illicit whisky manufacturing plant upon his premises and immediately the Crown produced a second charge of allowing the apparatus to be upon his premises.

This was sprung upon Mr. Gordon without notice and he protested vigorously. He stated that it was ridiculous to bring two charges of a nature identical against a man who had already pleaded guilty to one. Having and allowing to be upon his premises should according to his argument constitute one accusation. The second charge Mr. Gordon maintained was inserted in the statutes to cover a case where it could not be established that the owner of the property upon whish the still was found was personally implicated in the manufacture of the liquor. His client admitted his guilt upon the first accusation and it was consequently unjust to charge him a second time.

Lytle was sentenced to serve one month in jail and pay $200 and $16.90 costs or in default of payment an additional six months' term of imprisonment upon the first charge and the case was remanded for a week at the end of which time he will appeal upon the second accusation if the Crown persists in its intention of pressing it.

His Stock in Trade

Two milk cans, (mash tins) capacity 30 gallons each.
One box of raisins.
One tub and coil of lead pipe, (crude still.)
One empty can, (for condensing.)
Four tins of syrup.
Package of Yeast Cake.
Total value $4.50.

It cannot be said that the apparatus showed much ingenuity in construction. It was on exhibition in the court room and consisted of what appeared to have been a five gallon kerosene can from the spout of which extended a coil of lead pipe about half an inch by seven or eight feet in length. This was passed through a wooden pail which was to be filled with water and serve as a condenser. The lead pipe then lead out of the pail and the drip from this would no doubt be the "real thing."

Two milk cans of mash in an advanced state of fermentation are stored for safe keeping in the office of the jail. Upon entering the little room the odor of whiskey in the making is quite pronounced. The smell is the most appetising thing in connection with it, however, as the liquor in the two receptacles is muddy in appearance. It is thought that it is composed of wheat, raisins, potatoes, black-strap, yeast and water and when put into the gasoline can and heated upon the stove and the vapor condensed in the warm would no doubt produce a grade of moonshine whiskey which would excite the envy of a Kentucky mountaineer.

REEVE M'INTOSH ELECTED WARDEN ON NINTH BALLOT

Reeve Squires of Norwood Was Runner Up and Final Vote Was Nine to Seven---County Council for 1919 Is Now in Session

Mr. John McIntosh the veteran reeve of the Township of ..orth Monaghan was elected Warden of Peterboro County at the inaugural session of the County Council of 1919 held this afternoon.

There was a spirited contest for the position and it was not until the ninth ballot that the issue was decided. Reeves Squires of Norwood was the outstanding opponent and in the second ballot the issue was a tie standing 8 votes to 8.

Reeve Bullied of Chandos forgot his qualification certificate and was unable to take his seat at the Board in consequence of which there were only 17 members voting and in the last ballot Reeve Easson declined to vote. This gave Reeve McIntosh a total of 9 as compared to Reeve Squire's 7 and the former was declared elected.

There were nine names placed in nomination for the wardenship as follows:

Reeve Squire, proposed by Messrs Matheson and Clarke; Reeve McIntosh by Messrs Brown and Bell; Reeve Griffith by Messrs Shaw and Easson; Reeve Bullied by Messrs Coughlin and Holland; Reeve Nicholls by Messrs Easson and Anderson; Reeve Shaw by Messrs Anderson and Nicholls; and Reeve Holland by Messrs Shaw and Easson.

The voting varied and at times there were only three in the running and once as many as five. When the final decision was made there were only Reeves McIntosh and Squires to choose between.

The roll was called and ran as follows:

Messrs. W. E. Griffith. McLean, Bell, Clarke, Holland, Squire, Matheson, Coughlin. Anderson. Easson, Darling, Nicholls, Middleton, Brown, Moore, Shaw and McIntosh.

Reeve Bullied will procure his certificate tomorrow and take his seat at the council table.

HUNDRED THOUSAND ON STRIKE IN BRITAIN

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 28.—It is estimated that nearly 200,000 men and women are idle in the United Kingdom and Ireland because of strikes in the various trades, creating one of the most serious situations industrially that the country has had to face in many years. Half of the strikers are in Belfast, where the strike movement is continuing to spread. The city of Belfast by night is now in virtually total darkness, hospitals being the only places where lights can be shown without danger of attack by strikers. Everywhere else the display of lights has caused either stoning or storming of premises. In cases where such drastic action was not taken people were forced by threats to screen their lights.

Even in private houses it is not considered safe to use more than one candle, and the supply of candles is rapidly diminishing. There is no change in the situation at the Clyde, where 20,000 shipyards workers are out, nor in other places. Except in London, where the question at stake is one of wages, all these strikes are due to a demand for shorter hours with the same privileges and wages as prevailed when longer hours were worked.

100,000 Out in Belfast.

There are 100,000 people involved in the strike at Belfast and twenty-five trades are affected. Rioting and destruction are rampant.

"The strike is the most serious ever experienced in this city of strikes," a correspondent writes. "Belfast is like a dead city. Its entire social life is paralyzed, theatres and saloons are closed, tram cars are not running, bakeries and laundries are closing, and there were no afternoon papers on Monday. Only two small editions of the morning newspapers appeared yesterday."

HUNS UNDER A DELUSION

Paris, Jan. 28.—A French general who has just arrived from Berlin says:

They labor under illusions regarding the aims of the American people I have seen procession passing the Adlon Hotel cheering the general in command of the American mission in Berlin."

Warden McIntosh made a short address in which he thanked his colleagues for the honer they had conferred upon him and made an appeal for a continuance of the support which his predecessor in office had received.

The council then went into committee of the whole to strike the standing committees for the year.

TOOK OWN LIFE WITH REVOLVER

RELATIVE OF LOCAL [illegible] MITS SUICIDE AT BROCKVILLE.

The body of Miss Marjorie Hamton, a niece of Mrs. Crawford, Peterborough, 35 years of age, a stenographer in the Bank of Montreal, was found yesterday afternoon in a boathouse on the river front, the property of Mrs. Crawford, half a mile west of Brockville. TURKS AND TARTARS IN COMBINE TO MAKE WAR ON THE ARMENIANS

Report Says That Over Twenty Thousand People Were Slaughtered by United Armies in Baku Allies Are Unable to Relieve the Beleagured Towns.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 28.—Intense anxiety is felt by the Armenians here over reports that large bodies of Turkish troops have joined Tarter bands and are attacking Armenian villages It is feared that still another chapter of atrocities will be added to the Turkish record before the Allies are able to relieve the beleaguered Armenian towns. Details still are lacking of the massacre at Baku after the Turks, reinforced by Tartar and German troops, had captured the city. Unofficial reports to the Armenian bureau here indicate that about 20,000 people, including a considerable number of Armenian soldiers, were slaughtered in Baku and in the surrounding region.

LOCAL HOCKEY PLAYER HELD AT PORT HOPE AFTER GAME

Harold Frost, Defense Man, in Collision With Right Wing in Lake Town---Attorney O'Brien Leaves to Conduct His Defense.

Harold Frost of Peterborough Juniors was arrested last night at Port Hope at the close of the first game of the season to be played in that town. He was charged with assaulting Ware, one of the neighboring town's men in spite of the fact that the referee did not even penalize Frost at the time and declared the accident to be the result of a lean body check.

A despatch from Port Hope has he following to say about the game and the regrettable incident in particular.

The only excitement furnished in the opening game of the season here tonight when the locals lost to Peterboro juniors by 6 to 2, was the arrest of Frost, the Peterboro defence man, for an assault upon Ware, the speedy right wing of the locals. Ware was making a rush on goal, when, it is alleged that Frost raised his knee, striking Ware in the stomach, putting him down and out. A doctor was called, and Ware's condition was so serious that he was at once removed to the hospital. When the bell announced full time two policemen placed Frost under arrest on a charge of assault. The ice was very soft and the game slow, combination work being out of the question.

The account cannot be said to be remarkable for its fidelity to details. It probably represents the view points of an aggregation of sports who would howl for the arrest of a man who had made himself conspicuous upon the team of their opponents through his ability as a player.

Last night Port Hope lost to Peterborough juniors. That is what the Globe says but the description is not vivid enough and the terms in which it is couched are so mild as to give one the idea that the game was fairly well balanced with Peterborough's team slightly in the ascendancy.

As a matter of fact Port Hope was beaten to a standstill last night. They were beaten at all stages of the game and were outclassed in every conceivable direction. During the progress of the entire match they only made 15 direct shots at the Peterborough nets and in the second period they never got the rubber, past centre ice. The entire game was played about the goals of the Port Hope team, and furthermore the score was 8 to 2 in favor of Peterborough and not 6 to 2 as is stated in the despatch to the Toronto morning papers.

A Clean Player

Harold Frost has long been recognized as a clean and efficient hockey player. Port Hope has not had a hockey team for several years and from the outset of the game last night the rooters realized that they were out of luck as far as a result favorable to them was concerned. Consequently they looked about them for some person or thing upon which to vent their wrath and then as the result of a sheer accident which was regarded as such by a veteran referee. Frost threw Ware with unfortunate consequence they poured forth upon him their bitterness in the form of vituperation and threats.

It is only fair to say that the sporting element of the town did not blame the visiting player for what was plainly an accident but the "roughnecks" immediately armed themselves with hockey sticks which their representatives upon the ice seem unable to use in the proper manner and licked their lips to get a whack at Frost or the referee.

Instead of listening to advice from thereal sports of the town, the Mayor of Port Hope fell in with the wishes of the disgruntled fans and Frost was taken into custody charged with assault and $500 bail for his temporary release was refused.

Mr. G. N. Gordon was communicated with and Rev. Father Gorman, President of the Association advised of the trouble. This morning Mr. J. A. O'Brien and Father Gorman left for Port Hope and it is expected that a speedy adjustment will be made.

The line up last night:

Peterboro—Goal, Flowers; defence Campbell and Frost; centre, Charrest; right wing, Park; left wing, Hagerman; substitutes, Girard and Williams.

Port Hope—Goal, Copeland; defence, Irwin and Sherry; centre, Hills; right wing, R. Ware; left wing, Southwell; substitutes, Hogan and K. Ware.

SOMETHING WRONG SOMEWHERE.

THERE IS SOMETHING the matter with the old Liberal party, and its desperate efforts to rise again from the dead are not receiving encouragement from the quarter whence such aid was expected to come. The Liberals of Central Ontario met in Toronto last week and formed an association for the district. The attendance was small and the proceedings were marked by a lack of enthusiasm that was discouraging. But that was not the worst of it. The unkindest cut of all was dealt not by the Unionist press, but by the very papers from which the new organization looked for support.

The Globe withheld its editorial benediction on the revivified members of the party and had not one official word of commendation for their efforts to rise again. Naturally the members are disappointed in the fact that their only blessing came from the sanctum of a new weekly publication in Toronto.

Another noticeable feature of the proceedings in Toronto was the fact that while a resolution commending the past achievements of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, was passed, the members who drafted the resolution confined himself to history alone. There was nothing to indicate that the party has any hope for the future under the old leadership. If it was praise, it was the praise of the dead, whose virtues only are referred to and whose faults are charitably forgotten.

STOPPING IMMIGRATION.

ALARMISTS ARE FOND of drawing a picture of a rush of immigrants to this country to escape the consequences of the war in Europe and of the destitution that is sure to prevail among them during the period of reconstruction, when so many Canadians themselves are liable to be out of work. On this score there should be no uneasiness. Canada's first duty is to take care of her own people, especially her soldiers, just as it is the first duty of an individual to provide for those who are dependent upon him before extending charity to others.

The law of Canada permits the shutting out of foreign goods that are manufactured by cheap labor. This benefits the home manufacturer, but the same law can be invoked to save the Canadian workingman from unfair competition. The rule in this case, as in all others, should be made to work both ways. When Minister of Labor Robertson was in the city he stated that there would be little or no immigration into Canada for some years, and this may indicate a policy that the Government has in mind.

The United States Congress has before it a resolution which, if adopted, will stop European immigration to that country for the next four years.

There are after-the-war problems that cannot be solved by human agency, and there are others that can be easily disposed of. Immigration is one of these.

ONE REASON.

THE NEW YORK Commercial says that if reputable hotelkeepers intend to fight for their rights and the repeal of national prohibition, they must find some way of disassociating the licensed liquor trade from the groggeries which have provided ammunition for the Anti-Saloon League.

The American people did not strike at first-class hotels but at the low saloons and resorts where thieves and prostitutes conserted to rob drunken men, where those who entered were coerced into buying more than they wanted and where wood alcohol was often sold as whisky. They voted against these "joints" and against the whole liquor trade because they could not distinguish between the hotel on Fifth Avenue and the East Side licensed groggery in which customers were killed by drinking wood alcohol. The liquor trade did not separate its goats from its sheep in time to save itself.

LETTING THE IRISH FIGHT IT OUT.

(New York Commercial.)

DURING THE WAR the British Government dealt with Ireland on the theory that it could not afford to take chances with Sinn Feiners who had declared that their hopes of independence were founded on a German victory, so Sir Roger Casement and others were executed and the Easter rebellion was suppressed. The Government now feels safe in so far as the military aspect of the Irish situation is concerned, and is disposed to let the Irish fight out their own quarrels in their Dublin Parliament. Field Marshal Lord French, an Irishman who favors Home Rule, sits in Dublin Castle as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and some of the Orange members of Parliament are attending the sessions of the Irish Parliament in the Mansion House, within earshot of his office. The Irish have it all to themselves and the Dublin Government is waiting to see what they will make of it. Some local discord may occur, but no real fighting in a military sense. The order against processions and public assemblies has been withdrawn, which indicates the confidence of the imperial authorities.

All but five or six of the Irish members in session are very young men. The farmers and older men show no inclination to boycott English buyers of Irish products, knowing that it would ruin the southern and western counties, which are almost wholly agricultural. The British Government's present policy seems to be the wisest attempt to force the Irish to settle their own affairs that it has ever made.

Sinn Fein hopes of securing the support of the peace conference at Paris are fading, and America has become lukewarm. After they have talked long enough the Irish members of Parliament assembled at Dublin may arrive at some solution, but it will be short of complete independence. Ireland is the military key to the British Isles and Northern Europe, and the day it separates from the United Kingdom will see the disruption of the British Empire. While that Empire holds together, discussion of an independent Irish Republic is not practical politics.

OPINIONS OF OTHER EDITORS.

Still Despised.

(London Advertiser.)

The Government has rescinded its regulations against the loafer, but the opinion of the public still holds good.

Of Course.

(Brantford Expositor.)

The coal man will soon be succeeded by the ice man and the fuel scarcity by the cry "There is little ice, hence the price will be much higher." There is no escape, apparently.

No Cause for Pessimism.

(Galt Reporter.)

Look at the situation from any angle whatsoever and you will find poor material for pessimism for the present and future years in Canada. Prosperity is in the saddle and the road ahead insures easy going.

The Soaring Chop.

(Guelph Mercury.)

The price of pork chops is still aeroplaning, even though the price of the hog has taken a serious drop. It used to be said that the reason food prices raised at once when stocks were scarce was that they would have to drop immediately when they became plentiful. But not so with the hog line.

A Growing Sentiment.

(Woodstock Sentinel-Review.)

Well, it is said that a good many Canadian manufacturers have discovered during the war that they can hold their own very well in a world of competition, and that for the present they are more in need of markets and they are coming to see that there is more to be gained by encouraging compromise than by fighting it out to the bitter end. The sentiment in favor of lower tariff is growing in strength. Unrelenting antagonism on the part of the Protectionists would probably hasten the growth.

Easy for Him.

(Montreal Star.)

In five minutes the average soap-box orator will polish off more deep problems than the average man of learning will feel justified in touching upon in five hours of quiet conversation.

Quantity Production.

All These Things Added Unto Him.

(London War Cry.)

When he became converted his clothing was old and torn, and tied about him with a string. He had found a good Christian woman to take an interest in him, was happily married, in a comfortable situation, and the possessor of a £45 piano.

Back in the Fold.

(Ottawa Journal.)

The only Liberal thus far repatriated by Sir Wilfrid is Hon. W. S. Fielding, and Mr. Fielding never strayed very far from the fold. Of course, there is that mobile statesman, Hon. George P. Graham, but Mr. Graham's reputation as a political chameleon has grown so great that his latest position, although probably merely momentary, is not a matter of importance.

One Trouble.

(Calgary Herald.)

Sir Wilfrid Laurier says he is willing to quit the leadership of the Liberal party if the party wants a younger man. But the trouble with the party is that while it wants a new leader it is unable to decide on the victim.

Fatal Loquacity.

(Buffalo Express.)

It looks as if the present British policy towards the Sinn Feiners is to keep cool and see if they will not talk themselves to death. And the prospect is fair that this is exactly what will happen.

The Money Magnates.

(London Free Press.)

The country must ponder what is to become of it when the money power becomes so concentrated in Canada that a few men meeting in the directors' offices of a bank or two can dictate the policy of the nation.

LIFE IN VLADIVOSTOK WITH CANADIAN TROOPS

W. E. Playfair Gives an Interesting Picture of What is Going on in Siberia These Days.

(By W. E. Playfair, Official Correspondent with the Canadian Forces in Siberia.)

Vladivostock, is the boom town of the Orient. There is probably more money in Vladivostock today than even before in the port's history and as a result prices of commodities have soared. Thousands of Russian refugees trooped in here when the various revolutions were on, and they brought money with them. Then there have been large sums spent by the Allied nations maintaining forces here.

In the matter of shops, as in all else, Vladivostock, by the way, is nothing if not more cosmopolitan. There is one large department store owned by Germans, and all manner of Oriental bazaars, chiefly Chinese and Japanese. With the price in his pocket one may buy almost anything in the town.

There is no fixed price for anything. The vendor sizes up the purchaser and sets his figure, always too high. One with patience and plenty of time on his hands can often secure a reduction of 100 per cent. For instance, several officers who were on the committee of a bazaar and priced some interesting Mongolian pheasants. The Chinese dealer quoted 10 roubles each bird. Another dealer ogered his pheasants at 5 roubles a brace. Finally the officers went back to quarters and sent a Russian interpreter to make the purchase. He secured birds at eight roubles per brace.

Baths are Expensive

Baths are the most expensive luxury in the place. Officers are paying the equivalent of $1.50 for a shower bath. There is this point about a Russian bath in Vladivostock, that one may pay as much as he pleases, depending upon the services secured. Some of these services run as high as 40 roubles and would not be obtainable in a Canadian institution of the sort.

A few months ago one of the picturesque pirates who drive the droshky, which is the Russian equivalent of a cab, would take a passenger almost anywhere in the city for a rouble. To-day the foreigner at least, pay twice as much as he would pay for a taxi in one of the Canadian cities. There is an electric car line in the town, and, as one Canadian phrases it, the fare runs anywhere from a few kopecks to the [illegible] in securing change. If the conductor cannot make change he sometimes retains the bill that has been offered in payment of fare.

Questions of Currency

Many members of the Canadian forces before coming here brought Japanese money, believing that it would be the Vladivostock standard of currency. Others invested in Russian roubles before leaving Canada, paying high prices. Their better plan would have been to keep their Canadian money and have it exchanged here for rouble, either at the Bank of Shanghaie and Hong Kong, or through the army pasmaster. The yen is not in circulation here and it must also be exchanged for roubles. The yen which is worth some 50 cents in Canadian money, brings 4½ roubles here.

The Canadian dollar is worth about 7 roubles 80 kopecks, although the rate of exchange varies from day to day. The American dollar enjoys an average exchange rate of 8 roubles. There are 100 kopecks in the rouble. The Canadian forces are paid in roubles, generally in bills of 30 and 40 denomination.

All the money is paper, and the bills are of all shapes and sizes. The rouble notes are most highly prized, although for the most part extremely disreputable in appearance, are those issued under the Imperial regime. The commonest are those of the Kerensky era, generally smaller. The kopeck note is for the most part the size of a Canadian postage stamp. It can be carried in the small compartments in a pocket book in which one usually carries street car tickets.

The Kerensky roubles are easily counterfeited. Experts profess to be able to tell the real from the false, not so much by the watermark, as by certain lines in the engraved design. The stranger in the land is inclined to doubt the real value of any of the stuy. The yearning for nickel, dime or two-bit piece soon becomes a veritable hunger.

CANADA'S ARMY HAS COST OVER BILLION DOLLARS

Sir Herbert Ames, Chairman of the National Saving Committee, Addresses Toronto Audience.

"The disbursements made in raising, equipping, and maintaining our troops will approximately amount to $1,400,000,000," said Sir Herbert Ames, M.P., chairman of the National Savings Committee in his address to the Canadian Club in Toronto yesterday.

"Then we have assumed — and rightly—the burden of supporting the widows and assisting the disabled men. This obligation, capitalized, would represent a present indebtedness of not less than $600,000,000 more. While it is probably yet too early to accurately determine what financial burden of the war will be placed upon Canada, I think we may assume that it represents a capitalized amount of at least $2,000,000,000. That is to say, a debt of $250 for every individual in the Dominion."

Wealth Blown to Bits.

He hoped that as the burden would be evenly distributed the debt would be made good without great individual sacrifice. Of the immense sums there would be little salvage. The exploded shell represented wealth which had absolutely disappeared.

"We believe that Canada will be one of the first nations of the world to emerge from the incubus of the war," said Sir Herbert. The war has taught Canadians some lessons of great value; aside altogether from the revival of patriotism, we have learned to know the meaning of "produce, save, invest."

"One sometimes wonders how we came through the past five years so easily. A partial explanation is given when we note how our trade balance passed from the adverse to the favorable. Canada's financing during the war period has been one of the most wonderful chapters of the war, and 85 per cent. of Canada's debt is to-day, in the hands of Canadians themselves.

More Money Needed.

"Should the Government require—as it will—to make further borrowings, it cannot expect in future, as in the past, to draw upon the industrial surplus nor upon reinvestment capital to similar extent as heretofore. If then we are to sustain industry during the re-establishment period, and the Government is called upon to provide money to this end, it must look elsewhere to borrow. In fact it must appeal to the small investor.'

"We intend to issue this year, $50,000,000 of these war savings stamps securities; we hope they will be all taken up. We expect that several million Canadians will buy them. It is our aim to have a nation of small capitalists.

TODAY'S STORY

Dr. Samuel Schwab claims that the oldest good story is the one about the boy who left the farm and got a job in the city. He wrote a letter to his brother, who had elected to stick by the farm, telling of the joys of city life, in which he said:

"Thursday we autoed out to the country club where we golfed until dark. Then we trolleyed back to town and danced until dawn. Then we motored to the beach and Friday ed there." The brother on the farm wrote back.

"Yesterday we buggied to town and [illegible] all about it. Then we went to Ned's and pokered till morning. Today we muled out to the cornfield and gee-hawed till sundown. Then we supped and then we piped for a while. After that we stairsaed up to our room and bedsteaded until the clock fived.

FOOD PROBLEM DIFFICULT ACCORDING TO MR. HOOVER

American Farmers Are in a More Serious Position Than Are the Packers---Why Markets Overseas Have Failed.

Paris, Jan. 28.—Herbert Hoover, director general of the Allied food administration, gave out the following statement today:

The dominating food problem in the United States at this moment is a very much bigger problem than the Chicago packers. It is a problem of the American farmer.

If the packer's profit of two or three per cent. on his turnover is too high, it is the duty of Congress to tax it out of him. If the farmers' prices threaten to fall below the level of a fair return, it behooves the country to do some quick, clear thinking.

The perplexities arising out of inability to demobilize totally the food situation of the world in the period between the armistice and peace make the farmers' position in the matter of much more immediate concern than the future of the Chicago packers.

Taking it broadly, before the European war began we exported about five million tons of food a year. This year we are prepared to export at the rate of from fifteen to twenty millions of tons. The increase represents the patriotic service of the American farmer, plus the voluntary sacrifice of the average American from the Allied Governments that without enormous increase of our food supplies lives would be menaced.

Allies Needed Food.

The submarine had so shortened the world's shipping that the Allies were unable to reach the distant markets of the southern hemisphere, and we were bound to create in America sufficient food to carry Europe. If the war had gone on, every pound of it and more would have been required by the Allies before the next harvest.

The armistice came suddenly, freeing shipping from military use and reopening to the Allies the cheaper southern hemisphere and the colonial market, where, in addition, they could have more liberal conditions and markets for their products.

We are thus faced with a serious problem with respect to our own great supplies, patriotically accumulated. If an early peace is signed and the markets of Europe are opened freely to trade, there will be a greater demand for food from the new mouths than even this surplus could supply. But in the period between the armistice and the peace we have a very difficult situation.

Happy Reunion Of Boorman Family

A pleasant time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Boorman, 243 McDonnel street last evening, when a reception was held for Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Boorman, who were married in Toronto last week, and also for Sergt. Douglas Eldrid, who arrived on Sunday from overseas.

The evening was spent in games and music. Misses Murial and Faith, little granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Boorman sang a song of greeting to the bride which was composed specially for the occasion by their aunt, Miss A. Leader, of Toronto. The four Boorman brothers rendered some fine quartets, and carried the part without any rehearsing whatever. Several fine piano duets were rendered by Mrs. H. B. Boorman and Mr. Victor Boorman.

An interesting part of the evening was the cutting of the wedding cake which was the gift of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Boorman, to the bride and groom. All present extended their best wishes to the couple as the cake was passed around. Other refreshments were served and the gathering broke up at a late hour well pleased with their evening's entertainment.

This is the first time for a number of years that all the brothers have been able to meet together. Bernard having been in the west for some time before enlisting and going overseas.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEY

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers you, Drink lots of Water

When your kidneys and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

A JOB FOR EVERY SOLDIER EVERY SOLDIER IN A JOB

More About The Work The Repatriation Committie is Doing For the Returned Men—Pension Bord and Medical Department

The men who come back will want to "come back" industrially and it is the duty of every Canadian to see that they do have every opportunity to come back into civilian life, without handicaps, and without friction.

The Government some time ago organized a department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment to handle these problems, and to that end it is devoting its energies.

This committee sees to it that the sick are made well, the wounded healed. The men who have lost limbs or sight, or suffer other physical handicaps are provided with limbs, and other equipment to overcome so far as can be done the difficulties of their conditions. The discharged soldier is followed up by the pension board, and the medical department to see that his condition and his circumstances are satisfactory.

When he is well, and equipped with his new limbs, he is given a course in vocational training, if he so desires. Many do. The vare taught how to make themselves self-supporting, in fact, many unskilled laborers have been given trades and their efficiency and earning powers have been greatly enhanced.

The repatriation committee is now engaged in looking after the uninjured soldiers who will come back to Canada by the hundreds of thousands in the next year. The men want jobs, not sympathy. They want work, not speeches.

In this work every man, every citizen of Canada will give his assistance. If you know of a good job, which a returned soldier can fill, notify the soldier. That's all that is needed just now.

A job for every soldier and every soldier in a job—that's the idea.

"ROCK ISLAND YARD MASTER TESTIFIES"

WIFE GAINS TWENTY POUNDS TAKING TANLAC—"WOULDN'T BE WITHOUT IT," HE SAYS

Still another widely known and popular railroad man comes forward with his unqualified endorsement for Tanlac. This time it is O. D. Blatherwick, yard master for the C. R. I. & P. in Kansas City, Kansas who resides at 341 South 11th street, that city.

"My wife has actually gained twenty pounds in weight since she began taking Tanlac," said Mr. Blatherwick, in an interview recently, "and has been benefitted so much in every way that I am glad to make this statement, which I hope will be the cause of others who may be suffering as she did getting relief.

"She has been in such a nervous, run-down condition for the past two years that she was confined to her bed a great deal of the time. She was subject to frequent attacks of sick headaches and often had spells of dizziness. She also suffered intense pain from the gas on her stomach, pains in her back and what seemed to be a complete nervous breakdown. She also had a severe attack of influenza, which left her so weak she could hardly stand up.

"She has been wonderfully benefitted by Tanlac. In fact, I consider it remarkable the way she has been built up, for she is almost like a different person. She has been relieved entirely of stomach trouble, headache and backache. I am delighted more than I can tell with what Tanlac has done for her and we would not be without it now for anything. It is by far the best medicine she has ever taken."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield, by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corners, by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

Rosa Luxemburg Reported Living

(Canadian Press Despatch)

THREE THOUSAND DAILY

Rate at Which British Army is Being Demobolized.

London, Jan. 28.—Thirty thousand men are now being demobilized daily, compared with eight thousand two weeks ago, while the rate of demobilization will shortly be forty thousand daily, it is announced. If this process is continued for two months Britain would be left without organized bodies of disciplined troops in any part of the world where it has been involved during the war. To build up the old volunteer army, experts argue, would take at least the greater part of 1919, and before any great volume of volunteering can be expected it is necessary that the rates of pay should be made attractive so that large numbers of soldiers who have been released from the army should be able to exercise a free choice regarding re-enlisting.

The Swiss Confederation does not regard favorably the application for inclusion among the cantons of the former Austrian districts of Voralberg and Tyrol.

ANNUAL VESTRY MEETING OF ALL SAINT'S CHURCH

Total Income for the Past Nine and a Half Months $4951.97, a Gain Over Last Year---Officers Elected.

The annual vestry meeting at All Saints' Church was held last evening in the Parish Hall with the rector, Rev. R. B. Grobb in the chair. The financial statement, which was read by the treasurer, Mr. Gray Copping was very encouraging, showing a revenue of $4051.97 for current expenses. This amount covered a period of only nine and a half months and was slightly better than last year. The average collection per Sunday was $89.12.

The building fund revealed a most flourishing condition, $2096.20 was contributed voluntarily which together with amounts from other sources reduced the building debt by $3313.28 with a balance in the bank of $918.45 for further reduction of the debt at the next interest date.

The Mission Fund showed that $436 had been sent to various outside objects while $313.50 had been contributed for the nine and a half months.

The Sunday School

Mr. Jas. Price read the secretarial report of the Sunday School showing a total enrolment of 469 including the font roll, with an average attendance of 243, for summer and winter. The treasurer's report, read by Miss Cairns showed a balance of $194.93. The children contributed $122.37 for outside objects, including missions and the Sick Children's Hospital.

The Women's Guild

The Women's Guild report, read by Mrs. Cottrell showed that $525 had been raised by the women for the reduction of the church debt, and the Guild was given warm praise for its faithful work and excellent showing for the period covering only about three quarters of a year.

Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Beatty read the reports of the Women's Auxiliary which ended the year with a balance. The receipts were $119.82 and the expenditure $111.84. There are at present 45 members on the roll. Miss Melton, in presenting the report of the Girls' Auxiliary, which has been doing Red Cross work during the war period, showed an average attendance of 25. The girls made up 860 pieces of various kinds for the local Red Cross branch, besides sending Christmas boxes to All Saints' men overseas. From now on they will engage in missionary work and have undertaken the equipment of a young boy for entrance to a mission school. The society has a balance in the bank of $41.43.

The Chancel Guild report read by Mrs. Beatty showed a balance of $2.63.

The Rector's Report

The Rector, in his report referred to the hiring of the war time and which has been a drain on the church's energy for four and half years. He pointed out that when hostilities ceased there were 150 on the church honor roll, of whom 27 had made the supreme sacrifice. This means more than one in six. He also thanked the various officers of the church for their work, making special mention of Mr. Edgar Worth, the retiring Warden. In presenting his Poor Fund Report he showed a balance on hand of $18.24.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

A vote of thanks was passed to the estate of the late Dr. Burnham for a bequest of $500 which was applied to the building fund.

CO-OPERATE WITH Y.M.C.A.

London, Jan. 28. — The Archbishop of York has made an interesting reference to the future relations between the Anglican Church and the Y.M.C.A., which means, as far as funds will permit, to cover the whole country with a great organization of huts enrolled by local committees. The Church could not compete wit hthis scheme, says the Archbishop, and if they tried they stood every chance of being beaten.

They must, therefore, co-operate with it. The Y.M.C.A. had undertaken, not to supplant, but to supply new means.

DEMPSEY WAS GENEROUS

Jack Dempsey is a considerate sort of a person. After he knocked out Gunbout Smith he happened to meet him in the railroad station on his way home to New York. Smith said to him: "I'm in an upper berth and I feel so bad that I don't think I can climb up." Dempsey said: 'Well, take my stateroom; I'm used to sleeping in uppers and like them."

LARGE AUDIENCE WITNESS THE PRESITATION OF "SUNNY FRANCE"

Wilson Macdonald's Famous Comic Opera Cleverly Interpreted by Local Audience At the Grand Opera House

"In Sunny France," the celebrated musical comedy by Mr. Wilson MacDonald was presented under the auspices of the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E., at the Grand Opera House last night before an audience which taxed the big threatre to its limit.

Aside from the interest aroused in the audience by the local members who formed the cast the play itself has merits which would ensure its success under less favorable conditions than those obtaining last night and goes a long way towards explaining the popularity of the entertainment in other places where it has been presented and the praise accorded it in the press throughout the country.

Mr. Wilson MacDonald, the author, composer and director of the play is a favorably known Canadian writer and poet of Vancouver a city which is also known as the home of Stuart Whyte the creator of Cinderella and Allsdin's Lamp.

"In Sunny France" is a bright musical comedy, the scenes of which are laid in the gay capital of France and depict life in the Latin quarter of the city; that unconventional Bohemian existence which writers never tire of describing and which, apparently fails to lose its charm for the reader or theatre goer.

A simple plot serves as a nucleus about which to weave a very charming succession of scenes and incidents, which scintilate with catchy songs, dances and witty dialogues.

The performance is staged in two acts and a short intermission is the only break during the evening consequently the audience is not subjected to the long and tiresome waits which occur in a play which requires several changes of ponderous scenery during the night.

In addition to being a talented poet and composer Mr. McDonald can also lay claim to the possession of artistic taste as is evidenced in the choice of the beautiful costumes which are worn by the players and which were designed by himself.

His work in connection with training the performers is remarkably efficient especially when the short time at his disposal is taken into consideration. The manner in which the players carried out their parts last night demands the utmost commendation for themselves and reflects great credit upon their leader.

The Cast

The Queen of the Fairies—Miss Meta Richardson.

Babette, very fashionable and Frenchy—Miss Helen MacLaren.

Maxine, from the city—Miss Ruth Robertson.

Marie, from the country—Miss Dorothy Hill.

Antoinette, from New York—Marguerite Birnie.

Helena Marquis—Miss Kathaleen Dunsford.

The Talking Doll—Miss Muriel Harvey.

Imple—Miss Dorothy Graham.

The Model—Miss Marguerite Fanning.

The Two Messengers— Miss Celia Kenneally.

The Guards—

Armand Grondin, an artist—Lennox McLaren.

Bog, a musician turned hypnotist—Edward Hanrahan.

Pierre, a country bumpkin—Herbert Rush

The Dissipated Clubman—Herbert Webb.

Jack Brown from London—Wilson MacDonald

And a cast of 140.

All played their parts well but as is the case in every performance certain ones were called upon by the role assumed to participate more actively and were given a better opportunity to attract favorable attention.

Miss Richardson as the Fairy Queen took a leading part and did it well. She has a sweet voice as was demonstrated in her rendering of the solo parts which fell to her lot.

Miss Helen MacLaren, playing the role of Babette, described in the program, as "very fashionable and Frenchy," was especially good. She was, indeed, a veritable French butterfly of the gay Parisian smartset. Her accent was perfect and her mastery of the characteristic gesticulation was admirable. Added to this she has a splendid voice and her solo work brought forth an insistent encore from the audience.

Miss Ruth Robertson as Maxine from the city; Miss Dorothy Hill, as Marie from the country and Miss Marguerite Birnie as Antoinette from New York impersonated the characters they represented with a fusion of expression and action which showed appreciation of the peculiarities pertaining to each.

Miss Muriel Harvey as the talking doll was so much ideal in her movements as to seem almost uncanny. Hers was a difficult role and one demanding perfect control of facial expression. Miss Marguerite Fanning as the mode played her part well and adopted the sophisticated character demanded of her.

Lennox McLaren as Armand Grondin the French artist was typical of the particular branch of the profession which sought inspiration for works of art in the pleasure haunts of the Bohemian colony of the city. His costume was perfect in detail as regarded the period represented and the addition of a plume to the velvet cap would have produced a fair representation of the great Rembrandt but of course the play deals with modern times.

Edward Hanrahan played the part of a musician disappointed in love who had become cynical and practised the dark art of hypnotism. His splendid voice was heard to advantage several times during the evening.

As Pierre, a country bumpkin, and lover of Marie, Mr. Herbert Rush was everything that could be desired. In connection with his role he was required to take several song parts which he did admirably. Herbert Webb played the part of the dissipated clubman in a realistic manner. He assumed the mannerisms of the inebriate and as such was made the object of the witticisms of the gay company.

Mr. MacDonald himself appeared as Jack Brown from "bally old London." With his monocle and clever interpretation of the part, he reminded the audience of the cartoons of Cedric, that "son-in-law of pa's."

Miss Esmee Aylmer and Miss Madge Graham gave several exhibitions of fancy dancing and were heartily applauded. The dance of the seasons at the rise of the curtain in the second act was a most spectacular presentation. The following participated in it:

Miss Esmee Aylmer— in black, represented the storm.

Miss Gladys Mulholland—in Green the Spring.

Miss Marguerite Fanning —in old Rose, the summer.

Miss Marguerite Birnie—in yellow the autumn.

Miss Madge Graham—In white, the winter.

A chorus of girls attired in riding habit sang and danced so well as to win the good will of the audience completely. They were recalled repeatedly. Later in the evening another number somewhat similar was thought by many to be the best upon the program. The girls were divided into groups according to their size the last being composed of little tots, and danced across the stage to a catchy song.

When little Emma Stabler appeared and danced with Mr. MacDonald the enthusiasm reached a climax and the youthful performer was presented with a handsome bouquet of flowers by an admirer in the audience.

Mr. Asa Huycke responded in a most capable manner when impromptuously called upon to sing one of the most difficult solo parts on the program.

In the interim Mr. Joseph Wearing made a few remarks concerning the books of poems which has recently been published by Mr. MacDonald. He stated that Canadian literature should be read more extensively than was the case and recommended the work referred to. Mrs. C. C. Parsons read an extract from it entitled "The Girl Behind the Gun," which had received most flattering commendation from a critic of the Literary Digest.

Tonight "In Sunny France" will be presented for a second time and there is no doubt will be well patronized as the good reports of the performance last night will serve as the most effective kind of advertising.

Story of the Play

Miss Madge Graham and Miss Esmee Aylmer in handsome red costumes danced in the spirit and favor of Paris at the rise of the curtain. The Cabaret guests were then startled by the capture of the Queen of the Fairies, Miss Meta Richardson.. Babette, Miss Helen MacLaren) invited the royal guest from Fairyland to sip the mysteries of the Latin Quarter for a night. The Queen accepted with good grace and was so well pleased with her entertainment that she invited the entire assembly to visit Fairyland on next Hallowe'en.

After the Queen bids her pixies dance and sing in walks a dissipated Clubman (Mr. Herb Webb) singing the never completed fragment of a song. "Darling I am growing old." Then Bog, a musician turned hypnotist, enters and in a rich voice introduces himself in song. Jack Brown (Wilson MacDonald) wins a wager and sings "My Word."

Twelve High School Girls dance beautifully to the music of this catchy song.

The other musical numbers of the acts were Bohemia extremely well rendered by Miss MacLaren; Taxi, by Wilson MacDonald; Tennis, by Herbert Rush and the Fading Hour, by Miss Meta Richardson.

... Act Two ...

The second act opened with the Dance of the seasons with Wilson MacDonald at the piano. The dance was beautifully portrayed by Miss Madge Graham, Miss Esmee Aylmer, Miss Gladys Mulholland, Miss Marguerite Fanning and Mrs. Birnie. Lagerdeman. The Cup of My Soul was rendered with fine dramatic power by Mr. Huycke at a moment's notice.

Y. O. U. with a dancing chorus of 100 warmed the audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

"Girls, Sweet Girls," was sung by Wilson MacDonald and danced by ten ladies in striking black and white costumes.

The Beautiful Fairyland was the closing chorus and was sweetly sung by Miss Richardson. During the song Mr. Wilson MacDonald and Miss Esmee Aylmer danced two very difficult waltz steps.

If the direction of the play were left entirely to Mr. Wilson MacDonald and the would-be directors in the wings would keep their comments to themselves the players would put more heart into the opera.

POLICE CHIEF CONVICTED

Bridgeburg Officer Guilty of Receiving Stolen Goods.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 28.—Police Chief Joel Smith, of Bridgeburg, was found guilty of receiving and concealing stolen goods, and was remanded for sentence. Smith's conviction automatically bars him from his office as head of the town police department. He was charged with receiving and concealing a battery valued at $40. The battery was part of the equipment taken from an automobile stolen last month.

METALLIC CLOTH IS PASSE

There Is No Widespread Use of the Material, Writes a Leading Fashion Correspondent.

One cannot get away from the metallic effect that grows in clothes as the season develops. It is frequently used where it is most garish and should be avoided, but that depends upon the person.

There is no widespread use of metallic cloth. Gowns of it are conspicuously out instead of in, says a fashion writer. Here and there a celebrated French designer uses a bit of dull, tarnished cloth as a foundation for some sombre, transparent fabric, but this is not often repeated.

Where we get our glint of metal throughout all the women's clothes, is in the embroidery, and now and again, in buttons. This is one of the military touches that seems to be permissible. When velours is trimmed with gold or silver braid, the effect is good, because the metal sinks into the pile of the fabric and does not proclaim itself so boldly as on a flat, smooth surface.

There is a good-looking black velours gown now shown which looks uncommonly like an American costume worn by a man, with its tight, narrow skirt and its long, swinging tunic slim at the shoulders and girdled at the waist. It is trimmed with gold braid and buttons, and there is a narrow band of this braid to form the hem of the skirt. To soften the metallic glitter, there is an exceedingly deep band of black curacul on the tunic. The richness of the frock gives it a distinguished air and puts it out of the common.

It seems as though that deep color of red known as terra cotta and which is very much in fashion, takes gold embroidery in an agreeable fashion. One of the colorful gowns of the season is built up from a long terra cotta tunic cut in petal-shaped panels below the dups and embroidered in blue and gold. Beneath the tunic is a tight skirt of dark blue satin pulled in about the ankles.

Make Your Own Shades.

It is not always economy to make things that take a lot of time and save very little money in the end, but it will be an economy to make your own shades that can be washed and ironed like the other curtains. Select a heavy bleached cotton cloth, cut the length and width of the windows and make a hem one inch wide at the bottom. Tack onto the rollers with small tacks and insert the old curtain sticks in the lower hem. These can be taken off the rollers washed, ironed and starched stiffly as often as they show soil. Decorators are using cretonne and other drapery material for shades. They are made in the same way. A good printed linen or cretonne can be washed as well as the plain cotton, and if the room calls for cretonne in the furnishing scheme it might prove more attractive than the plain white.

School Girl's Coat.

Brown seems to be the leading color in children's coats, in fact all the lighter shades of tan and those that blend into beaver and nutria are quite the fashion. Nutria is the best fur for children's garments and raccoon and natural lynx are the furs that belong to the young girl from twelve years up.

ACCORDION PLAITED SKIRT

This is an unusually good-looking skirt of navy accordion plaited satin. The two panels are of navy georgette, stenciled in conventional rose design and edged with broad bands of satin and chenille fringe.

WHY RIBBON HOLDS FAVOR

Bright Material Always Adaptable to New Tricks and Affords a Charming Diversity.

One of the reasons why ribbon is maintaining its favor so long is very probably because there are ever new things to do with it, and a charming diversity of ways to do them. Here is an idea for glorifying that plain, felt, velours, or velvet hat of yours, the one that is too, too plain for chic.

Your working materials will consist of grosgrain ribbon about an inch or an inch and a quarter wide, then a little bit of vari-colored chenille. Mark off the crown of the hat into four equal parts. Then draw quite a large spiral in the center of each spacing. Now with fine stitches sew the ribbon, keeping close to its edge, to follow the line of the spiral, which leaves you a free edge on the ribbon. This is turned over, then under and slip stitched as close as possible to the first stitching. Thus your ribbon will be folded exactly in two and left to outline the design in relief.

The chenille comes in in the form of long and short stitch rays around the design. Gray for the ribbon and rose and old blue, more gray and a sprinkling of black, make a stunning combination on navy.

LACE SCARCE, BUT IS USED

Decoration for Gowns Costs More and Is Harder to Obtain Than in Former Years.

The French models, some of them, show lace. This is an interesting announcement just now. For one thing, we haven't used lace for a good many years, excepting a bit of fillet or valenciennes in our lingerie blouses. There were a few black lace evening frocks a few seasons ago, but on the whole lace has not been in high fashion for a long time.

Another interesting phase of this lace question is this: Lace is scarce. At least, with the lace workers of Belgium out of the market and with the lace workers of the European fighting countries presumably winding bandages or making munitions, it is difficult to see how much new lace can be produced. For lace making takes time. Probably there is a certain piquancy in using lace just now, when it is difficult to obtain. Just as we are deluged with wool embroidery this year, when we are thinking of cotton padded frocks and fur coats to save wool, so we find it fascinating to use lace now that it costs more than usual and is harder to obtain. Of course it is in afternoon and evening frocks that lace is to be used, and much of it is to be black—black lace used in frocks of black.

Wanted to Know Photographer.

Arthur, aged five, was a Sunday school pupil and listened attentively to his teacher telling the class about Christ. Next day he went visiting with his mother and on the mantel was a picture of Christ, to which his mother called his attention, explaining that Christ was the subject of his lesson the previous day. After surveying the picture thoughtfully for a moment he suddenly exclaimed: "But who took it?"—Chicago Examiner.

GEORGE WASHINGTON FRIST SPEED FIEND IN AMERICA

Father of His Country was Fond of Fast Horses and often made five miles in fifty Minutes

"The placid countenance of Washington, looking out from a Stewart or Trumbull canvas, seems to rebuke us for our joy in hurry," says the New York Medical Journal, dealing with "The Speed Limit." It adds:

"One would little suspect that the father of our country was ever infected with the speed microbe, and yet it is recorded by Lawrence Washington that the great man often rode from Rockingham to Princeton, which is five miles, in forty minutes.' A mile in eight minutes for five miles on an eighteenth century road and just for the pleasure of it was not exactly modern riding. We have no record of the number of chickens and hogs trampled under foot in the general's swift passage, and we do not know whether he slowed down as he passed the more thickly settled (if there were such) neighborhoods.

"The joy of fox hunting lies chiefly in the speed of the pursuit, and Washington, when at home with nothing more exciting to occupy his time, was up before daylight thrice a week for this splendid sport. Washington once remarked that the only quality that he cared for in a horse was that it 'would go along.' The question arises, if he were alive today, would he be content with any but the most powerful automobile, and would he escape arrest for exceeding the speed limit.

"That portrait Washington was by no means typical of his time in respect to his [illegible] in rapid motion. Surely ours is the age of strenuosity, and men in general, until within a few years, have gone their way with dignity and deliberation. Alas, we fear that if our ancestors were less strenuous it was due simply to a little matter of lack of opportunity and means. The editor of one of the popular monthlies of 1859 wrote: 'One of our most pernicious evils is the excessive facility with which we exhaust life. There is no end to our ingenuity in devising plans to wear it out. We treat life as a thing to be tortured. . . . We eat up life; we drink it; we roast it and fry it; we blow it away in vociferous talking; we rattle it to pieces over rough streets and turn it into steam to rush along highways. Our muscles have as much put upon them as buffalo hides, and our nerves are charged with electricity enough to report the news of a continent through the cable of an Atlantic telegraph. Nature made the heart a quiet force-pump and we use it as a furious fire engine.'

"It is the way of evolution, so far, at any rate, that man should always be speeding up, for the healthy, vigorous part of society is always in a race, whether at work or at pleasure, and only the strongest will win in the contest. We may preach the moderate pace, but we must prepare to succor the victims of exhaustion who fall by the way. The good old times were not so slumberous, and though there was no horrible honk-honking nor menacing roar of aerial motors it was simply because these were not yet invented and not because there was no craving for hurry."

THE LARGE PROFITS MADE FROM ONE ONTARIO FRAM

Over Ten Thousand Dollars Cleared From One Hundred and Sixty Acres in Halton County Last Year.

(Rob Roy in Toronto Sunday World.)

The first Canadian census in 1871 gave us the fact that 80 per cent. of the people were on farms and only 20 per cent. living in towns and cities. Since that time there has been a tremendous immigration from the country to urban centres, until today less than half of the people of Canada are on farms. Many and various are the reasons given for this change, the one most generally given being that the older provinces are so meagre that young people are led to the city streets by the jingle of the dollars.

Is this so? We give you the actual returns of a 160 acre farm in Halton County for 1918, Owened by Mr. W. H. Cook, four miles from Streetsville. This is an ordinary farm, devoted to mixed farming, under ordinary conditions. No specialty had been developed that was not open to every farmer. Pure bred stock sold at fancy prices were not kept, as all were grades, not a pred'greed beast on the place. No scheme of co-operation is in force in the locality to get retail prices of products. The output of the farm was put on the market and sold wholesale in the ordinary way. Neither has Mr. Cook any strapping boys to help him. His children are little tots and all work not performed by himself to be paid for.

The following are the sales for 1918:

Thirty fat cattle, $3840; 40 veal alves fattened by ten cows, ten of her own 30 bought $1400. 40 fat ogs, $2250; 24 lambs, $480; 200 lbs. wool, $15z; 42 geese, $145; 1100 doz. eggs, $550; 110 lbs. of Alsike seed, $1850; 30 bushels Alfalfa seed, $750; 48 tons of hay, fi1200; 450 bushels of wheat, $900; 300 bushels of barley, $600; 65 barrels of apples and small ruit, $200; 700 bags of potatoes, $125; otal, $14,640.

The expenses were as follows: Wages, $500; taxes, $120; threshing and silo filling, $170; mill feed, bran and shorts, $1000; 30 feeders at $60 each, $1800; 30 calves, at $5 each, $150; blacksmith bills and machinery repairs, $200; total, $3940.

Thus the net profits last year from this farm amounted to $10,700.

Two hundred dollars only is allowed for blacksmith bills and machinery repairs nothing for new machinery. A complete outfit of machinery is in stock, that, with suitable repairs, can be made until prices become normal again.

While the cash returns are gratifying and worthy of any man's best efforts, Mr. Cook has many advantages not shown by these figures. The fine old family residence and extensive lawns are such as would fill with joy the heart of either poet or artist. There the multitude of good things enjoyed by the family—milk, cream, strawberries, raspberries, currants, apples, all manner of fowl, the real hams and spare ribs of their own production, mail delivered at the gate each morning, and telephone with long-distance connection.

A house and grounds equal to these could not be secured in any town for less than $1200 a year, and this really should be included in the income. Then for years a motor has been kept and the family has no grouch against the Toronto-Hamilton highway, as many a good spin they have along it.

While for a few weeks in haying and harvest the strenuous life is led, yet many a trip is taken in "the summer time" to spots of beauty, and picnics are held along babbling streams.

Velours and Velveteen Are the Prime Favorites.

Embroidery Goes on Both Materials—Split Panels Call for Immense Amount of Ornamentation.

There is such an accumulation in the dressmaking places of velveteen gowns being made to order that one feels that every woman has decided to have at least one in her wardrobe.

Velours is another favorite. One has more confidence in the former than in the latter, says a fashion writer, but there is a look of warmth and purring comfort about velours that makes one choose it even against the debate that goes on in one's mind about its durability. It is [illegible] with satin while velveteen is left to itself. Embroidery goes on both velveteen and velours, and when satin is used for an evening gown, as it is more than for any other kind of frock, it is elaborately embroidered or festooned with beads, or bugles, or ostrich flues.

The Americans do very good embroidery and they do not seem to hesitate over attempting a most elaborate design, so the French models have been easily, if expensively, copied in this country with all their original scheme of decoration and coloration.

The idea of using split panels, not one or two, but five or six, like the petals of a rose, has brought about an immense amount of applied ornamentation. Cuirass, as well as long tunics, are split upon this fashion, with the panels rounded at the hem and sometimes holding a bit of barbaric metal, or silk, or dull-beaded work. Other panels are held down with pompons of fur or straight strips of pelt ry.

One of the original and entirely new American frocks which is one of a series put out by a well-known designer is of red cloth with immense collar and cuffs of black and white

American street gown of red cloth showing the new long skirt pulled in at the ankles and bordered with fur. The bodice of deep tucks has a collar of striped fur matched in the cuffs.

striped fur; and the skirt, which is exceedingly narrow, is of inutep length, is draped upward in order to give room at the knees, and is finished with fur at the hem; its panels are weighted with deep bands of it. The effect is very striking, probably more so than a conservative woman would care for on her own person; but the gown is also copied in more sombre tones.

Voile for Curtains.

Sash curtains should be measured from the top of the inside of the window casement to the sill, allowing two inches at the top and the same at the bottom. The top is turned and stitched through the center, which allows for a small heading and the casing for the small brass rod. A hem is turned in at the bottom, so that the curtain just escapes the sill and swings free. The curtain may be perfectly plain or else finished with either a ruffle of the same or a small lace edge. A narrow gimp braid is sometimes used for a finish for sash curtains. The French stripe nets or Brussels net are always nice. Scrim and a good quality of voile made for curtain purposes are always good, especially where a less transparent material than net is desired. A double set of sash curtains may be used, one at the very top and one just halfway down. Both sets are then tied back with a band of the same material.

Variety in Hats.

The new hats apparently show a marvelous variety in shape and trimming. But one notices, too, that the old popular mushrooms are to be with us still. There are certain women who can wear no shape as well as the mushroom.

BRUSH FOR BUSY KNITTERS

New Contrivance for the Bag is Used to Remove Scraps of Worsted From the Skirt.

For the knitting bag there is a diminutive clothes brush for removing scraps of worsted from milady's skirt. It is not always convenient to wear an apron when knitting, and tiny shreds of worsted are apt to cling to a tailored suit; the little brush, whisked over one's lap, will remove them instantly. The brush has a short black handle, decorated with bright colored flowers.

Very useful for the knitter are the small tape measures which wind back on a spool the moment the end is released. Ordinary tape measures are [illegible] for the knitting bag and are likely to become snarled with the wool; wooden measuring rules are even more bulky for a small knitting bag, but the tiny, self-winding tape lines take up no more room than a 50-cent piece, and the moment a four-inch purling or a six-inch space of plain knitting on a sock foot is measured off back flies the tiny tape into its nickel cover.

SPORT HAT OF BROWN BEAVER

For sport wear this attractive hat of brown Beaver will appeal to many. A large, soft bow of brown grosgrain is placed effectively at the front.

HINTS OF THE FASHIONS

Blouses of georgette and silk jersey are trimmed with embroidery, and many of these models have choker collars and elbow-length sleeves.

An exquisite hat recently seen had a crown of seal fur and a brim of metal brocade ribbon.

As winter advances the vogue of stocks and jabots increases, and many very smart tailored stocks and daintily frilly jabots are ready in the shops for the assured demand.

Accordion-plaited chiffon velvet combined with plain velvet is used for smart round turbans that are absolutely devoid of trimming.

The ever popular, never out of fashion blue serge dress is with us again this season. One particularly pleasing model is trimmed with embroidery done in green, tan and a blue a trifle lighter than the navy of the dress, combined with black buttons and black soutache banding.

This service is provided by the Medical Branch of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment.

An ex-soldier or ex-sailor who has a recurrence of a war disability should, if he is not too ill, go at once to the local medical officer of this Department.

If he is too ill he should have that medical officer notified at once.

Should he be taken ill in a place where there is no representative of the Department, he should call in a local physician to give him the necessary immediate treatment and ask him to communicate immediately all details of the case to the nearest medical officer of the Department.

The name of the authorized medical representative of this Department for each locality is given alongside.

Treatment at the expense of this Department can only be secured through these representatives. The Department cannot pay any bills for treatment which have not been authorized by the Department.

If the medical officers recommend it, pay is given to patients, and allowances are granted to their dependents by the Department, during the period of treatment.

The established scale of pay and allowances that may be granted depends upon the extent to which the treatment recommended by the medical officer of the Department prevents the patient from doing his regular work.

Arrangements for special care of patients of the Department have been made with hospitals in all the larger towns and cities from coast to coast.

Sanatoria for treating tuberculosis under most favorable conditions are operated in every Province under the direct supervision of the Department.

WINTER DAIRY HINTS

Cleanliness and Succulent and Concentrated Feed Essential.

Grass Is the Natural Feed of Cattle —Make Winter Feed as Much Like It as Possible—A Ration for Laying Hens Which Has Brought Results at the O. A. College.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

THE whole question of winter care of dairy cattle may be summed up in one word—comfort. In order to obtain this, the cattle require a comfortable, clean, well-ventilated, well-lighted stable. The stalls, where animals are tied, should be of proper width and length to accommodate them without discomfort; and also be so constructed as to keep them clean without too much labor on the part of the person in charge. Plenty of bedding is needed, and an absorbent such as cut straw, shavings or sawdust, to take up the liquids which cause so much dirt and discomfort to both animals and attendants. A cement gutter behind the animals having the required amount of absorbing material placed in it daily, after cleaning the stable, is the best plan of keeping stable and cattle clean. If there be some shavings, sawdust or fine straw scattered along the passage behind the cows it assists in cleanliness and lessens labor.

Feeding.

The natural feed of cows is grass. The feeder of cows never goes far astray if the winter ration is made, so far as possible, similar to that of grass. This is got by using silage and roots, mixed with the dry, bulky fodders, like straw and clover hay. The mixing may be done by the feeder, if he has time to do so; or, it may be done by the cow before and after eating. The cow carries a wonderful mixing apparatus in her stomach, and so far as this part of feeding is concerned, she can do the necessary work of mixing feeds. Mixing before feed is given to the cow, often adds to its palatability and hence usually pays.

In addition to the succulent and dry bulky feeds mentioned, a cow giving milk requires a certain amount of concentrated feed in the form of meals, such a ground oats, oats and barley, wheat bran, oil-cake, or cottonseed meal. Standard Dairy Feed fills the bill excellently in this regard.

Watering Cows.

Next in importance to feed, comes water for milking cows. When cows are producing large quantities of milk they must have large quantities of water. This may be supplied in the stable, or in a trough outside. In fine weather, animals are better for being a short time outside in the fresh air daily, and they can be conveniently watered at that time. In very cold or stormy weather, they should be watered inside.

Comfort, cleanliness, succulent feed, along with a reasonable amount of concentrates, and plenty of water and fresh, pure air, are the main things required by animals giving milk in winter.—Prof. H. H. Dean, O. A. College, Guelph.

Feeding Laying Hens in Winter.

In order to lay well a hen requires a surplus of food above body maintenance. That is a hen must be in good flesh, not thin. A good laying hen is seldom very fat. The yolk of an egg contains considerable fat. The white is mostly muscle forming food and the shell largely lime. There must be a supply of these over and above what is required to daily maintain the body.

In summer a hen eats tender grass or green shoots, some whole grain, generally some ground grains, usually worms or insects, picks up some gravel or old plaster, and in doing so takes exercise. If she has to hunt all day for these, at times she does not lay very well because she is working hard getting something to eat.

We are feeding now, at the O. A. College a grain mixture of about the following: Seven parts of cracked corn, two parts of barley, two parts of good oats, one part buckwheat, and three parts of feed wheat. This is fed in deep litter night and morning, the hens going to bed with a full crop.

During cold weather it is advisable to feed a mixture of nearly half corn or buckwheat. A hen will do a little better on such feed. A mixture of two or three kinds of grain gives variety.

At noon, cooked waste house scraps, such as potatoes, cabbage or other vegetable trimming, together with the table scraps, make a good foundation for a wet mash. These scraps are best fed in a crumbly state. Dry them off with whatever chop you may have. A mixture of shorts, barley meal, and oat chop in equal parts, is very good. We use a dry mash which is fed in hoppers. This is in front of the birds at all times. We are using Government Standard Hog feed. We have used in previous years, very successfully, rolled or crushed oats.

These ground grains should contain fifteen to twenty per cent. of high grade tankage or beef scrap. Where milk is given as drink no meat scrap would be necessary.

Be sure to supply green and succulent feeds, such as waste cabbage, roots, clover leaves, or sprouted oats.

There is an art to feeding. When feeding the whole grain night and morning watch the birds scratch. If they are very active feed liberally; if somewhat indifferent ease off in the amount for a feed or so. Keep the litter clean and sweet.—Prof. W. R. Graham, O. A. College, Guelph.

JUST A DOMESTIC DRAMA

Tooth, Bread Board, Mother and Son, All Mixed Up in This Little Everyday Story.

A tooth, a limousine, a bread board some Wyckoff noodles, a mother and her son enter into this drama.

Mother is loyally doing her own work, and on returning from market she drove her limousine to the kitchen door. Lacking room to place her marketing, she temporarily put the bread board, covered with noodles, on the back of the convenient limousine. Just then her son had a fall in such a manner that a front tooth was cleanly removed from its socket. In great excitement she picked up the boy and the tooth and hastened in the limousine to the dentist. On one of the principal streets, during the trip downtown, she heard a sound as though the limousine had run over a loose board, but gave it no thought. The dentist replaced the tooth and mother and son returned home. Her husband, who is very fond of noodles, said: "Marguerette, what did you do with the bread board and the noodles?" Then she knew. Did she go back after the bread board and noodles? She did not.

Is the boy's tooth still in? It is.

Will you find the bread board and noodles advertised in the last column? No.

PARADISE OF THE PACIFIC

Palm-Clothed Islands That Have All of the Riches Man Has Any Need to Covet.

The little-known Trobriand group of islands is a cluster of palm-clothed gems that stud the emerald Pacific a hundred-odd miles northeast of Samarai (Papua). They are the real thing in coral romance. The natives are of the Melanesian type, happy people with a fondness (especially on the part of the star-eyed maidens) for Europeans, who have exploited the rich pearl fishery. They are advanced in arts and crafts, and produce a tremendous quantity of carved weapons and ornaments, which are eagerly bought by tourists from curio-dealers in Sydney and Melbourne.

Before competition set in the islanders did not get much for their pearls. Gems worth $50 and $75 were freely bought for as many pence. The group is flat, but is richly clothed in jungle, and produces vast quantities of excellent yams, which are traded. Good climate, gorgeous scenery, blue seas like billowing silk, diamond-dusted beaches and splendid fishing and shooting!

AUTUMN MODES

Organdie and brushed wool form one of the oddest combinations.

Embroidery is much used, especially in geometrical designs.

Very little jewelry should be worn, but pearls are still permissible.

It is always better to buy one cloak or hat with really beautiful lines and wear it for two or three seasons than to purchase a cheap, ordinary one and wear it for just one.

Dress Accessory.

Swords studded with rhinestones and arrows on the same style, as well as many little rhinestone pins for veils, are worn directly at the center of the hat. The large quantity of veils that are sold with the hats are nearly all in the delicate handrun patterns on the fine mesh grounds.

Scarf and Turban.

Black satin duvetyn was used for an effective scarf and turban smartly rimmed with an embroidery of white angora and jet beads.

These tablets are composed of Phenacetin, Quinine, Calcara and Caffein. This is considered an excellent combination of drugs for the above named ailment. You should have no hesitation in trying them. They are recommended and sold at all drug stores.

BLOUSE AND SKIRT

Combination Forcing Unchallenged Frock Out of Place.

Oddest Colors Now Being Used Together—Jet, in Tiny Sparkling Beadlets, Is Popular.

This is a season of practical clothes and quite naturally the blouse and separate skirt, always popularly considered the most practical of costumes when economy in dress is under consideration—for either patriotic or personal reasons—are in the limelight of fashion's favor just now. A good many of the new skirt and blouse combinations, however, seem to accept the virtue of practicability accorded to them by reason of their classification and let it go at that.

Instead of possessing one separate skirt for wear with various blouses, the woman who keeps up with fashion must now have several skirts and blouses. The whole frock has maintained an unchallenged place in woman's favor for several seasons now, but the blouse-and-skirt combination is pressing it hard. No separate waist, however elaborate and expensive, is suitable for a formal occasion and the best dressed women do not wear waists and skirts for restaurant dining or at even afternoon performances at the theater, says the Brooklyn Eagle. A waist-and-skirt combination is supposed to express informality.

It matters not how different a blouse is from accepted standards, provided it is different enough. Designers vie with one another to produce original and intricate designs. The oddest color combinations are displayed and when colors themselves do not harmonize, outline embroideries of beads emphasize the effect of contrast and give a weird yet fascinating oriental effect. What would you think of olive green and cerise as a color scheme? Yet one of the stunning blouses for fall combines those two shades, with artfully placed outlines and embroideries of jet beads, and the result is truly sumptuous. The French houses use a deal of jet—jet in tiny, sparkling beadlets sewed close together, rather than a large paillette or cabuchon. A Cherult blouse of rust-colored crepe de chine has bands of bead embroidery passing across a flat vest of flesh-colored chiffon. The bands disappear under the blouse fronts and emerge through slashes about an inch beyond the edge, the series of tabs thus formed flanking the cross-bands on the vest. This Cherult blouse falls to the hip and the flesh-tinted vest extends several inches below the waistline, giving a very graceful long line. A loose belt fastened with jet cabuchons passes across the vest and around the waist. A narrow band of black fox outlines the neck opening. Another French blouse of cream-colored velvet is slashed to show under-facings of brown satin, small bronze beads outlining every satin motif.

DRESS FOR AFTERNOON WEAR

Black satin and rose-colored tricolette form this attractive gown. The rose overdress is embroidered in black and edged with bread black silk fringe.

A Standard Blouse.

The little sailor blouses are in high favor with few changes in line from the original, made to slip on with slit at front and regulation sailor collar and small side pocket with big crush tie of black silk. This style is shown in both white and navy, satin and georgette, with silk braid in contrasting color for trimming.

All family trees are more or less shady.

SPORT HISTORY

Bare Knuckly Men Were Real Fighters

SCRAPPERS OF BYGONE DAYS NOTED FOR ABILITY TO STAND PUNISHMENT.

England is today resuming the revival in interest in boxing that was flourishing when the war broke out in 1914, when the "manly art" began to take hold as never before in the land of its origin. King George's approval probably had much to do with this enthusiasm, but the man who was chiefly instrumental in bringing the game back into its own was the fifth Earl of Lonsdale, the donor of the belts for the various championships of Great Britain. Lord Lonsdale, the Queensberry of this generation, was born 62 years ago Saturday.

Since his Eton days he has been a thorough sportsman, and, while he has devoted much attention to yachting and racing, his chief interest has been the perpetuation of the sport originated in England by James Figg nearly two centuries ago. Lord Lonsdale was one of the founders of the National Sporting club, the organization which stages a majority of the best bouts in Great Britain, and where the great boxing tournament was recently held. It was about a quarter of a century ago that Lord Lonsdale practically saved the land. The government made the bout between Frank Slavin, the Australian, and Joe McAuliffe a test case. The Earl of Lonsdale employed some of the best lawyers in the country to defend the men and the game, aond the result was a victory in the courts which established a legal precedent.

CORBETT-MITCHELL BATTLE

It was just a quarter of a century ago Saturday that Jim Corbett knocked out Charlie Mitchell in the third round at Jacksonville, Fla. It was a speedy finish to a battle which had been discussed for so long, and a disappointment to the fans who had gathered from all over America, for, while they had expected Corbett to win, few though the Englishman would prove so easy a victim. Mitchell was then 32, and dissipation had robbed him of much of his former stamina and speed, besides which, at the time of the bout against Corbett he had not fought in a real bout for nearly six years, or since he fought his memorable 39-round draw with John L. Sullivan at Chantilly, France. Corbett was then 27, and in prime condition, having taken the American title from John L. only about sixteen months before. In science and generalship Corbett was Mitchell's equal, and in height, weight, reach, youth, condition and stamina he was vastly superior.

Joe Grimm, George Siddons, Jack Burke, Andy Bowen, Danny Needham, and other modern ring warriors, have proved themselves to belong to the "iron man" class by taking part in long and desperate battles, but for real durability under punishment we hope to go back to the old bare knuckle days of the ring.

One of the most celebrated of the old-time "iron men" was Mike Madden. Although he never became champion, and his very name is almost forgotten, Mike deserves to be remembered as the hero of two of the longest battle ever fought in the ring. It is seventy years ago since Mike figured in one of the most historic, but not the longest, of those bloody conflicts of the raw 'uns. On December 12, 1848, at Woking, England, he defeated Jack Grant in a battle of 140 rounds, lasting five hours and three-quarters. Although both men were terribly punished, and barely able to stand, they fought on until darkness forced them to stop. Madden had the best of the argument, and Grant was in a sorry plight when he was led away at the conclusion of hostilities. Grant has a long rest, and when he returned to the ring he was whipped by Tom aSyers, the "Little Wonder," who afterwards fought John C. Hoeman for the world's title.

About seven months after the Grant battle, Mike Madden fought prominent fighters of that period, at Edenbridge, England. This contest went 185 rounds and lasted six hours and three minutes. It was the longest bare knuckle battle ever fought, with the exception of a bare knuckle contest staged at Melbourne in 1855, when Jim Kelly and Jonathan Smith fought six hours and fifteen minutes.

Only one man in ring history ever fought two battles of longer duration. Andy Bowen, the New Orleans mulatto boxer, exceeded Mike Madden's record in 1893, when he fought seven hours and nineteen minutes with Jack Burke, and then, a few weeks later, defeated Jack Everhardt in five hours and thirty-eight minutes. These were glove contests, however, and the participants did not take nearly as much punishment as did the old "iron men" who fought with the raw 'uns.

PROPOSED MEMORIAL FOR ST. LUKE'S FALLEN HEROES

At Annual Vestry Meeting Last Night—Reports of Various Branches Show Satisfactory Progress.

The forty-fourth annual vestry meeting of St. Luke's Church was held last night in the school room, which was well filled with an interested gathering of the adult members of the congregation, women as well as men taking part in the proceedings. Several soldier member, lately returned from overseas, were present and received a hearty welcome on the part of their fellow-parishioners.

The reports of the varous church organizations were presented in a crisp interesting way by the officers concerned and told of a busy and prosperous year. The Woman's Guild was especially applauded for its work in substantially reducing the debt for the recent improvements to the Parish Hall. The Chancel Guild had managed to efficiently conduct its undertakings without aid from general funds. A pathetic circumstance was noted in the news had that day come from New York of the unexpected death of Mrs. H. A. Perry, whose gift had been the altar-flowers on the previous Sunday.

A feature of the Sunday School report was the fine progress made in payment for the Victory Memorial Bond.

The wardens, in presenting their annual statement, held the attention of their audience by throwing the figures and comments on the sheet by means by lantern slides. The expenditure for the year showed a considerable increase, but all claims both local and extra parochial had been fully met, with a balance remaining on the right side.

Among the special topic of discussion was the part to be taken by the congregation in the work of social service and reconstruction through a special committee appointed for the purpose. The question of a permanent memorial to the eight St. Luke's soldiers who had fallen and also who had taken part in the war, was referred to the incoming advisory board for suggestions.

At the close of the meeting the Woman's Guild, with their usual genial hospitality, entertained those present during an enjoyable social period.

Officers Elected.

The election and appointment of officers resulted as follows:

Vestry Clerk—Mr. R. McKee.

Rector's Warden—Mr. R. B. Rogers.

People's Warden (elected by acclamation)—Mr. J. J. Turner.

Assistant Wardens—Messrs. W. H. Carter, R. Starr, A. Green, J. Marshall, H. McWha, R. G. Northcott.

Delegates to Synod—Messrs. E. A. Peck, Geo. Green, R. B. Rogers.

The new wardens were authorized to act with the rector in selecting the personnel of an advisory board for the current year, the names to be announced in the Parish Magazine.

"I SHALL BE SATISFIED"

The following are the words of the song written and set to music by Mr. Asa Huycke and which was sung in Mark Street church and St. Paul's Church Sunday by Miss Ida F. Lynn:

When my great day comes to cross the line,
And I lay me down to die
Will I dare look back o'er the hills of time
Where the white dead ashes lie?
Will the trail I've trod be free from stain,
And straight and white that day?
Will the seed I've sown bear golden grain
Or thorns, along the way?

Oh, Christ, of all when Thou callest me
On that last day of mine,
Train me, dear Lord, to ready be
To fearlessly cross the line.
Not one of Thy highest 'servants, Lord,
But anywhere by Thy side.
Oh, make me of some little use to Thee
And I shall be satisfied.

Do not fail to take advantage of the opportunity to see "Kultur" as presented by William Fox, starring Gladys Brockwell. This great photoplay is being shown at the Royal theatre tonight only will be the last chance to see it. "Kultur" is different from any picture you have ever seen. It is not a "war play" and yet it is based on the stirring events that led up to the world conflict. It goes deep into the inside workings of the courts of Berlin and Vienna. It is a fascinating picture and one of the best that has been shown in Peterboro for some time. Do not fail to see it this evening at the Royal theatre.

PRICE OF HOGS IS FIXED AT $17.50 BY AMERICANS

SIMILAR ACTION NOW LIKELY TO BE TAKEN AT OTTAWA

A minimum price of $17.50 per cwt. for live hogs for the month of February was the decision arrived at by the United States hog committee, entrusted with the fixing of the prices at the food administration building in Washington yesterday. The matter has been under advisement by the government for some time, and the price named is along the lines indicated some time ago; in fact, it is a continuation of existing conditions.

The action of the Washington authorities will, it is anticipated, have a steadying effect upon the Canadian hog market, which yesterday closed weak and lower, the range of prices running from 16 to 16¼ cents and an odd lot at 16⅝ cents. With the unsettled condition of the market and the packers instituting a rigorous system of grading, the inference is that the rans for the time being will not be heavy.

A special despatch from Ottawa says: The cabinet have not yet reached a decision as to making a fixed price for wheat or for hogs. But the news from Chicago that the United States government have fixed the price of hogs at $17.50 for February makes action on both wheat and hogs in Canada more likely.

Says Labor Leaders Are Weak

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 29.—Weakness and subordination of convictions to personal interests is charged against many of the Trades Union leaders by Food Controller George H. Roberts, in an interview printed in The Mail today. He says that this is one of the chief causes of the "Present Anarchy" in industrial circles of Great Britain. Mr. Roberts, who is a veteran labor leader and who was recently Minister of Labor said "It is time that union leaders make a definite and determined stand. If the subordinate refuse to honor their leaders' agreements, the leaders must resign."

HAROLD FROST COMES THROUGH HEARING WITH FLYING COLORS

Completely Exonerated in Port Hope Court on Charge of Assault

As a sequel to Monday night's Junior Hockey game in Port Hope, Harold Frost of the Peterborough team was yesterday charged in the Police Court at Port Hope with assault occasioning bodily harm.

The President of the Club, Reverend Father O'Gorman, was present and Mr. J. A. O'Brien of Gordon, Widdifield & O'Brien was retained to defend Mr. Frost. The case lasted from about two thirty until four thirty. The main evidence adduced was that of Ware, the player who was injured and who spent Monday night in the hospital and Lou Marsh, the referee, and of the accused, Harold Frost. Mr. Marsh was called to the stand by Mr. O'Brien at the outset to enable him to get away to Toronto, as he had to referee a professional game at the Arena that night. His evidence was like his decisions, impartial, and he completely exonerated Frost from any foul play, or endeavor to charge, trip or otherwise foul Ware. He considered, in his opinion, that as Ware was going to check Frost and as Frost had the puck at the time, that Frost was justified in jumping to one side in an endeavor to avoid Ware. It was in the act of jumping to one side that Ware's hip was hurt. Ware was coming from the left end Frost, in his endeavor to avoid him jumped to the right, but they were so close together that Frost struck Ware unintentionally with some part of his body, either his hip or his side.

Mr. Marsh stated that he considered that Frost was in no way to blame. If he had been he would have him put off the ice. Mr. Marsh stated that the incident was purely an accident and he was within ten feet of the scene at the time and had a better opportunity than any one else present and observed what took place as he was following the game particularly closely.

The general public in Port Hope seem to be under the impression that Ware was a pretty sick man and the Court was much surprised when Ware walked into the Court to give evidence on behalf of Harold Frost.

All must admire Mr. Ware for the sportsmanlike way in which he took the whole occurrence and he stated, it was entirely without his consent and against his wishes that any action was taken against Frost. Mr. Frost gave his evidence in his own defence in a straight forward gentlemanly way and won the good graces of the Court which at the outset seemed to be dead against him.

The only contradictory evidence adduced was that of the witness McMillen who was some thirty feet away from the scene of the accident and who completely contradicted the evidence of the referee, and the players Frost and Ware. He considered the play was dirty and his opinion was absolutely at variance with the opinion of the referee, the boy who was injured and Frost, as was also his account of what took place. Mr. Frost, the trainer and Mr. O'Brien came back to the city this morning.

ONE MILLION MEN WILL REMAIN ON MILITARY DUTY

PAY OF BRITISH SOLDIERS TO BE 21 SHILLINGS A WEEK.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 29.—The pay of the one million soldiers of the British army who will be retained until a peace footing again is reached probably will be twenty-one shillings a week and food and lodgings, according to a statement made today.

At least 200,000 Americans now in the army will remain in France according to a statement made by a prominent member of the American colony in Paris and quoted by The Intransigeant today. The Majority, it is said, will remain, because they wish to marry French women and rest, because they are charmed with the French life and see great opportunities here.

THIRD DIVISION TO SAIL IN MARCH

CANADA'S FIRST UNITS TO GO OVERSEAS BOOKED FOR HOME

Ottawa, Jan. 29.—Confirmation of the statement that the third Canadian division, the first of the fighting division from Canada to be returned home, will probably sail from England about the first of March is contained in a cable from Sir Edward Kemp, overseas minister of militia, received at militia headquarters, today. The cable which bears Tuesday's date, also gives exact location of all the Canadian fighting divisions, and proves conclusively that they are now in Belgium and not in Germany.

The first division, it states, is now at Huy, midway between Liege and Namur, where it arrived from the Rhine about ten days ago. The second division is located at Namur, having reached that place from the Rhine just about the time the cable was despatched. The third division is at Tournai, also in Belgium, and is expected to begin the movement from there to England the second week of February, and from England to Canada about March 1. The fourth division is stationed at Nivelle 25 miles south of Brussels. Certain corps troops, such as garrison artillery, cavalry and hospital units, will, the cable states, be moving to England between the movement of the divisions.

To Satisfy President Wilson

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 29.—Stating that President Wilson made an important speech at Tuesday's meeting of the Supreme Council of the Peace Congress during a discussion of the future of Germany's colonies, the Paris correspondent of the Mail adds, "President Wilson persists in his desire to secure some form of international control, and the Allies are seeking a plan which, while giving the practical power desired by nations who want the German Colonies for their own, will still provide some shadowy form of internationalisation for the purpose of satisfying Mr. Wilson's ideals."

NINE RURAL SCHOOLS TAUGHT BY UNQUALIFIED TEACHERS

County Inspector Lee's Annual Report Shows Serious Conditions

Mr. Richard Lees, County School Inspector for Peterborough, presented his report at the meeting of the County Council this morning. He emphasised the fact that unqualified teachers were employed in his inspectorate and in reply to a statement by one of the members at the Board to the effect that the trustees were unable to obtain teachers with the proper certificates asserted that they would have no trouble in this connection if they would pay the salary:

The report follows and is of considerable interest:

To the Warden and Members of the Council of the County of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—I beg respectfully to submit the following report on the schools of the inspectorate of Peterborough East for the year 1918:

During the year there were in operation in the inspectorate 76 rural schools with 78 teachers, three urban village schools with 16 teachers, and one suburban school with five teachers, making a total of 74 schools and 93 teachers. In the performance of my duties, I made 221 half day visits, 44 of them being in the villages and 177 in the other schools.

Of the 72 purely rural schools, the teachers in two of them held first-class, 34 second-class, 18 third-class, and one district certificates. The other 17 held temporary certificates or none at all. As compared with the previous year, this shows a decrease of one first-class and five second-class certificates, with an increase of seven temporary certificates. This is for last term. Conditions now are not so favorable. At present there are nine schools in charge of teachers with no certificates and eleven schools closed. Of these, seven are usually closed during the winter months, but the others are closed on account of inability to secure teachers. In addition to these twenty, there are seven other schools that have two teachers possessing qualifications below that required for the positions they hold.

A Serious Situation.

This looks like a very serious situation and one demanding earnest thought on the part of those in authority. One naturally asks for an explanation, and the first that suggests itself is that the supply of teachers has decreased and so made it difficult to fill positions. Some investigation, however, and inquiry into conditions elsewhere have led to the conclusion that this is not the real reason. There continues to be an increase in the rate of salary that qualified teachers can command, and boards that are able and willing to keep up with or in advance of that increase find little difficulty in getting teachers. There have been, during the past year, a number of cases in which teachers who had held their positions for some time and had received substantial advances, were able to secure higher salaries elsewhere and left. The trustees then found themselves unable to replace them with qualified teachers, even without experience, at the old rate of salary. Too much stress cannot possibly be laid on the fact that, if we are going to maintain the standard of our schools, if we are even going to keep pace with our neigh-

STRIKE IN CLYDE IS GROWING MORE SERIOUS

GERMANS BECOME INDIGNANT WITH THE PRESIDENT

PAPERS SAY HE HAS FACED ABOUT ON QUESTION OF COLONIES.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Berlin, Jan. 29.—The reported decision of the Supreme Council at Tuesday's session that the German colonies must not be given back to Germany, has disquieted some German circles. The Boursen Zeitung, for instance says: "If President Wilson is correctly reported, he confesses openly that he, too, like Premiers Clemenceau and Lloyd George, does not desire Germany in a future community of nations as an equal among but as a nation watched by overseers."

The Socialist newspaper Voewarts says: "A League of Nations is making a lovely beginning. The decision of the western powers to take the German colonies for themselves is born of a spirit diametrically opposed to that proclaimed by President Wilson. We Germans would prefer an honest policy of stand and deliver to a policy of mperal aggrandizement adorned with ethical and oratorical phrases."

ASK $1000 A YEAR.

G. W. V. A. Want the Pension Law Amended.

A delegation is being sent from the Great War Veterans' Association in Toronto to Ottawa to ask the Government to consider the necessity of an amendment to the present pension law. The decision to approach the Government follows upon a recent conference with the two members of the Pensions Board.

A full disability pension of $1000 per annum will be asked from the Government for soldiers, their wives or families. If the request of the delegation were met it would mean that widows would receive an increase from $480 to $800.

The delegation will also suggest the establishment of an appeal board.

$300,000 FOR S. A.

That the Salvation Army Red Shield Appeal campaign in Toronto will reach $300,000 and probably go beyond that figure now seems a certainty. Lieut.-Col. W. S. SIR HERBERT AMES SENDS PROTEST TO COURT HOUSE

County Council Asked to Rescind Action and Pay $5,000 Balance of Grant to the Patriotic Fund as Agreed.

At the session of the County Council this afternoon a communication was read from Sir Herbert Ames in behalf of the Patriotic Fund protesting against the action of the Council at its last session in diverting the last payment amounting to $5000 of its $30,000 grant to the navy league.

The executive of the Patriotic Fund claims that this action was unjust and the Council should have redeemed its pledge and paid the last instalment of $5000 instead of giving it to the Navy League.

The communication claimed that only one other municipality failed in this respect and reminded the council that Peterborough city had made good its promise and hoped that the Council would rectify the matter by making a grant of the $5000 in question.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1919

WHY MR. GORDON RESIGNS.

THE EXPECTED is about to happen. Mr. G. N. Gordon announces in his official and personal organ that he intends to resign his position as City Solicitor, a post which he has held in conjunction with the office of member of the Board of Education, serving the city in the dual capacity in defiance of the expressed opinion of the ex-Minister of Education, Mr. Mook, a distinguished municipal lawyer of Toronto, and the Attorney-General himself.

It is not to be supposed for a moment that Mr. Gordon has relented in his defiance of these expert legal opinions. The fact is that he has bigger game in sight and that he feels that he has, in holding two offices, the one elective and the other as the appointee of the Council, perhaps taxed the forbearance of the public to the limit. He is satisfied to drop one of his offices in order to be in a position to offer himself as a candidate for member of the Provincial Legislature.

There is harmony at least among the two outstanding figures in the local Liberal party. Mr. R. R. Hall and Mr. Gordon, supposed some time ago to be at cross-purposes, both having set their hearts on the same political prize, have amicably divided the cake. It has been arranged that Mr. Hall is to be given a clear field, so far as Mr. Gordon is concerned, to secure the next Liberal nomination for the Dominion Parliament. His chief claim to that position will be the fact that a year ago he prevented the party from actual extinction and kept the organization alive by making a martyr of himself when the position went a-begging. If he led the forlorn hope in 1917, why not give him a chance to redeem himself by making at least a better showing than he did on that disastrous occasion?

Mr. Gordon, it seems, is to have a new party—Independent Labor—made to order for the exploitation of his political fortunes. That is something for which he has been planning ever since the question of forming such an organization in this community was taken up. He has been Labor's guide, philosopher and friend, or at least so served a certain section of the organized workingmen in Peterborough. Mr. Gordon hopes to unite the workingmen and the farmers of the riding and to make peace with another section of the electorate by advocating a moderation of the present temperance enactment.

This was not the program as originally planned. As The Review stated some time ago, it was the intention of Mr. Gordon's clique to sidetrack Mr. Gillespie, but it seems the orthodox members of the party, those who are not given to wandering away after idols, are averse to this, and that they will insist upon putting a straight party candidate in the field. Mr. Gillespie is to be the candidate of the straight Liberals and the uncompromising prohibitionists. And while he and Mr. Gordon try conclusions, it should be no difficult matter for the Conservative candidate to walk off with the prize.

In the meantime, Mr. Gordon proposes to abandon the substance, a municipal position with $1100 a year, for the shadowy prospect of a seat in the Provincial Legislature with an annual indemnity of $1400, and that impossible of attainment without the expenditure of a considerable amount in election expenses.

ADVERTISING A CITY.

NO CITY CAN PROSPER any more than can a business institution, without a certain amount of outside advertising. It requires publicity to bring before manufacturers and workingmen alike the desirability of Peterborough, for example, as a place of residence. This is a work that has in the past devolved largely upon the City Council, that being the only organization that had funds available for the purpose. Whatever may have been the ambition of the Board of Trade in this direction, lack of capital was always a handicap.

Aldermen of North Bay have just made a grant of $500 to the Board of Trade to be used in advertising that place as a desirable location, either for residence or manufacturing purposes. There should be co-operation between the two bodies in this as in other matters. The Board of Trade can reach a section of the public that the Council can hardly hope to influence.

It seems that the members of the Board of Trade have at last realized that Peterborough has been and still is suffering from a lack of advertising. Members of the City Council are disposed to transact business in the quiet, to go on civic affairs to other cities, Ottawa especially, and say nothing about it. Peterborough figures very little in the outside papers of Ontario, while other places, no greater in population and of infinitely less importance as manufacturing centres and all kinds of public movements, are exploited in the Toronto press almost daily. And the kind of advertising a city requires is a chronicle of its progressive policies rather than the publication of an occasional chapter from the records of the police court.

THE RED SHIELD FUND.

THERE SEEMS TO BE a popular misapprehension of the purpose for which the money raised in the recent Red Shield campaign is to be devoted. Citizens seem to be under the impression that it is to be used in carrying on the work of the local corps, for which aid is solicited almost every day and especially at stated intervals. Such an idea is, however, entirely wrong.

The money for which the Salvation Army asked the people of Peterborough, as well as that raised the country over in the same campaign, will be used only in the special work which the Army has so long carried on among the soldiers and their dependents. It was the Army's first appeal for aid for the work, even though it was the first organization to take up the task at the beginning of the war. Whether at home or overseas, the record of the Army is above reproach. Not one word of complaint from the returned men is heard concerning the Army's ministrations.

It is not yet too late to subscribe to the Red Shield fund. Subscriptions may be left at he Bank of Commerce. A partial list of the donations published recently shows that some of the leading firms and some of the best citizens in Peterborough subscribed liberally to the fund. No better evidence is required of the confidence reposed in the Salvation Army by those who are familiar with the work it has caried on here for so many years.

"AND THE YOUNG MEN PLAYED."

MANY SPORTS, hockey included, will gain nothing in popular regard if such unfortunate incidents as that which occurred at Port Hope the other night are to feature in the pastime. A Peterborough player in the course of the game collided with one of the opposing team and the latter was seriously injured.

All of which is part of the game. But the Port Hope fans did not so regard it and showed that they are poor losers by demanding the arrest of the Peterborough man.

Accidents will occur in the most cleanly-played hockey contests. Every player who takes part runs the risk of personal injury, and if Port Hope is over-zealous for the physical safety of its young men, then it should keep them out of such engagements and let them seek their recreation in such safe pursuits as pool playing and the like.

Port Hope has been a trouble-making member of the league ever since the start. But it is a comparatively new contestant for hockey honors and has a lot to learn. The lakeside town really gives the hockey world the impression that the Peterborough club have blood-thirsty young ruffians among their members. That class of hockey players is not produced in this city.

The referee of the game at Port Hope was Mr. Lou E. Marsh, a member of the staff of the Toronto Star, who furnished his paper with a report of the game as well as of the unfortunate incident that grew out of it. Surely Mr. Marsh, hockey veteran as he is, knows of what he speaks and is a disinterested witness. Mr. Marsh says that there was absolutely nothing deliberate about the injury to the Port Hope player and that the Peterborough player was arrested contrary to the wishes of the father of the young man who was hurt, and the father witnessed the occurrence. At all events, the Peterborough player has come through the entire affair, including the subsequent police court hearing, with flying colors and has been completely exonerated.

Port Hope has introduced a new feature into hockey by impressing the police into the service of helping the home team win games from visitors by arresting any opponent who shows anything like strenuosity in his work. The Port Hopers, if they are of this mild type, should be shown that parlor pastimes are more in the line of young men who are afraid of even unavoidable injury while at play.

WHEN CHILDREN LACK NOURISHMENT.

(Chicago News.)

"A SURPRISINGLY large percentage of undernourished children were found in the schools."

That sentence is taken from a report based on a survey of Chicago schools by a joint committee of the Woman's City Club and the woman's committee of the Council of National Defence. It reveals a vital defect in Chicago's social fabric. While it stirs human sympathy, the situation has an economic aspect that should be squarely faced.

Children who are not properly nourished cannot devote proper attention to their studies. Therefore they do not advance in their work as rapidly as they should and they go forth into the world poorly equipped to meet its requirements. They leave school to go to work at the earliest opportunity. Not infrequently they complete considerably less than the eight grades usually finished at the age of 14, when the law releases children from compulsory school attendance.

Palpably, taxpayers who maintain the schools carry a double burden in these backward pupils, who get much less from school work than they should and who, therefore, ordinarily become unproductive units in the community after leaving school.

Deep study of means corrective of this situation should be made by the commission that has been appointed by the Chicago board of education to deal with this and kindred topics.

OPINIONS OF OTHER EDITORS.

WASTEFUL Rivalry.

(Hamilton Herald.)

Either the Canadian national railways should build a line between Toronto and the Niagara frontier, electrify it and give the hydro-radial running rights over it, or the Ontario Hydro Commission should build the line and give the C.N.R. running rights over it. For both the Dominion railway authorities and the Ontario commission to build railways which would parallel each other and compete for freight and passenger traffic, would be idiotic. Not for many years would either line pay operating expenses.

Social Obligations of the Sick

One of our great national shortcomings, as every thoughtful person recognizes, is imperfect appreciation of the duties and responsibilities of the individual as regards the health of the community in which he lives.

There are exceptional people keenly alive to what is incumbent on them in this respect. Such people scrupulously avoid doing things that might cause illness in others.

But, unhappily, people of this fine sense of social responsibility are as yet conspicuous by their rarity. Most people think nothing of doing things that seriously menace the public health.

Attacked, for example, by a cold that is not serious enough to incapacitate them, they continue to go about their business as usual.

They travel back and forth in crowded street cars; they go shopping; they enjoy theatrical entertainments; they attend church—and all the while they sneeze and wheeze disease-germs into the faces of those in contact with them.

It never occurs to them that these germs, which have caused them only discomfort and inconvenience, may be deadly virulence to people less robust than they.

Equally common, and even more dangerous, is the practice of using public vehicles for the removal of victims of communicable diseases from their homes to a hospital.

Instead of an ambulance being sent for, a cab or taxi is called. Infection thus is lodged in it, to menace those who travel in it afterward.

So, too, housekeepers, careless of the public health, shake from open windows cloths and mops in which they have gathered from floor and furniture dust that is perhaps germ-infected. Floating in at a neighbor's window, this dust may be productive of more than one untimely death.

The handling and cooking of food by persons affected with some communicable disease is another common source of widespread trouble. Akin to it is recklessness in the preservation of food, whereby it is allowed to become unfit for human consumption.

These are only a few of the numerous ways in which the thoughtlessness of the individual endangers the health of whole communities. Corrective action is truly a national need.

And the one means to make sure of eventually stamping out criminal thoughtlessness like this is by the systematic teaching of public health in the schools of the nation.

In the schools, ideals of social responsibility can be lodged in the minds of the growing generation, to give rise to a new and better order of things than we behold today. Until thes ideals are thus established by intensive training of the young we need not look for much improvement along this line.

TODAY'S STORY

The late Senator Tillman of South Carolina was a staunch opponent of autocracy and bitterly opposed to the kaiser and his creeds, and used to delight in recounting a meeting between Wilhelm and an American pork packer on the latter's yacht. During the conversation the packer, not in the least impressed by the kaiser, said to him:

"Autocracy to me is like potatoes. The best part is under the ground."

APSLEY

Apsley, Jan. 29.—A wedding of much interest took place at Lakefield on Wednesday, Jan. 15, when Miss Alice McFadden, daughter of Mr. Cyrus McFadden, of Burleigh, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Joseph E. A. White, of Ribstone, Alberta. The ceremony was performed at the manse, by Rev. T. S. Jull, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. The bride was handsomely dressed in taupe silk poplin trimmed with apricot lace and chine stones and was assisted by her sister, Miss Matilda McFadden, who also looked charming in green silk poplin. The groom was supported by Mr. Joseph Tucker, of Anstruther. The groom's present to the bride was a cheque for a sum of money, to the bridesmaid, a beautiful manicure set, and to the groomsman, a military brush and comb.

After the ceremony, the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's parents at Burleigh, where a reception was given in her honor. About forty guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner. The bride received a number of handsome presents. Mr. and Mrs. White will take up residence in Alberta and our best wishes for many happy and prosperous years go with them.

On Tuesday evening, Jan. 21, the members of the Soldiers' Comfort Club, of which the bride was a member, called upon her and presented her with a linen shower and the following address:

To Mrs. Joseph White:

Dear Alice,—It is with mingled feelings that we come this evening before your departure from our community to bid you good-bye.

We are glad to know that you are about to enter a sphere where your many enviable traits of character will have a wider field for their activities, and we bespeak for you many happy years in your new home, and yet we cannot conceal our regret at losing from our midst one who in many ways laid claim to our respect and appreciation, and it is with a measure of reluctance that we part with one who can so ill be spared.

In our good work you have always took an active part and as we sent boxes with gifts to our boys, we know they were appreciated by the letters we received from them, and as we worked and prayed for them, we are assured that our labour was not in vain. But we give our heartiest thanks to God who gave them the most blessed gift in the gaining of victory, and although we are sad when we remember that some of our choicest boys have fallen, we will never honor and remember them for their noble deeds and may their souls rest in heaven.

In presenting our gift as a slight token of love and appreciation, we wish to convey with them our heart-felt wishes for your future welfare and that kindly Providence will still bless you and make you a blessing among your new associates is the sincere wish of your many friends in Opsley.

Signed on behalf of the members of the A.S.C.C.—Mrs. E. Tucker, president; G. Jones, vice-president; E. Lean, secretary; G. Carr, treasurer.

Mrs. White made a very suitable reply and the evening was spent in various amusements. Instrumental music was furnished by Mr. D. Brown. Two selections were sung in good voice by the following gentlemen:—Messrs. E. Tucker, C. McFadden, J. Kilborn and D. Brown. Before dispersing all joined in singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds", and lastly the National Anthem.

LESSONS IN RIGHT LIVING

With steam or hot water heating, through radiators placed in the living rooms, the most efficient and economical results are obtained by preventing ventilation of the living rooms. The air is heated by radiation and re-heated over and over again. The occupant of the steam heated apartments breathes warmed over air in order to keep warm, in much the same way as the fellow who covers his head with the blankets in bed.

The hot air furnace gives the most efficient and economical results when ample provisions is made, not only for admitting fresh air from the outside, but also for carrying away the used or vitiated air from the upper part of the house.

In many households where there is a constant wrangle with the furnace the whole trouble is that no provision is made for an outlet for the used air near the door.

The one important objection to heating with hot air furnace is the excessive dryness of the air in apartments so heated. But this dryness, which may equal or exceed the dryness of desert air in a room heated above 68 degrees Fahrenheit in cold weather, is not peculiar to hot air furnace heating. It is quite as objectionable in apartments heated by steam or hot water radiators.

All sorts of water evaporators are used with hot air furnaces and with steam or hot water radiators for the purpose of increasing the amount of moisture in the air, but they are of little practical value because they evaperate but a few gallons of water in a day, whereas it is necessary to evaporate thirty to sixty gallons in the average house in order to maintain a reasonable degree of humidity when the air is heated up to 70 or more degrees. This problem of humidity will regulate itself if the heating is not overdone. There is no sufficient reason for heating dwellings above 65 degrees, except bad habit. Comfort, health and efficiency are all best attained by moderate or temperate heating, not over 65 degrees Fahrenheit. At the lower temperature the air retains a larger amount of moisture, and a moist air at 60 to 65 degrees generally proves more comfortable than a drier atmosphere at 68 or 70.

The difference between physical well-being, especially freedom from so called catarrhal or respiratory troubles, and illness through the winter months is frequently a mere difference of five degrees in the temperature of the living rooms.

His Last Hope Gone.

In an Oklahoma court an attorney had been many times overruled by the court during the morning session. The attorney arrived in the court room at 1:35 p. m., whereas court had adjourned to 1:30. The court and the attorney disagreed as to what was, in fact, the correct time, and the discussion ended with the despairing statement by the attorney: "Very well, your honor. Let's have it that way. I had hoped, however, that the time of day was one subject on which we might agree."—Law Notes.

Each Season Has Its Charms.

Each season has its own outdoor charm, even winter, when heavy snows cover the earth. Read Thoreau and John Burroughs and learn how the tracks of small animals on the snow's surface show the life of the woods and how the grace and shadow of twigs, the beauty and variety of the seed pods of weeds and the activity of birds cause the stroller to forget the cold, while the tinkling of small streams through a double margin of icicles is music to his ears.

Broaden Your Mind.

Brush the cobwebs out of your mind. Rid yourself of the rubbish of prejudice and prepossession. No longer be content with surface thinking, which is not thinking at all. Form the habit of looking at everything from more than one point of view. Balance, weigh, test, observe, analyze, meditate. Thus alone can you gain opinions that are really your own and really well based. Thus alone can you grow in success-winning power of mind.—Exchange.

The Great Test.

Self-control is an easy matter when we are alone, says New Success Magazine. But the moment our lives are thrown in with others, then comes the struggle. To maintain our equanimity, to restrain the sharp retort, the impatient exclamation, to get along smoothly with disagreeable people, without friction or jarring—this is the great life test. This is what builds character, what tests manhood or womanhood, what makes the ideal employee.

Two Discoveries.

A long time ago, a keen observer of human nature put on record his discovery that a small borrower never leaves the doorway of a bank without looking one way and walking the other. A rival of this observer has just turned up. His conclusion, after years of patient observation, is that one never sees a small boy and a brass band moving in opposite directions.—Christian Science Monitor.

U-Boat Assassins Dead, But History Remembers Their Infamous Records

AMONG those names which must survive the war and remain forever as a part of its history and character four may be selected from that list of 150 German submarine commanders killed or captured by our naval forces which was recently made public. To them, says the London Daily Telegraph, is insured such an immortality as perhaps a German naval officer may desire. First in that category comes the man who placed upon submarine warfare its crown of supreme achievement, who fixed forever its character and repute by the torpedoing of the Lusitania. He was Kaptain-Lieutenant Schwieger, commanding U-20, and later U-88. He had entered the navy in 1903, and reached, therefore, the summit of his career, the greatest murder the world has known, before he was 35; it was only in November last year that a mine in the North Sea put an end to his memories and to his purposes.

It now appears that his supreme deed was not of his own initiating; he was selected by his superiors as a suitable officer to carry out a plan devised and prepared as a part of the deliberate policy of the German Admiralty—that is to say, of the German Government. According to the evidence which is available, his success appalled him rather than otherwise; the world's outcry of horror was audible even in Berlin, and upon his return there he showed himself little—possibly by order of his superiors. Even his reward was stealthily conferred; it took the form of the Order of the House of Hohenzollern, the Kaiser's personal decoration.

KAPTAIN-LIEUT. SCHWIEGER.

U-20 finished obscurely; she stranded in a fog on the Danish coast in November, 1916, and was blown up by her own crew. A year later Schwieger, now in command of U-88, was groping submerged through a minefield in company with another U-boat. The crew of the second submarine suddenly heard an explosion and felt the jar of it in their own vessel. They tried with their special signaling devices to get into communication with U-88, but failed, and she never returned to her base.

The officer who sank the Belgian Prince on July 31, 1917, collected her crew on the deck of his submarine and then submerged was Kaptain-Lieutenant Paul Wagenfuhr, commanding U-43. He was a little older than Schweiger, having entered the service in 1900; the quality of his work and his successes had been recognized by the Order of the Red Eagle (Roter Adler) and the Hohenzollern Order with Swords; but a swift retribution was at hand. While returning from the very cruise during which he sank the Belgian Prince he encountered a ship which could fight back. A British destroyer saw him on the surface, headed for him at top speed, and meanwhile opened fire with every gun that would bear. The submarine was obviously hit at once, for she failed to submerge in time, and the destroyer succeeded in ramming.

It is claimed in Germany for Kaptain-Lieutenant Rudolf Schneider, of U-87, that he sank his Majesty's ship Formidable and destroyed altogether 130,000 tons of merchant shipping; the claims do not specify the number of defenceless lives that were destroyed with the tonnage. One of the vessels sunk was the steamship Arabic. Although at this time, Germany had not arrogated to herself the right to sink all vessels at sight, the Arabic was torpedoed and sunk without any warning. There were some 400 souls on board at the time, but, thanks to the admirable discipline which prevailed, only about one-tenth of this number was lost. In October of 1917 Schneider was washed overboard from the decks of his craft and drowned, and upon her next cruise the submarine met a British patrol boat in the Irish Sea and was destroyed. It was Christmas Day; she saw her enemy in time and submerged to escape. The patrol boat, one of those anti-submarine ships, went to work according to the rules of this new warfare. The great depth charges were let go over and around the spot where U-87 had vanished; their terrific explosions, transmitting themselves undiminished through the incompressible medium of the water, tore her delicate electric mechanism to pieces and forced her to the surface. The guns above were waiting, but there was little need for them, for the patrol boat bore down on her, at racing speed, rammed her amidships with a stem like an axe-head and cut her in half. She sank gushing oil and air; no survivors came to the surface.

The officer who torpedoed the Sussex in March of 1916 was Oberleutnant-zur See Herbert Pustkuchen, commanding UB-20. He was younger than the others mentioned above, having entered the navy only in 1908, but he had had time, in his brief service, to earn for himself the Iron Cross of the First Class and the Order of the House of Hohenzollern of the Third Class. He afterward was given command of the UB-66 and was lost to his country in June, 1917, when a trawler sighted the jumping wires of a partially submerged submarine, which was proceeding at four or five knots. The trawler immediately headed for the submarine, which disappeared below the surface of the water. A depth bomb was dropped and found its mark, for a series of heavy explosions followed, one in particular causing an upheaval three times the height of the others. In the meanwhile other trawlers had joined in the fray and had dropped depth bomb charges. Then there was a great silence; not a sound was heard by the eager listeners on the trawlers, but a mass of oil on the surface bore witness to the fact that the submarine had met the doom that she richly deserved.

These are but four in that long and growing list of names that shall endure unforgotten as long as the war is remembered. To them there has yet to be added that other list, the names of the submarine commanders—such as he who sank the hospital ship Llandovery Castle and murdered the Canadian nurses, and the men in the boat—who are yet living. For all of them the fame they sought is secure.

MORALE.

Explanation Given of the Much-used Word.

Toward the close of the war a new word began to come to the front in all discussions of the struggle. The word was "morale." The term is discussed by William Ernest Hocking in the Atlantic Monthly. Pointing out that "it is seldom physical force that decides a long war," he says:

"Perhaps the simplest way of explaining the meaning of morale is to say that what 'condition' is to the athlete's body, morale is to the mind. Morale is condition; good morale is good condition of the inner man: it is the state of will in which you can get most from the machinery, deliver blows with the greatest effect, take blows with the least depression, and hold out for the longest time. It is both fighting power and staying power, and strength to resist the mental infections which fear, discouragement and fatigue bring with them—such as eagerness for any kind of peace if only it gives momentary relief, or the irritability that sees large the defects in one's own side until they seem more important than the need of defeating the enemy. And it is the perpetual ability to come back.

"From this it follows that good morale is not the same as good spirits or enthusiasm. It is anything but the cheerful optimism of early morning, or the tendency to be jubilant at every victory. It has nothing in common with the emotionalism dwelt on by psychologists of the 'crowd.' It is hardly to be discovered in the early stages of war. Its most searching test is found in the question, How does war-weariness affect you?

"No one going from America to Europe in the last year could fail to notice the wide difference between the minds of nations long at war and that of a nation just entering. Over there, 'crowd-psychology' had spent itself. There was little flag waving; the common purveyors of music were not everywhere playing (or allowed to play) the national airs. If, in some Parisian cinema, the 'Marseillaise' was given, nobody stood or sang. The reports of atrocities roused little visible anger or even talk—they were taken for granted. In short, the simpler emotions had been worn out, or rather, had resolved themselves into clear connections between knowledge and action. The people had found the mental gait that can be held indefinitely. Even a great advance finds them on their guard against too much joy. As the news from the second victory of the Marne begins to come in, we find this despatch:

"'Paris refrains from exultation.'

"And in the trenches the same is true in even greater degree. All the bravado and illusion of war are gone, also all the nervous revulsion; and in their places a grimly reliable resource of energy held in instant, almost mechanical readiness to do what is necessary. The hazards which it is useless to speculate about, the miseries, delays, tediums, casualties, have lost their exclamatory value and have fallen into the sullen routine of the day's work. Here it is that morale begins to show in its more vital dimensions. Here the substantial differences between man and man, and between side and side, begin to appear as they can never appear in training camp."

A House That Sings.

Among the many strange buildings in India one of the most curious is a house which actually sings. Except for its extraordinary exterior decorations, it is, to all appearances, no different from other buildings in the neighborhood, but as the wind sweeps round its niches and eaves a very curious singing noise is emitted, which can be heard for some distance down the street.

For a long time the music remained a mystery, but at last an engineer solved the puzzle. He discovered that the sound was caused by the material with which the house was built—a porous cork stone, and the wind, blowing through the little holes, was the cause of the music. The building is known as the Palace of the Winds, and is situated at Geypore.—Tit-Bits.

Macaroni a Flesh-builder.

According to a British scientist, weight for weight, macaroni is as valuable a flesh-building food as beef or mutton.

All Biblical Towns.

It was at Lydda, which was "nigh unto Joppa," that Peter restored Aeneas, "who had kept his bed eight years and was sick of the palsy," and it was, of course, in Joppa itself that Peter restored Tabitha to life. Here also he lodged for a time "with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the seaside," and it was here that he saw the wonderful vision which taught him the universality of Christianity.

Flightless Parrot.

When Macquarrie island, situated 600 miles to the south of New Zealand, was discovered in 1810, it was inhabited by a peculiar flightless parrot described by a contemporary who saw numbers of the birds which were brought to Sydney by sealers as "the gibbest of the loquacious tribe." Recent investigation of the island makes it almost certain that this strange, isolated specimen of the parrot family is completely extinct, probably as a result of the introduction of cats, which have become wild and overrun the island.

First Use of Toilet Vinegar.

Perhaps the ladies who use toilet vinegar would like to know its origin. The story runs like this: During the great plague that visited Marseilles four highwaymen who had formed a gang, invented an aromatic vinegar by means of which they could rob the dead and dying without any fear of infection. This vinegar was for a long time known in France under the name of "Vinaigre de quatre Voleur," and eventually became toilet vinegar.

Perhaps.

Lucky is the man who marries a widow whose first husband was mean to her.—Chicago Evening Post.

Optimistic Thought.

Merit does not always receive its reward.

"PLAYING DEAD."

Strategy of Animals Is Hard to Explain.

Old Possum is playing dead. Why does he do it? Of course, it is a piece of deep strategy peculiar to the sagacious intellect of the beast. The scientist, however, is a very sceptical person, and he questions even the subtle brains of the possum, although it is perfectly certain that the worthy animal does lie mute and motionless until a convenient time arrives for a getaway.

Dr. Etienne Rabaud, Maitre des Conferences of the Sernenne, writing in the Scientific American, denies any "playing dead" or "lie still" theories on the part of animals.

When one suddenly seizes a cockroach it immediately folds its legs against its body, draws down its head and its antennae and remains motionless. Other arthropoids (crustaceans, spiders, myriapods, insects) behave in a very similar fashion.

This has suggested comparison with death, and it is a common saying that the animals are "Playing Dead." A phenomenon which is superficially similar has been observed among vertebrates. Some observers agree with Darwin that the immobility leads the enemy astray, that they appear not to attack dead creatures. Moreover, the attitude and the coloration, together with entire immobility, often render the animal completely invisible, hence it can more readily escape.

In birds and mammals immobilization can be occasioned at will. In the seventh century Kircher immobilized fowls merely by turning them upon their backs. The experiment can be successfully made with any kind of bird. I have performed it with sparrows, with a wryneck and with the finch, immediately after their capture, thus excluding all idea of training. The same result can be obtained with various mammals, especially with mice.

What is the nature of this immobility? Some naturalists—there are few nowadays to be sure—still think that this action is both voluntary and conscious. The majority, however, following Darwin and Romanes, recognise that it is scarcely reasonable to attribute it to any idea of death, which would be the simulation of a state which is unknown to the animal simulating it.

Soul That Is Truly Great.

Emerson, that greatest of modern philosophers, has told us that it is easy when in a crowd to allow ourselves to be swayed by the opinions about us and comparatively easy to keep our individuality and sweetness when alone, but that the great soul is he who in the midst of a mass of other individuals can still keep the poise and sweetness of solitude.

Beets Help Soil.

Beet crops have the effect of stimulating the soil. Observations made abroad show that after beets have been grown on the land there has been an increase in the yield of wheat of 5.59 bushels per acre; rye, 1.59; barley, 6.51, and oats, 5.77. Cattle have increased and the nut income has been raised as high as 70 per cent.

Phonograph Educational Factor.

The phonograph as an educational factor has tremendous value. Through this means the children can become familiar with all that is best in music, either vocal or instrumental; they can learn not only the music but about the composers, and the great men and women who sing and play various instruments.

Put Hard Things First.

The person who puts the disagreeable duty first in order is the one who is pretty sure to succeed. The impulse which leads us to postpone anything hard and unpleasant as long as we can is something which will prove our undoing, unless we are on our guard.

Just What She Wanted.

There was a shriek and a splash, followed by another splash immediately afterward, as the would-be rescuer swam to where the lady had disappeared under the water. He caught her as she struggled to the surface and sought to calm her. "Don't struggle, madam," he spluttered. "We are quite safe; the lake is quite calm and as clear as a mirror and—" "Well, let go my arms, then," said the now comforted lady, "and let me look into it. I think my hair is coming down."

Undertaker Invented Phone

Inventors who have new ideas are foreign to their vocations of business may derive encouragement from the fact that the inventor of the first practical system of automatic telephony was Almon B. Strowger of Kansas City, who took out a patent in 1890. The inventor of the Strowger system was an undertaker who was in no way connected with electrical engineering or with any telephone enterprise.

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

TELLS RHEUMATISM SUFFERERS TO TAKE SALT AND GET RID OF URIC ACID.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress a warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink a lot of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settin in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to elliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which, overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

RECENT CHANGES IN PENSION LAWS

ORDER-IN-COUNCIL PROVIDES FOR THE PROSPECTIVE DEPENDENT.

Order-in-Council P.C. 3070, which was recently passed by the Government to eliminate certain defects in the existing Pension Regulations does not, ascertain accounts might lead one to suppose, introduce an entirely new set of Pension Regulations.

There are important clauses in the new Order-in-Council which add considerably to the powers of the Pension Commissioners. Chief amongst these is that which applies to cases of prospective dependency.

The claims of prospective dependents have now been officially recognized and the amendment contained in P.C. 3070 will enable the Board of Pension Commissioners to award Pension to a large number of Soldiers' dependents who, under the old regulations, were ineligible.

Another important clause which will have a far-reaching effect is that which empowers the Commissioners to award pension to parents or persons in the place of a parent of a deceased soldier in accordance with the degree of their dependency on the deceased soldier, and, in accordance with their needs.

Formerly it was necessary that these persons should have been wholly or mainly dependent on the deceased soldier to be entitled to pension. Now, however, cases where a state of only partial dependency existed, may be considered for pension. The phrase "In accordance with their needs" is self explanatory. If, for example, the dependents just referred to are in receipt of an income sufficient to provide for their support, pension may be refused.

Wide publicity has been given through the press to the clauses relating to cases of "Special Hardship," but no general ruling can be laid down regarding cases which may come within this category. It will be the task of the Board of Pension Commissioners carefully to investigate all doubtful cases, and if it is considered that they come within this category to submit them to the Governor in Council for a final decision as to whether or not pension shall be awarded.

Memorial Tablet For Y.M.C.A. Heroes

The Y.M.C.A. intend erecting a memorial tablet in their building in this city, upon which will be inscribed the names of the members who have fallen in the war. in order to raise funds sufficient to accomplish this it has been decided to hold a minstrel entertainment, which will be held upon a date to be fixed later, but which will be in the early part of the month of May.

Mr. Asa Huycke is supervising the training of those taking part and at the last practice there were 38 minstrels in attendance. Tonight a second practice is being held and everyone interested is urged to be present.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

Cavan and South Monaghan Represented at Gathering in Cavanville---Reports From Various Departments.

The Sunday School Association of Cavan and South Monaghan was held in the Cavanville Methodist Church on Wednesday, Jan. 22, afternoon and evening. The president Mr. R. B. Elliott, occupied the chair at the afternoon session, and after a devotional period of singing and scripture reading, conducted by Rev. W. H. Clarke, and prayer by Rev. Joseph Wilkes, reports were called for from the seventeen schools of the association and rom department superintendents. Very encouraging reports were received in spite of the fact that the influenza epidemic had closed many of the schools for several Sundays.

Rev. M. W. Leigh, B.A., of Fraserville, placed a measuring line on the schools and S. S. workers in an address on the theme, "Increasing in Value." Progress is the watchword alike for material and spiritual affairs. Three things are needed in all worthy endeavor—a high aim, a dauntless will and a faith in God Taking the ten-point standard as a test of school efficiency, he urged each school to aim to reach that standard. Individual S. S. workers must make use of personal Bible study, teacher training opportunities, and more careful preparaton for their particular duties in the school.

Rev. W. P. Fletcher, secondary division superintendent of the Provincial Sunday School Association, dwelt on the problems of the rural school, and said that lack of confidence, in what it could accomplish, is the great hindrance to the success of the country school. He believes that the higher standard being set for convenience and methods in country life would lead to a higher idea of the kind of building and equipment necessary and possible for the religious training of the boys and girls of the open country. A church must have for its object not only the glory of God, but the glory of the child. He gave an outline by which the Sunday School and church services might be conducted as one, giving a worship atmosphere to the Sunday School and bringing all the family to both Sunday School and church. The S. S. should know and reach the whole community, and difficulties are but challenges er also conducted an open conference, to more earnest work. Mr. Fletchin which many important questions came up for discussion.

The treasurer's report was presented, showing the need of more hearty support, and Rev. William Higgs called for the coming year and the full amount required was subscribed.

Tea was served in the Sunday School room of the church and about 100 delegates sat down to the enjoyment of the abundance provided by the ladies of the convention church.

The evening session opened at 7.30, by a song service and worship conducted by Rev. Dr. Lee, of Millbrook. The officers chosen by the nominating committee for 1919 were then elected, and installed by Rev. Mr. Fletcher. Those chosen are:

President—Mr. Bruce Sharpe.
Vice-President—Mr. William Tell.
Secretary-treasurer—Mr. James Douglas.
Supt. Boy's Work—Mr. J. L. Byam.
Supt. Girls' Work—Miss A. Careth.
Supt. A.B.C. Dept. — Mr. George McBain.
Supt. Temperance Dept.—Mr. M. H. Staples.
Supt. Missionary Dept.—Miss Emberson.
Supt. Junior Dept.—Mrs. James Douglas.
Supt. Home Dept.—Mrs. Robert Hooton.

Rev. A. H. McConnachie, of Centreville, gave a very earnest message on "The Sunday School's Greatest Need." "This," he said, "would seem to be the golden age of the Sunday School, the day of a great drive for its success. But organization is but the body. Is there a soul within of genuine spiritual interest in the true welfare of the boys and girls? Organization in the church may be the substitute of real spiritual life rather than its expression. We are in danger of taking for granted that there is a genuine interest on the part of teachers and scholars in the study of the Bible. Method is of great value, but there is no rule for teaching what you have not learned yourself. The greatest need of the school is the consecrated teach, and the influence that will travel farthest in the life of the pupil will be the devoted personality of the teacher. 'Feed my lambs', 'feed my sheep,' is a divine command and can be accomplished only by divine furnishing."

Mr. Joseph Wearing, M.A., of Peterboro, in an eloquent address on the "Vision Beautiful", said that nothing marks the character of a people more clearly than the ambition which they have for their children. The permanence and greatness of a nation is only ensured when its children are taught to live righteous hate iniquity." The "Vision Beautiful" for the children will become a reality, only when parents and teachers recognize fully their responsibility to nurture, by teaching and example, the finest possibilities in each unfolding child life.

In the closing address by Mr. Fletcher, he traced the development of the S. S. movement from primitive beginnings to the present efficiency, and showed that its present and future success would depend on earnest endeavor in the three great departments, the Cradle Roll, the Sunday School gathering and the Home Department.

A very pleasing feature of the program was the singing by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnston, of Millbrook, who sang in the evening session the hymn, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is."

The convention was favored with beautiful weather and was well attended and much enjoyed by all. The invitation of Millbrook was accepted as the place of holding the convention of next year.

GONE TO ENGLAND

Got Ring Last Week, Years Ago.

A boy was playing along the rocky coast of North Wales a short time ago, and trying to lift many of the loose rocks, saw a sparkling object lying underneath one of them. On being hoisted up this proved to be a valuable gold ring. When inquiries were made, it was found that it belonged to an old resident of the district, who had lost it in the sea over thirty years ago, when bathing.

Great Wrong Done Willie

There ought to be a severe penalty, for an alarm clock striking a blue note. One of these things got Willie out of bed an hour too early under the suggestion that he was an hour late, and landed him at the office like a runaway horse, before the janitors had finished their morning's work.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Really Fine Eulogy.

Here is a eulogy of a dead emir which Ibn Khallikan declares the Commander of the Faithful, as the Caliph of Bagdad was known, pronounces incomparable: "Now let misfortune do its worst, and time inflict its evils. There is no excuse for eyes which have not shed their tears."

Libel on Quartermasters.

An army padre tells this story: There was once a quartermaster who went to heaven. And he got a big job at once—because there were no other quartermasters there.

COST OF BOARD IN HOUSE OF REFUGE $2.43 A WEEK

Annual Report Sent in by Committee—Higher Pay is Suggested for Superintendent and Matron.

At this morning's sitting of the County Council Mr. Bernard Morrow, the registrar, asked Council to consider the advisability of closing his office at 1 o'clock on Saturdays. This was done in other county towns in proof of which statement he submitted a copy of a bylaw passed by the Council of Victoria County closing the registrary office in Lindsay on Saturday afternoons.

A deputation waited upon the Council in the interests of the Salvation Army Red Shield Drive. Mr. J. A. Aylmer, chairman of the campaign committee; Mr. G. N. Gordon, Mr. J. M. Linden, an American clergyman, who is assisting in the organization work, and Mr. Joseph Wearing spoke in the interests of a grant for this cause.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Grant to Children's Aid.

This year the Children's Aid Society are asking the County Council for an increase of $200 in the usual $400 grant to the Society. Mr. Joe. Wearing, the secretary, spoke in favor of such a move and was followed by Alderman Edgar, who explained the reasons for asking the County Council to increase the amount of money subscribed.

He stated that the city made a rash grant to the Society every year of $600 and in addtion furnished them with a fine building, tax free and a garden adjoining, which would amount to another $1000. The County only paid $400, and yet it was the work in the rural districts that entailed the most expense as it required the officials to travel. For these reasons it was felt that the County would be but doing its share if it increased its grant to $600.

Mr. G. W. Powell, agent of the Children's Aid Society, outlined some of the work which was being carried on in the interests of children who, if it were not for th eorganization he represented, would b chrought up in homes where the associations and surroundings would not be productive of character development. As it was many such children were sent out to farms every year and worked well and in the end would become good citizens.

The warden of the County was reminded that he was a member of the executive of the local branch of the Children's Aid Society and was cordiall yinvited to attend ts meeting in the Montreal Bank Chambers on the ecnod Tuesday of the month.

House of Refuge.

Chairman Nichols presented the report of the House of Refuge Committee, which spoke highly of the efficient manner in which Superintendent Campbell of the Home carried on his work. Everything was found in a satisfactory condition and the portion of the report dealing with the finances of this branch of the County's business follows:

Commenting upon the report of the House of Refuge Committee, Reeve Amerson expressed the opinion that when the efficiency of the work of the superintendent was considered it was doubtful whether the remuneration was sufficient. He felt that as time went on there should be some increase in salary.

Inspectors Hendren and Lees said their reports dealing with conditions in their respective districts and intimated that they were not in favor of an increase in their travelling allowance, which had remained the same during the past decade in spite of the upward tendency of prices charged.

Painful Dental Work.

In the time of Nero there were professional dentists who could replace lost teeth with artificial ones made of sycamore wood, which were fastened to their natural neighbors with gold wire. A gold plate with several teeth attached has been found in an Etruscan tomb. But those dentists knew nothing of the art of excavating and filling cavities. When a tooth became too painful they removed it, not by pulling it out by prying it out in a manner that must have been most distressing to the sufferer.

Evolution of the Lady Barber.

Some of you men seem to think that woman is not qualified to take her place at the barber chair. She's been trimming men ever since the first Hector was a pup; she took to singeing man's excrement the moment she spotted Adam trying to determine why he was a rib shy; and she began to shave when the first efficient male idiot decided that a weekly allowance for household expenses was the proper thing.—Letter in New York Sun.

Trebles Hardness of Leather.

A Norwegian engineer claims that he has discovered a process by which leather can be made two or three times as hard as it is normally, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. This is of very special interest in these days of high prices for footwear and other leather goods. While the leather can be made as hard as wood, it does not lose its elasticity, it is said, and also acquires greater resistance to both heat and moisture.

Roman Soldiers' "Smokes."

Records recently discovered show that the Roman soldiers in Caesar's time had their pipes. Of course they knew nothing about real tobacco, as that had not at that period been discovered. However, they did have pipes and they smoked lavender and hemp, and from all accounts they liked it and it served almost the same purpose. In fact, it is said to have been a great [illegible] to the soldiers.

Wasted Energy.

Eleanor, aged five, was autoing with her parents in the rural districts one cool summer evening. On approaching a farm that boasted of a windmill, she said: "Oh, mamma, the farmer's got his fan going on a cold night."—Chicago Examiner.

RED CROSS NURSES ON ALL TRAINS WITH SOLDIERS

Repatriation Committee, Red Cross Society and Patriotic Fund Work in Unison to Care for the Families of Returned Men

All expenses in connection with the placing of nurses upon the trains carrying soldiers' families who are arriving in Canada from overseas are being borne by the Canadian Red Cross Society. Reception and care of the families after arrival at their destination is provided by the funds of the Patriotic Society, which organization is continuing to carry on the good work of ministering to the needs of soldiers' families which was commenced in war time.

Red Cross and Patriotic Fund are now cooperating with the Repatriation Committee in furnishing all funds to carry on the after-care work in respect to the families of returned men.

Every train carries one or more nurses, generally several travel with each party. The Canadian Patriotic Fund issues identification cards which are distributed by the Red Cross nurses upon the trains. White cards identify those families who are going to a definite address, women who require accommodation over night carry a blue card, and those passing through the main dispersal points to further destinations are identified by a red card. These cards assist the patriotic workers who meet the trains to pick out the families requiring special attention with the minimum of trouble. When the journey is a specially tedious one, relief detachments of nurses are provided at suitable junctions. Each nurse is handed a card with the following instructions:

"The service for which you are engaged is to take care in the trains of the wives children and other dependents of soldiers returning to Canada from overseas. It is the desire of the people of Canada that they should reach their destination as comfortably as possible. With this object in view the Canadia Red Cross has undertaken at the request of the Government Committee on Repatriation, to furnish nursing care on trains carrying women and children.

"The Red Cross is responsible for paying your salary, transportation, for providing you with petty cash you require for telegrams, etc., also for extra nursing assistance, medical supplies and invalid foods for use in emergencies. The Patriotic Fund and Reception Committee will take charge of the reception and entertaining of women and children when they leave the train."

Each nurse is provided with sufficient petty cash to allow for provision and special necessities or loans being made to parties who are short Provision is also made to guard against special contingencies in case of sudden or serious illness among passengers.

The Red Cross Society hopes that you will be a friend as well as a nurse to the passengers under your charge remembering that in helping them you are helping the soldiers who have fought for us," is the parting message given to every nurse as she is sent forth to duty.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull, and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practise inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions, we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone its cleansing, sweetening and refreshing effect upon the system.

Kindly Message From California

Dear brother of my soul,

Wilson MacDonald.

I have been a crippled house prisoner for over two years. I do not live, I only exist. I have waited for my right hand to unbind so that I could acknowledge your Christmas book and letter.

Please write me how you are, and if I shall ever have an opportunity of making up for that lost in 1915.

The "Cup" you sent me is of pure gold and filled with the very nectar of the gods.

I loved your verse from the first I read. I love it more and more.

Thank God for you.

Jackson's Masonic Record Lost.

General Jackson was a noted Mason of the War of 1812, and it is claimed that he received his Masonry in an army lodge. As a matter of fact, no absolute record has ever been found of when and where Andrew Jackson was made a Mason. He afterward became grand master of the Grand Lodge of Tennessee. It is believed that the records of a lodge in Tennessee which were burned years ago would show it.

FILLS STOMACH WITH NEW ENERGY

Weak, Worn Out, Gassy, Sour Stomach Revived and Made to Enjoy Food With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Most of us eat three times a day and often forget that each meal hould be disposed of in the stomch to make room for the next. The failure of the stomach to do this is called indigestion or dyspepsia, with its sour risings, gas, rumblings, pain, depression and the feeling of stuffiness when breathing is difficult.

The most effective remedy and the most reliable one, because you can get it at any drug store in the United States or Canada, is Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, at 50 cents a box. Instead of depriving yourself of food or going on a starvation diet simply keep on as you have and let these tablets straighten out your stomach, digest the food and keep you in the fight.

Two British Generals Won Fame and Victory In War Against the Turks

OUTSIDE of the European field there are two British generals who claim attention, Maude, of Bagdad, and Allenby, of Jerusalem and Samaria. Of the former it is to be said that taking the Mesopotamian command after the surrender at Kut-el-Amara and following a shocking and scandalous failure he rivalled the best achievements of Kitchener in the Khartoum campaign and conducted a colonial campaign in a fashion which must remain a model for all the future. Unhappily, he died just after he had taken Bagdad and before he could enjoy the full fruits of his great labors. But he remains one of the great figures of that long and splendid succession of British colonial leaders. He gave Britain Mesopotamia and he ended all apprehension as to India. His warfare was the kind in which Britain has always led the world, and, apart from Kitchener, he can have no rival, such is the verdict of Frank Simmond, the well-known American war critics.

GEN. MAUDE.

Of Allenby there is a record in the west as well as in the east. He commanded a cavalry brigade in the Mons campaign. He held the Messines Ridge with a thin facade of horsemen in the critical days of Ypres, before the French aid came. After that he commanded the Third British Army, afterward to go to Byng in the Battle of Arras, in which he took Vimy Ridge, cleared Arras and pushed down into the Flanders Plain. The success of the spring of 1917 was the greatest achievement of the British in the war up to that time.

Later, when the British commander in Egypt failed at Gaza and the Palestine campaign was in danger, Allenby went east. He restored the situation and presently the world heard of him in Jerusalem. This was a ray of light in a dark period. But Allenby's great triumph was to come, when last September he crushed two Turkish armies in Samaria, captured the bulk of their forces and made the surrender of the Turk inevitable. This was one of the most complete victories in history. It resulted in the clearing of Palestine and Syria, the fall of Damascus, Aleppo and Beirut and the elimination of Turkey from the war. It will stand side by side with D'Esperey's success in Macedonia, won at the same moment and resulting in the surrender of Bulgaria.

German Ghosts.

Bearing curiously on the article on "Morale" is a fiction story, "The Tenth Man," by Centurian," in the Century Magazine. British army officers in hospital are listening to a story by Meredith, one of their number, of the demoralization of a Welsh regiment which followed the appearance of the ghost of an Australian at intervals in their trenches. After each appearance of the ghost the tenth man of the ration party was always found dead with no mark on him. A bullet stopped the "ghost" one night, and it was found to be a German officer dressed in the uniform of a dead Australian. The officer was armed with a needle-like piece of steel with which he stabbed the ration carrier through the heart from behind. Meredith concludes:

"Why should a Boche officer take all those risks merely to stab one poor devil of a ration carrier in the back? I'll tell you why, my friend. You've been fighting the Turk in Gallipoli, and the Turk's a gentleman more or less. He's a clean fighter. But the Hun doesn't confine himself to carnal weapons, and he's not exactly a perfect, gentle knight. Do you remember that passage in their War Book where their general staff says that to down the other fellow you must smash him 'spiritually' as well as physically? 'Terrorismus' I think they call it in their ugly lingo. I've often thought of it. Well, that Boche was trying to put the windup among our fellows. He knew we had only just taken over, he knew the Welsh temperament, and he knew we were full of new drafts. How did he know? You've not served in France, or you wouldn't ask that. But I admit it used to puzzle us ourselves in the early days till we discovered their telephonic tricks of eavesdropping — amplifiers, buried cables and all the rest of it. The whole forward area's a perfect whispering gallery. Our signaling companies have countered all that now. But just think of it all — every psychological detail worked out like a plan of operations! Yes, the Hun's a devil, isn't it hot? Pass the soda water, please."

German Revolutionists Take Spartacus the Roman To Be Their Inspiration

ACCORDING to reports coming over from Berlin, Germany, like the true sentimentalist she has always been, has decided to take her defeat in a style worthy of the ancient Romans. Not the least theatrical in the play of events there is the rise of a Bolshevist party under the leadership of Karl Liebknecht. Not satisfied with the ultra-modern name of Bolshevikl, this leader has gone back into the archives of Rome and has emerged with a treasure of a name for his followers, the Spartacus group, or the Spartacides, as they are now commonly called.

In a recent despatch it was stated that Liebknecht, exponent of anti-militarism, addressed the populace of Berlin, calling them to rally to his aide, from a truck protected by good, militaristic machine guns. So, perhaps, he imagines the Roman slave stood, surrounded by the weapons of warfare of his own time and fashion, for the famous address, beloved of all schoolboys, which has been put into his mouth.

"Ye call me chief; and ye do well to call him chief who, for twelve long year, has met upon the arena every shape of man or beast the Lroad Empire of Rome could furnish, and who never yet lowered his arm. If there be one among you who can say that ever, in public fight or private brawl, my actions did belie my tongue let him stand forth and say it. If there be three in all your company, can face me on the bloody sands, let them come on. And yet, I was not always thus—a hired butcher, a savage chief of still more savage men!"

With equal truth and equal justice might the leader of the Spartacus group in Germany say that he was not always thus. The ancient Spartacus goes on to tell how he had been a peaceful shepherd in the valleys of Thrace when the Romans came to Greece and captured him, making him one of the slave gladiators of the dissolute metropolis. As it is known in history, he called the 50 other gladiators of the School of Capua to his side and started one of the most fearsome revolutions in Rome, which lasted from 73 B.C. to 71 B.C.

At that time Rome was in a state of moral disintegration, which allowed of luxurious living and wild dissipation on the one hand and keen suffering from famine and autocratic oppression on the other. The corn laws providing for the gratuitous feeding of the starving proletariat in Rome had to be continually changed to meet the demands of the people. The armies of the state were absent on foreign service. All these things made the moment ripe for the uprising of Spartacus. Before very long he had gathered a vast army recruited from the ranks of suffering Thracians, Gauls and Germans. The armies of Rome met with defeat after defeat at their hands and for a time it looked as though the tables of Rome were being turned in a manner vastly distasteful to the ruling classes. But, as is true in most rapidly rising militant movements, there was dissension in the ranks of the victorious slaves and the army divided in two, some going to the side of one Crixus, a rival leader, the rest standing firm by Spartacus. All the members of the ranks were, however, agreed on one point, that to the victorious army belonged the spoils of their conquests. As a result, much against the wishes of Spartacus, the soldiers, drunk with power, pillaged, raped and plundered the country in a manner vastly superior to that of their aforetime oppressers. In the end, of course, the superior forces of the organized Roman armies defeated them and made a terrible example of them by crucifying 5,000 rebel soldiers on the Appian Way. Spartacus died like a true soldier, with his sword in his hand.

The story marks one of the bloodiest pages in Roman history, and in Berlin they are finding other Roman parallels.

ACETYLENE LIGHT PAYS

It Gives Safe and Efficient Service at Reasonable Cost.

To Ensure Strong and Healthy Foals, Pregnant Mares Must Be Given Exercise, Be Properly Fed and Have Careful Stable Attendance.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

ACETYLENE lighting is not by any means a new thing in this country as there are homes here and there in village and countryside in which this system of lightning has been in use for many years. Many improvements have been made in the mechanism of the plant, so that now this system is considered to be absolutely safe and reliable if it receives reasonable care and attention. The cost, of course, is rather more since the war, but even at the present price it is an investment that will return high dividends, probably not always directly in dollars and cents, but in better health, more comfort, less labor and genuine satisfaction for those living in the home, because acetylene gas in burning produces less heat, consumes less oxygen and forms less carbon dioxide than kerosene, for example, and makes a far more brilliant light than even electricity, and it is easier on the eyes. It may also be used for cooking in the house and it is also well adapted for street lighting of villages and small towns.

The acetylene lighting plant consists of a gas generator, gas service piping, and gas jets or chandeliers. The generators vary in size according to amount of gas required, one for the home being, of course, much smaller than that required for a large institution or village. The chief parts of the generator are: Water chamber, carbide holder, gas holder, gas filter, gas washer, gas intake pipe, feed pipe, safety vent, sludge agitator and automatic carbide feeder device. The generator for a home requires only a few square feet of space, as it is very compactly constructed. It is usually placed in the basement, and it is very important that it be kept safe from frost.

The operation of the plant is as follows: The chemical substance used for making the gas is calcium carbide, the same material that is used in bicycle lamps, for instance. Automatically this chemical is fed into the water chamber as fast as the gas is used in lights. In contact with the water it forms a gas known as acetylene gas, which collects in the gas holder from which is passes through small iron pipes to the lights. In the most modern plants no gas can possibly be generated except as it is required, hence there is no chance, as was true of earlier types of plants, for the gas to accumulate under pressure in the plant and leak out, and become ignited by a raw flame, resulting in an explosion. The automatic feed should be examined occasionally and every care taken to keep it in first-class working order. The directions that come with the plant should be followed accurately and religiously. The writer knows of several plants owned by farmers for many years, and in all cases under proper care the results have been very satisfactory. What does it cost? This question can be answered very generally as costs vary with size of plant, etc. In general I would say the initial cost would be about $200, including generator, pipes, chandeliers and the work of installation for the average-sized farm home. The carbide for a year will cost in the neighborhood of $12 to $15. Detailed information regarding installation, etc., will be answered upon request by the writer.—R. R. Graham, B.S.A., O. A. College, Guelph.

Winter Care of Pregnant Mares.

Those who have had experience in horse breeding have noticed that a considerable percentage of the spring colts, especially those born before the mares are on pasture, are weakly, often not able to stand, and sometimes without sufficient ambition to nurse when held up and the teat introduced into the mouth. It will also be observed that foals of this description are usually those of dams that have been pampered during the winter months—those that have been well fed, and kept in the stable most of the time without exercise.

The pregnant mare should be well fed and given regular exercise or light work. The idea that she should not be well fed is not uncommon. The foetus is daily increasing in size. This growth does not take place without nutriment. The nutriment must be supplied by the blood of the dam, and, as nutriment is not a normal product of the blood, but is supplied by the food the animal eats, we can readily see that the pregnant animal has not only her own tissues to nourish, but also those of a growing foetus, which, in the latter months of gestation is no small matter. Hence we see that the pregnant mare requires more food than her non-pregnant sister of the same like that is doing the same work. Good hay and oats are the foods to be relied upon to provide nourishment, and these should be fed in quantities proportionate to the size of the animal and the grain in proportion to the amount of work or exercise given. In addition she should be given a few raw roots daily, and a feed of bran with a cupful of linseed meal at least twice weekly. She should also be given all the good water she will drink at least three times daily.

A pregnant mare should, where possible, be provided with a large, comfortable box stall when in the stable. This, we may say, is necessary after the ninth month of gestation, as parturition may take place at any time after this.—J. H. S., O. A. College, Guelph.

CAPES FOR WINTER

Warm, Roomy Garments Are Sure to Be in High Favor.

Will Do Good Service for Afternoon or Evening Wear and Protect Most Elaborate Frocks.

The problem of planning your winter wardrobe this autumn is not only one of style and becomingness. It is actually one of planning to keep warm, for undoubtedly with a minimum of artificial heat in our houses and a minimum of woolen clothes on the market, good warm clothes will be in great demand and will be accordingly high in price, comments a fashion correspondent.

Now, if you are wondering about your next winter's wrap you cannot do better than to decide on a cape or a cape coat. There was danger last winter when they were first launched and taken up enthusiastically among well dressed women in the larger cities that they would be run to the ground before this autumn came around. But they weren't. The public did not grasp the idea with such mad enthusiasm that they were ready to cast it aside in a few months. In fact, the price of capes was too considerable to permit this to happen, and the price has remained fairly high because a cape requires quite a little material and it is the sort of garment in which really inferior fabric cannot be camouflaged by the cut and design into looking smart. The success of a cape depends on actual quality, not on skillful manipulation or designing of the material.

And now manufacturers of women's clothes and dressmakers say that capes are to be in the best favor this winter. So far as style is concerned you will not go wrong in making this selection. Another advantage about a cape is this, that while this year it will look quite all right for street wear and going about the stores and shops in the daytime, it will also do service for afternoon and evening wear. It will serve to add warmth to the simplest street frock and likewise to protect the most elaborate of your dress-up frocks.

Moreover, a cape can be worn over an autumn or spring suit to very nice advantage, although a coat might not slip over the sleeves of a suit. Hence, you can make a left-over lightweight suit suffice all winter if you choose.

And there is another advantage. Difficult as it is to make cheap capes look well, you actually can make a cape at home without having it look home-madey, which is more than one can say of most homemade coats. You see, everything is in the material, and you would be far wiser to put, say, $15 or $18 in material of fine quality from which to make a cape than to try a ready-made wrap that you could buy for that price.

JACK DEMPSEY SURE TO BE PICKED TO FACE WILLARD

That Is Opinion of Fistic Experts With Regard to the Match for $100,000 Recently Arranged.

Jack Dempsey of Salt Lake City, who has been clamoring for a championship boxing match with Jess Willard, heavyweight titleholder, will probably be the man selected to do battle with the big Kansan on the date which Tex Rickard will announce before March 25, for Willard's next ring competition.

The selection of Dempsey seems a foregone conclusion, since there is no other aspirant on the pugilistic horizon who overshadows Dempsey in comparison. The Salt Lake City heavyweight has consistently pounded and battered his way to the forefront of pugilism's limelight, toppling over with apparent ease those who would question his right to such recognition, until there is no one left in the field who is capable of giving Willard's annoyer serious contention.

Carpentier Not Likely Candidate.

Talk of effecting a visit to this country of Georges Carpentier, Europe's premier heavyweight, is not given serious consideration by the followers of boxing. Carpentier is engaged in his war duties in France and there is no immediate indication of his release from his war services. It is generally conceded that the physical advantages in such a bout would be so overwhelmingly in Willard's favor as to make for one-sided competition.

Speculation is rife on what location will be accepted by Promoter Rickard as the scene of the bout. It is stipulated that the contest is to be for any number of rounds up to 40. Promoter Rickard and the general boxing public favors a distance bout, which will produce a decisive winner. In only a few states in the union are long contests permitted, and in some of these states the chief executives have strongly objected to pretentious bouts such as the proposed match will be. The governors of Connecticut and Maryland both set themselves as unalterably against a meeting between Willard and Fred Fulton, when Colonel J. C. Miller of Ranch 101 fame was planning such a bout, and it is not likely the opinions of these executives will change in the time between now and July 4th. Colorado also permits distance bouts, as does Louisiana, but in is a matter of conjecture what attitude will be taken by the governors of these two states on the proposed Willard match. Tia Juana, a post-village of San Diego, Cal., permits distance bouts also.

Richard Not Bound to America.

Promoter Rickard is not bound by the terms of the agreement between himself and the champion to promote the contest in this country, so that if necessity demanded the match could be held in Havana, where Willard beat Jack Johnson for the title four years ago. It is expected, though, that the match will be held in this country.

When Rickard secured Willard's signature to articles of agreement calling for the champion's appearance in a title bout, the western promoter added another chapter to his enviable record as a promoter of important boxing matches. Rickard has the distinction of being the promoter of the most successful match of ring history. This was the bout between Jack Johnson and Jim Jeffries, at Reno, Nev., on July 4, 1910. The sum of $270,775 was paid by 18,020 spectators to see this battle, for which a purse of $121,000 was hung up by Promoter Rickard. Rickard also promoted the Battling Nelson-Joe Gans lightweight championship bout at oldfield, Nev., in September, 1906, and the Willard-Frank Moran ten-round bout at Madison Square garden three years ago. This is the only contest in which Willard participated since gaining the title.

Faith in Dreams.

The faith of some people in dreams is strikingly illustrated by the story of Mrs. Fry, of Lewes, who although repeatedly informed by the War Office, the commanding officer, and the chaplain of his regiment that her son was killed fifteen months ago, steadfastly refused to believe he was dead, simply because she dreamt he was alive.

Constant dreams of her son buoyed up her hopes, and she expressed herself as in no way astonished when at last she heard that he was a prisoner in Germany.

Ten days before the Titanic disaster the Hon. J. C. Middleton, vice-president of the Akron-Canton Railway in Ohio, who had booked a passage on the ill-fated liner dreamt he saw the ship capsized in mid-ocean and a lot of passengers struggling in the water. The following night he dreamt exactly the same thing, and this so impressed him that he decided to cancel his passage.

Mr. Melton Prior, the famous war correspondent, once told the writer how, on two occasions while in Africa, at the time of the Zulu war, he dreamt that he saw himself shot and witnessed his own funeral. Later, on arrival at Durban, he received a letter from his mother stating that she had had a precisely similar dream, and begging him not to go with a certain expedition. The coincidence so impressed him that he obtained a substitute, who was killed with the rest of the members of the expedition.—Tit-Bits.

Gasoline Street Sweepers.

The new gasoline street sweepers operate so quickly and so cheaply that they threaten to do away entirely with the old horse-drawn apparatus. One three-wheeler, gasoline-driven machine is counted equal to four horse-drawn sweepers. It clears the street to within 16 inches of the curb at a cost of seven cents a thousand yards.

Making Sure.

Several years ago, at the funeral of a well-known fire insurance official much detested by his staff, it was remarked that an unexpectedly large number of them attended. On one of them being asked for an explanation, he said: "We wouldn't have missed it on any account; we want to be sure that he is buried."

Saving Grain From Fire.

A South Dakota builder has suggested a simple method of saving grain in country elevators from fire. The grain bins should be provided with trap doors in the outer walls of the building. In case of fire the doors are opened and the grain pours out on the ground.

Human Brain [illegible].

Science hopes that in time it may discover the method whereby the billions of brain cells operate in making us the thinking creatures we are. It would know why the large mind is not always the large brain; why we reach our everyday conclusions in the diversified affairs; why we act, plot, scheme; why, as has been asserted, the brain can stand the strain of persistent work better than the muscles of the body.

Alleviates Earache.

If earache does not occur often possibly home treatment will alleviate the suffering, which is always so severe while it lasts. Wring out hot cloths and apply them to the ear. This often brings quick relief. Or moisten a small piece of cotton, saturated with sweet oil or laudanum, and put it carefully in the ear. This is usually sufficient if the trouble is caused by the hardening of the wax.

Less Better.

It's a darned sight better to be able enough at life than to have it easy.—Baltimore Sun.

No Match Famine.

Every few days one reads in the papers stories about a "match famine," but the largest manufacturers assert that there is no need for alarm from that source. There is, they say, a certain shortage in "strike-on-the-box" matches, due to the fact that all foreign matchmakers, especially the Swedes, are having trouble in getting materials, and are shipping here very few matches of that sort, while the United States government has virtually commandeered the output of that type of match made in America for use in the army and navy.

But as for household matches there are plenty of the well-known brands to be had, and no prospect of a shortage. A few of the small manufacturers occasionally have a period of shortage in certain materials, but the big companies are turning out plenty.

She Was a Poor Picker.

"Shame has driven many a man into the ranks," declared Lord Northcliffe, "and in this regard we have to thank the women of the nation for turning many a would-be slacker into an excellent soldier. Sometimes, however, they are overzealous or make mistakes. A case of this sort happened recently on a London bus.

A young man offered a lady his seat. Imagine his surprise when she drew herself up haughtily and exclaimed: "I don't accept favors from slackers."

But he was not taken aback. Instead, he regarded the lady critically and then replied:

"Madam, I was all through Gallipoli, and if we had had as much powder down there as you have on your nose, results would have been different."

Proper Disposal of Flags.

"Old and worn-out flags should be destroyed as a whole, privately, preferably by burning. Do not cast them aside or use them in any way that might be thought disrespectful to the flag," says the adjutant general of the United States army.

Sight Not to Be Forgotten.

When one is fortunate enough to see a line of swans etched upon the sky near sunset, a mile or more high, as has been my luck but twice in my life, one has seen something he will not soon forget.—John Burroughs.

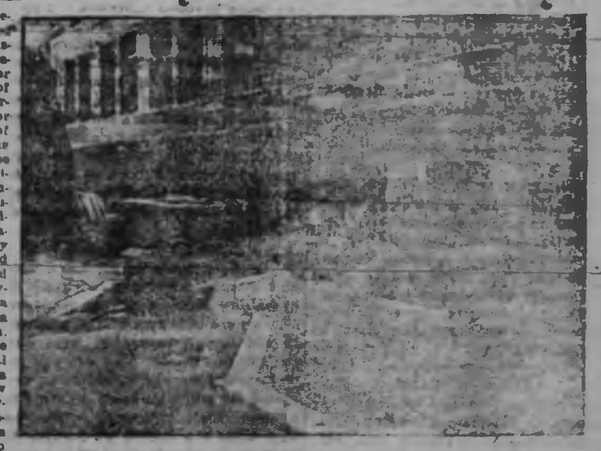
Educating Returned Soldiers

ABOUT 18 months ago it first became possible for a returned soldier, who had been so disabled by service that it was impossible for him to resume his former civil occupation, to take a course of training under government supervision and pay, which fitted him for some new occupation, the pursuit of which would not be prevented by his disability. In other words, his case was carefully considered, his disability taken into account, and his training arranged so that in his new occupation he could develop 100% efficiency. As an example take a machinist who had lost a leg; obviously his disability was such that he could not resume that occupation. He had a knowledge of blue prints and drawing and some latent ability in a drawing line. He was passed for a course as a mechanical draughtsman. At the termination of his course he was employed at a wage nearly equal to his wage as a machinist. The loss of a leg was no handicap as his new occupation did not call for any moving around. Thus this man, seriously handicapped as a machinist, was enabled to overcome his handicap and compete successfully with any other draughtsman.

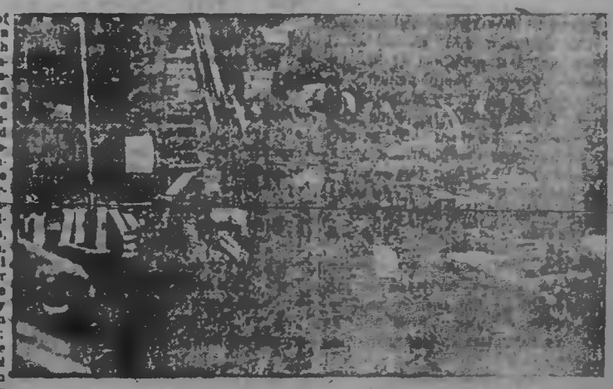
Owing to the increasing number of different trades and occupations in which it was necessary to train such men it became imperative that training places should be found. Obviously if a man was to be trained for a position in a machine shop, the place to train him was right in the particular machine shop in which he would eventually be employed. This resulted in the institution of industrial surveys. One of the first industries in Montreal to be surveyed was the Angus Shops (Canadian Pacific Railway). It can readily be understood that these shops, employing thousands of skilled men, in practically all kinds of mechanical work, offered great opportunities for the training of disabled men. The above mentioned industrial survey consisted of a detailed report on every position in the Angus Shops; it showed among other things the exact nature of the work done and what disabilities would hinder a man from doing the work. This survey was a guide to the District Vocational Officer, as a reference to it showed immediately what mechanical work a disabled man would be physically able to do without being troubled by his disability.

From the outset every official of the C. P. R. who was approached expressed great interest in the work, and by co-operation rendered most material assistance in the re-instating of disabled soldiers in civilian occupations.

The general scheme of training adopted by the Invalided Soldiers' Commission is to give any man taking a machine shop training about three-quarters of his course in the machine shop at McGill University, then place him out with an industry such as the Angus Shops to finish that course and gain the necessary practical experience. During the time that the man is taking this training he is drawing full pay and allowances from the Invalided Soldiers' Commission so the firm with which he is working is not called on to pay him anything. In this way the man becomes accustomed to his work in a place where he will probably be employed at the termination of his course, and the employer, having had the man under him for some time, knows something about his work. This method generally results in disabled men being absorbed into the industries for which they have been trained with no gap between termination of course and employment and is thus satisfactory to all concerned.



Cabinet Making, Angus Shops.



Making a locomotive side rod bushing.

It might appear from the foregoing that the employment offered by the C. P. R. to men being trained by the Invalided Soldiers' Commission is confined to positions in the Angus Shops. Such however is not the case. Every department has taken on men clerks, draughtsmen, telegraphers.

In some industries there has been a tendency to fight shy of the returned men, the reasons stated being his inability and apparent lack of power of concentration on his work. Not so with the C. P. R. Every consideration is shown the returned man and every possible allowance is made which will assist him in re-establishing himself in civil life. The attitude taken by the higher officials of the C. P. R. in regard to disabled soldier students is mirrored in the following letter of instructions issued to foremen:—

THE RETURNED SOLDIER AS AN EMPLOYEE.

How do you treat a returned soldier working under you? Do you consider him as an ordinary workman, let him shift for himself and look on his mistakes as you would an ordinary workman? If so, you are assuming that he is in all respects that a normal man and should be able to do the same work as quickly and as well as the average employee. If you do you are wrong.

Many returned soldiers constitutions are broken down. They have been passed shell shocked and tortured by wounds and consequently are highly strung and nervous and will be for some time to come. What they make of themselves depends on you. If one of these men make a mistake and is roughly reprimanded, he is likely to play like a fool and get excited, etc., and be very difficult to make anything of; this is wrong. The greatest tact, care and attention that you can give those men in helping them to become useful employees is what the Company expects and, moreover, you owe it to them.

There are bound to be some exceptions and some men will fail to make good. The success or failure of the majority, however, depends on you, and it is your privilege to help your country in this national crisis by endeavoring to make useful citizens out of the nerve shattered men that are commencing to come back to us from the front.

Is further proof of the interest of the C. P. R. necessary? No!

Now for results. Of the first hundred men to complete Industrial Reeducational Courses in this unit, ten were employed by the C. P. R. on the termination of their courses. Up to date, about two hundred men have completed courses and now many of these men are employed by the C. P. R., i. e.: These men have taken courses in no less than 12 different trades, so it is obvious that the C. P. R. is assisting splendidly.

NINE RURAL

bors, higher salaries must be paid. This is not said in the interests of the teachers, but in the interests of the boys and girls in the schools and the general educational progress of our rural communities.

Financial Matters.

The grants for last year were somewhat larger than for the previous year, the total increase being about $1000. The chief gain was in the grant on account of salaries and certificates. To this grant there was added a pro rata addition of nine per cent., the amount appropriated being in excess of that required to meet the schedule. The Assisted Schools' grant has not yet been paid, but if the whole amount asked for is paid, it will be slightly below the amount of the previous year. This is owing to the fact that, following instructions from the Department, no grants were asked for in the case of schools where teachers had no professional training and held only temporary certificates. The purpose of this fund is to enable trustees in the poorer sections to secure educational advantages equal to those enjoyed by the more favored districts. This is not being done where teachers without training are employed. It has been pointed out again and again that if trustees in the poorer districts avail themselves of this and secure competent qualified teachers, the grants meet the additional outlay, and it costs the sections no more. But the force of habit and the desire for cheapness seem to be so strongly ingrained that it takes time to overcome them.

School Attendance.

The attendance at all the schools was greatly interfered with by the prevailing sickness during last term. There were only two or three schools in the inspectorate that were open for the full term. The average loss was about four weeks, but some were closed for much longer. As a matter of fact, little effective work was done after the middle of October for even when schools were open the attendance was so irregular as to make progress almost impossible.

Teaching Agriculture.

The number of schools conducting classes in agriculture is increasing, and in most of them very useful and efficient work is being done. There are several schools where the teachers are interested in this work and are taking it up with a fair measure of success, but neither the schools nor the teachers share in the special grants owing to the failure of the trustees to officially recognize the work and give the necessary notification. This is to be regretted because in these cases the work is handicapped for lack of means to secure the necessary equipment and supplies.

School Fairs.

Most of the schools in the southern half of the inspectorate are now identified with one of the school fair organizations. Successful fairs were held last fall in Asphodel, Belmont, Otonabee, Douro and Dummer. They continue to be sources of much interest, not only to the pupils but to the parents, and it is a matter for congratulation that several schools that have not formerly taken part are seeking admission to the organizations. I desire to express to the district representative of the Department of Agriculturea nd those associated with him my appreciation of their untiring efforts to make these fairs a success.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

RICHARD LEES.

Pleased With the Success His Opera "In Sunny France" Met With in This City —Stage Hands Here the Best Ever

(By Wilson MacDonald)

If I was disappointed with the work of Peterboro's talent on Monday night I was equally pleased with the way they presented my opera last evening. Monday night's show lacked vim and vitality and many cues were missed. I had so many burdens to carry that I could not do justice to my own part. Last night everything was different and one man, who saw the play both nights said: "You would scarcely believe it was the same company."

Three senior members of the cast (I would like to name them but that is forbidden a composer unless he desires to antagonize the remainder of his company) played with professional excellence. Three others were very talented amateurs and the remainder were good.

The dancing of the ladies was particularly good and I hope it is understood I am not overlooking the excellences of others when I mention Miss Esmee Aylmer.

"The seasons" was so well presented that I quite despair of finding the equal of these ladies for some time to come.

My chief pleasure since coming to Peterboro has been the companionship of children. I have had 5000 children under my direction and I only know of one child in all that number who did not love me. I hate sham and hypocrisy. I hate with my whole soul prudishness and back biting. And childhood possesses not a fragment of these evils.

The Peter Robinson Chapter of the I. O. D. E. worked very hard to make "In Sunny France" a success. Those in the chapter who worked didn't criticise—those, as is always the case, who folded their arms were loudest in the anvil chorus. The Regent of the Chapter, Mrs. J. G. Campazzie, is a thorough business woman and during my stay in Peterboro was never late for an appointment. If I were a politician I would say: "Everyone is a dear and kiss all the babies. However, I am a poet not a politician and poets usually say what they think.

I was told by Mr. Cranston of Toronto that I would find the Turners to be a pleasantly different to the usual theatre owner and I can corroborate Mr. Cranston.

The crew of stage hands is the most efficient in any small city in Canada. Brockville has, as all theatrical companies will tell you, the worst stage hands in America. The Peterboro boys do everything with a smile and are thorough gentlemen with the ladies.

The orchestra added not a little to the success of the musical part of the programme.

To the prudes in this city who objected to the chaste, beautiful "Dance of the seasons," let me relate the story of Dr. Johnson.

Dr. Johnson was looking at a famous nude painting in an English Art Gallery when a fussy old woman came up to him sniffing, (some people have nothing else to do in life other than sniff) and said: "Oh, Dr. Johnson, don't you think this picture is positively immodest." "No madame," said the famous saturist, "but your question is."

How I love the old doctor for his words.

MAJOR CAMERON WINS FRIENDS

IN HIS CAMPAIGN AS LEGISLATIVE CANDIDATE IN N. ONTARIO.

Brechin, Jan. 29.—The record of the Hearst Government in dealing with many great problems arising out of the war was placed before the electors of North Ontario by Hon. T. W. McGarry, in an exceedingly able manner at a meeting in the hall here last night in favor of the Government candidate, Major Cameron.

The presentation of arguments of the United Farmers of Ontario was made by Mr. Pettypiece of Atherley, who described himself as "half farmer and half summer hotel-keeper." He introduced considerable extraneous matter having nothing to do with Provincial affairs.

Mr. McGarry reviewed the policy of the Government and the various expenditures made during the war for hospitals, to establish homes for soldiers and to assist soldiers here through the Soldier' Aid Commission and other great war activities.

He claimed that during fourteen years of the Conservative regime no fault had been found with the Government, despite the pitiless glare of publicity under which its work had been carried on.

He said the great work that the Government had accomplished was due to the magnificent assistance given by the people of the Province, an dhe added that in the absence of any argument on the part of the United Farmers against the policy of the Government, it was reasonable to expect that the Government candidate should receive the support of the electorate.

Brechin is a rather hostile place toward the Conservatives, but the feeling here appears to be changing.

Major Cameron, the Government candidate, made an able address, and the sentiment in the riding seems to be swinging more in the favor.

All the Canadian divisions are back from Germany and are in Belgium, Ottawa is informed.

CONSTABLE MOORE OBJECTS TO ACTIONS OF CITY POLICE

Complains to the County Council That They Trespass on the Territory of the Rural Officers.

County Constable A. R. Moore appeared before the County Council and in a lengthy address recounted a long list of grievances which he had against the City Police Department. He asserted that Chief Thompson was interfering in cases that were out of his jurisdiction and which should have been handled by the County Officers.

He stated that he could not understand why the City Police force should be so anxious to usurp the duties of the rural men unless it was that they did not have enough to keep them employed or desired to gain funds for the city exchequer through fines.

The Council appointed a committee to take the matter up with the Mayor of the city. Warden McIntosh and Reeves, Matheson and Anderson were the members chosen to meet His Worship in this connection.

Reeve Nicholls of Smith stated that there was no constable in that township and wished that Mr. Moore might be given authority to act especially in cases of reckless driving.

Aid for Park Upkeep

Mr. Walter Stocker President of the Horticultural Society and Messrs Williamson, Bradburn, Brumwell, Parsons, Wise, Denne, Jordan and Glover composed a deputation which waited upon the Council this morning in connection with an increase in the grant for the maintenance of Victoria Park. The County has been giving $100 for this purpose in the past and they were asked this morning to increase the amount to $250. The city is contributing $900 and Messrs, Stocker, Glover and Parsons who spoke in the interests of the movement stated that the Society had been hampered in their work in the past by a lack of funds.

After considering the matter the Council decided to leave the grant as it was although there was a difference of opinion regarding it and amendment to this motion being introduced favorin gan increase of $50. This was defeated, however, only its mover and seconder voting in favor of it.

A committee was appointed by the Board of Works at tits meeting last night and an invitation sent to the County Council to do likewise and have the two committees meet and confer upon the Provincial Highways question.

Warden McIntosh brought up the matter this morning but no action was taken, the members asserting that they had nothing to discuss with the city in this regard.

The council adjourned at noon until this morning.

CAPT. BURNHAM'S LABOR MOVE

Capt. Burnham has placed on the order paper of the House of Commons notice of the following resolution, which he will introduce at the next session:

That, in the opinion of this House, it is desirable that a Minimum Wage Board be established in connection with the Department of Labor, and that a standard-of-living cost should be set by the said board and maintained throughout Canada, below which no system of remuneration should compel people to live, and that no cheapness of labor or labor's products elsewhere should be allowed to interfere with home conditions.

And that once a year this living-cost should be reviewed to the end that employers may know what labor-cost will be and that the employees' necessary condition shall not breed justifiable discontent and unrest and that the time has come, since the necessary conditions exist, for the settlement and co-ordination of all forms and systems of employment and remuneration in Canada upon a scientific basis.

And that the first duty of Parliament is the physical and moral well-being of the people.

BLUE SKY LAWS TO SAVE INVESTORS FROM SHARPERS

LEGISLATURE WILL BRING DOWN MEASURE TO PREVENT "WILD-CATTING."

Toronto, Jan. 30.—Removal of the restrictions which the Dominion Minister of Finance placed over debenture issues abou two years ago has resulted, it was learned yesterday, in the Ontario Government considering the advisability of passing legislation at the coming session to protect he public from the unscrupulous "wild cat" promoter. Such a law was drafted a couple of years ago by officers of the Attorney-General's Department, but when the Dominion Govtrament placed certain restrictions on the floating of loans it was dropped.

Abolition of the necessity of securing the consent of the Minister of Finance before floating a loan has again given the dishonest speculator a chance to take advantage of the innocent investor. Approximately a million people put their savings into Victory bonds during the last two or three years. Many of them—perhaps two-thirds of the number—never possessed a bond before. It is feared that unless these people of small means are protected by the passing of "blue sky" legislation the speculators will avail themselves of the unprecedented opportunity to get rich quick at the expense of the man or woman with only a few hundred dollars savings.

Many people, it is believed, would readily believe the promises of unscrupulous promoters and exchange 5½ per cent. Victory bonds for stock they were led to believe would assure them of an interest return of 10 or 15 per cents. "Blue sky" legislation is already in force in several States of America.

There are various methods by which this check an "wild cat" companies might be exercised, but it is reported that the proposal which meets with most favor in government circles is that an officer or board be appointed to investigate all flotations, and whose approval it would be necessary to obtain before placing any stock on sale.

SITUATION GROWS MORE SERIOUS IN STRIKE REGIONS

INDUSTRY IS COMPLETELY PARALYZED IN BELFAST—POWER PLANTS CLOSED.

London, Jan. 30.—The situation both on the Clyde and in Belfast, where strikes are in progress with a widespread paralysis of industry, became more serious today. Blacksmits, boilermakers and shipwrights demanded an increase of thirty per cent. in their gross earning powers.

TORONTO FIRM NOW OFFERS TO BUILD BRIDGE FOR $300,000

Mr. Reid of Bowman-Connors Company Meets Board of Works and Explains Terms

At the meeting of the Board of Works last night the question of the Hunter street bridge was brought to the fore and a committee composed of the following members, appointed to consider the matter and report back to the Board: Chairman Phelan, Mayor Duncan, Ald. Morrison, McIntyre, Gainey and Turner.

Mr. Reid, of the Bowman-Connors Co., of Toronto, was heard and submitted a sketch of the new bridge which, he claimed, represented a strength as that in Mr. Barber's drafting.

Mr. Reid's company would guarantee to build this bridge for $300,000, including their fees, and would contract to build the bridge for that sum if a lower price were not offered.

If the plans were not approved by the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board, the Dominion Railway Board and the Department of Public Works, they would not charge for the work on their plans.

If a tender other than theirs were accepted they would charge two and one-half per cent. for the plans, and if engaged to supervise and inspect the construction of the bridge ,a further two and one-half per cent. would be asked for.

CANADA TO HAVE AERIAL SERVICE; DEAL COMPLETED

BRITISH AIRPLANES USED IN COUNTRY PURCHASED BY SYNDICATE.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Sir Joseph Flavelle, chairman of the Imperial Munitions Board, when seen this morning, confirmed the announcement that the bulk of the aircraft equipment provided by Great Britain and used in Canada for training Canadian aviators, had been sold to a syndicate for a Canadian commercial air service. The purchasing syndicate, Sir Joseph stated, was composed of Canadians and Americans. He did not care to tell the price which was paid.

The Story from New York

This morning's New York Sun says:

Roy U. Conger, a nephew of Edwin H. Conger, United States minister to China at the time of the Boxer rebellion gave his certified cheque to Sir Joseph Flavelle, representing the British ministry of munitions, and Director Morrow of the imperial air craft board, and thereby became the owner of the entire aircraft equipment, costing more than $10,000,000 which was provided by Great Britain, and used by Canada in training Canadian air fighters

The transaction was closed yesterday at Toronto, and job of assembling 350 airplanes, 700 airplane engines, millions of spare parts, thousands of spare propellers, wings, cameras and other equipment was at once begun under the direction of F. G. Ericson of Toronto, Mr. Conger's Canadian representative.

The whole equipment will be moved from the Royal Flying Corps training fields at Armour Heights, Rathbum, Mohawk, Beamsville and Borden to the field at Leaside the use of which rent free has been granted to Mr. Conger for six months by the Dominion Government.

The price paid was not divulged at the request of the British Government, but it was only a fraction of the original cost of the equipment.

To Establish Routes in Canada

Mr. Conger's plans for the use and disposal of the stupendous equipment are merely in the making, but the great future of them is the immediate development of airplane commercial routes in Canada. Absolutely convinced that heavier-than-air machines are to be the principal transporting mediums and vehicles of the future for passengers, mail and express, and in time indeed, for heavy freight, the New Yorker purposes to establish ont of his new equipment, regular commercial service by airplane between the principal Canadian cities. He had already taken measures, he said yesterday, to secure landing fields in the larger Canadian cities, and will have the sympathy and co-operation of the Dominion Government in the project.

If President Wilson's Plan for Dealing with German Colonies Is Accepted.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 30.—Great Britain's reported acceptance of President Wilson's theory of internationalization as applied to the captured enemy colonies says the Paris correspondent of the Daily Mail in a late edition of that paper today involves the admission that the treaties with Japan regarding the islands in the northern Pacific and with the Arabs regarding Syria and the understand with France as to the future status of Kamerun must be arbitrarily modified if not torn up.

Paris, Jan. 30.—The British and French governments have accepted in principal President Wilson's plan concerning mandatories from the League of Nations for the administration of captured territory, it was semi-officially stated. The acceptance, however, is subject to learning under what condition the plan will be carried out.

Renumber Houses On George St. South

Houses on George street south of Lake, which is the dividing line will be renumbered as a result of action taken at the Board of Works meeting last night upon the recommendation of the City Engineer.

There has been a confusion of numbers on George street, south for some time and a corresponding mix-up on several of the papallel streets. It is felt that Lake street was an unfortunate choice as the dividing line as there are many people who do not know that there is such a division in the main street of Peterboro.

URGE COMPLETION OF T .N. O.

Cochrane, Jan. 30.—The Cochrane Conservative Association has decided to lend its full support to the movement launched by the board of trade with a view to inducing the government to continue the construction of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway to James Bay.

FROM PETER ROBINSON CHAPTER

The Executive of the Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E., on behalf of the Chapter, wish to express their sincere thanks to all who so generously assisted them and thereby made possible the successful presentation of "In Sunny France," given under their auspices.

The people of Peterborough, by their patronage and attendance, assured the financial success of the undertaking and thereby contributed so liberally again, as they have many times in the past, and thus enables the Chapter to assume its share of the work and obligations of the Order. Particularly does the Chapter appreciate the kindly suggestions and criticisms by those who have near their hearts the interests of the Chapter and its members. Although the execution of the play may have lacked some of the realism that would be characteristic of a professional rendition ,the Chapter believes that to the people of Peterborough, the play held the greatest appeal in that it was being acted by young ladies, young men and children of Peterborough, and that the second presentation met with general approval.

Without the participation of those of the cast and choruses who are not members of the Chapter and gave so freely of their talent, time and efforts the play could not have been given. To them the Chapter extends its sincere thanks, especially to the parents of the children for their whole-hearted co-operation.

The care of the children, behind the scenes devolved on several ladies who kindly consented to undertake this responsibility, and without their assistance in dressing and caring for the children, carrying on the play would have been well nigh impossible.

The difficulties met in obtaining a suitable hall for rehearsals were finally overcome through the help of Misses Parker and Littlefield of the Y. W. C. A.; the Reverend Father Phelan and the Executive of the Total Abstinence Society, who so kindly placed the T. A. S. Hall at the disposal of the Chapter, and of Major Mills, who made available the Armouries.

Mrs. C. C. Parsons' artistic reading entitled "The Girl Behind the Man Behind the Gun," so greatly enjoyed, and that added so much to the program, made possible the sale of many copies of the book, the profit of which sales being received by the Chapter.

Mr. Asa Huycke's rendition of "The Cup of My Soul" lacked nothing that marks his usual excellent singing, despite the fact that, owing to unforseen circumstances, the music was not given him until shortly before the performance.

For making the announcements, introducing Mr. McDonald's book, the Chapter is indebted to Messrs. Wearing and McElderry.

The artistic success of the play itself was made possible by the work of Mr. Wilson MacDonald, who, notwithstanding his being continually under the care of physician, carried out, unsparing of himself, the rehearsals and arrangements.

The Chapter is grateful to the Peterborough Examiner and the Peterborough Review for the publicity given the undertaking in their columns and so assured its success.

Signed on behalf of the Executive of the Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E.
ROBENA GORDON CUMMING, Secretary.

BOARD OF WORKS TAKES UP QUESTION OF GOOD ROADS

Special Committee Appointed to Confer With County Council on This Matter—Other Business of Last Night's Meeting.

At a meeting of the Board of Works last night a committee composed of Chairman Phelan, Mayor Duncan, and Ald. McIntyre and Hamilton was appointed to look into the matter of a sewage disposal plant for the city and report back to the Council at a future meeting.

The question of improved highways was discussed by the members of the board last night. Information regarding the different kinds of roads constructed and the aid given by the Legislature in each case, was read, and it was thought that the Provincial suburban roads were the most adaptable for Peterborough.

Today the following committee appointed by the Board of Works last night will wait upon a committee of the County Council to discuss the good roads question: Chairman Phelan, Mayor Duncan, and Ald. Edgar, McIntyre, Taylor and Garside.

Let Your Light Shine.

City Engineer Parsons drew attention to the fact that many owners of illuminated signs were not living up to the terms of their agreement with the city which demanded that they keep them lighted. He had noticed a great number of these signs on George street not only dark for the time being, but with every indication of remaining so, as the wiring had been disconnected in many cases. These people will be warned to light up their signs or will be instructed to have them removed from the positions they now occupy over the street.

Ald. Edgar drew attention to the nuisance created by awnings and signs dripping water on to the pavement, where it froze and created ice which made it dangerous for pedestrians. The owners of these will be asked to attend to the matter by the city engineer's department.

Engineer Parsons was given authority by the Board to contract for tile and cement for the coming year. He was asked to communicate with other municipalities and find out what they were doing in this matter.

Chairman Phelan, Mayor Duncan and the city engineer were appointed a committee to interview the officials of the Grand Trunk and find out what arrangements could be made in connection with repairing the footbridge which runs along beside the railway line to Lakefield over the river at the north end of the city and which is in a dangerous condition.

INSPECTOR LEES' REPORT.

AT THE LAST Entrance examination, eighty-eight per cent. of the candidates who wrote at the Collegiate Institute here were successful. Out in the rural districts there were 161 candidates and of these only 35, or 59 per cent., were equal to the test. Of the candidates who wrote in the city, a number were from contiguous rural schools, but it is likely that the percentage of failures among these was about the same as that in the county at large. However that may be, the point is that there are nearly twice as many failures among the pupils from the rural schools as compared with those from the city.

It has yet to be demonstrated that the country boy or girl is less bright than those of the same degree who live under the blaze of electric light and enjoy other advantages. The very reverse appears to be the case. When a pupil from the country succeeds in gaining admission to any High School or Collegiate Institute, he is generally able to at least hold his own with his urban compeers. The records of the universities and other higher institutions of learning bear witness to the same conditions. There must be some other reason for this disparity in the showing made by the representatives of the two classes of the community at the various Entrance examinations. The answer to the puzzle is to be found in the annual report of County Inspector Lees, submitted yesterday to the members of the County Council. In that report Mr. Lees reaffirms statements that he has been making for years on the same occasions, and calls attention to the same conditions, but what he says loses none of its force on this account.

A large proportion of the teachers employed in the country schools are not properly qualified. Nine such instructors possess no certificate for the important duties to which they are set. This is not due to a lack of teachers, but to the fact that rural trustees are obsessed in some cases with a passion for economy. Let them, as Mr. Lees says, pay fair salaries, and they will get properly qualified teachers instead of clumsy experiments whose failures are demonstrated in the wreck made of the rural candidates by the Entrance examiners.

The School Act provides assistance for schools in the poorer sections of the community, but one of the conditions of this assistance is the employment of duly qualified teachers. The question from a financial angle is as broad as it is long. Let the trustees pay a qualified teacher a fair salary and the Government's special grant will be forthcoming. The children in the community will receive the benefit, and the tax rate will be no higher.

Inspector Lees has for years been an able and consistent advocate of consolidated rural schools. He has written volumes on the subject for educational publications, has lectured on the same theme before gatherings of educationists, all of his information being the result of investigation of the system in actual operation both in the United States and in Canada. But it seems impossible to induce the members of the County Council to make a move, wedded as so many of them seem to be to traditions. In the meantime the children of school age in the country are the victims of an antiquated and fallacious system. The drift towards the cities continues, one reason frequently given by the head of a family for his change of residence being the fact that his children are entitled to all modern educational advantages.

There are no doubt members of the County Council who would not entrust the training of a team of valuable colts to a novice, lest the horses be spoiled at the outset. There is sound wisdom in such a step. There is, however, infinitely greater reason why the pliant and receptive mind of a growing child should be protected from the ministrations of a teacher who is not qualified to undertake even the first step in the most responsible public service any man can be called upon to render.

BOARD AT $2.43 A WEEK.

THE REPORT of the committee of the County Council charged with the oversight of the House of Refuge shows that the cost of maintaining the inmates, the members of the staff included, was $2.43 a week during the past year. Here, at last, is a place where the high cost of living has to a great extent been solved. Everyone knows how tricky and misleading figures are. Perhaps those of the committee are not complete in every detail, but they are near enough to the truth to demonstrate that the cost of living in the House of Refuge is at least half of what it is among those who have not yet been reduced to the necessity of seeking State aid, something, that is the only outlook for a percentage of the community.

Take it all and all, and an inmate of the House of Refuge is as well if not better fed, as well clothed, and really more comfortably housed, than half the working people who are still struggling to keep their heads above water. And as they fight bravely on, the wolf continues to howl.

The committee's report demonstrates what may be accomplished under the community system of living. Nearly fifty are, on an average, sheltered under the same roof at the Refuge. The same system of lighting and heating does for all. It may be said, however, that a good deal of the necessaries at the Refuge are produced on the House farm with the labor of the inmates, which costs nothing, but this labor is scarcely worth taking into consideration. There is a working staff at the Refuge, paid as are any other workers in the same line.

The Refuge is really an apartment house conducted on modern principles, but with the additional advantage that all the cooking for the little community is carried on in the same kitchen. If there is to be centralisation in the matter of lighting and heat, if the water supply is taken from the same source, why not go a step further and conserve culinary energy as well? One garbage can under such circumstances is likely to contain less waste than a score or two that are filled with the scraps from as many individual kitchens.

The world is moving slowly, but it will eventually reach the desired goal. Houses today are lighted and supplied with water from central points. Imagine the cost of living if every residence had to maintain its own lighting plant, to pipe its own water from the source of supply, or to dig wells in the backyard for the same purpose.

Community heating is now in the experimental stage and there is no reason to believe that its general adoption is impossible. Our forefathers would have laughed to scorn the idea of a central lighting plant or water brought for miles to their own kitchens and bathrooms. Only a few years ago the idea of the transmission of power was regarded as a chimera. Stranger things have happened in the memory of the living than the general adoption of the community kitchen idea.

THE SITUATION IN EUROPE.

THERE ARE SIGNIFICANT and disturbing rumors coming from the late theatre of war these days. One of these is to the effect that the Spartacan uprisings in Germany are being inspired by the military party in order to furnish an excuse for mobilizing another army for purposes of defence, and that Hindenburg is behind this movement. The military machine that the world hoped was shattered for all time is, according to this rumor, to be reconstructed, and this means a renewal of the menace to the peace of Europe.

Another announcement made yesterday leads to the conclusion that the Germans, when they agreed to an armistice, fixed their faith on the leniency of President Wilson in arranging final details of peace, a matter in which they appear to have exaggerated his influence. Germany, according to leading newspapers in that country, never believed other than that her colonies would be restored to her, in this case misinterpreting the article in Mr. Wilson's fourteen peace points dealing with the subject. By no stretch of reasoning can it be shown that President Wilson ever advocated the return of these colonies. If he had, he would have been untrue to the traditions of his own country. What he did say was that the ultimate destiny of these colonies be determined by the inhabitants themselves, another enunciation of the principle of government with the consent of the governed.

Mr. Wilson and the European Allies are now in accord on this subject, and the announcement has roused the protest of the German press, who set up a cry of spoliation and robbery. This is a matter on which the two parties to the peace terms are likely to fail to agree, and if Germany mobilizes such an army as appears to be contemplated, the consequences may be serious. The one hope of the Teuton is that the Allies themselves may dispute as to the ultimate fate of the colonies.

Britain, it seems, realizes that the danger is not yet over. A force of one million men is to be kept under arms for an indefinite period, and American troops in considerable numbers are still to remain in Europe. The Empire has learned by bitter experience the lesson of the danger of unpreparedness in the face of a menace that is apparent to the most casual observer. Never again is the Empire likely to be caught napping by the power that for over four years she devoted all her resources in helping to crush.

PROHIBITION THAT IS PROGRESSIVE

(New York Commercial)

Having won their long fight for national prohibition of the liquor traffic the churches which claim the palm of victory declare that they will not stop until the whole world is bone dry. One church is raising a campaign fund of a hundred million dollars for foreign missionary work. They do not stop at liquor. Tobacco is to follow alcohol. As any prominent leader of the prohibition forces says, tobacco is absolutely bad and useless. The best land in the South is wasted by its cultivation. He puts it below alcohol, for the latter has some worth and usefulness in medicine and certain industries because it is an indispensable solvent.

Those who call for prohibition on moral or religious grounds are following in the footsteps of extremists in former ages. A famous Cavalier wit said that the Puritans of Cromwell's day forbade bear baiting, not because they pitied the bear, but because the sport seemed to give the people pleasure. The mania for interfering with other people's pleasures is breaking out again. If the new puritanism of our day succeeds in suppressing smoking by constitutional amendment it will proceed to treat card playing and dancing in the same way. Then will follow compulsory education, which would be a revival of old colonial laws.

And why not? If the leaders of the prohibition movement claim the amendment of the Constitution to be a great moral and religious victory, they are strictly logical and right according to their lights, in attempting to inhibit tobacco, cards, dancing, theatres, circuses, races, low-necked dress, neglect to attend church and other sins of commission and omission which they conscientiously believe are works of the devil that lead men's souls astray. Those outside their fold may talk of liberty, free will and the distinction between sin and crime which lawmakers should keep in mind, but an overwhelming majority of the state legislators have already decreed that such things do not count when the right to drink comes in question. The right to smoke stands on no firmer footing. Those who claim the credit for the prohibition victory call a pack of cards "the devil's bible," and dancing and theatres are the pastimes of "the scarlet woman." John Barleycorn is down and out. Now cast Lady Nicotine from her pedestal, and, after her, the Goddess of Chance and the Scarlet Woman. Men have no right to smile for it indicates a light mind, and thought should be centred on higher things. When pleasure is declared a felony the victory of our logical prohibitionists will be complete.

WHAT ALD. EDGAR REALLY DID SAY

TYPOGRAPHICAL ERROR MADE IN REPORT OF HIS SPEECH.

A typographical error in this paper last night made it appear that Ald. Edgar, when addressing the County Council yesterday in the interests of the Children's Aid Society, had described the grant made to this organization by the city as a "rash" one.

An "r" had been substituted for the "c" in cash and turned the alderman's praise of the action into criticism. Ald. Edgar was explaining the reasons why the county should raise its grant to the Children's Aid Society from $400 to $600. He stated that the city was giving $600 and in addition a house tax free and a garden would make an additional $200 or $400, and would make a total grant from the city of $900 or $1000 compared with the county's $400, in spite of the fact that the work carried on in the rural districts entailed the greater financial outlay.

EFFICIENCY IN MANAGEMENT SHOWN BY DOMINION BANK

Proof of This is Found in the Last Annual Report Just Submitted to Shareholders.

Efficiency in management is the desideratum after which all finanical and industrial institutions worthy of the name are these days striving with more than the usual display of energy. It is born of the recognition of the fact that its necessity, owing to the modern tendency of things, is more imperative than it ever was. There is probably no class of men that recognize this more fully than the bankers of Canada, and they, perforce, recognize it because of the fact that it is becoming increasingly difficult, owing largely to the growth of the unremunerative service they render to the public, to maintain the desired ratio of earnings to assets.

That the Dominion Bank is one among the banks of Canada which may take justifiable pride in the efficiency of its management there can be no doubt. Proof of it is to be found in the last annual report submitted to the shareholders at the meeting held in Toronto on Wednesday, 29th January.

Showing in Assets.

At the close of 1918 the bank's total assets amounted to $133,500,000, a gain for the year of $24,000,000, but it is in the immediately available assets that the most striking result is to be seen. Under this particular classification there was an increase of $5,800,000, which brought the item up to $63,500,000, or sufficient to meet 53 per cent. of the bank's liabilities to the public. Even the strickly cash assets are equal to 23.80 per cent. of the bank's liabilities to the public, the sum total being $28,498,000, an advance for the year of $1,160,000. The rest account, standing at $7,000,000, exceeds the paid-up capital by the substantial sum of $1,000,000.

The profits for the year must be gratifying to the shareholders. The net profits at the close of 1918 stood at $1,086,498, a gain of $81,435, over those of 1917. This net gain means a return to the shareholders of 8.35 per cent. on the total capital and reserve as against 7.73 per cent. for the previous year.

Substantial Surplus.

In disposing of the net profits the following disbursements were made: Dividends at the rate of 12 per cent., $720,000, contributions to patriotic and other benevolent funds, $38,000, officers' pension fund, $25,000, written of bank premises, $250,000. The balance, $446,503, was carried forward, a sum exceeding that brought forward at the close of 1917 by $53,000.

That there was a large expansion in the bank's business as well as an increase in its profits is also very evident. Total deposits, for example, increased by $12,400,000, and now amount to $96,107,000. Commercial loans advanced by $18,500,000 to $64,100,000, while notes in circulation made a gain of $409,000.

That the bank was very efficiently managed during the past year is fully demonstrated by the statement just presented.

THE DANGER THAT LURKS IN THE BAKER'S LOAF OF BREAD

Staff of Life Delivered in the City Unwrapped and Handled by Drivers Whose Hands Are not Always Clean.

(By Bystander)

One nice, warm, summer day I was walking down George street, when I saw a baker's wagon stop a short distance in front of me. The young man driving the wagon jumped out, went around to the horse and fixed part of the harness which had become loose, gave the horse a couple of good slaps—love pats—upon its sweating hips, then went around to the back of the wagon, took out a basket that had once been white and clean, maybe, and proceeded to fill it with nice clean loaves of bread with hands fouled from contact with the filthy harness and perspiring horse. He took these loaves to the side door of a beautiful house near by, and the bread was received without protest by a clean, well-dressed, fastidious lady—the lady of the house.

Ah, the pity of it—and the shame! clean, sweet, wholesome bread, fit for a King as it left the bakery is fouled—and with what foulness—on its way to the consumer. And the pity of it is that such fouling is utterly unnecessary.

I am sure, had I been to tea at the home of that lady, she would have been too fastidious to have taken a slice of that bread in her clean white fingers and passed it to me—she would have felt it was cleaner, more sanitary, more aesthetic, to have passed it to me on a plate. And yet she received the bread, delivered in such fashion without protest.

But, you ask, what did the boy, in all possibility, or probability, add to the bread, that you say he fouled it?

There are two kinds of filth—dead filth and living filth. The dead filth his hands would leave on the bread, though somewhat appalling to contemplate, would not, in all likelihood be very detrimental to health—consisting as it did, of rancid, foul oil from the harness, stable filth, animal excreta, from the harness and from the hair and sweat, both laden with impurities, he got on his hands from the perspiring horse; road dust, full of organic debris of many kinds, and probably many human impurities from the reins and basket—both being grasped by many dirty hands before his.

But the living filth he added to the bread is an altogether dicernt proposition. A biologis analysis of the dead filth might have shown:

1.—The germs which cause typhoid fever.

2.—The germs which cause tuberculosis.

3.—Those which cause the development of pus, abscesss, and catarhal inflammations.

4.—Those which cause tetanus or lockjaw.

5.—The eggs of various kinds of worms—the round worm—the pinworm—The tape-worm, for these egg are commonly found in stable filth.

Think of these things—each a living menace to the health of the family—being brought in through the careless fouling of the bread-loaf.

There might be a more dangerous a more filthy, a more barbarous method of delicering bread, but I think it would require the mind of a German officer to devise one.

I am not sure that I blame the bakers. Like others, they are in the business to make it pay, and one way to profit is to keep down expenses; and the people are so careless or indifferent that they will not make the least effort to protect themselves. Why should be bakers worry?

Some time ago, while in Winnipeg I attended a meeting of the City Coun; and it its close one of the Aldermen, a Mr. Milton, asked me to walk around to his large bakery to see it in operation. I watched with much interest the passage of the bread, from the mixing trough, through the various kneading and moulding machines, through the huge oven—where it went in at one aid and came out baked at the other, to the last operation—a machine which wrapped each loaf of bread in its own separate paper wrapper. This machine wrapped one, two or three loaves of bread at one time—the ends being secured by circular stickers which held the paper tightly and securely around the loaf.

This is the solution. Every loaf of bread should be wrapped in paper of good quality—waxed or semi-porous if possible—before it leaves the bake-shop. No other method will ensure clean bread.

Some years ago the Board of Health of the State of Minnesota conducted a series of experiments on the wrapping of bread, and their statement shows many other important effects beside that of ensuring cleanliness. For instance, bread wrapped in waxed or semi-porous paper will keep fresh and sweet—without becoming stale, for many days longer than when it is exposed; they reported it to be quite easy to keep a loaf of bread without the least hint of staleness for 5 or 6 days. And yet the bread went on maturing and become more edible every day. What a boon to the housewife!

Let me explain how this occurs. Staleness in bread is caused by certain bacteria which invade the loaf from the outside. They live first in the crust, and as they grow and multiply rapidly they cause a certain decay of the bread-crust, wit hz peculiar swell, and disintegration of the bread, which we call "staleness." If

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

IRREGULAR ATTENDANCE IS DRAWBACK TO RURAL SCHOOLS

Inspector Broderick Submits His Annual Report to County Council

In his annual report to the County Council Inspector Broderick says in part:

The following is a statement of the attendance for 1918.

Municipality	Enrolment	Average	Pctg
Emily	237	131	55
Somerville	369	193	52
Verulam	331	186	56
Lindsay	1139	726	64
Bobcaygeon	208	143	69
Omemee	102	55	54
Ennismore	95	50	53
Galway & Cavendish	97	36	36
Harvey	187	110	58
Smith	450	247	55
Totals—
Rural municipalities	937	924	64
Urban municipalities	1449	924	64

There are many reasons why teachers leave Rural work for the more attractive situations in town or city. Perhaps the greatest obstacle to real efficiency and the thing most harassing to the teacher is irregularity of attendance. If I back back year after year to this topic it is because the evil is so serious and so persistent. Irregularity is not confined to our own Counties. It is a Provincial. There has indeed been some improvement during the last decade, the percentage for the Province having risen steadily from 52 per cent in 1897 to 58 per cent in 1916, the average for the ten years being 55½ per cent. The average for the Counties of Victoria and Peterborough during the same period was 53½. Making due allowance for one fact that the Government records are based upon the supposition that all the pupils are enrolled for the full year there is still an enormous waste through bad attendance. The teacher's time and energy are wasted through having to teach the same over and over again the time is wasted or those who do attend regularly as well as of those who do not attend.

From reports recently received from over 50 of the teachers in the Inspectorate I find that of the 931 pupils enrolled 370 or more are reported as attending irregularly. In over 100 cases illness is assigned as the cause. In nearly 100 cases it is distance from school. In over 50 cases it is the carelessness and indifference of parents. In 100 cases the pupils are required at home to work. Bad roads, weather, lack of parental control, and "no reason at all" account for the remainder. Doubtless non-attendance is caused by the combination of the above causes. Distance from school is a chief school. Over 300 pupils are reported as living from 2 to 3 miles from school; at least 60 live over 3 miles distant. And aside from reports submitted I have certain knowledge that a good many children, if they go to school at all mus twalk 3 ½ to 4 and in some cases 4½ miles.

Before passing from the subject of school attendance I wish to draw the Council's attention to the rapid decrease in the number of Fifth Book Pupils. In 1907 there were attending the Public Schools of the Province about 9000 pupils who had passed the Entrance Examination. In 1916 there were approximately 3000. The decrease in our own Counties has been in the same proportion and I fear is likely to continue. This condition has not arisen because fewer pupils pass the High School Entrance Examination. The number of such pupils is practically the same as 12 years ago. The decrease may have arisen because some teachers are not in sympathy with Fifth Class work in their school or because pupils are sent to some High School Centre or because an increasing number of pupils drop school at the end of the fourth book. In any case the condition is not desirable. There should be in every considerable Rural area a school capable of affording to the young people of the community an education equal in every respect to that of the first three Forms of our High Schools with a course of study calculated to attract the students to rural life. Prominent in such a course should be agriculture.

For some years the Department of Education co-operating with the Department of Agriculture has made provision for the teaching of Elementary Agriculture in the Public and Separate Schools. As inducements the Department pays to school board all expense connected with the teaching of agriculture up to a limit of $30.00 annually and to teachers a substantial grant amounting to $50.00 to fully qualified teachers. At the present time I have six schools doing agricultural work and a seventh making a beginning at Easter. As to the value of such teaching there is no doubt and I hope to see the number of schools teaching Agriculture rapidly increase.

School Sanitation and School Hygiene

During the past five years five new school buildings have been erected. These are, in the main, modern buildings and meet the requirements of good school sanitation. Of the older buildings about have have installed ventilation systems which, with the exercise by the teacher of ordinary intelligence, give very satisfactory results so far as heating and ventilation are concerned. The very small enrolment in some schools and the very poor quality of the building in other cases together with the enormour increase in expense since the opening of the war and other considerations I have not been urging for some time the erection of new schools or extensive improvements in the way of repair to old ones.

During the past year a few Boards have shown a most commendable spirit in renovating their schools thus improving the sanitation. In one respect, however, nothing has even been done in either urban or rural schools. No advantage has been taken of the permissive legislation regarding medical and dental inspection of schools. That these are a very legitimate and very necessary phases of school work there is no doubt. Recent medical teaching attributes many of the physical ills of both children and adults to diseased conditions of the teeth. Of this I am not competent to speak. But no knowledge of either medicine or dental surgery is required to be assured that very many pupils are seriously retarded in their progress at school by physical ailments which efforts have been made to relieve. I suppose that there is scarcely a school which does not afford cases of the kind. Common humanity would suggest that this very important matter be taken up by the proper authorities and both medical and dental inspection introduced syatemat-

Training the Invalided Soldier

WHEN the first Canadian casualties were announced every heart in Canada thrilled with the thought—"What will the country do to help these men overcome the handicaps they have suffered?"

Since that day Canada has been quietly developing a wonderful organization to help restore the strength and earning capacity of her invalided soldiers.

This work is in the charge of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment. It is divided into three classes.

Ward Occupations.

Soldiers who, on account of their injuries, are confined to wards or to their beds in hospitals are taught handicraft work of various kinds. This work is not meant to train a man in work by which he could earn a living. It is encouraged rather because it diverts the soldier's mind from his disability, and gives him light exercise. In this way it assists wonderfully in the soldier's recovery.

Occupational Therapy.

This work is conducted in hospitals. It is intended mainly to help in the cure of the patient. But it often serves as the ground-work for a course in Industrial Re-training. The following gives some idea of the breadth and scope of the subjects taught in these classes:—Mechanical drawing, woodworking, boot and shoe repairing, machine shop practice, gardening, poultry raising, civil service instruction, book-keeping, stenography, telegraphy.

Industrial Re-Training.

When a man is so injured by war service that he cannot follow the occupation or trade that he worked at before enlisting, the Department trains him for a new occupation.

For this work, use is made of Technical Schools and Universities at fourteen centres throughout the Dominion. Here primary training is given by specially planned courses. This helps a man begin his actual re-training work intelligently.

Most of the re-training is given in actual factories and shops. Hundreds of large and small concerns have co-operated whole-heartedly in this work—placing at the disposal of the Department, without charge, their equipment and the services of many of their staffs.

Ninety-five per cent of those who have been granted "Industrial Re-training" courses by the Department have been successful in becoming self-supporting in a new trade or occupation.

These benefits are given by the Department to ex-members of the Canadian, British and Allied forces living in Canada, who come within the classes for which these benefits are provided.

During the period a man is being "Re-trained" he and his dependents are granted adequate pay and allowances.

Prohibition in Canada

An Open Letter to the People of Canada

THIS STATEMENT is being published in the Daily Papers in every Province of Canada in order to call attention to the following facts:

First fact: Every Province in Canada now has a Temperance Law in force with the exception of Quebec. On May first, 1919, the Quebec Temperance Law will come into force.

Second fact: The Dominion Government passed Legislation under the powers granted in "The War Measures Act," which prohibited for the period of the war and twelve months thereafter, Importation, Manufacture and Interprovincial Shipment of liquor for drinking purposes. This Legislation is necessary to make effective that of the Provinces.

Third fact: The people of Canada want this Legislation continued in effect until the Citizens of Canada, including all the soldiers, shall have had an opportunity to vote on the question of making it permanent.

Fourth fact: There is an insidious and far-reaching propaganda now being carried on which aims to discredit the Prohibitory Laws and restore liquor-drinking for the personal profit of the Liquor-Seller.

Fifth fact: The requisite number of State Legislatures in the United States having adopted the Prohibition Amendment, Canada must act in harmony with it or become the dumping ground for liquor and its unfortunate victims.

Who Want Prohibition?

Ask—

1. The Business men and Industrial leaders whom you know.
2. The working men and working women whom you know.
3. The Mothers, Wives and Children whom you know.
4. The Soldier Citizens of Canada whom you know.
5. The farmers whom you know.

We know that

1. Every Church and Religious Denomination in Canada has pronounced in favor of Prohibition through its Executive Boards and Church Leaders.
2. Practically all School-teachers, Doctors, Public Health Officers, City Relief Officers and Social Workers in Canada are in favor of Prohibition.
3. The Provincial Governments, the Courts and the Police have learned that Prohibition reduces crime and disorder and promotes Peace and Prosperity.

Some Significant Contrasts

The Liquor People are looking for immense profits.
WE HAVE NO SELFISH INTEREST TO SERVE.

* * *

The liquor interests hide behind indefinite names and work by underground methods.
WE SIGN OUR OWN STATEMENTS AND WORK IN THE OPEN.

* * *

They hope to win by a Lobby.
WE WANT THE PEOPLE TO DECIDE.

* * *

They are reactionaries.
WE ARE IN THE PATHS OF HUMAN PROGRESS.

* * *

They are circulating throughout the country a prescription for influenza, that is purported to come from the world celebrated Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minnesota.

Here is what Dr. C. H. Mayo says:

"The prescription which is alleged to have been written by us is a fake. Alcohol or whiskey have no place in the treatment of influenza."

Temperance Platform

The Dominion Prohibition Committee are asking:

1. That the Prime Minister and Government of Canada be requested to take the steps necessary to continue in effect the provisions of the Order-in-Council of March 11th, 1918, (P.C. 589) by having the same embodied in Legislation to be enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

2. That the legislation so enacted be continued in effect until such time as a vote of the electors of the Dominion of Canada shall have been taken on the question of its continuance or dis-continuance.

3. That the vote on this question be taken at a date to be fixed by the Government of Canada at least six months prior to the day of voting and with due respect to the restoration to civil life in Canada of the Canadian soldiers now overseas.

Platform of the Liquor People

The Distillers say:

We do not want the Bar back but we want the Interprovincial Traffic restored.

The Brewers say:

We want the percentage of alcohol in Beer increased from 2½% to 5% or 6% or even 10%.

The old time Hotel Keeper says:

We cannot run a Hotel without a Bar and if we cannot sell whiskey, we must at least have a "Beer and Wine" license.

Methods of the Liquor People:

1. They have already sent men and literature overseas in the vain hope of prejudicing many of the Canadian Soldiers.

2. They are behind a propaganda in the ranks of Labor that seeks to show that Prohibition is generally opposed by working people. This is a slander on Labor.

3. There are appearing letters signed "Wounded Soldier" or "Returned Soldier" or "Church Worker" or "Lover of Liberty" or "Soldier's Wife" or "Officer's Widow" or other camouflage names. In some cases such letters are made up and soldiers or others are asked to sign—sometimes for a consideration.

4. False stories of suffering for lack of liquor for the sick are circulated although the Law provides fully for Doctors' prescriptions.

5. Efforts are being made to discredit Administrators of the Liquor Laws and even Members of Governments who are known to be in favor of Prohibition.

6. The Liquor cause is being upheld by insidious advertising, news despatches, articles and moving picture films.

7. Drafts of bills acceptable to the Liquor Interests are being urged on the Governments.

8. The Liquor Interests are working behind the scenes in the political parties, and by urging our opponents, to discredit and oust from office any public man who is outspoken prohibitionist. Watch for the evidence of this and prevent the success of their schemes.

What You Can Do to Help the Cause

The Dominion Parliament must consider the question of Temperance Legislation in some form at the next session. We are asking Parliament to embody in an Act, the Provisions of Orders-in-Council now in force with suitable provision for its submission to the people.

As a Citizen of Canada write to your Member of Parliament urging his active co-operation with the Government in carrying out this policy. Put your ideas in your own way and send your letter to your Member's home address as soon as you read this Statement.

Members of Parliament and National Policies are influenced by Public Opinion. Your action will be one of the ways of indicating what the people think.

We desire to warn our friends against any weakening of resolution at this critical moment. The liquor interests are at work in every Province trying to give the impression that there is a general dissatisfaction with existing laws and are using what is done in one Province to foment unrest in the others. Don't let the enemies of Prohibition do all the agitating.

If any information comes to your notice that the Central Committee should have, write at once to D. B. Harkness, General Secretary, 905 Kent Bldg., Toronto.

ST. PAUL'S CONGREGATION HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Past Year Was a Prosperous One Financially and Otherwise—Membership Roll Now Totals 1045.

The annual meeting of St. Paul's Church for the transaction of business was held last evening in the Sunday School hall. The chair was occupied by the minister. After devotional exercises reports were presented from the different organizations, all of which showed that the year had been a prosperous one, financially.

The report of session was presented first. As it is a survey of the entire life and work of the congregation as seen in its different organizations, a few paragraphs may here be quoted.

Has Membership of 1,045.

The communicant membership of the church is now 1,045. Eleven years ago it was 753. While one or two of the eleven years have not been able to record a net increase because of the large number of removals and the fewer number uniting that year, on the whole there has been steady advance during these eleven years. There was an unusually large number of deaths during the year. No less than 24 communicant members have entered into their rest. In this connection special mention should be made of the death of Mr. Thomas Hall, an honored elder of the church and a member of the congregation during his long life of 78 years, as well as that of Miss Jane Sweeny, who belonged to the church for over 80 years. Mrs. John Cameron, Miss Frances Reid, Mr. Wm. Hall, and Mrs. Wm. Menzies, were also old and respected members who died during the year. Special sorrow is felt for the loss of many splendid young men on the field of battle, Ross C. Cameron, Arthur Wood, Lionel McIntosh, John Ranger and Gordon Brotherson. The bereaved friends of these have the deepest sympathy of the congregation.

Sunday School Report.

In connection with the report of the Sunday School, reference was made to the good work being done by the superintendents, Inspector Mowat, Miss Lizzie Scott, Miss Effie Munro, Miss Florence Cameron and their able staff of assistants and teachers. Miss Effie Munro, who has been superintendent of the primary department for 12 years, has asked to be relieved of her work for a time. The session wishes to place on record its appreciation of the work which Miss Munro has accomplished during these 12 years. By attendance at the conventions, by a constant study of the latest and best Sunday School methods, by a consecration to the work that meant the giving of her time and energy without stint to the interests of the young, she has brought her department into a state of efficiency not excelled in any other school in the province. It is with great pleasure that the session bear testimony to her love for her work and the children under her care, and the influence for good of her life and teaching upon the lives of all who have passed through this department during these twelve years, and it is with deep regret that they contemplate her retirement from the work even for a time.

Women's Missionary Society.

There is no organization which shows the same steady advancement and deepening interest in the spread of the gospel as does the W.M.S. The givings of this society have increased year by year until in the year, 1918, they reached an amount almost double what it was ten years ago. Possibly the work of this organization, composed, as it is, of a large proportion of the women members of the church, is a surer criterion of the spiritual life of our people than anything else in connection with the church. We have certainly reason to thank God and take courage from the evidence of the spirit of Christ, which are seen in the work of the W.M.S.

Reference was made to the good work done by the Fraser Auxiliary to the W.M.S. and the Faithful Workers Mission Band, as well as the Ladies' Aid and the Red Cross Auxiliary.

Young People's Guild.

A Young People's Guild was recently organized. With the return of so many of our young men from the war and the large number of boys and girls of senior 'teen age, the need of such an organization for the expression of their Christian life was felt to be necessary. The officers elected give promise of large things for the coming year.

Praise for the Choir.

After making reference to the effort being made in connection with the league of Young Worshippers to establish the young of the congregation in the habits of church going, the report continues:

"The session appreciates the work which is being done in connection with the service of praise of the members of the choir; their regular attendance at the Sabbath services as well as the spirit which prompts them to devote so much of their time weekly to choir practice. They recognize the difficulties under which the leader has had to work in securing enough trained singers for the different parts. The laudable project which the choir has under way of erecting a suitable memorial to the men of St. Paul's who enlisted for service in the great war and for those who have fallen in the struggle, deserves the hearty thanks and earnest co-operation of the entire membership of the church."

Financial Statement.

The following is a summary of the financial statement as presented by the treasurers of the different departments:

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

IF FEVERISH, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED, GIVE FRUIT LAXATIVE

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy. Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

GAY FURNISHINGS

The furnishings of a playroom should consist of some warm floor covering that is dark enough not to show dirt, and a low table and chair. A blackboard, a bookcase, a couch, a drawer for toys, cheerful curtains and pictures are all attractive additions that may be provided if possible.

If one can afford to buy a little set of furniture for the playroom a set of the enamel furniture used so much just now for breakfast rooms is ideal if the legs of the chairs and table are sawed off to make them low enough so the children's feet can rest comfortably on the floor when using them.

The light, gay enamels used so much nowadays for porch and cottage furniture will be sure to appeal to children, and blue, pink, green, red or yellow is quite appropriate for a nursery, bedroom or playroom. If the furniture is painted red a black duck painted on the back of each chair will delight childish hearts.

COOKING MUTTON

To make mutton juicy and tender spread a little fat over it and dredge it with flour ten minutes before putting it in the oven.

Mr. Justice Hodgins' report on conditions on the Northland especially blames the officers for lack of efficient or sympathetic dealing with complaints.

MURRAY ST. BAPTIST CHURCH HAD MOST SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Raised $10,580,26 for All Purposes as Reported at Annual Meeting Last Night—Miss Bessie Elcome's Sunday School Record.

The gathering attending the annuel meeting of Murray Street Baptist Church last night was the largest known. Every part of the large school room was occupied with tables and almost every sitting was engaged. Rev. J. R. Webb occupied the chair. The pastor's letter acknowledged gratefully that he had not missed either a Sunday or week evening service during the year through illness, and also expressed appreciation of the officers and members who had co-operated with him so faithfully during the past twelve months. Progress has been shown in all departments, and the opportunities due to the coming of peace were touched upon.

Clearing Off the Debt.

Since entering their new edifice the people of Murray Street have paid off considerably over a thousand dollars a year of their church debt, besides increasing theihr givings in other directions. During the past year $2,250 was paid on the mortgage.

The pastor's salary was increased from $1800 to $2100 during the year and the givings to missions were also larger.

Miss Elcome's Record.

The Ladies' Aid Society report was a story of constant activity and helpful service, while Murray Street shows up splendidly in its work for the Red Cross Society all through the war years. One thing in the Sunday school report is worthy of more than casual mention. Miss Bessie Elcome, who is the pianist of the school, has an asolutely perfect attendance record for the past fifteen years. When this was announced the applause was most enthusiastic. The school's receipts were $587 57.

Resolutions Adopted.

Two resolutions were passed during the evening, one presented by Mr. Walter Garbutt and seconded by Chief Thompson, expressing regret at the unavoidable absence of Mr. T. F. Matthews, the treasurer of the building and interest fund, whose business engagements have made it necessary for him to spend some weeks in Toronto, and whose report was read by another. His return to Peterborough now that peace is declared will be most welcome. The second resolution was moved by Mr. A. J. Madill, B.A., and seconded by Mr. F. M. Somerville, B.A., and carried with it the highest appreciation of the services rendered by the choir.

Officers Elected.

The officers elected were as follows:

The retiring deacons were unanimously chosen to serve for another three years, Messrs. H. G. Webber, T. Distin and C. B. Routley. There are twelve deacons and three retire each year.

The clerk, who has served faithfully for several years, was asked to continue his splendid work.

The other elections resulted as follows:

Treasurer—F. M. Somerville, B.A.

Treas., Building Fund — T. F. Matthews.

Financial Secretary—R. Merrell.

Assistants—A. W. Wray, W. S. Hiner, T. Distin, W. Hardill, Miss Bessie Gillespie, Miss Mary Stratton.

Finance Committee—L. J. Pettit, B.A. (chairman), R. E. Harding, W. R. Breyfogle, D. W. Lewis, A. W. Wray, Dr. Scott, Gordon Matthews, Dr. Mann, H. Johnston, D. Thompson.

The following were added to the committee of ushers—Jos. Wearing, W. A. Boyce, H. Johnston, Geo. Hardwicke, D. W. Lewis, Thos. Waller.

To write associational letter—T. G. Gillespie.

Auditors—C. L. Browne, B.A., J. Graham, B.A.

Rep. to Charity Board—Jas. Montgomery.

At the close of the election of officers M. V. Eastwood and Mr. H. G. Webber spoke, congratulating the ladies on their success in securing the lecture of Dr. T. T. Shields on "The Fall of Lucifer" for February 17th. Mr. T. F. Matthews wrote, saying he had heard the lecture the second time it was delivered in Toronto and felt that the ladies of Murray Street were rendering the people of Peterborough a real service in introducing Dr. Shields.

A motion of thanks to those who had provided the tea was presented by Messrs. C. B. Routley and R. E. Harding.

HEAT GRADUALLY

Casseroles and other pottery dishes should never be placed in a very hot oven or on a hot stove without first being warmed a little. A sudden change of temperature may cause them to crack.

TIMELY TIPS

The old fashioned Indian pudding baked with beef suet might well be revived.

The most inexpensive and dainty bed-room curtains are made from cheesecloth.

Cauliflower can be served with rings of carrots cut in fine straws around it.

A bread sponge made with yeast is light enough to use when it is full of bubbles.

A flannel bag filled with hot sand or salt is a good substitute for a hot water bag.

Sandwiches made of brown bread filled with honey and chopped walnuts are delicious.

OILING MACHINES

Many women oil ther sewing machines frequently and carefully, as they should, but they forget to put a big drop of oil once a month in each end of the treadle. The machine runs with one-third the expenditure of effort if this is regularly done.

AUDITORS' REPORT TO SHAREHOLDERS

We have compared the above Balance Sheet with the books and accounts at the Chief Office of The Dominion Bank, and the certified returns received from its Branches, and after checking the cash and verifying the securities at the Chief Office and certain of the principal Branches on December 31st, 1918, we certify that, in our opinion, such Balance Sheet exhibits a true and correct view of the state of the Bank's affairs, according to the best of our information, the explanations given to us and as shown by the books of the Bank.

In addition to the examinations mentioned, the bank and securities at the Chief Office and certain of the principal Branches were checked and verified by us at another time during the year and found to be in accord with the books of the Bank.

All information and explanations required have been given to us and all transactions of the Bank which have come under our notice have, in our opinion, been within the powers of the Bank cally with a view to better educational results.

The person who desires to do so may interpret this report as a pessimistic screed—as a presentation of the darker aspects of our school activities. It is certainly meant as an honest attempt to present things as they are. That our rural schools are giving the rural communities the services they should and would, under different organization give that the rural still is getting as efficient an education as that afforded to the city child; that school sentiment and school progress are advancing as rural as in urban communities no one will for a moment claim. I hope to see a speedy remedy of rural conditions; and I believe that the remedy lies in the direction of rural consolidated schools.

LABOR UNION FOR NEWSPAPERMEN

WRITERS ON MONTRAEL PRESS FORM ORGANIZATION TO RAISE SALARIES.

Montreal, Jan. 30.—Ever since the war started, Montreal newspapermen have been discontented with the condition of their employment. While the cost of living increased rapidly and wages and salaries in other lines were advanced, their emoluments either remained stationary or were reduced. No working newspaperman in Montreal today is receiving what in other lines would be considered a living wage. Every senior man maintains his position in the social fabric by the extra money he makes out of sidelines varying in character from theatrical publicity to Sunday sermons.

By agreement between the English newspapers an employe of one newspaper will not be taken on the staff of another without the acquiescence of his present employer. In this way the low level of wages is preserved.

English newspapermen have contented themselves with muttering over these deplorable conditions, although delegations have discussed them with the heads of labor unions, with prominent labor organizers and an eminent government official whose business it is to investigate working conditions.

They are few in number and have found in previous attempts to form organizations that the majority of the men were afraid or indifferent, consequently no definite step was taken.

With their French-Canadian confreres things moved more quickly A greater spirit of unity and esprit de corps prevails among them. When the question of forming a union was mooted it met with universal support. Arrangements were gone right ahead with, and the support of the Typographical Union was promised. The result was a meeting called last Saturday afternoon which a delegation of a dozen English newspapermen attended. It was unanimously decided by the French-Canadians to form a union. Gilbert Larue, editor of L'Autorite, was elected president, and Paul DeMartigny, financial editor of La Patrie, was chosen secretary. Both are enthusiastic newspapermen.

The English representatives remained spectators, but carried the news back to their confreres, and it is more than likely these will follow suit.

Many of the senior newspapermen favor a Dominion-wide organization on the lines of the National Union of Journalists which has done so much for the working newspapermen in the United Kingdom.

SEATTLE OFFICER TELLS OF TROUBLE

COLLINS WAS NEARLY DOWN AND OUT—GAINS 25 POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC

"A medicine that will do as much for suffering people as this Tanlac has done for me is certainly worth recommending to the public and I can't say too much for it," said John W. Collins, of 1214 East Columbia Street, Seattle, while in a Bartell drug store, recently. Mr. Collins has been a resident of Seattle for the past thirteen years, and is a popular member of the police force.

"When I began taking Tanlac," Mr. Collins continued, "I weighed only one hundred and fifty pounds and was in such a bad condition that I could not control my beat. But, I now weigh one hundred and seventy-five pounds—have gained twenty-five pounds, and am feeling fine. I have had trouble with my stomach for several years. Nearly everything I would eat disagreed with me. My food would almost invariably sour and keep me filled with gas and misery most all the time. Then some time ago I had a fall of about thirty feet which came near putting me out of commission. On top of this I had an attack of grippe and I simply got to where I was just about down and out. My whole body seemed full of neuralgia and rheumatism and I ached all over. Every joint in me ached and the pain in the left side of my back over my kidneys was so severe at time that I could hardly stand it. Nothing did me any good and finally I just had to give up my position, stop working entirely and do nothing but try to find relief. My sleep was very poor and I kept falling off in weight until I got down to one hundred and fifty pounds.

"Then I got uneasy about my condition, went to Colorado and stayed there for a while but never did get any better until I began taking Tanlac, and then I commenced climbing right up. I have used six bottles now and have gotten rid of all that neuralgia and rheumatism entirely and never feel an ache or a pain. My appetite is great and my stomach is in such a good shape that I can eat just anything I want without the least trouble afterwards. I now sleep like a log every night and am in splendid condition in every way. I'm going back to work tomorrow, and I cheerfully recommend Tanlac to everybody."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield, by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corners, by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

THE DANGER THAT

But the maturing of bread is caused by enzymes which are in the loaf itself—and ordinary baking does not kill these—unless too long kept up. When the loaf cools sufficiently they begin to work, and every day the tissue of the loaf gets better, more easily digestible, shorter in fibre, and in every way easier for the stomach to handle. This is called "maturing"—and is why bread some days old is more conducive to health than fresh bread, being more easily digested.

At this season of the year those distributing the bread wear mitts—which are several shades worse than the bare hands; for the hands were washed occasionally—but the mutts never are: and yet thye are used in handling the harness and the horse; and receive and retain all the stable filth for the benefit of the poor clean loaf.

How long? Oh good people of Peterboro? How long?

SOME TROTTING RECORDS FOR THE SEASON OF 1918

Return of Peace Makes Prospects Brighter for the Sport of Kings.

The advent of the New Year finds the sport of harness racing confronted with much brighter conditions than obtained a year ago when the prospects of a long war made the outlook dubious for all branches of sport. Results proved that there was no ground for the general pessimism which was prevalent among horsemen previous to the advent of the 1918 racing season which was one of the best in the history of the sport, but the feeling was general that a continuance of the war through 1919 would bring about a big curtailment if not the entire abandonment of racing activities. Now all this uncertainty has pneen done away with and the confidence in the future of the sport has been reflected in the prices which have been paid for all classes of horses at the auctions of the past few weeks.

The fast trotting classes of the Grand Circuit, which the presence of that great trio of trotters, Mabel Trask, St. Frisco and Lu Princeton have made worth while during the past two seasons, do not promise as much for the coming season. St. Frisco, that greatest of all racing stallions, has passed on; Mabel Trask is likely to be absent and while the "clown trotter," Lu Princeton, should be better than ever, it now appears that he will lack opponents of the calibre to make a race interesting. The four-year-old champion, Miss Bertha Dillon, made a few starts the past season and possesses plenty of class but she was lame late in the season and may not be seen at the races the coming summer.

There were but two trotters in the 2.06 division of 1918 which took records that graduated them into the free-for-all class the past season—ante Guy, 2.03 1-2 and Binthand 2.03 3-4—and the latter is another which will not be trained, so the only new one to dispute with Lu Princeton for the past class honors is the great mare from the Murphy stable. She is one which came to her extreme speed rapidly; she looked like a good 2.06 up to the second week of the September meeting at Columbus; then she trotted in 2.04 1-4, and the followng week reduced his mark to 2.03 1-2 in winning the Walnut Hall Cup at Lexington. She also seemed to develop quickly that marvelous "whiz" so necessary in a trotter with championship aspiration; she could reel off a quarter in 29 seconds at the end of a fast mile. She was handicapped somewhat by not being able to get away from the wire as fast as some trotters, but this will not be as much of a handicap in racing in the fast classes where the fields are small as it was in the stake events, where there were usually ten or a dozen starters.

For the 2.05 and 2.06 classes the past season developed a lot of performers of class. By the records the fastest of these is the sensationally fast but equally erratic mare Esperanza, which took a record of 2.03 1-2 in the Transylvania Stake at Lexington last fall, that mile being the record for the event. As this was not a winning race, it does not affect her eligibility, her winning race record of 2.04 1-2 having been obtained in the record-breaking six-heat battle for the Fort Miami Stake at Toledo last July.

OTHER COUNTY COUNCILS ASK FOR COOPERATION

Eastern Counties Condemn Daylight Saving Plan —Interesting Exchange of Letters With Crown Attorney Hatton.

Yesterday afternoon the time of the County Council was chiefly occupied with committee work and the hearing of communications.

Representatives of the Y.M.C.A. National Council will wait upon the Council in connection with the Red Triangle Fund, according to a letter received.

A copy of a resolution passed by the City Council of Kingston was read. It requisitioned the Government to have all aliens deported from the country, after the signing of a final peace agreement. Endorsement was asked for the motion.

Resolution calling upon the Government for action were sent by Peel County Council favoring a frontage tax in connection with the maintenance of the good roads system and by the united counties of Dundas, Stormont and Glengarry, pointing out the evils of the daylight saving scheme and asking that it be not again adopted.

The Repatriation Commission communicated with the Council urging upon it its responsibilities in connection with the returning soldier. The City Council of Toronto asked that Peterborough memorialize the Legislature to abolish the Provincial War Tax. A letter from the County Clerk of Hastings drew the attention of the Council to a resolution passed by the Council of that County requesting the Legislature to amend the width of the Tireage Act so as to make the load 400 lbs. per tire much instead of 600 as at present. Co-operation in obtaining this reform was solicited.

Mr. McNaughton resigned his position as high school trustee at Norwood and Mr. John Rorabeck was appointed in his place.

In answer to a letter from County Clerk Elliott the Deputy-Minister of Finance communicated with the Council to the effect that the order-in-council prohibiting municipalities to issue debentures without the consent of the Minister of Finance has been rescinded.

The treasurer of Victoria County notified the Council that on Feb. 6 he had paid the sum of $234.25 to this County as Victoria's share of the expense in connection with repair work.

County Buildings Worth $125,702.

A report was submitted by Messrs. James Graham and James Finnie showing the result of their appraisal of the County buildings:

Main building, including wings	$ 68260 00
Jail, including yard walls	27020 00
Caretaker's residences	8550 00
Registry Office	7800 00
Division Court Clerk's Office	2630 00
Boiler house, including boiler and dust	3344 00
Furniture and vault fittings	7898 00
	$125702 00

Appointing Auditors.

It was decided to leave the appointment of auditors for the County until a full council could decide upon the matter. This question was discussed for some time. A motion submitted by Reeves Squires and Brown named Messrs. Casement and Brault for the position. An amendment by Messrs. Griffith and Matheson, substituted Mr. Burgess for Mr. Brault and an amendment to the amendment provided for the appointment of Mr. J. J. Moore, of Keene, as an assistant for Mr. Casement. The last amendment was placed before the meeting by Reeve Anderson and Eason. Upon a motion, introduced by Reeves Brown and Anderson, the question was shelved for the time being.

Crown Attorney's Case.

Some interesting correspondence in connection with the Hatton dispute was read. The following letter, which is self explanatory, was sent to Mr. Hatton, who replied that owing to the meeting of the Crown Attorneys' Association in Toronto upon the 28th and 29th of the month, he would be unable to be present, as suggested by Mr. Elliott, but expressed the hope that he might be able to meet the Council on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

County Clerk's Letter.

Dear Sir,—

I am authorized by the Warden to request you to meet the Council as a whole at 10.30 a.m., Thursday, Jan. 30, 1919, at the Council Chamber, to discuss matters, re accommodations for County Crown Attorney and Clerk of the Peace.

Yours truly,

E. M. ELLIOTT.

Crown Attorney Hatton's Reply.

Dec. 30th, 1918.

To County Clerk Elliott:

Dear Sir,—I have a copy of special minutes of committee, passed by the County Council Dec. 21st, last, with reference to rooms offered us.

Having on Saturday, last, in my interview with the county council, positively refused to accept these three rooms or any of them, I cannot help but have the opinion that the County Council, or those who are dominating it, know that I will not accept these rooms and, in fact, they are hoping that I will not accept them, so that it might be relieved of the responsibility of supplying me with the accommodation that I am entitled to under the Act.

This simply means that I must consider the advisability of bringing another action to prove conclusively and beyond any doubt that these rooms are not justable and this I well feel assured I can do.

I will not undertake to do any work or ask a staff to do its work in rooms that never the year round receives the sunlight, nor in rooms that have the outlook that these have.

I have had stenographers view these rooms and each one declared they would refuse, white or black to work in them.

As a ratepayer, I have every right to suggest that if these rooms are, in the opinion of the Council, suitable for the Crown Attorney and Clerk of the Peace, they cannot be objectionable to the County Clerk and I presume that they are available for his use.

I will require payment for office accommodation until some is supplied by the County, from July last, the date the writ was issued.

(Sgd.) E. M. HATTON.

Mr. Hatton's Ultimatum.

Peterborough, Jan. 21, 1918.

Mr. E. M. Elliott,

County Treasurer, Peterborough.

Dear Sir,—I beg to notify the County Council that rooms not having been offered me in the Court House that are suitable to do my work as Crown Attorney and Clerk of the Peace, I now beg to give your formal notice to furnish me with proper accommodation in accordance with the terms of the judgment without further delay, and further take notice that I intend to charge expenses incurred by me since the issue of the writ in Hatton verses Peterborough. Further take notice that I am about to enter into a new lease for suitable offices and that this lease will be for a term of not less than 5 years as my [illegible] improvements unless I take a lease for a term of years. I will, of course, look to the County to reimburse me for the whole of the rent that I must pay to obtain suitable offices.

(Sgd.) E. W. HATTON.

Yes, I Intend To But Not Now

Have YOU any idea what that decision is costing you—even if you live? Of course, if you die the cost is much GREATER.

Read the following facts and then decide for yourself:

The premium you would pay for $1000 of insurance at age 60 WOULD BUY YOU nearly $4000 of insurance at age 21.

The premium you pay for $1000 of insurance at age 50 WOULD BUY YOU nearly $2500 at age 21.

The premium you pay for $1000 of insurance at age 35 WOULD BUY YOU $1440 at age 21.

Besides, while you may be insurable at age 21 you may not be insurable AT ANY PRICE at the other ages mentioned.

The one great fact that touches our lives is the verdict of NOW.

OBITUARY

LILLIAN MAY THOMPSON
(Millbrook Reporter.)

In every day life as in war death is no respector of persons, the brightest and best being called upon to submit to the dominion of the last enemy. There was general sorrow when one of the promising young women of the community was laid low with illness in the person of Lillian May Thompson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson, just east of town, but when the saddest of all dispensations was received from the house of mourning there was thereasel heart-breaking and a general whisper of emotional condolence. Lillian belonged to Millbrook no less than to Cavan, her school and Sunday School days being passed in our midst and her modest and cheerful disposition endearing her to all who knew her. To the bereaved father and mother, brothers and sisters what can be said to give comfort and hope in their dark days of grief, only the one message that is always writ in golden letters and scintillates from the firmament of God's handiwork, "The house of many Mansions is prepared and ready for all, and yet there is room." Pneumonia was the disease that took her from the family circle, and on Monday her remains were followed by many friends and neighbors to the Presbyterian cemetery where she was laid to rest. Rev. Wm. Higgs took charge of the services in the absence of Rev. Dr. Lee, minister of the family who was in Montreal. Gone, but not forgotten is Lillian May Thompson, but we hope to meet again where sorowr and anguish are unknown and parting is no more.

GORDON B. HUGHES

Gordon Bruce Hughes, until recently a resident of this city, died yesterday morning in Vancouver, at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. Colin Grant, after a short illness, in his 37th year.

Mr. Hughes was a son of the late James L. Hughes of Peterborough and was in the offices of the Canadian General Electric Company, here, for over twelve years. Two months ago he went to Vancouver, where he had a splendid position and it was intended that his family should join him there in a short time.

His sudden death came as a great shock to his many friends here, and deep sympathy is felt for the wife, who was formerly Miss Clara Belleghem and the two little children, Gordon aged 10 and Norma aged 3.

Two brothers and two sisters of the deceased reside in Vancouver. They are Mrs. J. Colin Grant, Mrs. Robert Sharpe, and Messrs Howard and Andrew Hughes.

The remains will be brought to Peterborough for interment. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

MR. GORDON LONG

Mr. Gordon Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Long of this city passed away in the hospital at Cobalt yesterday after a long illness of pneumonia. The parents are at present in Cobalt where they went to be with their son after he was taken seriously ill.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Epworth League In Convention

Delegates from every circuit in the Peterboro district met in George St. Methodist Church for the annual convention of Epworth Leagues and other young people's societies. The President, Rev. Andrew McLauchlin of Pontypool, welcomed the delegates and visitors and Rev. R. A. Whattam conducted a devotional half hour of song and bible study.

The report of the District Secretary showed a membership of 1013 active and associate members with a junior League membership of 233. For the support of Rev. Dr. Smith in China $569.00 had been raised during the year and among the resolution passed later was one providing for the circulation among all the leagues of the District of a letter from Dr. Smith.

Report of Leagues

Reports from individual leagues brought out an interesting variety of activities under the five departments. The Junior League of Mark Street reported through the youngest member of the Convention, master Alex Champion, who represented a Junior League membership in that church of 61 boys and girls. From the same church came an interesting report of a Boy Scout organization given by one of the boys of that organization and Senior League delegates told of the success of mission study classes, literary evenings, citizenship programs and consecration services and the round table conference conducted by Rev. Wm. Higgs brought out the fact that under enthusiastic leadership and a carefully planned program of work and study the Epworth League still remains one of the best all round organizations for the winning and training of young people for Christ and the church.

Major Frost's Address

Major Rev. H. A. Frost gave an address on "Comparisons of Mohammedism and Christianity as observed in Egypt and Gallipoli." He said that while there is a considerable likeness in the great doctrines of God and prayer and a future life, these as taught and practised by the followers of Mohammet are material in conception and encourage sensual living. Ritual is observed strictly in the letter but evaded in the spirit, marriage is a purchase of wives and divorce is easy. So much greater is the gift of Christ to the world in example, ideal, and revelation that Christian missionary work has in the Mohemmedan world a most needy field.

Summer School

The Conference Summer School at Albert College in July, 1918, was reported by Rev. W. H. Clark and the Convention elected Miss Elson president of the George Street League, as delegate from Peterboro District to the summer school of 1919.

Rev. F. E. Malott of Trinity Church spoke of "The Epworth League as a training ground for citizenship," Christianity gives the highest ideal and the true motive in patriotism teaching that service and not place and honor should be the aim. The departments of the Epworth League offer a splendid opportunity to develop and train a consecrated intelligent Christian citizenship

Tea was served in the dining room of the church and the social hour was much enjoyed. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the ladies of the Church for their hospitality.

The evening service was a rally of the Leagues of Peterboro local union. Rev. A. J. Thomas presided and after a hearty song service and devotional exercises, Rev. E. Val Telton of Lindsay gave a stirring address on "The Value of simple goodness as revealed and interpreted by Jesus Christ."

A roll call of leagues was answered by a unique response from each of the city leagues and the convention closed by the singing of the hymn, "All hail the power of Jesus' Name."

DOWNEYVILLE

Downeyville, Jan. 30.—The death occurred on Monday of a highly respected and well known resident of Downeyville, in the person of Joseph R. Lucas, aged 66 years. The late Mr. Lucas arose at the accustomed hour on the morning of his death, but a short time afterwards was found in a prostrated condition by the members of his family, who summoned a physician, but the vital spark had fled. PRESIDENT WILSON COINS ANOTHER NEW PHRASE AT THE PEACE CONFERENCE

Talks of "Peace With Loot" in Dealing With Plan to Divide German Colonies Among the Allies—The Crises Is Now Regarded as Over

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 31.—The crisis in peace negotiations over disposition to be made of Germany's colonies seems to have passed momentarily at least.

It is too early to say that President Wilson's view has prevailed in its entirety but in American quarters there is confidence that the compromise plan which has been accepted in principle, will be worked out with details which will be accepted to the American view point.

When the Supreme Council of Peace Conference meets today it will have before it a very plain statement made by President Wilson at Wednesday's late session.

What he said did not appear in the official communique nor has it been disclosed with any official authority, but it may be stated that it was a very clear re-affirmation of the principles for which the President has previously contended.

In phases stripped of diplomatic niceties, it is understood Mr. Wilson told the members of the Supreme Council he would not be a party to a division of Germany's colonial possessions among the powers which now hold them and then become a party to a League of Nations which, in effect, would guarantee their title. There are inferences that that President even referred to a peace with "Loot."

The net result of the past two days of the discussion on the colonial question in the opinion of many Americans here has been to clear the atmosphere generally and to force a clear definition of the aims on all sides.

Dating from May 4th a Sunday train will leave Toronto at 9.40 a.m. and run to Havelock and returning will reach Peterborough at 3.10 p.m.

C. P. R. Officials present were. A. D. MacTier, Vice President of the C.P.R., Allan Purvis, General Superintendent, C. B. Foster, Assistant Traffic Passenger Manager; W. R. Scott, Superintendent; W. H. Brown, District Freight Agent, Toronto.

A THOUSAND ONTARIO MEN HAVE SAILED FOR HOME ON TRANSPORT BALTIC

Vessel Sailed Wednesday and Will Soon Reach Halifax—Fifty Thousand Have Reached Canada Since Armistice Was Signed—Twenty Thousand a Month is the Estimate.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Fifty thousand returning soldiers and civilians have been brought to this country and distributed to their home points by the Canadian railways in six months since the general movement homeward from overseas began. The militia department had estimated the movement of twenty thousand per month.

The troopship Baltic left England January 29th and will probably dock in Halifax about next Friday. She carries 2,191 returning men, including one thousand from Ontario points. The government has issued a statement pointing out the difficulties of transportation. Several steamers promised for Canadians were diverted the the Australians, Americans and other overseas men returning.

Strikers Control Lighting Plant

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 31. — The critical stage of the strike on the Clyde was expected to be reached today as a result of the meeting of the strikers to receive the Government's answer to the telegrams sent by the Lord Provost transmitting the request of the strikers for the Government to intervene to secure for them a forty-hour week. London despatches last night said the Government had sent a reply to the Provost declining to intervene.

The people of Glasgow are just beginning to realize the gravity of the situation and the danger of the city drifting into the same conditions that prevail at Belfast. The power of the Glasgow strike committee appears to be increasing, and it is now exercising complete authority over the electrical department of the city.

Police Charge On Crowd of Strikers

Glasgow, Jan. 30.—Several persons were injured today when the police charged a crowd of strikers with their batons. Mounted police were called out and a number of arrests were made.

Thorold has decided to observe Friday of each week as welcoming day for the soldiers returning during the previous seven days.

Russian Factions Send in Replies

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 6.—The Peace Conference so far has had two replies to its invitation to the various Russian Governments for a conference at Prince's Islands. In one of these the Government of North Russia formaly refuses to meet with the Bolshevik. The Omsk Government under Admiral Kolchak, while less categoric in its reply, expresses strong reserve. Nothing official in connection with the invitation has been received from the Russia Soviet Government.

CRESSMAN COMPANY ANNOUNCE NEW PROFIT SHARING SYSTEM

Vice-President H. W. Cressman Explains Plan to Co-Workers at Annual Banquet Held in the Empress Last Night—A Firm in Which the Interests of Owners and Staff Are Identical

The Cressman Company entertained its large staff of co-workers at a banquet in the Empress Hotel last evening when a most enjoyable and profitable time was spent. The event fittingly marked the close of the business year for one of Peterborough's largest and most prosperous business houses which in an advanced form has adopted those measures which recognize and improve the interests of the individual, seeks his or her co-operation and thereby awakens a confidence and ensures a loyal interest in the progress of the firm which results in mutual benefit.

It can be safely said that the Cressman Company is in the forefront of those establishments which carry on their business on a profit sharing basis. This is one of the most recent reforms to be adopted in the industrial world and in fact is still looked upon by conservatively disposed concerns as a most dubious experiment. All reforms are an experiment until they have been tried out and consequently the Cressman Company is to be complimented upon the initiative it has shown in being a pioneer in a movement which now that the trail has been blazed is being rapidly adopted by the most progressive commercial and manufacturing organizations of the country.

New Policy Announced

Last night Mr. H. W. Cressman, the Vice President of the Company announced another innovation in the method of carrying on the business when he stated that "The policy of the Cressman Company for the future will be one of co-operation profit sharing which will include every person engaged in the business whether selling or otherwise employed."

There was a general air of good comradeship characterising the gathering last evening which is not found between the Vice-President, heads of departments and members of the staff of many large establishments and which went a long way towards explaining the remarkable progress and prosperity this establishment enjoys and which was never more marked than in the year which closes today.

IS RAISING HUGE ARMY IN GERMANY

VON HINDENBURG SAID TO BE GATHERING TOGETHER FOUR CORPS.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Jan. 31.—Reports received here from Berlin by way of Amsterdam stating that Field Marshal von Hindenburg is raising four army corps for the protection of Germany's eastern frontier have attracted considerable attention in military circles in Paris. Allied military men are interested in particular for the reason that if the Field Marshal were successful in collecting such a body of troops its existence would upset the present calculations of Germany's armed strength, on which the size of the Allied army of occupation is to be based.

MORE EMBARGOS ARE CALLED OFF

OTTAWA CANCELS ORDERS ON BAKERS, CONFECTIONERS PUBLIC EATING PLACES.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—All restrictions on three classes of food license, i.e., retail dealers, wholesale procers and public eating places, have been withdrawn by order of the Canada Food Board, announced. They may now return to pre-war trade conditions. Such dealers shall not be required to obtain license or renewals of same. Previous orders of the board affected by this revocation are Numbers 17, 21, 22 and 46.

Order 63, which has been in force since September, fixing prices to be paid to fishermen for British Columbia salmon, is likewise repealed. The announcement adds that all restrictions on bakers and confectioners have also been removed, to take effect on Feb. 10.

Governing Power Usurped by Strikers

(Canadian Press Despatch)

London, Jan. 31.—Telegrams from Belfast depict the situation there which seems akin to that which recently obtained in German cities under revolutionary rule. The governing power has been usurped, says the Belfast despatch to the Mail, by the strike committee and the city is governed, not from the city hall, but from the humble artisans halls, where the committee sits.

Failure to despatch mail on fast steamers operated by the British Government from English ports has been criticized by London newspapers.

TOWNSHIPS NEED LOOK FOR NO GRANTS FROM COUNTY

Each Municipality Must Care for Own Highway—Deputy Reeve Eason Favors Attempt to Get Back the Automobile Taxes

This morning the roads and bridges committee of the County Council devoted the time to discussing and dealing with the questions which came within their jurisdiction, with Reeve Nichols in the chair.

Committees were appointed to examine several bridges which were reported to be in a state of disrepair, and the request of Reeve Bullied was acceded to, that the Council be recommended to grant the sum of half the amount necessary for the reconstruction of the Haynes bridge in Chandos, the township to assume the remainder of the cost.

Reeve Shaw of Harvey asked for assistance in the repair of the road running north through his municipality to Buckhorn, which he stated was in a terrible condition on account of the passage of countless automobiles to the summer resorts last season.

It was hoped to spend $600 upon the highway in question, $150 from the county, $150 from the township and a corresponding grant of $300 from the Government. Reeve Shaw therefore asked that the county make a grant of $150 upon condition that a $300 grant could be obtained from the Legislature.

Reeve Anderson of Otonabee objected to such an action. Otonabee was suffering from the inroads of foreign motorists in as great a degree as was Harvey, and yet they would not think of asking the other municipalities to assist in maintaining their roads.

Reeve Shaw accused those who thought in that way of inconsistency. They had just recommended a grant of money to Chandos to help in constructing a bridge. "What is the difference between a bridge and a road?" he demanded.

Deputy Reeve Eason of Otonabee thought it was high time something was done to secure some of the money going to the government as a result of the tourist traffic. He felt that some system should be adopted at once or else the question should be dropped. If Reeve Shaw applied for such a grant as he was considering he would be told that there was a system by which he could secure such assistance, and not otherwise.

Reeve Shaw—"I don't expect that, should the good roads system be adopted, Harvey would be included in it."

Deputy Reeve Eason—"No, but it would make possible a grant."

A motion was introduced by Messrs. Eason and Coughlin providing that no action be taken in the matter of making grants to municipalities to aid them in maintaining or constructing roads.

An amendment by Messrs. Shaw and Griffith was substituted recommending the grant to Harvey provided Government aid could be secured. It was defeated.

Deputy Reeve Eason spoke in favor of a resolution providing that the Government be memorialized to have the width of runners on winter-driven vehicles increased to the same breadth as wheel vehicles. Upon the suggestion of Warden McIntosh, he added to his motion a requisition that the provision of the Width of Tirage Act be enforced at once.

In speaking of the resolution, Deputy Reeve Eason explained that if the runners on sleighs were set wider apart there would be less danger of horses crowding; the roadway would be wider in the winter, and in times

NEW MASONIC TEMPLE HAS BEEN FORMALLY DEDICATED

Officers of Grand Lodge Took Part in Ceremony--Banquet at Empress Hotel Tonight

This afternoon at 3 o'clock the dedication of the new Masonic Hall was held. The impressive ceremony was carried out by the following officers of the Grand Lodge: the Grand Master, M. W. Bro. W. H. Wardrope, K.C., Toronto; Dep. Grand Master R. W. Bro. Harcourt, K.C., Toronto; Grand Secretary R. W. Bro. W. M. Logan; Grand Treasurer M. W. Bro. E. T. Malone and the Assistant Grand Secretary.

Tonight at the Empress Hotel the Grand Lodge officers will be banqueted by the local members of the Craft. R. W. Bro. H. R. H. Kenner is chairman of the banquet; W. Bro. J. E. L. Goodwill, vice-chairman; Mr. Frank Oldfield, the celebrated baritone singer, of Toronto, will be the entertainer.

Peterborough's new Masonic lodge rooms are considered by visiting brethren from Toronto to be second to none in the Dominion of Canada in the matter of furnishings and general appearance and architecture. The hall formerly occupied by the craft in this city was destroyed by fire a year ago, January 25, and as a consequence the society has been using the apartments of the Oddfellows since that time, through the kindness of the members of that society. The new Masonic quarters are situated in the Bank of Commerce building and will be used by the three local lodges, namely, Corinthian, Peterborough and Royal Arthur.

The following committee was entrusted with the planning and furnishing of the new Masonic Hall: Board of Trustees: R. W. Bro. H. R. H. Kenner, chairman; W. B., H. W. Morphet, Corinthian Lodge; W. B., W. H. Hill, Peterborough Lodge; W. B., J. G. M. Wilson, Corinthian Chapter; Bro. G. W. Healey, Moore Preceptory. Ruling Masters of 1918-19, also upon the committee: W.B., F. Dawson, Corinthian Lodge; W.B., W. T. Holloway, Corinthian Lodge; W.B., A. Weddell, Peterborough Lodge; W.B., G. Taylor, Peterborough Lodge; W. B., E. B. Fowler, Royal Arthur. Sub-Committee: W. B., J. E. L. Goodwill, Master Overseer; Bro. W. H. Barrie, Chief Architect; Bro. Robt. Ross, Decorator.

There are over 600 members of the Masonic Craft in the city of Peterborough and unfortunately there will be accommodation for only 250 at the banquet this evening. The dedication of the Masonic Hall is one of the most impressive ceremonies in connection with Free Masonry and today will go down as a red letter occasion in the history of the Craft in this city.

"FOR A GREATER PETERBOROUGH."

FRIDAY, JANUARY 31, 1919

A VOICE FROM THE MAUSOLEUM.

REFERRING to the article on the local political situation which appeared in these columns recently, our contemporary essays a stroke of facetiousness in its attempt to discredit what was a plain statement of actual conditions. Our neighbor should remember that there are various sources from which information can be obtained. We would never, however, for a moment think of looking for anything of the kind in its own editorial mausoleum, filled with nothing but the dried bones of ideas long defunct.

For the Examiner, politics is an uncharted sea, and it would be well advised not to venture upon it. Its only hope is to confine itself to its one specialty in which long application has made it tolerably proficient even if the dreary monotony weakens its own case just as the vain repetitions of the heathen mar the effect of his prayer to his idols.

"YOUTH" IN A NEW ROLE.

PRESIDENT WILSON has crossed the ocean to secure the freedom of the seas for his own people. "Everywoman" and "Youth" individually set out to search for "Love," only to find out at last that they had had it right with them at the old home all these years, even if they did not know it. To President Wilson enlightenment may come by the same process.

DECLINING TO CONFER.

THE COUNTY COUNCILLORS have declined to appoint a committee to confer with representatives of the City Council on the good roads problem, taking the stand that they have nothing to discuss with the aldermen.

They certainly have, in the opinion of the people. For example, the auto owners, who pay a license fee every year and who are denied the full benefit and pleasure usually derived from the possession of such vehicles, would like to know why the provincial system of building highways is repudiated in Peterborough County while all other counties in the Province have adopted it.

Over $20,000 goes out of this city and county every year to pay for auto licenses. All of this could be recovered for the construction of roads if the County Councillors would only consent to adopt modern methods and avail themselves of their opportunities. As it is now, not one cent of the auto license money comes back here, the entire amount being expended in building good roads for other municipalities.

PARTY GOVERNMENT ALWAYS.

AT REGULAR and frequent intervals some newspaper rises in its wisdom and expresses the hope that the day of party government is over. This sentiment is echoed by preachers and public speakers everywhere.

Why waste space and breath? There was party government in one form or another since the earliest records in either sacred or profane history. There is party government even in the most primitive stages of a community when the people array themselves on the two sides of every public question. There will be party government until the end of the ages, or at least up to the dawn of the millennium. It has not yet been ordained by the Creator that all men should think alike. But for that wise provision there would be nothing of progress noted in human affairs. The human family would resolve itself into one vast mutual admiration society, satisfied with conditions as they found them.

Party government was not abolished by the coalition formed at Ottawa over a year ago. In the election of 1917 the country was divided into two camps, just as it was on all previous occasions of the kind. The name of one party had been changed and that of the other somewhat modified, so that the old-time Liberals were as often as not referred to as the Laurierites.

Changing the name of the leopard or of the Ethiopian does not affect the spots of the one or the natural hue of the other, although equipped with different designations both might essay to live down anything in their record that could be used against them. Hanging the name of a party does not do away with partyism, even though it forms an excuse for recruits from the other side to identify themselves with it.

Had the old-time Conservative party faced the people under the old banner in 1917 the results and the happenings leading up to those results would have been the same, although not to the same marvellous extent. There would have been on the one side those in favor of carrying on the war to the limit, and those who openly and brazenly advocated that Canada had already done more than her share. There would have been the faction in favor of sending reinforcements overseas, and the remnant that took the easier alternative and would regard it as the highest national duty to keep the men already there well supplied with "cereals, meats and fats."

There were two parties in Parliament last session, and there will continue to be two parties so long as Canada has an elective government. The members of any debating society will naturally fall into two sections, the one unable to see eye to eye with the other. Conservatives may be called Unionists and Liberals may be tagged with a new label, but everything will be practically as it was before. And until the latter reorganize along entirely different lines, until they repudiate the record of the past few years of the remnant that remained faithful to the old leadership, there will be desertions among them, the conscience-stricken and the patriotic going over the way.

The Conservative party may have changed its name, but its principles survive. In the work of reconstruction, now that peace has been restored, there will be the same old war issues only in another form, and this means that the alignment of the electors, just as they stand today, will remain to a great extent intact.

What, for instance, has the returned soldier to hope for from a political party that deserted him when his need was the sorest, who would have given the alien the right to vote the soldiers into death or the desolation of desertion by the country that was supposed to stand behind them; that would have denied the vote to the wives, sisters and daughters of the men overseas?

The trouble is that the soldiers have had too many fair weather champions, of which local examples are not lacking. But the men who made the sacrifices overseas are not lacking in discernment today as between their true supporters and those lavish in lip service.

IN NORTH ONTARIO.

IN NORTH ONTARIO there is in progress a contest for the Legislature to fill the vacancy caused by the death of ex-Speaker Hoyle, a contest which is of province-wide interest because of the issues involved. Major Cameron, the Conservative candidate, spent over three years in the very thick of the fighting in Europe. Mr. Widdifield, his opponent, is a man who has for years been addicted to politics in all its phases. He was for the purposes of this campaign first nominated as a straight Laurier Liberal, and was later endorsed by the farmers' party. The contest is keen and speakers from outside are taking a hand in the preliminaries.

The election in North Ontario should demonstrate the attitude of the public toward the returned soldiers, as to whether all these professions of friendship are genuine or so much super-heated atmosphere.

A local contemporary, with its peculiar fatal faculty for blundering, which asserts itself every time it ventures into the political field, a few days ago innocently asserted, in a brave attempt to take a hand on behalf of its party, that the Conservatives, in nominating Major Cameron, had resorted to their old program of waving the flag. Is this to be the deduction every time an ex-soldier is appointed to or nominated for office? Anyway, it would not be amiss altogether for Major Cameron's friends to wave the flag that he did so much to save.

The Examiner cannot find it in its heart to speak a good word for a veteran in, or a candidate for, public place, unless he happens to be of its own faith. In the case of North Ontario, it would favor the fortunes of the Liberal nominee rather than of the veteran, even though the latter was sweating blood in some of the fiercest engagements of the war while his opponent was fiddling for the copperhead faction in security at home.

THE TREND OF TRADE.

HUNDREDS of workingmen and women earning their own living have been laid off recently and in the depth of winter their incomes have been stopped. They were engaged in the production of foodstuffs to which the European market has been suddenly closed.

Last night a spectacle unusual in this city for a number of years was witnessed at the Grand Trunk depot. Three cars laden with Canadian hogs passed through this city on the way to the Buffalo market. Under other conditions the hogs would have been delivered to the local packing house, thus making work and business for the city.

Local flour mills, too, feel the result of the embargo on Canadian imports. There is no home market to speak of for their produce and none whatever in Europe. While Canada suffers, however, business appears to go on as usual in the United States. Food Controller Hoover, supposed to impartially represent the Allies in distributing the products of the Western Hemisphere among the needy nations of Europe, has evidently cornered the market over there for the Americans.

The price of hogs has been fixed at $17.50 in the United States, or about $2 higher than the prevailing price in Toronto. The Canadian farmer will not suffer, to any great extent by the embargo, whatever may be the effect upon the consumers, the workingmen, the millers and the packers.

It would be interesting to learn how one country's trade should be paralyzed while that of another remains at high water mark in a market to which both are supposed to have the same measure of access.

THE LATEST THING IN SCIENCE

The latest modern science thrust in to prominence by the war is music-otherapy, which utilises the curative powers of rhythm and harmony.

Miss Margaret Anderson, who has been studying the healing forces of music since she was 8 years old, has returned to New York from Canada, where she has been practicing music-otherapy on the wounded Canadians who have returned from the battle fields of France. She has been engaged by Columbia university to organize a class which she will instruct in her methods with a view to using the same successful treatments to restore Americans to health and vigor.

The stories that Miss Anderson tells of her work in Canada are remarkable. One of the most interesting cases of direct cure effected by music was the restoration of memory to a young captain suffering from aphasis, as a result of having been hurled into the air and then buried in the debris after the discharge of a high explosive bomb. When Miss Anderson began her treatments her efforts seemed almost hopeless, but one day the spell was broken, the shocked mind came into its own and the captain for the first time since his injury remembered his name.

Miss Anderton overcomes orthopedic disabilities by exercises which produce pleasing sounds from some musical instrument. So successful has she been that one of her patients who lost a foot is now earning his living playing a church pipe organ, using his false foot to operate the pedals.

Chronic melancholia responds to musicotherapy with apparent satisfaction to the operative. A man of 45, blinded and consequently most despondent, was reached after many patient efforts through the medium of a small lap instrument, strung like a piano in the miniature. The first time he sounded the instrument was in an outburst of bad temper, but later he was heard sounding the strings over and over again to produce whatever pleasing sounds he was able. A few days later Miss Anderton showed him how to pick out the melody of "God Save the King." So busy was he with this new means of passing away the time which hung so heavily that the outbursts of passion became fewer and less violent. One day his benefactor purposely threw his "G" string out of tune, without the patient's knowledge. Then he sent for her and explained that something had gone wrong with his "toy." His first lesson in tuning followed and he is now completing a course in piano tuning in an occupational sanitarium.

A young man who had been a blacksmith in civil life had not only been gassed but shot through the lung. Miss Anderton appreciated that singing would be less monotonous exercise than just deep breathing. The young Welshman developed a remarkably sweet tenor and was later engaged by a vaudeville agency to sing at $40 a week to begin with. This was later increased to $60. This has made it possible for him to realize a life ambition to become an electrical engineer.

In England a "vocal therapy fund" has been established to promote the restoration of the powers of speech lost to soldiers through shell shock and in general the physical and mental health of sick, wounded and disabled sailors and soldiers.

TODAY'S STORY

Marshal Foch is the latest of the world's great fighters to ride a white horse. Seated on his celebrated charger "Croesus," the Allied Commander - in - Chief rode into Strassburg as a conqueror.

The legend of the white horse as the horse of victory is a very ancient one. Castor and Pollux, seated on white horses, led the Roman legions to victory, and so great was the reputation of these two Roman captains that for many years after their deaths the legionaries felt sure of victory, if they either saw, or even were told others had seen, the ghostly forms of Castor and Pollux on their white steeds passing in front of the army as it marched upon the foe.

The regiments of Kent wear a white horse as their badge, the coat-of-arms of the country, which has its origin in the legendary white horse ridden by those famous Kentish heroes of Anglo Saxon times, Hengist and Horsa.

There are few notable pictures of any battle in which Napoleon took part that do not depict the Little Corporal as seated on his famous charger "Marengo," the pure white horse which Napoleon loved as much as it was possible for him to love anything beside himself.

In more modern times it may be remembered that Lord Roberts' favorite war-horse, the celebrated "Volunel," was also a white one. This horse not only had the great honor of carrying perhaps the smallest man who ever led armies to victory, but also had itself been decorated with medals and ribbons as souvenirs of the various compaigns in India, Afghanistan and oSuth Africa in which it had taken part.

Black and Bay.

Although the white horse has become traditional, there are some famous black horse. One of these is "Bucephalus," the horse ridden by Alexander the Great, which has gained a lasting renown from the fact of its being always so dear to the monarch's heart that he regarded it as a feritable mascot in battle, and is said never to have lost a fight in which he rode to the fray on that splendid charger.

And one also recalls that the celebrated Richard Neville, Earl of Warwick, king-maker and last of the Barons, preferred above all the two Arab horses, coal-black, which someone had given him as descended from a Crusading steed brought from the Holy Land. Even today it thrills the soul of the most prosaic to read that famous description of how, on the field of Barnet, the great Baron, seeing his comrades and followers wavering, stood up and in the sight of all the troops slew his magnificent horse "Salmida," as a sign of them that there would be no retreat, but that he with them meant to win or die.

There are perhaps even fewer renowned Generals who have chosen a bay horse as their warsteed, but in this respect one calls to mind Wellington's noted charger, "Copenhagen," which has certainly had more replicas of itself sculptured than any other war-horse.

The favorite horse of Sir Douglas Haig is, too, a fine bay, as was also that ridden by the lamented General Sir Stanley Maude, when he conquered Mesopotamia and led the British into Bagdad.

WIT AND WISDOM

A Dead Letter.

Mrs. A.—"Your husband told my husband that his word was law at home."

Mrs. B.—"Yes, it's one of those laws that are never enforced."

No Bolshevik.

They had been married three months and were having their first quarrel—which shows that they were a remarkable couple.

"Evidently," she said icily, "you regret that you have married me. The step is not irrevocable, however. If you care to be released from your bonds—"

"Naw," he interrupted, impatiently. "I'm no 90-day recruit. I enlisted for the term of the war."

She couldn't think of any retort, so she maintained a scornful silence.

The Real Puzzle.

Whatever goes up must come down. But in these days it is easier to keep up appearances than to keep down expenses.

Jim—"I envy the man who sang the tenor solo."

Maud—"Why, I thought he had a very poor voice."

Jim—"So did I; but just think of his nerve."

Remembered These Waists.

"I want a pair of button shoes for my wife."

"This way, sir. What kind do you wish, sir?"

"Doesn't matter, just so they don't button in the back."

How It Happened.

"Pardon me," said the army cook, for military chefs are prone to address their underlings courteously, "but I prithee tell me where you learned to peel potatoes so artistically? I observe that you do not cut off the cuticle in great hunks, as alas, too many do, but loosen a bit of the skin of the tuber and then deftly strip it all off. You must have had much experience in skinning ere entering upon a soldier's life?"

"I did, thank you, sir," replied the accomplished member of the kitchen police. "Before I decided to make the world safe for democracy I was a country banker."

THE FARMERS AND TAXATION

Editor Review: What effect will the next taxation lean upon the farmer? Indirect or tariff taxation is something that all consumers hafe to pay, but only as they consume. It allows us way of complete escape for any class and therefore places all people upon an equal footing. But by restricting consumption one may lower the tax bill. Not so with direct taxation. It promises a way of escape to the man whose assets hich as money, are not inside to the eye of the assessor. Money is estimated to escape under direct or municipal taxation.

One-half of the trouble which it could bear as it were valuable property, The farmer, therefore, under direct taxation, will pay more than his share and cannot by economising, lessen his tax bill. Such is the difference between direct and indirect-tax to the farmer. Will he wish to exchange a tariff for the assessor?

LESSONS IN RIGHT LIVING

(By Dr. W. A. Brady)

Dirty hands and dirty implements must be kept out of the eyes. That seems a gratuitous suggestion, yet many an eye is seriously damaged by amateur efforts to remove a real or imaginary foreign body with unclean fingers or implements not sterilized in shops and factories.

Under no circumstances should any one not a physician employ a sharp implement in the attempt to remove a foreign body from an eye. Nor should the corner of a handkerchief be wet with saliva for this purpose—you never know what disaster the saliva of a clean looking person may convey.

Usually simple foreign bodies may be washed out of the eye with the least irritation and trouble. For this purpose the best agent is normal salt solution—a rounded teaspoonful of table salt dissolved in a pint of freshly boiled water. This is about the same strength as the tears, and, therefore, less irritating than plain water in the eye. Place the patient's head at rest on couch or chairback with the face looking upward. Arrange a towel to catch the overflow and gently pour the pleasantly warm solution upon the eye while you hold the lids separated with the other hand; but pour only from immediately above not from a height. This can at least do no harm and will wash out particles not imbedded in the eyeball.

If a particle or foreign body can be distinctly seed, and you are sure it is not a natural pigmented spot in the iris or color ring of the eyeball (these spots are attacked daily by amateurs,) if it fails to come away with repeated gentle eye washing, then with clean fingers wrap about the end of a toothpick or match a small wisp of cotton, moisten this well with normal salt solution and hold the lids separated with the left hand while you gently brush the cotton nap flatwise over the spot or particle to pick itup, resting your hand for steadiness and support on the patient's cheek.

If this fails after one attempt, you have done all that is justifiable to do for the sufferer. It now becomes you duty to refer the sufferer to an oculist or at least a physician for further care. Never attempt to dig out a cinder or bit of emery or steel or glass from the eyeball for such attempts often work havoc with the eyesight and induce serious ulceration of the cornea. The injured eye should be covered, preferably with a wet compress (wet in normal salt solution, or boric acid solution, or plain water) and a snug bandage, to keep it at rest until the doctor can attend to it.

The Old Fashioned Dipper

"Will you please say something about the old fashioned dipper? A friend has one in her kitchen and offers it to callers who ask for a drink, although her whole family are sickly and several have died with consumption. If one drinks from a dipper which a girl with tonsilitis has just taken a drink is there not danger? Mrs. C.H.A."

The old battered dipper the much dented dipper, the long serving dipper that hangs o'er the sink may carry rhinitis or mayhap bronchitis and eke tonsilitis along with your drink. 'Tis really appalling how neighbors go calling without taking something from which they can drink if forced in emergency with thirst of such urgency, don't bother your hostess, go drink from the sink.

Diana Dissatisfied

"Please, doctor, if you will only advise me I shall be grateful to you for the rest of my life. How can I do it? I am a girl 16 years old 5 feet 7 inches tall and weigh the small amount of 124 pounds. It is my greatest wish to reduce to about 125 pounds. I have had a great amount of physical training and almost live in the fresh air. I must confess a great fondness for ice cream and sweets and always a large appetite at meal times."

The average or normal weight of a 16 year old girl five feet and seven inches tall is 130 or 132 pounds. So, you see, Diana, you have only to omit one dish of ice cream or one feed of chocolate fudge daily in order to avoid growing fat.

GATE FOR STAIRS

Procure a piece of heavy canvas and hem to fit the required space; sew a snap hook to each corner. Place two screw eyes on each side of the hall, one as near the floor as possible, the other the width of the canvas from lower one. The canvas is readily snapped in place on the screw eyes, formng an effective gate. With a screw in the banister the gate can be snapped out of the way when the kiddies are in bed.

RESTRICTIONS ON BRITISH IMPORTS SHUT OUT CANADA

NEW TRADE REGULATIONS BAR CANADIAN EXPORTS — CABINET MAY TAKE ACTION.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Restrictions imposed by Great Britain on her imports apply to Canadian exports.

Notification to this effect has been received by the War Trade Board. It is expected that the question will be brought before the cabinet council with a view to representations being made to the Imperial government. The probable aim will be to secure preferential license for Canadian products.

May Secure License

Under the new British regulations the duty of obtaining permission to import will devolve on the importer. he will be required to obtain a license from the British bureau of export restrictions before any goods on the barred list will be admitted. It will thus be useless for a Canadian exporter to attempt to send any of the specified goods to Great Britain unless the importer overseas has first obtained the necessary license.

May Only be Temporary

Since the early days of the war, restrictions have been placed on imports by the British goverenment. The new regulations continue the licensing system. They are regarded here as more rigid, if anything, than the old restrictions which were imposed primarily to have shipping space.

According to advices, the British restrictions are to be temporary only. They have been imposed for a double reason: to bring stability to British manufactures over the reconstruction period and to stabilize exchange. The commodities affected cover a wide range. They include, apparently, practically everything that Great Britain considers she is able to produce for herself.

Means Serious Loss

Coming into effect on March 1 the regulations cover commodities in which a promising export trade had been built up. Export figures for war years being abnormal owing to munition orders, cannot be taken as a basis. In 1913, however, the last normal year, Canadian manufacturers exported to Great Britain totalled $7,158,746, or 4.21 per cent., of total Canadian exports to Great Britain. The new restrictions are regarded as specially important in view of Canadian endeavors to build up an export trade to meet the situation caused by the cessation of orders for munitions.

Really Tariff Move?

There is also some disposition to think that the new policy is a concession by Lloyd George to the Unionist tariff reformers, and it is to be noted that the chancellor of the exchequer is none other than Austen Chamberlain, son of the father of tariff reform.

CHIEF THOMPSON ISSUES CAUTION TO MOTORISTS

ASKS ALL DRIVERS OF VEHICLES TO OBSERVE TRAFFIC REGULATIONS.

Peterborough's Police Department continues to complain that the traffic regulations are not being lived up to by motorists and drivers of other vehicles. They ask, therefore, that publicity be given the following extracts from the traffic regulations. Motorists can read them with profit as the procedure to be followed in driving an automobile or for that matter another vehicle is not as simple as might be imagined, especially in a city street. Many drivers err through ignorance of the rules rather than as a result of carelessness or a feeling of defiance. Here are the regulations:

Drive careful at street intersections, particularly when entering a main thoroughfare. The great majority of accidents happen at street intersections.

At street intersections, a motor car approaching from your right hand side has the right-of-way.

In the presence of danger, there is no right-of-way. It is your duty to prevent an accident under any circumstances.

When you meet a vehicle, pass on the right, when you overtake one, pass on the left.

Do not cut in when you overtake a vehicle, and another is approaching, custom and safety give the right-of-way to approaching vehicle.

Do not change speed or direction suddenly. Indicate your intention by holding your hand up if you wish to stop, and to the side if you are going to turn. There is usually a car behind you.

Do not drive with glaring headlights.

Pedestrians who have started to cross a street at a reasonable distance from an approaching motor car, have the right to do so at the pace of an ordinary walk, and the motorist has no right to compel pedestrians to rush or run for safety by the insolent blowing of the horn.

Shocking speed when approaching pedestrians, blow the horn if thought necessary to warn them, but permit them to cross the street in safety at a reasonable pace. Remember there are old people, invalids and children.

Young and inexperienced drivers frequently drive with the muffler open. Unnecessary noise is illegal and objectionable.

If you are a licensed driver or the owner of a registered car, and change your address, notify the Department of Public Highway immediately of the transfer, giving the name and address of the purchaser, and the license number of the car.

When you buy a car which is registered, notify the Department of Public Highways immediately, giving your name and address, and the license number of the car, and enclose the fee of $1.00.

When you buy or sell a car which is registered, the number plates must remain on the car.

Go to the nearest examiner and pass the prescribed examination for drivers of motor cars, obtaining a non-professional certificate. Do not wait till after the accident to obtain this evidence of competency.

If you drive for (hire, pay or gain), it is illegal to do so without passing the prescribed examination and obtaining a provincial license.

It is illegal to employ a chauffeur who has not a driver's license, and who is not registered for the year. See that every driver in your employ wears his badge.

The foregoing paragraphs are merely a free interpretation of certain portions of the Ontario traffic laws, regulations and accepted rules of the road, and are not to be understood as verbally statutory. Copies of the Motor Vehicle Act may be obtained by applying to the Department of Public Highways, Parliament buildings, Toronto, Ont.

Do your part in making Ontario noted for good and careful driving.

D. THOMPSON,
Chief Constable.

Resolved to Employ Only British Blood

"That this board of control hereby requests all manufacturers and other employers of labor in Toronto to dispense with the services of aliens and to employ in their places returned soldiers or persons of British birth."

Such was the resolution that the Toronto board of control unanimously adopted yesterday on the motion of Controller McBride. It was passed practically without any comment. Controller McBride said that he heard that some factories had turned away returned soldiers and within five minutes had taken on foreigners. "This sort of thing must be stopped," he said.

AMALGAMATION OF BANKS

FINANCIAL JOURNAL INCLINES TO FAVOR SUCH UNIONS ON GENERAL PRINCIPLES.

(Journal of Commerce)

The announcement of the proposed absorption of the Bank of Ottawa by the Bank of Nova Scotia has created quite a stir in the capital city, and various plans are suggested to block the movement. There are, under the amended Bank Act, two stages to governmental action in relation to a bank amalgamation. The promotors are required in the first instance to obtain the approval of the Minister of Finance for the negotiations and later the approval of the Cabinet—the Governer-in-Council—is required. The first stage has been taken with the Minister's approval. Evidently a strong appeal is to be made to the Governor-in-Council to refuse their consent.

To some extent the opposition is based on the opinion that the amalgamation of banks is tending to create what is called a "money trust" in Montreal and Toronto. The fact that the number of Canadian banks is being materially reduced by these amalgamations is regarded with anxiety, if not alarm, by many. This feeling is so widespread that both bankers and Government must keep it in mind in considering all merger proposals that may arise. Where two banks are occupying substantially the same territory an amalgamation would probably require the closing of many branches and in this way there would be a distinct diminishing of competition, a tendency toward the monopoly that is feared. It is claimed by the promoters of the present amalgamation that this objection cannot be raised, since there are but few points at which the two banks are at present competing, and these, it is stated, are in large centres so well supplied with branch banks that no monopoly can exist.

While it is well to keep in mind the danger that might arise from amalgamation it is also necessary to appreciate the importance of having strong banking institutions, able to operate in a large field. To increase the capital of a bank the assent of the Government is required, but there is, we believe, no case in which a bank has been denied the privilege of enlarging its operations. There is a provision that a bank cannot go into operation with less than half a million dollars of capital. Subject to that the bank is practically free to adjust its capital to the business of the sphere within which it operates.

It is difficult to see how a fixed limit can be placed on the amount of a bank's capital. A bank of a local character does not need a large capital. But a bank operating in all parts of Canada and still more a bank aiming at the encouragement of Canada business with foreign countries must have a very strong financial position. It is a day of big enterprises. In England, where there is a keen appreciation of the new conditions that are arising, several amalgamations of large banks have taken place, for the purpose of creating stronger institutions. In the United States plans are being made for the financing of both home and foreign trade in a large way. Canada has her part to play in this world competition for trade and Canada's financial institutions must be awake to the need. By all means let care be taken to guard against amalgamations that will materially diminish competition. But let us not through unfounded fears prevent our banks preparing to do their part in the big work of financing Canada's trade extensions.

No Changes Yet In Fuel Regulations

The Board of Fuel Commissioners wish to remind the public that so far no change has been made in the law that no one can receive more than seven per cent. of the normal requirement of coal for the winter. This is a Dominion law which cannot be changed by the Board. With the weather we are having every home should get through the winter without requiring more than the seventy per cent., but if any householder is afraid of his supply running out it would be well to purchase a ton or two of buckwheat coal to mix with the supply on hand. There is no restriction on buckwheat coal.

ARE TAKING BACK THEIR EMPLOYES

WHAT TORONTO IS DOING TO PROVIDE FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS.

Toronto, Jan. 1.—Toronto employers are preparing in an efficient, systematic manner to take back all their old employes who have been on active service.

Mr. Hugh Blain, of the wholesale grocery firm of Eby, Blain & Co., said: "While our work requires a certain amount of technical exactitude, we are prepared to do all we can for the returned and returning men. One thing is sure, and that is that any of our men who come back to us for employment will find their places waiting for them. We have only had one of our former employes return to the city so far, and he has been restored to his old position."

For Crippled Men.

"We're taking back every employe who left the concern," was the quick reply of Mr. M. C. Ellis in answer to a question. "Yes," affirmed his brother, Mr. P. W. Ellis, "there is a job waiting for each soldier who left our factory when he returns home."

"In addition to this," continued Mr. J. W. Ellis, "we are co-operating with the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment in affording special employment to men who have been incapacitated by the loss of their limbs, and wish to engage in the manufacture of jewelry. Forty-five men went over from our factory and all the men who come back can rest assured that they will lose absolutely nothing through their service overseas."

In the Banks.

Staff Manager Foster, of the head office of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, told that so far the bank had not been confronted with the problem of fitting back their old employes.

Asked if the bank had prepared any system in anticipation of the return of their old employes, Mr. Foster said that some months ago the management had evolved a special scheme of salary increases to meet the need of the men overseas when they returned to their old positions. "As soon as possible after a man's return," continued Mr. Foster, "he will be placed in the position which he would probably have been in if there had been no war." Mr. Foster added that banking was different from a great many other businesses, and that the men were trained for special office work which made the necessity for special treatment necessary. "Up till recently," said he, "we have not been establishing many branch banks, but we are now opening branches, and one of the reasons for this is with a view to finding work for our men when they return from overseas."

Salary Increases.

"The Imperial Bank of Canada will not refuse employment to any old employe who proved himself worthy and capable before the war," was the statement made by Mr. G. D. Bolton, Chief Inspector of the bank, when asked the policy of the management. "So far as we are concerned," said he, "every returning employe will receive the same proportionate increase in salary that he would have had if the war had never happened. As a matter of fact, the management takes the view that the experience that our men have gained at the front is a very positive educational factor. While they may have lost some clerical ability, this has been more than offset by the broader viewpoint which they have developed through dealing with their fellowmen and assuming grave responsibilities."

SAVE YOUR HAIR! DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT.

Immediate? Yes! Certain? — that's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after an application of Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, charming, lustrous hair and lots of it, if you will spend a few cents for a bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

DOG HAS ITS DAY IN PARIS.

Every One in France Seems to Have a "One Man" Animal.

Paris, Jan. 31.—Dogs, dogs, dogs. They constitute one of the many things in Paris which have attracted the attention of the "American Commission to Negotiate Peace." Every one in France seems to have a dog, and the vogue today is the police dog, popularly known as a "one man" animal.

Every morning the Place de la Concorde sees its gathering of dogs, and it is safe to say that many a police dog versed in the French language, will shortly accompany a new master to America. For, outside of their good traits, a good police dog can be obtained for 100 francs.

CONSIDER FREE TRACTORS

Expected That Period Will be Further Extended.

Ottawa, Jan. 31.—Within the next few days the cabinet will take up consideration of free tractors. The order-in-Council passed early last year, which placed farm tractors costing less than $1,400 on the free list, provided that the remission of duty should operate for one year from February 7, 1918. The remission will therefore expire at the end of next week.

Although no decision has yet been reached by the cabinet, it is expected that the period during which such tractors are on the free list, will be further extended. As the remission was made under authority of the War Measures Act, it is likely that the free period will be extended until the conclusion of peace. The War Measures Act itself will then expire.

The question will no doubt be raised during the session.

Humbugs are gilded coins of plausibility from the mint of deception.

FOR SOUTH AFRICA

Peace Delegates Will Safeguard States' Interests.

Paris, Jan. 31.—The delegates of the South and Central American nations to the peace conference decided at a meeting to create a commission to safeguard the interests of all the states before the conference with delegates assigned to look after various subjects. Thus Brazil will voice the feeling of the Central and South American nations as regards the league of nations; Cuba will pay especial attention to international labor legislation from the same standpoint, while Uruguay will especially interest itself in the subject of the internalization of waterways and railways.

RURAL PUPILS NOT GETTING A FAIR SHOW IN EDUCATION

Inspector Broderick in Annual Report Shows What Country Schools Ought to be and What They Really Are.

In his annual report to the County Council Inspector Broderick says:

At the outset I wish to say that, in my opinion, a subject of such outstanding and, possibly, paramount importance to the county as the education of its children is entitled to something more than a general report on school conditions. I believe that the ratepayers, and those in particular who have children attending school, would be interested in a more detailed report giving information affecting individual schools. Such a report might contain the names and salaries of the teaching staff of the county, the enrollment, average and percentage attendance of the pupils in each section, the trustees' financial statement, and such other matters of general educational interest as the Council might desire or as the inspector might be able to contribute. Such a report would, of course, be too comprehensive to be of interest to the city reader. But it would be well worth publishing by the County Council for distribution among the ratepayers of the county

Are the Schools Efficient?

For those who frame our school legislation, for those who administer the legislation, and especially for those who bear the expense of education, the one vital question is, are the schools efficient. This involves the question by what standard or standards are we to judge the efficiency of our schools? A hundred years or so ago when popular education was but the dream of a philanthropist a member of the British Commons solemnly and seriously warned the House against the national danger which would come from educating the common people above their station in life. From the inception of the common school until now the prevailing idea has been that its function should be to teach the elements of reading, writing and arithmetic. There are not a few who are sceptica as to whether this modest program has been carried out.

What should the public school do for the child?

It should make the child master of the elements of reading, writing and arithmetic.

It should give the child facility in the use of the Mother tongue whether with pen or speech.

It should assiduously care for the health of the pupils.

The school authorities should create such conditions both within and without the school building as will insensibly foster in the pupils a love for what is beautiful.

It should recognize and make ample provision for differences in ability among its pupils.

It should by its methods, by its course of study and by its whole spirit adapt itself to the needs of the community in which it is located. The city school for the city community. The rural school for the rural community.

It should make provision for the education of young people who have passed the ordinary school age.

Are the pupils of the rural municipalities getting out of the schools what it is their absolute right to have? They are not. To realize the above ideals several conditions are necessary.

What is Needed.

First—A staff of teachers skilled in method and in school management, sympathetic with rural life, and, above all, capable of creating the right atmosphere in both school and community. We must have teachers who from their scholarship and experience and personality are capable of leadership in matters educational. It is a pleasre to be able to report that during the year 1918 all but three of the 92 teachers of the inspectorate were qualified under the regu-atons. And two of these three taught in schools in the most remote sections of the inspectorate. It is gratifying to be able to report also a distinct improvement in the quality of the teaching as compared with that of 10 years ago. This improvement is, of course, to be attributed to the training of the Normal schools. Many of the graduates of these schools are from urban, perhaps from city life. The very great majority of them, I am willing to think, enter upon their rural work full of enthusiasm and anxious that their ideas becomes ideals. They meet the utterly unexpected. For a time they make a brave fight against the inertia of the community and, instead of "sticking it", give up the struggle and await the hour of their happy exit to some urban school.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat form uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralise these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts fro many pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Davidson, Miss Ethel Williamson, Miss E. M. Blake, Mrs. Galley.

The Speeches

Mr. H. E. Raynor floor manager of the store was the first speaker. He referred to the progress made in the year about to close as being rmarkably gratifying. He thanked the staff for the good will and co-operation they had favored him with during that time and without which he felt it would have been impossible to have obtained such satisfactory results.

The objective set had not only been achieved but surpassed and the system of profit sharing which had been adopted had proved such a succes that it had been decided to try it out upon an improved scale with the details of which Mr. Cressman would acquaint the staff in his address. He concluded by thanking his co-workers for the disposition they had shown to help him and second his efforts in every way during the time he had occupied his present position.

Mr. W. H. Ford, head of the dress good department proposed the toast to the King and Mr. E. Manning followed with a toast to the firm

Mr. Cressman Explains Plan

Mr. W. H. Cressman Vice-President of the company responded to this. In referring to the significance of the end of the month to the firm which he represented he stated that what it another year passed into history and one which had ben most successful and progressive from a business standpoint.

He announced a change of policy in regard to the employes profit sharing arrangement. This was now to be established on a co-operative basis and returns made half yearly.

Said Mr. Cressman:

"The policy of The Cressman Co., Ltd., for the future will be one of co-operation profit sharing which will include every perron engaged in the business whether selling of otherwise employed.

"These distributions will be made half yearly on the following basis.

"1.—A percentage of the net profits will be distributed each six months to those who have been with the firm for the full six months preceding the distribution governed as follows: A—Net result of the several departments. B.—Efficiency in the conduct of these departments. C.—The general result of departments as a whole. D.—Length of time with the company. E.—To those otherwise engaged than selling, amounts will be determined by A. B. and D."

Continuing the speaker stated that it had been deemed advisable to form eight Boards which would work for the advancement of the business along lines of efficiency and satisfactory service. It would be the duty of these committees to exercise vigilance in connection with conditions which might be improved and suggest and aid in applying a remedy.

Mr. Cressman gave a list of the Boards and their personnel: The first was a board of Good Service, composed of Messrs Raynor and Moher and Miss Pinning.

The second was a Board of Education upon which Mr. Wolff, Miss Cunningham and Mrs. Gardiner would serve. A Board of Economy, Mr. McBride and Misses Davidson and Dorgan. A Board of publicity Mr. Manning and Misses Walker and Logan. A Board of Housekeeping Mr. Ford, Misses Desautel and Mr. Graham and Miss Anderson. A Board of Store Beautifying, Mr. Long Miss Williams and Miss Edwards. Board of Trade Expension, Mr. Rattenbury, Mr. Grant and Mrs. Davidson. Board of Efficiency, Mr. Bates and Misses Michael, Head and Hartshorne.

Mr. Cressman then proceeded to explains the duties which would devolve upon these committees. The Board of Good Service would be expected to observe and suggest means for improving the service of the store for the benefit of the business or satisfaction of customers and the minimizing of complaints in connection with delivery and elevator service, and the attention to customers with the least possible delany.

The Board of Education would be requited to suggest a detailed Educational system for the selling and non-selling co-workers of the firm. The committee in charge of housekeeping will have charge of the condition of the store in respect of keeping its appearance what it should be, temperature, ventilation, etc.

Duties attaching to the Board of Economy will be to stop minor financial leaks and assist in the protection of the establishment from fire or theft.

The members of the Efficiency Board will have charge of matters pertaining to the beterment of conditions in the store from a general standpoint. The Trade Expansion Committee will endeavor to discover where it is possible to increase the business of the firm. The Publicity Board will assist in putting the store prominently before the public and that devoted to store beautifying will suggest means of improving the appearance of the interior and exterior of the building.

In speaking of the profit sharing arrangement of the past Mr. Cressman stated that the bonus from the past six months just ended runs into four figures and it afforded him the greatest pleasure to be able to make the distribution. From now on the business sharing arrangement will not take the form of a bonus but would be operated on such a basis as to give everyone an opportunity of earning a share.

The speaker spoke in a most complimentary manner of Mr. Raynor who he referred to as having been of great assistance to him of late.

"Twenty years ago," stated Mr. Cressman in conclusion, "this store started in business with two departments and a weekly payroll of $32; today it has 21 departments and a weekly payroll amounting to approximately $1000."

Value of Efficiency

M. J. C. Bates delivered an interesting address which dealt with the value in business of efficiency, good service and having an objective.

The Entertainment

After the distribution of the bonus for the past six months the following entertaining program was carried out:

Solo, by Miss Lynn. A guessing contest, solos by Miss Bates and Mr. Wolff, a duet by Miss Lynn and Mr. Wolff, two piano solos by Miss Biard.

PEOPLE OF CANADA MUST CONTINUE TO CARRY ON

Those Who Struggled so Faithfully During the War to Help the Soldiers Must Not Fail Them Now.

The plans are well and truly made. It remains for the people of Canada to carry on. Those who accepted this challenge so splendidly through the past years of war must not allow hands to weaken in this day of tremendous opportunity. In a few words the repatriation plan is one to co-ordinate the work of every organization and society, business, religious, fraternal and social, for the one task of rebuilding and re-establishing the homes and business life of Canada to the best possible achievement.

Immigration, Land Settlement, Pensions Board, Civil Re-Establishment and Medical Service Branches, with the Department of Labor, are all working to bring back the soldiers and their families as speedily as possible and to provide after-care and placement. While this is going on it remains for the other departments to arouse public interest and effort to meet and encourage the returned man in his new life.

Co-operation of all towns, cities and rural districts to the work of repatriation is linked up through the Municipal Department, which encourages the formation of Reception Committees to meet returned men; the participation of the Municipal Department in helping them to find employment, linking up cases of need with the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-Establishment and the undertaking of all possible public works that may create new avenues of employment.

The Voluntary Organizations Branch of the Repatriation Committee, under Captain J. Thackeray, is actively concerned in the work of co-ordinating all fraternal and social organizations with the work of the churches and every other voluntary arganization touching the life of the people towards the same end.

The Federal War Service Commission of the Christian church is one of the voluntary organizations thus linked up, which places the work of the Repatriation Committee directly in touch with churches of every denomination throughout Canada. Membership is secured by the appointment from the various denominations of three official representatives. The circle of church is completed by the promised cooperation on behalf of the Catholic church of Archbishop McNeill. Bishop Roper of Ottawa is chairman of this commission of churches and Dr. W. T. Gunn of Toronto is secretary.

Outside of the churches there are over seven hundred other organizations to be interested, including Y. M. C. A., fraternal societies, Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus, Khaki Club Organizations, Masonic lodges, etc., etc., all of which are being drawn into the work of repatriation through the medium of their central governing bodies. The Y.M. C.A. for instance is approached through the local council, which undertakes to distribute all information and appoint special representatives in all branches to cope with repatriation problems. Fraternal societies are kept in touch through the grand lodges. The work of reaching womens' organizations is handled by Mrs. Chas. Robson who is a member of the Advisory Committee of the voluntary organizations branch.

INVADE SOUTH AMERICA

Comiskey and McGraw Would Take Two Teams Next Fall.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Plans for an invasion of South America next fall by two teams of major league ball players were revived today by Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, who has just returned from several weeks' visit in Florida.

Mr. Comiskey said it was his intention to take up the matter at once with John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, and it was his belief that the trip could be started soon after the close of the World's Series next October.

"I wanted to go to South America, not only last fall, but the year before," Comiskey said, "but war conditions prevented. These conditions now are eliminated or will be by next fall. It looks now as if we can arrange it after next season."

The Twin City Rapid Transit Co. earned only $2.18 per share on the common stock in 1918, as compared with $.03 in 1917.

Canadian pulp and paper exports for November show an increase of $1,955,845 compared with November in 1917.

Mr. W. Stocker's Report.

In presenting my report as your president for the fourth consecutive year it is with a feeling of confidence that with the passing from conditions of war to those of peace a new era of prosperity is dawning on us all and with the particularly fortunate circumstances of the citizens of this city we, as members of a society of this kind, should take the initiative, and with proper organization our efforts should and will meet with much greater success than ever before.

With very little solicitation our membership at present stands at 267. This is greatly below what the membership for a city the size of Peterborough should be, and an effort should be made to greatly increase this number by intelligently placing the advantages derived by our members before our citizens. By the co-operation of our members along these lines we are only helping ourselves as well as those we interest in the society.

During the season just closed only one distribution of premiums was made, as the condition under which all bulbous stock was imported made it impossible to satisfactorily import small orders.

Park stands in both parks are in a very good condition, the once in Central Park is nearly falling down, while the one in Victoria Park needs a new roof and new floors and painting. The attention of the chairman of the property committee of the city council should be drawn to this also as to the condition of the drinking fountain in Central Park."

Estimated requirements for 1919

Park Caretaker, 180 days at $3.50	$ 630.00
Extra labor, 120 days at $2.00	240.00
Planting beds, spring and fall	250.00
Tools required to purchase	50.00
Working expenses, cartage, repairs, etc.	30.00
	$1200.00

The curbing of the walks of Victoria Park is but half completed to continue this work an addition of $300.00 to the above amount should be added.

The annual lawn and garden competition was held as usual, the entry list being larger and the competition keener than formerly. Mr. Fred. Adams of Toronto, acting as judge, awarded the prizes as follows:

Class "A" Open to All—1st, Mr. A. W. Cressman; 2nd, Mr. G. S. McKee; rd, Mr. W. Stocker

Class "B" Amateurs Only—1st, Mr. J. Howland; 2nd, Mrs. W. Wood; 3rd, Mr. T. J. Bourk.

Class "C" Workingmen Only, Back Gardens—1st, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Leslie; 2nd, Mr. White; 3rd, Mr. Boddison.

Class "D" Window Boxes, Etc.—1st, Mr. J. J. Turner; 2nd, Mrs. Breigel; 3rd, Mr. C. G. Graham

The Grants.

The City Council grant for the upkeep of Victoria and Central Parks was reduced this last season to $600. Although thoroughly realizing that this amount was not sufficient by any means for the proper maintaining of these parks, yet your directors felt that under the existing conditions it would be better to accept this amount and make same go as far as possible. The contract for planting the beds in the spring and the caretaking was let by tender, Mr. Wise carrying this work on during the summer. Owing to lack of funds and the exceptionally high price of tullips we were unable to plant the beds this fall. This, I think, will cause not a little criticism and will show the necessity of having sufficient funds to properly do this work. A strong committee should therefore be appointed at this meeting to take this matter up intelligently with our City Council, as we feel we have their support, and it has largely been a matter of misunderstanding that sufficient funds were not supplied.

Owen Sound Reeve Run Out of Town

WAS CHARGED WITH SEDITION AND ANGRY CROWD TOOK ACTION.

Owen Sound, Jan. 31.—A number of returned soldiers and a large crowd of civilians ran out of town tonight Joseph Weber, Reeve, of Neustadt, who came to attend County Council here, but was arrested on Tuesday on five charges of sedition, and later allowed out on $2,000 bail.

On his exit from the theatre tonight Weber was surrounded by a large crowd and taken to his hotel to collect his belongings. There he was made to kiss the flag, and then was escorted down Main street amid hoots and yells. A Union Jack was placed in his hatband and another draped on his shoulders, and in response to many pugnacious demands to prove his loyalty, he sang three quavering lines of "God Save the King."

Weber was not ill-used to any extent, but the crowd was firm that he leave tonight and not wait for the morning train. Although he wore a big overcoat and carried a club-bag Weber was forced to leave on the run, and was escorted out at the northwest end of the town by a special guard of returned soldiers.

Weber will have a long walk to Neustadt, which is to the south, if he keeps on the way he started. He has to come back again for his trial at the Police Court on Wednesday.

PITY THE POOR RECRUIT IN THE BIG BASEBALL LEAGUES

Boston Man Travelled all the Way to Pasadena to Join the Cubs and Lasted Only Twenty-Two Hours.

(By Oscar C. Reichow)

Pity the poor recruit! Unless he is a player of extraordinary ability his road is one not covered with roses. He is the victim of numerous jokes, is the toy for the veterans, has to sleep in uppers, is the last to get a room in a hotel and is the goat on the field after the training begins. If recruits have the backbone to weather all this they are the better for it, but many do not last long enough to get even a taste of what major league training is like. The Cubs had one in 1917 who probably has forgotten by this time that he he ever had his name on the roster of a big league team, so short lived was his experience.

Was a Wonder at Boston

Edward McGinnis was found in Boston, where he was hailed as a wonder on school teams as a first base man. He stood over six feet, had a long reach and was long legged All this was thought sufficient to qualify him for big league service Joe Tinker, then manager for the Cubs, signed and left him for Fred Mitchell. Mitchell knew nothing about him, and, as he took any and everybody to Pasadena that spring McGinnis was on the special train when it left Chicago

En route to Pasadena McGinnis proved the Creator did not give him his long legs for nothing. He did not appear to move with a great deal of rapidity, but with his long stride was always the first in the dining rooms of the Harvey system. Mitchell who observes closely when one least expects it, did not fail to notice the regularity with which McGinnis reached the dining room first.

"If that young fellow is just as active on the field I might make him a first sacker." said Mitchell.

He Lasts Only Twenty Two Hours

McGinnis was not as active on the field. He lost his speed somewhere or did not have the courage to make it assert itself. He was only a young man and the fact that he was on a major league club for the first time probably frightened him. He was a failure. He was slow of foot, could not as much as foul the ball and was stiff in his fielding. Mitchell watched him the first morning out and before practice finished ordered Secretary Seys to furnish him with transportation back to Boston.

McGinnis left for the east that night. His stay in Pasadena was twenty-two hours to be exact. He travelled all the way from Boston and did not have time to see the town. Pity that poor recruit! he had to make the journey back to Boston alone.

"King" Lear Wins Place

Fred ("King") Lear was an ambitious youth. Although only a recruit in the spring of 1918 he was determined to force his way into the Cub lineup as a regular. Confidence was not lacking in him. The first day out he approached Manager Mitchell and said:

"Where do you want me to play? If you want me to do anything don't be afraid to tell me for I am a glutton for punishment." This occasioned a laugh from the manager, who was surprised at the spirit of the youngster and at first was inclined to think he was fresh, but after watching him closely in practice decided he possessed ability and it would probably be worth while to take him in tow.

Lear being a pleasant sort of a chap and a clever piano player made a hit with all the boys. The veterans took an interest in him and gave him every help and encouragement they could. The result was he disclosed wonderful improvement and Manager Mitchell felt he had a budding star in him. One day an accident happened to Lear and with it went his hopes of making the club. He became over enthusiastic over the progress he was making and the third day out while practicing at third base thought his arm was ready and cut loose with a throw to first base. Something snapped in his shoulder. A good ball player was temporarily ruined. Mitchell carred him until the Cubs returned to Chicago but the arm never regained its former strength, Lear went to Toronto later and performed brilliantly. He is back on the Cub team, will go to Pasadena and if his arm comes back he stands a splendid chance to win a berth.

MORAN SIGNS TO SUCCEED "MATTY"

CINCINNATI OWNERS REFUSE TO WAIT LONGER FOR LATTER'S REPLY.

Cincinnati, Jan. 31.—Pat Moran, former manager of the Philadelphia National League baseball club, signed a contract today to manage the Cincinnati Nationals during the season of 1919. Moran was assured that he would be signed for the 1920 season if his work proves satisfactory.

Moran was signed to manage the local club only after President August Herrmann had failed to receive an answer to a cablegram sent two weeks ago to Christy Mathewson, who is in France.

The fact that Mathewson failed to answer the cablegram convinced the Cincinnati owners that Mathewson was not desirous of continuing with the Cincinnati team. Moran arrived here this morning, but it was not till late this afternoon that he succeeded in coming to terms with the Cincinnati club.

CANADIENS LOSE TO THE OTTAWAS

HOCKEY GAME LAST NIGHT RESULTS IN 3-2 VICTORY FOR CAPITALS.

Ottawa, Jan. 31. One of the most sensational hockey struggles that has ever taken place in the Capital was played last night in the presence of a crowd that packed the Laurier Avenue Rink to the rafters. Ottawa and Canadiens, rivals in the race for the championship of the National Hockey League, again were the contestants and the results was a victory for Ottawa by a score of 3 to 2.

For the second time within three nights Ottawa were forced to play overtime. The struggle did not end until [illegible] and one-half minutes of overtime had been played, until the spectators were pleading that their favorites would score and until a majority of the players were on the point of exhaustion. The winner netting the winning goal and of bringing up the battle again, fell to Harry Cameron, who had already made himself solid by scoring the deciding goal in the Ottawa-Toronto game at the Queen City just two nights before.

Just Avert a Draw.

The end of the game came as in the previous contest at Toronto, with startling suddenness. The clock showed that fifteen minutes had been played and it looked as though the match would be called a tie, as this would have been necessary had the teams played out the second ten minutes of the overtime. With fifteen minutes of the overtime gone, Joe Hall made a rush and plunged in on Goalkeeper Benedict, striking the Ottawa net guardian across the head. It was a glaring foul, though it might have won the game, and Hall was immediately banished for a major foul, leaving the Canadiens one man short.

Ottawa immediately assumed the aggressive ,and just as some of the spectators were preparing to leave, believing that the match would end in a draw, Nighbor, who had been recuperating in the dressing-room, and who appeared fresher than the others, seized the puck about three-quarters of the way down the ice and became the pivot of a three-man attack, with Cameron on his right and Cleghorn on his left. Nighbor worked it perfectly, dodging Lalonde and slipping the puck, when he reached Cleghorn across the Canadien, after faking a pass to Cleghorn.

Tickle Him to Cameron.

Cameron took it perfectly, swerved slightly to his left, and then directed a knee-high shot, which landed in the twine behind Vezina, while pandemonium broke loose, and scores rushed down to hug and congratulate the victorious Ottawa players. Cameron kept right on skating after slamming in the goal that brought victory to Ottawa, and was in his dressing-room, tired and panting, before the majority of the spectators realized that it was all over.

It was thrilling hockey and when Nighbor finally broke away on a three-man rush and transferred the disc to Cameron who scored the crowd became hysterical. Cezina just missed the shot by an inch. The teams:

FORCES ENQUIRY INTO CHARGES OF "FIXED" HOCKEY

OWNER OF CANADIENS INSTITUTES LIBEL ACTION AGAINST TORONTO PAPER.

Montreal, Jan. 31.—A [illegible] libel is threatened by George Kennedy, of the Canadien Hockey Club, whose team was accused by a Toronto morning paper of throwing the last game with the Toronto Arenas. Mr. Kennedy said: "I have been given to understand that the Canadien team has been accused of lying down in the last Toronto game. I am getting a copy of the paper making the assertion and am sending it to my lawyer with instructions to push a suit against the paper through to the bitter end."

Calls it "Absolute Rot"

George Kennedy said, "As far as the charge that the team lost because of the betting is concerned, I only remember having made a bet once on anything since I have been connected with the sport, and that was more or less of a friendly bet with the late Col. Low of Ottawa, some years ago, the amount being fifty dollars.

"As to my arranging things with the players so that the team should lose, that is the most absolute rot that was ever talked or written.

"These players are not going to be with me for life. They are not relatives, who would have an interest in shielding me, and if I asked them to do anything wrong, I would be working for them instead of them working for me.

"As for Lalonde and Pitrie, Lalonde was not in fit condition to play, and Pitrie was taken violently ill after the second period. According to the rules I had to keep him in uniform, but it was really cruelty.

Rocked up by League

Regarding the charge made by the Toronto World, in its edition of Tuesday last that the Canadiens "threw" their game with the Toronto Arena Hockey Club at Toronto on the 21st of January so that their were taking supporters and a wise following should land the bets, [illegible] Frank Calder of the National Hockey League, made the following statement: "I am glad that [illegible] Toronto newspaper has had the courage to make a definite [illegible] games in the National Hockey League. Some Toronto papers have dealt in insinuations for a long time past but up to the present not one of them has come out four square with such a charge as that of the Toronto World.

"In making the statement it does, I presume the Toronto World is in possession of some facts of which I am not aware. It is difficult to conceive that any responsible newspaper would publish such a statement without being in possession of the real facts.

Anonymous Attacks

"These facts the World is being asked by me to produce in their entirety. The greater publicity that can be given them the better. The professional game, as I have said, has suffered for a long time from the anonymous attacks of misguided people who professed to see evidences of 'crookedness.' No notice has ever been taken of these charges, for the simple reason that they were anonymous and specified no particular acts of dishonesty.

"Now that the Toronto World has furnished the reason for doing so, however, I propose that the Toronto World go further, and tell us all about it.

"Having said so much, it should not be difficult for the World to say the rest and produce the proof."

MEETING TONIGHT

Tonight a meeting of the Business Men Ten-pin League will be held at the Water street alleys at 8 o'clock. Captains of each team should be on hand.

BASKETBALL AT "Y."

The Y. M. C. A. basketball team will try conclusions with the P. C. I. team, which defeated Cobourg Collegiate here last Saturday after a strenuous game, at the Y.M.C.A. at 8:15 Saturday night. Both teams are in good shape and a fast game is looked for.

Eldred, in a short soldierly speech expressed his thanks for the kind reception and the great pleasure of being among them all once more. Was Recommended For a Commission

BUT THE ARMISTICE DEPRIVED CADET-CUNNINGHAM OF THIS HONOR.

Had the war lasted but a short time longer Cadet J. P. Cunningham, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cunningham reside at 154 Lock St., this city would have received a commission as he was recommended for that distinction just before the armistice was signed.

Brigadier-General H. F. McDonald of the Canadian Headquarters has written Cadet Cunningham to this effect and accords him high praise for his military record. Cadet Cunningham returned home on Wednesday after 3 years in the service, having enlisted with the 42nd Battalion at Brandon in 1915, being at that time barely 18 years old. While overseas he visited Glasgow the birth place of his grandfather and while there married a Scottish girl who returned with him to Canada.

Finger Prints Cause Arrest

YOUNG MURPHY IS HELD FOR TRIAL ON ROBBING CHARGE.

Francis Joseph Murphy appeared before the Police Magistrate this morning having been remanded for one week charged with theft of several suits of clothes and some cloth from the Regent Tailor Shop on Charlotte St. He pleaded not guilty and was convicted for trial at the spring assizes.

Murphy was arrested upon orders from Detective Sergeant Newhall by Detectives Meagher and Cookman. He had been at liberty only a few days after having served a 30 day sentence in the County jail for stealing several pairs of shoes from Hickey's shoe store on Hunter street.

The evidence of Sergeant Newhall showed that he had taken a plate glass from one of the windows of the tailor shop on which there were several finger prints and had sent it to Ottawa for examination. The officials there returned a report which went to show that Murphy was the man responsible. The manager of the store also gave evidence for the Crown. Mr. G. N. Gordon defended the accused.

Now is the time to go the limit in expanding our navy."

CAPT. ROLLINS TO BE GIVEN REAL ROYAL WELCOME HOME

St. Andrew's Congregation Plan Reception to Absent Pastor at Annual Meeting Last Night—Successful Year's Work in All Departments.

Capt. (Rev.) James Rollins, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, who went overseas with the 93rd Battalion as quartermaster, is expected home any time before the first of June, and when he arrives he will receive a warm welcome from his congregation. At the annual meeting last night, Mr. R. Lees, a member of the Session, announced that he had received a letter from Mr. Rollins with reference to his probable return. Mr. Lees spoke highly of the absent pastor, who, he said, had never rested until he had gone with the men into the first line trenches. He has been chaplain of a Winnipeg battalion recntly, and the unit was on its way to duty when the armistice was signed. The battalion has since been in Germany, and Capt. Rollins was with them at the time he wrote.

Mr. Lees said St. Andrew's had every reason to be proud of their basent pastor, who had been faithful and modest in his military service, never seeking anything like advertising, but keeping himself and his affairs out of the newspapers ever since he went to Europe.

The Session and managers of the church were instructed to arrange a reception for Capt. Rollins, and the Ladies' Aid will co-operate. The reception will include all the enlisted men from the congregation who may have returned at that time.

A resolution was adopted expressing appreciation of the service rendered the congregation by Rev. W. L. H. and Mrs. Rowand for the past two years. Secretary W. A. Richardson will send to Mr. Rowand a copy of the resolution and will also tender the sympathy of the congregation to Mrs. Rowand and her husband on account of the former's illness in Minneapolis.

A Prosperous Year.

The attendance at the annual meeting last night broke all records, a natural sequence of a year marked with success in every department of the work. One of the most interesting reports was that of the Patriotic League, read by Mrs. T. Sills. During the war the league raised $2,542.27, of which $249.96 remains. It is proposed to expend this for a memorial tablet for those who have fallen.

The Finances.

Mr. A. Macfarlane read the report of the board of managers, which showed an income of $43,336.54 by contributions and $756.68 net return on the church's property. There is a safe balance left after the obligations are met. The amount raised for mission work was $2277.30.

New Sunday School Building.

Superintendent J. A. McKone reported a successful year in the Sunday school work, but the present building is inadequate. It is proposed to sell the church property that was purchased with the money left the congregation by the late Mrs. Nicholls and to use the proceeds for a new home for the Sunday school. Messrs. G. Walter Green, J. A. McKone, E. Bruce Fowler, W. J. Henry and W. A. Richardson were appointed a committee to deal with this question.

The following reports were read: Women's Foreign Missionary Society, by Miss Margaret Rae.

Young Ladies' Mission Band, by Miss M. Henderson.

Session report by Mr. R. Lees and treasurer of Session's report by Mr. John Matheson.

Officers Elected.

Board of Managers—Messrs. J. W. Fraser, W. J. Henry, E. Latimer, Joseph Saunders and R. M. Glover. Messrs. Glover and Fraser are new members to take the places of Mr. W. Harstone, removed, and Mr. J. John, who was elected an elder some time ago.

Member of Charity Board — Mr. John Read.

Member of Nicholls Hospital Staff —Mr. G. Walter Green.

Mr. W. A. Richardson is clerk and Mr. E. Bruce Fowler treasurer for the congregation.

When the new hymn books are introduced, selections in the old and the new books will be chosen and the number of each announced to prevent confusion and on behalf of those who do not purchase the new book of praise, this arrangement to continue for the present year.

Mr. Wm. Stevens, on behalf of the choir committee, spoke highly of the services of the choir, and this appreciation was acknowledged by Mr. H. Treneer, the choirmaster and organist.

The Ladies' Aid Society received a vote of thanks, moved by Mr. A. Macfarlane, for their splendid assistance during the year. An excellent repast was served before the business session began.

MR. A. WEDDELL ELECTED PRESIDENT FOR THE YEAR

Annual Meeting of Horticultural Society Was Held Last Night—Big Program Planned for 1919.

At last night's meeting of the Peterborough Horticultural Society which was the best attended annual meeting in years, and one which should put considerable life into the organization, the question of the care of the parks of the city was discussed, and the following letter directed to the County Council who are owners of Victoria Park, and to thhe City Council, who contribute to its upkeep as well as to King Edward and Central Parks:

The Letter

Peterborough, Jan. 31, 1919

E. M. Elliott, Esq.,
County Treasurer,
Court House,
City.

Dear Sir,—The growing importance of the county and city of Peterborough make it desirable that parks in the city owned by the County and city, should be maintained in a manner that will compare favorably with county and municipal buildings in other cities.

For some years our local parks have been maintained by the Peterborough Horticultural Society by means of grants received from the county and city councils. While this arrangement has certain advantages it has the disadvantage that the members of these public bodies are not so likely to take a direct interest in these parks as might be the case were they more in touch with the work involved. For this reason we desire to advise you that the Peterborough Horticultural Society this year desires to withdraw from the active management of the parks. We would suggest that their management might be undertaken—seeing that the city is without the services of a Parks Commission— by a joint committee from the two municipal bodies concerned. We would state, however, that our Society will be glad to render any assistance in this matter, within our power.

Respectfully,
Peterborough Horticultural Society,
(signed) A. Weddell, Pres.
E. Brumwell, Sec.

Officers Elected

The officers elected for the coming year were:

President—Mr. Alex Weddell.
1st vice-Pres.—Mr. R. H. Parsons.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Dr. Middleton.
Sec.-Treas.—Mr. E. E. Brumwell.
Directors—Messrs V. Eastwood, W. J. Kennedy, H. Butler, G. Gierson, H. L. Beall, E. J. Searight, F. Theobald, A. W. Turner, R. M. Glover, W. Stocker, C. G. Graham, J. H. Howland, and Ald. John Edgar, with power to add two additional members.

Appointed Delegate

Mr. Alex. Weddell, the new president was appointed to attend the annual convention of the Ontario Horticultural Society to be held in Toronto on February 5th, 6th and 7th.

Monthly Meetings

Mr. Cecil Williamson, the retiring secretary of the society, advocated the holding of monthly meetings, leaving it to the discretion of the executive when the meetings should be held. For the present the society will try to arrange with the Board of Trade for their quarters and when the weather becomes more favorable the society will meet at the homes of the different members.

Made Presentation

At the conclusion of the meeting the retiring secretary, Mr. C. Williamson was presented with a handsome case of pipes. Mr. Williamson was asked to retire for a few moments, during which eulogistic references to the good work of Mr. Williamson were made by many of the members.

"He is one of the best secretarys we have ever had and has done a big job well," observed Mr. Beall.

Live Meeting

The meeting last night was called by the older members 'the liveliest meeting we have had in years.'

Important Duties

The Horticultural Society has an important function to perform in the work of beautifying the city and should be supported to the limit by everyone interested in a clean and well kept city. The officers and members give their time and experience freely and the new Board hopes that the citizens generally will take more active interest in its affairs.

GERMANS TO BE GIVEN IDEA OF FINAL TREATY OF PEACE

When the Armistic is Renewed by the Allies on February 17

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Paris, Feb. 1.—Preliminary peace terms will probably be presented to Germany along with the conditions for the further renewal of the armistice this month, if present plans are not deranged. Recognising the need for the return of the world to normal peace time basis, the nations assorted against Germany are considering making a start towards an actual peace treaty by inserting some of the elementary terms into conditions which will be submitted to German armistice commission on February 17. Some officials believe the armistice itself might well be developed into a peace treaty, just as they think a Society of Nations might be developed out of the deliberations of the Peace Conference.

CANNOT AGREE WITH COUNCIL

CROWN ATTORNEY HATTON REJECTS PROFFERED QUARTERS IN COURT HOUSE.

Crown Attorney Hatton appeared before the County Council by invitation and discussed with the members the much-exhausted question of suitable office accommodation in the county buildings.

Mr. Hatton described the progress of his disagreement with the Council from its inception to the present and when asked by Warden McIntosh if he would be willing to occupy the three rooms in the northwest corner of the building until apartments which would meet with his approval could be placed at his disposal, replied in the negative.

He was asked if he would take the two rooms in the east end and part of the library as a temporary solution of the difficulty, but again refused. He stated that the apartments set aside for the use of the Law Association would be satisfactory, but he did not wish to deprive the present occupants of their use.

Nothing was gained by the conference, and it is anticipated that the Council may request the inspector of legal offices from Toronto to come to the city and endeavor to suggest a settlement of the trouble.

The good roads question was discussed, but there was no concrete suggestion made, and today this matter will again come before the Council, which will endeavor to arrive at some definite understanding as to a feasible program which will at least offer some hope of action and end the policy of inactivity which has been pursued in connection with this proposition for some time past.

It was after 6 o'clock when Council adjourned.

Huns Menaced by Russians and Poles

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Berlin, Feb. 1.—Germany's eastern frontiers are most gravely threatened byt he Bolshevists and Poles, according to the Tageblatt, which gives the following report of the situation:

"Strong Bolshevist armies stand before the borders of East Prussia, an eruption of Poles threatens West Prussia, and that portion of West Poland which is still in German hands is subject to a renewed Polish menace which means that the province of Brandenburg is also in danger. Russian Soviet troops occupy a line from Libau to Kovno. The Bolshevists stand directly in front of Kovno fortress and have at their disposal numerous divisions which are held together and led forward by iron discipline.

"Soldiers' councils no longer play the role in the Bolshevik army that they did at the beginning of the revolution. Military authority, in the other hand, is vested with the troops and their leaders. The German 8th and 10th armies are retreating before the Soviet troops. The Iron division, which now, as a result of losses, has melted into the Iron brigade, numbering some hundreds of men, is also there.

"It would unquestionably be possible to offer resistance to the Bolshevists beyond the East Prussian border if the Germans were well led by a single determined will. Military authority, however, despite recent debrees of the War Minister, is actually in the hands of the Soldiers' Councils, who have not been able to decide on a united and purposeful action against the Russians, but on the contrary, still believe they can stop the enemy's advance toward our borders by negotiations.

"Speedy help from dependable volunteer corps ready to oppose the Russians with arms, if required, is absolutely necessary. The same can be said of the situation in West Prussia. Numerous citizens' guards, which have been organized there, are not in a position to check the threatened advance of the Poles. Some thousands of volunteers are urgently needed there."

CANADIAN V. C. HONORED.

The social officer in the Y. M. C. A. Beaver Hut, in London, England, on New Year's night noticed a Canadian soldier quietly handing an innocent looking cardboard box in at the checking office for safe-keeping. When he saw the words "Victoria Cross" on the top he quickly made investigation. Its owner was Private T. W. Holmes, the 19-year-old V.C. of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, who, on the last day of the old year, had had great honor of a special audience with the King of Buckingham Palace to receive his medal. Immediately the whole Hut, full of soldiers and voluntary workers, gathered to celebrate the beginning of the new year, gave enthusiastic and admiring attention to the youthful hero. Private Holmes wearing his Victoria Cross is shown here hoisted on the shoulders of two of the Hut officers. Homes is from Owen Sound, Ont., (the home also of Col. W. A. Bishop, V.C., the Canadian ace), and will be given a civic welcome upon his return home.

BERNSTORFF HAS FAITH IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Says no Other Agency Can Do Away With Imperialism and Bring a New German World Out of Present Chaos.

(Canadian Press Despatch)

Berlin, Feb. 1.—A statement has been given the Associated Press by Count von Bernstorff after consultation with the German Foreign Minister, which may be accepted as being what official Germany would consider a "peace of right and justice." The League of Nations must be the most essential part of the peace settlement itself, says Bernstorff's statement. No other agency can do away with imperialism and bring forth a new world of order. The statement professes complete agreement with the first four points of President Wilson's program and also welcomes the "free and impartial adjustment of all colonial claims," asserts Germany's disinterestedness with regard to Russia, except as to the prevention of the spread of bolshevism, and announces a willingness to pay for all damage done to civilians in Belgium and France "so far as this damage can be proven due to German aggression."

The restoration of Alsace-Lorraine to France is resisted, and regarding this and any other proposed territorial changes, it is held that the peace of right and justice presupposed that the principle of self-determination will be made superior in all territorial questions.

The question of the guilt for the war should be submitted to a neutral commission. German people in vast majority do not feel guilty, although they do not deny that mistakes were made.

ORDER RESTORED IN BELFAST BY SELF-APPOINTED RULERS

Not Identified With The Review

A special despatch from Peterboro which appeared last night in the Toronto News contained an editorial on the pay of members of Parliament which appeared in The Review a few days ago The despatch stated by way of preface that Capt. Burnham is identified with this paper and gave the impression that he was responsible for the editorial.

Captain Burnham is not connected with The Review either directly or indirectly, except in the same capacity as hundreds of others; as a subscriber. He contributes nothing to the paper except an occasional communication published as such. He does not control the editorial policy of the paper and he had nothing to do with the article in question. The editorial discussing the pay of members of parliament was suggested by a circular from an Ottawa hotel giving a schedule of prices for the approaching session. This circular came to the editor's desk in the regular course of business.

The matter of increased indemnity for members of Parliament is revived year after year. The point in our editorial was that the hotel men at Ottawa appeared to hove decided to force the matter to a really live issue by another increase in their rates.

The entire city has accepted the rule of the committee, which prohibits extreme agitators and Sinn Feiners from speaking. MUNICIPALITIES EAST OF CITY AGITATE FOR ELECTRIC POWER

Deputation Discuss Plans With Local Aldermen Last Night—Transmission Line From Healey Falls Would Supply Several Communities and Provide Auxiliary for Peterboro.

Plans were discussed in the city council chamber last evening for a new hydro electric transmission line from Healey's Falls which will serve the municipalities of Havelock, Belmont, Norwood, Hastings, Keene and Westwood, and would, if constructed, provide Peterborough with an auxiliary source of power.

Mr. T. P. Lancaster, editor of the Havelock Standard, is one of the chief promoters of the project. He stated at the meeting last night that what is required of this city is its moral support when the matter is placed before the Hydro Electric Commission in the near future.

Mr. Lancaster was the first speaker called upon by Mayor Duncan, who presided at the meeting. He outlined the proposition in a few words, stating that already two surveys had been made of proposed routes for the transmission line to follow. Upon the outbreak of war it had been decided to abandon the project temporarily, and now that this difficulty is removed and the smaller municipalities are feeling the necessity of power, he felt that it is high time that the Commission was approached upon the subject.

Healey's Falls is situated about eight miles southeast of Havelock and already supplies the power for Peterborough and many other large places upon the existing line as well as energy for Sulphide and several other eastern points.

Although serving these places, this source of power is not by any means developed to its capacity, and the Commission are adding to their units there at the present time. What is proposed is a line to be constructed from the power station in question to Peterborough which will serve as an auxiliary source of power which might be invaluable during a break in the existing line and would serve the municipalities east of the city.

It is proposed to send a deputation to Toronto to interview Sir Adam Beck if he can not be persuaded to come to Peterborough, and Mr. Lancaster and the speakers who followed him urged this city to have several members act upon this in order to impress the Commission with the importance of the movement.

Where Power Is Needed.

Reeve Matheson of Havelock made a strong argument in favor of Peterborough's participation in the deputation which was to wait upon Sir Adam Beck. He pointed out the advantages of having a second line leading to the city and emphasised the need of power in Havelock and the adjacent villages.

LOOKING FOR WHAT THEY HAVE.

AT THE MEETING held Thursday night to organize a branch of the Independent Labor party, one of the speakers referred to the announcement that Capt. Burnham proposed to work for a minimum wage board at the next session of Parliament. The speaker attempted to make it appear that Capt. Burnham's interest in the welfare of the wage-earners was recently aroused as a bid for Labor's support.

Capt. Burnham's record on these topics is before the people, and can be read in the copies of Hansard issued since he first went to Parliament. He has always favored old age pensions and was chairman of the committee appointed to look into that matter. He collected a vast amount of evidence and openly advocated this reform on the floor of the House. The war put an end to the work of that committee, but now that peace has been restored the work will be resumed.

It was in March, 1914, that Capt. Burnham made his speech in Parliament advocating old age pensions, years before local Labor made an attempt to form a party of its own. He has always favored an eight-hour law.

On April 16, 1914, in a speech in Parliament, Capt. Burnham said:

> "The great bulk of labor unrest is genuine and is caused by the fact that labor has aspired to a higher civilization than labor can maintain. Those people who are not prepared to assist labor in maintaining that civilization condemn it to a degradation, and to a degradation to which labor will never submit. Whatever else happens there must be a living wage. I emphasize the words, 'a living wage.'"

Ex-President Watters and Secretary Draper of the Dominion Trades Congress both publicly in this city three years ago commended the course of Capt. Burnham in Parliament. Minister of Labor Robertson, himself a labor man with a union card in his pocket, stated on the occasion of his recent visit here that he had always found Capt. Burnham an earnest and consistent friend of the cause of the workingman.

President Wilson goes to Europe to secure the freedom of the seas for his nation, something that the Americans, in common with the world, have never been denied so long as international law is respected. The shepherd in Virgil's story left home to seek fore something that could be found in his native mountains. Diogenes took a lantern and scoured the country to find an honest man whom he could probably have found keeping a drug store on the corner right in his own community. Labor, too, may wander far afield in search of an advocate, overlooking the fact that the cause already has a friend at court.

The man who has achievements to his credit is always to be preferred to the one who can merely promise.

CROWN ATTORNEY HATTON'S CASE.

CROWN ATTORNE HATTON asks a number of his clerks and stenographers to the Court House and asks them, after surveying the offices provided by the Council for his accommodation, as between employer and those on his payroll, if they would be willing to spend their working hours in such quarters. Suspecting, as they must, Mr. Hatton's personal views on this subject, the clerks and stenographers answer in the negative. They want more room, more light and better environments than those provided by proximity to the common jail, for, after all, even a county official's clerks and stenographers are gifted with the tastes of ordinary humanity.

Skilled as he is in all the arts of jurisprudence, Mr. Hatton must know that in any court of law his clerks and stenographers, giving an opinion under such circumstances, would hardly be regarded as disinterested witnesses. One glimpse of the sunlit offices on the west side of the building, one glance at the prospect of Victoria Park from one of the windows, would be sufficient to decide the matter in the minds of those directly interested in the location.

It is unfortunate that the county officials and Mr. Hatton ever differed on this subject in the first place. It is doubly unfortunate that it required a lawsuit to settle the dispute. The spectacle of the county fathers and one of the officials, supposed to be in a sense their employe, reduced to the necessity of invoking legal machinery to straighten out tangles between them is not altogether edifying. Someone is at fault. Up to date it must be admitted that Mr. Hatton, with a judicial decision in his favor, has all the best of the argument.

Still, the dispute seems as far from final settlement as ever. The county has received official notice to furnish Mr. Hatton with adequate office quarters in the Court House. The rooms the county councillors have in mind are not satisfactory to Mr. Hatton, and the two parties to the dispute are apparently just where they were when the legal machinery was first set in motion. Mr. Hatton threatens another lawsuit rather than waive one iota of what he regards as his rights, and, backed up by his office force, he seems ready for an active renewal of the fray.

Mr. Hatton would accept as offices rooms already occupied by county officials, preferably those now held by County Clerk Kingan. But it may be taken for granted that Mr. Kingan, whipsawed as he is to insist upon his own rights, will not vacate even to preserve the county family peace. And under the circumstances, with his priority of occupancy, no one will be inclined to blame him.

It is really too bad, however, if the funds of the county are to be consumed in the payment of law costs. Such a condition does not make for harmony in the community. The members of the County Council are inclined to be influenced in this matter by precedent, by what former crown attorneys asked for in the way of office accommodation at the Court House and what they received.

At this date it looks as if the final outcome of the dispute will be a compromise, that Mr. Hatton will occupy rented offices down town where his staff can enjoy the air and the sunlight, the cost to be borne in part at least by the county. Such an arrangement would probably be entirely satisfactory to Mr. Hatton himself, regardless of how the county councillors might view it.

AN INDUSTRIAL UTOPIA.

THERE WOULD be few if any aggressive Labor unions in the country; there would be no conflicts between capital and the wage-earners, there would be no discontent among the latter, if every industry were conducted on the same system as that which is to be adopted by the Cressman Company, Limited, of this city. Labor's contention for years has been the right to share in the profits it helps to create, instead of working for a set compensation, regardless of, whether by its own efficiency or not, how large these profits have been made. The Cressman Company have solved the labor problem by conceding this right.

Beginning with the firm's current business year there will be installed a profit-sharing system which will apply to every person engaged in the business whether as salesmen or in any other capacity. The dividends are to be paid every six months, and one of the conditions upon which the allotment will be based is to be length of service. This will act as a double inducement to members of the staff to do their utmost to promote the welfare of the firm and will make for continuity in the situations held by the various employes. The plan is one which cannot fail to promote harmony in any institution that adopts it, and under its operation a standard of efficiency will be attained that would be otherwise impossible. The accruing advantages will be mutual, the firm and staff sharing to the same extent in the benefits.

Under such a system every member of the working staff is in exactly the same position as if actually belonging to the firm. He will draw a set salary just as the working partner does and will, besides, have the prospect of increased emoluments which can be created by his devotion to his duty.

The plan has been carefully worked out in every detail. The entire force has been thoroughly organized and everything reduced to a system. In all Peterborough, probably in all Ontario itself, there has been no business institution where such pleasant relations have existed between the firm and the staff as in the Cressman store. The result has been the efficiency that comes of loyal service and contentment with one's lot in life. The annual banquets, the Welfare Club and other organizations among the meters of the staff have been sufficient evidence of this. One noticeable feature of these relations is that the firm refrs to those on its payroll as co-workers rather than as employes or hired help, something that in itself is an outstanding proof that the old order of things has been supplanted by a system the inspiration for which can be traced to the Golden Rule.

The new system cannot fail to work out to the interests of all concerned. It may be an oversimplification of the true spirit of Christianity, but besides this there is not a doubt as to it being good business when regarded from a practical viewpoint. The Cressman Company is certain to prosper now as never before, successful as the firm has been since they first started business in this city on a small scale. And the example thus set, the demonstration of results sure to follow, is likely to be adopted by other business concerns in the city.

SPEAKING IN TORONTO yesterday, a noted divine from Brooklyn, New York, said the ex-kaiser should be hanged. Why not, like ex-President Taft and other American visitors to Canada, bring a message that has a touch of the original?

• • • • •

PROBABLY Sir Wilfrid Laurier would be led to revise his present high opinion of the German people if he visited the scenes where his models of worthiness wrought so much desolation.

LET US AWAIT with patience the groundhog's decision tomorrow as to weather conditions.

Not so the Pembroke Observer. It stands "pat" for Laurier, and it is among the very few newspapers in Ontario that have done so, we are pleased to say. The majority of them had a higher conception of their duty to their country.—Pembroke Standard.

MONROE DOCTRINE ON TRIAL

(New York Commercial.)

America will receive no land in the Eastern hemisphere as spoils of war, but is asking other nations to recognize the Monroe Doctrine and Japan to give up to somebody certain certain islands in the Pacific which she took from Germany.

No European power has ever formally recognized the Monroe Doctrine, and Great Britain is the only one that has treated it in a friendly spirt. It was originally aimed at the Holy Alliance, which included France, Russia, Prussia and Austria. England gave America strong moral support at the time and saved us from having either to recede from our position or to wage war in Latin America in defence of the independence of former Spanish colonies.

Japan will probably withdraw from these Pacific islands at our request—but at a price which will be paid in Eastern Asia. The Entente Allies will concede almost anything we ask—but at a price. American demands for formal recognition of the Monroe Doctrine and for Japanese evacuation of the German Pacific islands will be regarded as spoils of war, and President Wilson will find that the price will be recognition of the demands of the Entente Allies for territories and indemnities.

If the League of Nations is created before fixed peace with Germany and her allies is signed it will be an alliance to enforce the terms of the treaty of peace in the first place. The Entente Allies are evidently manoeuvring to secure their spoils of war as part of the peace treaty before the League of Nations acquires jurisdiction, and they are therefore willing to pay our price to put us out of court if we protest formally against their acquisitions.

Secret treaties between the Entente Allies are to be carried out before the general peace is signed or are to be incorporated in it. If Japan surrenders anything she has been secretly promised because America objects she will get something else. Germany deserves no consideration, but a balance will be struck which will leave her people in possession of purely German lands on condition that she pays damages. If America shows too much tenderness toward a ruthless foe she will lose her influence at the peace conference.

Secrecy will continue to prevail in the councils of the belligerents represented at Paris. America will get her price and so will others if they can arrange conflicting claims such as that of Italy to the Dalmatian coast; and then the peace conference will open its doors to the press and harmony will prevail—but never a word about the preliminaries that led up to the settlement. Facts and diplomatic customs are proving too much for President Wilson, but his influence will be powerful in settling differences among the nations that sit at the peace table. The first secret agreement is likely to settle the fate of Germany's African colonies, part of which may be internationalized, but England, France, Belgium and Portugal will get the parts that they really need, including a broad right of way for the British Cape-to-Cairo railway.

All nations want peace and favor the League of Nations in theory, but they wish to secure their spoils of war before it comes into active operation. The issue is whether the League of Nations shall determine the terms of the treaty of peace or shall take up its work after the map of the world is redrawn.

WIT AND WISDOM

Rich Yield

Dr. X—Did old Moneygrub's case yield to treatment?

Dr. Y—It did— something like $400 in six months.

His Opinion Changed

"I wish now I'd taken mother's advice when she begged me not to marry you."

"Did your mother try to keep you from marrying me?"

"She did."

"Oh, how I have wronged that woman!"

Where he Was Great

"Brown is a great thinker, isn't he?

"Yes, he thinks he knows it all."

No Small Fry

"John," exclaimed the nervous woman, "I believe there is a burglar in the house."

"I haven't time to fool with small fry," was the sleepy response. "I've spent the entire day fighting regular profiteers."

Correcting an Omission

The Head Nurse—Stop it! Are you trying to shake that sick man's ribs loose?

The Substitute Nurse—No, not that. But I just gave him a medicine and I forgot to shake it, as you told me to; so I'm doing it now.

Unselfish

"Goodness!" exclaimed little Betty. "here comes a big dog."

"Well, you run ahead and let him bite you," said her small brother Bobby. "The doctor said I mustn't have a bite between meals."

Pleasant Prospect

Husband—Hurrah! I've got a week's vacation.

Wife—How nice. Now you can dig the garden, clean out the cellar, and whitewash the kitchen.

Peace at any Price

Magistrate— Great Scot! officer, how did these men come to be so badly bruised and battered up?

Officer—Please, your honor, they were discussing the peace settlement.

Plain Talk

Employer—What! You want a raise? Why, when I was an office boy I had to work five years before I got one.

Office boy—Yessir; but perhaps you was one of those fat head kinds that ain't worth a raise.
